Preface to the Revision

All praise and thanks be to Allah, Who revived knowledge of His religion and caused it to blossom forth after it had all but disappeared, and Who demolished the false conjectures of the apostates. I praise Him and I seek refuge with Him from the sins which weigh upon the backs of mankind. I worship Him and seek His aid in removing hindrances and difficulties in the practice of my religion. I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped except Allah, Alone, without partners and I bear witness that Muhammad – who, by Allah's leave, brought about the dawn of faith to the darkness and misguidance which existed in the hearts of mankind – is the slave and Messenger of Allah. May the Blessings and Peace of Allah be upon him in perpetuity.

O, Allah! We seek Your favor and through You we seek to ward off affliction. We ask You to protect us and to grant us mercy. Our Lord! Make not our hearts deviate after You have already guided us. Make it easy for us to perform our deeds in the way that You have taught us. Make us grateful for what You have given us and make plain a path for us which leads to You. Open up the doors between us and You by which we may arrive before You. To You belong the keys to the heavens and the Earth and You are Most Able to do all things. To proceed:

Among the blessings which Allah has bestowed upon us, the community of Muslims is that He has made it easy for us to follow the path of guidance, and He has opened the doors of knowledge by making available to us these new publications, which present to us the writings of the early scholars and reveal to us what they said regarding legal verdicts, history, events, information and lessons. These scholars opened a clear beacon of light for all those Muslims seeking guidance and they set up for us a signpost in which there is neither deviation nor crookedness. Whoever follows it will arrive safely at his desired destination and whoever diverts from it will be lost forever. They have written these books and treatises and made clear to us therein events, information and virtues. Among such books is this unique work, Al-Bidayah Wan-Nihayah, by the Imam, the Hafiz, the master scholar of hadeeth, 'Imaduddeen Isma'eel Ibn Katheer Al-Qurashi – may Allah have mercy on him. This book was greeted with approval by the vast majority of Muslims. No Islamic library would be complete without it. In it, the author has recorded what Allah, Most High has made easy for him about the history of mankind, from the beginning of creation, starting with the creation of the Throne and the Kursi (Footstool), the heavens and the Earth and all that they contain and all that lies between them, such as the angels, the jinn and the devils. He also described how Adam ﷺ was created, and told the stories of the prophets up to the days of the Children of Isra'eel and the Days of Ignorance (Jahiliyyah), until the advent of Prophet Muhammad ﷺ, which heralded the end of Prophethood. He then recorded his Seerah.<sup>(1)</sup> Then he recorded the events which took place up to his own time. He also spoke of the trials and battles, the signs of the approach of the Hour, then the sending forth of mankind and the terrors of the Resurrection, which he described in detail. He then described the Hell-fire, with all its horrors, and Paradise and all the good things contained therein. He called this particular volume of his book: An-Nihayah Fil-Fitan Wal-Malahim (The Ending in Trials and Battles). As for the book which is in our hands today, it is Al-Bidayah.

By Allah's Grace, I came to know brother Abdul Malik Mujahid, the general manager of Darussalam Publishing in Riyadh. He visited me in my humble office in Damascus and suggested to me the idea of creating a summarised version of this wonderful book. I prayed for Allah's Guidance in the matter and sought help from Him in completing the project. Allah enabled me to make the acquaintance of a number of people of knowledge and experience in this field and a plan of action for the work was written. It consisted of ten principal points and we then started the task, seeking help from the Lord of the heavens and the Earth. All of us exerted our utmost efforts in this task, making repeated revisions and corrections, until we reached the point where, by Allah's Permission, we completed it and it was published in the form which is in your hands today.

(1) Seerah: Biography, life story, in particular, of Prophet Muhammad ﷺ.

The Plan of Action for This Book:

1. Summarization of the text. This was achieved by concentrating on the most important events narrated in the book. In doing so, we took care not to leave out any important details which would cause loss of meaning or import.
2. We relied on a number of printed and handwritten copies of the book and in cases where any contradiction or omission was found, we succeeded in establishing the most accurate and authentic text.
3. We left out the ahadeeth which proved to be baseless or weak and confined ourselves to the ahadeeth which are authentic or hasan <sup>(1)</sup> and those which are acceptable due to the existence of other supporting narrations. On rare occasions, when it was found that there were no other ahadeeth in the chapter, we included some weak ahadeeth whose weakness was not of an extreme nature.
4. We performed takhreej <sup>(2)</sup> of the ahadeeth with ascription of the number of the section and the page, the number of the hadeeth and in many cases, the precise location of the hadeeth in the original source, then the ruling on its authenticity, if it was not from the Saheehain, <sup>(3)</sup> because the ahadeeth therein do not require any ruling on their authenticity and they have been widely accepted by the

(1) Hasan: Good, sound. An acceptable hadeeth, although it does not reach the level of saheeh (authentic).

(2) Takhreej: Referencing the sources of a hadeeth and evaluating them.

(3) Saheehain: Saheeh Al-Bukhari and Saheeh Muslim.

Muslim Ummah.<sup>(1)</sup> As for the ahadeeth in this book, we have relied on the opinions of the Imams and scholars of hadeeth – including the earlier scholars, the later scholars and those of the present day. On some occasions, we have recorded the weak ahadeeth, while making it plain that they are not authentic. We have not omitted them because the author has included them in order to warn the people against them due to their widespread popularity amongst the Muslims in general. In such cases, we desired not to oppose the author in this effort and so we left them, at the same time making the scholars' ruling on them clear, so as to warn the people against them.

5. We summarised the asaneed<sup>(2)</sup> present in the book, in most cases mentioning only the Companion who narrated the hadeeth, or the person who reported it from him.
6. We omitted many of the Isra'eeliyyat<sup>(3)</sup> found in this book which the author referred to in the preface, where he said: "We do not record the Isra'eeliyyat except those which the Lawgiver has permitted, i.e., those which do not contradict the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ. These are stories which are neither believed nor belied and they have been recorded because they provide details of unclarified narratives that we have, or they provide names for people and places that have only been mentioned in passing in our Revelation, due to there being no benefit in specifying them for us. Thus we have reported them in order to provide extra detail and not with the intention of citing them as evidence or placing any reliance on them. Only the

(1) Ummah: Nation or people; in this case, what is referred to is the scholars of the Ummah.

(2) Asaneed (sing. = isnad): Chains of narrators of the ahadeeth.

(3) Isra'eeliyyat: Narrations of Jewish origin.

Book of Allah and the authentic Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ may be relied and depended upon. It is from Allah that we seek help and it is He in Whom we place our trust; there is no help and no power except in Allah, the All-Powerful, the Most Wise, the Most High, the Almighty.

7. In some instances, we have referred back to the original manuscript in order to verify the wording of a hadeeth from its source. In some cases, the author has combined two narrations of the same hadeeth together and so where this has occurred, we have noted it and separated the two narrations, placing our own words between brackets, i.e., (and in another narration...) and we have also identified the source of the addition in the footnotes.
8. We have written the Qur'anic Verses in the Uthmani script, in conformity with the copy of the Qur'an published by Al-Madinah Al-Munawwarah Printing Complex.
9. We vowelised the words of many of the ahadeeth in the book and, in addition, the poetic verses, wherever possible.
10. We mentioned the meters of the poetic verses between parentheses.
11. We explained the meanings of some difficult or obscure words, relying on dictionaries, books containing ghareeb <sup>(1)</sup> ahadeeth and narrations and other sources.
12. We furnished a brief biography of the author, Hafiz Ibn Katheer though in reality, he requires no introduction and no description.

Finally, I ask Allah, Most High, to accept this humble work from us and to acknowledge it as having been done purely and sincerely with the aim of pleasing Him and to grant us and our brothers, who assisted us in the production of this book, pardon and forgiveness in religious and secular matters. In addition, we ask Him that He include this work in the weight of our good deeds on the Day of Resurrection – a Day on which neither wealth nor sons will benefit anyone – except for those whom Allah has blessed with pure hearts.

And our final declaration is that all praise and thanks are due to Allah, and we invoke blessings and peace upon Prophet Muhammad and upon all his righteous family and Companions until the Day of Reckoning.

Publisher's Preface

Verily, all praise and thanks are due to Allah. We seek His aid and we ask forgiveness of Him. We seek refuge with Allah from the wickedness in ourselves. Whomsoever Allah guides, there is none who can misguide him and whomsoever He sends astray, there is none who can guide him. I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah and that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger. He sent him with guidance and the true Religion and with the light (of truth), the admonition and wisdom, at a time when no Messengers were sent for a long period, when there was little religious knowledge and the people had gone astray, when the Hour was drawing nearer. Whoever obeys Allah and His Messenger has followed the right course, while whoever disobeys Allah and His Messenger erred from it and gone far astray. To proceed: regarding the study of the events and their chronological order, the knowledge of which he strove hard to acquire. He began by describing the start of creation – from the creation of the Throne and the Kursi and the heavens and the Earth and all that is in them and all that lies between them, such as the angels, the jinn and the devils and he described the manner of Adam's creation ﷺ. He recounted the stories of the Prophets and the events that took place therein, up to the times of the Children of Isra'eel and the Days of Ignorance, which ended with the advent of the final Prophet, Muhammad ﷺ. Then he gave a detailed description of his life and what happened after that, up to the time in which he, lived. He then wrote a separate volume called An-Nihayah Fil – Fitān Wal-Malahim (The Ending With Trials and Great Battles).

The book Al-Bidayah (The Beginning) by the Hafiz, the Imam, the scholarly critic, Ibn Katheer is an incomparable work

Furthermore, Allah inspired us to undertake the noble task of making this book easily accessible to both the students and the scholars and then to translate it into several languages, by Allah's Permission.

I suggested to my brother, Yoosuf Al-Hajj, the necessity of summarizing this book in a suitable manner, through the omission of unbeneficial repetition, weak ahadeeth, lengthy poems, etc. I am thankful to brother Yoosuf for assembling a team that consisted of Abdul Malik Wadih, Abu Muslim Al-Jaza'iri, Muwaffeq Khaleel Hammad, and himself. Darussalam funded the entire project, paying each team member for his contribution and work. After they completed their portion of the project, the work then went through numerous people in the Research Division of Darussalam, who meticulously went through the work, adding and subtracting materials. After this, the project went through another round of editing of the Arabic material before it was sent to the translation department. The translation was then checked for accuracy and then sent for editing, resulting in the final project that you see before you. All praise and thanks be to Allah for allowing us to produce such a classical work for the first time in the English language.

O Allah! We ask that You bless us with sincerity and success and that You spread goodness through our hands.

Biography of Al-Hafiz Ibn Katheer

He is the Shaikh, the Imam, the Hafiz, ‘Imaduddeen Abul Fida’ Isma’eel Ibn ‘Umar Ibn Katheer Ibn Daw’ Ibn Katheer Ibn Dir‘, originally Al-Busrawi, then Ad-Dimashqi Ash-Shafi‘i.

He was born in Mijdal, a village on the outskirts of Busra, in the year 701 A.H., where his father was a khateeb.<sup>(1)</sup>

In the year 706 A.H., he moved to Damascus where he studied Islamic Jurisprudence (fiqh) under Shaikh Burhanuddeen Al-Fazari and others. He married the daughter Al-Hafiz Al-Mizzi and reported many traditions from him. He delivered formal legal verdicts, was a teacher and debated with other scholars. He was a leading scholar of Islamic Jurisprudence, tafseer and Arabic grammar, in addition to which he applied himself assiduously to the study of rijal<sup>(2)</sup> and weaknesses or

(2) Rijal: Literally man; here it is used to refer to the narrators of ahadeeth.

He was appointed as head of Umm As-Salih School and At-Tankaziyyah School, after Adh-Dhahabi.

Adh-Dhahabi referred to him in the explanatory notes of Tabaqat Al-Huffaz, and in Al-Mu'jam Al-Mukhtass he said: "He is a sound scholar of Islamic Jurisprudence, a verifier of hadeeth, a scholar of tafseer and a critic. He has written many beneficial works."

Among his written works are

1. At-Takmeel Fee Ma'rifatith-Thiqat Wal-Majaheel (The Complete Book of Criticism and Praise and Knowledge of the Trustworthy Reporters and the Unknown Reporters). It combines Kitab ut-Tahdheeb and Al-Meezan and consists of five volumes.
2. Jami' Al-Masaneed Was-Sunan Al-Hadi Li-Aqwam Sunan (The Combined Musnads and the Sunan Which Guide to the Most Precious Sunan); this is said to be one of Ibn Katheer's finest works in the field of hadeeth and it is one of the last books that he wrote, though not the very last one. He died before completing it – may Allah have mercy on him. In it, he combined the musnads of Imam Ahmad, Al-Bazzar, Abu Ya'la and Ibn Abi Shaibah with the Six Books.

Shaikh Muhammad Abdur-Razzaq Hamzah said in the introduction to the book Al-Ba'ith Al-Hatheeth:

'Imaduddeen Abul Fida' Isma'eel Ibn Ash-Shaikh Abu Hafis Shihabuddeen 'Umar – the khateeb of his village – Ibn Katheer Ibn Daw' Ibn Katheer Ibn Dir' Al-Qurashi, originally from Al-Busrawi, then Ad-Dimashqi.

His birth, his upbringing and his education:

He was born in Mijdal, a village on the outskirts of the city of Busra, to the east of Damascus, in the year 701 A.H. His father was a khateeb; he died in the year 705 A.H., when Ibn Katheer was just four years old. He was then brought up by his brother, Shaikh Abdul Wahhab, from whom he learned the fundamentals of Islamic Jurisprudence.

Then he moved to Damascus in the year 706 A.H., when he was six years old. There he studied Islamic Jurisprudence under the tutelage of Shaikh Burhanuddeen Ibraheem Ibn Abdur-Rahman Al-Fazari, better known as Ibn Al-Firkaah (d. 729 A.H.). In Damascus he learned from 'Eesa Ibn Al-Mut'im and from Ahmad Ibn Abi Talib, better known as Ibn Ash-Shihnah and Al-Hajjar, who lived for more than a hundred years (d. 730 A.H.). He also learned from Al-Qasim Ibn 'Asakir, <sup>(1)</sup> from Ibn Ash-Sheerazi, Ishaq Ibn Al-Amidi <sup>(2)</sup> and Muhammad Ibn Zarad. He also attended the lectures of Shaikh Jamaluddeen Yoosuf Ibn Az-Zaki Al-Mizzi, the author of Tahdheeb Al-Kamal and Atraf Al-Kutub As-Sittah, who died in the year 724 A.H. He benefited greatly from his association with him and married his daughter. He also learnt and benefited greatly from Shaikh Al-Islam Taqiyuddeen Ibn Taimiyyah (d. 728 A. H.) with whom he kept company and whom he loved dearly. In addition, he studied under the Shaikh, the Hafiz and historian, Shamsuddeen Adh-Dhahabi Muhammad Ibn Ahmad Ibn Qayimaz (d. 748 A. H.). In Egypt, he was endorsed by Abu Moosa Al-Qarafi, Al-Husaini, Abul-Fath Ad-Dabboosi, 'Ali Ibn 'Umar Al-Wani, Yoosuf Al-Khatani and others.

Al-Hafiz Shamsuddeen Adh-Dhahabi said in Al-Mu'jam Al-Mukhtass: "(He was) the Imam, the muhaddith, the mufiti (deliverer of legal verdicts), the outstanding scholar of Islamic Jurisprudence and tafseer; he wrote many valuable works."

Al-Hafiz Ibn Hajar said in Ad-Durar Al-Kaminah: "He worked on ahadeeth, studying their texts and their chains of narrators and he had a phenomenal memory and was a good-humored man." During his lifetime, his written works spread throughout the lands and the people benefited from them after his death."<sup>(1)</sup>

As-Suyooti commented on this, saying, "(He was) a reliable source of ahadeeth knowledge, of their authenticity or weakness, of the various sources from which they were reported and of their rijal and their strength or weakness..."

The renowned historian, Abul-Mahasin Jamaluddeen Yoosuf Ibn Saifuddeen, better known as Ibn Taghri Bardi Al-Hanafi said in his book Al-Manhal As-Safi Wal-Mustawfa Ba'd Al-Wafi; "(He was) the Shaikh, the Imam, the most erudite, 'Imaduddeen Abul-Fida'... he was constantly occupied and tireless in writing, compiling, categorizing, studying, narrating ahadeeth and authoring. He possessed huge knowledge of hadeeth, tafseer, Islamic Jurisprudence, Arabic language and other subjects. He delivered legal verdicts and he continued to study until he died.”

He was renowned for his ability to correct and revise and he was acknowledged as a leading historian, scholar of hadeeth and tafseer and it was he who said,

*“The days pass us by, one after another,
Only driving onto the appointed times, while the eye watches,
And that youth which has gone will never return, While this irritating old age remains.”*

His Students:

The number of students who heard from Ibn Katheer and reported from him is great; they include Al-Hafiz ‘Alauddeen Ibn Hijji Ash-Shafi‘i – may Allah have mercy on him – who said of him: “He had memorized more hadeeth texts than any other scholar of our acquaintance and he was the most knowledgeable of them regarding the authentication and disparagement of narrations and their rijal. His contemporaries and his teachers all acknowledged this. Every time I met him I gained some benefit from him.”

Ibn Al-‘Imad Al-Hanbali said in his book, ‘Shadharat Adh-Dahab Fee Akhbari Man Dhahab: “(He was) the great Hafiz, ‘Imaduddeen; he memorized At-Tanbeeh and presented it in the year 718 A.H. and he memorized Mukhtasar Ibn Al-Hajib. He had a phenomenal memory and seldom forgot anything. He had good understanding and was a scholar of Arabic language who wrote average poetry.” Ibn Habeeb said of him: “He heard (from the scholars), he collected and authored and he delighted the ears of his listeners with his words. He taught and he benefited (his listeners) and the pages of his legal verdicts spread throughout the lands and he became famous for his accuracy and his writing and editing skills.”

His Writings, Including Detailed Works and Brief Treatises

1. Tafseer Al-Qur'an Al-'Azeem (Explanation of the Noble Qur'an), <sup>(1)</sup> which is one of his most important works. It is considered to be one of the best books of tafseer whose author depended primarily for the interpretation of the Verses of the Noble Book on the ahadeeth of the Messenger of Allah (sall Allahu 'alaihi wa alihi wa sallam). It was ordained by Allah that this great volume should become accepted and spread throughout the Muslim lands.
2. Al-Bidayah Wan-Nihayah (The Beginning and the End): This is a highly estimable book and scholars through the times have benefited from it and it has passed through the hands of researchers in every corner of the large Islamic world. In it he spoke of Earthly affairs, beginning with the start of creation, touching on the lives of the Prophets (alaihimuss-salatu was-salam) and speaking in depth and at great length about the life story of the Messenger of Allah (sall Allahu 'alaihi wa alihi wa sallam) and recording in beneficial depth the period that followed the Prophet's life, from the era of the rightly-guided Caliphs and ending in the year 767 A.H., with a description of the trials that would appear before the Hour.

3. At-Takmeel Ma'rifati Ath-Thiqat Wal-Majaheel (The Complete Book of Criticism and Praise, and Knowledge of the Trustworthy Reporters and the Unknown Reporters). There is a version of it in Dar Al-Kutub Al-Misriyyah, No. 24227, which is in two volumes, but it is incomplete. (It combines Kitab At-Tahdheeb and Al-Meezan, which consists of five volumes).
4. Jami' Al-Masaneed Was-Sunan Al-Hadi Li-Aqwam Sunan (The Combined Musnads and the Sunan Which Guide to the Most Precious Sunan); this is said to be one of Ibn Katheer's finest works in the field of hadeeth and it is one of the last books that he wrote, though not the very last one. He died before completing it – may Allah have mercy on him. In it, he combined the musnads of Imam Ahmad, Al-Bazzar, Abu Ya'la and Ibn Abi Shaibah with the Six Books.

7. Takhreej Ahadeeth Mukhtasar Ibn Al-Hajib (Takhreej of the Ahadeeth in the original version of Mukhtasar Ibn Al-Hajib); this was published recently with an authentication by Al-Kubaisi and published in Makkah.
8. Sharh Saheeh Al-Bukhari (Explanation of Saheeh Al-Bukhari); unfortunately, it is incomplete.

(1) The Six Books: Saheeh Al-Bukhari, Saheeh Muslim, Sunan Abi Dawood, Sunan At-Tirmidhi, Sunan Ibn Majah and Sunan An-Nasa'i.

9. Al-Ahkam Al-Kubra (The Major Rulings); sadly, he did not complete it, reaching as far as the topic of Hajj.
10. Ikhtisar 'Uloom Al-Hadeeth (An Abbreviated Book on the Science of Hadeeth); it was published in Makkah in the year 1358 A.H., with an authentication by Shaikh Muhammad 'Abdur-Razzaq Hamzah and an explanation by Shaikh Ahmad Shakir and it was printed in Cairo in the year 1355 A.H. Al-Hafiz Ibn Hajar Al-'Asqalani said of it, "It contains many benefits."
11. Musnad Ash-Shaikhain (Musnad of the Two Shaikhs – i.e. Abu Bakr and 'Umar – may Allah be pleased with them both).
- 12 & 13. As-Seerah An-Nabawiyyah (Biography of the Prophet ﷺ) – a full version and a summarised one. He mentioned it in his Tafseer, in the explanation of Soorah Al-Ahzab, in the story of the Battle of the Trench. The summarised version was printed in Egypt in the year 1358 A.H. and was entitled Al-Fusool Fikhtisar Seerah Ar-Rasool (Summarised Chapters of the Biography of the Messenger ﷺ).
14. Al-Muqaddimat Fee Usool Al-Fiqh (Introductions to the Science of Usool Al-Fiqh [the Principles of Islamic Jurisprudence]). It was referred to in the summary of Muqaddimah Ibn As-Salah.
15. Mukhtasar Kitab Al-Madkhal Ila Kitab As-Sunan Lil-Baihaqi (Abbreviation of The Introduction to the Book of the Sunan by Al-Baihaqi).
16. Risalah Fil-Jihad (A Treatise on Jihad), which is available in print.

His Death

The author of Al-Manhal As-Safi said: “He died on Thursday, the 26th of Sha‘ban, in the year 747 A.H., aged seventy-four years.”

Al-Hafiz Ibn Hajar said: “He had become blind in the latter years of his life, may Allah have mercy on him and be pleased with him.”

Author's Preface

The Shaikh, the Imam, the scholar, the most erudite, Abul Fida' 'Imaduddeen Isma'eel – may Allah have mercy on him – said: “All praise and thanks be to Allah, the First and the Last, Az-Zahir, Al-Batin, Who has complete knowledge of all things. He is the First, because there was nothing before Him and He is the Last, because there will be nothing after Him. He is Az-Zahir, because there is nothing above Him and He is Al-Batin, because there is nothing below Him. He is the Eternal, Who is continuously and permanently present with all of His perfect and complete Attributes, forever, without end and without interruption. He is Aware of even the crawling of a black ant on a solid rock on a dark night, and He knows the exact number of the grains of sand. He is the Sublime, the Greatest, Who created everything and ordered them in due proportions. He erected the heavens without any supports and adorned them with the shining heavenly bodies and He placed therein a lamp (the sun) and a luminous moon. Above them He created an elevated seat, which is wide, domed and circular and that is the Mighty Throne, which has legs borne by noble angels known as the Karobiyyoon <sup>(1)</sup> - may the Blessings and Peace of Allah be upon them all. They sing Allah's praises and glorify Him. Likewise, all corners of the heavens are filled with angels and every day seventy thousand of them arrive in Al-Bait Al-Ma'moor <sup>(2)</sup> in the Seventh Heaven. When they leave it after completing their saying la ilaha illallah, praise, glorification, prayers and greetings etc., they never return to it (but always a fresh batch comes). He placed in the Earth rivers and streams for the animals and He placed therein tall mountains and blessed them, and provided nourishment of every kind for mankind and their livestock both in summer and in winter.

He began the creation of man from clay and He made his offspring from his semen, composed of worthless water, in a safe lodging (womb). Then He fashioned him in due proportion, and breathed into him the soul (created by Allah for that person), and He gave him hearing (ears), sight (eyes) and hearts, after he had been nothing to be mentioned and He honored him with knowledge and teachings. He created Adam ﷺ, the father of the mankind, fashioned his body and breathed into it His Spirit. He made the angels prostrate before him and created from him his spouse, Eve, the mother of the mankind for his company. He placed them in His Paradise and showered His Blessings upon them. Then, in His Wisdom, He sent them down to the Earth and He produced from them numerous men and women and in His infinite Wisdom, He made some of them kings and others subjects, some of them poor and some of them wealthy, some of them free and some of them slaves. He made them reside in all corners of the Earth, throughout the length and breadth of it. He made them in generations, succeeding one another until the Day of Reckoning, when they will be presented to their Lord, the All-knowing, Most Wise. He blessed them with rivers in all the lands. These rivers varied from large to small, according to the needs of the people. He caused springs and wells to flow for them. He sent them rainclouds and brought forth for them all manner of plants and fruits and gave them all that they requested: ﴿ And if you count the blessings of Allah, never will be able to count them. Verily, man is indeed an extreme wrongdoer, a disbeliever (an extra ingrate who denies Allah's Blessings by disbelief, and by worshipping others besides Allah, and by disobeying Allah and His Prophet Muhammad. He gave you of all that you asked for.) ﴾ (Soorah Ibraheem 14:34). Glorified be He, the Most Generous, the Self-Sufficient, Most Forbearing. One of the greatest blessings which He bestowed upon them – after He created them, gave them provision, made the path easy for them and gave them speech – was that He sent Messengers to them and revealed to them Scriptures which made clear what He had made lawful and what He had made unlawful, His communications, His Rulings and details of everything from the beginning until the return to Allah on the Day of Resurrection. The happy man is the one who believes in these communications and submits to them and complies with His Commands and extols His Prohibitions. Such a person succeeds in attaining eternal bliss and will avoid the abode of the rejecters in Hell, where Az-Zaqqoom <sup>(1)</sup> is located, along with hameem <sup>(2)</sup> and a painful punishment.

I praise Him abundantly with pure and blessed praises, filling the expanses of the Earth and the heavens for all time until the Day of Resurrection, as befits His Great Majesty, His Eternal Dominion and His Beneficent Countenance. I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah, Alone, without partners, without offspring, without any female companion, without peer, without minister, without adviser, without equal, without rival and without sharer. I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger, His beloved, His Khaleel,<sup>(1)</sup> Al-Mustafa,<sup>(2)</sup> of Arab origin, the Seal of the Prophets, who has been given the great Hawd<sup>(3)</sup> of sweet water and who will be permitted by Allah to intercede on behalf of the Muslims on the Day of Resurrection. He will hold the banner which Allah will send to Al-Maqam Al-Mahmood,<sup>(4)</sup> a banner under which all of mankind will desire to gather, even Allah's Khaleel, Ibraheem – may Allah's Blessings and Peace be upon him and all of his brothers among the Prophets and Messengers and may He be well pleased with all of his esteemed, noble and excellent Companions, who are the best of all people after the Prophets.

In this book, I will record – with Allah's Help and Guidance – what Allah, by His Strength and Power, makes easy for me of the beginning of all created things, such as the creation of the Throne and the Kursi,<sup>(5)</sup> the heavens and the Earth and all that is in them and what lies between them, such as the angels, the jinn and the devils, how Adam ﷺ was created, the stories of the Prophets and the events that surrounded them, up to the times of the Children of Isra'eel and the Jahiliyyah,<sup>(1)</sup> which ended with the coming of our Prophet, Muhammad ﷺ. We will give details of his life story, as appropriate, thereby healing hearts, quenching thirsts and banishing the ills of the sick. Then we will report the events which followed that, up to the present time. We will speak of the trials, the battles and the Signs of the Hour. Then we will describe the Sending Forth and the Gathering, the terrors of the Resurrection and its description, including what will occur on that Day. Then we will describe the Fire and after that, the Gardens (of Paradise), the good things therein and other matters relating to this. We will also mention what has been said regarding this in the Qur'an, the Sunnah, and the traditions accepted by the scholars.

We shall not mention the Isra'eeliyyat<sup>(2)</sup> except what is permissible according to Islamic Law, i.e., which does not contradict the Book of Allah or the Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ. Such narrations are neither believed in nor rejected and we will only mention those which contain details where all we have is summary or names where our narrations do not supply them, due to there being no benefit for us in providing them. And we only mention them for the purpose of embellishment, not with the intention of citing them as evidence or relying upon them. We only depend upon and have confidence in the Book of Allah and the authentic and sound narrations from the Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ. As for those narrations in which there are some weaknesses, we have identified them. Allah is the One from Whom we seek aid and upon Whom we depend and there is no strength and no power except with Allah, the Almighty, the Most Wise, the Most High, the Great. Allah says in His Book, ﴿ Thus We relate to you (O Muhammad) some information of what happened before. And indeed We have given you from Us a Reminder (this Qur'an) ﴾ (Soorah Ta Ha 20:99). And Allah has recounted to His Prophet ﷺ information from the past concerning the creation of all things and He has mentioned the previous nations and what He did to His Awliya' and what He caused to befall His enemies. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ conveyed all of this clearly to his people and in each chapter, we shall narrate what has come to us from him ﷺ following the relevant Qur'anic Verses. He informed us of what we need to know in this regard and ignored matters of no benefit. We will only mention a few of such things in brief and we shall point out what is true in them and accords with our information and whatever contradicts that, we shall hold to be rejected.

As for the hadeeth narrated by Al-Bukhari in his Saheeh, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Al-'As ؓ, in which it is stated that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Convey from me even a single Verse. You may relate from the Children of Isra'eel without objection. (Relate from me and do not tell lies about me). If anyone deliberately tells a lie against me let him prepare his seat in the Hellfire." <sup>(1)</sup> This refers to the Isra'eeliyyat on whose authenticity we offer no opinion, for we have nothing with which to confirm or refute them. So it is permissible to relate them for the purpose of reflection and contemplation and that is what we have done in this book. As for those narrations whose authenticity is confirmed by our sources, there is no need to relate them, since we may suffice ourselves with what we have (in the Qur'an and Sunnah). As for those narrations whose falsehood is established by our sources, they are rejected and it is not permissible to relate them, unless it is with the intention of pointing out that they are false and rejected. And since Allah – all praise and thanks be to Him – has sufficed us with His Messenger, Muhammad, against the need to avail ourselves of all other sources and with His Book against the necessity of referring to all other Scriptures, we will not resort to what is in their hands for information, when we know that it contains confusion, mixed-up facts, lies, fabrications, distortions and substitutions and in addition to all that, deletions and alterations.

That which we require has been made clear to us by our Messenger, and he has explained it and elucidated it – some know it, while others are ignorant of it – as ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib ؓ said: “The Book of Allah contains information about what occurred before you and tidings about what will occur after you and rulings on what takes place among you; and it is true, not a thing to be taken lightly. If any tyrant or oppressor who abandons it, Allah will destroy him and if anyone seeks guidance from any other source, Allah will cause him to go astray.”<sup>(1)</sup> And Abu Dharr ؓ said: “When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ died, no bird flapped its wings in flight except that he had taught us some knowledge about it.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Bukhari said in the Book of the Beginning of Creation: It was reported on the authority of Tariq Ibn Shihab that he said: I heard ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ saying, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ stood up among us for a long period and informed us about the beginning of creation (and talked about everything in detail) till he mentioned how the people of Paradise will enter their places and the people of Hell will enter their places. Some remembered what he had said, and some forgot it.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad Ibn Hanbal reported in his Musnad, on the authority of Abu Zaid Al-Ansari ؓ that he said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ led us in the Fajr prayer, then he ascended the pulpit and he delivered a sermon to us until midday, then he descended and offered the Zuhr prayer. Then he ascended the pulpit once again and delivered a sermon to us until it was time for the ‘Asr prayer. Then he descended and offered the ‘Asr prayer. After that, he ascended the pulpit once more and delivered a sermon to us which lasted until the sun set. In these sermons, he spoke to us about what had been, what was (at that time) and what would be (in the future) and the most knowledgeable of us (regarding these things) was the one with the best memory.”

<sup>(2)</sup> Muslim also recorded it in his Saheeh, with a different chain, narrating on the authority of Ya‘qoob Ibn Ibraheem Ad-Dawraqi and Hajjaj Ibn Ash-Sha‘ir, who both reported on the authority of Abu ‘Asim Ad-Dahhak Ibn Makhlad An-Nabeel, who reported on the authority of ‘Azrah, who in turn reported on the authority of ‘Ilba’, who in turn reported on the authority of ‘Amr Ibn Akhtab Ibn Rfa‘ah Al-Ansari ؓ, who reported it from the Prophet ﷺ.<sup>(3)</sup>

Imam Ahmad reported on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri that he said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ delivered a sermon to us after the ‘Asr prayer which lasted until sunset. Some of us remembered it and others forgot it." ‘Affan said: “Hammad said: To the best of my recollection, he said: (it was about) the events that would take place up until the Day of Resurrection." Then he praised and thanked Allah and said,

“Verily, the life of this world is green and beautiful, and Allah made you dwell in it generation after generation so that He sees what you will do. Therefore, beware of the life of this world and beware of women.” Then he reported the rest of the sermon and he said: Then when it was sunset, he said, “Verily, the likeness of what remains of the life of this world, compared to what has passed of it, is as the likeness of what remains of this day, compared to what has passed of it.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Then Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ led us in the ‘Asr’ prayer one day and then he stood up and delivered a sermon to us which lasted until sunset; during this sermon, he did not neglect to mention anything of the events which will occur up until the Day of Resurrection. Some of us memorized it and others forgot it. One of the things that he said was, “O people! Verily, the life of this world is green and beautiful and verily, Allah has made you dwell in it generation after generation so that He sees what you will do. Therefore, beware of the life of this world and beware of women.” Then he reported the rest of the sermon and he said, “Then as the sun was about to set, he said, “Verily, what remains of the life of this world, in comparison with what has already passed of it is like what remains of this day, in comparison with what has already passed of it.”<sup>(2)</sup> This is what has been recorded and Allah knows better.

A Description of the Creation of the Throne, the Kursi, Al-Lawh, the Heavens and the Earth

Chapter On The Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿Allah is the Creator of all things...﴾

Allah, the Most High, says in His Noble Book: ﴿Allah is the Creator of all things and He is the Wakeel (Trustee, Disposer of affairs, Guardian, etc.) over all things﴾ (Soorah Az-Zumar 39:62). So everything besides Allah was created by Him, is under His Dominion and His Disposal, and was brought into being, having previously not existed.

The Throne, which is the ceiling of all created things, including everything that lies beneath the Earth and all that exists between it and the Throne – whether animate or inanimate – all of it is His Creation, His Kingdom, His slaves and all are under

His Subjugation and His Power and they are subject to His Disposal and His Will. ﴿ He it is Who created the heavens and the Earth in six days and then rose (istawa) over the Throne. He knows what goes into the Earth and what comes forth from it, and what descends from the heaven and what ascends thereto. And He is with you wheresoever you may be. And Allah is the All-Seeing of what you do. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hadeed 57:4).

The scholars of Islam, without exception, are in complete agreement – and no Muslim has the slightest doubt of this – that Allah created the heavens and the Earth and all that lies between them in six days, as proven by the Noble Qur’an. But they differed as to whether these days are like Earthly days, or whether each day is equivalent to a thousand years of what you reckon. <sup>(1)</sup> In this matter, the scholars are divided into two camps, as we have made clear in the tafseer of this Verse and we shall explain this in the relevant place.

They also differed regarding the question of whether or not there existed any creation before the formation of the heavens and the Earth. Some groups among the rationalist theologians supported the idea that nothing existed before them and that they were created from absolute nothingness. Others said that no, before the creation of the heavens and the Earth there were other creations; and they based this claim on the Words of Allah, Most High, ﴿ And He it is Who has created the heavens and the Earth in six days and His Throne was over the water. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:7). In the hadeeth narrated by ‘Imran Ibn Husain it was stated that “Nothing existed before Allah and His Throne was over the water. He wrote everything in the Tablet,

(1) See Soorah Al-Hajj 22:47.

then He created the heavens and the Earth.”<sup>(1)</sup>

These people disagreed regarding which of them was created first:

Some said that the Pen was created before all of these things and this was the preferred view of Ibn Jareer At-Tabari, Ibn Al-Jawzi and others. Ibn Jareer said: “After the Pen, the fine clouds, and after it, the Throne.” They cited as proof for this the hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad, Abu Dawood and At-Tirmidhi, on the authority of ‘Ubadah Ibn As-Samit ؓ, who said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “The first thing that Allah created was the Pen, then He said to it, ‘Write.’ In that very hour all that was to occur (was written) up to the Day of Resurrection.”<sup>(2)</sup> This is the wording of Ahmad’s narration and At-Tirmidhi said of the hadeeth, “(It is) hasan-saheeh-ghareeb.”

The opinion of the majority of scholars, according to what has been transmitted by Al-Hafiz Abul-‘Ala’ Al-Hamdani and others, is that the Throne was created before that and this is what was narrated by Ibn Jareer<sup>(3)</sup> via Ad-Dahhak, on the authority of Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, as proven by the hadeeth narrated by Muslim in his Saheeh, in which it was reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Al-‘As ؓ that he said: I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say, “Allah ordained the measures of the creation fifty thousand years before He created the heavens and the Earth – while His Throne was over the water.”<sup>(4)</sup> They said that this taqdeer was His writing of the measures with the Pen. This hadeeth proves that this took place after the creation of the Throne, so it is confirmed that the creation of the Throne preceded that of the Pen, with which the measures were written – and this is the opinion of the majority of scholars. The hadeeth of the Pen must therefore be understood to mean that it was the first of the created things in this world and this is supported by the narration of Al-Bukhari, on the authority of ‘Imran Ibn Husain ؓ that he said: The people of Yemen said to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, “We have come to you to learn the Religion and to ask you about the beginning of this universe.” The Prophet ﷺ said: “There was Allah and nothing else before Him...”<sup>(1)</sup> In another narration, he said, “There was nothing else with Him...”<sup>(2)</sup> In a narration transmitted elsewhere, it was reported that he said, “His Throne was over the water and He wrote everything in the Record; and He created the heavens and the Earth.”<sup>(3)</sup> In another version, it was reported that he said, “Then He created the heavens and the Earth.”<sup>(4)</sup> They asked him about the beginning of the creation of the heavens and the Earth and that is why they said: “We have come to you... to ask you about the beginning of this universe.” So he answered only what they had asked, which is why he did not inform them about the creation of the Throne.

﴿So Exalted be Allah, the True King, La ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), the Lord of the Supreme Throne!﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:116)

He, Most High, says,

﴿Allah, La ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), the Lord of the Supreme Throne!﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:26)

He, Most High, says,

﴿And He is Oft-Forgiving, full of love (toward the pious who are real true believers in Islamic Monotheism). Owner of the Throne, the Glorious﴾ (Soorah Al-Burooj 85:14,15)

He, Most High, says,

﴿The Most Beneficent (Allah) Istawa (rose over) the (Mighty) Throne (in a manner that suits His Majesty)﴾ (Soorah Ta Ha 20:5)

He, Most High, says in a number of Verses of the Qur'an,

﴿And then He Istawa (rose over) the Throne (really in a manner that suits His Majesty)﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:54)

﴿Those (angels) who bear the Throne (of Allah) and those around it glorify the praises of their Lord, and believe in Him, and ask forgiveness for those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah) (saying), “Our Lord! You comprehend all things in mercy and knowledge...” ﴿ (Soorah Ghafir 40:7)

He, Most High, says,

﴿ And eight angels will, that day, bear the Throne of your Lord above them ﴾ (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:17)

He, Most High, says,

﴿ And you will see the angels surrounding the Throne (of Allah) from all round, glorifying the praises of their Lord (Allah). And they (all the creatures) will be judged with truth, and it will be said, “All praises and thanks be to Allah, the Lord of the ‘Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists).” ﴾ (Soorah Az-Zumar 39:75)

In the supplication against distress narrated in an authentic hadeeth, it was said: “None has the right to be worshipped except Allah, the Great, the Most Forbearing. None has the right to be worshipped except Allah, the Lord of the Noble Throne. None has the right to be worshipped except Allah, the Lord of the heavens and the Lord of the Earth, the Lord of the Noble Throne.”<sup>(1)</sup>

It has been established in an authentic hadeeth in Saheeh Al-Bukhari from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said: “When you ask Allah for Paradise, ask for Al-Firdaus, because it is the highest and best place in Paradise and above it is the Throne of the Most Beneficent.”<sup>(2)</sup>

(2) This is an excerpt from a hadeeth narrated by Al-Bukhari, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, in the Book of Jihad and Military Expeditions (2790).

It has also been reported in one tradition that “The inhabitants of Al-Firdaws listen to the groaning of the Throne and it is its glorification and extolling of Allah.”<sup>(1)</sup> And that can only mean that they are near to it.

It has also been authentically reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The Throne of the Most Beneficent shook due to the death of Sa’d Ibn Mu’adh.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Hafiz Ibn Al-Hafiz Muhammad Ibn ‘Uthman Ibn Abi Shaibah wrote in his book “The Description of the Throne” on the authority of one of the Salaf.<sup>(3)</sup> “The Throne was created from a red ruby and the distance between its two sides would take fifty thousand years to traverse.” We mentioned when citing the Words of Allah, Most High, ﴿ The angels and the Rooh (Jibrael/Gabriel) ascend to Him in a day the measure whereof is fifty thousand years ﴾ (Soorah Al-Ma’arij 70:4) that the distance between the Throne and the seventh Earth would take fifty thousand years to traverse and its breadth is also fifty thousand years.

Some of the rationalists have contended that the Throne is a circular heaven that encompasses the world on all sides and that is why they referred to it as the Ninth Heaven, the Starless Heaven and Al-Atheer (the Ether). But this is not good, because it has been established that it has legs which are borne by the angels and the heaven does not have legs, nor is it held and in addition, it is above Paradise and Paradise is above the heavens and there are a hundred levels between each of its seven levels, the distance between each of which is equivalent to the distance between the heavens and the Earth. And the distance between the Throne and the Kursi is not the same as that between one heaven and another. In addition, the word 'Arsh (Throne) in Arabic refers to the throne of a king, as Allah says, ﴿ And she (i.e. the Queen of Sheba) has a great throne... ﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:23). It does not mean a heaven and none of the Arabs understands it to mean that; and the Qur'an was sent down in the language of the Arabs and so it is a seat, which has legs that are borne by the angels and it is like a dome over the world and the ceiling of creation. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Those (angels) who bear the Throne (of Allah) and those around it glorify the praises of their Lord, and believe in Him, and ask for forgiveness for those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah) (saying), "Our Lord! You comprehend all things in mercy and knowledge..." ﴾ (Soorah Ghafir 40:7)

And He, Most High, says, ﴿ and eight angels will, that day, bear the Throne of your Lord above them ﴾ (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:17)

In the poetry of 'Abdullah Ibn Rawahah ؓ which he recited to his wife, when she accused him of impropriety with his slave-girl ('Al-Bahr Al-Wafir'), he says:

*"I bore witness that Allah's Promise is true
And that the Fire is the abode of the disbelievers,
And that the Throne is above the water, floating,
And above the Throne is the Lord of the worlds,
And it is borne by noble angels,*

The angels of the (one true) Deity (who are) commanded.”

This was recorded by Ibn ‘Abdul-Barr and other scholars.

Abu Dawood narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah that the Prophet ﷺ said: “I was permitted to speak about one of the angels of Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, who is one of the bearers of the Throne and (to tell you) that the distance between his earlobe and his shoulder is a journey of seven hundred years.”<sup>(1)</sup> It was also narrated by Ibn Abi ‘Asim with this wording, “(The distance is) like that of a bird flying for seven hundred years.”<sup>(2)</sup>

And it is reported on the authority of Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ and Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair that they said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High, « His Kursi extends over the heavens and the Earth, and He feels no fatigue in guarding and preserving them. And He is the Most High, the Most Great » (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:255), “It means, His Knowledge.” But what is known from Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ is that he said, as reported by Al-Hakim in Al-Mustadrak – who said that it is authentic according to the criteria for acceptance cited by Al-Bukhari and Muslim – “The Kursi is the Footstool and no one is able to properly estimate the Throne except Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.”<sup>(3)</sup>

It is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that the Prophet ﷺ said, “Verily, Allah created a Preserved Tablet from a white pearl; its pages are made from a red ruby and its Pen is light and its record is light. In each day, Allah has three hundred and sixty moments in which He creates, sustains, causes death and gives life, honors and humbles and does as He wills.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Ishaq Ibn Bishr reported on the authority of Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said: Verily, at the beginning of Al-Lawh Al-Mahfooz, it is written: ‘None has the right to be worshipped except Allah, Alone. Chapter: What Has Been Said Regarding the Creation of the Heavens and the Earth and All That Lies Between Them

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ All praise be to Allah, Who created the heavens and the Earth, and originated the darkness and the light, yet those who disbelieve hold others as equal with their Lord ﴾ (Soorah Al-An'am 6:1)

He, the Most High, says, ﴿ Indeed, your Lord is Allah, Who created the heavens and the Earth in six days ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:54). This is repeated in a number of verses in the Qur'an.

Scholars of tafseer hold two different opinions regarding the measure of these six days: The majority holds that they are like our (Earthly) days. It is reported on the authority of Ibn 'Abbas ؓ, Mujahid, Ad-Dahhak and Ka'b Al-Ahbar that: "Every day of them is equivalent to a thousand years of your reckoning."

This was narrated by Ibn Jareer and Ibn Abi Hatim and it was the preferred view of Ahmad Ibn Hanbal in the book in which he refuted the arguments of the Jahmiyyah. It was also the preferred view of Ibn Jareer and a number of the later scholars – and Allah knows better. Later, we shall present evidence to support this opinion. Ibn Jareer narrated, on the authority of Ad-Dahhak Ibn Muzahim and others, that the names of the six days are: "Abjad, Hawwaz, Hutti, Kalemun, Sa'fas and Qarash." Ibn Jareer also reported three sayings relating to the first days. He narrated, on the authority of Muhammad Ibn Ishaq, that he said, "The followers of the Torah say that Allah began the creation on Sunday, while the followers of the Injeel say that Allah began the creation on Saturday, while we Muslims, according to what has come to us from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, hold that Allah began the creation on Saturday." And this saying which is reported by Ibn Ishaq from the Muslims was favored by a number of Shafi'i scholars of Islamic Jurisprudence and others. It was reported in a hadeeth on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah created the soil (or clay) on Saturday."<sup>(1)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ He it is Who created for you all that is on Earth. Then He istawa (rose over) toward the heaven and made them seven heavens and He is the All-Knowing ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:29)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Say (O Muhammad): "Do you verily disbelieve in Him Who created the Earth in two days and you set up rivals (in worship) with Him?" That is the Lord of the 'Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists). He placed therein (i.e. the Earth) firm mountains from above it, and He blessed

it, and measured therein its sustenance (for its dwellers) in four days equal (i.e. all these four days were equal in the length of time), for all those who ask (about its creation). Then He istawa (rose over) toward the heaven when it was smoke, and said to it and to the Earth: "Come both of you willingly or unwillingly." They both said: "We come willingly." Then He completed and finished from their creation (as) seven heavens in two days and He made in each heaven its affair. "And We adorned the nearest (lowest) heaven with lamps (stars) to be an adornment as well as to guard (from the devils by using them as missiles against the devils). Such is the Decree of Him the All-Mighty, the All-Knowing". (Soorah Fussilat 41:9-12) This proves that the Earth was created before the heavens, because it is like a foundation for the structure, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Allah, it is He Who has made for you the Earth as a dwelling place and the sky as a canopy, and has given you shape and made your shapes good (looking) and has provided you with good things. That is Allah, your Lord, then blessed be Allah, the Lord of the 'Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists) ﴾ (Soorah Ghafir 40:64)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Have We not made the Earth as a bed? And the mountains as pegs? ﴾ (Soorah An-Naba' 78:6,7) – up to His Words, ﴿ And We have built above you seven strong (heavens). And have made (therein) a shining lamp (sun) ﴾ (Soorah An-Naba' 78:12,13)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Have not those who disbelieve known that the heavens and the Earth were joined together as one united piece, then We parted them and We have made from water every living thing. Will they not then believe? ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:30) – That is, "We parted the heaven and the Earth so that the winds blew, the rains fell and springs and rivers flowed and the animals were refreshed." Then He says, ﴿ And We have made the heaven a roof, safe and well-guarded. Yet they turn away from its signs ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:32) – That is, from what He has created in the heavens, such as the fixed and the moving celestial bodies, the shining stars and the illuminated heavenly bodies and the proofs of the Divine Wisdom of the Creator of the heavens and the Earth, as Allah says, ﴿ And how many a sign in the heavens and the Earth they pass by, while they are averse therefrom. And most of them believe not in Allah except that they attribute partners unto Him ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:105,106)

As for His Words: ﴿ Are you more difficult to create or is the heaven that He constructed? He raised its height, and has perfected it. Its night He covers and He brings out its forenoon. And after that He spread the Earth. And brought forth therefrom its water and its pasture. And the mountains He has fixed firmly, as provision and benefit for you and your cattle ﴾ (Soorah An-Nazi'at 79:27-33) – some people have taken these Verses as proof that the heavens were created before the Earth, thus contradicting the clear evidence provided by the abovementioned two verses. They have not understood this Verse, because it must be understood from this Verse that the flattening out of the Earth and the bringing forth of water and pastures from it was in fact after the creation of the heaven. This was the measuring of sustenance, as He says, ﴿ And measured therein its sustenance ﴾ (Soorah Fussilat 41:10) – That is, He prepared the places of cultivation and the locations of springs and rivers.

Then when He had completed the creation of the form of the higher and the lower world, He spread out the Earth and brought forth from it that which had been deposited therein, so that the springs gushed forth and the rivers flowed and the crops and fruits grew. This is why the flattening or spreading was explained as meaning the bringing forth of water and pasture from it and the fixing of the mountains. He says, ﴿And after that He spread the Earth. And brought forth therefrom its water and its pasture﴾ (Soorah An-Nazi'at 79:30,31) and He says, ﴿And the mountains He has fixed firmly﴾ (Soorah An-Nazi'at 79:32) – That is, He settled them, made them firm and established them in their places.

And He says, ﴿With Hands We constructed the heaven. Verily, We are able to expand the vastness of space thereof. And We have made the Earth a firash; how excellent the Spreader (thereof) are We! And of everything We have created pairs, that you may remember﴾ (Soorah Adh-Dharyyat 51:47-49). His saying, ﴿With Hands﴾ means “With Strength.”

﴿Verily, We are able to expand the vastness of space thereof﴾ - That is because all that is above is wider and so each heaven is wider than the one below it – and since the Kursi is higher than all of them, it follows that it is wider than all of them. And the Throne is much greater than all of these. After that, He says, ﴿And We have made the Earth a firash﴾ (Soorah Adh-Dharyyat 51:48) – That is, “We spread it out and made it a bed, i.e. fixed, calm, undisturbed and unshaken, which is why He says, ﴿How excellent the Spreader (thereof) are We!﴾ (Soorah Ad-Dharyyat 51:48) The word “And” in Allah’s saying, ﴿And We have made the Earth a firash﴾ does not indicate the order of the sequence of events; it only indicates general information – and Allah knows better.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Imran Ibn Husain ؓ that he said: I went to the Prophet ﷺ and tied my she-camel at the gate. The people of Banu Tameem came to the Prophet who said, "O, Banu Tameem! Accept the good tidings." They said twice, "You have given us the good tidings, now give us something." Then some Yemenis came to him and he said: "Accept the good tidings, O, people of Yemen, for Banu Tameem refused them." They said, "We accept it, O Messenger of Allah! We have come to ask you about this matter (i.e. the start of creation)." He said, "First of all, there was nothing but Allah, and (then He created His Throne). His Throne was over the water, and He wrote everything in the Book (in the heaven) and created the heavens and the Earth." <sup>(1)</sup> And Imam Ahmad Ibn Hanbal narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ took me by the hand and said: "Allah created the dust on Saturday and He created the mountains on Sunday, and He created the trees on Monday, and He created the unpleasant things on Tuesday and He created the light on Wednesday and He spread the creatures throughout it on Thursday and He created Adam ؑ after 'Asr on Friday. He was the last creation during the last hour of Friday, between 'Asr and the night." <sup>(2)</sup>

What is the purpose of mountains

And An-Nasa'i reported in the Tafseer on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, who said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ took me by the hand and said: "O Abu Hurairah! Verily, Allah created the heavens and the Earth and what lies between them in six days, then He istawa over the Throne on the seventh day and He created the dust on Saturday." <sup>(3)</sup>

'Ali Ibn Al-Madeeni, Al-Bukhari, Al-Baihaqi and other hadeeth masters discussed this hadeeth; Al-Bukhari said in

- (1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari in the Book of the Beginning of Creation (3191).
- (2) The takhreej for this hadeeth has already been given. FL 78
- (3) An-Nasa'i narrated something similar to this in Al-Kubra (6/427, No. 11392), but the author disputed that it was marfoo' (i.e. attributed to the Prophet ﷺ) and attributed it to Ka'b Al-Ahbar.

his Tareekh: “Some have said that it was on the authority of Ka’b and that is more correct.” That is to say, this hadeeth was heard from Ka’b Al-Ahbar by Abu Hurairah, because they were Companions and used to sit together to study hadeeth. One of them would recite from his papers and the other would recite from what he believed to be from the Prophet ﷺ. So this hadeeth was obtained by Abu Hurairah ؓ from Ka’b, who read it in his papers and so some of the narrators assumed that it was narrated from the Prophet ﷺ. He confirmed that it was marfoo’ by his saying, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ took me by the hand...” After that, there is something extremely singular in its text, such as the fact that there is no mention of the creation of the heavens in it, but the creation of the Earth and all that is in it in seven days is mentioned. This conflicts with what the Qur’an says, because the Earth was created in four days, then the heavens were created in two days from smoke. This is the steam from water which rises when the great water – which Allah created by His churning of the Earth, through His All-Encompassing Omnipotence – is agitated, as narrated by Isma’eel Ibn ‘Abdur-Rahman As-Suddi in a tradition which he reported on the authority of Abu Malik and on the authorities of Abu Salih, Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, Murrah Al-Hamdani (who reported on the authority of Ibn Mas’ood) and on the authority of people from among the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High, ﴿ He it is Who created for you all that is on Earth. Then, He istawa towards the heaven and made them seven heavens and He is the All-Knowing ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:29) They said that Allah’s Throne was over the water and He had not created any part of His creation before the water. Then when He wanted to create the creation, He extracted smoke (i.e. steam) from the water and it rose above the water and He called it the heaven. Then

He dried the water and made it into a single Earth and then He rent it apart and made seven Earths in two days – Sunday and Monday – and He created the Earth on a whale, that being the whale (Noon) mentioned by Allah in the Qur’an: ﴿ Noon. By the Pen and what they (the angels) write ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:1) The whale was in the water. The water was upon the back of a (small) rock. The rock was upon the back of an angel. The angel was upon a rock. The rock - the one mentioned by Luqman - was in the wind, neither in heaven nor on the Earth. The fish moved and became agitated. As a result, the Earth quaked, whereupon He firmly anchored the mountains on it, and it was stable. Allah created the mountains and the beneficial and useful things that are in them on Tuesday and on Wednesday, He created the trees, the water, the cities and the cultivated and barren land. He rent apart the heaven, which had been one single unit, and made it into seven heavens in two days – Thursday and Friday – and He only called Friday Al-Jumu‘ah because on that day He combined in it the creation of the heavens and the Earth and inspired His Command in every heaven. He created in each heaven the angels, the seas, the mountains of hail and all of the other things which none knows but He. Then He beautified the heaven with the stars and made them as adornments and as a guardian against the devils. Then, when He had finished creating what He loved, He istawa (ascended) over the Throne.” In this narration As-Suddi mentions a great number of strange things, and many of them are derived from Isra‘eeliyyat. This is because when Ka‘b Al-Ahbar embraced Islam during the Caliphate of ‘Umar ؓ, he used to speak in front of ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ about things from the knowledge of the People of the Scripture and ‘Umar ؓ would listen to him out of friendliness toward him and from surprise at the things he said that concurred with much of the truth that is contained in the Qur'an and the authentic sayings of the Prophet ﷺ. As a result, many people deemed it permissible to transmit what Ka'b Al-Ahbar said. But much of what he conveyed was incorrect and far from the truth.

Al-Bukhari narrated in his Saheeh, on the authority of Mu'awiyah ؓ, that he used to say regarding Ka'b Al-Ahbar, "Even though he was the most truthful of those who transmitted things from the People of the Scripture, we found that some of what he said was lies." <sup>(1)</sup> This means that he regarded the transmissions as untrue, not that he held Ka'b to be a deliberate conveyor of lies – and Allah knows better.

We relate them and then follow them with ahadeeth which either prove them to be true or disprove them, while the rest remain neither proven nor disproved. Allah is the One Whose Help is sought and upon Whom we depend.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When Allah ordained the creation, He wrote in His Book which is with Him above the Throne: Verily, My Mercy has overcome My Anger." <sup>(2)</sup>

Then Al-Bukhari said: Chapter: What Has Been Said Regarding Seven Earths and the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ It is Allah Who has created seven heavens and of the Earth the like thereof (i.e. seven). His Command descends between them (heavens and Earth), that you may know that Allah has power over all things, and that Allah surrounds (comprehends) all things in (His) Knowledge ﴾ (Soorah At-Talaq 65:12) – and then he said: It is reported on the authority of Abu Salamah Ibn ‘Abdur-Rahman that there was a dispute between him and some people and so he visited ‘A’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) and acquainted her with the details of the dispute and she said, “O Abu Salamah! Avoid the land, for the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, ‘Whoever takes even a span of land unjustly, his neck shall be encircled with it down seven Earths.’”<sup>(1)</sup>

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari in the Book of Holding Fast to the Qur'an and Sunnah (736).

(2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari in the Book of the Beginning of Creation (3194), by Muslim in the Book of Repentance (3751) and by An-Nasa'i in Al-Kubra (4/417, No. 7750).

Then Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Salim, on the authority of his father ؓ that he said: The Prophet ﷺ said, “Whoever took some land without right will sink down the seven Earths on the Day of Resurrection.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Here Al-Bukhari mentioned the hadeeth of Muhammad Ibn Seereen, on the authority of ‘Abdur-Rahman Ibn Abi Bakrah, on the authority of his father ؓ, that he said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, ‘(The division of) time has turned to its original form which was current when Allah created the heavens and the Earth. The year is twelve months.’”<sup>(3)</sup> What he meant by it – and Allah knows better – was to determine the meaning of the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ It is Allah Who has created seven heavens and of the Earth the like thereof (i.e. seven) ﴾ (Soorah At-Talaq 65:12) – That is, the like thereof in numbers. That is to say, just as the number of months, which is now twelve, corresponds with the number of months with Allah in His first Book, so these correspond in time, just as they correspond in place.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Ibn Mas‘ood that he said, “I said: O, Messenger of Allah! Which injustice is greatest?” He said, “That a Muslim should decrease a single cubit from the land of his brother, for there is not a pebble from the land that a person takes which does not encircle his neck on the Day of Resurrection down to the bottom of the Earth and none knows the bottom of it except Allah.” Ahmad was alone in narrating this, but its chain of narrators is acceptable.

These ahadeeth are similar to mutawatir <sup>(1)</sup> narrations in their affirmation of the existence of seven Earths. What is meant by that is that each of them is above the other. The scholars have disagreed regarding whether or not they are piled up, with nothing separating them or whether there are spaces between each of them. There are two opinions in the matter and there is a similar disagreement regarding the celestial bodies. It would appear that between each of them there is a distance, based on what is apparent from the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ It is Allah Who has created seven heavens and of the Earth the like thereof (i.e. seven). His Command descends between them ﴾ (Soorah At-Talaq 65:12)

As for what one of the rationalists said regarding the hadeeth: “...his neck shall be encircled with it down seven Earths.” <sup>(2)</sup> - that it means seven regions, this opinion contradicts the clear meaning of the Verse and the authentic hadeeth which we have narrated via Al-Hasan, on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه. <sup>(3)</sup>

Then he interpreted the hadeeth and the Verse in a way that

- (1) Mutawatir: A hadeeth which is reported by so many reliable narrators at each level in its chain of narrators that it negates the possibility that they could have conspired together to concoct a fabrication.
- (2) The takhreej for this hadeeth has already been given.
- (3) It is weak, which is why we have omitted it. See Sunan At-Tirmidhi (3398) and Ahmad’s Musnad (2/370) and in it is: “...if all of you lowered one of you by a rope down to the seventh and lowest Earth, it would reach Allah.”

contradicts their clear meaning, without any support and without any proof – and Allah knows better. It is the same with much of what is said by many of the People of the Scripture and which has been accepted by a group of our scholars, which states that this Earth is made from dust and what is below it consists of iron, and the other is from sulphur stone and the other from such-and-such. But all of this, if it has not been authentically reported with a chain of narrators reaching to the Prophet ﷺ is rejected. Likewise, regarding the tradition narrated on the authority of Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ which states that he said, “In every Earth of the creation there is something similar to what is in this one, even an Adam, like your Adam and an Ibraheem, like your Ibraheem,” it was reported in a summarised form by Ibn Jareer and it was examined by Al-Baihaqi in Kitab Al-Asma’i Was-Sifat. If it is authentic, it must be understood that Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ took it from the Isra’eeliyyat – and Allah knows better.

Geographers have mentioned the number of mountains in the Earth in all of their locations, east and west and they mentioned their length, how far they stretch and their height and they have spoken at great length on these matters, and it would not be fitting to explain all that they have said on the subject here. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And among the mountains are judad, white and red, of varying colors and (others) gharabeeb, black ﴾ (Soorah Fatir 35:27)

Ibn ‘Abbas and others said that the Arabic word judad means pathways and ‘Ikrimah and others said that gharabeeb means tall, black mountains. This is the case of the mountains all over the Earth. They differ in their locations and their colors.

Allah has mentioned Al-Joodi by name in His Book; it is a great mountain which lies to the east of Jazeerah Ibn ‘Umar, by the side of the River Tigris, near Al-Mawsil. It stretches from the south to the north, for a distance of three days' journey. Its summit is half a day's journey and it is green in color, because it is covered in oak trees. To the side of it is a town known as Ath-Thamaneen, which was the home of those who survived the flood in the ship with Nooh عليه السلام, according to what has been related by more than one scholar of tafseer – and Allah knows better.

Allah also mentions Mount Sinai and Al-Hafiz Ibn 'Asakir narrated on the authority of Ka'b Al-Ahbar that he said: "On the Day of Resurrection, four mountains – and they are Al-Khaleel Mountain, Lebanon, At-Toor (Mount Sinai) and Al-Joodi – each of them will become a white pearl that shine between the heaven and the Earth and they will return to Bait Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem), so that its corners will be illuminated and His Kursi will be placed on it and there He will judge between the people of Paradise and the people of the Fire. ﴿And you will see the angels surrounding the Throne from all around, glorifying the praises of their Lord. And they will be judged with truth. And it will be said, "All praise and thanks be to Allah, the Lord of the worlds."﴾ (Soorah Az-Zumar 39:75)

Section Regarding the Seas and the Rivers

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And He it is Who subjected the sea (to you), that you may eat from the fresh tender meat, and that you bring forth out of it ornaments to wear. And you see the ships plowing through it, that you may seek from His bounty and that you may perhaps be grateful. And He has driven firm standing mountains into the Earth, lest it should shake with you; and rivers and roads, that you may guide yourselves. And

(by the) landmarks; and by the stars, they guide themselves. Is then He Who creates the same as one who creates, not Will you not then reflect. And if you would try to count the favors of Allah, you would never be able to count them. Truly, Allah is Forgiving, Most Merciful) (Soorah An-Nahl 16:14-18)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And the two seas (kinds of water) are not alike: this is palatable, sweet and pleasant to drink, and that is salty and bitter. And from them both you eat fresh tender meat (fish), and derive the ornaments that you wear. And you see the ships cleaving, that you may seek of His bounty, and that you may give thanks. ﴾ ( Soorah Fatir 35:12)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ See you not that the ships sail through the sea by Allah's Grace that He may show you of His Signs? Verily, in this are signs for every patient, grateful (person). And when waves cover them like shades, they invoke Allah, making their invocations for Him only. But when He brings them safe to land, there are among them those that stop in between. And Our Ayat are not denied except by every perfidious ingrate. ﴾ (Soorah Luqman 31:31,32)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, in the creation of the heavens and the Earth, and in the alternation of night and day, and the ships which sail through the sea with that which is of use to mankind, and the water (rain) which Allah sends down from the sky and makes the Earth alive therewith after its death, and the moving (living) creatures of all kinds that He has scattered therein, and in the veering of winds and clouds which are held between the sky and the Earth, are indeed Ayat (proofs, evidences, signs, etc.) for people of understanding. ﴾ ( Soorah Al-Baqarah )

So Allah, Most High, has blessed His slaves with the things that He created for them, such as the seas and rivers. The vast seas which stretch across the Earth and that which they produce in all corners of it is salty and bitter and in this there is great wisdom for the health of the atmosphere, for if it were sweet, the atmosphere would become malodorous and the air bad, because of the large creatures that die in them and that would lead to the extinction of mankind and the spoiling of their environment. But (Allah's) far-reaching Wisdom necessitated that it should be the way it is in order for this advantage to be attained. This is why, when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was asked about the sea, he said, "Its water is pure and its dead things are lawful (to eat)." <sup>(1)</sup>

As for the rivers, their waters are sweet and permissible to drink, for those who wish to do so. The fact that Allah has caused them to flow freely, making them spring forth in one land and sending them to other lands as sustenance for His slaves. Some of them are large, while others are small, according to the need and the benefit.

Scholars of geography have spoken about the number of seas and about the major rivers, their sources, and where they end in words containing wisdoms and proofs of the Omnipotence of the Creator, Most High. It also shows that He acts by Choice and with Wisdom. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And the sea kindled by fire (or kept filled) ﴾ (Soorah At-Toor 52:6). There are two opinions regarding this; one states that it is the sea which is under the Throne, mentioned in the hadeeth of the goats <sup>(2)</sup> and that it is above the seven heavens. The distance between the lowest part of it and the highest part of it is like the distance between each heaven. It is from this that the rain will fall before the Sending Forth and from it the bodies will be restored to life from their graves. This is the preferred opinion of Ar-Rabee<sup>4</sup> Ibn Anas. The second opinion states that the word bahr is a generic collective noun, meaning all the seas on Earth – and that is the opinion of the majority.

(1) This is an authentic hadeeth, narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه by Abu Dawood in the Book of Purification (83), At-Tirmidhi (69), An-Nasa'i (332), Ibn Majah (386), Ahmad (7192), Malik (43) and Ad-Darimi (729).

(2) This hadeeth has been declared as weak by scholars of hadeeth. See Silsi-

Scholars disagreed regarding the meaning of Al-Bahr Al-Masjoor in the abovementioned Verse. It was said that it means “filled” and it was also said that it means “that which will become a kindled fire on the Day of Resurrection and that it will surround Ahl Al-Mawqif,”<sup>(1)</sup> as we mentioned in the Tafseer, on the authority of ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib ؑ, Ibn ‘Abbas ؑ, Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair, Mujahid and others. It was also said that what is intended by masjoor is prevented, restrained and preserved from overflowing and inundating the land, and drowning those upon it. This was narrated by Al-Walibi, on the authority of Ibn ‘Abbas ؑ and it was the opinion of As-Suddi and others. It was reported on the authority of ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؑ from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said: “There is not a single night when the sea does not rise three times and ask permission from Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful to unfold and flow over them (mankind), but Allah prevents it.”<sup>(2)</sup>

them and makes it subservient to them, so that it carries their ships so that they may reach distant lands with their trading goods and other things. And He guides them on it, with what He has created in the heaven and on Earth, such as the stars and the mountains, which He has made as landmarks by which they are guided on their journeys. He has also blessed them with the precious, rare, and beautiful pearls and gems that He has created therein, which are not found anywhere else and with the strange creatures that He has created in it and which He has made lawful for them to eat, even when they are dead, as He, Most High, says, « To hunt and eat the creatures of the sea is made lawful to you » (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:96) and the Prophet ﷺ said, "Its water is pure and its dead things are lawful (to eat)." <sup>(1)</sup> In another hadeeth, he said, "Two dead things and two types of blood have been made lawful to us: Fish and locusts and the liver and the spleen." <sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Al-Bazzar reported in his Musnad on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ – in a marfoo' form – that he said: "Allah spoke to this western sea and He spoke to the eastern sea. He said to the western sea, 'I transport some of my slaves upon you, so what do you do with them?' It said, 'I drown them.' Allah said, 'May wretchedness be in (all of) your regions.' And so He deprived it of jewels and game (i.e. fish etc.). Then He spoke to this eastern sea and said, 'I transport some of my slaves on, so what do you do with them?' It said,

(1) Then he (Al-Bazzar) said, "We do not know of anyone who narrated it on the authority of Suhail except 'Abdur-Rahman Ibn 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar and he narrates hadeeth which are munkar." (2) He added, "And Suhail narrated it on the authority of An-Nu'man Ibn Abi 'Ayyash, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr in a mawqoof<sup>(3)</sup> form.

I say: To say that it is mawqoof at 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Al-'As is more correct, because on the day of the Battle of Yarmook, he had found two pack-animals, loaded with books which contained knowledge of the People of the Scripture; and he used to relate things from the Isra'eeliyyat from them, some of them well-known and accepted and some of them unknown and rejected. As for the marfoo' narration, it was narrated only by 'Abdur-Rahman Ibn 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Hafs Ibn 'Asim Ibn 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab Abul Qasim Al-Madani, the chief justice of Al-Madinah. Imam Ahmad Ibn Hanbal said of him, "He is nothing. I heard it from him, then I tore up his hadeeth. He was a liar and his ahadeeth were munkar." He was also declared weak by Ibn Ma'een, Abu Zur'ah, Abu Hatim, Al-Juzjani, Al-Bukhari and Abu Dawood. Ibn 'Adiyy said, "In general, his ahadeeth are munkar and the worst of them is the hadeeth of the sea.”

The geographers – who deal with latitude, longitude, seas, rivers, mountains, terrains and the cities, ruins, buildings, the seven true regions, according to their terminology, and the numerous commonly known regions, what is contained in the cities and the countryside – including private property and plants and trade that exists in every area – say that the land is flooded by the great water (i.e. the seas), except for about a quarter of it and that is ninety degrees. And Divine Providence necessitates that the water be held back from this area, in order that animals might live on it and that crops and fruits might grow on it, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And the Earth He has put for the creatures. Therein are fruits, date-palms producing sheathed fruit-stalks (enclosing dates). And also corn, with (its) leaves and stalk for fodder, and sweet-scented plants. Then which of the Blessings of your Lord will you both (jinn and men) deny? 》 (Soorah Ar-Rahman 55:10-13)

They said that the inhabited portion of this land is about two-thirds of it, or a little more than that; and that is ninety-five degrees. With regard to the Western ocean – which is known as Oceanus (Okeanos) and which borders the lands of the West, including the Canary Islands – between them and its coast is ten degrees, which is approximately one month’s journey. It is not possible to travel or sail across it, due to its waves and the varying winds and waves that exist therein. It contains no fish or other edible life and has nothing that can be extracted from it. It cannot be traveled on for the purpose of trade or anything else and it stretches in the south to the Mountains of Darkness, or the Mountains of the Moon, wherein is the source of the Egyptian Nile. It traverses the equator and then stretches eastward and reaches the south of the land. In it there are the islands of the black people and on its coast there are many ruins. Then it stretches to the east and to the north, until it connects with the Sea of China and India. Then it stretches eastward until it borders the end of the exposed eastern land – and there are the lands of China. Then in the east of China, it turns northward, so that it crosses the lands of China and faces the Dam of Ya`jooj and Ma`jooj. Then it turns and encircles lands whose circumstances are unknown. Then it stretches westward and borders the lands of the Russians and passes them, then turns westward and southward and encircles the land. Then it returns toward the west and the strait pours out from the west to the body of the land, the furthestmost point of which ends at the western borders of Ash-Sham (Syria). Then it crosses the lands of the Christians, until it reaches Constantinople and other lands of their.

They say that between the Indian Sea and the China Sea there are mountains which separate them and between them there are lanes on which ships travel and they are caused to do so by their Creator. He has also made paths similar to them on the land. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And We have placed on the Earth firm mountains, lest it should shake with them, and We placed therein broad highways for them to pass through, that they may be guided. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya` 21:31). And Ptolemy, one of the kings of India, <sup>(1)</sup> mentioned in his book,

(1) Claudius Ptolemaeus (Greek: Klaudios Ptolemaïos; after 83 – C.168 C.E.), known in English as Ptolemy, was an ancient mathematician, astronomer, geographer and astrologer in the Greek tradition. He lived in Roman Egypt and was probably born there in a town in the Thebaid called

Al-Mijisti, which was translated into Arabic during the reign of Al-Ma'moon – which is the source of this information – that the seas which flow from the western, eastern, southern and northern oceans are very numerous. Some of them are in fact, one sea, but bear different names, according to the lands which they border; these include Bahr Al-Qulzum (the Red Sea) and Al-Qulzum is a village on the coast, near Aylah. There is also the Sea of Persia, the Khazar Sea (Caspian Sea), the Sea of Warnak, the Roman Sea (the Mediterranean Sea), the Bantash Sea and the Blue Sea – a city on its coast – and it is also known as Al-Qarm Sea. It becomes narrow until it pours into the Roman Sea, to the south of Constantinople, i.e., the Gulf of Constantinople. This is why the ships move quickly on its current from Al-Qarm to the Roman Sea, while they move slowly when they come from Alexandria to Al-Qarm. This is because they encounter a current of water; and this is one of the wonders of the world, because every flowing water is sweet, except this. And every non-flowing sea is salty, except for the Khazar Sea, which is also known as the Georgian Sea and the Sea of Tabaristan and has a large portion of sweet water in it, according to what has been reported by travelers to the area.

They (the geographers) have mentioned the limits of these seas, their origins and their end-points. And they have also mentioned the lakes on Earth into which the rivers empty and other flow – and they are the wide beds. They have also mentioned the well-known great rivers that exist on Earth, Ptolemais Hermiou; he died in Alexandria around 168 C.E. Ptolemy was the author of several scientific treatises, three of which would be of continuing importance to later Islamic and European science. One of them was the astronomical treatise now known as Al-Magest, or Al-Mijisti (The Great Treatise). He was not a king of India.

along with their sources and where they end.

But we are not concerned with lengthy explanations of such things here; we only wish to speak of what relates to the rivers which are mentioned in the hadeeth. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Allah is He Who has created the heavens and the Earth and sends down water (rain) from the sky, and thereby brings forth fruits as provision for you; and He has made the ships to be of service to you, that they may sail through the sea by His Command; and He has made rivers (also) to be of service to you. And He has made the sun and the moon, both constantly pursuing their courses, to be of service to you; and He has made the night and the day to be of service to you. And He gave you of all that you asked for, and if you (try to) count the blessings of Allah, never will you be able to count them. Verily, man is indeed an extreme wrongdoer, ungrateful ﴾ (Soorah Ibraheem 14:32-34)

In the Saheehain, it is reported on the authority of Malik Ibn Sa'sa'ah ؓ that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ spoke of Sidrah Al-Muntaha, he said: "Two hidden rivers and two visible rivers ran from its roots. As for the two hidden rivers, they are in Paradise, and the two visible rivers, they are the Nile and the Euphrates." (1)

In Saheeh Muslim, it is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Saihan, Jaihan, the Euphrates and the Nile are all among the rivers of Paradise." (2)

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3207) and Muslim (164)

(2) Narrated by Muslim (2839).

What is meant – and Allah knows better – by this is that these rivers resemble the rivers of Paradise in their clarity, their sweetness, their courses and other such attributes, as he ﷺ said in another hadeeth, narrated and declared authentic by At-Tirmidhi, on the authority of Abu Salamah, who reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “The ‘ajwah dates are from Paradise and contain a cure for poison.”<sup>(1)</sup> That is, they resemble the fruits of Paradise, not that they are harvested from Paradise, because practical experience proves otherwise; so it is clear that it refers to something else. Likewise, the Prophet ﷺ said, “Fever is from the breath of the Hellfire; so cool it with water.”<sup>(2)</sup> And he ﷺ said, “The severity of the heat is from the breath of the Hellfire.”<sup>(3)</sup> In the same way, the sources of these rivers have been witnessed on Earth. As for the Nile, it is the river which is without equal on Earth in its lightness and its fineness and the distance for which it flows from its beginning to its end. It starts in the mountains of Al-Qumr, i.e. of white. Some said that they are the mountains of Al-Qamar, i.e. the moon and they are in the west of the land, beyond the equator, lying in a southerly direction. It is said that ten streams of water – all of them distant from one another – combine to form it and that each five of them combine to form a lake, then six rivers flow from it, then all of them combine to form another lake and then one river flows from it and that is the Nile. It then passes through the lands of Sudan and Abyssinia

(1) Narrated by At-Tirmidhi (2066), who declared it hasan saheeh.

(2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar (3264) and Muslim (2209), Ibn Majah (3472), Ahmad (4705) and Malik (1761).

(3) Narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ by Al-Bukhari (534) and Muslim (615), Abu Dawood (402), At-Tirmidhi (157), An-Nasa’i (500), Ibn Majah (677), Ahmad (7205), Malik (29) and Ad-Darimi (1207).

and then through Nubia and its main city is Dongola. It then passes through Aswan, after which it passes through the lands of Egypt. It then goes a little way beyond Egypt and splits into two parts near a village on its shoreline; this village is known as Shattanawf. Then the westerly flow takes it through Rasheed and pours into the briny sea. As for the easterly flow, it also divides into two flows at Jawjar. The western flow passes through the western side of Dimyat and pours into the sea, while the eastern flow passes through Ushmoon Tannah, where it pours into a lake east of Dimyat. This lake is known as Lake Tinnees or Lake Dimyat. The distance between its starting point and its end point is a vast one and this is why it is such a calm river. Ibn Seena said, "It has characteristics which no other river on Earth has; these include the fact that measured from its source to its end-point, it is the longest river. In addition, it flows through rocks and sands, but it contains no moss or mire. Also, it does not cause the rocks and stones over which it flows to become green and this is due to its purity, sweetness and calmness. [And of that the increase in the days of a decrease of other rivers, and the decrease in the days of increase and its plenty.] As for the claim made by some, that its source is in an elevated place seen by some people and that they saw there a great horror, beautiful maidens and strange things and that whoever sees it is unable to speak after that, all of these are superstitions of chroniclers and liars.

'Abdullah Ibn Lahi'ah reported on the authority of Qais Ibn Al-Hajjaj, who reported from someone else that he said: When 'Amr Ibn Al-'As رضي الله عنه conquered Egypt, its people came to him during the month of Ba'unah, which is one of the months of the Coptic calendar, and said to him, "O, Commander! There is a religious custom relating to this Nile of ours and it will not flood without it.” He said to them, “And what is that?” “When twelve nights of the month have passed, we go to a virgin slave who is living with her parents and taking care of them, then we decorate her with jewels and the finest clothes and throw her into the Nile.” ‘Amr ؓ said, “This is not a part of Islam and Islam eradicates what came before it.” So they celebrated Ba’unah (with sacrificing a virgin) and the Nile did not flood – neither a little nor a lot.” According to another narration, “They celebrated the three months of Ba’unah, Abeeab and Misra and it did not flood, which caused them to consider migration. “So ‘Amr ؓ wrote to ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ and informed him about this. He wrote back to him, saying “You were right in what you said. Truly, Islam eradicates what preceded it.” He sent a slip of paper inside his letter and wrote to ‘Amr, “I have sent you a slip of paper inside my letter, so throw it in the Nile.” When ‘Umar’s letter reached ‘Amr Ibn Al-‘As ؓ, he took the slip and opened it, and there was in it, “From the slave of Allah, ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab, the Commander of the Faithful, to the Nile of Egypt: Now, if you used to flood before of your own accord, then don’t flood! If it was Allah, the Subduer, Who made you flow, then I ask Allah to make you flow.” He threw the slip into the Nile. They woke up on Saturday morning, and Allah had made it flow (and it rose) sixteen cubits in one night. Allah cut off this custom of the people of Egypt right up to this

As for the Euphrates, its source is in northern Arzan Ar-Room and it passes close to Malatyah and then it passes through Sumayaat. Then it passes through southern Ilbeerah and then it turns east, toward Balls and Ja‘bar Fortress. Then it flows toward Ar-Raqqah, then it flows to the northern side of Ar-Rahbah and then to ‘Aanah, then to Heet and then to Al-Koofah. Then it goes out to the empty spaces of Iraq and pours into broad, shallow bodies of water, i.e., lakes and large rivers, which are well-known, flow out from them and toward Ar-Raqqah, then it flows and pours into the Sea of Al-Basrah.

As for Saihan, it is said that it is also known as Saihoon. It begins in the lands of the Romans and it flows from the north and west to the south and east. It is to the west of the course of Jaihan and it is smaller in size than it. It is in the land of the Armenians, which are today known as the lands of Sees (Sisiyah). At the start of the Islamic State, it was in the hands of the Muslims. But when the Fatimids conquered the lands of Egypt and occupied Ash-Sham and its garrison was unable to protect it from its enemies, Nicephorus the Armenian conquered these lands, i.e., the lands of Sees (Sisiyah) – that was in the year 300 A.H. and they still control them up to our time. And it is Allah Whom we should ask that they be returned to us, by His Power and Strength. Then Saihan and Jaihan combine at

(1) Abu Ash-Shaikh in Al-'Azamah (941) and Ibn 'Asakir in Tareekh Dimashq (13/135). Translator's note: This story is rejected on a number of levels; Firstly, the person Ibn Al-Hajjaj reported from where is unknown, secondly, the text of the story is inconsistent with Islamic practice and, thirdly, there is no historical evidence that it was ever the practice of the Copts to cast a virgin into the Nile – either before or after they became Christians.

Azanah and become one river. Then they pour into the Sea of Rome (the Mediterranean) between Iyas and Tarasoos.

As for Jaihan, which is also known as Jaihoon, and by the common people as Jahan, its source is in the lands of Rome and it flows into the land of Sees (Sisiyah) from north to south and it is similar in size to the Euphrates. Then it combines with Saihan and they become one river, which flows into the sea at Iyas and Tarasoos. And Allah knows better.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿Allah is He Who raised the heavens without any pillars that you can see. Then, He istawa (rose above) the Throne (really in a manner that suits His Majesty). He has subjected the sun and the moon (to continue going round)! Each running (its course) for a term appointed. He regulates all affairs, explaining the Ayat (proofs, evidences, verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.) in detail, that you may believe with certainty in the meeting with your Lord. And it is He Who spread out the Earth, and placed therein firm mountains and rivers and of every kind of fruits He made zawjain ithmain (two in pairs – may mean two kinds or it may mean: of two sorts, e.g. black and white, sweet and sour, small and big, etc.) He brings the night as a cover over the day. Verily, in these things, there are Ayat (proofs, evidences, lessons, signs, etc.) for people who reflect. And in the Earth are neighboring tracts, and gardens of vines, and green crops (fields, etc.), and date-palms, growing out two or three from a single stem root, or otherwise (one stem root for every palm), watered with the same water, yet some of them We make more excellent than others to eat. Verily, in these things, there are Ayat (proofs, evidences, lessons, signs) for the people who understand. ﴿ (Soorah Ar-Ra'd 13:2-4)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Is not He (better than your gods) Who created the heavens and the Earth, and sends down for you water (rain) from the sky, whereby We cause to grow wonderful gardens full of beauty and delight? It is not in your ability to cause the growth of their trees. Is there any ilah (god) with Allah? Nay, but they are a people who ascribe equals (to Him)! Is not He (better than your gods) Who has made the Earth as a fixed abode, and has placed rivers in its midst, and has placed firm mountains therein, and has set a barrier between the two seas (of salt and sweet water). Is there any ilah (god) with Allah? Nay, but most of them know not. ﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:60,61)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ He it is Who sends down water (rain) from the sky; from it you drink and from it (grows) the vegetation on which you send your cattle to pasture. With it He causes to grow for you the crops, the olives, the date-palms, the grapes, and every kind of fruit. Verily! In this is indeed an evident proof and a manifest sign for people who give thought. And He has subjected to you the night and the day, the sun and the moon; and the stars are subjected by His Command. Surely, in this are proofs for people who understand. And whatsoever He has created for you on this Earth of varying colours [and qualities from vegetation and fruits, etc. (botanical life) and from animal (zoological life)]. Verily! In this is a sign for people who remember. ﴾ (Soorah An-Nahl 16:10-13)

So Allah, Most High, has mentioned the things that He has created in the Earth, such as the mountains, the trees, fruits, the plains, and the rugged surfaces. He has mentioned the types of things that He created, such as the inorganic materials (minerals, etc.), the living creatures in the countryside, in the desert and in the seas. All of these prove His Greatness, His Power, His Wisdom and His Mercy toward His creation and He has made for every moving creature the provision that they require day and night, in summer and in winter, in the morning and in the evening, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And no moving creature is there on Earth but its provision is due from Allah. And He knows its dwelling place and its deposit. All is in a Clear Book.﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:6)

Chapter: What Pertains to the Creation of the Heavens and the Signs They Contain

We have already stated that the creation of the Earth took place before the creation of the heaven, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ He it is Who created for you all that is on Earth. Then He Istawa ila the heaven and made them seven heavens and He is the Knower of everything. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:29)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Say: "Do you verily disbelieve in Him Who created the Earth in two days and you set up rivals with Him Who is the Lord of all that exists." He placed therein firm mountains from above it, and He blessed it, and measured therein its sustenance in four Days equal for all those who ask. Then He rose over (istawa ila) the heaven when it was smoke, and said to it and to the Earth: "Come both of you willingly or unwillingly." They both said: "We come willingly." Then He completed and finished their creation (as) seven heavens in two days and He made in each heaven its affair. And We adorned the nearest (lowest) heaven with lamps (stars) to be an adornment as well as to guard. Such is the decree of Him, the

Almighty, the All-Knowing. ﴿ (Soorah Fussilat 41:9-12)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Are you more difficult to create or is the heaven that He constructed. He raised its height, and has perfected it. Its night He covers and He brings out its forenoon. And after that He spread the Earth. ﴾ (Soorah An-Nazi'at 79: 27-30)

We have explained His Words: ﴿ And after that He spread the Earth ﴾ by saying that the Arabic word dahya (spreading) does not mean khalq (creation); it was after the creation of the heaven.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Blessed be He in Whose Hand is the dominion; and He is Able to do all things. Who has created death and life that He may test you which of you is best in deed. And He is the Almighty, the Oft-Forgiving. Who has created the seven heavens one above the other; you can see no fault in the creation of the Most Gracious. Then look again. Can you see any rifts? Then look again and yet again, your sight will return to you humiliated and worn out. And indeed We have adorned the nearest heaven with lamps, and We have made such lamps (as) missiles to drive away the Shayatin, and have prepared for them the torment of the blazing Fire. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mulk 67:1-5)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ (He is the) Cleaver of the daybreak. He has appointed the night for resting, and the sun and the moon for reckoning. Such is the measuring of the Almighty, the All-Knowing. It is He Who has set the stars for you, so that you may guide your course with their help through the darkness of the land and the sea. We have (indeed) explained in detail Our Signs for people who know. ﴾ (Soorah Al-An'am 6:96-97)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Indeed, your Lord is Allah, Who created the heavens and the Earth in six days, and then He rose over (istawa) the Throne. He brings the night as a cover over the day, seeking it rapidly, and (He created) the sun, the moon, the stars subjected to His command. Surely, His is the creation and commandment. Blessed is Allah, the Lord of all that exists.) (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:54). And the Verses on this subject are extremely numerous and we have spoken about all of them in our Tafseer.

What is meant is that He, Most High informs us about the creation of the heavens and its great vastness and elevation, that it is the ultimate in beauty, splendor, perfection and brilliance, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ By the heaven full of hubuk (full of beauty, grace, magnificence and perfection). ﴾ (Soorah Adh-Dharyat 51:7) That is, the beautiful creation.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Who has created the seven heavens one above the other; you can see no fault in the creation of the Most Gracious. Then look again. Can you see any rifts. Then look again and yet again, your sight will return to you humiliated and worn out. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mulk 67:3-4) That is, humiliated from trying to see any defect, imperfection or flaw in it. The Arabic word haseer means exhausted and weak; even if one looked until one's sight became feeble, fatigued and weakened, one would not find any defect in it, nor any fault, because Allah, Most High, had ordained its creation and adorned its sky with the stars.

Al-Bukhari said in the Book of the Beginning of Creation: Qatadah said, “﴿ And indeed We have adorned the nearest heaven with lamps. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mulk 67:5) The creation of these stars was for three purposes: as decoration of the sky, as missiles to hit the devils, and as signs to guide travelers. So, if anybody tries to find a different interpretation, he is mistaken, he will lose his reward and has taken on a task about which he has no knowledge.” This was Qatadah’s clear statement regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And indeed We have adorned the nearest heaven with lamps and We have made such lamps (as) missiles to drive away the shayateen (devils). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mulk 67:5)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ It is He Who has set the stars for you, so that you may guide your course with their help through the darkness of the land and the sea. ﴾ (Soorah Al-An’am 6:97) So whoever assigns any other purpose to them, i.e. such as the knowledge of (Divine) ordainments, taking their movements as evidence and comparisons between their orbits and claims that this is proof that certain Earthly events will take place, is mistaken. This is because most of what they say on this subject contains nothing but conjecture, lies and false claims. Allah mentioned that He created seven heavens one above another. But scholars have differed as to whether or not the spaces between them are piled up together or whether there are spaces between them. In fact, the latter is the correct opinion.

In the Saheehain it is reported on the authority of Anas رضي الله عنه in the hadeeth of Al-Isra` that he said: In the lowest heaven he (Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم) found Adam عليه السلام and Gabriel said to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, “He is your father; greet him.” The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم greeted him and Adam عليه السلام returned his greeting and said, “Welcome, Oh, my son! O, what a good son you are!” And then he ascended to the second heaven. Likewise, he reported that the same thing happened in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh heavens.” This proves that they are separated from each other, because he said that they ascended until they reached the second heaven and sought entrance, upon which it was said, "Who is this?..."<sup>(1)</sup> up to the end of the hadeeth. So this proves what we have said. And Allah knows better.

Ibn Hazm, Ibn Al-Muneer, Abul Faraj Ibn Al-Jawzi and other scholars have reported that there is a consensus among scholars that the heavens are spherical and what lends weight to that is His Saying: « They all float, each in an orbit » (Soorah Ya Seen 36:40) Al-Hasan said, "They revolve." Ibn 'Abbas ؓ said, "In an orbit, like the turning of a spinning mill." They said, This is proven by the fact that the sun sets every night and then it rises at the end of it from the east, as Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt said in Al-Bahr Al-Kamil:

The sun rises at the end of every night,

Red and rosy is the place at which it rises.

According to the hadeeth narrated by Al-Bukhari on the authority of Abu Dharr ؓ: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to Abu Dharr ؓ as the sun set, "Do you know where it (the sun) goes (at the time of sunset)?" I replied, "Allah and His Messenger know better." He said, "It goes (i.e. travels) till it prostrates itself underneath the Throne and takes the permission to rise again, and it is permitted and then (a time will come when) it will be about to prostrate itself but its prostration will not be accepted, and it will ask permission to go on its course but it will not be permitted, but it will be ordered to return whence it has come and so it will rise in the West. And that is the interpretation of the Statement of Allah: « And the sun runs its fixed course for a term (decreed). That is the Decree of (Allah) the Almighty, the All-Knowing » (Soorah Ya Seen 36:38)"

The sun will die, but what happens next?

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari in the Book of Tawheed (7517) and Muslim (162).

Did he believe the sun moved?
the earth rotates.

When this is known, then it (will be realized that) this is a hadeeth which does not contradict what we have mentioned regarding the rotation of the heavenly bodies, according to the most well-known two opinions. There is not evidence of the spherical shape of the Throne, as some have claimed, we have already proven the falseness of their opinion. Nor does it prove that it (the sun) ascends to a place above the heavens from our direction until it prostrates beneath the Throne. Rather, it sets out of our sight and continues in its course. There is nothing in the revealed Scripture to invalidate it, rather that which proves it and requires it is in perception, like eclipses. This is because, if it follows its course until it reaches the middle of it – so that it is the time of the middle of the night, for example – then it will be at its furthest point from the Throne and likewise, it will be at its closest point at the time of setting from our direction. When it is in the place of its prostration, it seeks permission from the Lord as it rises from the East and permission is granted to it and it appears from the direction of the East.

And when it is the time which Allah wills for its setting from the direction of the West, it prostrates according to its custom and seeks permission to rise, according to its custom, but it will not be permitted to do so and so it prostrates again, then asks permission, but is denied, then it prostrates a third time, but it is denied and this goes on throughout the night, as we have said in the Tafseer. Then it will say, “O Lord! The dawn is nigh and the distance is far.” Then it will be said to it, “Return from whence you came.” And so it will rise from the West. Then, when the people see it, they will all believe and that is (the meaning of) the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ When no soul which had not believed previously or earned good though its belief will benefit thereby and the sun runs its fixed course for a term (decreed). ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:38).

It was said that this means until the time at which it has been commanded to rise from the West. It was also said that the word mustaqarr means the place in which it prostrates beneath the Throne. And it was also said that it means the end of its course, which is the end of the world. And it was reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he recited, ﴿ And the sun runs without a mustaqarr for it ﴾. That is, it does not stop; based on this recitation, it would mean that it prostrates while moving in its course. This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ It is not for the sun to overtake the moon, nor does the night outstrip the day. They all float, each in an orbit. ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:40) That is, the sun cannot overtake the moon and rise in its domain; neither can the moon overtake the sun and rise in its domain. Likewise, the night cannot precede the day. Rather, when the day has gone, the night comes after it, following on its heels, as the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “When the night approaches from here and the day departs from here and the sun sets, the fasting person should break his fast.”<sup>(1)</sup> It is accepted that time is divided into night and day and there is nothing between them. This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Allah merges the night into the day (i.e. the decrease in the hours of the night are added in the hours of the day), and merges the day into the night (i.e. the decrease in the hours of day are added in the hours of night), and has subjected the sun and the moon, each running its course for a term appointed. ﴾ (Soorah Luqman 31:29).

That is, He merges this into that; He takes from the length of this and adds to the shortness of that and they become equal, just as at the start of the spring season, the nights before that are long and the days short. But the nights continue to shorten and the days to lengthen, until they are equal – and that is at the beginning of spring. Then the days begin to lengthen and the nights get shorter, until they also become equal at the beginning of the autumn. Then the nights begin to lengthen and the days to shorten, until the end of the autumn. Then the days begin to lengthen slowly and the nights begin to shorten slowly, until they become equal at the start of the spring, as we said previously. That is what happens every year. This is why Allah says, « His is the alternation of night and day. Will you not then understand? » (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:80) That is, the disposal of all that is in His Hands; the Judge, Who is not contradicted and is not opposed. And this is why He says in three Verses, when speaking of the heavens, the stars, the night and the day, « Such is the measuring of the Almighty, the All-Knowing » (Soorah Al-An'am 6:96) That is, the Almighty, Who has subjugated all things and to Whom all things have submitted and so He is not opposed and He cannot be overcome. He is the Knower of all things and He has appointed a measure for everything, according to a rule which does not change and cannot be disturbed.

So the bodies that are in the sky include those that constantly move and they are known as mutahayyirah <sup>(1)</sup> by the scholars of tasyeer; <sup>(2)</sup> and most of this knowledge is correct, unlike the “science” of (astrological) rulings, most of which is false and without any evidence to support its claims. These are seven in number and they are: the moon, which is in the lowest heaven, 'Utarid (Mercury), which is in the second, Az-Zuhrah

(1) Mutahayyirah: Wandering stars; they were known as such because they seemed to stray irregularly across the sky. At times they are seen moving from East to West, and at others, from West to East.

(2) Tasyeer: The science of calculating the movements of heavenly bodies.

(Venus), which is in the third, the sun, which is in the fourth, Al-Mirreekh (Mars), which is in the fifth, Al-Mushtari (Jupiter) and Zuhal (Saturn) in the seventh. The other planets are known as the fixed stars and they are, according to them, in the eighth heaven, which is known in the language of many of the later scholars as Al-Kursi. Others deny this saying, all of the planets are in the lowest heaven and there is no objection to the view that some of them are above others. It might be said that there is evidence for this in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And indeed We have adorned the nearest heaven with lamps, and We have made such lamps (as) missiles to drive away the Shayateen (devils) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mulk 67:5), and in the Words of Him, Most High: ﴿ Then He completed and finished from their creation (as) seven heavens in two days and He made in each heaven its affair. And We adorned the nearest (lowest) heaven with lamps (stars) to be an adornment as well as to guard (from the devils by using them as missiles against the devils). Such is the Decree of Him the Almighty, the All-Knowing ﴾ (Soorah Fussilat 41:12). So Allah selected the lowest heaven from among the heavens to be adorned with heavenly bodies, and if this proves that they (the planets) are adornments, then so be it. If not, then there is no objection to what the others say. And Allah knows better. According to them, the seven heavens, indeed, the eight, turn with all the fixed stars that they contain, while the wandering stars move in an orbit contrary to it, from the West to the East. So the moon completes its orbit in a month and the sun completes its orbit in a year. If there is no disparity between the two courses and their movements are similar, then the extent of the fourth heaven is twelve times greater than that of the lowest heaven. Zuhal (Saturn) – which is in the seventh heaven – completes its orbit in thirty years. Based on this, the extent of the seventh heaven will be three hundred and sixty times greater than that of the Earth.

The scholars have spoken about the masses of these stars and their orbits and movements and they have enlarged on these things until they have crossed over into the “science” of Al-Ahkam and the “knowledge” of Earthly events derived from it and matters of which most of them have no knowledge. The Greeks, who resided in Syria many years before the time of the Messiah ﷺ, had spoken at great length about such matters and it would require a lengthy discussion to explain all of it. It was they who built the city of Damascus and made seven gates for it and at each gate they built a temple representing each of the planets. They would worship each of them in the appropriate temple and make supplications to them which have been passed down from them by more than one historian and by others. The author of the book As-Sirr Al-Maktoom Fee Mukhatabat Ash-Shams Wal-Qamar Wan-Nujoom (The Hidden Secret in the Address to the Sun, the Moon and the Stars) – but they are superstitions to which none should pay any heed. And that is fairy tale, and people did not care of it. They were also recorded by some of the scholars of the Harnanis, the philosophers of ancient Harran. They were pagans, who worshipped the seven stars and they were a sect from among the Sabians. <sup>(1)</sup> This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And from among His Signs are

- (1) Harnanis: Or Harranis; later Muslim writers (after the ‘Abbasid Caliph Al-Ma’mun 832-833 C.E.) described them as people who worshipped planets, idols, stars and lived in the city of Harran, in south-east Turkey. It was said that Al-Ma’mun, passing through Harran on his way to a campaign against Byzantium, forced the Harranians to convert to either to Islam or one of the “religions of the book”, meaning Judaism, Christianity, or Sabianism. The people of Harran identified themselves with the Sabians in order to fall under the protection of Islam. Sabians were mentioned in the Qur’an, but those were a group of Gnostic Mandaecans living in southern Iraq who were extinct at the time of Al-Ma’mun.

Did the Greeks discover the planets?

the night and the day, and the sun and the moon. Prostrate not to the sun or to the moon, but prostrate to Allah, Who created them, if you (really) worship Him 》. (Soorah Fussilat 41:37) And He informs us that the hoopoe said to Sulaiman (Solomon 𐤃𐤌), when informing him about Bilqees, the Queen of Saba', in Yemen and her armies and supporters, “I found a woman ruling over them, and she has been given all things that could be possessed by any ruler of the Earth, and she has a great throne. I found her and her people worshipping the sun instead of Allah, and Shaitan (Satan) has made their deeds fair-seeming to them, and has barred them from (Allah's) Way, so they have no guidance., Al-La (this word has two interpretations: (i) Satan has barred them from Allah's Way so that they do not worship (prostrate before) Allah, or (ii) so that they may worship (prostrate before) Allah, Who brings to light what is hidden in the heavens and the Earth, and knows what you conceal and what you reveal.” (Tafseer At-Tabari, Vol. 19, Page Allah, La ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), the Lord of the Supreme Throne! 》) (Soorah An-Naml 27:23-26)

Because the most eminent of the visible bodies in the heavens and the Earth are the planets and the most eminent of them are the sun and the moon, Al-Khaleel Ibraheem 𐤁𐤋𐤁 proved the futility of worshipping them; and that is in the Words of Allah, Most High: 《 When he saw the moon rising up, he said, 'This is my lord.' But when it set, he said, 'Unless my Lord guides me, I shall surely be among the erring people.' When he saw the sun rising up, he said, 'This is my lord. This is greater.' But when it set, he said, 'O, my people! I am indeed free from all that you join as partners in worship with Allah. Verily, I have turned my face toward Him Who has created the heavens and the Earth Hanifan (Islamic Monotheism, i.e. worshipping none but Allah, Alone) and I am not of al-mushrikoon (pagans, idolaters, etc.”) (Soorah Al-An'am 6:77-79) So he made clear, using decisive evidence, that worshipping any of these visible bodies, such as the planets, the moon and the sun does not benefit anyone at all, because all of them are created things, subject to Allah's Lordship, His Direction and made to follow their orbits and they cannot deviate from what has been created for them, unless it is ordained for them. This is the proof that they are subject to Allah's Lordship, created, made subservient and subjugated, which is why Allah, Most High, says, « And from among His Signs are the night and the day, and the sun and the moon. Prostrate not to the sun or to the moon, but prostrate to Allah Who created them, if you (really) worship Him. » (Soorah Fussilat 41:37) It has been authentically reported in the Saheehain regarding the eclipse prayer that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said during a sermon one day, “Verily, the sun and the moon are two Signs from among Allah's Signs and they do not eclipse for the death of anyone, nor for his life.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated in the Book of the Beginning of Creation, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “The sun and the moon will be rolled up on the Day of Resurrection.”<sup>(2)</sup>

These traditions prove that the sun and the moon are from among Allah's creations, which He created for the purposes that He designed and then He does with them as He wills. And to Him belongs the argument that eliminates falsehood and is incontrovertible.

When this is known, (it becomes clear that) all of the wandering and fixed stars which are in the heaven are creations of Allah, as

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (1044) and Muslim (901), on the authority of 'A'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her).

(2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3200).

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And He made in each heaven its affair. And We adorned the nearest (lowest) heaven with lamps (stars) to be an adornment as well as to guard (from the devils by using them as missiles against the devils). Such is the Decree of Him the All-Mighty, the All-Knower. ﴾ (Soorah Fussilat 41:12)

As for what many of the scholars of tafseer have said regarding the story of Haroot and Maroot, that Az-Zuhrah was a woman whom they attempted to seduce, but she refused unless they agreed to teach her the greatest Name, which they did and she spoke it and ascended to the heaven and became a planet, I believe that this is from among the Isra'eeliyyat and even though it may have been narrated by Ka'b Al-Ahbar and passed on from him by a group from among the Salaf, who related it as a story from the Children of Isra'eel.

Section Regarding What Has Been Said About the Galaxy and Rainbows

Abul Qasim At-Tabarani narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that Heraclius wrote to Mu'awiyah ؓ and said, "If there remains among them anything of Prophethood, then he will inform me about whatever I ask them." So he wrote to him, asking him about the galaxy and about rainbows and about a place on which the sun has not shone except for one hour. When the messenger reached Mu'awiyah with the letter, he said, "This is a thing about which I did not think that I would be asked before today." He asked, "Who can answer this?" It was said, "'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas." So Mu'awiyah ؓ folded up Heraclius' message and sent it to 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ and he ('Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ) wrote (back) to him, "The rainbow is a protection for the people of the Earth from flooding and the galaxy is the door to the heaven, from which the Earth is separated. As for the place on which the sun has not shone except for an hour of the daytime, it is that which lies beneath the sea that was parted for the Children of Isra'eel.”<sup>(1)</sup> This has an authentic chain of narrators up to ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, in the creation of the heavens and the Earth, and in the alternation of night and day, and the ships which sail through the sea with that which is of use to mankind, and the water (rain) which Allah sends down from the sky and makes the Earth alive therewith after its death, and the moving (living) creatures of all kinds that He has scattered therein, and in the veering of winds and clouds which are held between the sky and the Earth, are indeed Ayat (proofs, evidences, signs, etc.) for people of understanding. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:164)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Yazeed Ibn Haroon, who in turn reported on the authority of Ibraheem Ibn Sa‘d, who reported from his father, who in turn reported on the authority of one of the Shaikhs of Banu Ghifar that he said, “I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ says, ‘Verily, Allah creates the cloud and He speaks in the best way and laughs in the best way.’”<sup>(2)</sup>

Malik narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Az-Zubair that whenever he heard thunder, he would stop speaking and then he would say, “Glory be to Him Whose praises the thunder glorifies, as do the angels from fear of Him.”<sup>(3)</sup>

(1) Narrated by At-Tabarani in Al-Mu‘jam Al-Kabeer (10/244). Al-Haithami said in Majma‘ Az-Zawa‘id (15524), “It was narrated by At-Tabarani and its narrators are reliable.”

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said, “Your Lord said, ‘If My slaves were to obey Me, I would send down rain to them at night and I would send down the sun upon them during the daytime and I would never let them hear the sound of thunder.’” (1)

Chapter: Mention of the Creation of the Angels and Their Attributes

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Allah bears witness that La ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), and the angels, and those having knowledge (also give this witness); (He is always) maintaining His creation in Justice. La ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), the All-Mighty, the All-Wise. ﴾ (Soorah Ale 'Imran 3:18).

He, Most High, says, ﴿ But Allah bears witness to that which He has sent down (the Qur'an) unto you (O, Muhammad), He has sent it down with His Knowledge, and the angels bear witness. ﴿ (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:166)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And they say: 'The Most Beneficent (Allah) has begotten a son (or children).' Glory to Him! They (those whom they call children of Allah, i.e. the angels, 'Eesa [Jesus] son of Maryam [Mary] and 'Uzair [Ezra], etc.) are but honored slaves. They speak not until He has spoken, and they act on His Command. He knows what is before them, and what is behind them, and they cannot intercede except for him with whom He is pleased. And they stand in awe for fear of Him. And if any of them should say: 'Verily, I am an ilah (a god) besides Him (Allah),' such a one We should recompense with Hell. Thus We recompense the zalimoon (polytheists, wrongdoers, etc.) ﴿ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:26-29)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Nearly the heavens might rent asunder from above them (by His Majesty), and the angels glorify the praises of their Lord, and ask for forgiveness for those on the Earth, verily, Allah is the Oft-Forgiving, the Most Merciful. ﴿ (Soorah Ash-Shoora 42:5)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Those (angels) who bear the Throne (of Allah) and those around it glorify the praises of their Lord, and believe in Him, and seek forgiveness for those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah) (saying): 'Our Lord! You comprehend all things in mercy and knowledge, so forgive those who repent and follow Your Way, and save them from the torment of the blazing Fire! Our Lord! And make them enter the 'Adn (Eden) Paradise (everlasting Gardens) which you have promised them, and to the righteous among their fathers, their wives, and their offspring! Verily, You are the Almighty, the All-Wise,. ﴿ (Soorah Ghafir 40:7,8)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ All praises and thanks be to Allah, the (only) Originator (or the [only] Creator) of the heavens and the Earth, Who made the angels messengers with wings - two or three or four. He increases in creation what He wills. Verily, Allah is Able to do all things. ﴿ (Soorah Fatir 35:1)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) the Day when the heaven shall be rent asunder with clouds, and the angels will be sent down, with a grand descending. The sovereignty on that Day will be the true (sovereignty), belonging to the Most Beneficent (Allah), and it will be a hard Day for the disbelievers (those who disbelieve in the Oneness of Allah (Islamic Monotheism)). ﴿ (Soorah Al-Furqan 25:25,26)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ O, you who believe! Ward off from yourselves and your families a Fire (Hell) whose fuel is men and stones, over which are (appointed) angels stern (and) severe, who disobey not, (from executing) the Commands they receive from Allah, but do that which they are commanded. ﴿ (Soorah At-Tahreem 66:6)

The Verses which mention the angels are numerous; Allah describes them as being strong in worship and in physical form. They are of comely appearance and huge in size and they take on many forms, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And when Our Messengers came to Loot (Lot), he was grieved on their account and felt himself straitened for them (lest the townspeople should approach them to commit sodomy with them). He said, 'This is a distressful day.' And his people came rushing toward him, and since aforetime they used to commit crimes (sodomy, etc.) ﴿ (Soorah Hood 11:77,78)

We mentioned in the Tafseer what more than one scholar said that the angels appeared in the form of handsome men as a test and a trial, so that the evidence would be established against the people of Lot عليه السلام and Allah will inflict upon them the seizure of Allah, the Almighty, Most Competent. Likewise, Gabriel عليه السلام used to come to the Prophet ﷺ in different forms; sometimes he would come to him in the form of Dihyah Ibn Khaleefah Al-Kalbi, <sup>(1)</sup> sometimes in the form of a Bedouin man, <sup>(2)</sup> sometimes in his true form. <sup>(3)</sup> He has six hundred wings and the distance between each wing is like the distance between the East and the West. The Prophet ﷺ saw him in this form on two occasions: once, when he was descending from the heaven to the Earth and once, at Sidrah Al-Muntaha, <sup>(4)</sup> which is near to Jannah Al-Ma'wa. <sup>(5)</sup> And this is mentioned in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ He has been taught (this Qur'an) by one mighty in power (Jibrael [Gabriel]), dhu mirrah (free from any defect in body and mind), fastawa (then he [Jibrael] rose and became stable) (Tafseer At-Tabari) while he (Jibrael) was in the highest part of the horizon. Then he (Jibrael) approached and came closer. ﴾ (Soorah An-Najm 53:5-8). That is, Gabriel عليه السلام, as we reported on the authority of more than one of the Companions, including 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood, Abu Hurairah, Abu Dharr and 'A'ishah (may Allah be pleased with all of them). ﴿ And was at a distance of two bows' length or (even) nearer, So did (Allah) convey the Inspiration to His slave. ﴾ (Soorah An-Najm 53:9,10) That is, to the slave of Allah, Muhammad ﷺ. Then He says, ﴿ And indeed he (Muhammad) saw him (Jibrael) at a second descent (i.e. another time) near Sidrah Al-Muntaha (the Lote-tree of the Utmost Boundary [beyond which none can pass]) ﴾ (Soorah An-Najm 53:13,14). these is Gabriel عليه السلام and we have mentioned in the ahadeeth of Al-Isra' in Soorah Subhan <sup>(1)</sup> that Sidrah Al-Muntaha is in the seventh heaven. In another narration, it is mentioned that it is in the sixth heaven. That is, its trunk and its branches are in the seventh heaven. « When that covered the Lote-tree which did cover it » (Soorah An-Namj 53:16). It was said that it was covered by the Light of the Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. It was also said that it was covered by golden moths. It was also said that it was covered by numerous different colors, without limit. It was also said that it was covered by the angels, like ravens. It was also said that it was covered by the Light of Allah, Most High, and no one can describe it, because of its beauty and its splendor.

There is no contradiction between these sayings, because all of them are possible at one time.

Sufyan Ath-Thawri, Shu'bah and Abul-Ahwas narrated on the authority of Simak Ibn Harb, who reported from Khalid Ibn 'Ar'arah that Ibn Al-Kawwa' asked 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib عليه السلام about Al-Bait Al-Ma'moor and he said: "It is a mosque in the seventh heaven, which is known as Ad-Durah, opposite the Ka'bah from above. Its sacredness in the heaven is like the sacredness of the House on Earth. Every day, seventy thousand angels pray in it and they never return to it." <sup>(2)</sup>

Others said that in every heaven there is a House which is filled with angels, who come there in order to worship. They visit it in shifts, just as the people of the Earth visit the Sacred House in order to perform Hajj every year and to perform 'Umrah at all times and to make tawaf and offer prayers.

(2) Narrated by Al-Baihaqi in Ash-Shu'ab (3/437). It also has support in the Saheehain, Al-Bukhari (3207) and Muslim (164).

The name of the House which is in the heaven is Bait Al-Izzah and the name of the angel who leads the angels in it is Isma'eel. According to this, the seventy thousand angels who enter Bait Al-Ma'moor every day and they do not return to it again – i.e., they will never return to it until the end of time – are from the inhabitants of the seventh heaven alone. This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And none can know the hosts of your Lord but He ﴾ (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:31)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Dharr ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Verily, I see what you do not see and I hear what you do not hear. The heaven cried out and it was entitled to cry out. There is no place larger than the space of four fingers which does not have a prostrating angel on it. If you knew what I know, you would laugh little and weep much, and you would not take pleasure in women on your beds – you would go out to the heights and raise your voices to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.” Abu Dharr ؓ said, “By Allah, I wished that I was a firm supported tree.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Al-Hafiz Abul-Qasim At-Tabarani narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn 'Abdullah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “There is not in the seven heavens the space of a foot, or even a finger joint, or a hand which does not have a prostrating angel or a bowing angel in it. When the Day of Resurrection comes, they will all say, ‘We would not have worshipped You as You deserve to be worshipped if we had not done so without ascribing partners to you.’”<sup>(2)</sup>

These two narrations prove that there is no place in the seven heavens which is not occupied by the angels engaged in all kinds of worship. Some of them are continuously standing, others are continuously bowing and others are continuously prostrating. Others are involved in other forms of worship and Allah knows better what they are. They are continuously occupied in worship, glorification and remembrance of Allah; deeds which Allah has commanded them to do and they have places near to their Lord. Allah, Most High, says, « There is not one of us (angels) but has his known place (or position); Verily, we (angels), we stand in rows for the prayers (as you Muslims stand in rows for your prayers); Verily, we (angels), we are those who glorify (Allah's praises, i.e. offer prayers) » (Soorah As-Saffat 37:164-166)

The Prophet ﷺ said: “Why don't you draw yourselves up in rows as angels do in the presence of their Lord?” The Companions said, “Messenger of Allah, how do the angels draw themselves up in rows in the presence of their Lord?” He ﷺ said, “They make the first row complete and keep close together in the row.”<sup>(1)</sup>

He said: “We have been favoured over the rest of the mankind in three matters: the earth has been made as a mosque (i.e. a place in which to pray) for us and its dust has been made a means of purification for us and our ranks (in prayer) have been made like those of the angels.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Thus they will come on the Day of Resurrection in front of their Lord, the All-Powerful, in ranks, as Allah, Most High, says, « And your Lord comes with the angels in rows » (Soorah

Al-Fajr 89:22)

They will stand in rows before their Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful on the Day of Resurrection, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ The Day that Ar-Rooḥ and the angels will stand forth in rows, none shall speak except him whom the Most Beneficent (Allah) allows, and he will speak what is right ﴾ (Soorah An-Naba' 78:38) What is meant by Ar-Rooḥ here is mankind, according to 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas رضي الله عنه, Al-Hasan and Qatadah. It was also said that it means a group of angels resembling mankind in appearance. This was also said by 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas رضي الله عنه, Mujahid, Abu Salih and Al-A'mash. It was also said that it refers to Jibrael. This was the opinion of Ash-Sha'bi, Sa'eed Ibn Jubair and Ad-Dahhak. It was also said that it refers to an angel who is known as Ar-Rooḥ, who is responsible for all mankind. 'Ali Ibn Abi Talhah reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas رضي الله عنه <sup>(1)</sup> that he said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ The Day that Ar-Rooḥ... will stand forth ﴾ that it is one of the greatest of the angels in form. A great thing has been mentioned in the description of Jibrael عليه السلام in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ He has been taught by One Mighty in power ﴾ (Soorah An-Najm 53:5). The scholars said that so great is his strength that he lifted up the cities of the people of Loot عليه السلام – and they were seven in number – with all of their inhabitants; they numbered four hundred thousand, in addition to their livestock and other animals. He also lifted up all the cities of the surrounding lands and their buildings, etc. He lifted all of these on the tip of one of his wings until it was as high as the clouds in the sky, so that the angels heard the barking of dogs and the crowing of their cockerels. Then he turned them upside-down – and that is the One Mighty in Power. As for His Saying: « Dhu Mirrah », it means: handsome in form, splendid and radiant, as Allah, Most High, says in another Verse: « Verily, this is the Word of a most honorable messenger. » (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:40), i.e. Jibrael ﷺ and the word « honorable » here means beautiful in appearance. His Saying: « one mighty in power » means that he possesses great strength and enormous power. « With the Lord of the Throne » means that he has a high status and elevated station, next to Allah, the Lord of the Glorious Throne. « Obeyed there » means Jibrael is obeyed by the heavenly host (i.e. the angels). « And trustworthy » means great trust has been placed in him by Allah, which is why he was the ambassador between Allah and His Prophets (peace be upon them all), descending to them with Revelation containing true information and just laws. He used to come to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and he would descend to him in a number of different forms, as we mentioned earlier. He saw in him in the form in which Allah created him on two occasions. He has six hundred wings, according to the narration of Al-Bukhari, on the authority of Talq Ibn Ghannam, who reported on the authority of Za'idah Ash-Shaibani that he said, "I asked Zirr about the Words of Allah: « And was at a distance of two bows' length or less. So did He convey the Inspiration to His slave. » (Soorah An-Najm 53:9,10) and he said, "'Abdullah ('Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood ؓ) informed us that Muhammad ﷺ saw Jibrael ﷺ and he had six hundred wings."<sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Wa'il, who reported on the authority of 'Abdullah ؓ that he said, "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw Jibrael ﷺ in his (original) form and he had six hundred wings and each wing filled the horizon and pearls and precious stones of all colors fell from his wings, in

In the Saheehain it was reported on the authority of Masrooq that he said, “I was with ‘A’ishah and I said, ‘Does not Allah say, ﴿ And indeed he (Muhammad ﷺ) saw him in the clear horizon (toward the East) ﴾ (Soorah At-Takweer 81:23) and, ﴿ And indeed he (Muhammad ﷺ) saw him at a second descent (another time) ﴾ (Soorah An-Najm 53:13)’ She said, ‘I was the first of this nation to ask the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about this and he said, ‘That refers to none other than Jibrael ﷺ.’”<sup>(2)</sup> He did not see him in the form in which Allah created him except on two occasions: he saw him descending from the heaven to the Earth, the greatness of his size filling what lies between the heaven and the Earth.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to Jibrael ﷺ, ‘Will you not visit us more than you do?’ Upon which Allah revealed: ﴿ And we (angels) descend not except by the Command of your Lord (O, Muhammad). To Him belongs what is before us and what is behind us ﴾” (Soorah Maryam 19:64)

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was the most generous of people and he was at his most generous during the month of Ramadan, when Jibrael ﷺ met him. Jibrael ﷺ used to meet him on every night of Ramadan till the end of the month. The Prophet used to recite the Holy Qur’an to Jibrael, and when Jibrael met him, he used to be more generous than a fast wind (which brings rain and welfare).” (1)

One of the attributes of Israfeel – who is one of the bearers of the Throne – is that he will blow the trumpet by the Command of his Lord three times. The first trump is the trump of terror, the second will be the trump of swooning and the third will be the trump of Resurrection. The trumpet is a horn on which he will blow. Every circle of it is like the distance between the heaven and the Earth. And in it there is a place in which the souls of the slaves are placed when Allah commands the blowing of the trumpet. When it is blown, the souls will come out of it and the Lord, the All-Powerful will say, “By My Might and My Power, let every soul return to the body which it inhabited during its earthly life.” They will enter the bodies in the graves and they will enter them, as poison enters a person who has been stung. Then the bodies will come to life and the graves will split open over them and they will emerge from them and hasten to the gathering place.

This is why the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “How can I live a life of ease when the bearer of the horn has put it to his lips and raised his forehead anticipating to hear the call, so when he is ordered to blow, he will blow.” The Companions said, “What should we say (supplicate) O, Messenger of Allah?” He replied: “Say, ‘Sufficient is Allah for us and He is the best of Guardians, we put our trust in Allah, our Lord’.” (2)

Verily, Allah commands you to choose between (being) a slave-prophet and a king-prophet." He said, "Gabriel ﷺ signed to me with his hand to be humble and I knew that he was advising me and so I said, 'A slave-prophet.' Then that angel ascended to the heaven and I said, 'O, Gabriel! I wanted to ask you about this, but I saw in your expression something which deterred me from asking the question. So who was that, O, Gabriel?' He said, "That was Israfeel ﷺ. On the day that Allah created him, He created him in front of Him, with his feet together and he did not raise his gaze. Between him and the Lord were seventy lights and every time one of them came near to him, it would burn out. In front of him is a tablet and whenever Allah commands something in the heaven or the Earth, it is raised up to the tablet and it strikes his forehead and he looks. If it is one of my responsibilities, then it commands me to do it; if it is one of Meeka'eel's responsibilities, then it commands him to do it and if it is one of the Angel of Death's responsibilities, then it commands him to do it.' I said, 'O, Gabriel! And what are your responsibilities?' He said, 'For the wind and the armies.' I said, 'And what are Meeka'eel's responsibilities?' He said, 'For the plants and the rain.' I said, 'And what are the responsibilities of the Angel of Death?' He said, 'For taking the souls; I thought that he had descended for no other reason than to begin the Hour (of Resurrection) and what you saw in me was only fear of the start of the Hour.'" <sup>(1)</sup> This hadeeth is ghareeb from this

In Saheeh Muslim, it is reported on the authority of ‘A`ishah that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ stood up at night to pray, he would say, “O, Allah, the Lord of Jibrael, Michael and Israfeel, the Creator of the heavens and the Earth, Knower of the unseen and the seen! You judge between Your slaves in those matters in which they disagree. Guide me with Your permission in the divergent views (which the people hold) about Truth, for it is You Who guides whom You will to the Straight Path.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad said: Abul-Yaman told us: Ibn ‘Ayyash told us on the authority of ‘Umarah Ibn Ghaziyyah Al-Ansari that he heard Humaid Ibn ‘Ubaid, the freed slave of Banu Mu‘alla say: I heard Thabit Al-Bunani reporting on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik ؓ, who reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said to Gabriel ؑ, “Why do I never see Michael ؑ laughing?” Jibrael ؑ replied, “Michael has not laughed since the Fire was created.”<sup>(2)</sup> So these angels, who have been clearly mentioned in the Qur’an and authentic ahadeeth, are those who are mentioned in the Prophetic supplication: “O, Allah, the Lord of Jibrael, Michael and Israfeel...”<sup>(3)</sup> So Jibrael ؑ descends with guidance to the Messengers, in order that they might convey it to the nations. Michael ؑ is charged with responsibility for the rain and the plants, from both of which sustenance is created in this (earthly) abode. He has assistants who do as he orders them to do, by Allah’s Command. They distribute the winds and the clouds, in according to the Will of the Lord, the All-Powerful.

(3) The takhreej has already been given.

As for the Angel of Death, his name is not made clear in the Qur'an or in the authentic ahadeeth, though it has been given as 'Izra'eel in some traditions – and Allah knows better.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Say: 'The angel of death, who is set over you, will take your souls, then you shall be brought to your Lord'." ﴾ (Soorah As-Sajdah 32:11). He has helpers who extract the soul of the slave from the body until it reaches the throat, whereupon, the Angel of Death takes it in his hand; and when he takes it, he does not leave it in his hand for more than the blink of an eye before it is taken by his helpers and cast into shrouds befitting it, as made clear in the explanation of the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ Allah will keep firm those who believe, with the word that stands firm in this world (i.e. they will keep on worshipping Allah alone and none else) and in the Hereafter. ﴾ (Soorah Ibraheem 14:27)

Then they ascend with it. If it was a righteous soul, the gates of the Heaven are opened for it, but if it was not righteous, they remain closed to it and it is thrown down to the Earth. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ He is the Irresistible, Supreme over His slaves, and He sends guardians (angels guarding and writing all of one's good and bad deeds) over you, until when death approaches one of you, Our Messengers (the Angel of Death and his assistants) take his soul, and they never neglect their duty. Then they are returned to Allah, their Mawla (True Master [God], the Just Lord [to reward them]). Surely, His is the Judgment and He is the Swiftest in taking account. ﴾ (Soorah Al-An'am 6:61,62)

We mentioned in the hadeeth of the trumpet, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, who reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, in a long hadeeth, that he said, "Allah will command Israfeel to blow on the trumpet and make the trump of swooning and he will do so, upon which the inhabitants of the heavens and the inhabitants of the earth will swoon, except those whom Allah wills. Then while they are lying still, the Angel of Death will come to Allah, the Omnipotent, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and he will say, 'O, my Lord! The inhabitants of the heavens and the earth have died, except those whom You willed.' Then Allah – Who knows better who remains – will say, 'Who remains?' The Angel of Death will reply, 'You, the Ever-Living, Who does not die, remain and the bearers of Your Throne remain, as do Gabriel and Michael and I (also) remain.' Then Allah will say, 'Let Gabriel and Michael die.' Then Allah will make His Throne speak and it will say, 'O, my Lord! Shall Gabriel and Michael die?' Allah will answer, "Silence! For I have ordained death for everyone who is beneath My Throne.' So they will both die and then the Angel of Death will come to the Omnipotent, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and he will say, 'O, my Lord! Gabriel and Michael have died.'" Then Allah – Who knows better who remains – will say, 'Now who remains?' He will say, 'You, the Ever-Living, Who does not die, remain, the bearers of Your Throne remain and I remain.' Then Allah will say, 'Let the bearers of My Throne die.' So they will die and Allah will command the Throne and it will seize the trumpet from Israfeel. Then the Angel of Death will come to Allah and say, 'O, my Lord! The bearers of the Throne have died.' Then Allah – Who knows better who remains – will say, 'Who remains?' The Angel of Death will reply, 'You, the Ever-living, Who does not die, remain and I remain.' Then Allah will say, 'You are one of My creation; I have created you for what I willed, so die.' Then he will die and when none remains, except Allah, the One, the Irresistible, the (Indivisible) One, the Self-Sufficient, Who does not beget, nor was He begotten and Who has no equal, He will be the Last, just as He was the First..."

This was narrated by At-Tabarani, Ibn Jareer and Al-Baihaqi. <sup>(1)</sup>

Among the angels whose names have been mentioned in the Qur'an are Haroot and Maroot. There are numerous sayings pertaining to them reported from the Salaf and many traditions have been reported concerning their story and their affairs, but most of them are Isra'eeliyyat.

Among the angels whose names are given in the ahadeeth are Munkar and Nakeer (peace be upon them both). Their names have been mentioned numerous times regarding the questions in the grave and we have recorded them with Allah's Words: ﴿ Allah will keep firm those who believe, with the word that stands firm in this world (i.e. they will keep on worshipping Allah, Alone, and none else) and in the Hereafter and Allah will cause to go (further) astray those who are zalimoon (polytheists and wrongdoers, etc.), and Allah does what He wills. ﴾ (Soorah Ibraheem 14:27) They are responsible for the trial of the grave and have been charged with the responsibility of questioning the inhabitant of the grave about his Lord and his Religion and his Prophet and they test the righteous and the sinners. They have black faces and blue eyes and they have fangs; their physical forms are disturbing and their voices are terrifying. May Allah protect us from the punishment of the grave and make us steadfast with steady speech. Ameen.

Al-Bukhari has narrated on the authority of 'Urwah that 'A'ishah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, informed him that she said to the Prophet ﷺ, "Have you encountered a day harder than the Day (of the Battle) of Uhud?" The Prophet ﷺ replied,

“Your tribes have troubled me a lot, and the worst trouble was the trouble on the day of ‘Aqabah, when I presented myself to Ibn ‘Abd Yalil Ibn ‘Abd Kulal and he did not respond to my demand. So I departed, overwhelmed with extreme sorrow, and proceeded on and could not relax till I found myself at Qarn Ath-Tha’alib where I lifted my head toward the sky to see a cloud shading me unexpectedly. I looked up and saw Gabriel in it. He called me saying, ‘Allah has heard your people’s saying to you and what they have replied back to you. Allah has sent the Angel of the Mountains to you so that you may order him to do whatever you wish to these people.’ The Angel of the Mountains called and greeted me and then said, ‘O Muhammad! Order what you wish. If you like, I will let Al-Akshabain (i.e. the two mountains) fall on them.’ The Prophet ﷺ said, ‘No, but I hope that Allah will let them beget children who will worship Allah, Alone, and will worship none besides Him’.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Section on the Categories of Angels

The angels (peace be upon them) are divided into various categories, according to the responsibilities which Allah has ordained for them. Among them are the bearers of the Throne, as mentioned earlier. Others include the Archangels, who are around the Throne and they are the most honored of the angels, along with the bearers of the Throne; and they are the angels closest to Allah, as He, Most High, says, « The Messiah will never be proud to reject to be a slave to Allah, nor the angels who are near (to Allah). » (Soorah An-Nisa’ 4:172)

Also among them are Jibrael and Michael (peace be upon them both). Allah has mentioned regarding them that they seek forgiveness for the Believers in their absence, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Those (angels) who bear the Throne (of Allah) and those around it glorify the praises of their Lord, and believe in Him, and seek forgiveness for those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah) (saying): ‘Our Lord! You comprehend all things in mercy and knowledge, so forgive those who repent and follow Your Way, and save them from the torment of the blazing Fire! Our Lord! And make them enter the ‘Adn (Eden) Paradise (everlasting gardens) which you have promised them, and to the righteous among their fathers, their wives, and their offspring! Verily, You are the Almighty, the Most Wise. And save them from (the punishment, because of what they did of) the sins, and whomsoever You save from (the punishment, because of what they did of) the sins (i.e. excuse them) that day, him verily, You have taken into mercy.’ And that is the supreme success. ﴾ (Soorah Ghafir 40:7-9)

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3231) and Muslim (1795).

And because of their pure natures, they love those who possess this attribute and it has been authentically reported in the hadeeth on the authority of the truthful one and the one who is believed (i.e. Muhammad ﷺ), “When the slave supplicates on behalf of his brother in his heart, the angel says, ‘Ameen; and for you be the same.’”<sup>(1)</sup>

Also among them are the inhabitants of the seven heavens; they abide there in constant worship, night and day, morning and evening, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ They (i.e. the angels) glorify His Praises night and day (and) they never slacken (in doing so). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:20)

The custodian of Paradise is an angel whose name is Ridwan;

(1) Narrated by Muslim (2732), Abu Dawood (1534), Ibn Majah (2895), Ahmad (27010), on the authority of Abu Ad-Darda’ ؓ.

this has been clearly reported in a number of ahadeeth.<sup>(1)</sup>

Also among them are those responsible for the Fire and they are Az-Zabaniyyah. In front of them are nineteen angels. The custodian of the Fire is Malik and he is in charge of all of the guardians. It is they who are referred to in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And those in the Fire will say to the keepers (angels) of Hell, ‘Call upon your Lord to lighten for us the torment for a day!’ ﴾ (Soorah Ghafir 40:49)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And they will cry: ‘O Malik (keeper of Hell)! Let your Lord make an end of us.’ He will say: ‘Verily, you shall abide forever.’ Indeed We have brought the truth (Muhammad ﷺ with the Qur’an) to you, but most of you have a hatred for the truth. ﴾ (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:77,78)

Al-Walibi reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ For each (person), there are mu’aqqibat in succession, before and behind him. They guard him by the Command of Allah. Verily! Allah will not change the good condition of a people as long as they do not change their state of goodness themselves (by committing sins and by being ungrateful and disobedient to Allah). But when Allah wills a people’s punishment, there can be no turning back of it, and they will find besides Him no protector. ﴾ (Soorah Ar-Ra’d 13:11) that he said that the mu’aqqibat by the Command of Allah are the angels. ‘Ikrimah reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said regarding the Words of Allah: ﴿ They guard him by the Command of Allah. ﴾, The angels guard him from in front of him and from behind him and when Allah’s Ordainment comes, they leave him. said, “Every slave has an angel charged with protecting him during his sleep and his wakefulness from the jinn and mankind and harmful creatures. And nothing can come to him intending to harm him without an angel saying, “Behind you!” – Unless Allah wills that it should afflict him, in which case it will do so. Also among them are the angels entrusted with protecting the deeds of the slaves, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ (Remember) that the two receivers (recording angels) receive (each human being after he or she has attained the age of puberty), one sitting on the right and one on the left (to note his or her actions). Not a word does he (or she) utter, but there is a watcher by him ready (to record it). ﴾ (Soorah Qaf 50:17,18)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ But verily, over you (are appointed angels in charge of mankind) to watch you. Kiraman (honorable) Katibeen writing down (your deeds). They know all that you do. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Infitar 82:10-12)

So Allah made them honorable in their being and in their behavior. A part of their honorableness is demonstrated in the hadeeth narrated in the books of authentic ahadeeth and in the Sunan <sup>(1)</sup> and Masaneed <sup>(2)</sup> on the authority of a number of the Companions ﷺ, who reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said, “The angels do not enter a house in which there is a picture or in which there is a dog or in which there is a person in a state of janabah.<sup>(3)</sup>” <sup>(4)</sup> In the narration of ‘Asim Ibn

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “The angels keep on descending from and ascending to the heaven in turn, some at night and some by day, and all of them assemble together at the time of the Fajr and ‘Asr prayers. Then those who have stayed with you overnight ascend unto Allah, Who asks them, and He knows the answer better than they, ‘How have you left My slaves?’ They reply, ‘We have left them praying as we found them praying’.”<sup>(2)</sup> This is the wording in the Book of the Beginning of Creation.

What is meant is that every person has two protecting angels, one before him and the other behind him. They protect him from Allah’s Command, by Allah’s Command. And there are two recording angels, one on his right and one on his left; and the recording angel on the right commands the angel on the left. The one on the right records his good deeds, while the one on the left records his bad deeds. When the angel on the left intends to record a bad deed, the angel on the right says to him, “Give him a respite, that haply, he may repent or seek forgiveness.” If he performs a good deed, the angel on the right records it without hesitation, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿(Remember) that the two receivers (recording angels) receive (each human being after he or she has attained the age of puberty), one sitting on the right and one on the left (to note his or her actions). Not a word does he (or she) utter, but there is a watcher by him ready (to record it).﴾ (Soorah Qaf 50:17,18)

(1) This was mentioned by Al-Haithami in Majma‘ Az-Zawa‘id (10/226) and he said of it, “Narrated by Al-Bazzar; it contains (in its chain of narrators) people whom I do not know.”

As for the hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood رضي الله عنه, in which he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “There is not a single one of you but has his qareen from among the jinn and his qareen (companion) from among the angels.” They said, “And you also, Messenger of Allah?” He replied, “Yes, I also, but Allah has helped me against him so that he does not command me except in that which is true and good.”<sup>(1)</sup> It is possible that this qareen from the angels is unlike the qareen that protects mankind. He is only charged with guiding and directing him by Allah’s Permission to the way of goodness and the path of righteousness. Likewise, the qareen from among the devils has been charged to spare no effort in causing confusion and misguidance. The one who is protected is the one whom Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful protects – and Allah is the One from Whom protection is sought.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Every Friday the angels take their stand at every gate of the mosques to write the names of the people chronologically (i.e. according to the time of their arrival for the Friday prayer) and when the Imam sits (on the pulpit) they fold up their scrolls and get ready to listen to the sermon.”<sup>(2)</sup> Al-Bukhari narrated in this from this source and it is narrated in the Saheehain from another source.<sup>(3)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And recite the Qur’an in the early dawn (i.e. the morning prayer). Verily, the recitation of the Qur’an in the early dawn is ever witnessed (attended by the angels in charge of mankind of the day and the night). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:78)

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “A prayer performed in congregation is twenty-five times more superior in reward to a prayer performed by a single person. The angels of the night and the angels of the day are assembled at the time of the Fajr prayer.” Abu Hurairah ؓ added, “If you wish, you can recite: ﴿ And recite the Qur’an in the early dawn (i.e. prayer. Verily, the recitation of the Qur’an in the early dawn is ever witnessed (attended by the angels in charge of mankind of the day and the night). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:78)

Al-Bukhari narrated, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “When a man calls his wife to his bed (to have sexual relations with her) and she refuses and causes him to sleep in anger, the angels curse her till morning.”<sup>(1)</sup>

It has been narrated in the Saheehain that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “When the Imam says Ameen (in the prayer), says Ameen, because if anyone’s ta’meen (saying Ameen) coincides with that of the angels, all of his previous sins will be for given.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ or on the authority of Abu Sa’eed Al-Khudri ؓ, – Al-A’mash (one of the narrators) was unsure which of them it was – said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Verily, Allah has angels who travel throughout the earth in addition to the recorders of mankind and when they find people remembering Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, they call out to one another, ‘Come to the object of your desire!’ And they take them up to the lowest heaven. than them, 'What are My slaves saying?' They say: 'They are glorifying, magnifying, praising and extolling You.' He asks, 'Have they seen Me?' They say, 'No, by Allah, they have not seen You.' He asks, 'And how would it be if they saw Me?' They say, 'They would be even more fervent and devoted in their praise and worship.' He asks, 'What are they asking me for?' They say, 'They ask You for Paradise.' He asks, 'And have they seen it?' They say, 'No, by Allah, Lord, they have not seen it.' He asks, 'And how would it be if they saw it?' They say: 'They would be even more eager for it and they would beseech You even more earnestly.' He asks, 'And what do they seek My protection from?' They say, 'From the Fire of Hell.' He asks, 'Have they seen it?' They say, 'No, by Allah, they have not seen it.' He asks, 'And how would it be if they saw it?' They say: 'They would be even more afraid and anxious to escape it.' Allah says: 'You are My witnesses that I have forgiven them.' One of the angels says: 'So-and-so is not really one of them; he came (to the gathering) for some other reason.' Allah says, 'They were all in the gathering, and one of them will not be excluded (from forgiveness).'

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه, that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Whoever relieves a believer from a hardship in this life, Allah will relieve him from a hardship on the Day of Resurrection. Whosoever brings ease to a believer who is in difficulty, Allah will bring ease to him in both this life and the next. Whosoever conceals the shortcomings of a Muslim, Allah will conceal his shortcomings in this world and the next. Allah will always help a servant as long as that servant helps his brother. And whoever follows a path by which he seeks knowledge, Allah will make easy for him a path to Paradise. Those people who assemble in a house from among the houses

Allah makes a mention of them in the presence of those near Him, and he who is slow-paced in doing good deeds, his (exalted) lineage will not make him go faster." (1)

Imam Ahmad narrated from 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Verily, Allah has angels who travel in the earth. They convey to me the peace greetings (salam) from my Ummah." (2)

Likewise, when a slave leaves his house and says, "Bismillahi Tawakkaltu 'Alallahi Wa La Hawla Wa La Quwwata Illa Billah (In the Name of Allah, I have placed my trust in Allah and there is no strength and no power except in Allah)," the angel says to him, "Your needs shall be fulfilled, you shall be saved from difficulties and hardships. Satan, hearing these words, leaves him." (3)

The ahadeeth in which the angels are mentioned are numerous and we have mentioned from them what Allah has made easy for us, all praise be to Him.

over mankind, holding a number of diverse opinions: Most of what has been written relating to this issue is recorded in the books of the rationalists and the disagreements therein with the Mu'tazilites and those who agreed with their opinions. The oldest discourse that I have seen relating to this issue is that mentioned by Al-Hafiz Ibn 'Asakir in his Tareekh, in the biography of Umayyah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Sa'eed Ibn Al-'As, in which it was stated that he attended a gathering held by 'Umar Ibn 'Abdul-Aziz and found with him a group of people. 'Umar said, "There is no one more noble in Allah's Sight than a noble person from the children of Adam." And he cited as evidence for his claim the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ Verily, those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah and in His Messenger, Muhammad [peace be upon him] including all obligations ordered by Islam) and do righteous good deeds, they are the best of creatures. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Bayyinah 98:7) Umayyah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Sa'eed agreed with him in this, but 'Irak Ibn Malik said, "There is none more noble in Allah's Sight than His angels: they perpetually serve Him and they are His messengers to his Prophets." He cited as evidence for his claim the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ "Your Lord did not forbid you this tree save you should become angels or become of the immortals." ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:20) 'Umar Ibn 'Abdul-Aziz said to Muhammad Ibn Ka'b Al-Qurazi, "What do you say, Abu Hamzah?" He said, "Allah has honored Adam and created him with His Hand and He breathed into him of His Spirit and caused the angels to prostrate before him and He created from his progeny the Prophets, the Messengers and those whom the angels visit." 'Umar Ibn 'Abdul-Aziz agreed with this judgment, but he cited evidence other than that cited by Muhammad Ibn Ka'b and he declared the use of Allah's Words: ﴿ Verily, those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah and in His Messenger, Muhammad [peace be upon him] including all obligations ordered by Islam) and do righteous good deeds... 》 as evidence for man's superiority to be weak, because the Verse is not exclusive to mankind; Allah has described the angels as having faith in His Words: ﴿ And they (the angels) believe in Him. 》 (Soorah Ghafir 40:7) and also the jinn: ﴿ And indeed when we heard the Guidance (this Qur'an), we believed therein (Islamic Monotheism) 》 (Soorah Al-Jinn 72:13) and: ﴿ And of us some are Muslims (who have submitted to Allah, after listening to this Qur'an). 》 (Soorah Al-Jinn 72:14)

Chapter: Mention of the Creation of the Jinn and the Story of Satan

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ He created man (Adam) from sounding clay like the clay of pottery. And the jinn did He create from a smokeless flame of fire. Then which of the Blessings of your Lord will you both (jinn and men) deny? ﴾ (Soorah Ar-Rahman 55:14-16)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And indeed, We created man from sounding clay of altered black smooth mud. And the jinn, We created aforetime from the smokeless flame of fire. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:26,27)

‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, ‘Ikrimah, Mujahid, Al-Hasan and a number of others said that the meaning of the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ from a smokeless flame of fire ﴾ (Soorah Ar-Rahman 55:15) is: from the tip of the flame, or in another narration, from the purest and best part of it. We have mentioned previously by way of Az-Zuhri, on the authority of ‘Urwah, who reported on the authority of ‘A’ishah that she said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The angels were created from light, the jinn were created from a smokeless fire and Adam was created from what has been described (in the Qur'an) to you (i.e. from clay).”<sup>(1)</sup>

Many of the scholars of tafseer said that the jinn were created before Adam ﷺ and that the hinn<sup>(2)</sup> and the binn lived in the Earth before mankind and Allah sent the jinn against them and they killed them, drove them out of it and exterminated them. And they inhabited it after them, because of what they had done. As-Suddi said in his Tafseer on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas, on the authority of Murrah, who reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood and on the authority of some of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, that they said that when Allah had completed the creation as He willed, He ascended (istawa) over the Throne and He appointed Iblees over the dominion of the earthly heaven. He belonged to a tribe of the angels known as the jinn. They were called the jinn because they were the guardians of Al-Jannah (Paradise). In addition to his dominion of the earthly heaven, Iblees was a guardian and the idea grew in his heart that Allah had favored only him above all of the angels. Ad-Dahhak mentions, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ﷺ, that when the jinn caused corruption in the Earth committed bloodshed, Allah sent Iblees against them with an army of angels and they killed them and expelled them from the land to islands in the seas.

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq reported, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ﷺ, that he said that the name of Iblees before he committed the act of disobedience (to Allah) was ‘Azazeel and he was one of the inhabitants of the Earth and one of the strongest of the angels in formulating legal judgments and the greatest of them in knowledge. He hailed from a tribe known as the Jinn.

(1) Narrated by Muslim (2996) and Imam Ahmad (24826).

(2) Hinn: The weakest and lowest of the jinn.

Al-Hasan Al-Basri said: “He was not of the angels for even the blink of an eye. His origin was the jinn, just as Adam’s origin was human.” Shahr Ibn Hawshab and others said that Iblees was of the jinn whom the angels expelled and they captured some of them and took them to the heaven. This was narrated by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari.

They said that when Allah willed to create Adam ﷺ in order that he might be on the Earth along with his progeny who came after him and created his body from it, Iblees – whose name at that time was ‘Azazeel and who was the leader of the jinn and the most fervent of them in worshipping Allah – went around and inside his body and when he found that it was hollow, he realized that he was a creation who could not be controlled and he said, “If I gain mastery over you, I will certainly destroy you, but if you gain mastery over me, I will disobey you.” Then, when Allah blew into him of His Spirit, as we shall see, and commanded the angels to prostrate before him, Iblees became filled with extreme envy and refused to prostrate before him. He said, “I am better than he; You created me from fire and You created him from clay.” So he disobeyed the command and opposed the Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and he committed a sin by his words and was withdrawn from the Mercy of his Lord and removed from the high position that he had occupied due to his worship. He had resembled the angels but he was not of the same species as them, because he was created from fire, while they were created from light. He had been deceived by his nature and returned to his fiery origin: ﴿So the angels prostrated themselves, all of them, except Iblees (Satan) he was proud and was one of the disbelievers.﴾ (Soorah

Sad 38:73,74)

So Iblees was sent down from the heavenly host and he was prohibited from ever entering it again. As a result, he went down to the Earth wretched, humbled, disgraced and expelled, with the threat (or promise) of the Fire for him and those of the jinn and mankind who follow him. In spite of this, he exerts all of his efforts to misguide the children of Adam, by every means and every way, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ (Iblees) said, ‘See? This one whom You have honored above me, if You give me respite (keep me alive) to the Day of Resurrection, I will surely seize and mislead his offspring (by sending them astray), all but a few!’ (Allah) said, ‘Go, and whosoever of them follows you, surely! Hell will be the recompense of you (all) an ample recompense. And Istafziz (literally means: befool them gradually) those whom you can among them with your voice (i.e. songs, music, and any other call for Allah’s disobedience), make assaults on them with your cavalry and your infantry, mutually share with them wealth and children (by tempting them to earn money by illegal ways usury, etc., or by committing illegal sexual intercourse, etc.), and make promises to them. But Satan promises them nothing but deceit. Verily! My slaves (i.e. the true believers of Islamic Monotheism), you have no authority over them. And All-Sufficient is your Lord as a Guardian.’ ﴾ (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:62-65) And we shall relate the story in detail when we mention the creation of Adam ﷺ.

Allah, Most High, says in Soorah Al-Jinn, ﴿ Say (o, Muhammad): ‘It has been revealed to me that a group (from three to ten in number) of jinn listened (to this Qur’an). They said, ‘Verily! We have heard a wonderful Recital (this Qur’an)! It guides to the Right Path, and we have believed therein, and we shall never join (in worship) anything with our Lord

(Allah). And exalted be the Majesty of our Lord, He has taken neither a wife, nor a son (nor offspring nor children). And that the foolish among us (i.e. Iblees) or the polytheists among the jinn used to utter against Allah that which was wrong and not right. And verily, we thought that men and jinn would not utter a lie against Allah. And verily, there were men among-mankind who took shelter with the masculine among the jinn, but they (the jinn) increased them (mankind) in sin and disbelief. And they thought as you thought, that Allah will not send any Messenger (to mankind or jinn). And we have sought to reach the heaven; but found it filled with stern guards and flaming fires. And verily, we used to sit there in stations, to (steal) a hearing, but anyone who listens now will find a flaming fire watching him in ambush. And we know not whether evil is intended for those on Earth, or whether their Lord intends for them a Right Path. There are among us some that are righteous, and some the opposite; we are groups each having a different way (religious sect, etc.). And we think that we cannot escape (from the punishment of) Allah on Earth, nor can we escape (from the punishment) by flight. And indeed when we heard the Guidance (this Qur'an), we believed therein (Islamic Monotheism), and whosoever believes in his Lord shall have no fear, either of a decrease in the reward of his good deeds or an increase in punishment for his sins. And of us some are Muslims (who have submitted to Allah, after listening to this Qur'an), and of us some are al-qasitoon, (disbelievers, those who have deviated from the Right Path)." And whosoever has embraced Islam (i.e. has become a Muslim by submitting to Allah), then such have sought the Right Path. And as for the qasitoon (disbelievers who deviated from the Right Path), they shall be the firewood for Hell, If they (the non-Muslims) had believed in Allah, and went on the Right Way (i.e. Islam) We should surely have bestowed on them water (rain) in abundance. That We might try them thereby. And whosoever turns away from the Reminder of his Lord (i.e. this Qur'an, and practices not its laws and orders), He will cause him to enter in a severe torment (i.e. Hell). ﴿ (Soorah Al-Jinn 72:1-17)

We have given the explanation of this Soorah and the complete story at the end of Soorah Al-Ahqaf and we mentioned ahadeeth relating to it there. We said that this group was from among the jinn of Naseebeen <sup>(1)</sup> – or according to other narrations, from the jinn of Busra – and they passed by the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when he was standing in prayer with his Companions ﷺ at Batn Nakhlah, in Makkah and they stood and listened to his recitation. Then the Prophet ﷺ met with them for a whole night and they asked him about things that he had enjoined upon them and things that he had forbidden to them. They also asked him about provision (for the Afterlife) and he said to them: “Every bone on which the name of Allah is recited is your provision. The time it will fall in your hand it would be covered with flesh, and the dung of (the camels) is fodder for your animals.” <sup>(2)</sup>

The Prophet ﷺ forbade Muslims from performing istinja' <sup>(3)</sup> with these (things), saying, “For these are the provision of your brothers, the jinn.” <sup>(4)</sup>

Scholars have disagreed regarding whether the believing jinn would enter Paradise, or whether the reward for their obedience would only be that they were not punished in the Fire. According to one opinion (the correct one) they would enter Paradise, based on the generality of the Words of Allah, Most High, ﴿ But for him who (the true believer of Islamic Monotheism who performs all the duties ordained by Allah and His Messenger Muhammad, and keeps away (abstains) from all kinds of sin and evil deeds prohibited in Islam and) fears the standing before his Lord, there will be two Gardens (i.e. in Paradise). Then which of the Blessings of your Lord will you both (jinn and men) deny? ﴾ (Soorah Ar-Rahman 55:46,47)

Al-Bukhari narrated, on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ؓ, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "I observe that you like sheep and the wilderness. So whenever you are with your sheep or in the wilderness and you want to pronounce the azan for the prayer, raise your voice, for whoever hears the azan, whether a human being, a jinn or any other creature, will be a witness for you on the Day of Resurrection." Abu Sa'eed added, "I heard it (this narration) from the Messenger of Allah." <sup>(1)</sup>

As for the disbelievers among the jinn, some of them are shayateen and their leader is Iblees, the enemy of Adam ؑ, the father of the mankind and he and his progeny have been given the opportunity to gain ascendancy over Adam ؑ and his progeny. Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful pledges to protect those of them who have faith in Him, believe in His Messengers, obey His Laws, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily! My slaves (i.e. the true believers in Islamic Monotheism), you have no authority over them. And All-Sufficient is your Lord as a Guardian. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Isra' 17:65)

And He, Most High, says, ﴿ And indeed Iblees did prove true his thought about them, and they followed him, all except a group of true believers (in the Oneness of Allah). And he (Iblees ) had no authority over them, except that We might test him, who believes in the Hereafter from him who is in doubt about it. And your Lord is a Hafiz over everything. (Knower of everything i.e. He keeps record of each and every person as regards deeds, and then He will reward them accordingly). ﴿ (Soorah Saba' 34:20,21)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ O, Children of Adam! Let not Shaitan deceive you, as he got your parents (Adam and Hawwa' [Eve]) out of Paradise, stripping them of their raiments, to show them their private parts. Verily, he and qabeeluhu (his soldiers from the jinn or his tribe) see you from where you cannot see them. Verily, We made the Shayateen awliya' (protectors and helpers) for those who believe not. ﴿ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:27) What is meant is that Allah has granted him respite and delayed his punishment until the Day of Resurrection, as a trial and a test for His slaves, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And he (Iblees) had no authority over them, except that We might test him, who believes in the Hereafter from him who is in doubt about it. And your Lord is a Hafiz over everything. (Knower of everything i.e. He keeps record of each and every person as regards deeds, and then He will reward them accordingly). ﴿ (Soorah Saba' 34:21)

So Iblees – may Allah's curse be upon him – is alive now, given respite until the Day of Resurrection, according to the evidence of the Qur'an and he has a throne over the surface of the sea. He sits on it and sends forth his legions to spread evil and trials among the mankind. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Ever feeble indeed is the plot of *Shaitan ﴾ (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:76)

The proof that the throne of Iblees is on the sea is the hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad, on the authority of Jabir Ibn

‘Abdullah ﷺ, who said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The throne of Iblees is on the sea and he sends his legions every day to spread discord among the people and the greatest of them in rank in Iblees’ sight is the one who causes the greatest discord among the people.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated, on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdillah ﷺ, that he said: I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saying: “The throne of Iblees is over the sea and he sends his legions every day to spread discord among the people and the greatest of them in his sight is the one who spreads the most discord.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Imam Muslim narrated, on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah ﷺ from the Prophet ﷺ, that he said: “Iblees places his throne upon water; he then sends detachments (for creating dissension); the nearer to him in rank are those who are the greatest in creating discord. One of them comes and says: ‘I did such-and-such.’ And he says: ‘You have done nothing.’ Then one amongst them comes and says: ‘I did not spare so-and-so until I caused discord between a husband and his wife.’ The devil goes near him and says: ‘You have done well.’ Al-A‘mash said, ‘He then embraces him’.”<sup>(3)</sup>

And we have already mentioned this hadeeth in explanation of the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ that by which they cause separation between a man and his wife ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:102) That is, the magic that is learnt from the devils among the mankind and the jinn leads to the separation of those between whom there exists the greatest intimacy and love; this is why Satan thanks the efforts of the one who causes this. So the one whom Allah rebukes, Satan praises; the one who invokes Allah's anger, Satan is pleased with him – may Allah's Curse be upon him. Allah has revealed the Mu'awwidhatain (i.e. Soorah Al-Falaq and Soorah An-Nas)<sup>(1)</sup> as a means of repelling all manners of evil and its causes and objectives, in particular,

Soorah An-Nas, which sates, ﴿ Say, 'I seek refuge with (Allah, ) the Lord of the mankind, the King of the mankind, The Ilah (God) of the mankind, from the evil of the whisperer (the devil who whispers evil into the hearts of people) who withdraws (from his whispering in one's heart after one remembers Allah), who whispers in the breasts of the mankind, of jinn and men.' ﴾ (Soorah An-Nas 114:1-6)

In Saheeh Al-Bukhari, it is reported, on the authority of Safiyyah Bint Huyayyi (may Allah be pleased with her), that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Verily, Satan circulates in the human mind as blood circulates in it."<sup>(2)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ But Shaitan made him forget to mention it to his Lord (or Satan caused [Yoosuf ﷺ] to forget the remembrance of his Lord [Allah] so as to ask for His Help, instead of others). ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:42) That is, when Yoosuf said to the wine-pourer, ﴿ "Mention me to your lord (i.e. your king, so as to get me out of the prison)." ﴾ (Soorah

(1) Narrated by Ahmad in his Musnad (No. 16983) with an authentic chain of narrators, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas Al-Juhani ؓ, who said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to him, "O 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas! Shall I inform you about the best thing with which to seek protection with Allah?" He said, "Certainly." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Say, 'I seek refuge with the Lord of the daybreak' and 'I seek refuge with the Lord of the mankind'."

Yoosuf 12:42) – the wine-pourer forgot to mention him to his lord (the king) and this forgetfulness was from Satan, as a result of which Yoosuf ﷺ remained in prison for a number of years more. This is why He says after it, ﴿ Then the man who was released (one of the two who were in prison), now at length remembered and said... ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:45)

Imam Ahmad narrated, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When any of you is in the mosque Satan comes to him and beguiles him with his whisperings as a man entices his riding beast and when it is quiet, he hobbles it or bridles it.” Abu Hurairah ؓ said, “And you people see that: as for the one that is hobbled, you see him inclining this way and that and he does not remember Allah, while as for the one who is bridled, he opens his mouth, but he does not mention Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.”<sup>(1)</sup> Imam Ahmad alone narrated this.

Imam Ahmad narrated, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, that he said: A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said, “O Messenger of Allah! I speak to myself about something which I would rather fall down from the sky than discuss (with another).” The Prophet ﷺ said, “Allahu Akbar (Allah is Greatest)! All praise and thanks be to Allah, Who has reduced the guile of Satan to mere whispering...”<sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Satan comes to one of you and says, ‘Who created this?’ and, ‘Who created this?’ Until he says, ‘Who created your Lord?’ So, when he inspires

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, those who are al-muttaqoon (pious, God-fearing), when an evil thought comes to them from Shaitan, they remember (Allah), and (indeed) they then see (aright). ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:201)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And say: 'My Lord! I seek refuge with You from the whisperings (suggestions) of the Shayateen.' And I seek refuge with You, My Lord, lest they may attend (or come near) me. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:97,98)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And if an evil whisper comes to you from Shaitan then seek refuge with Allah. Verily, He is the All-Hearing, All-Knowing. ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:200)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ So when you want to recite the Qur'an, seek refuge with Allah from Shaitan, the outcast (the accursed one). Verily, He has no power over those who believe and put their trust only in their Lord (Allah). His power is only over those who obey and follow him (Satan), and those who join partners with Him (Allah) (i.e. those who are Mushrikoon – polytheists). ﴾ (Soorah An-Nahl 16:98-100)

Imam Ahmad and the compilers of the Sunan narrated on the authority of Abul-Mutawakkil, who reported on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ؓ, that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say, "I seek refuge with Allah, the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing from the accursed Satan, from his urging, from his inspiration and from his utterances."<sup>(2)</sup>

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3276) and Muslim (134).

(2) An authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (11081), Abu Dawood (775), At-Tirmidhi (242) and Ad-Darimi (1239).

Al-Bukhari narrated, on the authority of ‘Adiyy Ibn Thabit that he said: Sulaiman Ibn Surad ؑ said: Two men were insulting each other in the presence of the Prophet ﷺ and we were sitting with them. One of the two abused his companion furiously and his face became red. The Prophet ﷺ said, "I know a word (sentence) the saying of which will cause him to relax if this man says it. Only if he said, ‘I seek refuge with Allah from Satan, the outcast’." So they said to that (furious) man, “Don’t you hear what the Prophet is saying?” He said, “I am not mad.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated, on the authority of Abu Ziyad At-Tahhan that he said: I heard Abu Hurairah ؑ say (that he heard) from the Prophet ﷺ that he saw a man drinking while standing and he said to him, “Vomit (it out).” The man said, “Why?” He said, “Would it please you that a cat should drink with you?” He said, “No.” The Prophet ﷺ said, “Then (you should know that) the one who is more evil than that has drunk with you – Satan.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated, on the authority of Ibn Az-Zubair, that he asked Jabir ؑ: Did you hear the Prophet ﷺ say, “When a man enters his house and mentions Allah when he enters and when he eats, the devil says, ‘There is no place for you to sleep

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه that he said, “When the (upper) edge of the sun appears (in the morning), do not perform a prayer till the sun appears in full, and when the lower edge of the sun sets, do not perform a prayer till it sets completely. You should not seek to pray at sunrise or sunset, for the sun rises between the two sides of the head of the devil.”<sup>(2)</sup>

And in the Sunan it was reported that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade that anyone should sit between the sun and the shade. He said, “It is the sitting place of Satan.”<sup>(3)</sup>

This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿The shoots of its fruit-stalks are like the heads of Shayatin.﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:65) When the women witnessed the handsomeness of Yoosuf عليه السلام ﴿No man is this! This is none other than a noble angel﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:31).

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdillah رضي الله عنه from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that he said, “When night falls, then keep your children close to you, for the devils spread out then. An hour later you can let them free; and close the gates of your house (at night), and mention Allah's name thereupon, and cover your utensils, and mention Allah's name thereupon, (and if you do not have something to cover your utensils) you may put something across it (e.g. a piece of wood, etc.)." (1)

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that he said, "If anyone of you has when having sexual relation with his wife, he should say: 'In the Name of Allah: O Allah! Protect us from Satan and prevent Satan from approaching our offspring You are going to give us,' and if he begets a child (as a result of that relation) Satan will not harm it." (2)

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Satan ties three knots at the back of the head of each of you, and he breathes the following words at each knot, 'The night is, long, so keep on sleeping.' If that person wakes up and recites the praises of Allah, then one knot is undone, and when he performs ablution the second knot is undone, and when he prays, all the knots are undone, and he gets up in the morning lively and gay, otherwise he gets up dull and gloomy." (3)

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When the call for the prayer is pronounced, Satan takes to his heels, passing wind with noise. When the call for prayer is finished, he comes back. When the iqamah is pronounced, he again takes to his heels, and after its completion, he returns again to interfere between the (praying) person and his heart, saying to him. three or four rak'at: so if one forgets whether he has prayed three or four rak'at, he should perform two prostrations of sahw (i.e. forgetfulness).”<sup>(1)</sup>

Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Ata’ Ibn As-Sa’ib, who reported on the authority of Anas ؓ that he said, “Stand close together in the ranks (in prayer), because Satan stands in the spaces.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “If somebody intends to pass in front of you while you are praying, prevent him; should he insist, prevent him again; if he insists again, fight with him (i.e. prevent him violently e.g. by pushing him violently), because such a person is (like) a devil.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ stood up to offer the Fajr prayer and he (Abu Sa‘eed ؓ) was standing behind him.

He recited and became confused in his recitation. When the prayer was over, he said, “If only you could have seen me and Iblees I grabbed him and kept on trying to strangle him until I felt the coldness of his saliva on these two fingers, the thumb and the one next to it. Were it not for the prayer of my brother Sulaiman (Solomon), he would have been tied to one of the pillars of the mosque this morning, and the children of Al-Madinah would have played with him. Whoever among you can prevent anyone from coming between him and the qiblah, let him do so.”<sup>(4)</sup>

Muslim narrated on the authority of Abu Ad-Darda' ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ stood praying and we heard him say, "I seek refuge with Allah from you." Then he repeated three times, "I curse you with the curse of Allah." Then he stretched out his hand as though he was taking hold of something. When he finished the prayer, we said, 'O, Messenger of Allah! We heard you say something during the prayer which we have not heard you say before, and we saw you stretch out your hand.' He replied, 'Allah's enemy Iblees came with fire to put it in my face, so I said three times, 'I seek refuge in Allah from you.' Then I said three times, 'I curse you with the full curse of Allah.' But he did not retreat. Then I intended to seize him. I swear by Allah that had it not been for the supplication of my brother Sulaiman ؑ, he would have been bound, and made an object of sport for the children of the people of Al-Madinah'." (1)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Let not then this (worldly) present life deceive you, nor let the chief deceiver (Satan) deceive you about Allah. ﴾ (Soorah Luqman 31:33)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Surely, Shaitan is an enemy to you, so take (treat) him as an enemy. He only invites his hizb (followers) that they may become the dwellers of the blazing Fire. ﴾ (Soorah Fatir 35:6) So Satan spares no effort to hinder and confuse a person in all of his affairs, all of his activities and all of his inactive moments, as Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Ibn Abi Ad-Dunya wrote in his book entitled: Masa'id Ash-Shaitan (The Afflictions of Satan); and in it are numerous benefits.

and corrupt my religion and my mind at the time of death.”<sup>(1)</sup>

At-Tirmidhi, An-Nasa’i, Ibn Hibban (in his Saheeh) and Ibn Abi Hatim (in his Tafseer) narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Verily, Satan has an effect on the son of Adam, and the angel also has an effect. As for the effect of Satan, it is by his threatening him with evil repercussions and rejecting the truth. As for the effect of the angel, it is by his promise of a good end and believing in the truth. Whoever finds the latter, let him know that it comes from Allah and let him thank Allah for it. Whoever finds the former, let him seek refuge (with Allah) from Satan.” Then he recited, ﴿ Satan threatens you with poverty and orders you to commit fahsha’ (sins, immorality, lewdness etc.); whereas Allah promises you forgiveness from Himself and bounty, and Allah is All-Sufficient for His creations’ need, All-Knower. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:268)<sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Whoever says, La ilaha illallahu wahdahu la shareeka lahu, lahul-mulku wa lahul-hamdu wa huwa ‘ala kulli shay’in qadeer (None has the right to be worshipped except Allah, Alone, without partners, to Him belongs the Dominion and to Him belong all praise and thanks, and He has power over all things [i.e. He is Omnipotent]),” one hundred times in a day, he will have the reward of manumitting ten slaves, and one-hundred good deeds will be written in his account, and one-hundred bad deeds will be wiped off or erased from his account. On that day he will be protected from the morning till evening from Satan; and nobody will be superior to him except one who has done more than that which he has done. Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When any human being is born, Satan touches him at both sides of the body with his two fingers, except ‘Eesa the son of Maryam, whom Satan tried to touch but failed, for he touched the covering of the placenta instead.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) that she said, “I asked the Prophet ﷺ about one’s looking here and there during the prayer. He replied, ‘It is what Satan steals from the prayer of any one of you’.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Abi Qatadah, who reported on the authority of his father ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “A good dream is from Allah, and a bad or evil dream is from Satan; so if any one of you has a bad dream of which he gets afraid, he should spit on his left side and should seek refuge with Allah from its evil, for then it will not harm him.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “None of you should point to his brother with his weapon (sword, spear, arrow, dagger, etc.), because none of you knows, perhaps Satan may cause him (to hurt his brother) and as a result, he would fall into a pit of Fire.”<sup>(4)</sup>

He, Most High, says, informing us about the jinn (that they said), ﴿ And we have sought to reach the heaven, but found it filled with stern guards and flaming fires. And verily, we used to sit there in stations, to (steal) a hearing, but anyone who listens now will find a flaming fire watching him in ambush. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Jinn 72:8,9)

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: Verily, the Prophet of Allah ﷺ said, “When Allah decrees some order in the heaven, the angels flutter their wings indicating complete surrender to His saying which sounds like chains being dragged on rock. ﴿ Until fear is banished from their hearts, they say, ‘What is it that your Lord has said?’ They say: ‘The truth. And He is the Most High, the Most Great.’ ﴾ (Soorah Saba’ 34:23) Then the stealthy listeners (devils) hear this command, and these stealthy listeners are like this, one over the other.” (Sufyan, a sub-narrator demonstrated this by holding his hand upright and separating the fingers.) “A stealthy listener hears a word which he will convey to the one below him and the second will convey it to the one below him till the last of them will convey it to the magician or foreteller. Sometimes a flame (fire) may strike the devil before he can convey it, and sometimes he may convey it before the flame (fire) strikes him, whereupon the magician adds to that word a hundred lies. The people will then say, ‘Did not he (i.e. the magician) tell such-and-such a thing on such-and-such a date?’ So that magician is said to have told the truth because of the statement which has been heard from the heavens.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And whosoever turns away (blinds himself) from the remembrance of the Most Beneficent (Allah) (i.e. the Qur’an and worship of Allah), We appoint for him a Shaitan to be a qareen (an intimate companion) to him. He, Most High, says, ﴿ And We have assigned them (devils) intimate companions (in this world), who have made fair-seeming to them what was before them (evil deeds which they were doing in the present worldly life and disbelief in the Reckoning and the Resurrection, etc.) and what was behind them (denial of the matters in the coming life of the Hereafter as regards punishment or reward, etc.) ﴿ (Soorah Fussilat 41:25)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There is no one among you who has not had a qareen from among the devils appointed for him." They said, "Even you, Messenger of Allah?" He said, "Yes, but Allah has helped me against him and he has embraced Islam." <sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that the Prophet ﷺ said, "Verily, the believer emaciates his devil as one of you emaciates his camel on a journey." <sup>(2)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Saburah Ibn Abi Fakhir ؓ that he said: I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "Verily, Satan lays in wait for the son of Adam ؑ at (a number of) paths: he lays in wait for him at the path of Islam and says: 'Will you embrace Islam and abandon your religion and the religion of your forefathers?' But he disobeys him and embraces Islam. So he lays in wait for him at the path of hijrah (migration in Allah's Cause) and says, 'Will you migrate and abandon your land and your sky?' But the similitude of the

Then he lays in wait for him at the path of jihad, which is to struggle with one's self and one's wealth, and he says: 'Will you fight and be killed, after which your wife will be married and your wealth divided?' But he disobeys him and performs jihad." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "So if anyone of them (the sons of Adam ﷺ) does that, it will be his right upon Allah that He will admit him to Paradise. If he is killed, it will be his right upon Allah that He will admit him to Paradise. If he is drowned, it will be his right upon Allah that He will admit him to Paradise. And if his riding beast breaks his neck, it will be his right upon Allah that He will admit him to Paradise." <sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not use to neglect these supplications in the morning and the evening: "O Allah! I ask You to pardon me in the life of this world and in the Hereafter. O Allah! I ask You to pardon me and grant me wellbeing in my Religion, my worldly affairs, my family and my property. O Allah! Cover up my deficiencies and calm my fears. O Allah! Protect me from my front, from behind, from my right, from my left and from above me. I seek refuge with Your Majesty from being snatched from below." Wakee' said it means to sink down. <sup>(2)</sup>

Chapter: What Has Been Said Regarding the Creation of Adam ﷺ

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) when your Lord said to the angels: "Verily, I am going to place (mankind) generations after generations on Earth," they said, "will You place there those who will make mischief and shed blood while we glorify You with praises and thanks (Exalted be You above all that they associate with You as partners) and sanctify You." He (Allah) said, "I know that which you do not know." And He taught Adam all the names (of everything), then He showed them to the angels and said, "Tell Me the names of these if you are truthful." They said, "Glory be to You, we have no knowledge except what you have taught us. Verily, it is You, the All-Knower, the All-Wise." He said, "O Adam! Inform them of their names," and when he had informed them of their names, He said, "Did I not tell you that I know the ghaib (unseen) in the heavens and the Earth and I know what you reveal and what you have been concealing? And (remember) when We said to the angels: 'Prostrate yourselves before Adam. And they prostrated except Iblees; he refused and was proud and was one of the disbelievers (disobedient to Allah). And We said, 'O Adam! Dwell you and your wife in the Paradise and eat both of you freely with pleasure and delight of things therein wherever you will, but come not near this tree or you both will be of the zalimoon (wrong-doers).' Then the Shaitan made them slip therefrom (Paradise), and got them out from that in which they were. We said, 'Get you down, all, with enmity between yourselves. On Earth will be a dwelling place for you and an enjoyment for a time.' Then Adam received from his Lord of the Words. And his Lord pardoned him (accepted his repentance). Verily, He is the One Who forgives (accepts repentance), the Most Merciful. We said, 'Get down all of you from this place (the Paradise), then whenever there comes to you Guidance from Me, and whoever follows My Guidance, there shall be no fear on them, nor shall they grieve. But those who disbelieve and belie Our Ayat (proofs, evidences, Verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.) such are the dwellers of the Fire, they shall abide therein forever'." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:30-39)

Likewise, He, Most High, says, ﴿ O mankind! We have created you from a male and a female, and made you into nations and tribes, that you may know one another. Verily, the most honorable of you with Allah is that (believer) who has taqwa (i.e. one of the muttaqoon (pious). Verily, Allah is All-Knowing, Aware of all things. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hujurat 49:13)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ It is He Who has created you from a single person (Adam), and (then) He has created from him his wife (Hawwa), in order that he might enjoy the pleasure of living with her. When he had sexual relations with her, she became pregnant and she carried it about lightly. Then, when it became heavy, they both invoked Allah, their Lord (saying):

‘If You give us a saleh (good in every aspect) child, we shall indeed be among the grateful. 》 (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:189)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) when We said to the angels: ‘Prostrate Adam,’ they prostrated except Iblees. He said, Shall I prostrate to one whom You created from clay?’ (Iblees) said, ‘See? This one whom You have honored above me, if You give me respite (keep me alive) to the Day of Resurrection, I will surely seize and mislead his offspring (by sending them astray) all but a few!’ (Allah) said, ‘Go, and whosoever of them follows you, surely, Hell will be the recompense of you (all) – an ample recompense. And Istafziz (literally means: befool them gradually) those whom you can among them with your voice (i.e. songs, music, and any other call for Allah’s disobedience), make assaults on them with your cavalry and your infantry, mutually share with them wealth and children (by tempting them to earn money by illegal ways usury, etc., or by committing illegal sexual intercourse, etc.), and make promises to them.’ But Satan promises them nothing but deceit. “Verily, My slaves (i.e. the true believers of Islamic Monotheism), you have no authority over them. And All-Sufficient is your Lord as a Guardian’. 》 (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:61-65)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ (Allah) said, ‘Get you down (from the Paradise to the Earth), both of you together, some of you are an enemy to some others. Then if there comes to you guidance from Me, then whoever follows My Guidance shall neither go astray, nor fall into distress and misery’. 》 (Soorah Ta Ha 20:123)

Allah, Most High, says that He addressed the angels, saying ﴿ “Verily, I am going to place generations after generations on Earth.” 》 (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:30)

He apprised them of the reason why He had created Adam ﷺ and his progeny, who would follow each other in succeeding generations, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And makes you inheritors of the Earth, generations after generations. ﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:62) He informed them of this by way of praise for the creation of Adam ﷺ and his progeny and He informed them of this great event before it took place. The angels asked, with the intention of acquiring knowledge and seeking wisdom, not as some ignorant people have supposed, in order to express disagreement or to belittle the children of Adam ﷺ or display envy toward them: ﴿ They said, “Will You place therein those who will make mischief therein and shed blood?” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:30) It was said by Qatadah that they knew that this would happen because of what they had observed of the behavior of the binn and the jinn before Adam ﷺ.

As for the Words of Allah, Most High, ﴿ I know that which you do not know ﴾ ( Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:30), the meaning is: I know better the greater good that there is in the creation of them, which you do not know. That is, there will be among them Prophets, Messengers, those who accept the truth without hesitation, martyrs and righteous folk. Then He made clear to them Adam’s superiority over them in knowledge, saying, ﴿ And He taught Adam all the names (of everything). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:31)

‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ said, “They are these names with which the mankind is acquainted, such as humans, animals, earth, plains, seas, mountains, camels, donkeys and other things.” Mujahid said, “He taught him the names of the plate and the pot and even the terms for breaking wind.”

Mujahid also said, “He taught him the name of every animal, every bird and everything.”

Al-Bukhari and Muslim narrated on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik ؓ, who reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said, “On the Day of Resurrection the believers will assemble and say, ‘Let us ask somebody to intercede for us with our Lord.’ So they will go to Adam ؑ and say, ‘You are the father of all the people; and Allah created you with His Own Hands, and ordered the angels to prostrate to you, and taught you the names of all things.’<sup>(1)</sup> He recorded the hadeeth in full.

﴿ Then He showed them to the angels and said, ‘Tell Me the names of these if you are truthful.’ ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:31)

Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, “When Allah wanted to create Adam ؑ, the angels said, ‘Our Lord will not create a creation except that we are more knowledgeable than it.’ Thus they were put to trial and that was why Allah said, ﴿ ‘...if you are truthful.’ ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:31)

﴿ They (angels) said, ‘Glory be to You, we have no knowledge except what you have taught us. Verily, it is You, the All-Knowing, Most Wise.’ ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:32) That is, no one can encompass anything from Your Knowledge, except what You have taught; You are far above that. This is as Allah says, ﴿ And they will never compass anything of His Knowledge except that which He wills. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:255)

﴿ He said, ‘O, Adam! Inform them of their names,’ and when he had informed them of their names, He said, ‘Did I not tell you that I know the ghaib (unseen) in the heavens and the Earth, and I know what you reveal and what you have been concealing?’” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:33) That is, I know the

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (4476) and Muslim (193).

The Bins made mischief and shed blood secrets just as I know the apparent things. It was also said that His Words: ﴿ “and I know what you reveal...” ﴾ refer to their saying, ﴿ “Will You place therein those who will make mischief therein and shed blood, - while we glorify You with praises and thanks (Exalted be You above all that they associate with You as partners) and sanctify You.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:30). This was what they did openly.

As for His Words: ﴿ “and what you have been concealing?” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:33), what is referred to here is the saying of Iblees, when he concealed within his heart arrogance and belief in his superiority over Adam ﷺ. This was said by Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair, Mujahid, As-Suddi, Adh-Dhahhak and Ath-Thawri; and it was the preferred opinion of Ibn Jareer At-Tabari.

﴿ And (remember) when We said to the angels: ‘Prostrate yourselves before Adam.’ And they prostrated except Iblees, he refused and was proud. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:34) This is a great honor bestowed by Allah on Adam ﷺ, when He created him with His Hand and breathed into him His Spirit, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ “So, when I have fashioned him completely and breathed into him (Adam) the soul which I created for him, then fall (you) down prostrating yourselves unto him.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:29) So these were four honors: His creation of him with His Hand, His breathing into him of His Spirit, His command to the angels to prostrate before him and His teaching him the names of (all) things.

In another Verse, He says, ﴿ And surely, We created you (your father Adam) and then gave you shape (the noble shape of a human being), then We told the angels, ‘Prostrate to Adam,’ and they prostrated, except Iblees, he refused to be of those who prostrated. (Allah) said, ‘What prevented you (O, Iblees,) that you did not prostrate, when I commanded you?' Iblees said, 'I am better than he (Adam), You created me from fire, and him You created from clay.'" ﴿ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:11,12) Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, "Iblees used qiyas (analogy) and he was the first one to do so." This statement has an authentic chain of narrations. Ibn Seereen said, "The first to use qiyas was Iblees, and the sun and moon would not be worshipped if not for qiyas." Both of these statements were reported by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari.

The meaning of this is that he compared himself with Adam ﷺ and considered that he was superior to Adam ﷺ, and thus refused to prostrate him, in spite of the fact that he and all of the angels had been commanded to do so. But analogy in the presence of evidence is invalid. In addition, it is in itself, invalid, because mud is more beneficial than fire: mud has the qualities of wisdom, forbearance, patience and assurance and mud is where plants grow, flourish, increase, and provide good. To the contrary, fire has the qualities of burning, recklessness and hastiness.

In addition, Allah honored Adam ﷺ by creating him with His Hand and breathing into him His Spirit. This is why He commanded the angels to prostrate before him, as He says, ﴿ And (remember) when your Lord said to the angels: 'I am going to create a man (Adam) from sounding clay of altered black smooth mud' .” ﴾ – up to the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And verily, the curse shall be upon you till the Day of Recompense (i.e. the Day of Resurrection). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:28-35) He deserved this from Allah, Most High, because he insisted that Adam ﷺ was inferior to him and belittled him, while claiming that he himself was superior to him, in sheer opposition to the Command of Allah and in defiance of the truth.

In Soorah Al-Kahf, Allah says, ﴿ He disobeyed the Command of his Lord. Will you then take him (Iblees) and his offspring as protectors and helpers rather than Me while they are enemies to you? What an evil is the exchange for the zalimoon (polytheists, and wrongdoers, etc.) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:50) That is, he abandoned obedience to Allah, deliberately, obstinately and arrogantly refusing to comply with His Command. Iblees was deceived by his fiery nature and substance into believing that he was superior to Adam ﷺ because of him having been created from fire, when he should have known better. Imam Muslim narrates in his Saheeh, on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her), who reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said: “The angels were created from light, the jinn were created from a smokeless flame of fire, and Adam ﷺ was created from what has been described to you.”<sup>(1)</sup>

‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood ؓ, ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ a group of the Companions ؓ, Sa‘eed Ibn Al-Musayyib and others said that Iblees was the leader of the angels in the earthly heaven. In one narration attributed to ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, he said that his name was ‘Azazeel, while in another narration, it was ascribed to him that he said that his name was Al-Harith. An-Naqqash said that his agnomen was Abu Kardoos. ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ said: “He was from one of the tribes of the angels which was known as Al-Jinn. They were the guardians of the Gardens and he was the most eminent of them and the greatest of them in knowledge. He had four wings, but Allah transformed him into a curse.” In Soorah Sad, He says, ﴿ (Remember) when your Lord said to the angels: ‘Truly, I am going to create man from clay.’ So when I have fashioned him and breathed into him (his) soul created by Me, then you fall down prostrate him. So the angels prostrated themselves, all of them: except Iblees.

(1) The takhreej for this has already been given.

He was proud and was one of the disbelievers. (Allah) said, 'O, Iblees (Satan)! What prevents you from prostrating yourself the one whom I have created with My both Hands? Are you too proud (to prostrate Adam), or are you one of the high exalted?' (Iblees [Satan]) said, "I am better than he; You created me from fire, and You created him from clay." (Allah) said, 'Then go down from here, for verily, you are an outcast. And verily, My Curse is on you until the Day of Recompense.' (Iblees [Satan]) said, 'My Lord! Give me then respite till the Day the (dead) are resurrected.' (Allah) said, "Verily, you are of those allowed respite till the Day of the time appointed." (Iblees [Satan]) said, 'By Your Might, then I will surely mislead them all, except Your chosen slaves among them (the faithful, obedient, true believers of Islamic Monotheism).' (Allah) said, 'The Truth is, and the Truth I say, that I will fill Hell with you (Iblees) and those of them (mankind) that follow you, together'." (Soorah Sad 38:71-85)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Al-A'raf, ﴿ (Iblees) said, 'Because You have sent me astray, surely I will sit in wait against them (human beings) on Your Straight Path. Then I will come to them from before them and behind them, from their right and from their left, and You will not find most of them as thankful ones (i.e. they will not be dutiful to You)'." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:16,17) That is, because You have sent me astray, I will wait in ambush for them at every opportunity and I will come to them from every direction. So the successful person is the one who disobeys him (Satan) and the wretched person is the one who obeys him.

Scholars of tafseer have disagreed regarding the angels who were ordered to prostrate to Adam ﷺ: were they all of the angels, as seems to be proven by the generality of the Verses?

Allah sent Iblees astray.
That was the plan?

This is the opinion of the majority of scholars. Or is the reference to the angels of the Earth, as narrated by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari by way of Ad-Dahhak, who reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ? But its chain of narrators is interrupted and in its wording there is something objectionable, though some of the later scholars preferred it. However, it is apparent from the wordings that the former is correct and this is proven by the hadeeth: “And He made His angels prostrate him.”<sup>(1)</sup> And this is also general – and Allah knows better.

The meaning of His Words: ﴿ Go down from here (i.e. Paradise) ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:18) is: “Get out of here.” This is an evidence that he was in heaven and was ordered to go down from it; to leave his position and status which he had achieved through his worship and his similarity to the angels in obedience and worship. All this was taken away from him because of his arrogance, his envy and his disobedience to his Lord, and he was sent down to the Earth, disgraced and expelled.

Allah, Most High, commanded Adam ؑ to live with his wife in Paradise, saying, ﴿ And We said, ‘O, Adam! Dwell you and your wife in Paradise and eat both of you freely with pleasure and delight of things therein wherever you will, but come not near this tree or you will both be of the zalimoon (wrongdoers). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:35) In Soorah Al-A‘raf, He, Most High, says, ﴿ (Allah) said (to Iblees), “Get out from this (Paradise) disgraced and expelled. Whoever of them (mankind) will follow you, then surely I will fill Hell with you all. And O, Adam! Dwell you and your wife in Paradise, and eat thereof as you both wish, but approach not this tree otherwise you both will be of the zalimoon (unjust and wrongdoers).” ﴾

(1) The takhreej of this hadeeth has already been given.

(Soorah Al-A'raf 7:18,19)

The context of these Verses necessitates that the creation of Hawwa' (Eve) was before Adam ﷺ entered Paradise, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And We said, 'O, Adam! Dwell you and your wife in Paradise.' ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:35) But As-Suddi related from Abu Saleh and Abu Malik, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ and from Murrah, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood ؓ and from people among the Companions ؓ that they said that Iblees was removed from Paradise and Adam was made to live in Paradise and he used to walk therein alone, having no wife with whom to live. Then he slept for a short while and awoke to find a woman sitting at his head. Allah had created her from his rib. He asked her, "Who are you?" And she said, "I am a woman." He asked her, "Why were you created?" She said, "So that you might live with me." The angels said to him, in order to find out the extent of his knowledge, "What is her name, Adam?" He said, "Hawwa (Eve)." They said, "Why is she called Hawwa'?" He replied, "Because she was created from something hayy (i.e. living)." <sup>(1)</sup>

Corroboration for this is found in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ O, mankind! Be dutiful to your Lord, Who created you from a single person (Adam), and from him (Adam) He created his wife (Hawwa), and from them both He created many men and women ﴾ (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:1)

In the Saheehain on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, who reported from the Prophet ﷺ that he said: "I advise you to take care of the women, for they are created from a rib and the most crooked portion of the rib is its upper part; if you try to straighten it, it will break, and if you leave it, it will remain crooked, so I urge you to take care of the women.”<sup>(1)</sup> This is the wording of Al-Bukhari.

(1) Narrated by Ibn Jareer (4/224).

Scholars of tafseer have differed regarding the meaning of the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ but come not near this tree ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:35) It was said that it was a grapevine, while Ath-Thawri reported on the authority of Abu Husain, who reported on the authority of Abu Malik that he said, “﴿ but come not near this tree ﴾ it was a date palm. Ibn Juraij reported on the authority of Mujahid that it was a fig tree and Qatadah and Ibn Juraij concurred with this.

These are minor differences of opinion; in fact, Allah has left obscure the precise nature of the tree – and if there was any benefit for us in His mentioning it, He would have done so. This is also the case with regard to other matters which have been left undefined in the Qur’an.

The only real difference that they mentioned was regarding whether or not the Garden that Adam ﷺ entered was in heaven or on the Earth. This is a difference of opinion which must be clarified and settled.

The majority of scholars hold (the view) that it was (located) in heaven and that it was Jannat Al-Ma’wa (the Garden of Refuge), based on the apparent meaning of the Verses and ahadeeth, as in the Words of Him, Most High: ﴿ And We said, ‘O, Adam! Dwell you and your wife in the Paradise.’ ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:35) The wording here indicates that what is referred to is a specific Paradise and that is Jannat Al-Ma’wa.

Muslim narrated in his Saheeh on the authority of Hudhaifah

Where was Adam? Heaven or Earth? because Satan was banished from Heaven.

ﷺ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Allah will gather the people and the believers will stand till the Garden will be brought near them. They will come to Adam and say, ‘O, our father! Open for us the Garden., He would say, ‘Did anything turn you out of the Garden other than the sin of your father, Adam?’”<sup>(1)</sup> And he narrated the hadeeth in full. In this there is strong and clear evidence that it is Jannat Al-Ma’wa, but there is room for argument.

Others said that the Garden in which Adam ﷺ resided was not Jannat Al-Khuld,<sup>(2)</sup> because he was enjoined therein not to eat from that tree and because he slept therein, in addition to which he was removed from it and Iblees entered it. All of these things negate the possibility that it could be Jannat Al-Ma’wa. This opinion was related on the authority of Ubayy Ibn Ka’b ؓ, ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, Wahb Ibn Munabbih and Sufyan Ibn ‘Uyainah.

This opinion is (from) the text of the Torah, which is in the hands of the People of the Scripture and among those who related the disagreement in this matter were Abu Muhammad Ibn Hazm in Al-Milal Wan-Nihal, Abu Muhammad Ibn ‘Atiyyah in his Tafseer, Abu ‘Eesa Ar-Rummani in his Tafseer – and he related from the first jumhoor (earliest school of thought) – Abul-Qasim Ar-Raghib and Al-Qadi Al-Mawardi in his Tafseer: he said: “They disagreed regarding the Garden in which they (i.e. Adam ﷺ and Eve) had resided, holding two opinions in the matter: one of them declared that it was Jannat Al-Ma’wa, while the other held that it was a Garden which Allah had prepared for them and which He had made an abode of trial; they said that this was not Jannat Al-Khuld, which He had made as the abode of recompense. Those who said this disagreed as to its location: one opinion held that it was in the heaven, because Allah sent them down from it. This was the opinion of Al-Hasan. The other opinion stated that it was on the Earth, because Allah tried them therein, by forbidding them to eat from the tree, while allowing them to eat from the others. This was the opinion of Ibn Yahya. This took place after Iblees was commanded to prostrate Adam ﷺ – and Allah knows better regarding the truth of this.

(1) Narrated by Muslim (195).

(2) Jannat Al-Khuld: The Eternal Garden.

This is what he said and it implies three opinions; and I sense from his words that he was undecided in the matter. Abu ‘Abdullah Ar-Razi related four opinions in his Tafseer regarding this question: three which were recorded by Al-Mawardi and the fourth was waqf, i.e., refusal or inability to arrive at a conclusion as to which is the strongest. But he preferred the first opinion. And Allah knows better.

﴿ Then Shaitan (Satan) made them slip therefrom. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:36) That is, from Paradise ﴿ and got them out from that in which they were. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:36) That is, from the ease, plenty and happiness (of Paradise) to the abode of toil, exertion and difficulty. This was because of what Satan had whispered to them and made them seem attractive to their hearts, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Then Shaitan (Satan) whispered suggestions to them both in order to uncover that which was hidden from them of their private parts (before); he said, “Your Lord did not forbid you this tree save you should become angels or become of the immortals’.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:20)

He said that Allah only forbade them from eating from this tree because by doing so they would become angels or immortals. That is, if you both eat from it, you will become thus.

﴿ And he (Shaitan [Satan]) swore to them both. ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:21) That is, he swore to them that he was speaking the truth with regard to his claim concerning the tree. ﴿ Then Shaitan (Satan) whispered to him, saying : 'O, Adam! Shall I lead you to the Tree of Eternity and to a kingdom that will never waste away?' ﴾ (Soorah Ta Ha 20:120) That is, shall I guide you to a tree which, if you eat from it, you will attain eternity in the ease in which you are now and you will continue in a kingdom that will never end? But this was deception, falsehood and the exact opposite of the truth.

﴿ So he misled them with deception. Then, when they tasted of the tree, that which was hidden from them of their shame (private parts) became manifest to them and they began to stick together the leaves of Paradise over themselves (in order to cover their shame). ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:22) This is like His Words: ﴿ Then they both ate of the tree, and so their private parts appeared to them, and they began to stick on themselves the leaves from Paradise for their covering. Thus did Adam disobey his Lord, so he went astray. ﴾ (Soorah Ta Ha 20:121) Eve ate from the tree before Adam ﷺ and it was she who urged Adam ﷺ to eat from the tree. And Allah knows better.

This is understood from the hadeeth narrated by Al-Bukhari on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, who reported from the Prophet ﷺ that he said "But for the Children of Isra'eel, meat would not decay, and but for Hawwa (Eve), wives would never betray their husbands." (1)

Ibn Abi Hatim narrated on the authority of Ubayy Ibn Ka'b ؓ that he said, "Allah created Adam ﷺ as a tall man, with abundant hair on his head, as if he was a tall date palm. When he tasted the (fruit from) tree, his clothing fell from him and the first thing that appeared from him was his genitals and when he looked at them, he began to run through the Garden, his hair was caught by a tree and he struggled with it. Then the Most Beneficent, the Almighty, the All-Powerful called him, saying, 'O, Adam! Are you fleeing from Me?' When he heard the Words of the Most Beneficent, he said, 'O, My Lord! No! But (I ran) out of embarrassment (at my naked state)'." (1)

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (2330).

Ath-Thawri reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that he said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High, « They began to stick together the leaves of Paradise over themselves (in order to cover their shame). » (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:22) – "The leaves were those of the fig tree." The isnad is authentic up to him. But it appears as if it was taken from the People of the Scripture and the apparent meaning of the Verse necessitates a more general meaning. But if we accept it, it does no harm – and Allah knows better.

« (Allah) said, 'Get down, one of you an enemy to the other (i.e. Adam, Hawwa, and Shaitan, etc.). On Earth will be a dwelling place for you and an enjoyment - for a time'." » (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:24) This address is to Adam ؑ, Eve and Iblees. It was also said that a serpent was with them and they were commanded to go down from Paradise while they were in a state of mutual hostility and warfare. The inclusion of the serpent with them is supported by the authentic hadeeth narrated from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, in which it was stated that he ordered the killing of serpents, saying, "We have not made peace with them since we (first) fought with them." (2)

- (1) Ibn Hajar ascribed it in Fath Al-Bari (6/367) to Ibn Abi Hatim and he said that its chain of narrators is hasan (sound).
- (2) This hadeeth is hasan-saheeh and it was narrated by Abu Dawood (5248) and Ahmad (7319).

Evolution and the creation of penis and reproduction.

where are figs

As for His Words in Soorah Ta Ha: ﴿ (Allah) said, ‘Get you down (from Paradise to the Earth), both of you, together, some of you are an enemy to others’. ﴾ (Soorah Ta Ha 20:123), it is a command to Adam ﷺ and Iblees and their respective offspring that they will remain in a state of mutual hostility forever; and Adam ﷺ was followed by Eve, while Iblees was followed by the serpent.

It was also said that it was a command to all of them in the dual form, like the Words of Him, Most High: ﴿ And (remember) Dawood (David) and Sulaiman (Solomon), when they gave judgment in the case of the field in which the sheep of certain people had pastured at night and We were witness to their judgment. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:78)

But the correct opinion is that because the judge is not passing judgment except between two sides, the claimant and the defendant, Allah says, ﴿ and We were witness to their judgment. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:78)

As for the repetition of the sending down in Soorah Al-Baqarah in His Words: ﴿ Then Shaitan made them slip therefrom (Paradise) and got them out from that in which they were. We said, ‘Get you down, all, with enmity between yourselves. On Earth will be a dwelling place for you and an enjoyment for a time.’ Then Adam received Words from his Lord. And his Lord pardoned him (accepted his repentance). Verily, He is the One Who forgives (accepts repentance), the Most Merciful. We said, ‘Get down all of you from this place (Paradise), then whenever there comes to you Guidance from Me, and whoever follows My Guidance, there shall be no fear on them, nor shall they grieve. But those who disbelieve and belie Our Ayat (proofs, evidences, Verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.) such are the dwellers of the Fire, they shall abide therein forever’. ﴾

(Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:36-39) Some of the scholars of tafseer said that what is meant by the first reference of being sent down is the sending down from Paradise to the earthly heaven, while the second is from the earthly heaven to the Earth.

But this is weak, because He says regarding the first (sending down), ﴿ Then Shaitan made them slip therefrom (Paradise) and got them out from that in which they were. We said, 'Get you down, all, with enmity between yourselves. On Earth will be a dwelling place for you and an enjoyment for a time'. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:36), which proves that they were sent down to the Earth in the first sending down. And Allah knows better.

What is correct is that He repeated it in words, but in reality, it only took place once and He linked to each mention a hukm (ruling, verdict): to the first was attached the enmity between them and with the second He made it conditional upon them that whoever followed His Guidance – which He would reveal to them after that – would be happy, while whoever rejected it would be wretched. There are other examples of this manner of speaking in the Qur'an.

Al-Hakim narrated in his Mustadrak on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that he said, "Adam ؑ did not reside in Paradise for longer than the time between the 'Asr prayer and the setting of the sun." (1) Then he said, "It is authentic, according to the criteria for acceptance stipulated by Al-Bukhari and Muslim, though it was not narrated by them."

In Saheeh Muslim, it is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The best day on which the sun rises is Friday: on that day Adam ﷺ was created; on it he was admitted to Paradise and on it he was sent out of it.”<sup>(1)</sup>

As for the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ Then Adam received Words from his Lord. And his Lord pardoned him (accepted his repentance). Verily, He is the One Who forgives (accepts repentance), the Most Merciful. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:37), it was said that those Words were His Saying: ﴿ “Our Lord! We have wronged ourselves. If You forgive us not, and bestow not upon us Your Mercy, we shall certainly be of the losers.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:23) This was narrated on the authority of Mujahid, Sa'eed Ibn Jubair, Abul-Aliyah, Ar-Rabee' Ibn Anas, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Muhammad Ibn Ka'b , Khalid Ibn Ma'dan, 'Ata Al-Khurasani and 'Abdur-Rahman Ibn Zaid Ibn Aslam.

Al-Hakim narrated in Al-Mustadrak on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ Then Adam received from his Lord Words and his Lord pardoned him (accepted his repentance). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:37) that he said, “Adam ﷺ said, ‘O, my Lord! Did You not create me with Your Hand?’ It was said to him, ‘Certainly.’ Adam ﷺ said, ‘And You breathed into me Your Spirit?’ It was said to him, ‘Certainly.’ He continued, ‘I sneezed and You said, ‘Allah have mercy on you.’ And Your Mercy preceded Your Anger?’ It was said to him, ‘Certainly.’ Adam ﷺ said, ‘And You ordained upon me that I should do this?’ It was said to him, ‘Certainly.’ Adam ﷺ then said, ‘Tell me then, if I turn to You in repentance, will You return me to Paradise?’ He said, ‘Yes’.” Then Al-Hakim said that the isnad is authentic, though Al-Bukhari and Muslim did not narrate it.

Mention of How Adam Defeated Moosa (Peace be Upon Them Both) in an Argument

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “Moosa رضي الله عنه argued with Adam رضي الله عنه and said to him (Adam), ‘You are the one who got the people out of Paradise by your sin, and thus made them miserable.’ Adam رضي الله عنه replied, ‘O, Moosa! You are the one whom Allah selected for His Message and for His direct Speech. Yet you blame me for a thing which Allah had ordained for me before He created me?’” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ added, “So Adam overcame Moosa رضي الله عنه by this Argument.” <sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “Adam رضي الله عنه argued with Moosa رضي الله عنه. Moosa رضي الله عنه said, ‘O, Adam! It is you whom Allah created with His Hand and breathed into you His Spirit. You led mankind astray and caused them to be removed from Paradise.’ Adam رضي الله عنه said, It was you, Moosa, who was chosen by Allah for His direct Speech; and yet you blame me for a deed which I did not do. Allah ordained for me before He created the heavens and the earth?’” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ added, “Thus Adam رضي الله عنه defeated Moosa.” Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “Adam رضي الله عنه met Moosa رضي الله عنه and he said, ‘You are Adam, whom Allah created with His Hand and before whom He made His angels prostrate and He made you to reside in Paradise, then you did what you did?’ He said, ‘You are Moosa, to whom Allah spoke directly and whom He chose for His Message and to whom He revealed the Torah. Then (tell me), did I come first, or was it the Reminder (i.e. the Revelation)?’ Moosa رضي الله عنه said, ‘No, it was the Reminder.’ Thus Adam ﷺ defeated Moosa ﷺ.” (1)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Adam ﷺ argued with Moosa ﷺ and Moosa ﷺ said to Adam ﷺ, ‘O, Adam! It is you who caused your progeny to enter the Fire.’ Adam ﷺ said, ‘O, Moosa! Allah chose you to receive His Message and to hear His direct Speech and He revealed to you the Torah. Did you find (therein) that I would descend (to Earth)?’ He said, ‘Yes.’ Thus Adam ﷺ defeated him.” (2)

The understanding of the people toward this hadeeth has differed:

A group from among the Qadariyyah rejected it because of the affirmation of Qadar implicit in it.

A group from among the Jabariyyah cited it, as it appeared to them that when he said, “So Adam defeated Moosa,” he did so using his own Scripture against him. The reply to this will be given later.

Others said that he only argued with him because he rebuked him for a sin for which he had repented – and a person who has repented of a sin is like a person who is without sin.

It was also said that he only argued with him because he (Adam) is older (and therefore wiser) than he (Moosa). It was also said that it was because he (Adam) is his (Moosa’s) father. It was said that it was because they are both in two different Revelations. It was said that it was because they are both in the abode of Al-Barzakh and responsibility for them had ended, according to their claim.

The Ahadeeth Related to the Creation of Adam ﷺ

Imam Ahmad reports from Abu Moosa that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Allah created Adam from a handful taken from all parts of the Earth, and so the Children of Adam came out according to the colors of the Earth. Among them there is the white, the red, the black, and what is in between, and there is the filthy and the pure, and the soft and the hard and what is in between.”<sup>(1)</sup>

He also reported it from Qasamah bin Zuhair: I heard Al-Ash‘ari say: Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said: “Allah created Adam from a handful (of dust) taken from all parts of the Earth, and so the Children of Adam came out according to the colors of the Earth. Among them there is the white, the red, the black, and what is in between, and there is the soft and the hard and what is in between, and there is the filthy and the pure and what is in between.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Imam Ahmad reports from Anas that the Prophet ﷺ said: “When Allah created Adam, He left him alone for as long as He willed to leave him alone, so Iblees began circling around him. Once he saw that he was hollow. He realized that he was a creation that could not control itself.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Ibn Hibban reports in his Saheeh from Anas ibn Malik that Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said: “When the soul was blown into Adam and it reached its head, he sneezed and said, ‘All praise is due to Allah, Lord of the Worlds,’ so He, blessed and exalted is He, replied, 'May Allah have mercy on you'.'<sup>(1)</sup>

Al-Hafiz Abu Ya'la reports from Abu Hurairah that Allah's Messenger ﷺ said: Allah created Adam from dust, then he made him mud. Then, he left him until he became black mud. He created and fashioned him. Then, He left him until he became dry clay like pottery."

He said: Iblees would pass by him and say, "You have been created for a great purpose." Then, Allah blew into him from His soul. The first part that his soul passed through was his eyes and his nose causing him to sneeze, and Allah showed him mercy. Allah said, "May your Lord have mercy on you." Then Allah said, "O Adam, go to this group (of angels) and say to them as-salaam 'alaikum and see how they respond?" He went and greeted them to which they responded. "Wa 'alaika al-salam wa rahmatullah wa barakaatuh." He said, "O Adam, this is your greeting and the greeting of your offspring." Adam said, "O Lord, and what are my offspring?" He said, "Choose one of My Hands, O Adam." He said, "I choose the right hand of my Lord, and both of My Lord's Hands are right." He opened His Hand and all his offspring who were to be were displayed in the Hand of the Most Merciful. There were men among them whose faces were light, and the light of one man in particular impressed Adam. He said, "O my Lord, who is this?" He said, "This is your son, Dawood." He said, "O my Lord, how long a lifespan have you given him." He said, "I have given him sixty (years)." He said, "Then give him from my age so that he may have a full one hundred years." Allah did so and called a witness to that. When the lifespan of Adam ran out, Allah sent to him the Angel of Death. Adam said, "Do I not have forty years of life left?" The angel asked him, "Did you not give it to your son, Dawood?" but he denied that and likewise his offspring denied (things) as well, and just as he forgot, his offspring also forgot.<sup>(1)</sup>

At-Tirmidhi reports from Abu Hurairah that he said: Allah's Messenger ﷺ said: When Allah created Adam, He wiped his back and every being that He was going to create up to the Day of Resurrection fell from his back. He placed between the eyes of everyone of them a flash of light, then presented them to Adam, who asked, "My Lord, who are these?" He said, "These are your offspring." Upon seeing a man among them whose light between his eyes impressed him, he asked, "My Lord, who is this?" He said, "This is a man from one of the last nations of your offspring called Dawood." He asked, "My Lord, how long a lifespan have you granted him?" He said, "Sixty years." He said, "My Lord, give him another forty years from my lifespan." When Adam's lifespan drew to an end and the Angel of Death came to him, he asked, "Are there not forty years of my life remaining?" He said, "Did you not give them to your son Dawood?" He said: Adam denied and his offspring (likewise) denied; Adam forgot and so his offspring (likewise) forgot; and Adam sinned and his offspring (likewise) sinned.<sup>(2)</sup>

Al-Bukhari reports from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: Allah created Adam with a height of sixty cubits. Then he said, "Go and greet that group of angels with salaam and see how they respond to you, for that shall be your greeting and the greeting of your offspring.” He said, “As-salaam ‘alaikum” to which they replied, “As-salaam ‘alaika wa rahmatullah.” So they added in reply to him, “wa rahmatullah.” All those who enter Paradise will have Adam’s form; and the creation have not ceased to diminish in size (from his time) until now.<sup>(1)</sup>

Imam Malik ibn Anas reports in his Muwatta’ that ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattab was asked about this Verse, “And (remember) when your Lord brought forth from the Children of Adam, from their backs, their seed and made them testify as to themselves (saying), ‘Am I not your Lord?’ They said: ‘Yes! We testify’.” (Al-A’raf 7:172)

‘Umar ibn Al-Khattab said: I heard Allah’s Messenger ﷺ being asked about it and he said, “When Allah created Adam, peace be upon him, He wiped his back with His Right Hand and brought out his offspring.” He said, “I created these for Paradise, and they will do the deeds of the People of Paradise.” A man asked, “O Messenger of Allah, then what is the purpose of working?” Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said, “When Allah creates a slave for Paradise, He causes him to do the deeds of the People of Paradise, until when he dies on one of the deeds of the People of Paradise, he enters Paradise. When Allah creates a slave for the Fire, He causes him to do the deeds of the People of the Fire until when he dies on one of the deeds of the People of the Fire, he enters the Fire.”<sup>(2)</sup>

All these Ahadeeth demonstrate that Allah brought out the offspring of Adam from his back like specks of dust. He then divided them into two groups, the People of the Right Hand

(Ahl Al-Yameen) and the People of the Left Hand (Ahl Al-Shimaal), and He said, "These are for Paradise and I do not care, and these are for the Fire and I do not care."<sup>(1)</sup>

As for taking witnesses against them or making them verbally acknowledge His Oneness, this is not mentioned in the authentic Ahadeeth. Therefore, to interpret the Verse in Soorah Al-A'raaf to be referring to these reports is questionable, as we explained there,<sup>(2)</sup> and we mentioned the Ahadeeth and athaar in full with their chains of narrations and their wordings. Therefore, whoever would like to verify the matter should refer to it there. And Allah knows best.

As for the hadeeth reported by Imam Ahmad from Ibn 'Abbas that the Prophet ﷺ said, "Allah took the covenant from Adam's back in Na'maan the Day of 'Arafah,<sup>(3)</sup> and brought forth from his loins all his offspring whom He has created and He scattered them before Him. He then spoke to them directly. He said, 'Am I not your Lord?' They said: 'Yes! We testify,' lest you should say on the Day of Resurrection, 'Verily, we were unaware of this'." (Al-A'raaf 7:172).<sup>(4)</sup> This hadeeth has a good, strong chain of narrations meeting the criterion of Muslim.

Anas ibn Malik reports that the Prophet ﷺ said, "A man from the People of the Fire will be asked on the Day of Resurrection, 'If you had all that is in the earth, would you ransom yourself with it?' He will say, 'Yes.' He will say, 'I wanted from you that which is easier than that. I took a covenant from you in the back of Adam to not associate partners with Me, yet you insisted on associating partners with Me.”<sup>(1)</sup> Al-Bukhari and Muslim report it via Shu‘bah.<sup>(2)</sup>

Imam Ahmad reports that Abu Hurairah said: Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said, “When the son of Adam recites a (Verse of) prostration and prostrates, Satan leaves him and weeps, saying, ‘Woe to me, the son of Adam was ordered to prostrate and has done so, so he shall have Paradise, while I was ordered to prostrate but I disobeyed, so I shall have the Fire’.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Once Adam was made to dwell in Paradise in which he dwelled, regardless of whether it is in the Heaven or the Earth – as there is a difference of opinion which was mentioned earlier – he and his wife Hawwa, peace be upon them, would eat from it in abundance and from wherever they liked. However, when they ate from the tree from which they had been prohibited, they were stripped of their garments and sent down to the Earth. We have also mentioned the different opinions about the place where he came down.

They also disagreed about the length of time that he spent in Paradise. One view is that it was just part of a day by the length of the days of this world. And we mentioned the hadeeth reported by Muslim on the authority of Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said, “He created Adam on the last hour on the day of Friday.”<sup>(4)</sup>

We also mentioned the hadeeth that on that day “He created

The Story of Adam’s Two Sons: Qabeel (Cain) and Habeel (Abel)

Allah ﷻ said, “And recite to them the story of the two sons of Adam in truth; when each offered a sacrifice, it was accepted from the one but not from the other. The latter said to the former, ‘I will surely kill you.’ The former said, ‘Verily, Allah accepts only from those mindful of Him. If you do stretch your hand against me to kill me, I shall never stretch my hand against you to kill you, for I fear Allah; the Lord of the Worlds. Verily, I intend to let you draw my sin on yourself as well as yours, then you will be one of the dwellers of the Fire, and that is the recompense of the wrongdoers. But his soul enticed him to murder his brother; he murdered him and became one of the losers. Then Allah sent a crow who scratched up the ground to show him how to cover the dead body of his brother. He said: ‘Woe to me! Am I not even able to be as this crow and cover the dead body of my brother?’ Then he became one of the remorseful.” (Al-Mā'idah 5:27-31)

Al-Suddee has reported from Ibn ‘Abbas, Ibn Mas‘ood, and a group of the Companions that Adam would marry off the male offspring of every pregnancy with the female of another. Habeel had wanted to marry the (twin) sister of Qabeel, and he was older than Habeel. The sister of Habeel was more beautiful (than Qābeel’s sister), so he wanted to keep her from his brother.<sup>(2)</sup> Adam, peace be upon him, ordered him to marry

(1) Ibid.

(2) The version of this narration mentioned in Tafseer At-Tabaree states that the sister of Qabeel was more beautiful and so it was he who refused to marry off his sister. What is mentioned here might be a typographical error.

her to him but he refused. Therefore, he ordered them both to make an offering while Adam went off to Makkah to perform Hajj. Upon departure, he requested the heavens to guard his sons but they refused. He asked the earths and the mountains but they refused, but Qabeel agreed to guard them.

When he had left, they both made their offering. Habeel offered a fat lamb as he was an owner of sheep, while Qabeel made an offering of a bundle of crops taken from those of his crops that were of poor quality. A fire came down and consumed the offering of Habeel but left the offering of Qabeel. He became angry and said, "I will kill you so that you cannot marry my sister." He responded, "Allah only accepts from those mindful of Him."

When he threatened to kill him, he said, "If you do stretch your hand against me to kill me, I shall never stretch my hand against you to kill you, for I fear Allah; the Lord of the Worlds." This indicates his good character and his fear of Allah, Most High. He refrained from responding to his brother with an evil like the one he intended. This is as has been reported in the two Saheehs that Allah's Messenger ﷺ said, "When two Muslims meet one another with their swords, then both the killer and the killed are in the fire." They said, "O Messenger of Allah, one was a killer, but what of the one killed?" He replied, "He was keen to kill his companion."<sup>(1)</sup>

He said, ﴿“Verily, I intend to let you draw my sin on yourself as well as yours, then you will be one of the dwellers of the fire, and that is the recompense of the Zalimoon. (Al-Ma'idah 5:29)”﴾ meaning, I want you to bear the sin of killing me along with your past sins before that. This was stated by Mujahid, Al-Suddi, ibn Jareer, and others.

(1) Al-Bukhari (No. 31), Muslim (No. 2888).

It does not mean that the sins of a person killed pass on to the killer simply by virtue of his killing him as some people might understand. Ibn Jareer has cited a consensus that this is not the case.

As for the hadeeth quoted by some who have no knowledge from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “The killer has not left the killed with a sin.”<sup>(1)</sup> it is without basis, and it is not known in any of the books of hadeeth with an authentic or fair chain of narrations, nor even a weak chain of narrations. However, it might happen in some cases that on the Day of Resurrection, the killed one will seek justice from his killer and the good deeds of the killer will be insufficient to compensate for this injustice. In that case, the sins of the killed one will be transferred to the killer, as is established in the Saheeh concerning all injustices,<sup>(2)</sup> murder being among the greatest of them, and Allah knows best. We have addressed all of this in Tafseer, and to Allah belongs all praise.

Imam Ahmad, Abu Dawood, and At-Tirmidhi report from Sa’d ibn Abi Waqqaas when the fitnah befell ‘Uthman ibn ‘Affaan, Sa’d said, “I bear witness that Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said, ‘There shall occur a fitnah in which the one sitting is better than the one standing, the one standing will be better than the one walking, and the one walking will be better than the one running’.” He said, “What if he enters my house and stretches out his hand to kill me?” He said, “Be like the son of Adam.”<sup>(3)</sup>

(1) It is without basis as the author has mentioned in Fayt ul-Qadeer (4/506), Al-Munaawi attributes it to Al-Bazaar in his Musnad on the authority of Abu Hurayrah.

(2) The author is referring to the hadeeth of ‘the bankrupt person’ reported by Muslim: Book: Right ions of Prayer and Mannerism. Chapter: Impermissibly of Oppression, No. 2581.

(3) Saheeh: Ahmad (No. 1612) and At-Tirmidhi (No. 2194) report it from

As for the other (son), Imam Ahmad reports that Ibn Mas‘ood said: Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said, “No soul shall be killed wrongly except that a share of sin for its blood belongs to the original son of Adam, for he was the first person to introduce murder.”<sup>(1)</sup>

At Mount Qasiyoon, north of Damascus, there is a cavern known as the Cavern of Blood which is popularly believed to be the place where Qabeel killed Habeel. This is something that the people learned from the People of the Book, and Allah alone knows how true it is.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ “Then Allah sent a crow who scratched up the ground to show him how to cover the dead body of his brother. He said: ‘Woe to me! Am I not even able to be as this crow and cover the dead body of my brother?’ Then he became one of the remorseful.” ﴾ (Al-Ma’idah 5:31) Some have mentioned that when he killed him, he carried him on his back for a year, others have said a hundred years. He remained like that until Allah sent two crows – As-Suddi reports with his isnād to the Companions that they were brothers – who fought with one another. One killed the other, and so he started digging a grave for him. He pushed him into it, buried him, and covered him up. When he saw him doing that, he said, “Woe to me! Am I not even able to be as this crow and cover the dead body of my brother?” Then he became one of the remorseful. So he did as the crow did; he covered up his brother by burying him.

Mujahid has stated that Qabeel received immediate punishment the day he killed his brother. His shin became stuck to his thigh, and his face became pointed toward the sun wherever it went. This was an exemplary punishment for him for his sin and for his jealousy of his own full brother.

It is reported in the hadeeth from Allah's Messenger ﷺ that he said, "There is no sin more fitting that Allah should mete out punishment for it in advance in this world along with what He has stored up for its perpetrator in the Hereafter than transgression and severing the ties of kinship."

Mention of the Death of Adam and His Advice to His Son, Sheeth ﷺ

The meaning of “Sheeth” is: “Gift of Allah”. His parents named him thus because they were blessed with him after the death of Habel.

‘Abdullah Ibn Al-Imam Ahmad reported on the authority of ‘Utayy – who was the son of Dhamrah As-Sa‘di – that he said, “I saw an old man speaking in Al-Madinah and I asked about him and they said, ‘This is Ubayy Ibn Ka‘b ؓ.’ He (Ubayy) said, “When death approached Adam ﷺ, he said to his sons, “O, my sons! I long for the fruits of Paradise.” So they went out to search for something for him. While they were searching, they were met by the angels, who had with them Adam’s shrouds, embalming fluid and digging tools from Allah, from

Paradise. They said, "O, sons of Adam! what do you intend and what is it that you seek?" They answered, "Our father is ill, and he longs for the fruits of Paradise." The angels said, "Return, for the time has come for your father to die." So they all came and Eve recognized them. She clung to Adam ﷺ and he said, "Leave me! For I surely came before you. Let me be alone with the angels of my Lord, the Most Glorified, Most High." Then they took out his soul, gave his body a bath, shrouded the body, embalmed it and dug a grave for him and offered his funeral prayer and lowered him in the grave and closed the grave over him with earth. Then they said, "O, sons of Adam! This is to be your tradition." Its isnad is authentic. <sup>(1)</sup>

Ibn 'Asakir narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "The angels said, "Allahu Akbar (Allah is Greatest)" over Adam ﷺ four times; and Abu Bakr said, "Allahu Akbar" over Fatimah four times; and 'Umar said, "Allahu Akbar" four times over Abu Bakr; and Suhaib said, "Allahu Akbar" four times over 'Umar." <sup>(2)</sup> Ibn 'Asakir said, "It was also narrated by others on the authority of Maimoon, who reported it on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar ؓ.

Scholars have offered different opinions as to where he was buried; The most favored opinion is that Adam ﷺ was buried near mountain in India where he had descended from Paradise. It was also said that he was buried near Mount Qubais in Makkah. And it was said that when it was the time of the Great Flood, Nooh carried the bodies of Adam and Eve in a casket and

(1) Narrated by Ahmad in his Musnad (20734).

(2) Narrated by Ibn 'Asakir in a marfoo' form (7/458) it contains in its isnad one Muhammad Ibn Ziyad Al-Yashkuri, who used to fabricate ahadeeth. It was also narrated by Al-Hakim in Al-Mustadrak, but according to Adh-Dhahabi and Ad-Daraqutni, its isnad also contains unacceptable narrators.

buried them in Bait Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem). This was related by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari. They also disagreed regarding his lifespan – peace be upon him: We have previously referred to the hadeeth reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ and Abu Hurairah ؓ in a marfoo’ form, in which it was stated that: “His lifespan was ordained in Al-Lawh Al-Mahfooz (the Preserved Tablet) to be a thousand years.”<sup>(1)</sup>

This is not contradicted by what is written in the Torah, which states that he lived for nine hundred and thirteen years, because this saying of theirs is discredited and rejected, since it contradicts the truth which is in our hands, that being preserved from the one who was protected from error. In addition, it is possible to reconcile this saying of theirs with what is narrated in the hadeeth – if it is correct – may refer to the period of his life on Earth, after he was sent down from Paradise, that being nine hundred and thirty solar years, which, in lunar years, would be equivalent to nine hundred and fifty-seven years. To this is added the forty-three years which he spent in Paradise, prior to being sent down to Earth, according to what was said by Ibn Jareer and others. This would make a total of a thousand years.

What Has Been Mentioned About Idrees ؑ

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And mention in the Book (the Qur’an) Idrees (Enoch). Verily, he was a man of truth (and) a

(1) This narration is raised to the level of hasan by other supporting narrations; it was narrated by Ahmad (2270) on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ.

Prophet and We raised him to a high station. ﴿ (Soorah Maryam 19:56,57)

So Idrees ؑ has been praised by Allah and He described him as being a Prophet and a man of truth. He is also known as Idress and he was a direct ancestor of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, according to what has been said by more than one scholar of genealogy. He was the first of the sons of Adam ؑ to be granted Prophethood after Adam ؑ and Sheeth ؑ.

Ibn Ishaq said that he was the first person to write with a pen. He lived for three hundred and eight years of Adam's life. A group of people said that it was he who was referred to in the hadeeth reported on the authority of Mu'awiyah Ibn Al-Hakam As-Sulami ؓ, who reported that when he asked the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about writing in the sand, he said, "There was a Prophet who wrote in the sand, so if they do it as he did, that is permissible." <sup>(1)</sup>

With regard to Allah's saying: ﴿ We raised him to a high station ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:57), according to what has been authentically reported in the Saheehain <sup>(2)</sup> in the hadeeth of Al-Isra', the Messenger of Allah ﷺ visited him in the fourth heaven.

Al-'Awfi reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that he said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ We raised him to a high station ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:57), "He was raised to the sixth heaven and he died there." Ad-Dahhak said likewise. But the hadeeth in which it is stated that he is in the fourth heaven, which is agreed upon by Al-Bukhari and

(2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3207) and Muslim (162).

Muslim, is more correct and it is the opinion of Mujahid and others.

Some have claimed that Idrees did not live before Nooh, rather, they say that he lived during the time of the Children of Isra'eel.

Al-Bukhari said, "It was mentioned on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood رضي الله عنه and 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas رضي الله عنه that Ilyas (Elias) was Idrees.<sup>(1)</sup> They drew support for this claim from the hadeeth of Adh-Dhuhri, on the authority of Anas رضي الله عنه regarding Al-Isra', in which it was stated that when the Prophet ﷺ passed by him, he said, "Welcome, pious brother and pious Prophet!" He did not say as Adam عليه السلام and Ibraheem عليه السلام had said, "Welcome, pious Prophet and son!" They said, "If he was a direct descendant of him, he would have said as they did."

But this does not necessarily prove their case, because it might be that the narrator did not remember it precisely, or he may have said it by way of indulgence and humility and he did not address him as a father as Adam, the father of the mankind and Ibraheem, the Khaleel, of the Most Beneficent and the greatest of the Ulul-'Azm <sup>(2)</sup> – after Muhammad (may the Blessings and Peace of Allah be upon them all).

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari in a mu'allaq form in the Book of the Ahadeeth of the Prophets.

(2) Ulul-'Azm: They are Nooh, Ibraheem, Moosa, 'Eesa and Muhammad (peace be upon them all). 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas said that Ulul-'Azm means: The Possessors of Resoluteness and Patience.

The Story of Nooh ﷺ

He is Nooh, son of Lamak, son of Mattooshlakh, the son of Khanookh (i.e. Idrees), son of Yard, son of Mahla'eel, son of Qainan, son of Anush, son of Sheeth, son of Adam, the father of the mankind ﷺ.

He was born a hundred and twenty-six years after the death of Adam ﷺ, according to what Ibn Jareer and others have mentioned.

According to the history of the People of the Scripture, the period between the birth of Nooh ﷺ and the death of Adam ﷺ was a hundred and forty six years. But in fact, the time span between them was ten centuries, as Al-Hafiz Abu Hatim Ibn Hibban said in his Saheeh, on the authority of Abu Umamah ؓ, who reported that a man said, "O, Messenger of Allah! Was Adam a Prophet?" The Prophet ﷺ said, "Yes; and he was spoken to (by Allah)." The man then asked, "And how long was there between him and Nooh ﷺ?" The Prophet ﷺ replied, "Ten centuries." <sup>(1)</sup> I say: This is in accordance with the criteria for acceptance stipulated by Muslim, though it was not narrated by him or by Al-Bukhari.

(1) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Ibn Hibban in his Saheeh (14/69, No. 6190).

It was reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said, “Between Adam ؑ and Nooh ؑ was a period of ten centuries – during which all of the people followed Islam (i.e. submission to Allah).”<sup>(1)</sup>

If what is meant by a qarn (century) is a hundred years, as appears to be the case for many people, then between them is a period of a thousand years, without doubt. But this does not negate the possibility that it could be longer, in view of what ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas specified, which was Islam, since there might be other later centuries between them, during which the people did not follow Islam. But the hadeeth of Abu Umamah ؓ proves that the period is restricted to ten centuries and ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas added the additional information that all of them followed Islam.

But if the meaning of a qarn is a generation of mankind, as in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And how many generations have We destroyed after Nooh! ﴾ (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:17) and the Words of Him, Most High: ﴿ Then, after them, We created other generations ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu’minoos 23:42) and His Words: ﴿ And many generations in between ﴾ (Soorah Al-Furqan 25:38) and His Words: ﴿ And how many a generation (past nations) have We destroyed before them ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:74).

The Prophet ﷺ said: “The best of people are my generation,”<sup>(2)</sup>

- (1) This was narrated by Al-Hakim (3654) and he declared it authentic. Adh-Dhahabi concurred with this.
- (2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (6429), Muslim (2533), At-Tirmidhi (3859), Ibn Majah (2362) and Ahmad (3583), on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood ؓ.

the generation. before Nooh lived long lives and based on this, the time between Adam ﷺ and Nooh ﷺ would be thousands of years. And Allah knows better.

In short, Allah, Most High, only sent Nooh ﷺ when idols and Tawagheet <sup>(1)</sup> had come to be worshipped and the people had begun to err and commit acts of disbelief. He, Most High, then sent him as a mercy for the slaves; and he was the first Messenger sent to the inhabitants of the Earth, as the people of Al-Mawqif will say to him on the Day of Resurrection. <sup>(2)</sup>

Allah has told his story, the response of his people, the punishment of the Flood which descended on those who disbelieved in him and how Allah saved him and his companions aboard the ship (Ark) in several places in the Qur'an.

In Soorah Al-A'raf, He says, ﴿ Indeed, We sent Nooh (Nooh) to his people and he said, 'O, my people! Worship Allah! You have no other ilah (God) but He. (La ilaha ill-Allah: none has the right to be worshipped but Allah). Certainly, I fear for you the torment of a Great Day!' The leaders of his people said, 'Verily, we see you in plain error.' (Nooh) said, 'O, my people! There is no error in me, but I am a Messenger from the Lord of the 'Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists)! I convey unto you the Messages of my Lord and give sincere advice to you. And I know from Allah what you know not. Do you wonder that there has come to you a reminder from your Lord through a man from amongst you, that he may warn you, so that you may fear Allah and that you may receive (His) Mercy?' But they belied him, so We saved him and those along with him in

(1) Tawagheet: (sing. is Taghoot) Those who call to the worship of other than Allah or who are worshipped besides Allah and they accept and are pleased with that worship.

(2) The takhreej for this will be given later.

the ship, and We drowned those who belied Our Ayat (proofs, evidences, Verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.). They were indeed a blind people. ﴿ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:59-64).

He, Most High, says in Soorah Yoonus, ﴿ And recite to them the news of Nooh. When he said to his people: 'O, my people, if my stay (with you), and my reminding (you) of the Ayat of Allah is hard on you, then I put my trust in Allah. So devise your plot, you and your partners, and let not your plot be in doubt for you. Then pass your sentence on me and give me no respite. But if you turn away (from accepting my doctrine of Islamic Monotheism, (i.e. to worship none but Allah), then no reward have I asked of you; my reward is only from Allah and I have been commanded to be one of the Muslims (those who submit to Allah's Will)'. ﴾ (Soorah Yoonus 10:71,72)

He, Most High, says in Soorah As-Saffat, ﴿ And indeed Nooh (Nooh) invoked Us, and We are the Best of those who answer (the request). And We rescued him and his family from the great distress (i.e. drowning). And, his progeny, them We made the survivors (i.e. Shem, Ham and Japheth). And left for him (a goodly remembrance) among generations to come in later times: Salamun (peace) be upon Nooh (from Us) among the 'Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists)!' Verily, thus We reward the Muhsinoon (those who do good - see v. 2:112). Verily, he (Nooh) was one of Our believing slaves. Then We drowned the other (disbelievers and polytheists, etc.) ﴿ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:75-82)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Bara'ah (At-Tawbah), ﴿ Has not the story reached them of those before them? - The people of Nooh, 'Ad and Thamood, the people of Ibraheem, the dwellers of Madyan (Midian) and the cities overthrown (i.e. the people to whom Loot [Lot] preached), to them came their Messengers with clear proofs. So it was not Allah Who wronged them, but they used to wrong themselves ﴾ (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:70) His story has already been mentioned in Soorah Yoonus and Soorah Hood.

In Soorah Subhan (Al-Isra'), He, Most High, says, ﴿ O, offspring of those whom We carried (in the ship) with Nooh! Verily, he was a grateful slave. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Isra' 17:3) And He, Most High, also said in the same Soorah, ﴿ And how many generations have We destroyed after Nooh! And Sufficient is your Lord as Knower of all things and Beholder of the sins of His slaves. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Isra' 17:17)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Qaf, ﴿ Denied before them (i.e. these pagans of Makkah who denied you, O, Muhammad,) the people of Nooh, and the dwellers of Rass, and Thamood, and 'Ad, and Fir'awn (Pharaoh), and the brethren of Loot (Lot), And the dwellers of the Wood, and the people of Tubba'; all of them denied (their) Messengers, so My Threat took effect.﴾ (Soorah Qaf 50:12-14)

He, Most High, says in Soorah At-Tahreem ﴿ Allah sets forth an example for those who disbelieve, the wife of Nooh and the wife of Loot. They were under two of our righteous slaves, but they both betrayed their (husbands by rejecting their doctrine) so they (Nooh and Loot) benefited them (their respective wives) not against Allah, and it was said, 'Enter the Fire along with those who enter'! ﴾ (Soorah At-Tahreem 66:10)

As for the details of what befell him at the hands of his people, it is taken from the Qur'an and the Sunnah and the traditions. We have previously mentioned a report on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that he said, "Between Adam ؑ and Nooh ؑ was a period of ten centuries, during which all of the people followed Islam.” This was narrated by Al-Bukhari.<sup>(1)</sup> We mentioned that the meaning of qarn is “generation” or a hundred years.

Then, after those righteous generations, it happened that the people of that time reverted to idol worship and the reason for that was narrated by Al-Bukhari, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, in the tafseer of the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And they have said, ‘You shall not leave your gods, nor shall you leave Wadd, nor Suwa’, nor Yaghooth, nor Ya’ooq, nor Nasr (names of the idols)’ 〉 (Soorah Nooh 71:23 ), in which he said, “These were names of righteous men from among the people of Nooh and when they died Satan incited their people to (prepare) and place idols at the places where they used to sit, and to call those idols by their names. The people did so, but the idols were not worshipped till those people (who initiated them) had died and the origin of the idols had become obscure, whereupon people began worshipping them.” ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ added, “These idols, which had been worshipped by the people of Nooh ﷺ, later became the idols which the Arabs worshipped.” ‘Ikrimah said likewise, as did Ad-Dahhak, Qatadah and Muhammad Ibn Ishaq.

It has been confirmed in the Saheehain from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that when Umm Salamah ؓ and Umm Habeebah ؓ mentioned the church which they saw in Abyssinia in which there were pictures, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “If any religious man dies amongst those people they will build a place of worship at his grave and make these pictures in it. They will be the worst creature in the sight of Allah on the Day of Resurrection.”<sup>(2)</sup>

(1) The takhreej for this narration has already been given.

(2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (427) and Muslim (528).

And what is meant is that when the corruption spread on the earth and the scourge of worshipping idols became widespread therein, Allah sent His slave and His Messenger, Nooh ﷺ to call them to the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners and to forbid them from worshipping other than Him. He was the first Messenger sent by Allah to the people of the Earth, as confirmed in the Saheehain, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, who reported from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, in the hadeeth of Ash-Shafa'ah (the Intercession), "They will go to him and say, 'O, Adam! You are the father of all mankind, and Allah created you with His Own Hands, and ordered the angels to prostrate for you, and made you live in Paradise. Will you not intercede for us with your Lord? Don't you see in what (miserable) state we are, and to what condition we have reached?' On that, Adam will reply, 'My Lord is so Angry, as He has never been before and will never be in the future; (besides), He forbade me (to eat from) the tree, but I disobeyed (Him), (I am worried about) myself! Myself! Go to somebody else; go to Nooh.' They will go to Nooh and say, 'O, Nooh! You are the first amongst the Messengers of Allah to the people of the Earth, and Allah named you a thankful slave. Do you not see in what a (miserable) state we are and to what condition we have reached? Will you not intercede for us with your Lord?' Nooh will reply, 'Today my Lord has become so Angry, as He has never been before and will never be in the future. Myself! Myself!' (1) And he mentioned the hadeeth in its entirety. He also related it in the story of Nooh ﷺ.

When Allah sent Nooh ﷺ, he called upon them to worship only Allah, Alone, without partners and not to worship any idols or graven images or any Taghoot with Him and to acknowledge His Oneness and the fact that none has the right to be worshipped but He. There is no lord but He, just as He commanded the Messengers who came after him – all of whom were from his progeny – to do, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And his progeny, them We made the survivors (i.e. Shem, Ham and Japheth). ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:77)

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3340 and 4712) and Muslim (194).

He said regarding him (Nooh ﷺ) in Soorah Ibraheem, ﴿ and We placed in their offspring Prophethood and Scripture. ﴾ (Soorah Ibraheem 57:26) That is, every Prophet who came after Nooh ﷺ is from his progeny and likewise Ibraheem ﷺ.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ He said, “O, my people! Verily, I am a plain warner to you, that you should worship Allah, Alone, be dutiful to Him, and obey me. He (Allah) will forgive you for your sins and grant you a respite to an appointed term. Verily, the term of Allah when it comes, cannot be delayed, if you but knew.” He said, ‘O, my Lord! Verily, I have called my people night and day (i.e. secretly and openly to accept the doctrine of Islamic Monotheism). But all my calling added nothing but to (their) flight (from the truth). And verily, every time I called unto them that You might forgive them, they thrust their fingers into their ears, covered themselves up with their garments, and persisted (in their refusal), and magnified themselves in pride. Then verily, I called to them openly (aloud); then, verily: I proclaimed to them in public and I have appealed to them in private. I said (to them), ‘Ask forgiveness from your Lord; Verily, He is Oft-Forgiving; He will send rain to you in abundance and give you increase in wealth and children and bestow on you gardens and bestow on you rivers. What is the matter with you, (that you fear not Allah [His punishment] and) you hope not for reward (from Allah or you believe not in His Oneness), while He has created you in (different) stages (i.e. first a nutfah, then an 'alaqah and then a mudhghah’ . ﴾

(Soorah Nooh 71:2-14)

So Allah mentioned that Nooh ﷺ called them to Allah in every possible way, both night and day, in secret and in public, sometimes through encouragement and at other times through intimidation. But all of this did not succeed with them. On the contrary, most of them persisted in their wrong-doing, tyranny and idol worship and they displayed enmity towards him at all times, belittling him and those who believed him. They threatened them with stoning and expulsion and they inflicted harm on them and tried their utmost to frustrate them in matters pertaining to their Religion: ﴿ The leaders of his people said, “Verily, we see you in plain error.” (Nooh) said, ‘O, my people! There is no error in me, but I am a Messenger from the Lord of the ‘Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists)’! ” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:60,61). That is, I am not as you claim, a person who is astray; rather, I am following sound guidance, a Messenger from the Lord of the worlds, i.e. He Who says to a thing, “Be!” And it is: ﴿ “I convey unto you the Messages of my Lord and give sincere advice to you. And I know from Allah what you know not.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:62) This is the nature of the Messenger, that he is an eloquent adviser and the most knowledgeable of people regarding Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.

Among the things that they said to him was this: ﴿ “We see you but a man like ourselves, nor do we see any following you but the meanest among us and they (too) followed you without thinking. And we do not see in you any merit above us, in fact we think you are liars.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:27) They were astonished at the idea that a human being should be a Messenger and they belittled those who followed him, holding them to be the most humble and despised people among them.

It has been said that they were the commonest among the people and the weakest of them, as Heraclius said, “They (i.e. the humble and weak) are the followers of the Messengers.”<sup>(1)</sup> And this was only because there was nothing to prevent them from following the truth.

As for His Words: ﴿ without thinking ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:27), the meaning is that simply because you preached to them, they followed the first thing that came to their minds, without thinking and without reflecting. This accusation which they made against them is in fact a thing for which they deserve praise – may Allah be pleased with them – because evident truth does not require reflection or thought or contemplation. On the contrary, it requires that one follows it and submits to it wherever it appears, which is why the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, when praising As-Siddeeq, “Every person whom I called to Islam hesitated, except Abu Bakr, for he did not hesitate for a moment.”<sup>(2)</sup> For this reason, the people also swiftly gave their pledge of allegiance to him on the Day of As-Saqeefah,<sup>(3)</sup> without contemplation and without reflection, because his superiority over all others was clearly apparent to the Companions ﷺ. This is why when the Messenger of Allah wanted to write a document regarding the subject of the Caliphate, he abandoned it, saying, “Allah and the Believers will reject anyone except Abu Bakr ﷺ.”<sup>(4)</sup> As for what the disbelievers among the people of Nooh ﷺ said to him and those who believed in him, ﴿ “And we do not see in you any merit above us.” ﴿ Soorah Hood 11:27) – it means: We do not see that you and your followers have any virtuous status above us in your physical appearance, your character, your provisions, or your condition, since you accepted this religion of yours.

(3) The Day of As-Saqeefah: As-Saqeefah means The Shelter. On the day of the Prophet’s death, the Muslims gathered together in a shelter belonging to Banu Sa’idah to choose a Caliph. The name of the house is used as shorthand for the event, or the gathering, which was a crucial turning point in the history of Islam.

﴿ “In fact we think you are liars.” He said, “O, my people! Tell me, if I have a clear proof from my Lord, and a Mercy has come to me from Him, but that (Mercy) has been obscured from your sight, shall we compel you to accept it (Islamic Monotheism) when you have a strong hatred for it?” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:27-28) This is an expression of courteousness and gentleness in his address to them, when calling them to the truth, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And speak to him mildly, perhaps he may accept admonition or fear Allah. ﴾ (Soorah Ta Ha 20:44)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Invite (mankind, O, Muhammad,) to the Way of your Lord (i.e. Islam) with wisdom (i.e. with the Divine Inspiration and the Qur’an) and fair preaching, and argue with them in a way that is better. ﴾ (Soorah An-Nahl 16:125)

This is apparent in Nooh’s words to them: ﴿ “Oh, my people! Tell me, if I have a clear proof from my Lord, and a Mercy has come to me from Him,” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:28) The “Mercy” referred to is Prophethood and the Message. ﴿ “But that (Mercy) has been obscured from your sight.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:28) That is, you did not understand it and you were not guided to it, ﴿ “Shall we compel you to accept it?” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:28) That is, shall we coerce you and force you to believe in it? ﴿ “When you have a strong hatred for it?” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:28) That is, I have no means to make you do so in such circumstances. ﴿ “And o, my people! I ask of you no wealth for it, my reward is from none but Allah.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:29)

That is, I do not require any payment from you for conveying to you that which will benefit you in your earthly life and in your Afterlife. I do not seek that from anyone except Allah, Whose Reward is better for me and more lasting than what you might give to me.

﴿ “I am not going to drive away those who have believed. Surely, they are going to meet their Lord, but I see that you are a people who are ignorant.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:29) It is as if they had requested him to send those people away from him and promised him that they would join him if he did so. But he refused their request and said, ﴿ “Surely, they are going to meet their Lord.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:29) and so I fear that if I send them away, they will complain of me to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.

﴿ “And I do not say to you that with me are the Treasures of Allah, nor that I know the ghaib (unseen); nor do I say I am an angel.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:31) That is, on the contrary, I am a slave and a Messenger. I do not possess anything of Allah’s Knowledge, except that which He has informed me and I have no ability to do anything except that which Allah has enabled me to do. Nor do I possess the power to benefit or inflict harm, except as Allah wills. ﴿ “And I do not say of those whom your eyes look down upon...” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:31). That is, Nooh’s followers. ﴿ “that Allah will not bestow any good on them. Allah knows what is in their inner-selves (as regards belief, etc.). In that case, I should, indeed be one of the zalimoon (wrongdoers, oppressors, etc.)” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:31). That is, I will not testify against them that they will not be rewarded by Allah on the Day of Resurrection. Allah knows better regarding them and He will recompense them for what is in their hearts; if what is in them is good, then He will reward them with goodness and if it is evil, He will recompense them with evil, as He, Most High, says in another Soorah, ﴿ “They said, ‘Shall we believe in you, when the meanest (of the people) follow you?’ He said, ‘And what knowledge have I of what they used to do? Their account is only with my Lord, if you could (but) know. And I am not going to drive away the believers. I am only a plain warner.’ ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:111-115)

A long time passed and the arguments between him and them continued, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And indeed We sent Nooh to his people, and he stayed among them a thousand years less fifty years (inviting them to believe in the Oneness of Allah [Monotheism], and discard the false gods and other deities), and the Deluge overtook them while they were zalimoon (wrongdoers, polytheists, disbelievers, etc.) ﴾ (Soorah Al-‘Ankaboot 29:14) That is, throughout all this extended period of time, none but a few of them believed. Every time a generation passed away, they would advise those who came after them not to believe in him and to contest him and oppose him. When a man’s son reached maturity and understood his words, he would advise him in any discussions they had never to believe in Nooh ﷺ for as long as he lived.

Their nature prevented them from believing and following the truth, which is why Nooh ﷺ said, ﴿ “and they will beget none but wicked disbelievers.” ﴾ (Soorah Nooh 71:27) – and that is why they said, ﴿ They said, O, Nooh! You have disputed with us and much have you prolonged the dispute with us, now bring upon us what you threaten us with, if you are of the truthful.’ He said, ‘Only Allah will bring it (the punishment) on you, if He will, and then you will escape not.’ ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:32,33) That is, only Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful is able to do that, for it is He Who is capable of doing anything, and nothing is difficult for Him; rather, it is He Who says to a thing, "Be!" and it is. ﴿ "And my advice will not profit you, even if I wish to give you good counsel, if Allah's Will is to keep you astray. He is your Lord and to Him you shall return." ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:34) That is, if Allah wants to put anyone to trial (i.e. make him go astray), no one will be able to guide him. It is He Who guides whom He wills, and causes to go astray whom He wills and He does what He intends (or wills). He is the Almighty, the Most Wise, the Knower of who deserves to be guided and who deserves to be led astray and to Him belong the most far-reaching Wisdom and the most irrefutable argument.

﴿ And it was inspired to Nooh: 'None of your people will believe except those who have believed already'. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:36) This was said as a consolation to him, in light of what they had done to him. ﴿ And it was inspired to Nooh: "None of your people will believe except those who have believed already. So be not sad because of what they used to do". ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:36) It was a consolation to Nooh ﷺ regarding his people to know that none of them would believe except those who had already believed. That is, let it not grieve you what has passed, for victory is near and the tidings are wonderful.

﴿ "And construct the ship under Our Eyes and with Our Inspiration, and address Me not on behalf of those who did wrong; they are surely to be drowned." ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:37) When Nooh ﷺ despaired of their ever-becoming righteous and successful and considered that there was no good in them and that they continued to harm him, to oppose him and to belie him with all the means at their disposal, including words and deeds, he invoked Allah's Anger against them and Allah answered his invocation. He, Most High, says, ﴿ And indeed Nooh invoked Us, and We are the Best of those who answer (the request). And We rescued him and his family from the great distress (i.e. drowning) ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:75,76)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Then he invoked his Lord (saying): 'I have been overcome, so help (me)!' ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:10). So their sins of disbelief and iniquity and the invocation of their Prophet combined against them and at that point, Allah commanded him to build the Ark.

Allah, Most High, informed him that when His Punishment – which could not be rescinded from the evildoing people – descended on them, He would not be able to ask Allah about them again, because he might be afflicted by feelings of pity toward his people, when he saw with his own eyes the punishment inflicted on them, for being informed about something is not the same as seeing it with one's own eyes. This is why He says, ﴿ “And construct the ship under Our Eyes and with Our Inspiration, and address Me not on behalf of those who did wrong; they are surely to be drowned. And as he was constructing the ship, whenever the chiefs of his people passed by him, they made a mockery of him. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:37,38) That is, they mocked him, regarding it as unlikely that what he had promised them would in fact, befall them. ﴿ “He said, ‘If you mock at us, so do we mock at you likewise for your mocking.’ ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:38) That is, it is we who will mock you. We are amazed at your continuing disbelief and stubbornness, which demands the infliction of punishment on you. ﴿ “And you will know who it is on whom will come a torment that will cover him with disgrace and on whom will fall a lasting torment.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:39) It was their nature to stubbornly disbelieve and vehemently oppose him in the life of this world and likewise in the Hereafter, for they will deny also that any Messenger came to them, as narrated by Al-Bukhari, on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ؓ, who said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Nooh ؑ and his people will come and Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful will say, 'Did you convey (the Message)?' He will reply, 'Yes, my Lord!' Then He will ask his people, 'Did he convey (the Message) to you?' But they will answer, 'No, no Prophet came to us.' Allah will then ask Nooh ؑ, 'Who will bear witness on your behalf?' He will reply, 'Muhammad and his people.' They will bear witness that he conveyed (the Message)." And that is the meaning of the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ Thus We have made you (true Muslims - real believers of Islamic Monotheism, true followers of Prophet Muhammad ﷺ and his Sunnah [legal ways], a wasat [and the best] nation, that you be witnesses over mankind and the Messenger [Muhammad ﷺ] be a witness over you. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:143) The word wasat means just; and this nation will bear witness to (the truth of) the testimony of its truthful Prophet, who is believed.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ (Nooh) said, 'O, my Lord! Help me because they deny me.' So We inspired him (saying): 'Construct the ship under Our Eyes and under Our Revelation (guidance).' ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:26,27) That is, according to Our Command to you and in Our Sight, we shall supervise your construction of it and We shall instruct you as to the correct manner of doing so. ﴿ Then, when Our Command comes, and the tannoor (oven) gushes forth water, take on board of each kind two (male and female), and your family, except those thereof against whom the Word has already gone forth. And address Me not in favor of those who have done wrong. Verily, they are to be drowned. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:27)

Then Allah instructed him that when His Command was enacted and His Punishment was inflicted, he should carry male and female pairs of every animal and all living creatures, including those which are eaten and others, in order that their progeny might survive. He was also instructed to carry his family with him; that is, the members of his household, except those regarding whom the Word had already gone forth. That is, those who had disbelieved, because the irrevocable invocation against them had already been put into effect and the infliction of the Punishment had already been sanctioned upon them and that was irreversible. Allah could not be appealed regarding them once the great Punishment had been inflicted upon them, as we have explained previously. According to the majority of scholars, what is meant by the tannoor is the face of the earth, i.e. water gushes forth from every place on earth, even the “ovens” which are the places of fire. As for the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ (So it was) till then there came Our Command and the tannoor (oven) gushed forth (water like fountains from the earth). We said, “Embark therein, of each kind two (male and female), and your family, except him against whom the Word has already gone forth, and those who believe. And none believed with him, except a few.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:40) This was a command that when the affliction (i.e. the flood) started, he should carry a male and female of every species on board the Ark.

﴿ “And your family, except him against whom the Word has already gone forth.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:40) That is, those disbelievers upon whom the invocation was effected, including his son, Yam, who was drowned as we shall see.

﴿ “And those who believe.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:40). That is, carry in the ship those of your people who believe in you.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ “And none believed with him, except a few.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:40) This was in spite of the long period of time and the fact that he remained among them and the urgent exhortations he made to them night and day, propounding to them teachings, with courteousness, sometimes using threats and warnings and other times using encouragement and promises.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And when you have embarked on the ship, you and whoever is with you, then say, ‘All praise and thanks be to Allah, Who has saved us from the people who are zalimoon (i.e. oppressors, wrong-doers, polytheists, those who join others in worship with Allah, etc.). And say: “My Lord! Cause me to land at a blessed landing-place, for You are the Best of those who bring to land.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu’minooneen 23:28,29) He commanded him to praise and thank his Lord for providing him with this ship and for saving him therewith; for granting him victory over his people and relieving his heart of those who opposed him and belied him, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And Who has created all the pairs and has appointed for you ships and cattle on which you ride, in order that you may mount firmly on their backs, and then may remember the Favor of your Lord when you mount thereon, and say: ‘Glory to Him who has subjected this to us, and we could never have it (by our efforts).’ And verily, to Our Lord we indeed are to return!” ﴾ (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:12-14)

Likewise, he was commanded to invoke Allah at the start of the events, so that he might receive goodness and blessings and that his end might be a laudable one. He, Most High, said to His Messenger (Muhammad) ﷺ, when he migrated (from Makkah to Al-Madinah), ﴿ And say (O, Muhammad), “My Lord! Let my entry (to the city of Al-Madinah) be good, and likewise my exit (from the city of Makkah) be good. And grant me from You an authority to help me (or a firm sign or a proof).” ﴿ Soorah Al-Isra' 17:80 ﴾

Nooh carried out these instructions: ﴿ And he (Nooh) said, “Embark therein, in the Name of Allah will be its moving course and its resting anchorage.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:41) That is, begin the voyage by invoking Allah’s Name and end it in the same way. ﴿ “Surely, my Lord is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:41). That is, and (He is) the Owner of a painful Punishment – although He is the Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful – His Punishment cannot be rescinded from the sinning people; thus it was sanctioned for the people of the Earth who disbelieved and worshipped other than Him.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So it (the ship) sailed with them amid the waves like mountains. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:42). This was because Allah, Most High, sent rain from the sky, the like of which the earth had not known before and has not seen since; it was like the mouths of waterskins (pouring forth). And He commanded the earth to bring forth water from all directions, as Allah says, ﴿ Then he invoked his Lord (saying): “I have been overcome, so help (me)!” So We opened the gates of heaven with water pouring forth. And We caused the earth to gush forth with springs. So the waters (of the heaven and the earth) met for a matter predestined. And We carried him on a (ship) made of planks and nails. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:10-13) ﴿ Floating under Our Eyes. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:14) That is, under Our Protection, Our Watch, Our Guard and Our Observation. ﴿ a reward for him who had been rejected! ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:14) Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily! When the water rose beyond its limits (Nooh’s Flood), We carried you (mankind) in the floating 》 (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:11). That is, in the floating ship ﴿ That We might make it a remembrance for you, and the keen ear (person) may (hear and) understand it 》 (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:12)

A number of scholars of tafseer said that the water rose fifteen cubits above the highest mountain on Earth; this was what was said by the People of the Scripture. It was also said that it rose eighty cubits and that it covered the whole of the Earth, the length and breadth of it, its plains, its rugged ground, its mountains, its deserts and its sands. No living thing remained on the face of the Earth, whether great or small.

﴿ And it was said, “O, earth! Swallow up your water,” and, “O, sky! Withhold (your rain).” And the water was diminished and the Decree (of Allah) was fulfilled (i.e. the destruction of the people of Nooh. And it (the ship) rested on Mount Judi, and it was said “Away with the people who are zalimoon 》 (Soorah Hood 11:44). That is, when Allah had dealt with the inhabitants of the Earth and none of those who had worshipped others besides Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful remained, Allah commanded the earth to swallow its water and He commanded the sky to stop raining. ﴿ And the water was diminished 》 - That is, it decreased from what it had been. ﴿ And the Decree (of Allah) was fulfilled. 》 That is, that which Allah had previously ordained, due to His All-Encompassing Knowledge was inflicted upon them. ﴿ And it was said “Away with the people who are zalimoon. 》 (Soorah Hood 11:44) And also Allah, Most High, says: ﴿ Because of their sins they were drowned, then weve made to enter the Fire. And they towund none to to help them instead of Allah. And Nooh said: “My Lord! Leave not one of the disbelievers on the early If you leave them, they will mislead your slaves, and they will beget none but wicked disbelievers.﴾ (Soorah An-Nooh 71:25-27) Allah, Most High answered his supplication, all praise and thanks are due to Him and all grace proceeds from Him and not a single one of them remained.

Then He, Most High, says, ﴿ It was said, “O, Nooh! Come down (from the ship) with peace from Us and blessings on you and on the people who are with you (and on some of their offspring), but (there will be other) people to whom We shall grant their pleasures (for a time), but in the end a painful torment will reach them from Us.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:48) This was a command to Nooh ﷺ when the water subsided from the face of the earth and it became possible to travel across it and to dwell in it. So he disembarked from the ship, which had come to rest after its long journey, on the upper portion of a mountain in Al-Jazeerah, which is well-known. We have already spoken of it when we discussed the creation of the mountains. ﴿ With peace from Us and blessings ﴾. That is, disembark in safety, with blessings upon you and upon the nations that will be born afterwards. That is, from your progeny, for Allah did not allow any of the Believers who were with him to produce offspring, aside from Nooh ﷺ.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And, his progeny, them We made the survivors. ﴾ (As-Saffat 37:77) So everyone on the face of the earth today, from all races of mankind, descended from Nooh's three sons. And they are Shem, Ham and Jephthah. Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Prophet ﷺ passed by some people from among the Jews who were fasting the day of 'Ashoorah, and he said to them, “What is this fast?” This is the day on which Allah saved Moosa ؑ and the Children of Isra'eel from being drowned; and on that day, He drowned Fir'aun. And on this day, the ship landed on Mount Joodi. Nooh ﷺ and Moosa ﷺ fasted in order to give thanks to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.” The Prophet ﷺ said, “I have more claim over Moosa ﷺ and more right to fast on this day (than you).” Then he said to his Companions ﷺ, “If anyone of you has been fasting since this morning, let him complete his fast and if anyone of you has taken lunch with his family, let him complete the rest of the day.”<sup>(1)</sup> This hadeeth is supported by a narration in the Saheeh.<sup>(2)</sup> But the ghareeb part is the mention of Nooh ﷺ also. And Allah knows better.

As for what has been said by many ignorant people, that they ate from the leftovers of their provisions and from grains which they had brought with them and they ground them that day and applied ithmid to their eyes in order to strengthen their sight, because it had become cut off by the bright light, after having been confined in the darkness of the ship, none of this is authentic. It is only mentioned in incomplete traditions narrated from the Children of Isra'eel. They are not to be relied on and they should not be followed. And Allah knows better.

A number of ignorant people from Persia and India have

- (1) Narrated by Imam Ahmad (8500). In its isnad is one Abu Ja'far, who has been condemned as “weak” by a number of scholars, while others declared him to be trustworthy. (In such cases, it is the practice of the scholars to act upon the negative report, since a scholar might declare a person trustworthy because he has heard nothing negative about him, another scholar might know something (negative) about him which the other scholar does not know). There is also one 'Abdus-Samad, who has been declared weak by scholars. In addition, his father is unknown to the scholars. Another person in the chain is Shabeel, who was known to make mistakes.

denied that the flood took place, while others among them have accepted it and they said, "It was only in the land of Babylon and it did not reach us." They said, "We have continued to inherit the land from generation to generation from the time of Adam ﷺ until our time."

What Has Been Mentioned About the Character of Nooh ﷺ

Allah, Most High says, « Verily, he was a grateful slave. » (Soorah Al-Isra` 17:3) It was said that he used to thank Allah for his food, his drink and all of his affairs.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Verily, Allah is pleased with the slave when he eats his food and thanks Him for it and when he drinks his beverage and thanks Him for it."<sup>(1)</sup> Muslim, At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasa'i narrated likewise from the hadeeth of Abu Usamah ؓ.<sup>(2)</sup>

It is clear that a grateful person is the one who performs all acts of obedience, including those of the heart, verbal ones and physical ones, because gratitude is expressed by all of them, as the poet says in Al-Bahr At-Taweel:

*"You generous people have benefitted from three things from me,
My hand, my tongue and heart."*

(1) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (11758).

(2) Narrated by Muslim (2734), At-Tirmidhi (1816) and An-Nasa'i (4/202, No. 6899)

His Advice to His Son

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Amr ؓ that he said: We were with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when a Bedouin man came to him wearing a flowing cloak, decorated with brocade and he ﷺ said, “Verily, this companion of yours has humiliated ever horseman who is the son of a horseman (or he said: wants to humiliate ever horseman who is the son of a horseman) and he has elevated every herdsman, who is the son of a herdsman.” ‘Abdullah ؓ said: Then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ took hold of the edges of his cloak and said, “I do not see upon you the garments of a person who is not endowed with intelligence.” Then he said, “When death approached the Prophet of Allah, Nooh ؑ, he said to his son, ‘I will convey to you my advice: I order you to do two things and I forbid you to do two things. I order you to believe that La ilaha Illallah (none has the right to be worshipped except Allah), because if the seven heavens and the seven earths were placed in one hand and La ilaha illallah was placed in the other hand, La ilaha illallah would outweigh them. And if the seven heavens and the seven earths were a dark circle, it would be filled by La Ilaha illallah. Glory and praise be to Allah, because in it are the connections to everything and through it all creation is sustained. I forbid you to commit shirk (ascribe partners to Allah) and to commit kibr., Either ‘Abdullah or someone else said, “O, Messenger of Allah! As for shirk, we know what it is, but what is kibr? Is it that one of us should have a pair of fine shoes with fine straps on them?” He ﷺ said, “No.” The questioner asked, “Is it that one of us should have a fine garment which he wears?” He ﷺ said, “No.” The questioner asked, “Is it that one of us has a camel which he rides?” The Prophet ﷺ said, “No.” The questioner then asked, “Is it that one of us has companions who sit around him?” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ replied, “No.” ‘Abdullah ؓ or another person said, “O, Messenger of Allah! Then what is kibr?” He ﷺ replied, “Ignorance of the truth and displaying contempt toward people.”<sup>(1)</sup> The isnad of this hadeeth is authentic, though Al-Bukhari and Muslim did not narrate it.

As for his grave, Ibn Jareer and Al-Azraqi narrated on the authority of ‘Abdur-Rahman Ibn Sabit or another of the Tabi’oon in a mursal<sup>(2)</sup> form, that Nooh ﷺ was buried within the precincts of the Sacred Mosque (in Makkah).

This is stronger and more reliable than what has been said by many of the later scholars, who claimed that he is in a town, in a place known today as Kark Nooh. In that place is a mosque which has been built because of these claims. And Allah knows better.

(1) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (2/170, No. 6547).

(2) Mursal: A chain of narrators which does not include a Companion ؓ.

The Story of Hood ﷺ

He is Hood, son of Shalakh, son of Arfakhshad, son of Sam, son of Nooh ﷺ. It was said that Hood ﷺ is 'Abir, the son of Shalakh, the son of Arfakhshad, the son of Sam, the son of Nooh ﷺ. This was reported by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari.

He belonged to a tribe known as 'Ad, son of 'Aws, son of Sam, son of Nooh ﷺ. They were Arabs living in the winding sand tracts (Al-Ahqaf), which is a mountain of sand in Yemen, between Oman and Hadhramawt, in a land looking out upon the sea, which is known as Ash-Shihr. The name of their valley was Mugheeth. They lived a great deal in tents which had huge poles, as Allah, Most High, says, « Did you (Muhammad,) not see (think) how your Lord dealt with 'Ad (people), of Iram, with lofty poles? » (Soorah Al-Fajr 89:6,7) That is, 'Ad Iram, who were the first 'Ad. As for the second 'Ad, they came later, as we shall make clear in its place. The first 'Ad were 'Ad « of Iram, with lofty poles, The like of which were not created in the land? » (Soorah Al-Fajr 89:7,8) That is, the like of the tribe. It was also said that it means: the like of whose poles, but the correct opinion is the former, as we made clear in the Tafseer.

The Arabs were known before Isma‘eel ﷺ as Al-‘Arab Al-‘Aribah and they consisted of numerous tribes, including: ‘Ad, Thamood, Jurhum, Tasm, Jadees, Ameem, Madyan, Imlaq, Abil, Jasim, Qahtan, Banu Yaqtun and others.

As for the Arabised Arabs, they were of the progeny of Isma‘eel, the son of Ibraheem Al-Khaleel (peace be upon them both). Isma‘eel, was the first to speak eloquent, classical Arabic and he learned the speech of the Arabs from the tribe of Jurhum, who camped near his mother, Hajar, in the Sacred Precincts, as we shall make clear in its place, if Allah wills. But Allah made him able to speak with the utmost eloquence and powers of elucidation and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was likewise articulate in it.

What is meant is that ‘Ad – the first ‘Ad – were the first to worship idols after the Great Flood. Their idols were three: Sadd, Samood and Hara. Allah sent to them their brother, Hood ﷺ and he called them to Allah, as He, Most High, says after mentioning the people of Nooh ﷺ and their case in Soorah Al-A‘raf, ﴿ And to ‘Ad (people, We sent) their brother Hood. He said, “O, my people! Worship Allah! You have no other ilah (god) but Him. (La ilaha illallah: none has the right to be worshipped but Allah). Will you not fear (Allah)?” The leaders of those who disbelieved among his people said, “Verily, we see you in foolishness and verily, we think you are one of the liars.” (Hood) said, “O, my people! There is no foolishness in me, but (I am) a Messenger from the Lord of the ‘Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists)! I convey unto you the Messages of my Lord, and I am a trustworthy adviser (or well-wisher) for you. Do you wonder that there has come to you a Reminder (and an advice) from your Lord through a man from amongst you that he may warn you? And remember that He made you successors after the people of Nooh and increased you amply in stature. So remember the graces (bestowed upon you) from Allah, so that you may be successful.” They said, “You have come to us that we should worship Allah, Alone and forsake that which our fathers used to worship. So bring us that wherewith you have threatened us if you are of the truthful.” (Hood) said, “Torment and wrath have already fallen on you from your Lord. Dispute you with me over names which you have named – you and your fathers, with no authority from Allah? Then wait, I am with you among those who wait.” So We saved him and those who were with him by a Mercy from Us, and We cut the roots of those who belied Our Ayat (proofs, evidences, verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.), and they were not believers 》 (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:65-72)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ They said, “O, Hood! No evidence have you brought us, and we shall not leave our gods for your (mere) saying! And we are not believers in you. All that we say is that some of our gods (deities) have seized you with evil (madness).” He said, “I call Allah to witness and bear you witness that I am free from that which you ascribe as partners in worship with Him (Allah). So plot against me, all of you, and give me no respite. I put my trust in Allah, my Lord and your Lord! There is not a moving (living) creature but He has grasp of its forelock. Verily, my Lord is on the Straight Path (the truth).” 》 (Soorah Hood 11:53-56)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Qad Aflahal-Mu'minoon (Al-Mu'minoon) after the story of Nooh's people: ﴿ Then, after them, We created another generation. And We sent to them a Messenger from among themselves (saying), “Worship Allah! You have no other ilah (god) but Him. Will you not then be afraid (of Him i.e. of His Punishment because of worshipping others besides Him)?" And the chiefs of his people, who disbelieved and denied the Meeting in the Hereafter, and to whom We had given the luxuries and comforts of this life, said, "He is no more than a human being like you, he eats of that which you eat, and drinks of what you drink. If you were to obey a human being like yourselves, then verily! You indeed would be losers. Does he promise you that when you have died and have become dust and bones, you shall come out alive (resurrected)? Far, very far is that which you are promised. There is nothing but our life of this world! We die and we live! And we are not going to be resurrected! He is only a man who has invented a lie against Allah, but we are not going to believe in him." He said, "O my Lord! Help me because they deny me." He (Allah) said, "In a little while, they are sure to be regretful." So As-Saihah (punishment - awful cry, etc.) overtook them with justice, and We made them as rubbish of dead plants. So away with the people who are zalimoon (polytheists, wrongdoers, disbelievers in the Oneness of Allah, disobedient to His Messengers, etc.) ﴿ Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:31-41).

He, Most High, says in Soorah Ha Meem As-Sajdah (Fussilat), ﴿ As for 'Ad, they were arrogant in the land without right, and they said, "Who is mightier than us in strength?" See they not that Allah, Who created them was mightier in strength than they? And they used to deny Our Ayat! So We sent upon them furious wind in days of evil omen (for them) that We might give them a taste of disgracing torment in this present worldly life, but surely the Punishment of the Hereafter will be more disgracing, and they will never be helped. ﴾ (Soorah Fussilat 41:15,16)

We will relate the purport of the story gathered from these threads, along with what can be added to it from the traditions.

We have already mentioned that they were the first of the nations to worship idols after the Great Flood and this is clear from His Words regarding them, « And remember that He made you successors after the people of Nooh, and increased you amply in stature. » (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:69) That is, He made them the strongest people in their time, in physique, power and bravery.

In Soorah Al-Mu'minoon, He says, « Then, after them, We created another generation. » (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:31) They were the people of Hood, according to the correct view.

Others said that they were Thamood, based on the Words of Allah, Most High, « So As-Saihah (punishment - awful cry, etc.) overtook them with justice, and We made them as rubbish of dead plants. » (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:41) They said, "They are the people of Saleh ﷺ, for it is they who were destroyed by As-Saihah. « And as for 'Ad, they were destroyed by a furious, violent wind. » (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:6) This saying of theirs does not rule out the possibility that they were overcome by a combination of As-Saihah and the furious, violent wind, as we shall show in the story of the people of Madyan, the Dwellers of the 'Aykah (Wood). For a combination of punishments were inflicted on them, in addition to which, there is no dispute regarding the fact that 'Ad lived before Thamood.

What is meant is that 'Ad were alienated, disbelieving Arabs, who were arrogant and defiantly determined to worship idols and so Allah sent to them a man from among them, to call upon them to believe in Allah, Most High, and to sincerely devote their worship to Him alone. But they belied him, opposed him and belittled him, as a result of which, Allah seized them with the Seizing of the Almighty, (Who is) Most Able to carry out what he Wills.

When he commanded them to worship Allah, urged them to obey Him and seek forgiveness from Him and promised them that if they did so, they would receive a goodly reward in the life of this world and in the Hereafter, while threatening them with punishment in the life of this world and in the Hereafter, should they violate these injunctions, ﴿ The leaders of those who disbelieved among his people said, "Verily, we see you in foolishness," ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:66) That is, this thing to which you call us is foolishness in comparison with our worship of these idols, from which we seek victory and sustenance. And in addition to this, we believe that you are lying in your claim to be a Messenger sent by Allah.

﴿ (Hood) said, "O, my people! There is no foolishness in me, but (I am) a Messenger from the Lord of the 'Alameen (mankind, jinn and all that exists)! ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:67) That is, the matter is not as you think, nor as you believe: ﴿ "I convey unto you the Messages of my Lord, and I am a trustworthy adviser (or well-wisher) to you." ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:68) And conveying the Message requires that the conveyor be free from untruthfulness and that he makes no addition, nor any omission when delivering the Message. His delivery of the Message must also be eloquent, succinct, comprehensive and unarguable, and contain no ambiguity, no contradiction and no confusion.

But in spite of his delivery of the Message in this manner and his advising his people to the utmost of his ability – and in spite of his compassion toward them and his intense desire that they be guided – he did not seek any reward or payment from them, rather, he devoted himself sincerely to Allah in his call to (believe in) Him and his advice to His creation. He only sought recompense from the One Who sent him. This is because the good things in this life and in the Hereafter are in Allah's Hands and at His Command; that is why he said, ﴿ “O, my people! I ask of you no reward for it (the Message). My reward is only from Him Who created me. Will you not then understand?” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:51) That is, you have no minds with which to distinguish (truth from error) and understand that I am inviting you to the clear truth to which your innate nature – in which He created you – bears witness; and that is the Religion of truth, with which Allah sent Nooh ﷺ and He destroyed those who opposed him. Now I am calling you to (believe in) Him and I do not ask any reward from you for it. Rather, I seek that from Allah, in Whose Hand is harm and benefit and this is why a Believer said in Soorah Ya Seen, ﴿ “Obey those who ask no wages of you (for themselves), and who are rightly guided. And why should I not worship Him (Allah, Alone), Who has created me and to Whom you shall be returned.” ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:21,22)

Among the things that the people of Hood ﷺ said to him was, ﴿ “O, Hood! No evidence have you brought us, and we shall not leave our gods for your (mere) saying! And we are not believers in you. All that we say is that some of our gods (deities) have seized you with evil (madness).” He said, “I call Allah to witness and bear you witness that I am free from that which you ascribe as partners in worship.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:53,54) That is, you have not produced any supernatural miracle which would bear witness for you of the truth of what you have brought. And we are not a people who will abandon the worship of our idols simply because on your words, when you have brought no proof. We do not think that you are anything but an insane person in what you claim. You have only been seized with this (madness) because some of our deities have become angry with you and afflicted your mind with madness. That is apparent from their words: ﴿ All that we say is that some of our gods (deities) have seized you with evil (madness).” He said, “I call Allah to witness and bear you witness that I am free from that which you ascribe as partners in worship with Him (Allah). So plot against me, all of you, and give me no respite.” ﴿ Soorah Hood 11:54,55 ) This was a challenge from him to them, a declaration of his innocence of any complicity in the worship of their idols and a statement of his contempt for them. It is also a clear assertion that they can neither benefit nor harm and that they are simply inanimate objects. If they can, as you claim, help, benefit and harm, then here I stand, declaring myself innocent of them and cursing them: ﴿ “So plot against me, all of you, and give me no respite.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:55) That is, you people and your idols together, with all of the resources at your disposal and all of the power at your command, do not grant me a respite of a single hour, or even the blink of an eye, because I do not care about you and I do not even think of you, nor even look at you. ﴿ “I put my trust in Allah, my Lord and your Lord! There is not a moving (living) creature but He has grasp of its forelock. Verily, my Lord is on the Straight Path (the truth).” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:56) That is, I put my faith and trust in Allah and I am supported by Him and confident of His Protection, which does not misguide those who seek it and have trust in it. So I do not care about any creature besides Him and I do not put my trust in anyone but Him, and I do not worship anyone besides him.

This alone is a decisive proof that Hood ﷺ was the slave of Allah and His Messenger; the people were ignorant and astray in their worship of other than Allah because they were unable to inflict any harm on him and this proves the truthfulness of what he brought to them and the falsity of what they followed and the immorality of their beliefs. It is precisely this evidence which Nooh ﷺ cited before him in His Words, ﴿ And recite to them the news of Nooh, when he said to his people, “O my people, if my stay (with you) and my reminding (you) of the Ayat of Allah is hard on you, then I put my trust in Allah. So devise your plot, you and your partners, and let not your plot be in doubt for you. Then pass your sentence on me and give me no respite.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoonus 10:71) He, Most High, says, ﴿ And the chiefs of his people, who disbelieved and denied the Meeting in the Hereafter, and to whom We had given the luxuries and comforts of this life, said, “He is no more than a human being like you, he eats of that which you eat and drinks of what you drink. If you were to obey a human being like yourselves, then verily, you indeed would be losers. Does he promise you that when you have died and have become dust and bones, you shall come out alive (resurrected)?” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:33-35) They thought that the idea that Allah would send a Messenger was far-fetched and this specious argument was offered by many ignorant disbelievers in the past and present, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Is it wonder for mankind that We have sent Our Inspiration to a man from among themselves (i.e. Prophet Muhammad ﷺ) (saying): “Warn mankind (of the coming torment in Hell).” ﴾ (Soorah Yoonus 10:2). This is why Hood ﷺ said to his people, ﴿ “Do you wonder that there has come to you a Reminder from your Lord through a man from amongst you, that he may warn you, so that you may fear Allah and that you may receive (His) Mercy?” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:63). That is, it is not surprising, because Allah, Most High knows better regarding the selection of His Messengers.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Does he promise you that when you have died and have become dust and bones, you shall come out alive (resurrected)? Far, very far is that which you are promised. There is nothing but our life of this world! We die and we live! And we are not going to be resurrected! He is only a man who has invented a lie against Allah, but we are not going to believe in him.” ﴿ (Soorah Al-Mu`minoos 23:35-38). They expressed their belief that the promised Resurrection is far in the future and they rejected the idea that their bodies could be resurrected after they had become dust and bones. They said, “Far, far away is this promise. ﴿ “There is nothing but our life of this world! We die and we live! And we are not going to be resurrected!” ﴿ (Soorah Al-Mu`minoos 23:37) That is, a people die and another people are born. This was the belief of the Dahriyyah,<sup>(1)</sup> as some of the ignorant people among the zanadiqah<sup>(2)</sup> say, “The wombs deliver and the earth swallows.”

And he said to them, with regard to that concerning which he had warned them, ﴿ “Do you build high palaces on every high place, while you do not live in them? And do you get for yourselves masani` (fine buildings) as if you will live therein for ever?” ﴿ (Soorah Ash-Shu`ara` 26:128,129) That is, do you build in every elevated place great and magnificent buildings, such as palaces and the like, building them for frivolous reasons, though you have no need of them? This was because they used to live in tents, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Did you (O, Muhammad,) not see (think) how your Lord dealt with ‘Ad (people) of Iram, with lofty poles, the like of which were not created in the land? And (with) Thamood (people), who cut (hewed) out rocks in the valley (to make dwellings)? ﴿ (Soorah Al-Fajr 89:6-9) So ‘Ad of Iram were the first ‘Ad who used to live under huge poles, which supported their tents.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ “And do you get for yourselves

- (1) Dahriyyah: The belief that there is nothing save this abode in which one person passes away only to be replaced by another, and there is no Resurrection or Judgment. This was the view of the pagan Arabs who rejected the Resurrection.
- (2) Zanadiqah: (sing. zindeeq) Atheists, freethinkers.

masani “?” ﴿﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:129) It was said that masani ‘ means palaces. It was said that it means pigeon towers. It is also said that it means water sources.

﴿ “As if you will live therein for ever.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:129) That is, it is your hope that you will abide in this earthly abode for a long time. ﴿ “And when you seize, seize you as tyrants? So fear Allah, keep your duty to Him, and obey me. And keep your duty to Him, fear Him Who has aided you with all (good things) that you know. He has aided you with cattle and children and gardens and springs. Verily, I fear for you the punishment of a Great Day.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:130-135).

Among the things they said to him was, ﴿ “Have you come to us that we should worship Allah Alone and forsake that which our fathers used to worship. So bring us that wherewith you have threatened us if you are of the truthful.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:70) That is, have you come to us (to ask us) to worship Allah, Alone, and to oppose our fathers and our forefathers and that which they followed? If you are truthful regarding what you have brought, then bring us the punishment that you promise, because we do not believe in you, we will not follow you and we do not believe you. As they said, ﴿ “It is the same to us whether you preach or be not of those who preach. This is no more than the false tales and religion of the ancients, and we are not going to be punished.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:136-138) The word in Verse 137 has been recited as khalq and khuluq. According to the former recitation, the meaning would be: What you have brought to us is no more than fabrication from you; and you have taken it from the books of the ancients. This was how it was explained by more than one of the Companions ﴿﴾ and the Tabi‘oon. And according to the second recitation, the meaning would be: This religion which we are following is no more than the religion of our fathers and our grandfathers and we will not change and we will continue to hold fast to it.

Both recitations are suited to their words, ﴿ “and we are not going to be punished.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:138)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ (Hood) said, “Punishment and Wrath have already fallen on you from your Lord. Dispute you with me over names which you have named - you and your fathers, with no authority from Allah? Then wait, I am with you among those who wait.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:71) That is, you have deserved because of these words ignominy and Anger from Allah; do you reject worship of Allah, Alone, without partners, in favor of the worship of idols, which you have carved out and called “gods” of your own accord and agreed upon – you and your forefathers – and Allah has revealed no authority for them? That is, He has sent down no evidence for your beliefs. If you refuse to accept the truth and insist on falsehood, it is all the same to you whether I forbid you to follow what you are following or not. So wait now for the Punishment of Allah which will befall you and that Punishment cannot be rescinded or prevented.

Allah, Most High, mentioned the story of their destruction in detail and in brief, as we said earlier, such as in His Words, ﴿ So We saved him and those who were with him by a Mercy from Us, and We cut the roots of those who belied Our Ayat and they were not believers. ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:72)

His Words, ﴿ And when Our Commandment came, We saved Hood and those who believed with him by a Mercy from Us, and We saved them from a severe punishment. Such were ‘Ad (people). They rejected the Ayat of their Lord and disobeyed

His Messengers, and followed the command of every proud obstinate (oppressor of the truth, from their leaders). And they were pursued by a curse in this world and (so they will be) on the Day of Resurrection. No doubt! Verily, 'Ad disbelieved in their Lord. So away with 'Ad, the people of Hood. ﴿﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:58-60)

His Words, ﴿ So As-Saihah (punishment - awful cry, etc.) overtook them with justice, and We made them as rubbish of dead plants. They said: The people of Salih were destroyed with awful cry ﴾ (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:41)

As for the details of their destruction, when Allah said, ﴿ Then, when they saw it as a dense cloud coming towards their valleys, they said, "This is a cloud bringing us rain!" Nay, but it is that (punishment) which you were asking to be hastened! A wind wherein is a painful punishment! ﴾ (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:24) – this was the beginning of the punishment which came to them, for they were suffering from a drought and so they requested rain (from their idols). They saw a cloud in the sky and thought that it was a rain of mercy (for them), but it was a deluge of punishment. This is why He, Most High, says, ﴿ Nay, but it is that (punishment) which you were asking to be hastened! A wind wherein is a painful punishment! ﴾ (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:24) That is, from the infliction of the Punishment and that is their saying, ﴿ "So bring us that wherewith you have threatened us if you are of the truthful." ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:70) And there are other similar Verses in Soorah Al-A'raf.

He (Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar) said, "And Allah sent the black cloud which Qail Ibn 'Itr chose (according to the hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad, on the authority of Al-Harith Al-Bakri), with the punishment it contained to 'Ad until it reached them at a valley known as Al-Mugheeth. When they saw it, they regarded it as a good sign and they said, “This is a cloud which will bring rain to us. But Allah said, ﴿ Nay, but it is that (punishment) which you were asking to be hastened! A wind wherein is a painful punishment! Destroying everything by the Command of its Lord! So they became such that nothing could be seen except their dwellings! Thus do We recompense the people who are Mujrimoon (polytheists, disbelievers, sinners, etc.)! ﴾ (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:24,25) That is, it destroys everything that it is commanded to destroy.

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, “The first person who saw it and realized that it was a wind was a woman from ‘Ad, whose name was Mahd. When it became clear what was in it, she screamed and then fainted. When she regained consciousness, the people asked her, “What did you see, Mahd?” She said, “I saw a wind in it, like burning flames and in front of it were men, leading it. Allah imposed it on them ﴿ for seven nights and eight days in succession ﴾ (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:7). It did not leave a single person from ‘Ad alive.” He (Ibn Ishaq) said, “Hood ﷺ and those who believed in him were in an enclosed area. Nothing hit them or those with them except that which was gentle to the skin and pleasing to the soul. The wind passed over ‘Ad, destroying all that was between the heaven and the earth and marking them with stones.” Then he reported the rest of the story.

Imam Ahmad narrated a hadeeth in his Musnad on the authority of Al-Harith (i.e. Ibn Hassan, or it was said, Ibn Yazeed Al-Bakri) which resembles this story; he said, “I set out to complain to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about Al-‘Ala’ Ibn Al-Hadrami and I passed by Ar-Rabazah, where I saw an old woman from Banu Tameem, who was alone in that area. She said to me, ‘O, slave of Allah! I need to reach the Messenger of Allah to ask him for some of my needs, will you take me to him?' So I took her along with me to Al-Madinah and found the Mosque full of people. I also found a black flag raised high, while Bilal was holding a sword before the Messenger of Allah. I asked, 'What is the matter with the people?' They said, 'The Prophet ﷺ intends to send 'Amr Ibn Al-'As (on a military expedition) somewhere.' So I sat down. When the Prophet ﷺ went to his house, I asked for permission to see him, and he gave me permission. I entered and greeted him. He said, 'Was there a dispute between you and Banu Tameem?' I said, 'Yes. And we had been victorious over them. I passed by an old woman from Banu Tameem, who was alone, and she asked me to bring her to you, and she is at the door.' So he allowed her in and I said, 'O Messenger of Allah! What if you make a barrier between us and (the tribe of) Banu Tameem, such as the desert?' The old woman became angry and opposed me. So I said, 'My example is the example of a sheep that carried its own destruction. I carried this woman and did not know that she was an opponent. I seek refuge with Allah and His Messenger that I become like the emissary of 'Ad.' So the Prophet ﷺ asked me about the emissary of 'Ad, having better knowledge in it, but he liked to hear the story again. I said, 'Once, 'Ad suffered from a famine and they sent an emissary (to get relief), whose name was Qail. Qail passed by Mu'awiyah Ibn Bakr and stayed with him for a month. Mu'awiyah supplied him with alcoholic drinks, and two female singers were singing for him. When the month ended, Qail went to the mountains of Tihamah and said, 'O, Allah! You know that I did not come here to cure an ill person or to ransom a prisoner. O, Allah! Give 'Ad water as You used to.' So black clouds came and he was called, 'Choose which one of them you wish (to go to 'Ad)!'. So he pointed to one of the black clouds and he heard someone proclaiming from it,

‘Take it, as ashes that will leave none in ‘Ad!’ And it has been conveyed to me that the wind sent to them was no more than what would pass through this ring of mine, but it destroyed them’.” Abu Wa’il said, “That is true. When a man or a woman would send an emissary, they would tell him, ‘Do not be like the emissary of ‘Ad (bringing disaster and utter destruction to them instead of relief).’”<sup>(1)</sup> At-Tirmidhi recorded it thus on the authority of ‘Abd Ibn Humaid, who narrated it on the authority of Zaid Ibn Al-Hubab.<sup>(2)</sup>

‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood, ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (may Allah be pleased with them both) and more than one Imam from among the Tabi‘oon said that it was a cold wind, which blew severely. ﴿ Which Allah imposed on them for seven nights and eight days in succession. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:7) That is, complete and successive days. It was said that the first of them was a Friday and it was also said that it was a Wednesday. ﴿ So that you could see men lying overthrown (destroyed), as if they were hollow trunks of date-palms! ﴾ (Soorah Al-Haqqah 69:7) Allah compared them with hollowed out trunks of date-palms, which have no heads and this was because the wind would come to one of them and pick him up and raise him into the air, then it would invert him and drop him on the top of his head and shatter it and he would remain like a body without a head, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, We sent against them a furious wind of harsh voice on a day of evil omen and continuous calamity. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:19) That is, on a day of evil omen for you and continuous punishment inflicted upon you. ﴿ Plucking out men as if they were uprooted stems of date-palms. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:20) Whoever says that the day of evil omen and continuous calamity was a Wednesday

(1) This hadeeth is hasan and it was narrated by Imam Ahmad (15524).

(2) This hadeeth is hasan and it was narrated by At-Tirmidhi (3273).

and based on this understanding, consider it to be a day of evil omen, is in error and contradicted the Qur'an, because He, Most High says in another Verse, « So We sent upon them furious wind in days of evil omen. » (Soorah Fussilat 41:16) It is well known that they were eight consecutive days; and if they were themselves evil omens, then all of the seven days of the week included in them would be days of evil omen – and no one says this. What is meant is that they were days of evil omen for them.

He, Most High, says, « And in 'Ad (there is also a sign) when We sent against them the barren wind. » (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:41) That is, which did not produce any good, because the wind alone does not scatter clouds or pollinate trees. Rather, it is barren and no good results from it, which is why Allah says, « It spared nothing that it reached, but blew it into broken spreads of rotten ruins. » (Soorah Ad-Dhariyat 51:42) That is, like a thing that is decayed and very old and from which no benefit whatsoever may be derived.

It has been confirmed in the Saheehain on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that he reported from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, "I have been made victorious with the Saba (easterly wind), and the people of 'Ad were destroyed with the Daboor (westerly wind)." <sup>(1)</sup>

As for the Words of Him, Most High: « And remember the brother of 'Ad, when he warned his people in Al-Ahqaf (the curved sand-hills in the southern part of the Arabian Peninsula). And surely, there have passed away warners before him and after him (saying): "Worship none but Allah; truly, I fear for you the punishment of a mighty Day." » (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:21) So it is apparent that the 'Ad referred to here is the first

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (1035) and Muslim (900).

‘Ad, because the context of the Verse is similar to the context of (the story of) the people of Hood ﷻ and they were the first. It is also possible that the people mentioned in this story were the second ‘Ad; and the evidence for this is in what we have mentioned and what we shall mention later in the hadeeth of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her).

As for the Words of Him, Most High: « Then, when they saw it as a dense cloud coming toward their valleys, they said, “This is a cloud bringing us rain.” » (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:24), when ‘Ad saw the cloud which was looming up in the sky, like a rain cloud, they thought that it was bringing them rain, but it was a cloud of punishment which they mistook for a cloud of mercy. They hoped that they would get something good from it, but they received the utmost evil from it. Allah, Most High, says, « Nay, but it is that which you were asking to be hastened! » (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:24). That is, the punishment; then He explained it in His Words: « a wind wherein is a painful punishment. » (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:24)

It is possible that the punishment which afflicted them from the furious and violent wind, which continued to afflict them for seven nights and eight days leaving not a single one of them, followed them even as they sought shelter in mountain caves and caverns, winding around them, expelling them, annihilating them and destroying their sturdily constructed houses and palaces over them. Just as they had been blessed with strength and power and said, “Who is greater in strength than we?” – Allah inflicted on them that which was greater in strength and more powerful than they – and that was the barren wind. It is possible that at the end, this wind raised up a cloud, which those who remained, thought was a cloud bearing mercy and abundant rain for them. But Allah sent it against them filled with sparks and fire, as more than one person has mentioned. This would be similar to that which afflicted the Companions of the Canopy from among the people of Madyan. A combination of a cold wind and a punishment of fire was inflicted on them – and that is the most severe punishment, consisting of different and opposing elements, accompanied by the cry which was mentioned in Soorah Qad Aflaha (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon). And Allah knows better. The apparent meaning of the Verse is that they saw an 'aridh and what is understood from it linguistically is a cloud. Muslim narrated in his Saheeh on the authority of 'A'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) that she said: Whenever the wind was stormy, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O, Allah! I ask You for what is good in it, the good which it contains and the good of that which it was sent for. I seek refuge with You from what is evil in it, what evil it contains, and the evil of that which it was sent for." And when there was thunder and lightning in the sky, his color underwent a change, and he would pace in and out, backward and forward; and when the rain came, he felt relieved, and I would notice the (sign of relief) on his face. 'A'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) asked him (about it) and he said, "It may be as the people of 'Ad said, when they saw a cloud formation coming to their valley, ﴿ "This is a cloud bringing us rain." ﴾ (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:24) <sup>(1)</sup>

The Story of Saleh عليه السلام, the Prophet of Thamood

They were a well-known tribe, who were named Thamood after their ancestor, Thamood, the brother of Jadees; they were both sons of 'Abir, son of Iram, son of Sam, son of Nooh. They were Arabs from Al-'Aribah and they lived in Al-Hijr, which lies between Al-Hijaz and Tabook. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by it <sup>(1)</sup> when he was going to Tabook with some of the Muslims, as we shall explain later. They came after the people of 'Ad and like them, they used to worship idols. So Allah sent to them a man from among them who was Allah's slave and Messenger: Saleh, son of 'Ubaid, son of Masikh, son of 'Ubaid, son of Hajir, son of Thamood, son of 'Abir, son of Iram, son of Sam, son of Nooh. He called upon them to worship Allah, Alone, without partners and to renounce their idols and rivals (to Allah); he called upon them not to ascribe any partners to Him. A group of them believed in him, but the majority of them disbelieved in him and attacked him, both physically and verbally and they tried to kill him. They killed the camel which Allah had made as a proof against them, Allah seized them with the Seizing of the Almighty, as He, Most High says in Soorah Al-A'raf, (And to Thamood (people, We sent) their brother Salih. He said, "O, my people! Worship Allah! You have no other ilah (god) but Him. (La ilaha Illallah: none has the right to be worshipped but Allah). Indeed there has come to you a clear sign (the miracle of the coming out of a huge she-camel from the midst of a rock) from your Lord. This she-camel of Allah is a sign unto you; so you leave her to graze in Allah's earth, and touch her not with harm, lest a painful punishment should seize you. And remember when He made you successors after 'Ad (people) and gave you habitations in the land, you build for yourselves palaces in plains, and carve out homes in the mountains. So remember the graces (bestowed upon you) from Allah, and do not go about making mischief on the earth." The leaders of those who were arrogant among his people said to those who were counted weak - to such of them as believed, "Know you that Salih is one sent from his Lord?" They said, "We indeed believe in that with which he has been sent." Those who were arrogant said, "Verily, we disbelieve in that which you believe in." So they killed the she-camel and insolently defied the Commandment of their Lord and said, "O, Salih! Bring about your threats if you are indeed one of the Messengers (of Allah)." So the earthquake seized them and they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes. Then he (Salih) turned from them and said, "O, my people!

I have indeed conveyed to you the Message of my Lord, and have given you good advice but you like not good advisers.” ﴿ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:73-74). He, Most High, says in Soorah Hood, ﴿ And to Thamood (people, We sent) their brother Salih. He said, “O, my people! Worship Allah, you have no other ilah (god) but Him. He brought you forth from the earth and settled you therein, then ask forgiveness of Him and turn to Him in repentance. Certainly, my Lord is Near (to all by His Knowledge), Responsive.” They said, “O, Salih! You have been among us as a figure of good hope (and we wished for you to be our chief), till this (new thing which you have brought; that we leave our gods and worship your God [Allah] Alone)! Do you (now) forbid us from the worship of what our fathers have worshipped? But we are really in grave doubt as to that which you invite us to (monotheism).” He said, “O, my people! Tell me, if I have a clear proof from my Lord, and there has come to me a Mercy (Prophethood, etc.) from Him, who then can help me against Allah, if I were to disobey Him? Then you increase me not but in loss. And O, my people! This she-camel of Allah is a sign to you, leave her to feed on Allah’s earth, and touch her not with evil intention, lest a near torment will seize you.” But they killed her. So he said, “Enjoy yourselves in your homes for three days. This is a promise (i.e. a threat) that will not be belied.” So when Our Commandment came, We saved Salih and those who believed with him by a Mercy from Us, and from the disgrace of that Day. Verily, your Lord, He is the Strong, the Almighty. And As-Saihah (torment - awful cry, etc.) overtook the wrongdoers, so they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes, as if they had never lived there. No doubt! Verily, Thamood disbelieved in their Lord. So away with Thamood! ﴿ (Soorah Hood 11:61-68)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Ash-Shu'ara', ﴿ Thamood

(people) belied the Messenger. When their brother Salih said to them: "Will you not fear Allah and obey Him? I am a trustworthy Messenger to you. So fear Allah, keep your duty to Him, and obey me. No reward do I ask of you for it (my Message of Islamic Monotheism), my reward is only from the Lord of the 'Alameen. Will you be left secure in that which you have here? In gardens and springs and green crops (fields, etc.) and date-palms with soft spadix. And you carve houses out of mountains with great skill. So fear Allah, keep your duty to Him, and obey me. And follow not the command of al-musrifoon (i.e. their chiefs, leaders who were polytheists, criminals and sinners), who make mischief in the land, and reform not." They said, "You are only of those bewitched! You are but a human being like us. Then bring us a sign if you are of the truthful." He said, "Here is a she-camel; it has a right to drink (water), and you have a right to drink (water) (each) on a day, known. And touch her not with harm, lest the punishment of a Great Day seize you." But they killed her and then they became regretful. So the punishment overtook them. Verily, in this is indeed a sign, yet most of them are not believers. And verily! Your Lord, He is indeed the Almighty, the Most Merciful. ﴿ Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:141-159)

Allah frequently links in His Book the mention of 'Ad with that of Thamood, as in Soorah Bara'ah (Soorah At-Tawbah), Soorah Ibraheem, Soorah Al-Furqan, Soorah Sad, Soorah Qaf, Soorah An-Najm and Soorah Al-Fajr. It is said that the story of these two nations is not known to the People of the Scripture and that they were not mentioned in their Scripture, the Torah. But in the Qur'an there is evidence that Moosa ؑ informed his people about them, as Allah says in Soorah Ibraheem, ﴿ And Moosa (Moses) said, "If you disbelieve, you and all on earth together, then verily, Allah is Rich (Free of all wants), Owner of all Praise. Has not the news reached you, of those before you, the people of Nooh, and ‘Ad and Thamood? And those after them? None knows them but Allah. To them came their Messengers with clear proofs, but they put their hands in their mouths (biting them from anger) and said, Verily, we disbelieve in that with which you have been sent, and we are really in grave doubt as to that to which you invite us (i.e. Islamic Monotheism).” ﴿ Soorah Ibraheem 14:8,9). It is apparent that these words are entirely those of Moosa ؑ, which he addressed to his people. But because these two nations were from among the Arabs, their stories were not well documented and no attempt was made to record them, although they were well-known during the time of Moosa ؑ. We have spoken in detail concerning all of this in the Tafseer; all praise and thanks be to Allah, from Whom proceeds all Grace.

What is intended now is to mention their story and their circumstances and how Allah saved His Prophet, Saleh ؑ, and those who believed in him, and how He eradicated those who were guilty of injustice because of their disbelief, their arrogance and the opposition they displayed to their Messenger, Saleh ؑ. We have already mentioned that they were Arabs and that they came after the people of ‘Ad, but they did not pay heed to what had befallen them. This is why Saleh ؑ said to them, ﴿ And to Thamood (people, We sent) their brother Salih. He said, “O, my people! Worship Allah! You have no other ilah (god) but Him. (La ilaha Illallah: none has the right to be worshipped but Allah). Indeed there has come to you a clear sign (the miracle of the coming out of a huge she-camel from the midst of a rock) from your Lord. This she-camel of Allah is a sign unto you; so you leave her to graze in Allah’s earth, and touch her not with harm, lest a painful punishment should seize you. And remember when He made you successors after 'Ad (people) and gave you habitations in the land, you build for yourselves palaces in plains, and carve out homes in the mountains. So remember the graces (bestowed upon you) from Allah, and do not go about making mischief on the Earth.” ﴿ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:73,74) That is, He has only made you successors after them in order that you might pay heed to their fate and act in a manner contrary to their actions. He has permitted to you these lands, allowing you to build palaces in their plains. ﴿ “And you carve houses out of mountains with great skill.” ﴿ (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:149) That is, you are proficient in building them, perfecting them and precisely executing (the building of) them, so respond to Allah's Blessing with gratitude, righteous deeds and worship Him, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him. Beware of opposing Him and refraining from His obedience, because the punishment for that is an evil one. This is why he warned them, saying, ﴿ “Will you be left secure in that which you have here, in gardens and springs and green crops (fields etc.) and date-palms with soft spadix?” ﴿ (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:146-148) That is, your provisions are numerous, luxurious and ripe. ﴿ “And you carve houses out of mountains with great skill. So fear Allah, keep your duty to Him, and obey me. And follow not the command of al-musrifeen (i.e. their chiefs, leaders who were polytheists, criminals and sinners), who make mischief in the land, and reform not.” ﴿ (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:149-152). He also said to them, ﴿ “O, my people! Worship Allah, you have no other ilah (god) but Him. He brought you forth from the earth and settled you therein.” ﴿ (Soorah Hood 11:61) That is, it is He Who created you and brought you forth from the earth and made you to populate it (i.e. He gave it to you, with all that it contains, such as crops and fruits), for He is the Creator and the Sustainer and it is He, Alone, without partners,

Who has the right to be worshipped. ﴿ “Then ask forgiveness of Him and turn to Him in repentance.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:61) That is, desist from what you now follow, and engage in worship of Allah, Alone, because He will accept it from you and pardon you for your sins. ﴿ And to Thamood (people, We sent) their brother Salih. He said, “Oh, my people! Worship Allah, you have no other ilah (god) but Him. He brought you forth from the earth and settled you therein, then ask forgiveness of Him and turn to Him in repentance. Certainly, my Lord is Near (to all by His Knowledge), Responsive.” They said, “O, Salih! You have been among us as a figure of good hope (and we wished for you to be our chief), till this (new thing which you have brought; that we leave our gods and worship your God [Allah] Alone!” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:61,62) That is, we had hoped that your mind was unimpaired before you said these words, that is your invitation to us to worship Allah, Alone, without partners and to abandon the rivals that we used to worship and desist from following the religion of our fathers and our grandfathers. This is why they said, ﴿ “Do you (now) forbid us from the worship of what our fathers have worshipped? But we are really in grave doubt as to that which you invite us to (Monotheism).” He said, ‘O, my people! Tell me, if I have a clear proof from my Lord, and there has come to me a Mercy (Prophethood, etc.) from Him, who then can help me against Allah, if I were to disobey Him? Then you increase me not but in loss.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:62,63)

This was kindness and gentleness from him to them in his mode of expression and a beautiful manner of inviting them to goodness. That is, what do you think, if the matter is as I tell you and I invite you to it, what will be your excuse to Allah? What will save you when you stand before Him, when you ask me to refrain from inviting you to obey Allah? I am unable to do this, because it is an obligation upon me and if I abandon it, then no one from among you or from any other people can protect me from Him or help me. So I will continue to call you to Allah, Alone, with partners, until Allah judges between me and you.

They also said to him, ﴿ “You are only of the musahharoon!” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:153) That is, you are bewitched and you do not know what you are saying in your invitation to us to worship Allah, Alone, and to abandon the worship of rivals to Him. The majority of scholars are agreed upon this understanding, i.e. that ‘musahharoon’ means bewitched. But it was also said that ﴿ “of the musahharoon” ﴾ means those who have lungs. So it is as if they were saying, “You are only a human being, possessing lungs.” But the first explanation is more apparent, because they said after that, ﴿ “You are but a human being like us.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:154) and they said, ﴿ “Then bring us a sign if you are of the truthful.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:154) They asked him to produce some miracle which would prove the truth of what he brought to them. ﴿ He said, “Here is a she-camel; it has a right to drink (water), and you have a right to drink (water) (each) on a day, known. And touch her not with harm, lest the punishment of a Great Day seize you.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:155,156)

Scholars of tafseer have reported that Thamood gathered one day in their meeting place and Saleh ﷺ came to them and invited them to Allah and he reminded them, warned them, admonished them and commanded them, but they said to him, “If you bring forth for us from this rock,” and they indicated a rock there, “a she-camel of such-and-such a description...” and they described and named, and became stubborn regarding it, insisting that it be in the tenth month of pregnancy, that it be tall and possessed of this attribute and that attribute. Prophet Saleh ﷺ said to them, “If I do as you ask, in the manner you have requested, will you have faith in what I have brought and believe in that with which I have been sent?” They said, “Yes.” So he took their covenant and their agreement on that. Then he went to a place of prayer and prayed to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful as much as Allah had ordained for him, then he invoked his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, asking Him to give what they had asked for. So Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful commanded that rock to split open and produce a huge camel, with a great hump, which was in the tenth month of pregnancy, as they had requested, or in accordance with the description they had given. When they saw with their own eyes a great thing, an amazing sight, (Allah’s) overwhelming Ability (to do all things) and an irrefutable proof, a large number of them believed, but most of them continued in their disbelief, error and obstinacy. This is why Allah says, ﴿ but they did wrong by them (i.e. Allah’s Signs) ﴾ (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:103) That is, they (i.e. most of them) rejected them and did not follow the truth in spite of them.

This is why Saleh ﷺ said to them, ﴿ “This she-camel of Allah is a Sign unto you.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:73) He attributed it to Allah, as a term of honor and veneration, as in the expressions “the House of Allah” and “the slave of Allah”. ﴿ “A sign for you (Jews).” ﴾ (Soorah Ali ‘Imran 3:13) That is, evidence of the truth of what I have brought to you. ﴿ “leave her to feed on Allah’s earth, and touch her not with evil, lest a near punishment will seize you.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:64) They agreed to let the she-camel remain among them, grazing wherever it wished from their land and drinking the water at fixed times. When it drank the water, it would consume the water of the well that day and they knew their need for water from one day to the next. It was said that they used to drink its milk and that it was sufficient for all of them, which is why he said, “It has a right to drink (water), and you have a right to drink (water) (each) on a day, known.” (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:155) This is why Allah, Most High, said (to Saleh ﷺ), “Verily, We are sending the she-camel as a test for them.” (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:27) That is as a test to see whether they will believe or disbelieve. And Allah knew better what they would do. “So watch them (Salih)” (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:27) That is, see what they will do “and be patient.” (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:27) That is, in the face of the harm they inflict, because news will come to you for sure. “And inform them that the water is to be shared between (her and) them. Each one's right to drink being established (by turns)” (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:28) But when this state of affairs had lasted for a long time, their elders gathered and agreed that they would kill this she-camel in order to be free of it and have their water all to themselves, and Satan made their deeds seem fair to them. Allah says, “So they killed the she-camel and insolently defied the Commandment of their Lord, and said, ‘O, Salih ! Bring about your threats if you are indeed one of the Messengers (of Allah).’” (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:77)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Zam'ah ؓ that he said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ delivered a sermon and he mentioned the she-camel and he named the person who killed it; he said, “When the most wicked man among them went forth (to kill the she-camel)” (Soorah Ash-Shams 91:12): A violent, strong and imposing man, who was a leader among his people, went forth to (kill) the she-camel.”<sup>(1)</sup> Al-Bukhari and Muslim narrated it from the hadeeth of Hisham.<sup>(2)</sup>

(1) An authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (15790).

(2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (4942) and Muslim (2855).

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So they killed the she-camel and insolently defied the Commandment of their Lord, and said, "O, Salih! Bring about your threats if you are indeed one of the Messengers (of Allah).” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:77) In these words of theirs they combined extreme disbelief in a number of ways: One being that they disobeyed Allah and His Messenger ﷺ by doing what they had been firmly forbidden to do, which was to kill the she-camel which Allah had made a Sign for them. Another was that they were impatient for the imposition of Allah's Punishment upon them and they deserved it for two reasons: One of them is that it was ordained upon them in His Words, ﴿ "And touch her not with evil, lest a near punishment will seize you.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:64)

In one verse Allah says, ﴿ great ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:156) and in another Verse, He says, ﴿ painful ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:73) and both of them are true. The second is their impatience for it. Another was that they belied the Messenger ﷺ who had produced the irrefutable evidence of his Prophethood and his truthfulness and they knew this with certainty. But their disbelief, their error and their willfulness caused them to disbelieve in the truth and the infliction of the punishment on them.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ But they killed her. So he said: "Enjoy yourselves in your homes for three days. This is a promise (i.e. a threat) that will not be belied.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:65) It was said tha. when they went to kill the she-camel, the first person to attack her was Qudar Ibn Salif – may Allah curse him – and he hamstrung her and she fell to the ground. Then they rushed upon her with their swords and cut her up. When its calf saw this, it fled from them and climbed the highest mountain there and it let out three cries. This is why Saleh ﷺ said to them, ﴿ Enjoy yourselves in your homes for three days. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:65) That is, three days, not including that day. But they also did not believe this certain promise of his. Instead, in the evening of that day, they planned to kill him and so they went out to him, in order to kill him, like the she-camel. ﴿ They said, “Swear one to another by Allah that we shall make a secret night attack on him and his household.” ﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:49) That is, we shall attack him in his home, along with his family and we shall surely kill him, then we shall deny any knowledge of his killing, if we are asked about it by his kin. This is why they said, ﴿ “and afterward we will surely say to his near relatives: ‘We witnessed not the destruction of his household, and verily! We are telling the truth.’” ﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:49)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So they plotted a plot, and We planned a plan, while they perceived not. Then see how was the end of their plot! Verily, We destroyed them and their nation, all together. These are their houses in utter ruin, for they did wrong. Verily, in this is indeed an Ayah (a lesson or a sign) for people who know. And We saved those who believed, and used to fear Allah, and keep their duty to Him ﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:50-53) This was because Allah, Most High, sent a rock against those people who had tried to kill Saleh ﷺ which crushed them and killed them in advance of the rest of their people.

﴿ And they lay prostrate in their homes ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:78) That is, motionless corpses, without souls.

And Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ As if they had never dwelt there. ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:92) That is, as if they had never lived in their homes in comfort, with sustenance and wealth.

﴿ No doubt! Verily, Thamood disbelieved in their Lord. So away with Thamood! ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:68) That is, the voice of Al-Qadar called to them.

Imam Ahmad said: ‘Abdur-Razzaq told me: Ma‘mar told me: ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Uthman Ibn Khuthaim reported on the authority of Abuz-Zubair, who reported on the authority of Jabir that he said: When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by Al-Hijr, he said, “Do not ask for signs, because the people of Saleh asked for them and it (i.e. the camel) used to arrive by this path and return by this path, but they defied the command of their Lord and killed it. It used to drink their water on one day and they would drink its milk on that day (and they would drink the water on the following day). But they killed it and the Cry took them and Allah destroyed all of them except for one man who was in Allah’s Sanctuary.” They said, “Who was he, Messenger of Allah?” He said, “He was Abu Righal; and when he went out from the Sanctuary, that which had befallen his people also befell him.” This hadeeth conforms to the criteria for acceptance stipulated by Muslim, but it is not in any of the Six Books. And ‘Abdur-Razzaq also said: Ma‘mar said: Isma‘eel Ibn Umayyah ؓ informed me that the Prophet ﷺ passed by the grave of Abu Righal and he said, “Do you know who this is?” They replied, “Allah and His Messenger know better.” He said, “This is the grave of Abu Righal, a man from Thamood. He was in Allah’s Sanctuary and the Sanctuary protected him from Allah’s Punishment. But when he left it, that which had befallen his people also befell him and he was buried here. A branch of gold was also buried with him.” So the people used their swords and looked for the golden branch and found it.

‘Abdur-Razzaq said: Ma‘mar said: Az-Zuhri said: ‘Abu

Righal was the father of (the tribe of) Thaqeef. But this narration is mursal from this source. It has been reported from another source in a muttasil (connected) form, as mentioned by Muhammad Ibn Ishaq in his Seerah.

﴿ Then he (Salih) turned from them and said: “O, my people! I have indeed conveyed to you the Message of my Lord, and have given you good advice but you like not good advisers.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:79) This informs us that Salih ﷺ addressed his people after the destruction had befallen them and he had taken his departure from their place and was heading elsewhere; and he said to them, ﴿ “O, my people! I have indeed conveyed to you the Message of my Lord, and have given you good advice .” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:79) That is, I strove to the utmost of my ability to guide you and I endeavored to do so by my words, my actions and my (sincere) intention: ﴿ “but you like not good advisers.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:79) That is, your nature could not accept the truth and did not desire it. And this is why you reached the situation you are now in: a painful and continuous punishment which will afflict you forever. I have no ability to repel it from you. What was incumbent upon me was to convey the Message and that I have done, exerting myself to the utmost to that end. But Allah does as He wills.

The Prophet’s Passage Through Wadi Al-Hijr in the Land of Thamood in the Year of the Battle of Tabook

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar ؓ that he said: When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ camped with the people on the road to Tabook, he camped with them at Al-Hijr, which was near to the houses of Thamood and the people sought water from the wells from which Thamood used to drink and they made dough from them and prepared their cooking pots to cook meat. But the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered them to pour out the contents of the cooking pots and give the dough to the camels. Then he moved on with them and he camped with them near the well from which the she-camel used to drink and he forbade them from entering the houses of the people who had been punished, saying, "I fear that you might be afflicted by what afflicted them, so do not enter their dwellings." (1)

Imam Ahmad also narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar ؓ that he said: When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was at Al-Hijr, he said, "Do not enter the dwellings of those people who were punished, unless you are weeping; and if you are not weeping, then do not enter their dwellings, so that you will not be afflicted by a punishment similar to that which afflicted them." (2) Al-Bukhari and Muslim narrated it in the Saheehain from more than one source. (3)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Amr Ibn Sa'd ؓ that he said: At the time of the Battle of Tabook, the people hastened to enter the houses of the people of Al-Hijr; the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was informed of this and he called to the people, "Pray in congregation." 'Amr ؓ said: So I went to the Prophet ﷺ and found him holding onto his camel and he was saying, "Do not enter the dwellings of a people upon whom Allah's Wrath was visited." A man called out to him, "We are amazed at them, Messenger of Allah!" He said, "Shall I not inform you of something more amazing than that? A man from among you informs you about what occurred before you and what will be after you, so be straight and stand shoulder-to-shoulder, because Allah does not care about your punishment and a people will come who will not protect themselves from anything.” The isnad of this hadeeth is hasan,<sup>(1)</sup> but they (the compilers of the Authentic Six<sup>(2)</sup>) did not narrate it.

The Story of Ibraheem ﷺ

He is Ibraheem, son of Tarikh, son of Nahoor, son of Saroog, son of Raghu, son of Falagh, son of 'Abir, son of Shalakh, son of Kan'an, son of Arfakhshad, son of Sam, son of Nooh ﷺ. This is the text of the People of the Scripture in their Scripture. I have marked their ages under their names in Indian numerals from Al-Mudad <sup>(1)</sup> and we have already spoken of Nooh's age and so there is no need to repeat it here. It was Al-Khaleel ﷺ who was saved by Allah from the evils and misguidance (of his people), for Allah gave him his integrity and right-conduct in his early years and sent him as a Messenger and He took him as a Khaleel (Friend) during his adult years. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And indeed We bestowed aforetime on Ibraheem (Ibraheem) his (portion of) guidance, and We were Well-Acquainted with him (as to his Belief in the Oneness of Allah, etc.) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:51) That is, he was well qualified for that.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) Ibraheem when he said to his people, "Worship Allah (Alone), and fear Him, that is better for you if you did but know. You worship besides Allah only idols, and you only invent falsehood. Verily, those whom you worship besides Allah have no power to give you provision, so seek your provision from Allah (Alone), and worship Him (Alone), and be grateful to Him. To Him (Alone) you will be brought back. And if you deny, then nations before you have denied (their Messengers). And the duty of the Messenger is only to convey (the Message) plainly. See they not how Allah originates creation, then repeats it. Verily, that is easy for Allah. Say, "Travel in the land and see how (Allah) originated creation, and then Allah will bring forth (resurrect) the creation of the Hereafter (i.e. resurrection after death). Verily, Allah is Able to do all things." He punishes whom He wills, and shows mercy to whom He wills, and to Him you will be returned. And you cannot escape in the earth or in the heaven. And besides Allah you have neither any waliyy (protector or guardian) nor any helper. And those who disbelieve in the Ayat of Allah and the Meeting with Him, it is they who have no hope of My Mercy, and it is they who will (have) a painful torment. So nothing was the answer of (Ibraheem's) people except that they said, "Kill him or burn him." Then Allah saved him from the fire. Verily, in this are indeed signs for a people who believe. And (Ibraheem) said, "You have taken (for worship) idols instead of Allah, and the love between you is only in the life of this world, but on the Day of Resurrection, you shall disown each other and curse each other and your abode will be the Fire; and you shall have no helper." So Loot (Lot) believed in him (Ibraheem's Message of Islamic Monotheism). He (Ibraheem) said, "I will emigrate for the sake of my Lord. Verily, He is the Almighty, the Most Wise." And We bestowed on him (Ibraheem) Ishaq (Isaac) and Ya'qoob (Jacob), and ordained among his offspring Prophethood and the Book (i.e. the Tawrah [Torah] to Moosa – Moses), the Injeel [Gospel] to ‘Eesa [Jesus], the Qur’an [to Muhammad ﷺ], all from the offspring of Ibraheem, and We granted him his reward in this world, and verily, in the Hereafter he is indeed among the righteous. ﴿ (Soorah Al-Ankaboot 29:16-27)

Then Allah, Most High mentioned his disputes with his father and his people as we shall mention, if Allah, Most High, wills. The first person he called to Allah was his father, who was one of those who worshipped idols, because he was the person with most right to his advice, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And mention in the Book (the Qur’an) Ibraheem. Verily! He was a man of truth, a Prophet. When he said to his father, “O, my father! Why do you worship that which hears not, sees not and cannot avail you in anything? O, my father! Verily! There has come to me of knowledge that which came not unto you. So follow me. I will guide you to a Straight Path. O, my father! Worship not Shaitan (Satan). Verily! Shaitan has been a rebel against the Most Beneficent (Allah). O, my father! Verily! I fear lest a torment from the Most Beneficent (Allah) overtake you, so that you become a companion of Shaitan (in the Hellfire). (Tafseer Al-Qurtubi) He (his father) said, “Do you reject my gods, o, Ibraheem? If you stop not (this), I will indeed stone you. So get away from me safely before I punish you.” Ibraheem said, “Peace be on you! I will ask Forgiveness of my Lord for you. Verily! He is unto me Ever Most Gracious. And I shall turn away from you and from those whom you invoke besides Allah. And I shall call on my Lord; and I hope that I shall not be unblessed in my invocation to my Lord.” ﴿ (Soorah Maryam 19:41-48)

Allah, Most High, mentions the dispute and the argument between him and his father and describes how he invited his father to the truth using the kindest and most courteous expressions and the best advice; he explained to him the invalidity of worshipping idols and the sin that he was incurring by worshipping graven images, which cannot hear the supplications of those who worship them and cannot see where they are. So how can they avail them anything or do any good for them, such as sustaining them or helping them?

Then, alluding to the guidance and beneficial knowledge that Allah had given him, though he was younger than his father, he said, ﴿ “O, my father! Verily! There has come to me of knowledge that which came not unto you. So follow me. I will guide you to a Straight Path.” ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:43) That is, a straight, clear, easy and true path, which will lead you to goodness in your religion and in your Hereafter. But when he presented this guidance to him and gave him this advice, he did not accept it and he did not act upon it. Instead, he threatened him and warned him to desist, saying, ﴿ “Do you reject my gods, O, Ibraheem? If you stop not (this), I will indeed stone you.” ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:46) It was said that the Arabic verb rajama used in the Verse means to revile or curse and it was also said that it means to stone. <sup>(1)</sup> ﴿ “So get away from me safely.” ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:46) That is, sever the relationship with me and prolong the separation. When he said this, Ibraheem ﷺ said, ﴿ “Peace be on you!” ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:46) That is, nothing unpleasant will come to you from me and no harm will be inflicted on you by me; on the contrary, you are safe from me.

He added more kindness by saying, ﴿ “I will ask Forgiveness of my Lord for you. Verily! He is unto me, Ever Most Gracious.” ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:47) ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ and others said it means: He is Kind to me, in that He has guided me to worship Him and sincere devotion to Him and this is why he said, ﴿ And I shall turn away from you and from those whom you invoke besides Allah. And I shall call on my Lord; and I hope that I shall not be unblessed in my invocation to my Lord.” ﴿ Soorah Maryam 19:48) Ibraheem ﷺ had asked Allah to forgive him in his supplications, as he had promised that he would. But when it became clear to him that he was an enemy of Allah, he declared himself innocent of him, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And Ibraheem’s invoking (of Allah) for his father’s forgiveness was only because of a promise he (Ibraheem) had made to him (his father). But when it became clear to him (Ibraheem) that he (his father) was an enemy to Allah, he dissociated himself from him. Verily, Ibraheem was Al-Awwah. (It has fifteen different meanings but the correct one seems to be that he used to invoke Allah with humility, glorify Him and remember Him much), and was forbearing. (Tafseer Al-Qurtubi) ﴾ (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:114)

(1) Both meanings are linguistically valid.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “Ibraheem will meet his father, Azar on the Day of Resurrection whose face will be dark and covered with dust (and Prophet Ibraheem ﷺ will say to him), “Did I not tell you not to disobey me?” His father will reply, “Today I will not disobey you.” Ibraheem will say: “O, my Lord! You promised to not disgrace me on the Day of Resurrection; and what will be more disgraceful to me than cursing and dishonoring my father?” Then Allah will say (to him), “I have forbidden Paradise for the disbelievers.” Then he will be addressed, “O, Ibraheem! Look! What is underneath your feet?” He will look and there he will see a Dheekh (hyena-or an animal) blood-stained, which will be caught by the legs and thrown in the (Hell) Fire.”<sup>(1)</sup> And this is how he narrated it in the story of Ibraheem ﷺ separately.

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3350).

Allah, Most High, said, ﴿ And (remember) when Ibraheem said to his father, Azar, "Do you take idols as alihah (gods)? Verily, I see you and your people in manifest error." ﴾ (Soorah Al-An'am 6:74) This proves that Ibraheem's father's name was Azar and the majority of those with knowledge of genealogy, including 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ, hold that his father's name was Tarikh, while the People of the Scripture call him Tarikh. It was said that he was nicknamed Azar, that being the name of an idol that he used to worship.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Thus did we show Ibraheem the kingdom of the heavens and the earth that he be one of those who have Faith with certainty. When the night covered him over with darkness he saw a star. He said, "This is my lord." But when it set, he said, "I like not those that set." When he saw the moon rising up, he said, "This is my lord." But when it set, he said: "Unless my Lord guides me, I shall surely be among the erring people." When he saw the sun rising up, he said, "This is my lord. This is greater." But when it set, he said, "O, my people! I am indeed free from all that you join as partners in worship with Allah. Verily, I have turned my face towards Him Who has created the heavens and the Earth Hanifan (Islamic Monotheism, i.e. worshipping none but Allah Alone) and I am not of al-mushrikoon. His people disputed with him. He said, "Do you dispute with me concerning Allah while He has guided me, and I fear not those whom you associate with Allah in worship. (Nothing can happen to me) except when my Lord (Allah) wills something. My Lord comprehends in His Knowledge all things. Will you not then remember? And how should I fear those whom you associate in worship with Allah (though they can neither benefit nor harm), while you fear not that you have joined in worship with Allah things for which He has not sent down to you any authority. (So) which of the two parties has more right to be in security? If you but knew.” It is those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah and worship none but Him Alone) and confuse not their belief with zulm (wrongdoing i.e. by worshipping others besides Allah), for them (only) there is security and they are the guided. And that was Our Proof which We gave Ibraheem (Ibraheem) against his people. We raise whom We will in degrees. Certainly your Lord is Most Wise, All-Knowing ﴿ (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:75-83)

This was the position of debating with his people and an explanation that the visible and luminous celestial bodies are not deserving of worship besides Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, because they are created, subject to Allah’s Lordship, made, controlled, subservient. At times they rise and at other times they set, so they are absent from this world, while the Lord is never absent from anything and no secrets are kept from Him. On the contrary, He is the Eternal, the Everlasting, Who never disappears. None has the right to be worshipped but He and there is no lord besides Him. So he first of all made clear to them that the celestial bodies did not deserve to be worshipped.

It was said that it was the planet Venus and then he moved on from it to the moon, which is brighter than it and of more radiant beauty. Then he moved onto the sun, which is more visible, brighter and more beautiful. And he made clear that they are subservient, controlled, subject to Allah’s Decree and His Lordship, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And from among His Signs are the night and the day, and the sun and the moon. Prostrate not to the sun, nor to the moon, but prostrate to Allah, Who created them, if you (really) worship Him. ﴾ (Soorah Fussilat 41:37) This is why He says, ﴿ When he saw the sun rising up, he said, “This is my lord. This is greater.” But when it set, he said, “O, my people! I am indeed free from all that you join as partners in worship with Allah. Verily, I have turned my face toward Him Who has created the heavens and the Earth Hanifan (Islamic Monotheism, i.e. worshipping none but Allah Alone) and I am not of al-mushrikoon.” His people disputed with him. He said, “Do you dispute with me concerning Allah while He has guided me, and I fear not those whom you associate with Allah in worship. (Nothing can happen to me) except when my Lord (Allah) wills something. My Lord comprehends in His Knowledge all things. Will you not then remember?” ﴿Soorah Al-An'am 6:78-80) That is, I care not about the deities that you worship besides Allah, because they do not benefit anything and they do not hear or understand anything. Rather, they are subject to Allah's Lordship and subservient to Him, like the celestial bodies, and other similar things. Or they are created and fashioned.

He, Most High, says in Soorah As-Saffat, ﴿And, verily, among those who followed his (Nooh's) way (Islamic Monotheism) was Ibraheem. When he came to his Lord with a pure heart (attached to Allah, Alone, and none else, worshipping none but Allah, Alone, true Islamic Monotheism, pure from the filth of polytheism). When he said to his father and to his people, “What is it that which you worship? Is it false alihah (gods) other than Allah that you seek? Then what do you think about the Lord of the 'Alameen?'” Then he cast a glance at the stars (to deceive them) and he said, “Verily, I am sick (with plague).” He did this trick to remain in their temple of idols to destroy them and not to accompany them to the pagans' feast. So they turned away from him and departed (for fear of the disease). Then he turned to their alihah (gods) and said, “Will you not eat (of the offering before you)? What is the matter with you that you speak not?” Then he turned upon them, striking (them) with (his) right hand. Then they (the worshippers of idols) came, toward him, hastening. He said, “Worship you that which you (yourselves) carve, while Allah has created you and what you make?” They said, “Build for him a building (it is said that the building was like a furnace) and throw him into the blazing fire!” So they plotted a plot against him, but We made them the lowest. ﴿ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:82-98)

Allah, Most High, informs us about Ibraheem ﷺ, His Khaleel, and He tells us that he rebuked his people for worshipping idols and he scorned them in front of them and belittled them, saying, ﴿ “What are these images, to which you are devoted?” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:52) That is, with which you seclude yourselves and to which you submit. This is why they said, ﴿ “We found our fathers worshipping them.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:53) They had no evidence except the practices of their fathers and their grandfathers and the idol-worship in which they used to take part. ﴿ He said, “Indeed you and your fathers have been in manifest error.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:54) This is like His Words, ﴿ When he said to his father and to his people, “What is it that which you worship? Is it false alihah (gods) other than Allah that you seek? Then what do you think about the Lord of the ‘Alameen?” ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:85-87) Qatadah said that it means: What do you think that He will do with you if you meet him and you have been worshipping (false deities) other than Him? He said to them, ﴿ He said, “Do they hear you when you call (on them)? Or do they benefit you or do they harm (you)?” They said, “Nay, but we found our fathers doing so.” ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:72-74) They admitted to him that they (the idols) did not hear supplications and that they could neither harm nor benefit and that the only thing which caused them to worship these idols was the fact that they were following the example of their ancestors and those like them in error, such as their fathers and the ignorant, which is why he said to them, ﴿ “Do you observe that which you have been worshipping, you and your ancient fathers? Verily! They are enemies to me, save the Lord of the ‘Alameen 》 (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:75-77). This is irrefutable evidence of the falseness of the divinity which they claimed for their idols, because he declared himself innocent of them and belittles them. If they had possessed the power to harm or affect him, they would have done so. ﴿ They said, “Have you brought us the truth, or are you one of those who play about?” 》 (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:55). They asked, ‘This speech which you are saying to us and by which you belittle our gods and due to which you curse our fathers – is it the earnest truth, or are you simply playing with us?’ ﴿ He said, “Nay, your Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the earth, Who created them and of that I am one of the witnesses.” 》 (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:56). That is, on the contrary, I say this to you earnestly and truthfully; and your God is Allah, besides Whom none has the right to be worshipped. He is your Lord and the Lord of all things, the Originator of the heavens and the earth and their Creator, in a unique manner. So it is He Who deserves to be worshipped, Alone, without partners, and I bear witness to that. He said, ﴿ “And by Allah, I shall plot a plan (to destroy) your idols after you have gone away and turned your backs.” 》 (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:57) He swore by Allah that he would plot against these idols which they worshipped after they had gone away to celebrate one of their pagan festivals. It has been mentioned that he said this to himself secretly. ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood ؓ said, “Some of them heard him and they had an annual festival during which they used to sacrifice animals outside the city. His father called on him to accompany him to the festival, but he said, “I am sick,” as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Then he cast a glance at the stars (to deceive them) and he said, “Verily, I am sick (with plague. He did this trick to remain in their temple of idols to destroy them and not to accompany them to the pagans’ feast.)” ﴿ Soorah As-Saffat 37:88,89 ﴾ He resorted to dissimulation so that he could attain his objective, which was to humiliate their idols and support Allah’s Religion of truth, by making clear the falseness of the idol-worship that they practiced – and those idols deserved to be broken and to be humiliated. So when they went out to attend their festival, leaving him behind in the city, ﴿ Then he turned to their alihah (gods). ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:91) That is, he went to them hastily and in secret and he found them in a great hall. In front of them, they had placed a variety of foods as offerings to them. and said in tones of mockery and ridicule, ﴿ Will you not eat (of the offering before you)? What is the matter with you that you speak not?” Then he turned upon them, striking (them) with (his) right hand ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:91-93).

He struck them with his right hand because it was stronger, more powerful, swifter and more irresistible – and he broke them with a qaddoom.<sup>(1)</sup> ﴿ So he broke them to pieces ﴾. That is, he smashed them all into rubble. ﴿ So he broke them to pieces, (all) except the biggest of them, that they might turn to it ﴾. It was said that he placed the adz in the hands of the large one, as an indication that it was envious that any of these smaller idols should be worshipped with it. When they returned from their festival and found what had befallen the objects of their worship, ﴿ They said, “Who has done this to our alihah (gods)? He must indeed be one of the wrongdoers.” ﴾.

In this there was clear evidence for them, if they had but sense to realize, that if these idols which they used to worship were truly gods, they would have defended themselves against anyone who wanted to harm them. But due to their ignorance, their lack of understanding, their great misguidance and their foolishness, they said, ﴿ They said, “Who has done this to our alihah (gods)? He must indeed be one of the wrongdoers.” They said, “We heard a young man talking about them who is called Ibraheem.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:59,60) That is, saying bad things about them, belittling them and making light of them, so it must be he who has attacked them and broken them. According to ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood ؓ, it means they were reminded of his words: ﴿ “And by Allah, I shall plot a plan (to destroy) your idols after you have gone away and turned your backs.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:57) ﴿ They said, “Then bring him before the eyes of the people, that they may testify.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:61) That is to the Grand Assembly, for everyone to see, so that they may bear witness to his words, hear his speech and see for themselves the revenge that they would exact on him. This was Al-Khaleel’s main objective – to gather the people and to establish the proof against all of the idolaters of the falseness of their practices, as Moosa ؑ said to Fir‘awn, ﴿ “Your appointed meeting is the day of the festival, and let the people assemble when the sun has risen (forenoon).” ﴾ (Soorah Ta Ha 20:59). Then, when they had assembled and brought him before them, as they had said, ﴿ They said, “Are you the one who has done this to our gods, o, Ibraheem?” (Ibraheem) said, “Nay, this one, the biggest of them (idols) did it. Ask them, if they can speak!” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:62,63) In saying this, he was hoping that they would acknowledge that these idols could not speak and that this idol would not say anything because it was inanimate and like any other inanimate object, incapable of speech.

(1) Qadoom or Qaddoom: An adz or adze, which is a tool, used for smoothing rough-cut wood in hand-woodworking.

﴿ So they turned to themselves and said, “Verily, you are the

zalimoon (wrongdoers).” ) (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:64) That is they blamed themselves for abandoning them, without leaving anyone to protect them or guard them. ﴿ Then they bent their heads ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:65) As-Suddi said that it means: Then they returned to the fitnah (i.e. their disbelief). Based on this, the meaning of their words ﴿ “Verily, you are the zalimoon (wrongdoers)” ﴾ would be: You are the wrongdoers in your worship of them (the idols). Qatadah said, “The people became confused and bowed their heads, then they said, ﴿ ‘Indeed you (Ibraheem) know well that these (idols) speak not!’ ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:65) That is, you know full well, Ibraheem, that these idols do not speak, so how can you order us to ask them? At that point, Al-Khaleel ﷺ said to them, ﴿ “Do you then worship besides Allah things that can neither profit you, nor harm you? Fie upon you and upon that which you worship besides Allah! Have you then no sense?” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:66,67) This is like His Words: ﴿ Then they (the worshippers of idols) came toward him, *yaziffoon ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:94) Mujahid said that it means: hastening. He said, ﴿ “Worship you that which you (yourselves) carve?” ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:95) That is, how can you worship idols which you yourselves have carved from wood and stone and shaped and fashioned as you wished? ﴿ “While Allah has created you and what you make!” ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:96) Regardless of whether the Arabic word ma used in the Verses is the indefinite pronoun signifying a verbal noun, or whether it means “that which” the meaning of the words is: You are created and these idols are created, so how can one creation worship another creation like it? Your worship of them is no more appropriate than their worship of you; the former is futile and invalid and so is the latter, since worship is neither useful nor obligatory except when it is worship of the Creator, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him. ﴿ They said,

“Build for him a building (it is said that the building was like a furnace) and throw him into the blazing fire. So they plotted a plot against him, but we made them the lowest!” ﴿Soorah As-Saffat 37:97,98﴾ They desisted from arguing and debating when they were defeated and no argument and no sophism remained available to them. At that point, they resorted to force in order to support their foolishness and tyranny. But the Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful plotted against them and raised His Word, His Religion and His Proof, As He, Most High, says, ﴿They said, “Burn him and help your alihah (gods), if you will be doing.” We (Allah) said, “O, fire! Be you coolness and safety for Ibraheem!” And they wanted to harm him, but We made them the worst losers ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:68-70) This was because they began to gather kindling from every place they could, to such an extent that, if a woman was sick, she would make a vow that if she recovered she would bring wood to burn Ibraheem ﷺ. Then they made a hole in the ground and set it aflame, and it burned with huge sparks and immense flames. There had never been a fire like it. They put Ibraheem ﷺ into a mangonel, at the suggestion of a nomadic Kurdish man from Persia, whose name was Hazan and who was the first person to build a mangonel. Allah caused the earth to swallow him up, and he will remain sinking into it until the Day of Resurrection. Then they shackled him and tied him in the bowl of the mangonel and he was saying, “La ilaha illa Anta Subhanaka Lakal-Hamdu Wa Lakal-Mulku La Shareeka Lak (None has the right to be worshipped but You. Glory be to You. All praise and thanks are due to You; to You belongs the dominion; and You have no partners).” Then, when Ibraheem ﷺ was placed in bowl of the mangonel, tied and shackled and then cast into the fire from it, he said, “Hasbunallahu Wa Ni'mal-Wakeel (Sufficient for me is Allah, and He is the best Disposer of Affairs).” This is similar to what Al-Bukhari recorded from ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ﷺ that Ibraheem ﷺ said, “Sufficient for me is Allah and He is the best Disposer of Affairs,” when he was thrown into the fire. Muhammad ﷺ said it when it was said to him, ﴿ Those (i.e. Believers) unto whom the people (hypocrites) said, “Verily, the people (pagans) have gathered against you (a great army), therefore, fear them.” But it (only) increased them in faith, and they said, “Allah (Alone) is Sufficient for us, and He is the Best Disposer of affairs (for us).” So they returned with Grace and Bounty from Allah. No harm touched them; and they followed the good Pleasure of Allah. And Allah is the Owner of Great Bounty ﴾ (Soorah Ali ‘Imran 3:173,174) <sup>(1)</sup>

It is narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ﷺ and Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair that they said: The keeper (angel) of the rain said, “When will I be commanded to send rain?” But the command of Allah was swifter. ﴿ We (Allah) said, “O, fire! Be you coolness and safety for Ibraheem!” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:69) ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib said that it means: Do not harm him.

‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ﷺ and Abul-‘Aliyah said: If Allah had not said, ﴿ “and safety for Ibraheem!” ﴾ its coldness would have harmed Ibraheem ﷺ.”

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Sa‘eed Ibn Al-Musayyib, who reported on the authority of Umm Shareek that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered the killing of the house gecko and he said, “It blew (the fire) on Ibraheem ﷺ.” <sup>(2)</sup>

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Sa’ibah, the freed slave of Al-Fakih Ibn Al-Mugheerah that she said: I visited

‘A’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) and I saw a spear in her house and I said, “O, Mother of the Faithful! What are you doing with this spear?” She said, “This is for these house geckos; we kill them with it, because the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told us that: ‘When Ibraheem ؑ was thrown into the fire, there was no creature on the earth that did not (seek to) extinguish the fire except the house gecko; it blew (the fire) on him.’ So the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered us to kill them.”<sup>(1)</sup>

Mention of the Debate Between Ibraheem Al-Khaleel ؑ and Those Who Wanted to Dispute With the Mighty, the All-Powerful in Garments of Greatness and Robes of Arrogance and So He Claimed Lordship, When He Was One of the Weak Slaves

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Have you not looked at him who disputed with Ibraheem about his Lord (Allah), because Allah had given him the kingdom? When Ibraheem said (to him), “My Lord (Allah) is He Who gives life and causes death.” He said, “I give life and cause death.” Ibraheem said, “Verily! Allah causes the sun to rise from the East; then causes it you to rise from the West.” So the disbeliever was utterly defeated. And Allah guides not the people, who are zalimoon (wrongdoers, etc.) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:258) Allah, Most High, mentions the debate between His Khaleel and the arrogant tyrant king, who claimed Lordship for himself; but Al-Khaleel invalidated his proof and made clear how great was his ignorance and the smallness of his intellect and the evidence silenced him and illuminated for him the right path.

The scholars of tafseer and others, such as the scholars of

(1) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad ؑ.

lineage and those of traditions said that this king was the king of Babylon, whose name was Numrood, son of Kan'an, son of Koosh, son of Sam, son of Nooh, according to Mujahid. Others said that he was Numrood, son of Falah, son of 'Abir, son of Salih, son of Arfakhshad, son of Sam, son of Nooh ﷺ. This was also reported by Mujahid and others. He was one of the kings of the world, because the world was ruled by four kings, according to what has been narrated. They consisted of two Believers and two disbelievers; the two Believers were Dhul-Qarnain and Sulaiman and the two disbelievers were Numrood and Bukhtunassar. They mentioned that this king, Numrood, remained on the throne for four hundred years. He had become cruel, oppressive, tyrannical and arrogant and he had preferred the life of this world. When Ibraheem ﷺ called upon him to worship Allah, Alone, without partners, his ignorance and error and his personal desires caused him to deny the Creator and to dispute with Ibraheem ﷺ about it and claimed Lordship for himself. When Al-Khaleel said to him, “My Lord (Allah) is He Who gives life and causes death.” He said, “I give life and cause death.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:258) Qatadah, As-Suddi and Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said that he meant that when two men are brought to him and he had decided to have them killed, then he ordered that one of them be killed and pardoned the other one, it would be as if he had given life to one and caused death to the other. But this was not a challenge to Al-Khaleel's statement. Rather, it was a remark unrelated to the topic of discussion and it did not challenge or invalidate (Ibraheem's argument); it was simply a provocative statement and a deviation from the truth, because Al-Khaleel proved the existence of the Creator by the occurrence of these visible things, such as the granting of life to creatures and the bringing of death to them. For it is not possible that they brought themselves into existence; there must have been a Creator to bring them into existence and to subjugate them to man and to steer the heavenly bodies in their orbits and to direct the winds, the clouds and the rain and create these visible animals and then bring about their death. This is why Ibraheem ﷺ said, ( “My Lord (Allah) is He Who gives life and causes death.” ) (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:258) So if by his saying “I bring life and I cause death,” this ignorant king meant that he was the doer of these visible events, then he was guilty of stubbornness and obstinacy. If he meant what was mentioned by Qatadah, As-Suddi and Ibn Ishaq, then he did not say anything related to the words of Al-Khaleel, since he had not challenged his speech and had not he countered the evidence.

Since the defeat of the king in this debate might be unclear to many of those people who attended it and others, he mentioned another proof, which made clear the existence of the Creator and the falseness of what Numrood claimed and the open defeat of him: ( “Verily! Allah causes the sun to rise from the East; then cause it you to rise from the West.” ) (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:258) That is, this sun is subjugated every day and caused to rise, in accordance with the subjugation of the One Who created it and controls and directs it and is Irresistible. And that is Allah, besides Whom none has the right to be worshipped, the Creator of everything. So if you are, as you claim, the one who gives life and causes death, then cause this sun to rise from the West, because, He Who gives life and causes death is the One Who does as He wills and He cannot be resisted or overcome. Rather, He overwhelms everything and everything submits to Him. So if you are as you claim, then do this. But if you cannot do it, then you are not as you claim. You and every other person knows that you are not able to do anything of this. Indeed, you are incapable and powerless to create a mosquito or to help yourself against it? So he made clear to him his error, his ignorance, the untruthfulness of his claim and the falseness of his behaviour and his bragging to the ignorant among his people. And there remained no argument for him to use against Al-Khaleel ﷺ. Rather, he was defeated and silenced and this is why Allah says, ﴿ So the disbeliever was utterly defeated. And Allah guides not the people, who are zalimoon. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:258)

The Story of Al-Khaleel's Migration to the Land of Ash-Sham, His Entry Into the Lands of Egypt and His Settling in the Holy Land

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So Loot (Lot) believed in him (Ibraheem's Message of Islamic Monotheism). He (Ibraheem) said, "I will emigrate for the sake of my Lord. Verily, He is the Almighty, the Most Wise." And We bestowed on him (Ibraheem), Ishaq (Isaac) and Ya'qoob (Jacob), and ordained among his offspring Prophethood and the Book (i.e. the Tawrah [Torah]) (to Moosa [Moses]), the Injeel (Gospel) (to 'Eesa [Jesus]), the Qur'an (to Muhammad ﷺ), all from the offspring of Ibraheem), and We granted him his reward in this world, and verily, in the Hereafter he is indeed among the righteous. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Ankaboot 29:26,27)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And We rescued him and Loot (Lot) to the land which We have blessed for the 'Alameen. And We bestowed upon him Ishaq (Isaac), and (a grandson) Ya'qoob (Jacob). Each one We made righteous. And We made them leaders, guiding (mankind) by Our Command, and We inspired in them the doing of good deeds, performing salah (iqamatus-salah) (prayers), and the giving of zakah and of Us (Alone) they were worshippers. ﴿ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:71-73) When he abandoned his people for Allah's sake and migrated from them, his wife was barren and could not bear children and he had no sons. With him was his nephew, Lot ﷺ, son of Haran, son of Azar. But Allah, Most High, granted him after that righteous sons and granted Prophethood and Revelation to his progeny. Every Prophet sent after him was from his offspring and every Scripture sent down from the heaven to a Prophet after him was sent down to one of his descendants. This was an honor and a mark of esteem for him from Allah, when he abandoned his land, his family and his kin and migrated to a land where he could worship his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and where he could call the mankind to believe in Him. The land that he intended to migrate to was the land of Ash-Sham and it was this land that Allah referred to in His Words: ﴿ to the land which We have blessed for the 'Alameen. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:71) This was said by Ubayy Ibn Ka'b, Abul-'Aliyah, Qatadah and others.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: Ibraheem ﷺ did not lie except for three lies; two of them for the sake of Allah when he said, ﴿ "Verily, I am sick (with plague)." ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:89) and he said, ﴿ "Nay, this one, the biggest of them (idols) did it." ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:63) The (third was) that while Ibraheem ﷺ and Sarah (his wife) were going (on a journey) they passed by (the territory of) a tyrant. Someone said to the tyrant, "This man (i.e. Ibraheem ﷺ) is accompanied by a very charming lady." So, he sent for Ibraheem ﷺ and asked him about Sarah saying, "Who is this lady?" Ibraheem ﷺ said, "She is my sister." Ibraheem ﷺ went to Sarah and said, "O, Sarah!

There are no believers on the surface of the earth except you and I. This man asked me about you and I have told him that you are my sister, so do not contradict my statement.” The tyrant then called Sarah and when she went to him, he tried to take hold of her with his hand, but (his hand became stiff and) he was confounded. He asked Sarah, “Pray to Allah for me, and I shall not harm you.” So Sarah asked Allah to cure him and he got cured. He tried to take hold of her for the second time, but (his hand became stiff as or stiffer than before and) he was more confounded. He again requested Sarah, “Pray to Allah for me, and I will not harm you.” Sarah asked Allah again and he became alright. He then called one of his guards (who had brought her) and said, “You have not brought me a human being but have brought me a devil.” The tyrant then gave Hajar as a girl-servant to Sarah. Sarah came back (to Ibraheem ﷺ) while he was praying. Ibraheem ﷺ, gesturing with his hand, asked, “What has happened?” She replied, “Allah has spoiled the evil plot of the infidel (or immoral person) and given me Hajar for service.” (Abu Hurairah ؓ then addressed his listeners saying, “That (Hajar) was your mother, O, Bani Ma'is-Sama' (i.e. the Arabs, the descendants of Isma'eel ﷺ, Hajar's son).” <sup>(1)</sup> It was only narrated by Al-Bukhari from this source and it is in a mawqoof form.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Ibraheem did not tell any lies except three and all of them were in Allah's Cause. (They include) his saying, when he was invited to worship the idols of his people, ﴿ “Verily, I am sick (with plague).” ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:89), his saying, ﴿ “Nay, this one, the biggest of them (idols) did it.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:63) and his saying regarding Sarah, “She is my sister.” He said: Prophet

(1) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3358).

Ibraheem ﷺ emigrated with Sarah and entered a city where there was a king or a tyrant. (The king) was told that Ibraheem ﷺ had entered accompanied by a woman who was one of the most charming women. So the king sent for Ibraheem ﷺ and asked, "O, Ibraheem! Who is this lady accompanying you?" Ibraheem ﷺ replied, "She is my sister." Then Ibraheem ﷺ returned to her and said, "Do not contradict my statement, for I have informed them that you are my sister. By Allah, there are no true Believers on the earth except you and I." Then Ibraheem sent her to the king. When the king got to her, she got up and performed ablution, prayed and said, "O, Allah! If I have believed in You and Your Messenger, and have saved my private parts from everybody except my husband, then please do not let this pagan overpower me." On that, the king fell in a mood of agitation and started moving his legs. Abu Az-Zinad and Abu Salamah reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that she said, "O, Allah! If he should die, the people will say that I have killed him." The king regained his power, and proceeded toward her but she got up again and performed ablution, prayed and said, "O, Allah! If I have believed in You and Your Apostle and have kept my private parts safe from all except my husband, then please do not let this pagan overpower me." The king again fell in a mood of agitation and started moving his legs. On seeing that state of the king, Sarah said, "O, Allah! If he should die, the people will say that I have killed him." The king got either two or three attacks, and after recovering from the last attack he said, "By Allah! You have sent a devil to me. Take her to Ibraheem and give Hajar to her." So she came back to Ibraheem and said, "Allah humiliated the pagan and gave us a slave-girl for service." (1) Ahmad was alone in narrating it from this source and it conforms to the conditions for acceptance demanded by an authentic hadeeth. Al-Bukhari also narrated it in an abbreviated form on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه.<sup>(1)</sup>

Some scholars have claimed that three women were granted Prophethood: Sarah, the mother of Moosa and Maryam, the mother of ‘Eesa, – peace be upon them all. But the majority of scholars are of the opinion that they were Siddeeqat<sup>(2)</sup> – may Allah be pleased with them.

Then Al-Khaleel عليه السلام returned from the land of Egypt to the land of good omens, i.e. the Holy Land, where he had formerly been. With him were livestock, slaves and a great amount of wealth. Hajar, the Egyptian Copt accompanied them. Then Loot عليه السلام, following the command of Al-Khaleel عليه السلام, went to live in the land of Al-Ghawr, which is more well-known as Ghawr Zaghar, taking with him a portion of the aforementioned wealth. He took up residence in the city of Sadoom (Sodom) which was the main city in those lands at that time. Its inhabitants were wicked and shameless disbelievers. Allah inspired Al-Khaleel عليه السلام and told him to look at the landscape, north, south, east and west and He gave him the glad tidings that all of this land would be for him and his descendants until the end of time and that He would cause his progeny to be numerous, until they equalled the number of grains of sand on the Earth. These tidings are connected to this Islamic nation and they were not completely fulfilled except for it; this is supported by the words of the Prophet ﷺ, “Allah drew the ends of the world near one another for my sake. And I have seen its eastern and western ends. The dominion of my Ummah will reach those ends which

The Story of the Birth of Isma‘eel ؑ by Hajar

The People of the Scripture said that Ibraheem ؑ asked Allah to grant him fine offspring and that Allah granted his request. According to what they said, when Ibraheem ؑ was in the land of Bait Ul-Maqdis for twenty years, Sarah said to Ibraheem ؑ, “Allah has not permitted me to bear children, so take my slave-girl, and haply, Allah will bless me with a son from her.” Then, when she gave her to him, he had intimate relations with her, as a result of which, she became pregnant by him. They (the People of the Scripture) said that when she became pregnant, she became filled with a sense of her own importance and she became arrogant toward her mistress, Sarah. Sarah then became jealous of her and complained of her to Ibraheem ؑ and he said to her, “Do with her what you will.” Hajar then became afraid and she fled and camped near a spring there. One of the angels said to her, “Be not afraid, for Allah will place goodness in this child which you have carried.” And he commanded her to return and gave her the glad tidings that she would bear a son, whom she would call Isma‘eel. He would be a powerful man, whose authority would extend over all men and every man’s hand would act in obedience to him. He would rule all of the lands of his brothers. She thanked Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful for that.

These tidings only hold true for his son (i.e. descendant) Muhammad ﷺ, because it was through him that the Arabs gained ascendancy over all of the lands, from East to West, and

(1) Narrated by Muslim (2889), Abu Dawood (4252), At-Tirmidhi (2176), Ibn Majah (3952) and Imam Ahmad (21946).

Allah gave them beneficial knowledge and righteous deeds, the like of which were not given to any previous nation and this was only due to the honor of their Messenger ﷺ, the blessing of his Message, the success of his prophecies, the complete manner in which he delivered the Message and the general nature of his mission, to all of the people of the earth.

When Hajar returned, she gave birth to Isma'eel ﷺ. It is said that she gave birth to him when Ibraheem ﷺ was eighty-six years old and that was thirteen years before the birth of Ishaq ﷺ. They said that when Isma'eel ﷺ was born, Allah inspired in Ibraheem ﷺ the glad tidings of Ishaq's birth from Sarah. On hearing these glad tidings, Ibraheem ﷺ fell down to prostrate in thanks to Allah and Allah said to him, "I have answered your supplications by giving you Isma'eel and I have blessed him and increased him and advanced him greatly. From him will be born twelve great ones and I will make him the head of a great people. This was also glad tidings of the coming of this great (Muslim) nation and these twelve great ones are the twelve Righteous Caliphs of whom we were informed in the hadeeth of 'Abdul Malik Ibn 'Umair, on the authority of Jabir Ibn Samurah ؓ, who reported from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, "There will be twelve Commanders." Then he spoke words which I did not understand and so I asked my father what he had said. He replied, "All (twelve) of them will be from Quraish." This was narrated by Al-Bukhari and Muslim in the Saheehain.<sup>(1)</sup> In another narration, he added, "This matter will continue."<sup>(2)</sup> And in still another narration, "Islam will continue to be powerful until there have been twelve Caliphs,

These twelve include the four Imams, Abu Bakr, ‘Umar, ‘Uthman and ‘Ali ﷺ and they also include ‘Umar Ibn ‘Abdil-‘Azeez and among them are some from Banu Al-‘Abbas. It does not mean that they will be twelve rulers in succession, rather, it means that they must come (as foretold). Neither is the reference to the twelve Imams believed in by the Shiites, of whom (according to their claim), the first is ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib and the last is the awaited Imam, who is (supposedly) hiding in a subterranean cavern and he is Muhammad Ibn Al-Hasan Al-‘Askari, according to their claim. Among those twelve there are none more beneficial than ‘Ali ﷺ and his son, Al-Hasan Ibn ‘Ali ﷺ, when he abandoned fighting and gave up the Caliphate to Mu‘awiyah ﷺ, thus extinguishing the fire of civil strife and stopping the wars between the Muslims. The other Imams (mentioned by them) had no rule over the (Islamic) nation in any matter. As for what is believed regarding the subterranean cavern, this is pure fantasy and there is no truth to it whatsoever and no evidence for it.

The Story of Ibraheem’s Migration With His Son, Isma‘eel, and His Mother, Hajar, to the Mountains of Faran, Which is the Land of Makkah, and His Building of the Ancient House

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ﷺ that he said, “The first lady to use a girdle was the mother of Isma‘eel ﷺ. She used a girdle so that she might hide her tracks from Sarah. Ibraheem brought her and her son, Isma‘eel

(1) Narrated by Muslim (1821) and Ahmad (20421).

ﷺ while she was suckling him, to a place near the Ka'bah, under a tree on the spot of Zamzam, at the highest place in the mosque. During those days there was nobody in Makkah, nor was there any water. So he made them sit over there and placed near them a leather bag containing some dates, and a small waterskin containing some water, and set out homeward. Isma'eel's mother followed him, saying, "O, Ibraheem! Where are you going, leaving us in this valley where there is no person whose company we may enjoy, nor is there anything (to enjoy)?" She repeated that to him many times, but he did not look back at her. Then she asked him, "Has Allah ordered you to do so?" He said, "Yes." She said, "Then He will not neglect us," and she returned, while Ibraheem ﷺ proceeded onward, and on reaching the mountain where they could not see him, he faced the Ka'bah, and raising both hands, invoked Allah saying the following prayers: ﴿ "O, our Lord! I have made some of my offspring dwell in a valley without cultivation, by Your Sacred House (the Ka'bah in Makkah) in order, our Lord, that they may offer prayer perfectly. So fill some hearts among men with love toward them, and (O, Allah) provide them with fruits, so that they may give thanks." ﴾ (Soorah Ibraheem 14.37) Isma'eel's mother went on suckling Isma'eel and drinking from the water (she had).

When the water in the waterskin had all been used up, she became thirsty and her child also became thirsty. she started looking at him (i.e. Isma'eel ﷺ) tossing in agony; she left him, for she could not endure looking at him, and found that the mountain of As-Safa was the nearest mountain to her on that land. She stood on it and started looking at the valley keenly so that she might see somebody, but she could not see anybody. Then she descended from As-Safa and when she reached the valley, she tucked up her robe and ran in the valley like a person in distress and trouble, till she crossed the valley and reached Al-Marwah mountain where she stood and started looking, expecting to see somebody, but she could not see anybody. She repeated that (running between As-Safa and Al-Marwah) seven times.

The Prophet ﷺ said: This is the source of the tradition of the walking of people between them (i.e. As-Safa and Al-Marwah). When she reached Al-Marwah (for the last time) she heard a voice and she asked herself to be quiet and listened attentively. She heard the voice again and said, "O, (whoever you may be)! You have made me hear your voice; have you got something to help me?" And behold! She saw an angel at the place of Zamzam, digging the earth with his heel (or his wing), till water flowed from that place. She started to make something like a basin around it, using her hand in this way, and started filling her waterskin with water with her hands, and the water was flowing out after she had scooped some of it." The Prophet ﷺ added, "May Allah bestow Mercy on Isma'eel's mother! Had she let the Zamzam (flow without trying to control it) (or had she not scooped from that water) (to fill her waterskin), Zamzam would have been a stream flowing on the surface of the earth." The Prophet ﷺ further added, "Then she drank (water) and suckled her child. The angel said to her, "Do not be afraid of being neglected, for this is the House of Allah which will be built by this boy and his father, and Allah never neglects His people." The House (i.e. the Ka'bah) at that time was on a high place resembling a hillock, and when torrents came, they flowed to its right and left. She lived in that way till some people from the tribe of Jurhum or a family from Jurhum passed by her and her child, as they (i.e. the Jurhum people) were coming through the way of Kada'. They landed in the lower part of Makkah, where they saw a bird that had the habit of flying around water and not leaving it. They said, “This bird must be flying around water, though we know that there is no water in this valley.” They sent one or two messengers who discovered the source of water, and returned to inform them of the water. So, they all came (toward the water). The Prophet ﷺ added: Isma‘eel’s mother was sitting near the water. They asked her, “Do you allow us to stay with you?” She replied, “Yes, but you will have no right to possess the water.” They agreed to that. The Prophet ﷺ further said: Isma‘eel’s mother was pleased with the whole situation as she used to love to enjoy the company of people. So, they settled there, and later on they sent for their families who came and settled with them so that some families became permanent residents there. The child (i.e. Isma‘eel ﷺ) grew up and learned Arabic from them and (his virtues) caused them to love and admire him as he grew up, and when he reached the age of puberty they made him marry a woman from amongst them.

After Isma‘eel’s mother died, Ibraheem ﷺ came after Isma‘eel’s marriage in order to see his family that he had left before, but he did not find Isma‘eel ﷺ there. When he asked Isma‘eel’s wife about him, she replied, “He has gone in search of our livelihood.” Then he asked her about their way of living and their condition, and she replied, “We are living in misery; we are living in hardship and destitution,” complaining to him. He said, “When your husband returns, convey my salutation to him and tell him to change the threshold of the gate (of his house).” When Isma‘eel ﷺ came, he seemed to have felt something unusual, so he asked his wife, “Has anyone visited you?” She replied, “Yes, an old man of so-and-so description came and asked me about you and I informed him, and he asked about our state of living, and I told him that we were living in hardship and poverty.” On hearing that, Isma‘eel ﷺ said, "Did he advise you anything?" She replied, "Yes, he told me to convey his salutation to you and to tell you to change the threshold of your gate." Isma'eel ﷺ said, "It was my father, and he has ordered me to divorce you. Go back to your family." So, Isma'eel ﷺ divorced her and married another woman from amongst them (i.e. Jurhum).

Then Ibraheem ﷺ stayed away from them for a period as long as Allah wished and called on them again but did not find Isma'eel ﷺ. So he came to Isma'eel's wife and asked her about Isma'eel ﷺ. She said, "He has gone in search of our livelihood." Ibraheem ﷺ asked her, "How are you getting on?" asking her about their sustenance and living. She replied, "We are prosperous and well-off (i.e. we have everything in abundance)." Then she thanked Allah. Ibraheem ﷺ said, "What kind of food do you eat?" She said, "Meat." He said, "What do you drink?" She said, "Water." He said, "O, Allah! Bless their meat and water." The Prophet ﷺ added, "At that time they did not have grain, and if they had grain, he would have also invoked Allah to bless it." The Prophet ﷺ added, "If somebody has only these two things as his sustenance, his health and disposition will be badly affected, unless he lives in Makkah." The Prophet ﷺ added: Then Ibraheem ﷺ said to Isma'eel's wife, "When your husband comes, give my salutations to him and tell him that he should keep firm the threshold of his gate." When Isma'eel ﷺ came back, he asked his wife, "Did anyone call on you?" She replied, "Yes, a good-looking old man came to me," so she praised him and added. "He asked about you, and I informed him, and he asked about our livelihood and I told him that we were in a good condition." Isma'eel ﷺ asked her, "Did he give you any piece of advice?" She said, "Yes, he told me to give his salutations to you and ordered that you should keep firm the threshold of your gate." On hearing that,

Isma'eel ﷺ said, "It was my father, and you are the threshold (of the gate). He has ordered me to keep you with me."

Then Ibraheem ﷺ stayed away from them for a period as long as Allah wished, and called on them afterward. He saw Isma'eel ﷺ under a tree near Zamzam, sharpening his arrows. When he saw Ibraheem ﷺ, he rose up to welcome him (and they greeted each other as a father does with his son or a son does with his father). Ibraheem ﷺ said, "Oh, Isma'eel! Allah has given me an order." Isma'eel ﷺ said, "Do what your Lord has ordered you to do." Ibraheem ﷺ asked, "Will you help me?" Isma'eel ﷺ said, "I will help you." Ibraheem ﷺ said, "Allah has ordered me to build a house here," pointing to a hillock higher than the land surrounding it. The Prophet ﷺ added, Then they raised the foundations of the House (i.e. the Ka'bah). Isma'eel ﷺ brought the stones and Ibraheem ﷺ was building, and when the walls became high, Isma'eel ﷺ brought this stone and put it for Ibraheem ﷺ, who stood over it and carried on building, while Isma'eel ﷺ was handing him the stones, and both of them were saying, "O, our Lord! Accept (this service) from us, Verily, You are the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing." The Prophet ﷺ added: Then both of them went on building and going round the Ka'bah, saying, ﴿ "O, our Lord ! Accept (this service) from us, Verily, You are the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing." ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:127). <sup>(1)</sup>

It has been confirmed in the hadeeth narrated by Al-Bukhari, on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Prophet ﷺ said, "Ibraheem did his circumcision with a qaddoom at the age of eighty." <sup>(2)</sup> A qaddoom is an implement (an adz). It was also said that it was a place. The wording of this hadeeth does not negate the possibility that he was over eighty years of age. And Allah knows better.

The Story of the Sacrificial Offering

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And he said (after his rescue from the fire), "Verily, I am going to my Lord. He will guide me! My Lord! Grant me (offspring) from the righteous." So We gave him the glad tidings of a forbearing boy. And, when he (his son) was old enough to walk with him, he said, "O, my son! I have seen in a dream that I am slaughtering you (offering you in sacrifice to Allah), so see what you think." He said, "O, my father! Do that which you are commanded, In sha' Allah (if Allah wills), you shall find me of As-Sabireen (one of the patient ones, etc.)." Then, when they had both submitted themselves (to the Will of Allah) and he had laid him prostrate on his forehead (or on the side of his forehead for slaughtering), and We called out to him, "O, Ibraheem! You have fulfilled the dream (vision)! Verily! Thus do We reward the Muhsinoon (those who do good)." Verily, that indeed was a manifest trial and We ransomed him with a great sacrifice (i.e. a ram); And We left for him (a goodly remembrance) among generations (to come) in later times. Salamun (peace) be upon Ibraheem!" Thus indeed do We reward the Muhsinoon (those who do good). Verily, he was one of Our believing slaves. And We gave him the glad tidings of Ishaq (Isaac), a Prophet from the righteous. We blessed him and Ishaq, and of their progeny are (some) that do right, and some that plainly wrong themselves. ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:99-113)

Allah, Most High, informs us regarding His Khaleel,

Ibraheem ﷺ, that when he migrated from the lands of his people, he asked his Lord to grant him a righteous son and Allah gave him the glad tidings of a gentle boy, and that was Isma'eel ﷺ, because he was the first child born to Al-Khaleel, when he was eighty-six years of age. And there is no dispute on this point between the People of the Scripture, because he was his firstborn son.

As for Allah's saying: ﴿ And, when he (his son) was old enough to walk with him ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:102), it means when he became a young man and began to work as his father did. According to Mujahid, it means he became a young man, went on journeys and began to do what his father did, such as striving and working. At that time, Ibraheem ﷺ was shown in a dream that he was commanded to sacrifice this son of his.

In the hadeeth narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ in a marfoo' form, he said, "The visions of the Prophets are Revelation." <sup>(1)</sup> It was also said by 'Ubaid Ibn 'Umair. <sup>(2)</sup>

This was a test from Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, for His Khaleel, that he sacrifice his beloved son, who was born to him in his old age. This was after he had been commanded to leave Isma'eel ﷺ and his mother in a land of poverty, where there was no animals or people, no cultivation and no livestock. He obeyed Allah's Command to do this and left them there, trusting in Allah and depending on Him. And Allah made for them a relief and a way out (of their difficulties) and sustained them from whence they had not expected. Then, after all that, when Ibraheem ﷺ was commanded to sacrifice this son of

(1) This was also reported by At-Tirmidhi in a mu'allaq form (3689).

(2) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (138) and At-Tirmidhi (3689).

his, whom he had left alone, in accordance with the Command of his Lord, when he was his firstborn son and only child, he complied with that Command and hastened to obey his Lord. Then he submitted this to his son, in order that it should be more acceptable to his heart and easier for him, rather than seizing him by force and compelling him to submit to being sacrificed. ﴿ And, when he (his son) was old enough to walk with him, he said, “O, my son! I have seen in a dream that I am slaughtering you (offering you in sacrifice to Allah), so see what you think.” ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:102) This gentle son hastened to do his father’s bidding, saying, ﴿ “O, my father! Do that which you are commanded, In sha’ Allah (if Allah wills), you shall find me of As-Sabireen (the patient ones, etc.)” ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:102) This reply displays the ultimate in right conduct, filial piety and obedience to the Lord of the slaves. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Then, when they had both submitted themselves (to the will of Allah), and he had laid him prostrate on his forehead (or on the side of his fore-head for slaughtering) ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:103) It was said that this means: when they had submitted to Allah’s Command and determined to carry it out, he placed him on his face. It was said that when he intended to sacrifice him, he placed him facedown so that he could slaughter him from behind, and not have to see his face at the time of slaughter, so that it would be easier for him. This was said by ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, Mujahid, Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair, Qatadah and Ad-Dahhak. It was also said that he turned him on his side, the way one turns a sacrificial animal on its side, so that the side of his forehead was on the ground. ﴿ They had both submitted themselves ﴾, that is when Ibraheem ﷺ had said, “Bismillahi Wallahu Akbar (in the Name of Allah and Allah is Greater)” and his son had said, “Ashhadu Anla ilaha illallah (I bear witness that none but Allah has the right to be worshipped),” in preparation as for Allah’s Saying: ﴿ And We called out to him, “O, Ibraheem! You have fulfilled the dream (vision)!” Verily! Thus do We reward the Muhsinoon (those who do good) ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:104,105), it means that the goal in this test to which you have been subjected has been attained and you have shown yourself to be obedient and prepared to carry out Allah’s Commands; just as you submitted your body to the fire, so you did not hesitate to submit your son to be sacrificed and spend your wealth for the sake of your guests. This is why Allah says, ﴿ Verily, that indeed was a manifest trial ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:106) That is, a clear test. As for His Saying: ﴿ And We ransomed him with a great sacrifice ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:107), it means: We made as a ransom for the sacrifice of his son, that which was easy for Allah, to be substituted for him and what has been widely reported from the majority of scholars is that it was a prime, white ram, with long horns, which he saw tied to an acacia tree at Thabeer (a mountain in Makkah).

It was mentioned in the hadeeth that it was a ram. This was narrated by Imam Ahmad, on the authority of Safiyyah Bint Shaibah, who said: A woman from Banu Saleem who was the midwife of most of the people in our household, informed me that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ sent for ‘Uthman Ibn Talhah ؓ. On one occasion she said: I asked ‘Uthman, “Why did the Prophet ﷺ call you?” He said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to me, “I saw the horns of the ram when I entered the House (i.e. the Ka’bah) and I forgot to tell you to cover them up; cover them up, for there should not be anything in the House which could distract the worshipper.” Sufyan said, “The horns of the ram remained hanging in the House until it was burned, and they were burned too.”<sup>(1)</sup>

(1) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (4/68, No. 2271).

The Story of the Birth of Ishaq ﷺ

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And We gave him the glad tidings of Ishaq (Isaac) a Prophet from the righteous. We blessed him and Ishaq (Isaac), and of their progeny are (some) that do right, and some that plainly wrong themselves. ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:112,113) The glad tidings of his birth were brought by the angels to Ibraheem ﷺ and Sarah when they passed by them as they were heading for the cities of the people of Lot, in order to inflict destruction on them because of their disbelief and their wickedness and depravity, as will be explained in its place, if Allah wills.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Has the story reached you of the honored guests of Ibraheem? When they came in to him and said, “Salam, (peace be upon you)!” He answered, “Salam (peace be upon you),” and said, “You are a people unknown to me.” Then he turned to his household, and brought out a fat (roasted) calf (as the property of Ibraheem was mainly cows) and placed it before them, (saying), “Will you not eat?” Then he conceived a fear of them (when they ate not). They said, “Fear not.” And they gave him glad tidings of an intelligent son, having knowledge (about Allah and His Religion of True Monotheism). Then his wife came forward with a loud voice, she smote her face and said, “A barren old woman!” They said, “Even so says your Lord. Verily, He is the Most Wise, the All-Knowing.” ﴾ (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:24-30) Allah, Most High, tells us that when the angels – who were three in number, Gabriel, Meekael and Israfeel – visited Al-Khaleel ﷺ, at first he thought that they were (human) visitors and he treated them as (honored) guests and roasted a fat calf from the best of his cattle for them. But when he presented it to them, he saw that they had no desire at all to eat. This is because angels have no strong need for food. He felt a sense of mistrust of them ( and conceived a fear of them. They said, “Fear not, we have been sent against the people of Loot (Lot).” ) (Soorah Hood 11:70) That is, to destroy them. Upon hearing this, Sarah laughed, being pleased that Allah’s Wrath was to be visited upon them. She was standing waiting on the guests, as was the custom of the Arabs and others and when she laughed, being pleased at the news, Allah, Most High said, ( And We gave her glad tidings of Ishaq (Isaac) and after him, of Ya’qoob ) (Soorah Hood 11:71) That is, the angels gave her the glad tidings of that. ( Then his wife came forward with a loud cry ) (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:29). That is, giving a loud cry of amazement. ( she smote her face ) (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:29) As women do when they are surprised or amazed. ( “She said (in astonishment w+oe unto me! Shall I bear a child while I am an old woman, and here is my husband, an old man?” ) (Soorah Hood 11:72) That is, how can a person like me, who is advanced in years and also barren, give birth? ( and here is my husband, an old man? ). She was amazed that a child should be born to her while she was in this state and that is why she said, ( Verily! This is a strange thing!” They said: “Do you wonder at the Decree of Allah? The Mercy of Allah and His Blessings be on you, family (of Ibraheem). Surely, He (Allah) is Worthy of all praise, Most Glorious.” ) (Soorah Hood 11:72,73) Ibraheem ﷺ was also astonished, but very happy with these glad tidings, which strengthened him and gladdened his heart. ( (Ibraheem) said, “Do you give me glad tidings (of a son) when old age has overtaken me? Of what then is your news?” They (the angels) said, “We give you glad tidings in truth. So be not of the despairing ones.” )

(Soorah Al-Hijr 15:54,55) They confirmed the truth of these glad tidings and informed them both ﴿ of an intelligent son ﴾ – and that was Ishaq ﷺ, the brother of Isma‘eel ﷺ, a gentle son. Thus was he described by his Lord, as being one who kept his promises and was patient and forbearing. In another verse, He says, ﴿ But We gave her glad tidings of Ishaq, and after him, of Ya‘qoob. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:71) Muhammad Ibn Ka‘b Al-Qurazi and others cited this as evidence that Isma‘eel ﷺ was the sacrifice and that it would not be possible that Allah would order Ishaq ﷺ to be sacrificed after the tidings of his birth and the birth of Ishaq’s son, Ya‘qoob ﷺ had been given.

As for His Words: ﴿ But We gave her glad tidings of Ishaq, and after him, of Ya‘qoob ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:71), they are evidence that she would be happy with the birth of her son, Ishaq ﷺ and after him, her grandson, Ya‘qoob ﷺ; that is, he would be born during her lifetime and he would delight their hearts, just as her son had done. If this had not been written, there would have been no benefit in mentioning Ya‘qoob ﷺ and singling him out from among the progeny of Ishaq ﷺ. And since he was singled out for special mention, it proves that they would be happy at his birth, just as they were happy at the birth of his father before him. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And We bestowed upon him Ishaq and Ya‘qoob, each of them We guided, and before him We guided Nooh. ﴾ (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:84)

The Story of the Building of the Ancient House

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) when the Lord of Ibraheem (i.e. Allah) tried him with (certain) Commands, which he fulfilled, He (Allah) said (to him), “Verily, I am going to make you a leader (Prophet) of mankind.” (Ibraheem) said, “And of my offspring (will You make leaders)?” (Allah) said, “My Covenant (Prophethood, etc.) includes not zalimoon.” And (remember) when We made the House (the Ka'bah at Makkah) a place of resort for mankind and a place of safety? And take you (people) the Maqam (standing place) of Ibraheem (or the stone on which Ibraheem stood while he was building the Ka'bah) as a place of prayer (for some of your prayers, e.g. two rak'ahs after the tawaf of the Ka'bah at Makkah). And We commanded Ibraheem and Isma'eel that they should purify My House (the Ka'bah at Makkah) for those who are circumambulating it, or staying (i'tikaf), or bowing or prostrating themselves (there, in prayer). And (remember) when Ibraheem said, “My Lord, make this city (Makkah) a place of security and provide its people with fruits, such of them as believe in Allah and the Last Day.” He (Allah) answered, “As for him who disbelieves, I shall leave him in contentment for a while, then I shall compel him to the punishment of the Fire, and worst indeed is that destination!” And (remember) when Ibraheem and (his son) Isma'eel were raising the foundations of the House (the Ka'bah at Makkah), (saying), “Our Lord! Accept (this service) from us. Verily! You are the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing. Our Lord! And make us submissive unto You and of our offspring a nation submissive unto You, and show us our manasik (all the ceremonies of pilgrimage - Hajj and 'Umrah, etc.), and accept our repentance. Truly, You are the One Who accepts repentance, the Most Merciful. Our Lord! Send amongst them a Messenger of their own (and indeed Allah answered their invocation by sending Muhammad [peace be upon him]), who shall recite unto them Your Verses and instruct them in the Book (this Qur'an) and Al-Hikmah (full knowledge of the Islamic laws and jurisprudence or wisdom or Prophethood, etc.), and sanctify them. Verily! You are the Almighty, the Most Wise.” ﴿ Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:124-129). Allah, Most High, informs us concerning His slave, His Messenger, His Pure One and His Khaleel, the Imam of the Hunafa' <sup>(1)</sup> and the father of the Prophets ﷺ, that he built the Ancient House, which was the first mosque built for the generality of mankind to worship Allah. Allah guided him to the location in which it was to be built; and we have already narrated on the authority of the Commander of the Faithful, 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib ؑ, and others that he was guided to it by Inspiration from Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. We have already mentioned in the description of the creation of the heavens that the Ka'bah, is directly below Al-Baitul-Ma'moor, so that if it fell, it would fall upon it; and the same applies to the houses of worship in the seven heavens.

As some of the Salaf said, in every heaven there is a house in which the inhabitants worship Allah and they are like the Ka'bah for the people of the Earth. So Allah commanded Ibraheem ﷺ to build a house for Him, which would be for the inhabitants of the Earth, like those places of prayer for the angels of the heavens. Allah guided him to the place prepared for the building of the house, which had been selected for it since the creation of the heavens and the Earth, as confirmed in the Saheeh: “Verily, this city was made sacrosanct by Allah on the day of the creation of the heavens and the Earth and it will remain sacred by Allah’s Command until the Day of Resurrection.” <sup>(2)</sup> No information has come to us from an authentic source which would confirm that the House was built before Al-Khaleel ﷺ. Whoever relied for evidence on the Words of Allah: ﴿ the site of the (Sacred) House ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hajj 22:26), this is neither conclusive nor evident. Because what is meant is the place preordained by Allah – a location venerated by the Prophets from Adam ﷺ until the time of Ibraheem ﷺ.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, the first House (of worship) appointed for mankind was that at Bakkah (Makkah), full of blessing, and a guidance for 'Alameen. ﴾ (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:96). That is, the first House appointed for the generality of mankind for blessing and guidance was the House which was in Bakkah; it was said that Bakkah means Makkah and it was also said that Bakkah was the location of the Ka'bah. ﴿ In it are manifest signs ﴾ (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:97). That is, it is the construction of Ibraheem ﷺ, the father of the Prophets who came after him and the Imam of the Hunafa' from his sons, who followed his example and held fast to his Sunnah. This is why He says, ﴿ the Maqam (place) of Ibraheem ﴾ (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:97). That is, the stone on which he stood when he raised the structure above his own height; his son placed this well-known stone for him to stand on, so that he would be tall enough when the building reached a height that was beyond his reach, as mentioned previously in the long hadeeth of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ. <sup>(1)</sup>

This stone was situated beside the wall of the Ka'bah in ancient times, until the time of 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ; he moved it back a little from the House, so that it should not disturb the worshippers, as they circumambulated the House. 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ was followed in this because his opinion had coincided with the Ordainments of his Lord in a number of matters, such as his saying to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, “Were we to take Maqam Ibraheem as a place of prayer...” Then Allah revealed: ﴿ And take you (people) the Maqam (place) of Ibraheem (or the stone on which Ibraheem stood while he was building the Ka’bah) as a place of prayer ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:125). The footprints of Al-Khaleel ﷺ had remained in the stone from the beginning of Islam and Abu Talib said in his well-known poem, “Al-Qaseedah Al-Lamiyyah”:

(1) The takhreej of this hadeeth has already been given a short while ago.

And Thawr Cave and he who held fast with perseverance to his position,

And proved superior in piety in Hira’ and remained there,

And by the House, the true House in the center of Makkah,

And by Allah, truly, Allah is not unaware,

And by the Black Stone, when they touch it,

When they surround it in the forenoon and the late afternoon,

And the place of Ibraheem is visible in the wet stone,

Of his feet, barefoot, without shoes.

This means that his noble feet were impressed in the stone, showing the prints of bare feet, without shoes. This is why Allah says, ﴿ And (remember) when Ibraheem and (his son) Isma’eel were raising the foundations of the House ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:127) That is, at the time when they said, ﴿ “Our Lord! Accept (this service) from us. Verily! You are the All-hearing, the All-Knowing.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:127) They were at the highest levels of sincere devotion and obedience to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful when they asked Allah, the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing to accept from them this great act of obedience and praiseworthy endeavor. ﴿ “Our Lord! And make us submissive unto You and of our offspring a nation submissive unto You, and show us our Manasik (all the ceremonies of pilgrimage - Hajj and 'Umrah, etc.), and accept our repentance. Truly, You are the One Who accepts repentance, the Most Merciful." ﴿ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:128)

What is meant by this is that Al-Khaleel ﷺ built the noblest of mosques in the noblest of locations, in an uncultivated valley and he supplicated on behalf of his family that they be blessed and given sustenance from the fruits, even though there was little water and no trees, cultivation or fruits. They asked Him to make it a Sacred Place, a Sanctuary and a place of safety for all time. Allah accepted their supplication – all praise and thanks be to Him – He gave Al-Khaleel ﷺ what he had requested. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Have they not seen that We have made (Makkah) a sanctuary secure, and that men are being snatched away from all around them? ﴾ (Soorah Al-'Ankaboot 29:67) He says, ﴿ Have We not established for them a secure sanctuary (Makkah), to which are brought fruits of all kinds, a provision from Ourselves? ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:57) Ibraheem ﷺ asked Allah to send to them Messengers from among them. That is, from their race and speaking their eloquent language, full of sincere advice and admonishment, in order to complete upon them the two blessings of the life of this world and the Hereafter. Allah accepted this supplication from him and sent from among them a Messenger – and what a Messenger it was that was the Seal of His Prophets and His Messengers! He granted him a complete Religion that had never been given to anyone before him. His preaching was directed to all of the people of the earth, including people from all races, languages and descriptions and from all countries, cities and times, until the Day of Resurrection! This was one of the special attributes and privileges granted to him alone among the Prophets, due to his innate nobility, the completeness of the Message with which he was sent, the nobility of his location (i.e. Makkah), the eloquence of his speech, the complete solicitude that he displayed toward his people, his kindness, his compassion, his generous nature, his great birth and his fine beginning and end.

This is why Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel ﷺ, as the builder of the Ka'bah for the inhabitants of the Earth, deserved to have an exalted position in the highest heaven, near Al-Baitul-Ma'moor, which is the Ka'bah for the inhabitants of the seventh heaven and that is a blessed house, which is entered by seventy thousand angels every day; therein they worship, never to return to it until the Day of Resurrection. We have already mentioned in the Tafseer of Soorah Al-Baqarah the description of his building of the House (of Allah) and the stories and traditions which contain plenty of information, so whoever wishes to know more should refer to the Tafseer, all praise and thanks be to Allah.

The edifice erected by Al-Khaleel ﷺ remained for a long time, then after that, it was rebuilt by Quraish, who shortened the foundations of Ibraheem ﷺ on the northern aspect, which faces Ash-Sham (Syria), as it is today. In the Saheehain, it is reported on the authority of 'A'ishah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Do you know that when your people (Quraish) rebuilt the Ka'bah, they decreased it from its original foundation laid by Ibraheem?" I said, "O, Messenger of Allah! Why do you not rebuild it on its original foundation laid by Ibraheem?" He replied, "Were it not for the fact that your people are close to the pre-Islamic Period of Ignorance (i.e. they have recently become Muslims) I would have spent the treasure of the Ka'bah in Allah's Cause and I would have made its door near to the ground and included Al-Hijr in it." (1) It was also rebuilt by Ibn Az-Zubair – may Allah have mercy on him – during his time, according to what had been indicated by the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, based on the information given to him by his aunt, ‘A’ishah, the Mother of the Believers, which she relayed from him ﷺ. When Al-Hajjaj killed him in the year 73 A.H., he wrote to ‘Abdul Malik Ibn Marwan, who was the Caliph at that time. They thought that Ibn Az-Zubair had done it of his own accord and so Marwan ordered it to be returned to the way it had been before and so they demolished the wall that faced toward Ash-Sham and removed Al-Hijr from it, then they filled in the wall and put the stones inside the Ka’bah, raised its eastern door and blocked the western one completely, as one sees it today. Then, when they were informed that Ibn Az-Zubair had only this based on what ‘A’ishah, the Mother of the Believers, had told him, they regretted what they had done and wished that they had left it as they had found it. Then during the era of Al-Mahdi Ibn Al-Mansoor, he sought the advice of Imam Malik Ibn Anas regarding the idea of returning it to the way Ibn Az-Zubair had rebuilt it, but he said to him, “I fear that the rulers will take it as a plaything.” That is, whenever a new ruler comes to power, he will rebuild according to his own whim. And so it remained as it was up to the present day.

Mention of the Praise Heaped on Allah’s Slave and Khaleel, Ibraheem, by Allah and His Messenger

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) when the Lord of Ibraheem (i.e. Allah) tried him with (certain) Commands, which he fulfilled. He (Allah) said (to him), “Verily, I am going to make you a leader (Prophet) of mankind.” (Ibraheem) said,

“And of my offspring (to make leaders).” (Allah) said, “My Covenant (Prophethood, etc.) includes not the zalimoon.” ﴿ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:124). When he fulfilled the obligations enjoined on him by his Lord, He made him a leader of his people, who followed his example and his guidance. Ibraheem ﷺ then asked Allah to let this leadership continue because of him and to let it remain within his lineage; and this thing which he asked for and craved was granted. Leadership was granted to him, but excepted from acquiring it were the wrongdoers; and those selected to receive it from his offspring were the scholars and those who performed righteous deeds. Allah, Most High says, ﴿ And indeed, We sent Nooh and Ibraheem, and placed in their offspring Prophethood and Scripture, and among them there is he who is guided, but many of them are fasiqoon (rebellious, disobedient to Allah) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hadeed 57:26) So every Scripture sent down from the heaven to one of the Prophets who came after Ibraheem ﷺ, Al-Khaleel, was sent to one of his offspring and his followers. This was an honor that was unique and without parallel and a rank and status without equal. From his loins were born two great sons: Isma'eel ﷺ from Hajar and then Ishaq ﷺ from Sarah. From the latter was born Ya'qoob ﷺ, who was Isra'eel, from whom all of their tribes claim descent. Among them were Prophets and they were very numerous, so much so that it is impossible for us to know their exact number, except those whom He sent and selected to receive a Message, along with his Prophethood – and the last of them was 'Eesa ﷺ, the son of Maryam, who was from Banu Isra'eel.

As for Isma'eel ﷺ, from him descended the Arabs, including all of their diverse tribes, as we shall make clear later on, if Allah, Most High, wills. And there were no Prophets among his descendants except the Seal of the Prophets, Muhammad Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib Ibn Hashim Al-Qurashi, Al-Hashimi, Al-Makki (the Makkan), then Al-Madani (Madinite) – may Allah’s Blessings and Peace be upon him. From this noble branch there was only this one dazzling, glittering and splendid jewel and the outstanding piece de resistance, who was the Leader of whom Ahl ul-Jam’ are proud and whom the first and the last will envy on the Day of Resurrection.

It has been authentically reported from him ﷺ in Saheeh Muslim that he said, “(On the Day of Resurrection) I will occupy a position (so elevated) that all of creation will turn to me, even Ibraheem.”<sup>(1)</sup> And he praised his father, Ibraheem ﷺ highly in this context. This saying of his proves that he (Ibraheem) is the best of creation after the Prophet ﷺ, in the Estimation of the Creator – both in the life of this world and in the Hereafter.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to seek Refuge with Allah for Al-Hasan and Al-Husain and say, “Your forefather (i.e. Ibraheem) used to seek Refuge with Allah for Isma‘eel and Ishaq by reciting the following: ‘O, Allah! I seek Refuge with Your Perfect Words from every devil and from poisonous pests and from every evil, harmful, envious eye.’”<sup>(2)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) when Ibraheem said, “My Lord! Show me how You give life to the dead.” He (Allah) said, “Do you not believe?” He (Ibraheem) said, “Yes (I believe), but to be stronger in faith.” He said, “Take four birds, then cause them to incline toward you (then slaughter them, cut them into pieces), and then put a portion of them on every hill, and call them, they will come to you in haste. And know that Allah is Almighty, Most Wise.” ﴿ Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:260) Scholars of Tafseer said that there were reasons for this question, which we have explained in the Tafseer and we established them beyond doubt.

In short, we may say that Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, answered his question and ordered him to take four birds – scholars differed as to the type of birds – but the objective was attained at all events – and He commanded him to slaughter them, remove their feathers, tear the birds to pieces and mix the pieces together. Then he was ordered to place parts of these mixed pieces on four hills. This he did and then he was ordered to call them, by his Lord’s Permission. When he called them, Allah caused the pieces to fly to each other and each feather went to the body to which it belonged, until the bodies of the birds were joined together once more and he observed the Ability of the One Who says, “Be!” and it is. They came running to him, so that the matter should be even clearer to him than if they had come to him flying. It was said that he was ordered to take their heads in his hands and each bird came to him to collect its head from Ibraheem ﷺ and it became fixed to its body as it had been, thus proving that none has the right to be worshipped except Allah. Ibraheem ﷺ had known, with a certainty that admitted of no doubt, the Ability of Allah, Most High, to resurrect the dead, but he wanted to witness that for himself and progress from certain knowledge to eye-witness knowledge. So Allah agreed to his request and gratified his ultimate wish.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ O, People of the Scripture (Jews and Christians)! Why do you dispute about Ibraheem, while the Tawrah (Torah) and the Injeel (Gospel) were not revealed till after him? Have you then no sense? Verily, you are those who have disputed about that of which you have knowledge. Why do you then dispute concerning that which you have no knowledge? It is Allah Who knows, and you know not. Ibraheem was neither a Jew nor a Christian, but he was a true Muslim Hanifan (Islamic Monotheism – to worship none but Allah, Alone) and he was not of al-mushrikoon. Verily, among the mankind who have the best claim to Ibraheem are those who followed him, and this Prophet (Muhammad ﷺ) and those who have believed (Muslims). And Allah is the Wali (Protector and Helper) of the Believers. ﴿ Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:65-68) Allah, Most High, rebukes the People of the Scripture, the Jews and Christians, regarding each group's claim that Ibraheem ﷺ was an adherent of their religion. He declares him innocent of that and made clear how ignorant they were and how little intelligence they possessed in His Words: ﴿ While the Tawrah (Torah) and the Injeel (Gospel) were not revealed till after him? Have you then no sense? ﴾ (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:65) So how could he have followed your religion when what was legislated for you was only legislated many long ages after him? This is why He says, ﴿ Have you then no sense? ﴾ - up to His Words: ﴿ Ibraheem was neither a Jew nor a Christian, but he was a true Muslim Hanifan (Islamic Monotheism – to worship none but Allah, Alone) and he was not of al-mushrikoon. ﴾ (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:65-67)

So He made clear that Ibraheem ﷺ followed the true Religion of Islamic Monotheism, which is to have sincere intention to devote oneself to the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners and to intentionally turn away from that which is false, in favor of the truth, which contradicts Judaism, Christianity and paganism. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And who turns away from the religion of Ibraheem (i.e. Islamic Monotheism) except him who befools himself? Truly, We chose him in this world and verily, in the Hereafter he will be among the righteous. When his Lord said to him, "Submit (i.e. be a Muslim)!" He said, "I have submitted myself (as a Muslim) to the Lord of the 'Alameen." And this (submission to Allah, Islam) was enjoined by Ibraheem upon his sons and by Ya'qoob, (saying), "O, my sons! Allah has chosen for you the (true) Religion, then die not except in the faith of Islam (as Muslims – Islamic Monotheism)." Or were you witnesses when death approached Ya'qoob? When he said unto his sons, "What will you worship after me?" They said, "We shall worship your Ilah (God – i.e. Allah), the Ilah (God) of your fathers, Ibraheem, Isma'eel, Ishaq, One Ilah (God), and to Him we submit (in Islam)." That was a nation who have passed away. They shall receive the reward of what they earned and you of what you earn. And you will not be asked of what they used to do. And they say, "Be Jews or Christians, then you will be guided." Say (to them, O, Muhammad), "Nay, (We follow) only the Religion of Ibraheem, Hanifan (Islamic Monotheism, i.e. to worship none but Allah, Alone), and he was not of al-mushrikoon (those who worshipped others along with Allah." Say (O, Muslims), "We believe in Allah and that which has been sent down to us and that which has been sent down to Ibraheem, Isma'eel, Ishaq, Ya'qoob, and to Al-Asbat (the twelve sons of Ya'qoob [Jacob]), and that which has been given to Moosa (Moses) and 'Eesa (Jesus), and that which has been given to the Prophets from their Lord. We make no distinction between any of them, and to Him we have submitted (in Islam)." So if they believe in the like of that which you believe, then they are rightly guided, but if they turn away, then they are only in opposition. So Allah will suffice you against them. And He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing. (Our Sibghah [Religion] is) the Sibghah (Religion) of Allah (Islam) and which Sibghah (Religion) can be better than Allah's? And we are His worshippers. (Tafseer Ibn Katheer) Say (Muhammad to the Jews and Christians), "Dispute you with us about Allah while He is our Lord and your Lord? And we are to be rewarded for our deeds and you for your deeds. And we are sincere to Him in worship and obedience (i.e. we worship Him Alone and none else, and we obey His Orders)." Or say you that Ibraheem, Isma'eel, Ishaq, Ya'qoob and Al-Asbat (the twelve sons of Ya'qoob) were Jews or Christians? Say, "Do you know better or does Allah (knows better... that they all were Muslims)? And who is more unjust than he who conceals the testimony (i.e. to believe in Prophet Muhammad ﷺ when he comes, written in their Books) he has from Allah? And Allah is not unaware of what you do." ﴿ Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:130-140) So Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful declared His Khaleel innocent of their claim, that he was a Jew or a Christian and made clear that he was only a Haneef – a Muslim and he was not one of the polytheists, which is why He says, ﴿ Verily, among mankind who have the best claim to Ibraheem are those who followed him ﴾ (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:68) That is, those who followed his Religion and obeyed him during his lifetime and those who held fast to his Religion after them ﴿ and this Prophet ﴾ (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:68). That is, Muhammad ﷺ, because Allah legislated for him the Haneef Religion, which He legislated for Al-Khaleel and He completed it for him, giving to him that which He had not given to any Prophet or Messenger before him, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ Say (o, Muhammad), "Truly, my Lord has guided me to a Straight Path, a right religion, the religion of Ibraheem, Hanifan (i.e. the true Islamic Monotheism – to believe in One God [Allah i.e. to worship none but Allah, Alone]) and he was not of al-mushrikoon." Say (O, Muhammad), "Verily, my salah (prayer), my sacrifice, my living and my dying are for Allah, the Lord of the 'Alameen. He has no partner. And of this I have been commanded and I am the first of the Muslims.' ) (Soorah Al-An'am 6:161-163)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, Ibraheem was an Ummah (a leader having all the good righteous qualities), or a nation, obedient to Allah, Hanifan (i.e. to worship none but Allah), and he was not one of those who were al-mushrikoon. (He was) thankful for His (Allah's) Graces. He (Allah) chose him and guided him to a Straight Path (Islamic Monotheism, neither Judaism nor Christianity). And We gave him good in this world, and in the Hereafter he shall be of the righteous. Then, We have inspired you (O, Muhammad, saying), "Follow the Religion of Ibraheem Hanifan (Islamic Monotheism – to worship none but Allah) and he was not of the mushrikoon ) (Soorah An-Nahl 16:120-123).

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ that when the Prophet ﷺ saw the pictures in the House (of Allah), he would not enter it until he had ordered them to be erased; and he saw (pictures of) Ibraheem ؑ and Isma'eel ؑ, holding divining arrows in their hands. He said, "May Allah kill them! By Allah, they never cast lots with divining arrows."<sup>(1)</sup> It was not narrated by Muslim and in one of Al-Bukhari's wordings, it was written that he ﷺ said, "May Allah kill them! They knew full well that our Shaikh (i.e. Ibraheem ؑ) never cast lots with them."<sup>(2)</sup>

As for His saying: ﴿ an Ummah ), a role model, an Imam, rightly-guided, a caller to goodness and one who should be followed, ﴿ obedient to Allah ). That is, submissive to Him in all his affairs and all his doings. ﴿ Hanifan ﴾ means sincerely devoted, while being informed. ﴿ And he was not one of those who were al-mushrikoon. (He was) thankful for His (Allah's) Graces ﴾ (Soorah An-Nahl 16:120,121). That is, he expressed his gratitude to Allah with all of his bodily organs, including his heart, his tongue and the actions of his limbs. ﴿ He (Allah) chose him ﴾. That is, Allah chose him for Himself, selected him to be a Messenger and took him as His Khaleel. He combined for him the goodness of the life of this world and of the Hereafter. And He, Most High, says, ﴿ And who can be better in religion than one who submits his face (himself) to Allah (i.e. follows Allah's Religion of Islamic Monotheism); and he is a Muhsin (one who does good). And follows the Religion of Ibraheem Hanifan. And Allah did take Ibraheem (Ibraheem) as a Khaleel (an intimate friend) ﴾ (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:125). Allah, Most High, encourages us to obey Ibraheem ﷺ, because he was upon the correct Religion and the Straight Path and he fulfilled all that was enjoined upon him by his Lord and He, Most High praised him in His Words: ﴿ And of Ibraheem who fulfilled (or conveyed) all that (what Allah ordered him to do or convey) ﴾ (Soorah An-Najm 53:37). This is why Allah took him as His Khaleel. And khullah (from which the word khaleel is derived) means great love, as someone said,

*You have permeated (takhallalta) my soul,
And this is why the khaleel is called khaleel.*

Likewise, the Seal of the Prophets and the Master of the Messengers, Muhammad ﷺ also attained this high rank, as confirmed in the Saheehain and in other collections, in the hadeeth of Jundub Al-Bajali, 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr and 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood, who reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷻ that he said, “O, people! Verily, Allah has taken me as a Khaleel, just as He took Ibraheem as a Khaleel.”<sup>(1)</sup> And he also said in the last sermon that he gave: “O, people! If I were to take a Khaleel from among the people of the Earth, I would have taken Abu Bakr as a Khaleel, but (I,) your Companion, am Allah’s Khaleel.”<sup>(2)</sup> They both narrated it from the hadeeth of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri ﷺ.

Al-Hakim narrated in his Mustadrak, on the authority of Qatadah, who reported on the authority of ‘Ikrimah, who in turn reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ﷺ that he said, “Do you reject that Al-Khullah should have been for Ibraheem ﷺ, that Al-Kalam (Allah’s Speech) should have been for Moosa ﷺ and the vision for Muhammad ﷺ?”<sup>(3)</sup>

Allah mentioned him in many places in the Qur’an, praising him and lauding him; it was said that he was mentioned in thirty-five places, including fifteen mentions in Soorah Al-Baqarah alone. He is one the five Ulul-‘Azm,<sup>(4)</sup> whose names have been specified from among the Prophets in two Verses in Soorah Al-Ahzab and Soorah Ash-Shoora; and they are the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And (remember) when We took from the Prophets their covenant, and from you (O, Muhammad), and from Nooh, Ibraheem, Moosa and ‘Eesa, son of Maryam (Mary). We took from them a strong covenant ﴾ (Soorah Al-Ahzab 33:7) and His Words: ﴿ He (Allah) has ordained for you the same Religion (Islam) which He ordained for Nooh, and that which We have inspired in you (O, Muhammad), and that which We ordained for Ibraheem, Moosa and 'Eesa saying you should establish the Religion (i.e. to do what it orders you to do practically) and make no divisions in it (the Religion) (i.e. various religious sects). ﴿ (Soorah Ash-Shoora 42:13) He is also the noblest of Ulul-'Azm after Muhammad ﷺ and it is he whom he met in the seventh heaven, resting his back against Al-Baitul-Ma'moor, which is entered by seventy thousand angels every day, after which they never return to it again.

It is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: Someone said, "O, Messenger of Allah! Who is the noblest of people?" He said, "The most pious and God-fearing of you." He (the questioner) said, "It is not about this that we ask you." He said, "Then it is Yoosuf, the Prophet of Allah, and the son of a Prophet of Allah, the son of a Prophet of Allah, the son of Allah's Khaleel." They said, "It is not about this that we ask you." He said, "Then you are asking about the descent of the Arabs. Those who were the best in the pre-Islamic period of ignorance will be the best in Islam provided they comprehend the religious knowledge." (1)

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar ؓ that the Prophet ﷺ said, "The honorable, the son of the honorable, the son the honorable, the son of is Yoosuf, the son of Ya'qoob, the son of Ishaq, the son of Ibraheem." (2) highly important matters to cause them to neglect minor matters, and undertaking great obligations did not cause him to forget small ones.

‘Abdur-Razzaq reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And (remember) when the Lord of Ibraheem (i.e. Allah) tried him with (certain) Commands, which he fulfilled. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:124), “Allah tried him with (acts of) purification: five (acts) in the head and five in the body. As for those in the head, they were: trimming the moustache, rinsing the mouth, the siwak,<sup>(1)</sup> sniffing water into the nose and parting the hair; and in the body they were: clipping the nails, shaving the pubic region, circumcision, plucking the armpit hair and washing away the traces of feces and urine with water.” Ibn Abi Hatim narrated it.<sup>(2)</sup>

I say: And in the Saheehain it is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said, “Five practices are characteristics of the fitrah: circumcision, shaving the pubic region, clipping the nails, cutting the moustache short and plucking the hair from the armpits.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Al-Bazzar said, "And Ahmad Ibn Jameel Al-Marwazi told us that An-Nadr Ibn Shumail told him that Hamad Ibn Salamah said that he reported it on the authority of Simak, who reported it on the authority of 'Ikrimah, who reported it on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ." And he said, "We are unaware of anyone narrating this hadeeth on the authority of Hamad Ibn Salamah except Yazeed Ibn Haroon, An-Nadr Ibn Shumail and others and he narrated it in a mawqoof form. I say that were it not for this defect, it would be in accordance with the conditions required of an authentic hadeeth. But the compilers of the Saheeh did not narrate it.

The Description of Ibraheem ﷺ

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn 'Abdullah ؓ from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said, "The Prophets were shown to me and I saw that Moosa was a man like the men of the tribe of Shanoo'ah. I saw 'Eesa, the son of Maryam, and observed that the person he most closely resembled was 'Urwah Ibn Mas'ood. I saw Ibraheem and I observed that the person he most closely resembled was your Companion (i.e. the Prophet ﷺ himself). I saw Gabriel ؑ and I observed that the person he most closely resembled was Dihyah." <sup>(1)</sup> Imam Ahmad was alone in narrating it from this source and with this wording.

(1) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (14179).

Imam Ahmad also narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “I saw ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, Moosa and Ibraheem. As for ‘Eesa, he had a reddish complexion and curly hair and a broad chest. As for Moosa, he was a large man.” They asked him, “And (what about) Ibraheem?” He said, “Look at your Companion (meaning himself).”<sup>(1)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated that Mujahid said that when the people mentioned the Dajjal before Ibn ‘Abbas and said that he would have the word Kafir, (i.e. disbeliever) or the letters kaf, fa’, ra’ (the root of the Arabic verb to disbelieve) written on his forehead, he said, “I heard Ibn ‘Abbas saying, ‘I did not hear this, but the Prophet ﷺ said, If you want to see Ibraheem, then look at your Companion (i.e. the Prophet himself) but Moosa was a curly-haired, brown man (who used to ride) a red camel, the reins of which were made of date-palm fibers. It is as if I were now looking down a valley.”<sup>(2)</sup>

Mention of Ibraheem Al-Khaleel’s Death And What is Said Regarding His Age

Ibn ‘Asakir narrated numerous reports on the authority of more than one of the Salaf, regarding the traditions of the People of the Scripture describing how the Angel of Death came to Ibraheem ؑ, and Allah knows best about their authenticity. It was said that he died suddenly and that Dawood ؑ and Sulaiman ؑ also died suddenly, but what has been said by the People of the Scripture and others contradicts this. They said that Ibraheem ﷺ became ill and died when he was aged a hundred and seventy-five years. It was also said that he was aged ninety years at the time of his death and that he was buried in the cavern which was in the Hittite region of Hebron, near to his wife, Sarah, who was buried in the field of 'Afroon Al-Haith. His sons, Isma'eel ﷺ and Isaac ﷺ, undertook the task of burying him. There is also a report that provides evidence that he lived for two hundred years, according to Ibn Al-Kalbi.

Abu Hatim Ibn Hibban reported in his Saheeh on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said, "Ibraheem circumcised himself with a qaddoom (adz) when he was hundred and twenty years old – and he lived for eighty years after that." (1)

Then Ibn Hibban said, "Mention of the refutation of the claim of those who asserted that this tradition is not marfoo'. We were informed by Muhammad Ibn 'Abdullah Ibn Al-Junaid that he said: We were told Qutaibah Ibn Sa'eed that he said: We were told by Al-Laith, who reported on the authority of Ibn 'Ajlan, who in turn reported on the authority of his father, who reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, "Ibraheem circumcised himself when he was hundred and twenty years old and he lived for eighty years after that; and he circumcised himself with a qaddoom (adz)." (2)

I say: That which is in the Saheeh states that he circumcised himself when he had reached the age of eighty years, and in another narration, when he was eighty years old. And there is no contradiction in them regarding how long he lived afterward

Mention of the Sons of Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel, (May the Choicest Prayers and Blessings of Allah Be Upon Them)

The first son born to him was Isma'eel ﷺ, who was born of Hajar, the Egyptian Copt. Then Ishaq ﷺ was born to him from Sarah, who was the daughter of his paternal uncle. Then after her, he married the Qantoora the daughter of Yaqtuna Al-Kan'aniyah. She bore him six children: Zamran, Yashan, Madyan, Ishbak, and Shuah. The sixth was not named. After her, he married Hajoon, the daughter of Ameen, who bore him five children: Kaisan, Sooraj, Umaim, Lootan and Nafis. This is how Abul-Qasim As-Suhaili reported it in his book 'At-Ta'reef Wal-I'lam'.

Among the Great Events

That Occurred During the Lifetime of Ibraheem عليه السلام, Al-Khaleel is the Story of the People of Lot عليه السلام and the General Punishment That Befell Them

Loot عليه السلام had parted company with his uncle, Al-Khaleel عليه السلام, by his command and his permission and settled in the city of Sadoom (Sodom), in the land of Ghawr Zughar. It was the main city in the area and it contained land, workshops and villages which were attached to it. Its people included some of the most sinful and disbelieving people, harboring evil thoughts and wicked ideas. They practiced highway robbery and had illicit sex in their meeting places. There was no sin left that they did not indulge in. They committed sins which no man before them had committed, including: men having sexual relations with other men; abandoning the women whom Allah had created for His righteous slaves. Loot عليه السلام called upon them to worship Allah, Most High, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him and forbade them from indulging in these unlawful deeds and vile, shameless acts. But they persisted in their error and transgression and continued in their debauchery and disbelief and so Allah ordained a punishment for them which could not be rescinded, the like of which they had never imagined or expected. He made them an example to all of mankind and a warning to all men of intelligence. This is why Allah, Most High, mentioned their story in a number of places in His Book, such as His Words in Soorah Al-A'raf: ﴿And (remember) Loot, when he said to his people, "Do you commit the worst sin such as none preceding you has committed in the 'Alameen? Verily, you practice your lusts on men instead of women. Nay, but you are a people transgressing beyond bounds (by committing great sins)." And the answer of his people was only that they said, "Drive them out of your town, these are indeed men who want to be pure (from sins)!" Then We saved him and his family, except his wife; she was of those who remained behind (in the punishment). And We rained down on them a rain (of stones). Then see what was the end of the mujrimoon (criminals, polytheists, sinners, etc.) ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:80-84)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Hood, ﴿And verily, there came Our Messengers to Ibraheem with glad tidings. They said, Salam (greetings or peace)!" He answered, "Salam (greetings or peace)!" And he hastened to entertain them with a roasted calf. But when he saw their hands went not toward it (the meal), he felt some mistrust of them, and conceived a fear of them. They said, "Fear not, we have been sent against the people of Loot." And his wife was standing (there) and she laughed (either, because the Messengers did not eat their food or for being glad for the destruction of the people of Loot. But We gave her glad tidings of Ishaq and after him, of Ya'qoob. She said (in astonishment), "woe unto me! Shall I bear a child while I am an old woman, and here is my husband, an old man?

Verily! This is a strange thing!” They said, “Do you wonder at the Decree of Allah? The Mercy of Allah and His Blessings be on you, O, family (of Ibraheem). Surely, He (Allah) is Most Praiseworthy, Most Glorious.” Then when the fear had gone away from (the mind of) Ibraheem and the glad tidings had reached him, he began to plead with Us (Our Messengers) for the people of Loot. Verily, Ibraheem was, without doubt, forbearing, used to invoke Allah with humility, and was repentant (to Allah all the time, again and again). “O, Ibraheem! Forsake this. Indeed, the Commandment of your Lord has gone forth. Verily, there will come a torment for them which cannot be turned back.” And when Our Messengers came to Loot, he was grieved on their account and felt himself straitened for them (lest the townpeople should approach them to commit sodomy with them). He said, “This is a distressful day.” And his people came rushing toward him, and since aforetime they used to commit crimes (sodomy, etc.), he said, “O, my people! Here are my daughters (i.e. the daughters of my nation), they are purer for you (if you marry them lawfully). So fear Allah and degrade me not as regards my guests! Is there not among you a single right-minded man?” They said, “Surely you know that we have neither any desire nor are we in need of your daughters, and indeed you know well what we want!” He said, “Would that I had strength (men) to overpower you, or that I could betake myself to some powerful support (to resist you).” They (the Messengers) said, “O, Loot! Verily, we are the Messengers from your Lord! They shall not reach you! So travel with your family in a part of the night and let not any of you look back, but your wife (will remain behind), verily, the punishment which will afflict them will afflict her. Indeed, morning is their appointed time. Is not the morning near?” So when Our Commandment came, We turned (the towns of Sodom in Palestine) upside down, and rained on them stones of baked clay, piled up; marked from your Lord, and they are not ever far from the zalimoon. ﴿ (Soorah Hood 11:69-83)

He, Most High, says in Soorah An-Naml, ﴿ And (remember) Loot! When he said to his people, “Do you commit al-fahishah (evil, great sin, every kind of unlawful sexual intercourse, sodomy, etc.) while you see (one another doing evil without any screen, etc.)? Do you approach men in your lusts rather than women? Nay, but you are a people who behave senselessly.” There was no other answer given by his people except that they said, “Drive out the family of Loot from your city. Verily, these are men who want to be clean and pure!” So We saved him and his family, except his wife. We destined her to be of those who remained behind. And We rained down on them a rain (of stones). So evil was the rain of those who were warned.﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:54-58)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Adh-Dhariyat, after relating the story of the guests of Ibraheem ؑ and how they gave him the glad tidings of a son, ﴿ (Ibraheem) said, “Then for what purpose have you come, o, Messengers?” They said, “We have been sent to a people who are mujrimoon (polytheists, sinners, criminals, disbelievers in Allah), to send down upon them stones of baked clay, marked by your Lord for the musrifoon (polytheists, criminals, sinners those who trespass Allah’s set limits in evil-doing by committing great sins).” So We brought out from therein the Believers. But We found not there any household of the Muslims except one (i.e. Loot and his two daughters). And We have left there a sign (i.e. the place of the Dead Sea, well-known in Palestine) for those who fear the painful torment.﴾ (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:31-37)

the warnings. Verily, We sent against them a violent storm of stones (which destroyed them all), except the family of Loot, whom We saved in the last hour of the night, as a Favor from Us, thus do We reward him who gives thanks (by obeying Us). And he (Loot) indeed had warned them of Our Grasp, but they did doubt the warnings! And they indeed sought to shame his guests (by asking them to commit sodomy with them). So We blinded their eyes, “Then taste you My Torment and My Warnings.” And verily, an abiding torment seized them early in the morning. “Then taste you My Punishment and My Warnings.” And indeed, We have made the Qur’an easy to understand and remember, then is there any that will remember (or receive admonition)? ﴿ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:33-40)

When Loot عليه السلام called upon his people to worship Allah, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him and forbade them from committing the sins which Allah has described, they did not respond positively to his call, and not a single man from among them believed in him. Nor did they give up the sins that they had been forbidden from committing; instead, they continued as they had been, refusing to desist from their error and transgression and attempting to expel their Messenger from their midst. Their response to his address to them proved that they were a people without sense: ﴿ There was no other answer given by his people except that they said, “Drive out the family of Loot from your city. Verily, these are men who want to be clean and pure!” ﴾ (Soorah An-Naml 27:56) Thus they deemed the most commendable behavior to be blameworthy and requiring expulsion. Nothing compelled them to say this except their obduracy and stubbornness. Allah kept him and all of his family pure, except for his wife and He evacuated them from the city with the best evacuation and He left the rest of them to remain there. But after He had afflicted them with a stinking, fetid body of water, which had waves, but in reality, it was a blazing fire upon them and a burning heat and its water was salty and bitter. This was the repayment for the enormity and abomination which they had committed, which no people in this world had committed before them. This is why they were made an example and a warning to the people of the world. In addition to this, they used to practice highway robbery and betray their friends and they would utter and commit all sorts of evil words and deeds in their meeting places, to such an extent that it was said that they used to break wind in front of their companions in the meeting place and they would feel no shame or embarrassment toward them. It was also said that they used to commit the most shameful deeds in their gatherings and would not disdain to do so, nor did they pay heed to any warnings or advice given to them by those who possessed good sense. In their places and others, they were like animals, or even more astray. They refused to desist from what they were doing and they had no regrets for what they had done in the past. Nor did they show any desire to change in the future. So Allah seized them with a calamitous seizure. Among the things that they said to Loot عليه السلام was, ﴿ “Bring Allah’s Punishment upon us if you are one of the truthful.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-‘Ankaboot 29:29) So they requested of him the infliction of the painful punishment of which he had warned them. At that point, their noble Prophet ﷺ invoked Allah against them and asked the Lord of the Worlds and the Ilah (God) of the Messengers that He help him against the depraved people. So Allah was Jealous for his jealousy and Angry for his anger and He answered his supplication and sent His noble Messengers, His Mighty angels and they visited Al-Khaleel, Ibraheem عليه السلام, and gave him the glad tidings of the birth of an intelligent son and they also informed him of the purpose for which they had come:

«(Ibraheem) said, “Then for what purpose you have come, O, Messengers?” They said, “We have been sent to a people who are mujrimoon to send down upon them stones of baked clay, marked by your Lord for the musrifoon.” » (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:31-34)

He, Most High, says, « Then, when the fear had gone away from (the mind of) Ibraheem and the glad tidings had reached him, he began to plead with Us (Our Messengers) for the people of Loot » (Soorah Hood 11:74). This was because he hoped that they would repent to Allah, submit to Him and desist from their sinful ways.

This is why Allah, Most High, says, « Verily, Ibraheem was, without doubt, forbearing, used to invoke Allah with humility, and was repentant (to Allah all the time, again and again). “O, Ibraheem! Forsake this. Indeed, the Commandment of your Lord has gone forth. Verily, there will come a punishment for them which cannot be turned back.” » (Soorah Hood 11:75,76) That is, desist from this and speak of something else, because their fate has been decided and their punishment, destruction and annihilation are inevitable. « “Indeed, the Commandment of your Lord has gone forth.” ». That is, He Whose Command cannot be rescinded, Whose Punishment cannot be turned back and Whose Judgement cannot be questioned, has given His Command: « “Verily, there will come a punishment for them which cannot be turned back.” » (Soorah Hood 11:76)

The scholars of tafseer said that when the angels, i.e. Gabriel, Meeka'eel and Israfeel, departed from Ibraheem's presence, they continued until they reached the land of Sadoom (Sodom), where they assumed the form of handsome men, as a test from Allah, Most High, for the people of Loot ﷻ and in order to establish the evidence against them. They sought hospitality with Loot عليه السلام and this was just before sunset. Loot عليه السلام feared that if he did not offer them hospitality, some other person from among his people would do so and he believed them to be human beings. ﴿ He was grieved on their account and felt himself straitened for them (lest the townspeople should approach them to commit sodomy with them). He said, "This is a distressful day." ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:77) ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas رضي الله عنه, Mujahid, Qatadah and Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said that it means a day of severe trial and tribulation. This was because he knew that he might not be able to defend them when night fell from what had befallen others at his peoples’ hands. They had ordered him not to grant hospitality to anyone, but considered that it was unavoidable.

Qatadah stated that they arrived while he was working on the land and they sought hospitality from him. He was embarrassed before them and tried to persuade them to leave this town and seek shelter in another. He said to them, “O, people! I know not of any people on the face of the earth wickeder than the people of this city.” Then he walked a little way, and then he repeated these words four times. He (Qatadah) said that they (the angels) had been commanded (by Allah) not to destroy them until their Prophet had borne witness to that effect.

As-Suddi said: The angels departed from Ibraheem’s presence and headed for the people of Loot عليه السلام and they arrived there in the middle of the day. When they reached the River Sodom, they met the daughter of Loot عليه السلام, who was drawing water for her family. He had two daughters, the elder of whom was named Areetha, while the younger was named Daghootha. They said to her, “O, young girl! Do you know of any place where we can find accommodation?” She said, “Remain here! Do not enter (the city) until I come to you.” She feared that some ill might befall them at the hands of her people and so she went to her father and said to him, "O, my father! Some young men are asking for you at the gates of the city; I have never seen more handsome faces of any men than theirs. Let not your people take them and dishonor them." His people had forbidden him from giving hospitality to any man, but he took them in secret and no one knew of their presence except his family. But his wife went out and informed his people of them, saying, "In Loot's house there are men, the like of whose beautiful faces I have never seen." Then his people came hastening angrily to him. Allah says, ﴿ and since aforetime they used to commit crimes (sodomy, etc.) ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:78) That is, this was in addition to the many major sins they had committed. ﴿ O, my people! Here are my daughters (i.e. the daughters of my nation), they are purer for you (if you marry them lawfully) ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:78) He forbade them from committing such indecent acts and bore witness that there was not a single right-minded and intelligent man among them, nor any good person; on the contrary, he averred that all of them were foolish, terribly debauched, arrogant disbelievers. This was just what the angels wanted to hear from him before they asked him about it. His people – may Allah's Curse be upon them – said, in answer to what their Prophet ﷺ had ordered them to do, ﴿ "They said: Surely you know that we have neither any desire nor are we in need of your daughters, and indeed you know well what we want!" ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:79) They said – may Allah's Curse be on them "O, Loot! You know that we have no desire for women and verily, you know full well what we desire (i.e. men)." They addressed these wicked words to their noble Messenger and they did not fear the infliction of Allah's painful punishment. This is why Loot ﷺ said, ﴿ "Would that I had strength (men) to overpower you, or that I could betake myself to some powerful support (to resist you).” ﴿ (Soorah Hood 11:80) He wished that he had the strength to overcome them or the ability to resist them and kin to help him against them, in order to inflict on them the punishment they deserved for these words they had spoken. It is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ in a marfoo' form that he said, “We are more liable to be in doubt than Ibraheem when he said, ﴿ “My Lord! Show me how You give life to the dead.” . He (i.e. Allah) said, “Don't you believe then?” He (i.e. Ibraheem) said, “Yes, but (I ask) in order to be stronger in faith.” ﴿ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:260) May Allah send His Mercy on Loot! He wished to have a powerful support. If I were to stay in prison for such a long time, as Yoosuf did, I would have accepted the offer (of freedom without insisting on having my guiltlessness declared).” It is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said, “May Allah have mercy on Lot; he wished that he could betake himself to some powerful support (to resist them). (Meaning Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful). Allah did not send a Prophet after him except that he was from the wealthy among his people.” <sup>(1)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And the inhabitants of the city came rejoicing (at the news of the young men's arrival). (Loot) said, “Verily! These are my guests, so shame me not. And fear Allah and disgrace me not.” They (the people of the city) said, “Did we not forbid you to entertain (or protect) any of the 'Alameen (people, foreigners, strangers, etc. from us)?” (Loot) said, “These (the girls of the nation) are my daughters (to marry lawfully), if you must act (so).” ﴿ (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:67-71)

He ordered them to have sexual relations with their women lawfully and warned them against continuing on the path they were following and the sins they were committing. But they did not cease and disregarded his words. Instead, the more he forbade them, the more strenuous became their efforts to reach the guests and the more excited they became. But they did not know the fate that had been decreed for them and to which they were heading. This is why Allah, Most High, says, swearing by the life of His Prophet, Muhammad ﴿Verily, by your life (O, Muhammad), in their wild intoxication, they were wandering blindly﴾ (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:72) He, Most High, says, ﴿And he (Loot) indeed had warned them of Our Grasp, but they did doubt the warnings! And they indeed sought to shame his guests (by asking to commit sodomy with them). So We blinded their eyes, “Then taste you My Torment and My Warnings.” And verily, an abiding punishment seized them early in the morning﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:36-38)

Scholars of tafseer and others have said that the Prophet of Allah, Loot ؑ, tried to prevent his people from entering and resisted them; the door was locked and they were trying to open it and enter through it. Loot ؑ warned them to desist and forbade them from behind the door, while they tried to force entry from outside. When the situation became straitened for him, he said, ﴿“Would that I had strength (men) to overpower you, or that I could betake myself to some powerful support (to resist you).”﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:80) That is, I would inflict the punishment on you. The angels said, ﴿“O, Loot! Verily, we are the Messengers from your Lord! They shall not reach you!”﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:81)

The scholars) said that Gabriel ؑ attacked them and struck their faces with the edge of his wing and their sight was removed. Indeed, it was even said that their eyes were completely effaced, leaving no trace. They returned to their homes, feeling the walls and threatening the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and saying, “In the morning, we will deal with him.” Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And they indeed sought to shame his guests (by asking to commit sodomy with them). So We blinded their eyes, “Then taste you My Punishment and My Warnings.” And verily, an abiding punishment seized them early in the morning. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:37,38) This was after the angels had approached Loot ﷺ and commanded him to travel in the latter part of the night with his family and they commanded them that none should look back, i.e. when they heard the sound of the punishment being inflicted on Loot’s people. As for His Words: ﴿ except your wife ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:81) if the word for “wife” is read in Arabic as imra’atak, then it is possible that the meaning is that his wife was excepted from the command: ﴿ “So travel with your family in a part of the night.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:81), as if it was being said, “except your wife, do not make the journey by night with her.” It is also possible that it is from His Words: ﴿ and let not any of you look back, except your wife ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:81) That is, she will certainly look back and that which will afflict them will afflict her also. This interpretation is strengthened by the recitation of the word “wife” in Arabic as imra’atak. However, the former is more apparent in meaning. And Allah knows better.

As for His Words: ﴿ and We rained on them stones of baked clay, piled up ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:82) The word sijjeel is an Arabicised Persian word and it means forceful, hard and strong. ﴿ Piled up ﴾ that is, falling one upon another upon them from the sky. ﴿ Marked ﴾ that is, the stones were marked and sealed, all of them having the names of their victims written on them, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ Marked by your Lord for the musrifoon (polytheists, criminals, sinners those who trespass Allah’s set limits in evil-doings by committing great sins) ﴿ (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:34) and as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And We rained on them a rain (of punishment). And how evil was the rain of those who had been warned ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:173) And He, Most High, says, ﴿ And He destroyed the overthrown cities (of Sodom to which Prophet Loot was sent). So there covered them that which did cover ﴾ (Soorah An-Najm 53:53,54) That is, he inverted them and dropped them face down and then covered them with a deluge of stones from sijjeel, which followed one upon another, each one of them marked with the name of the person among those present in the city upon whom it would fall and also upon those who were absent on journeys, those in distant lands and those who were isolated from it. It was said that the wife of Loot عليه السلام remained with her people and it was also said that she set out with her husband and her two daughters, but when she heard the shout and the falling of the city, she turned round toward her people, disobeying the Command of her Lord and said, "O, my people!" Then a rock fell on her and crushed her and she joined her people, since she followed their religion and she spied for them on the guests who stayed with Loot عليه السلام. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Allah sets forth an example for those who disbelieve, the wife of Nooh and the wife of Loot. They were under two of our righteous slaves, but they both betrayed (their husbands) so they (Nooh and Loot) benefited them (their respective wives) not, against Allah, and it was said, "Enter the Fire along with those who enter!" ﴾ (Soorah At-Tahreem 66:10). That is, betray them by not following their Religion; it does not mean that they used to commit adultery – Allah forbid that! Never! For Allah would not ordain for His Prophet that his wife should commit adultery, as 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas رضي الله عنه and other Imams among earlier and the later scholars said, "No wife of a Prophet ever committed adultery.” (2) And whoever claimed otherwise has committed a grave error.

Allah made the location of this city into a putrid sea, whose water provides no benefit and neither do the lands surrounding it, due to their ruin, their badness and poor quality. Thus they became a lesson, a warning and a sign of Allah’s Omnipotence, His Greatness and His Power in inflicting retribution on those who disobey His Command, belie His Messengers and follow their own lusts. These verses are also a proof of His Mercy towards His believing slaves, in that He saved them from being among those who were destroyed and He brought them out from darkness into light, as He, Most High, says, « Verily, in this is an Ayah (proof or sign), yet most of them (polytheists, pagans, etc., who do not believe in the Resurrection) are not believers. And verily, your Lord! He is truly the Almighty, the Most Merciful » (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:8,9)

And He, Most High, says, « So As-Saihah (punishment - awful cry, etc.) overtook them at the time of sunrise; and We turned them (the towns of Sodom in Palestine) upside down and rained down on them stones of baked clay. Surely! In this are signs, for those who see (or understand or learn the lessons from the Signs of Allah). And verily, they (the cities) were right on the highroad (from Makkah to Syria i.e. the place where the Dead Sea is now). Surely! Therein is indeed a sign for the Believers » (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:73-77) That is, those who look with a keen and intuitive eye at them, can see how Allah changed that land and its people and how He destroyed it and flooded it, after it had been populated and made prosperous, as

(2) Narrated by Ibn ‘Asakir (14/636), on the authority of Ashras Al-Khurasani, in a marfoo’ form, though in Ad-Durr ul-Manthoor (6/245), As-Suyooti ascribed it to Ibn Al-Mundhir and said that it is mawqoof, being a saying of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ.

narrated by At-Tirmidhi and others in a marfoo' form: "Fear the keen eye of the Believer, for verily, it looks with the Light of Allah." Then he recited, "﴿ In this are signs, for those who see (or understand or learn the lessons from the Signs of Allah) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:75)." <sup>(3)</sup>

As for His Saying: ﴿ And verily, they (the cities) were right on the highroad (from Makkah to Syria i.e. the place where the Dead Sea is now) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:76) it means they were on a road that is broad and well travelled and it is so until now, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, you pass by them in the morning and at night; will you not then reflect? ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:137,138)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So We brought out from therein the Believers. But We found not there any household of the Muslims except one (i.e. Loot and his two daughters). And We have left there a sign (i.e. the place of the Dead Sea, well-known in Palestine) for those who fear the painful punishment ﴾ (Soorah Adh-Dhariyat 51:35-37). That is, We left it as a lesson and a warning for those who are afraid of the Punishment of the Hereafter; who fear the Most Merciful unseen and also fear the time when they will stand before their Lord (on the Day of Resurrection); who restrain their souls from evil desires and lusts, held back from committing those deeds which Allah has made unlawful, abandoned acts of disobedience and feared to resemble the people of Loot ﷺ. "Whoever imitates a people, he is one of them." <sup>(4)</sup> as someone said (in Al-Bahr ut-Taweel): Though you may not be the people of Loot themselves, still, the people of Loot are not that different from you.

(3) This is a weak hadeeth narrated by At-Tirmidhi (3127), on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ؓ.

(4) This hadeeth is hasan-saheeh; it was narrated by Abu Dawood on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar ؓ.

The discerning and intelligent person, who fears his Lord fulfills what Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful has enjoined upon him and he accepts that to which the Messenger of Allah has guided him, such as lawful sexual relations with wives and slave-girls who possess beauty. He should beware of following every rebellious devil, for then he will merit punishment and he will be included in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ and they are not ever far from the zalimoon (polytheists, evil-doers, etc.) ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:83)

The Story of the People of Shu'aib

Allah, Most High, says in Soorah Al-A'raf, after relating the story of the people of Loot, ﴿ And to (the people of) Madyan (Midian), (We sent) their brother Shu'aib. He said, "O, my people! Worship Allah! You have no other ilah (god) but Him (La ilaha illallah [none has the right to be worshipped but Allah]). Verily, a clear proof (sign) from your Lord has come unto you; so give full measure and full weight and wrong not men in their things, and do not commit mischief on the earth after it has been set in order, that will be better for you, if you are Believers. And sit not on every road, threatening, and hindering from the Path of Allah those who believe in Him and seeking to make it crooked. And remember when you were but few, and He multiplied you. And see what was the end of the mufsidoon (mischief-makers, corrupt people, liars). And if there is a party of you who believe in that with which I have been sent and a party who do not believe, be patient until Allah judges between us, and He is the Best of judges.” The chiefs of those who were arrogant among his people said, “We shall certainly drive you out, O, Shu’aib and those who have believed with you from our town, or else you (all) shall return to our religion.” He said, “Even though we hate it! We should have invented a lie against Allah if we returned to your religion, after Allah has rescued us from it. And it is not for us to return to it unless Allah, our Lord, should will. Our Lord comprehends all things in His Knowledge. In Allah (Alone) we put our trust. Our Lord! Judge between us and our people in truth, for You are the Best of those who give judgment.” The chiefs of those who disbelieved among his people said (to their people), “If you follow Shu’aib, be sure then you will be the losers!” So the earthquake seized them and they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes. Those who belied Shu’aib became as if they had never dwelt there (in their homes). Those who belied Shu’aib, they were the losers. Then he (Shu’aib) turned from them and said, “O, my people! I have indeed conveyed my Lord’s Messages unto you and I have given you good advice. Then how can I sorrow for the disbelieving people’s (destruction).” (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:85-93)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Ash-Shu’ara’, after relating their story, ﴿ The dwellers of Al-Aikah (near Madyan) belied the Messengers. When Shu’aib said to them, “Will you not fear Allah (and obey Him)? I am a trustworthy Messenger to you. So fear Allah, keep your duty to Him, and obey me. No reward do I ask of you for it (my Message of Islamic Monotheism), my reward is only from the Lord of the ‘Alameen. Give full measure, and cause no loss (to others). And weigh with a true and straight balance. And defraud not people by reducing their things, nor do evil, making corruption and mischief in the land. And fear Him Who created you and the generations of the men of old.” They said, “You are only one of those bewitched! You are but a human being like us and verily, we think that you are one of the liars! So cause a piece of the heaven to fall on us, if you are of the truthful!” He said, “My Lord is the Best Knower of what you do.” But they belied him, so the torment of the day of shadow (a gloomy cloud) seized them, indeed that was the torment of a Great Day. Verily, in this is indeed a sign, yet most of them are not believers. And verily! Your Lord, He is indeed the Almighty, the Most Merciful ﴿Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:176-191﴾.

The people of Madyan were Arab people and they dwelled in the city of Madyan, which was in the land of Mu‘an, on the border of Ash-Sham, near to the region of Hijaz, and not far from the lake of the people of Loot ﴿﴾ – and they lived not long after them. Madyan was a tribe after whom the city was named. They were from the tribe of Madyan, son of Madyaan, son of Ibraheem Al-Khaleel ﴿﴾ and Shu‘aib ﴿﴾ was their Prophet; he was the son of Meekeel Ibn Yashjan (Jokshan), according to Ibn Ishaq. He said, “In the Syriac language he was called Bathroon.” But there is some doubt about this. It was also said that he was Shu‘aib Ibn Yashjan Ibn Lawai (Levi) Ibn Ya‘qoob (Jacob). It was also said that he was Shu‘aib Ibn Thuwaib Ibn ‘Abqa Ibn Madyan Ibn Ibraheem (Ibraheem). And it was said that he was Shu‘aib Ibn ‘Saifoor Ibn ‘Abqa Ibn Thabit Ibn Madyan Ibn Ibraheem. Other genealogies have also been given for him.

In the hadeeth of Abu Dharr ﴿﴾, which is in the Saheeh of Ibn Hibban, in the Chapter on Prophets and Messengers, the Prophet ﷺ said, “Abu Dharr, four (of the Prophets) were from the Arabs: Hood, Saleh, Shu‘aib and your Prophet.”<sup>(5)</sup> Some of the Salaaf referred to Shu‘aib ؑ as the “Orator of the Prophets”, due to his eloquence, grandeur of speech and powerful rhetoric, when calling upon his people to believe in his Message.

It is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said: Whenever the Messenger of Allah ﷺ mentioned Shu‘aib ؑ, he would say, “That was the Orator of the Prophets.”<sup>(6)</sup>

The people of Madyan were disbelievers, who practiced highway robbery; they used to terrorize wayfarers and they worshipped Al-Aikah, which means a tree surrounded by tangled woods. They were the worst of people in their dealings with others, giving short weight and measure, while demanding more than their due from others. So Allah sent to them a man from among them and that was the Messenger of Allah, Shu‘aib ؑ; he called on them to worship Allah, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him and he forbade them from engaging in the aforementioned sinful practices, such as cheating the people out of their rights and terrorizing them when they were on the road. Some of them believed, but most of them disbelieved and so Allah inflicted on them a severe punishment. And He is the Wali (Helper, Supporter, Protector, etc.), Worthy of all Praise. He, Most High, says, ﴿ And to (the people of) Madyan, (We sent) their brother Shu‘aib. He said, “O, my people! Worship Allah! You have no other ilah (god) but Him. (La ilaha ill-Allah [none has the right to be worshipped but Allah]). Verily,

(5) This hadeeth, which was narrated in its entirety by Ibn Hibban in his Saheeh (2/77, No. 361) is extremely weak.

(6) This hadeeth was narrated by Al-Hakim in Al-Hakim (4071). Adh-Dhahabi did not comment on it in At-Talkhees, but in its chain of narrators is one Salamah Ibn Al-Fadhl, who has been declared weak by more than one scholar.

a clear sign from your Lord has come unto you.” ﴿ Soorah Al-A'raf 7:85) That is, a proof, a clear argument and irrefutable evidence of the truth of what I have brought to you. ﴿ “So give full measure and full weight and wrong not men in their things, and do not mischief on the earth after it has been set in order.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:85) He commanded them to be fair and forbade them to commit injustice and he warned them against disobeying him in this, saying, ﴿ “That will be better for you, if you are Believers. And sit not on every path.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:85,86) That is, on every road “threatening...”. That is, threatening to take the people’s money by exacting taxes and such like from the traders who entered the city and terrorizing the wayfarers.

As-Suddi said in his Tafseer on the authority of the Companions, ﴿ “And sit not on every path, threatening” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:86) means that they used to exact tithes from the money of the wayfarers.

It is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said, “They were a people who exceeded all limits and committed outrages; they would sit at the side of the road and exact tithes from the people’s money – and they were the first people to practice that.” ﴿ “And hindering from the Path of Allah those who believe in Him and seeking to make it crooked.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:86) So he forbade them to cut off the physical road in the life of this world and the spiritual, religious road: ﴿ “And remember when you were but few, and He multiplied you. And see what was the end of the mufsidoon.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:86) He reminded them of the blessings that Allah, Most High, had bestowed on them, by increasing their numbers, after they had formerly been only a few and he warned them of Allah’s Vengeance being visited upon them, if they disobeyed the guidance that he brought to them, as Allah said to them in another account, ﴿“and give not short measure or weight, I see you in prosperity; and verily I fear for you the Punishment of a Day encompassing.”﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:84), That is, do not (further) commit those sins that you are currently engaging in and do not continue to transgress in this way, for if you do, Allah will remove the blessing that is in your hands and He will cause you to become impoverished and remove the means by which you have become rich. This was in addition to the punishment of the Hereafter. A person upon whom both punishments are combined has acquired for himself the worst of bargains. So he forbade them from engaging in unacceptable practices, such as giving short measure to others, while taking more than one’s due from them (tatfeef). He warned them that they would lose the benefits that Allah had bestowed on them in this earthly life and of the painful punishment that awaited them in the Hereafter, and he reprimanded them in the harshest manner. Then after rebuking them, he commanded them, saying, ﴿“And O, my people! Give full measure and weight in justice and reduce not the things that are due to the people, and do not commit mischief in the land, causing corruption. That which is left by Allah for you (after giving the rights of the people) is better for you, if you are Believers. And I am not set over you as a guardian.”﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:85,86) ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ and Al-Hasan Al-Basri said that ﴿“That which is left by Allah for you (after giving the rights of the people) is better for you”﴾ means that the sustenance which Allah bestows on you is better than the money that you take from the people by means of tatfeef. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Verily, riba (interest, usury, etc.), though it may multiply, the end result of it is less.”<sup>(7)</sup> That is, little. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ also said,

(7) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad, on the authority of

“The seller and the buyer have the right to keep or return goods as long as they have not parted or till they part; and if both the parties spoke the truth and described the defects and qualities (of the goods), then they would be blessed in their transaction, and if they told lies or hid something, then the blessings of their transaction would be lost.”<sup>(8)</sup>

What is meant is that there is a blessing in lawful profit, even though it may be little, while the unlawful does not accrue any blessings, even though the profit from it may be great. This is why the Prophet of Allah, Shu‘aib, said, ﴿ “That which is left by Allah for you (after giving the rights of the people) is better for you, if you are Believers.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:86) As for his saying: ﴿ “And I am not set over you as a guardian.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:86), it means: Do what I command you to do, seeking thereby Allah’s Countenance and hoping for His Reward, not in order that I or any other may see you. ﴿ They said, “O, Shu‘aib! Does your salah (prayer) command that we leave off what our fathers used to worship, or that we leave off doing what we like with our property? Verily, you are the forbearing, right-minded!” ﴾ They said these last words in order to mock him, belittle him and ridicule him. That is, do these prayers which you offer command you to forbid us to worship any deity except your God and order us to abandon that which our forefathers used to worship? Or do they command you to order us not to do business dealings except in the manner which pleases you and to abandon those dealings which you forbid, even though they please us? ﴿ “Verily, you are the forbearing, right-minded!” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:87)

(8) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (2079), Muslim (1532), Abu Dawood (3459), At-Tirmidhi (1246), An-Nasa’i (4457), Ahmad (14890) and Ad-Darimi (2548), on the authority of Hakeem Ibn Hizam ؓ.

‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, Maimoon Ibn Mihran, Ibn Juraij, Zaid Ibn Aslam and Ibn Jareer said that they – the enemies of Allah – said these words in tones of mockery. ﴿ He said, “O, my people! Tell me, if I have a clear proof from my Lord, and He has given me a good sustenance from Himself (shall I corrupt it by mixing it with the unlawfully earned money). I wish not, in contradiction to you, to do that which I forbid you. I only desire reform so far as I am able, to the best of my power. And my guidance cannot come except from Allah, in Him I trust and unto Him I repent.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:88) He spoke to them using courteous and polite words and he called them to the truth with the clearest guidance. He said to them, “Do you consider, O deniers ﴿ “if I have a clear evidence from my Lord...” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:88). That is, if I am following a clear command from Allah, which is that He sent me to you ﴿ and He has given me a good sustenance from Himself ﴾ – meaning Prophethood and Messengership. That is to say, and knowledge of that was concealed from you, then what can I do with you?

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Enjoin you al-birr (piety and righteousness and each and every act of obedience to Allah) on the people and you forget (to practice it) yourselves, while you recite the Scripture (the Tawrah [Torah])? Have you then no sense? ﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:44). In the tafseer of this Verse, it was authentically reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said, “A man will be brought on the Day of Resurrection and thrown in the Fire, so that his intestines will come out and he will go around like a donkey goes around a millstone. The people of the Fire will gather around him and say, ‘O, so-and-so! What is wrong with you? Did you not use to order us to do good deeds and forbid us to do bad deeds?’ He will reply, ‘Yes, I used to order you to do good deeds, but I did not do them myself, and I used to forbid you to do bad deeds, yet I used to do them myself.”<sup>(9)</sup> This is the description of those adulterers and sinners and those who oppose the Prophets. While as for the superior and intelligent leaders from among the scholars who fear their Lord unseen, their situation is as described by the Prophet of Allah, Shu‘aib: ﴿ I wish not, in contradiction to you, to do that which I forbid you. I only desire reform so far as I am able, to the best of my power. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:88) That is, in all of my commands, I desire naught but to exert my utmost efforts and abilities toward reforming your deeds and your words. ﴿ And my guidance cannot come ﴾. That is, in all of my affairs. ﴿ Except from Allah, in Him I trust and unto Him I repent ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:88). That is, I place my trust in Him in all matters, to Him I will return and my destiny is in His Hands. This is a stance of (targheeb)<sup>(10)</sup> to do good.

Then he embarked on a form of tarheeb,<sup>(11)</sup> saying, ﴿ “And my people! Let not my shiqaq cause you to suffer the fate similar to that of the people of Nooh or of Hood or of Salih, and the people of Loot are not far off from you!” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:89) That is, do not let your opposition to me and your hatred of that which I have brought to you cause you to continue in your error and ignorance, for if you do, Allah will inflict upon you a similar punishment to that which He inflicted on those who were like you among the peoples of Nooh ﷺ, Hood ﷺ and Saleh ﷺ, who belied and opposed their Prophets.

As for Shu‘aib’s saying: ﴿ “and the people of Loot are not far off from you.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:89), it is said that its meaning is that they were not far off from them in time; Qatadah

(9) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (3267) and Muslim (2989).

(10) Targheeb: Incitement and encouragement.

(11) Tarheeb: To frighten, alarm or threaten.

said, "This means that they were only destroyed before you yesterday." It has also been said that it refers to place. But in actual fact, the Verse carries both meanings. It was also said that it means that they were similar to them in characteristics and repugnant deeds, such as highway robbery and taking money from the people both openly and in secret, through all kinds of tricks and sophisms. It is possible to reconcile to all of these opinions, because they were not far from them in time, distance or characteristics. Then he mixed tarheeb with targheeb, saying, ﴿ "And ask forgiveness of your Lord and turn unto Him in repentance. Verily, my Lord is Most Merciful, Most Loving." ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:90) That is, abandon the sins you are engaged in and turn in repentance to your Lord, the Most Merciful, Most Loving, because if anyone turns in repentance to Him, He is Merciful toward His slaves – more merciful than a mother toward her child. ﴿ "Most Loving" ﴾ means, even if it is after He has accepted the repentance of his slave and even if the slave had repented of major sins. ﴿ They said, "O, Shu'aib! We do not understand much of what you say, and we consider you a weak person (it is said that he was a blind man) among us." ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:91)

As for their saying: ﴿ "Were it not for your family, we should certainly have stoned you; and you are not powerful against us" ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:91), this was due to their profound disbelief and their disgraceful obstinacy, as they said, ﴿ They said, "O, Shu'aib! We do not understand much of what you say." ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:91) That is, we do not understand it, nor do we comprehend it, because we do not like it and we do not want it, so we have no eagerness for it and we will not follow it. And this is like the saying of the disbelievers of Quraish to the Messenger of Allah: ﴿ And they say, "Our hearts are under coverings (screened) from that to which you invite us, and in our ears is deafness, and between us and you is a screen, so work you (on your way); verily, we are working (on our way).” ﴿ Soorah Fussilat 41:5) As for their saying: ﴿ “and we consider you a weak person (it is said that he was a blind man) among us.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:91), it means despised and abandoned. ﴿ “Were it not for your family...” ﴾. means, your tribe and your kinsfolk among us. ﴿ “We should certainly have stoned you; and you are not powerful against us.” He said, “O, my people! Is then my family of more weight with you than Allah?” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:91,92). That is, do you fear my tribe and my kinsfolk and hesitate to harm me because of them, yet you do not fear Allah’s Anger or hesitate to harm me because I am a Messenger of Allah? That means that you consider my tribe more powerful than Allah! ﴿ And you have cast Him away behind your backs ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:92). That is, you have placed fear of Allah behind your backs. ﴿ “Verily, my Lord is surrounding all that you do.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:92). That is, He is fully Aware of what you do and He encompasses all of that and He will recompense you for it on the Day when you are returned to Him. ﴿ And O, my people! Act according to your ability and way, and I am acting (on my way). You will come to know who it is on whom descends the punishment that will cover him with ignominy, and who is a liar! And watch you! Verily, I too am watching with you.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:93) This is a stern threat and a positive warning, that if they should continue on their path and in their (wicked) ways, they would come to know on whom Allah’s Punishment would be inflicted and upon whom would destruction and annihilation be visited. In an earlier Verse in this Soorah, he said, ﴿ “and on whom will fall a lasting punishment.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:39) ﴿ “and who is a liar!” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:93) That is, which of us is the liar in the information, the glad tidings and the warnings he gave, you or I. ﴿ “And watch you! Verily, I too am watching with you.” ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:93). This is like the Words of Allah: ﴿ “And if there is a party of you who believes in that with which I have been sent and a party who do not believe, so be patient until Allah judges between us, and He is the Best of judges.” The chiefs of those who were arrogant among his people said, “We shall certainly drive you out, o, Shu‘aib, and those who have believed with you from our town, or else you (all) shall return to our religion.” He said, “Even though we hate it! We should have invented a lie against Allah if we returned to your religion, after Allah has rescued us from it. And it is not for us to return to it unless Allah, our Lord, should will. Our Lord comprehends all things in His Knowledge. In Allah (Alone) we put our trust. Our Lord! Judge between us and our people in truth, for You are the Best of the fatiheen.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:87-89)

They demanded that those who had believed in Shu‘aib’s Message return to their religion and so Shu‘aib ﷺ disputed with them on behalf of his people, saying, ﴿ “Even though we hate it! ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:88) That is, these people (who have believed) will not return voluntarily to you; if they return, they will only do so under compulsion and that is because once the joy of faith has pervaded the heart, none will be discontented with it and none will reject it, and no one can avoid that. This is why he said, ﴿ We should have invented a lie against Allah if we returned to your religion, after Allah has rescued us from it. And it is not for us to return to it unless Allah, our Lord, should will. Our Lord comprehends all things in His Knowledge. In Allah (Alone) we put our trust ﴾ (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:89) That is, He is Sufficient for us, He is our Protector and we take refuge with Him in all of our affairs. Then he sought judgment from Allah against his people and asked his Lord to hasten the infliction of the punishment that they deserved upon them, saying, ﴿ “Our Lord! Judge between us and our people in truth, for You are the Best of the fatiheen.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:89) That is, of those who give judgment. So he invoked Allah against them – and Allah does not reject the invocations of His Messengers when they seek help from Him against those who reject Him, disbelieve in Him and His Messengers, and oppose them. But in spite of this, they remained determined to persist in what they were doing (i.e. disbelief, sins, etc.). ﴿ The chiefs of those who disbelieved among his people said (to their people), “If you follow Shu'aib, be sure then you will be the losers!” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:90) Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So the earthquake seized them, and they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes. ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:78) Allah mentioned (earlier) in Soorah Al-A'raf that the earthquake seized them (i.e. the people of Thamood); that is to say, the earth upon which they stood shook severely and caused their souls to be taken out from their bodies, while the animals in their land became like stone and their (i.e. the people's) bodies became corpses, without souls, unmoving and senseless. Allah had combined upon them a variety of punishments, lessons and afflictions and this was because of their wicked characteristics. Allah inflicted on them a severe earthquake, which stilled all movement and a great Shout extinguished their voices and He sent a shadow or cloud upon them which emitted fire and sparks from all sides and all directions. But He, Most High, informed us about them in every Soorah in which mention of them was appropriate. And in the course of the narrative in Soorah Al-A'raf, He mentioned that they spread false stories about the Prophet of Allah ﷺ and his companions and threatened them with expulsion from their town, if they did not return to their former religion. Allah says, ﴿ So the earthquake seized them, and they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes. ﴿ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:78) Allah responded to their spreading of falsehoods (irjaf) with the earthquake (rajfah)<sup>(12)</sup> and their intimidation (ikhafah) with terror (kheefah),<sup>(13)</sup> which was most appropriate in this context.

As for the narrative in Soorah Hood, He mentioned that the Shout seized them and they became lifeless in their homes. This was because they said to the Prophet of Allah in tones of derision, mockery and belittlement, ﴿ Does your salah (prayer) command that we leave off what our fathers used to worship, or that we leave off doing what we like with our property? Verily, you are the forbearing, right-minded! ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:87) So it was appropriate that He mentioned here the Shout, which was like a harsh rebuke for engaging in this wicked speech which they addressed to this noble, faithful and eloquent Messenger and so there came to them the Shout, which, along with the earthquake, silenced them.

As for Allah's Words in Soorah Ash-Shu'ara', He mentioned that a punishment seized them on the Day of Shadow. And that was a response to their request and something approximating what they asked for, for they said, ﴿ "You are only one of those bewitched! You are but a human being like us and, verily, we think that you are one of the liars! So cause a piece of the heaven to fall on us, if you are of the truthful!" He said, "My Lord is the Best Knower of what you do." ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:185-188)

Allah, Most High – Who is the All-Hearing, the All-Seeing – says, ﴿ But they belied him, so the torment of the Day of

(12) Irjaf and rajfah are both from the same root verb rajafa.

(13) Ikhafah and Kheefah are both from the same root verb khafa.

Shadow (a gloomy cloud) seized them; indeed that was the punishment of a Great Day. ﴿ Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:189 ﴾

Then Allah mentioned the same criticism regarding the Companions of the Aykah that He had made of the people of Madyan, which was that they used to cheat in their weights and measures and this proves that they were the one people, who were destroyed by a variety of punishments. Regarding Allah's Words: ﴿ But they belied him, so the torment of the Day of Shadow (a gloomy cloud) seized them, indeed that was the punishment of a Great Day ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:189), scholars have said that they were afflicted by an intense heat and Allah sent against them a fierce wind, which blew for seven days and neither water nor shade, nor entering tunnels availed them against it. They fled from their homes into the countryside, where they were covered by a cloud. They gathered beneath it, in order to seek shade from it, but when they had all gathered under it, Allah caused it to cast sparks and flames of fire on them, while the earth shook beneath them and the Shout came to them from the heaven and their souls were extracted from them and destroyed. ﴿ So the earthquake seized them and they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes. Those who belied Shu'aib became as if they had never dwelt there (in their homes). Those who belied Shu'aib, they were the losers. ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:91,92) So Allah saved Shu'aib ﷺ and the believers who were with him, as He, Most High, says, and He is the Most Truthful of Speakers, ﴿ And when Our Commandment came, We saved Shu'aib and those who believed with him by a Mercy from Us. ﴾ (Soorah Hood 11:94) He, Most High, says, ﴿ So the earthquake seized them and they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes. Those who belied Shu'aib became as if they had never dwelt there (in their homes). Those who belied Shu'aib, they were the losers. ﴾ (Soorah Al-A'raf

7:91,92) This was in response to their saying: ﴿ “If you follow Shu’aib, be sure then you will be the losers.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:90). Then Allah, Most High, mentioned regarding His Prophet ﷺ that he reproached them and rebuked them, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Then he (Shu’aib) turned from them and said, “O, my people! I have indeed conveyed my Lord’s Messages unto you and I have given you good advice. Then how can I sorrow for the disbelieving people’s (destruction).” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:93) That is, he turned away from their place after they had been destroyed, saying, ﴿ “I have indeed conveyed to you the Message of my Lord, and have given you good advice.” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:79). That is, I have fulfilled what was incumbent upon me, by conveying to you the Message in full and giving you the complete advice and I have striven to guide you to the utmost of my ability and with all of the means at my disposal. But that has not benefited you, because Allah does not guide those who willfully go astray and they have none to help them. So I do not regret what has befallen you after all that, because you did not accept the advice and you did not fear the humiliation. This is why he said, ﴿ “Then how can I sorrow...?” ﴾ (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:93) That is, how can I be sad for a disbelieving people, i.e. a people who do not accept the truth and do not return to it or even look toward it. So Allah inflicts His Punishment upon them – a punishment which cannot be rescinded, nor can it be prevented or avoided by anyone for whom it is intended?

Chapter: Mention of the Progeny of Ibraheem ﷺ

We shall embark at this point on a detailed discussion regarding the progeny of Ibraheem ﷺ, because Allah placed Prophets among his offspring and revealed Scriptures to them; so every Prophet who came after him was from his progeny.

Mention of Isma'eel ﷺ

Allah, Most High, praises him and describes him as being gentle and patient, and the one who fulfilled his promises and offered his prayers regularly and ordered his family to do likewise, in order to protect them from Allah's Punishment, along with those other acts of worship of the Lord of lords to which he called, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ So We gave him the glad tidings of a forbearing boy. And, when he (his son) was old enough to walk with him, he said, "O, my son! I have seen in a dream that I am slaughtering you (offering you in sacrifice to Allah), so look what you think!" He said, "O, my father! Do that which you are commanded, In sha' Allah (if Allah wills), you shall find me of As-Sabireen (the patient ones, etc.)." ﴿ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:101,102) So he obeyed his father in that matter and he promised him that he would be patient and he fulfilled that promise and was patient.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And mention in the Book (the Qur'an) Isma'eel (Ishmael). Verily! He was true to what he promised, and he was a Messenger, (and) a Prophet. And he used to enjoin on his family and his people as-salah (the prayers) and zakah, and his Lord was pleased with him ﴿ (Soorah Maryam 19:54,55)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And remember Our slaves, Ibraheem, Ishaq, and Ya'qoob, (all) owners of strength (in worshipping Us) and (also) of religious understanding. Verily, We did choose them by granting them (a good thing, i.e.) the remembrance of the home (in the Hereafter and they used to make the people remember it, and also they used to invite the people to obey Allah and to do good deeds for the Hereafter). And they are with Us, verily, of the chosen and the best! And remember Isma'eel (Ishmael), Al-Yasa'a (Elisha), and Dhul-Kifl (Isaiah), all are among the best. ﴿ (Soorah Sad 38:45-48)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) Isma'eel, and Idrees (Enoch) and Dhul-Kifl, all were from among As-Sabireen. And We admitted them to Our Mercy. Verily, they were of the righteous. ﴿ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:85,86)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, We have inspired you (o, Muhammad) as We inspired Nooh and the Prophets after him; We (also) inspired Ibraheem, Isma'eel (Isma'eel), Ishaq, Ya'qoob, and Al-Asbat (the twelve sons of Ya'qoob). ﴿ Soorah An-Nisa' 4:163)﴾

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Say (Muslims), “We believe in Allah and that which has been sent down to us and that which has been sent down to Ibraheem, Isma'eel, Ishaq, Ya'qoob, and to Al-Asbat (the twelve sons of Ya'qoob).﴾ ( Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:136) Something similar was related in another Soorah.<sup>(14)</sup>

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Or say you that Ibraheem, Isma'eel, Ishaq, Ya'qoob and Al-Asbat (the twelve sons of Ya'qoob) were Jews or Christians? Say, “Do you know better or does Allah (know better... that they all were Muslims)? ﴾ ( Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:140). So Allah has described him as possessing a very fine quality and He made him a Prophet and a Messenger and declared him innocent of all that the ignorant people have attributed to him. He commanded His believing slaves to believe in what was revealed to him.

Al-'Umawi reported on the authority of 'Ali Ibn Al-Husain, who reported on the authority of his father (i.e. 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib ؑ), from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “The first person to speak clear Arabic was Isma'eel, when he was fourteen years old.”<sup>(15)</sup> Yoonus said to him (i.e. the narrator), “You have spoken the truth, Abu Yasar! It was narrated to me in the same way by Abu Jurayy.” He married an Amalekite woman when he was a young man, but his father ordered him to separate from her. Al-'Umawi said, “Her name was 'Umarah Bint Sa'd Ibn Usamah Ibn Akeel, the Amalekite. Then he married another

(14) See: Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:84.

(15) Al-Hafiz Ibn hajar attributed it in Fath Al-Bari (6/488, No. 3365) to Az-Zubair Ibn Bakkar in the book An-Nasab, on the authority of 'Ali ؑ and he declared its isnad to be hasan.

woman and his father ordered him to keep her with him and he did so. Her name was As-Sayyidah Bint Muduad Ibn ‘Amr Al-Jurhumi. It was also said that she was his third wife and that she bore him twelve sons. And Muhammad Ibn Ishaq – may Allah have mercy on him – named them.”

Isma‘eel, the Prophet of Allah ﷺ, was buried with his mother in Al-Hijr and his age on the day of his death was one hundred and thirty-seven years.

Mention of Ishaq ﷺ, Son of Ibraheem ﷺ, the Noble, Son of a Noble

Allah, Most High, says, « And We gave him the glad tidings of Ishaq, a Prophet from the righteous. We blessed him and Ishaq, and of their progeny are (some) that do right, and some that plainly wrong themselves. » (Soorah As-Saffat 37:112,113) Allah praised him in a number of Verses in His Noble Book and we have previously mentioned in the hadeeth of Abu Hurairah ؓ from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said, “Verily, the noble, son of the noble, son of the noble, son of the noble is Yoosuf (Joseph), son of Ya‘qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem.” (16)

The People of the Scripture said that when Ishaq ﷺ married Rifqa, daughter of Thabwa‘eel, during the lifetime of his father (Ibraheem ﷺ), he was forty years of age and she was barren. So he invoked Allah on her behalf and she gave birth to twin boys. The elder of them they named ‘Eesu and it is he who is known by the Arabs as Al-‘Ees and he is held to be the father of Rome. The second came out holding onto the heel of his brother and so they called him Ya'qoob. <sup>(17)</sup> He is also known as Isra'eel and the Children of Isra'eel claim descent from him. They (the People of the Scripture) said that Ishaq loved Eesu more than Ya'qoob, because he was his firstborn and that his wife, Rifqa loved Ya'qoob more, because he was the younger of the two.

(16) The takhreej of this hadeeth has already been given.

Mention of the Amazing Events That Took Place During the Life of Isra'eel, Including the Story of Yoosuf, Son of Raheel

Allah revealed details of his life and his affairs in a Soorah of the Qur'an, in order that we might reflect on the wisdoms, warnings and manners therein. I seek refuge with Allah from the accursed Satan <sup>(18)</sup> ﴿ Alif Lam Ra. (These letters are one of the miracles of the Qur'an and none but Allah (Alone) knows their meanings). These are the Verses of the Clear Book (the Qur'an that makes clear the legal and illegal things, legal laws, a guidance and a blessing). Verily, We have sent it down as an Arabic Qur'an in order that you may understand. We relate unto you (Muhammad) the best of stories through Our Revelations unto you, of this Qur'an. And before this (i.e. before the coming of Divine Inspiration to you), you were among those who knew nothing about it (the Qur'an) ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:1-3)

In summary, we may say that He, Most High, praises His Noble Book, which He sent down to His slave and noble Messenger, in eloquent and clear Arabic language, which can be understood by every rational and intelligent person and it is the most eminent Book sent down from the heaven to the most eminent of mankind in any time or place. Whether He is speaking of past events or contemporary ones, it mentions the best of them and the clearest of them and makes the truth apparent in matters in which people have differed, while refuting, invalidating and rejecting that which is false. When it deals with commands and prohibitions, it is the most just of legislations, the clearest of programs, filled with the most obvious wisdom and the fairest of judgments. As Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And the Word of your Lord has been fulfilled in truth and in justice. ﴾ (Soorah Al-An'am 6:115) That is, truth in the information given and justice in the commands and prohibitions; and this is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ We relate unto you (Muhammad) the best of stories through Our Revelations unto you, of this Qur'an. And before this, you were among those who knew nothing about it. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:3) That is, ignorant regarding what was revealed to you therein, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ And thus We have sent to you (O, Muhammad) Roohan (an Inspiration and a Mercy) of Our Command. You knew not what is the Book, nor what is Faith. But We have made it (this Qur'an) a light wherewith We guide whosoever of Our slaves We will. And verily, you (O, Muhammad) are indeed guiding (mankind) to the Straight Path (i.e. Allah's religion of Islamic Monotheism), the Path of Allah, to Whom belongs all that is in the heavens and all that is in the Earth. Verily, all the matters at the end go to Allah (for decision). ﴾ (Soorah Ash-Shoora 42:52,53)

(17) The word for heel is 'aqib, which is from the root verb 'aqaba, meaning to follow; and it is from this that the name Ya'qoob is derived.

(18) This is recited before commencing the recitation of the Qur'an.

And He, Most High, says, ﴿ Thus We relate to you (O, Muhammad) some information regarding what happened before. And indeed We have given you from Us a Reminder (this Qur'an). Whoever turns away from it (i.e. this Qur'an); that is, does not believe in it or act on its orders), verily, they will bear a heavy burden (of sins) on the Day of Resurrection, They will abide in that (state in the Fire of Hell), and evil indeed will it be that load for them on the Day of Resurrection. ﴿

(Soorah Ta Ha 20:99-101) That is, whoever rejects this Qur'an and follows another book will have this threat fulfilled upon him, as reported in the hadeeth narrated in Imam Ahmad's Musnad and in the Sunan of At-Tirmidhi, on the authority of the Commander of the Faithful, 'Ali ؑ, in a marfoo ' form and also in a mawqoof form: "Whoever looks for guidance from some source other than it (i.e. the Qur'an), Allah will cause him to go (further) astray." (19)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn 'Abdillah ؓ that 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ came to the Prophet ﷺ with a book which he had obtained from one of the People of the Scripture and he read it to the Prophet ﷺ. The Prophet ﷺ became angry and said, "O, Ibn Al-Khattab, are we going to play in religion? By Allah, I have come to you with a pure Religion. Do not ask them about anything, for they may say something true and you do not believe what they say or they may say something false and you believe it. By Allah, If Moosa was alive he would not have done anything but follow me." Its chain of narrators is authentic. (20)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ (Remember) when Yoosuf said to

(19) Narrated by Imam Ahmad (706) and At-Tirmidhi (2906) and its chains of narrators is weak.

(20) Narrated by Imam Ahmad (14736) and declared authentic by the author (i.e. Ibn Katheer). But I say: In its chain of narrators is one Mujalid Ibn Sa'eed (who is weak, according to Al-Bukhari, who said in At-Tareekh As-Sagheer, "Ibn Al-Qattan said he is weak and Ibn Al-Mahdi would not narrate from him, while Yahya Ibn Ma'een, Ibn Hibban and Abu Hatim said that his hadeeth cannot be cited as evidence and he is weak.") his father, "O, my father! Verily, I saw (in a dream) eleven stars and the sun and the moon; I saw them prostrating themselves to me." He (his father) said, "O, my son! Relate not your vision to your brothers, lest they arrange a plot against you. Verily! Shaitan is to man an open enemy! Thus will your Lord choose you and teach you the interpretation of dreams (and other things) and perfect His Favor on you and on the offspring of Ya'qoob, as He perfected it on your fathers, Ibraheem and Ishaq aforetime! Verily, your Lord is All-knowing, Most Wise."

﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:4-6)

Ya'qoob ؑ had twelve sons and all of the twelve tribes of the Children of Isra'eel ascribe their ancestry to them. The noblest, the most revered and the greatest of them was Yoosuf ؑ. A group of scholars has stated the opinion that none was a Prophet except him and that his brothers did not receive any revelation. It is apparent from their actions and their words in this story that this view is correct. Those who claimed that they were Prophets cited as evidence the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ Say (Muslims), "We believe in Allah and that which has been sent down to us and that which has been sent down to Ibraheem, Isma'eel, Ishaq, Ya'qoob, and to Al-Asbat.

﴾ (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:136) They claimed that these (the brothers of Ya'qoob ؑ) are Al-Asbat, but the evidence for this is not strong, because what is meant by Al-Asbat is the tribes of the Children of Isra'eel and none of them was Prophet to whom Revelation was sent down from the heaven. And Allah knows better.

What supports the claim that only Yoosuf ؑ was alone selected from among his brothers to be a Messenger and Prophet is the fact that his Prophethood and the receipt of Revelation are attested to in several Verses in the Qur'an and there is no evidence anywhere in the Qur'an that any of them except Yoosuf ﷺ was a Prophet which proves what we said. But one must take into consideration the narration of Imam Ahmad, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar ؓ, in which he reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Verily, the noble, son of the noble, son of the noble, son of the noble is Yoosuf, son of Ya'qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem." (21)

The scholars of tafseer and others said that when Yoosuf ﷺ was a boy – before he reached puberty – he saw in a dream as if ﴿ eleven stars ﴾ – this is a reference to his brothers – ﴿ and the sun and the moon ﴾ – and this is a reference to his parents – prostrating to him. His father understood that this meant that he would achieve a high rank and elevated status in the life of this world and in the Hereafter, since his parents and his brothers submitted to him in his dream. So he ordered him to keep it secret and not to relate it to his brothers, in case they became afflicted with envy and devise some plot to harm him. This proves what we have said (i.e. that they were not Prophets). This is why it has been reported in some traditions: "Seek help in attaining your needs by concealment of them, because every recipient of blessings is envied." (22)

﴿ Thus your Lord will choose you. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:6) That is, as He showed you this great vision, if you keep it secret, ﴿ your Lord will choose you ﴾. That is, He will favor you with all manne of kindness and mercy ﴿ and teach you the interpretation of speech ﴾. That is, He will make you comprehend the meanings of speech and the interpretation of dreams, which none but you will understand ﴿ and perfect His

(21) The takhreej of this hadeeth has already been given.

(22) This is authentic, and it was also said that it is hasan, due to supporting narrations. It was narrated by At-Tabarani in Al-Kabeer (20/94, No. 183), on the authority of Mu'adh Ibn Jabal ؓ.

Favor on you ﴾. That is, with Revelation to you ﴿ and on the family of Ya'qoob ﴾. That is, because of you, and through you, they will attain the best of the life of this world and of the Hereafter ﴿ as He perfected it on your fathers, Ibraheem and Ishaq aforetime! ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:6). That is, He bestows His Blessings on you and favors you with Prophethood, just as He gave it to your father, Ya'qoob ؑ, your grandfather, Ishaq ؑ and your great-grandfather, Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel. ﴿ Verily, your Lord is All-Knowing, Most Wise ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:6), as He, Most High, says, ﴿ Allah Knows best with whom to place His Message ﴾ (Soorah Al-An'am 6:124).

This is why, when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was asked which of the people was noblest, he said, "Yoosuf is the Prophet of Allah, son of the Prophet of Allah, the son of the Prophet of Allah, the son of Allah's Khaleel." (23)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Verily, in Yoosuf and his brethren, there were Ayat (proofs, evidences, Verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.) for those who ask. When they said: "Truly, Yoosuf and his brother Binyameen (Benjamin) are loved more by our father than we, but we are 'usbah (a strong group). Really, our father is in plain error. Kill Yoosuf or cast him out to some (other) land, so that the favor of your father may be given to you alone, and after that you will be righteous folk (by intending repentance before committing the sin)." One from among them said, "Kill not Yoosuf, but if you must do it, throw him down to the bottom of a well, he will be picked up by some caravan of travelers." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:7-10)

Allah, Most High, draws our attention to the signs, wisdoms, proofs, warnings and indisputable evidences contained in this story, Then He mentions the envy felt by Yoosuf's brothers towards him, because of the fact that his father loved him and his brother Binyameen more than them. (Yoosuf ﷺ and his brother, Binyameen were both born to the same mother, while the others were born of another mother). They said, "We have more right to his love than these two." ﴿ "Really, our father is in plain error." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:8) That is, by loving them more than us. Then they consulted one another regarding the idea of killing him or expelling him to a land from which he would not return, so that they would be left alone with their father, that his love would be devoted solely to them and would suffice them. They harbored within them the intention of repenting to Allah after that. So when they decided on their plan and agreed on it ﴿ One from among them said ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:10) – Mujahid said that the one referred to was Sham'oon. As-Suddi said that it was Yahooza. Qatadah and Muhammad Ibn Ishaq asserted that it was the oldest of them, Roobeel. ﴿ One from among them said, "Kill not Yoosuf (Joseph), but if you must do it, throw him down to the bottom of a well, he will be picked up by some caravan of travelers." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:10) That is, some passing caravan of travelers. ﴿ "but if you must do it," ﴾. means, if you must do what you have mentioned, then do what I have suggested, rather than killing him or banishing him. So they agreed on their decision to do this, at which point they said, ﴿ They said, "O, our father! Why do you not trust us with Yoosuf, when we are indeed his well-wishers? Send him with us tomorrow to enjoy himself and play, and verily, we will take care of him." He (Ya'qoob) said, "Truly, it saddens me that you should take him away. I fear lest a wolf should devour him, while you are careless of him." They said, "If a wolf devours him, while we are 'usbah (a strong group) (to guard him), then surely, we are the losers." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:11-14)

They asked their father to send them with their brother, Yoosuf عليه السلام, and they claim that they intended to take good care of him and to play with him and give him a good time, while in fact, they harbored feelings toward him of which Allah was fully Aware. The old man – may Allah’s choicest prayers and blessings be upon him – answered them, saying, “O, my sons! It grieves me to be parted from him for even an hour of the day, and in addition to this, I fear that you will be busy with your games and you will not take care of him and that a wolf may come and devour him, and he will be unable to defend himself against it, due to his youthfulness and your neglect of him.”

﴿ They said, “If a wolf devours him, while we are ‘usbah (to guard him), then surely, we are the losers.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:14). That is, if a wolf attacks him and eats him while he is among us, or we are distracted from him and allow this to happen, then we must be a powerless group, and we will be destroyed (then surely, we are the losers).

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So, when they took him away, they all agreed to throw him down to the bottom of the well, and We inspired in him, “Indeed, you shall (one day) inform them of this affair of theirs, when they know (you) not.” And they came to their father in the early part of the night weeping. They said, “O, our father! We went racing with one another, and left Yoosuf by our belongings and a wolf devoured him; but you will never believe us even when we speak the truth.” And they brought his shirt stained with false blood. He said, “Nay, but you yourselves have made up a tale. So (for me) patience is most fitting. And it is Allah (Alone) Whose help can be sought against that which you assert.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:15-18)

They continued to press their father, until he sent Yoosuf عليه السلام with them. But no sooner were they out of his sight than they began to revile him and insult him by words and deeds. They agreed to cast him into the depths of a well and they left him on the stone which projects from the middle of it, on which a person who descends into the well to fill his bucket would sit, when the water level is low. When they cast him into the well, Allah inspired him, by informing him that he would certainly be saved from this calamity into which he had fallen and that he would certainly inform his brothers of this deed of theirs, while he was in a position of power and they were in need of him and feared him ( “when they know (you) not.” ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:15)

Then, when they had placed him in the well and left him there, they took his shirt and stained it with blood and returned to their father at night and they were weeping, i.e. for their brother. This is why one of the Salaf said, “Be not deceived by the weeping of one who complains of having been wronged, because he may be a wrongdoer, though he weeps,” and he mentioned the story of Yoosuf ﷺ and how they came to their father at night and they were weeping. They wept in the darkness of night, in order to hide their treachery (i.e. believing that their faces would not betray them in the poor light).

Allah, Most High, says, ( They said, “O, our father! We went racing with one another, and left Yoosuf by our belongings.” ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:17). That is, we left him by our clothes. ( “and a wolf devoured him.” ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:17). That is, while we were absent, racing with each other. They said, ( “but you will never believe us even when we speak the truth.” ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:17). That is, you will not believe what we are telling you regarding the wolf having devoured Yoosuf, even if you consider us truthful. So what about when you suspect that we are not truthful, especially since you feared that the wolf might devour Yoosuf and we guaranteed to you that he would be safe, due to our numbers around him and so we have come to be considered untrustworthy by you. So we do not blame you for not believing us in these circumstances. ﴿ And they brought his shirt stained with false blood ﴾. That is, with fabricated evidence; they had taken a baby goat and slaughtered it, then they took its blood and smeared it on his shirt, in order to lend credence to their claim that a wolf had eaten him. It was said that they forgot to tear the shirt – and the ruin of lying is forgetfulness. When the signs of doubt became apparent in them, their deed did not surprise their father, because he knew of their enmity toward Yoosuf عليه السلام and the envy they harbored toward him, because of the fact that he loved him more than them, due to the noble and venerable attributes he displayed in his childhood – attributes which Allah had bestowed on him, as He had destined Prophethood for him. Once they had persuaded him to let them take their brother, no sooner had they taken him, deprived him of him and removed him from his sight, than they returned, weeping over what they had done against him and claiming that they had been helpless to save him. This is why Ya‘qoob عليه السلام said, ﴿ “Nay, but you yourselves have made up a tale. So (for me) patience is most fitting. And it is Allah (Alone) Whose help can be sought against that which you assert.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:18)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And there came a caravan; they sent their water-drawer, and he let down his bucket (into the well). He said, “What good news! Here is a boy.” So they hid him as merchandise. And Allah was the All-Knowing regarding what they did. And they sold him for a low price - for a few dirhams (i.e. for a few silver coins). And they were of those who regarded him as insignificant. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:19,20)

Allah, Most High, informs that Yoosuf ﷺ, when he was cast into the well, sat waiting for Allah to deliver him and bestow Kindness on him. (And there came a caravan). means, a party of travelers. (He said, "What good news!") That is, what good fortune for me! ("Here is a boy." So they hid him as merchandise). That is, they pretended that he was with them and that he was one of the slaves that made up their merchandise. (And Allah was the All-Knowing regarding what they did). That is, He was fully acquainted with the plot that his brothers had conspired against him and the way those who found him hid him amongst their merchandise. But He did not intervene due to His Great Wisdom, His All-Encompassing Omnipotence and the Mercy which would be bestowed on the people of Egypt at the hands of this young boy, who entered the land in the form of a captive slave, and after that, he came to hold the reins of power in his hands and Allah benefited them through him, in the life of this world and the Hereafter in ways too numerous to mention or describe. When Yoosuf's brothers realized that the caravan had taken him, they overtook them and said, "This is our slave who has run away from us," and they (the people of the caravan) purchased him from them for a low price. (a few dirhams (i.e. for a few silver coins). And they were of those who regarded him as insignificant) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:19)

Allah, Most High, says, (And he (the man) from Egypt who bought him, said to his wife, "Make his stay comfortable.") That is, be kind to him ("may be he will profit us or we shall adopt him as a son.") (Soorah Yoosuf 12:21) This was from Allah's Kindness, Mercy and Beneficence toward him, as it was His Will that He should make him feel at home and give him the goodness of this life and the goodness of the Hereafter. Scholars said that the person who bought him was an Egyptian and his title was Al-'Azeez; he was the minister in charge of the treasury. Ibn Ishaq said, "His name was 'Atfeer, son of Ruhaib." He said, "The Fir'awn of Egypt at that time was Ar-Rayyan, son of Al-Waleed and the name of the wife of Al-'Azeez was Ra'eel, daughter of Ru'aeel." Others said that her name was Zulaikha; but it would appear that that was her nickname.

Ibn Ishaq said, "It was reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood ؓ that he said, 'The noblest of people are three: The 'Azeez of Egypt, when he said to his wife, ﴿ "Make his stay comfortable." ﴾, the woman who said to her father, regarding Moosa, ﴿ "O, my father! Hire him! Verily, the best of men for you to hire is the strong, the trustworthy." ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:26). and Abu Bakr As-Siddeeq ؓ, when he appointed 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ as his successor."<sup>(24)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Thus did We establish Yoosuf in the land ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:21) That is, just as We ordained that Al-'Azeez and his wife should treat Yoosuf ؑ kindly and take care of him, so did We establish him in the land of Egypt ﴿ that We might teach him the interpretation of events. ﴾ That is, the understanding of them; and the interpretation of dreams is a part of that. ﴿ And Allah has full power and control over His Affairs ﴾. That is, when Allah wills a thing, He ordains the causes of it. This is why He, Most High, says, ﴿ And he (the man) from Egypt who bought him, said to his wife, "Make his stay comfortable, that maybe he will profit us or we shall adopt him as a son." Thus did We establish Yoosuf in the land, that We might teach him the interpretation of events. And Allah has full power and control over His Affairs, but most of men know not. And when he (Yoosuf) attained his full manhood, We gave him wisdom and knowledge (the Prophethood), thus

We reward the Muhsinoon (doers of good deeds) ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:21,22)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And she, in whose house he was, sought to seduce him (to do an evil act), she closed the doors and said, "Come on, you." He said, "I seek refuge in Allah (or Allah forbid)! Truly, he (your husband) is my master! He made my stay agreeable! (So I will never betray him). Verily, the zalimoon (wrongdoers and evil-doers) will never be successful." And indeed she did desire him and he would have inclined to her desire, had he not seen the evidence of his Lord. Thus it was, that We might turn away from him evil and illegal sexual intercourse. Surely, he was one of Our chosen, guided slaves. So they raced with one another to the door, and she tore his shirt from the back. They both found her lord (i.e. her husband) at the door. She said, "What is the recompense (punishment) for him who intended an evil design against your wife, except that he be put in prison or a painful torment?" He (Yoosuf) said, "It was she that sought to seduce me," - and a witness of her household bore witness (saying), "If it be that his shirt is torn from the front, then her tale is true and he is a liar! But if it be that his shirt is torn from the back, then she has told a lie and he is speaking the truth!" So when he (her husband) saw his (Yoosuf's) shirt torn at the back, he (her husband) said, "Surely, it is a plot of you women! Certainly mighty is your plot! O, Yoosuf! Turn away from this! (O, woman!) Ask forgiveness for your sin. Verily, you were of the sinful." ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:23-29)

Allah, Most High, informs us about Al-'Azeez's wife's attempt to seduce Yoosuf ﷺ and her demand for him to do that which was inappropriate to his situation and station; she was a woman of great beauty, possessing wealth, high rank and youthfulness. He describes how she locked the doors on him and herself, then prepared herself for him, how she made herself up and donned her finest and most splendid garments, in spite of the fact that she was the wife of Al-'Azeez. Ibn Ishaq said, "She was the niece of Ar-Rayyan Ibn Al-Waleed, the king and ruler of Egypt. In addition to all of this, Yoosuf was an extremely handsome, young man; however, he was a Prophet, descended from a line of Prophets and his Lord protected him from committing evil deeds and from the plots of women; he was the master of the seven noble and God-fearing masters, mentioned in the authentic hadeeth, on the authority of the Seal of the Prophets, who reported the Words of the Lord of the heavens and the Earth: "Allah will give shade, to seven, on the day when there will be no shade but His. (These seven persons are) a just ruler, a youth who has been brought up in the worship of Allah (i.e. worships Allah sincerely from childhood), a man whose heart is attached to the mosques (i.e. to praying the compulsory prayers in the mosque in congregation), two persons who love each other only for Allah's sake and they meet and part in Allah's cause only, a man who refuses the call of a charming woman of noble birth for illicit intercourse with her and says: 'I am afraid of Allah,' a man who gives charitable gifts so secretly that his left hand does not know what his right hand has given (i.e. nobody knows how much he has given in charity), and a person who remembers Allah in seclusion and his eyes are then flooded with tears." (25)

What is meant is that she called him to her (i.e. she tried to seduce him) and she coveted that greatly; but he said, ﴿ "I seek refuge in Allah (or Allah forbid)! Truly, he is my master!" ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:23) That is, her husband was the owner of the house and his master. ﴿ "He made my stay agreeable!" ﴾

(25) Narrated by Al-Bukhari (660) and Muslim (1031).

That is, he has been kind and hospitable to me. ﴿ Verily, the zalimoon will never be successful. ﴾ And we have discussed previously His Words: ﴿ And indeed she did desire him and he would have inclined to her desire had he not seen the evidence of his Lord. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:24) – in a manner which is sufficient and convincing in the Tafseer.

Most of the sayings of the scholars here are taken from the books of the People of the Scripture, but is more appropriate for us to avoid them. What is incumbent upon us is to believe that Allah, Most High, protected him and declared him innocent of committing any wrongdoing and He guarded him and preserved him from it. This is why He, Most High, says, ﴿ Thus it was, that We might turn away from him evil and illegal sexual intercourse. Surely, he was one of Our chosen, guided slaves. So they raced with one another to the door ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:24,25) That is, he ran from her, seeking to open the door and flee from the room and she chased after him. ﴿ They both found her lord. ﴾ That is, her husband ﴿ at the door ﴾ and she hastened to speak to her husband before Yoosuf ﷺ could do so, and incited him against him: ﴿ She said, “What is the recompense (punishment) for him who intended an evil design against your wife, except that he be put in prison or a painful torment?” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:25). She accused him, while in fact, she was the guilty one and she protected her reputation and acquitted herself of any blame. This is why Yoosuf ﷺ said, ﴿ He (Yoosuf) said, “It was she that sought to seduce me.” ﴾. It was necessary for him to speak the truth and defend himself, due to the need to protect his own honor. ﴿ And a witness of her household bore witness. ﴾ It was said that he was a child in his crib; this was the opinion of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ. Ibn Jareer At-Tabari preferred this saying and he narrated an authentic hadeeth to that effect, on the authority of ‘Abdullah

Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ. Others claimed that the narration could only be ascribed to ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ (that is, they did not ascribe it to the Prophet ﷺ).<sup>(26)</sup> It was also said that he was a man of approximately the same age as ‘Atfeer, her husband. And it was also said that his age was close to that of Zulaikha.

Among those who said that he was a man were ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, ‘Ikrimah, Mujhaid, Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Qatadah, As-Suddi, Muhammad Ibn Ishaq and Zaid Ibn Aslam. The witness said, ﴿ “If it be that his shirt is torn from the front, then her tale is true and he is a liar!” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:26) That is, because it will mean that he tried to seduce her and she defended herself, tearing the front of his shirt. ﴿ “But if it be that his shirt is torn from the back, then she has told a lie and he is speaking the truth!” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:27) That is because, if he had fled from her and she had chased after him and grabbed him from behind, his shirt would be torn from the back – and such proved to be the case, which is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So when he (her husband) saw his (Yoosuf’s) shirt torn at the back, he (her husband) said, “Surely, it is a plot of you women! Certainly mighty is your plot!” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:28). That is, this is from you women’s plotting: you seduced him against his will, and then you falsely accused him. Then her husband turned away and said, ﴿ O, Yoosuf! Turn away from this! ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:27). That is, do not mention it to anyone, because keeping such matters secret is more appropriate and superior. He ordered his wife to seek forgiveness for the sin that she had committed and turn in repentance to her Lord. This is because when a slave repents to Allah, Allah forgives him. And while the people of Egypt used to worship idols, they knew that the One Who forgives sins and punishes the perpetrator of them is Allah, Alone, and He has no partners in that. This is why her husband spoke to her thus and pardoned her in some respects, because she had seen something that it was difficult to remain patient over. However, he was a virtuous and honorable man and so he said, ﴿ “Ask forgiveness for your sin. Verily, you were of the sinful.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:29)

(26) Ibn Jarer At-Tabari narrated it in a mawqoof form (i.e. as a narration of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ) in his Tafseer (12/193) and he also narrated it in a marfoo’ form (i.e. as a narration from the Prophet ﷺ) in his Tafseer (12/194).

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And women in the city said, “The wife of Al-‘Azeez is seeking to seduce her (slave) young man, indeed she loves him violently; verily we see her in plain error.” So when she heard of their accusation, she sent for them and prepared a banquet for them; she gave each one of them a knife (to cut the foodstuff with), and she said (to Yoosuf), “Come out before them.” Then, when they saw him, they exalted him (at his beauty) and (in their astonishment) cut their hands. They said, “How perfect is Allah (or Allah forbid)! No man is this! This is none other than a noble angel!” She said, “This is he (the young man) about whom you did blame me (for his love), and I did seek to seduce him, but he refused. And now if he refuses to obey my order, he shall certainly be cast into prison, and will be one of those who are disgraced.” He said, “O, my Lord! Prison is more to my liking than that to which they invite me. Unless You turn away their plot from me, I will feel inclined toward them and be one (of those who commit sin and deserve blame or those who do deeds) of the ignorant folk.” So his Lord answered his invocation and turned away from him their plot. Verily, He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:30-34)

Allah informs us about the actions of the women of the city, the wives of the princes and the daughters of the powerful and influential, how they criticized, denounced and reviled the wife of Al-'Azeez regarding her attempted seduction of her slave and her extreme love for him; meaning that he was not worthy of it, since he was a slave, and nor, they said, did any other like him deserve it. This is why they said, ﴿ “verily we see her in plain error.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:30) That is, by placing a thing (i.e. her affection) in a place that was unbecoming. ﴿ So when she heard of their accusation. ﴾ That is, their denunciation and belittling of her, their pointing accusing fingers at her and their censure of her for loving her slave and having passionate feelings for him. They displayed their condemnation of her, but at the same time, there was some excuse for her. For this reason, she wanted to make plain to them that there was indeed, some excuse for her and to show them that this young man was not as they thought, nor was he like their slaves. So she sent them an invitation, gathered them in her house and treated them with due hospitality. Among the things that she presented them was something that needed to be cut with a knife, like citron and the like. ﴿ She gave each one of them a knife (to cut the foodstuff with) ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:31) She had prepared Yoosuf عليه السلام, dressing him in the finest clothes – who was at the peak of his youth and beauty – and she ordered him to come out to them while dressed thus. So he came out to them and he was, without doubt, more beautiful than a full moon. ﴿ Then, when they saw him, they exalted him (at his beauty) ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:31) That is, they extolled him, revered him and they cut their hands with the knives due to their distraction, and they did not notice their wounds. ﴿ They said, “How perfect is Allah (or Allah forbid)! No man is this! This is none other than a noble angel!” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:31) It was related in the hadeeth of Al-Isra' that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Then

I passed by Yoosuf and he had been given half of all beauty.” (27)

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ She said, “This is he (the young man) about whom you did blame me (for his love).” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:32) Then she praised him for his perfect chastity, saying, ﴿ and I did seek to seduce him, but he resisted the temptation ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:32) That is, he refused. ﴿ “And now, if he refuses to obey my order, he shall certainly be cast into prison and he will be one of those who are disgraced.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:32) The other women incited him to hear and obey his mistress, but he vehemently refused and remained aloof, because he was from the stock of Prophets; he invoked the Lord of the worlds, saying in his supplication, ﴿ O, my Lord! Prison is more to my liking than that to which they invite me. Unless You turn away their plot from me, I will feel inclined toward them and be one (of those who commit sin and deserve blame or those who do deeds) of the ignorant.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:33) That is, if You leave me to depend on myself, I will be weak and unable to resist. I possess not the ability to benefit or harm, except as Allah wills, because I am weak, unless You strengthen me, protect me and preserve me with Your Power and Your Strength. This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ So his Lord answered his invocation and turned away from him their plot. Verily, He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:34)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Then it appeared to them, after they had seen the proofs (of his innocence) to imprison him for a time. And there entered with him two young men in the prison. One of them said, “Verily, I saw myself (in a dream) pressing wine.” The other said, “Verily, I saw myself (in a dream) carrying bread on my head and birds were eating thereof.”

(27) Narrated by Muslim (162).

(They said), "Inform us of the interpretation of this. Verily, we think you are one of the Muhsinoon (doers of good)." He said, "No food will come to you (in wakefulness or in dream) as your provision, but I will inform (in wakefulness) of its interpretation before it (the food) comes. This is of that which my Lord has taught me. Verily, I have abandoned the religion of a people that believe not in Allah and are disbelievers in the Hereafter (i.e. the Kan'aniyoon of Egypt who were polytheists and used to worship the sun and other false deities). And I have followed the Religion of my fathers, – Ibraheem, Ishaq and Ya'qoob, and never could we attribute any partners whatsoever to Allah. This is from the Grace of Allah to us and to mankind, but most men thank not (i.e. they neither believe in Allah, nor worship Him). O, two companions of the prison! Are many different lords (gods) better, or Allah, the One, the Irresistible? You do not worship besides Him but only names which you have named (forged), you and your fathers, for which Allah has sent down no authority. The command (or the judgment) is for none but Allah. He has commanded that you worship none but Him (i.e. His Monotheism), that is the (true) straight Religion, but most men know not. O, two companions of the prison! As for one of you, he (as a servant) will pour out wine for his lord (king or master) to drink; and as for the other, he will be crucified and birds will eat from his head. Thus is the case judged concerning which you both did inquire." ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:35-41)

Allah, Most High, tells us that after it became obvious to them that Yoosuf ﷺ was innocent, Al-'Azeez and his wife decided to imprison him until such time as the gossip about him and Al-'Azeez's wife died away. Al-'Azeez suppressed the facts, in order to make it appear that it was Yoosuf ﷺ who had tried to seduce her against her will and so he was imprisoned because of it. So he was wrongfully and unjustly imprisoned. This was a part of what Allah had ordained for him and it was the means by which He protected him, for He removed him from their company and the need to associate with them. It was based on this that some Sufis claimed, according to what Ash-Shafi'i has reported from them, that a part of chastity is to remove oneself from temptation.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And there entered with him two young men in the prison. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:36) It was said that one of them was the king's cup bearer, and it has been said that his name was Banu. The other was the king's baker, i.e. the one who prepared his food, and is known to the Turks as Jashankir, and according to what has been said, his name was Mujallath. Both of them had been accused of something by the king, who had them thrown in jail. When they saw Yoosuf ﷺ in jail, they were amazed by his character, his dignified demeanor, his faith, his words and actions, his frequent acts of worship and his good conduct toward his fellow-man. Each of them had a dream appropriate to him.

The scholars of tafseer said that they both had their dreams on the same night. As for the cup-bearer, he saw three branches from a grape-vine, which had produced leaves and ripe grapes and he took them and squeezed them into the king's cup and then he gave it to him to drink. The baker saw three baskets of bread on his head and three birds of prey eating from the top basket. They both related their dreams to Yoosuf ﷺ and asked him to interpret them for them, saying, ﴿ "Verily, we think you are one of the Muhsinoon (doers of good).">﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:36) He informed them that he was knowledgeable regarding the interpretation of their dreams and skilled in such matters. He said, ﴿ "No food will come to you (in wakefulness or in dream) as your provision, but I will inform (in wakefulness) its interpretation before it (the food) comes to you.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:37) It was said that the meaning is: no matter what visions you see, I will interpret them for you before it happens; and it will be as I said. It was also said that it means: I will inform you of what food will come to you before it arrives, whether it be sweet or bitter, as ‘Eesa ﷺ said, ﴿ “And I inform you of what you eat, and what you store in your houses.” ﴾ (Soorah Ali ‘Imran 3:49) He said to them, “This is from the things that Allah has taught to me, because I believe in Him, affirm His Oneness and adhere to the Religion of my noble fathers, Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel ﷺ, Ishaq ﷺ and Ya‘qoob.” ﴿ “And never could we attribute any partners whatsoever to Allah. This is from the Grace of Allah to us.” ﴾ That is, that He has guided us to this. ﴿ “And to mankind.” ﴾ That is, that He has commanded us to call them to Him, guide them and direct them to Him. He (i.e. belief in Him) is firmly embedded in their innate natures and implanted in their natural dispositions. ﴿ “But most men thank not (i.e. they neither believe in Allah, nor worship Him).” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:38)

Then he called upon them to believe in Allah’s Oneness and he censured the worship of anyone other than Allah and belittled and expressed scorn for the worship of idols. He said, ﴿ “O, you two companions of the prison! Are many different (gods) better, or Allah, the One, the Irresistible? You do not worship besides Him but only names which you have named (forged), you and your fathers, for which Allah has sent down no authority. The command (or the judgment) is for none but Allah.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:39,40). That is, He is the Disposer of (the affairs of) His creation and He is the Doer of what He wills, Who guides whom He wills and increases in error whom He wills. ﴿ “He has commanded that you worship none but

Him (i.e. His Monotheism).” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:40). That is, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him. ﴿ “That is the straight Religion.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:40). That is, the true Religion and the Straight Path. ﴿ “But most men know not.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:40). That is, they will not be guided to it, in spite of its clarity and its obviousness. His preaching to them both in this situation was of the utmost perfection, because their hearts extolled him and were ready to accept what he said. Therefore it was appropriate to call them to that which was more beneficial to them than about that which they asked and requested from him. Then he undertook that which was incumbent upon him and guided to that to which he had been guided, saying, ﴿ “O, you two companions of the prison! As for one of you, he (as a servant) will pour out wine for his lord (king or master) to drink.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:41). The scholars said that he was the cup-bearer. ﴿ “And as for the other, he will be crucified and birds will eat from his head.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:41) The scholars said that he was the baker. ﴿ “Thus is the case judged concerning which you both did inquire.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:41). That is, this will happen, and it is inevitable, no matter what. This is why it was said in a hadeeth, “A vision flutters over a man as long as it is not interpreted, but when it is interpreted, it happens.”<sup>(28)</sup>

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And he said to the one whom he knew to be saved, “Mention me to your lord (i.e. your king, so as to get me out of the prison).” But Shaitan made him forget to mention it to his lord. So he (Yoosuf) stayed in prison a few (more) years. ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:42)

(28) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Abu Dawood (5020), At-Tirmidhi (2279), Ibn Majah (3914), Ahmad (15749) and Ad-Darimi (2148), on the authority of Laqeet Ibn Sabirah ؓ.

Allah, Most High, informs us that Yoosuf عليه السلام said to the one whom he knew would be saved, which was the cup-bearer, ﴿ "Mention me to your lord." ﴾. That is, mention my case and the situation that I am in to your king; I am imprisoned, without having committed any crime. This is evidence of the permissibility of taking the necessary steps to achieve one's objective and this is not inconsistent with trusting in the Lord of lords (tawakkul). As for the saying of Him, Most High: ﴿ But Shaitan made him forget to mention it to his lord ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:42). That is, Satan caused the man who was saved to forget to mention what Yoosuf عليه السلام had entrusted to him.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And the king (of Egypt) said, "Verily, I saw (in a dream) seven fat cows, whom seven lean ones were devouring - and of seven green ears of corn, and (seven) others dry. O, notables! Explain to me my dream, if it be that you can interpret dreams." They said, "Mixed up false dreams and we are not skilled in the interpretation of dreams." Then the man who was released (one of the two who were in prison), now at length remembered and said, "I will tell you its interpretation, so send me forth." (He said), "O, Yoosuf, the man of truth! Explain to us (the dream) of seven fat cows whom seven lean ones were devouring, and of seven green ears of corn, and (seven) others dry, that I may return to the people, and that they may know." (Yoosuf) said, "For seven consecutive years, you shall sow as usual and that (the harvest) which you reap you shall leave in ears, (all) – except a little of it which you may eat. Then will come after that, seven hard (years), which will devour what you have laid by in advance for them, (all) except a little of that which you have guarded (stored). Then thereafter will come a year in which people will have abundant rain and in which they will press (wine and oil).” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:43-49)

This was one of the means by which Yoosuf ﷺ obtained his release from prison, with honor and respect. To wit, this vision was seen by the king of Egypt, who was Ar-Riyyan Ibn Al-Waleed Ibn Tharwan, Ibn Arashah Ibn Faran Ibn ‘Amr Ibn ‘Imlaq Ibn Lawuz Ibn Sam (Shem) Ibn Nooh ﷺ.

The People of the Scripture said that he saw in the dream that he was on the edge of a river and seven fat cows had emerged from it and they began to graze in a meadow there; then seven lean, weak cows emerged from that river and they began to graze along with the first seven. Then they turned upon them and devoured them. Then he awoke in a state of alarm. Then he slept again and saw seven green ears of wheat on a single stalk and suddenly, seven thin, withered ears ate them. Then the king awoke in a state of alarm. When he informed his council of elders and his people about what he had seen, there was no one among them who was skilled in the interpretation of dreams. Indeed, ﴿ “Mixed up false dreams.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:44). That is, these are a mixture of the dreams that you had during the night and it may be that there is no meaning to them; in addition to this, we have no expertise in this field. This is why they said, ﴿ and we are not skilled in the interpretation of dreams ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:44). At this moment, the one who had been freed from jail remembered the trust with which he had been charged by Yoosuf ﷺ.

This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Then the man who was released (one of the two who were in prison), now at length remembered and said. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:45) That is, he remembered the trust after a few years had passed. He said to his people and to the king, ﴿ “I will tell you its interpretation, so send me forth.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:45) That is, send me to Yoosuf; and he went to him and said, ﴿ (He said), “O, Yoosuf, the man of truth! Explain to us (the dream) of seven fat cows whom seven lean ones were devouring, and of seven green ears of corn, and (seven) others dry, that I may return to the people, and that they may know.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:46) He interpreted for them from the dreams of the king that which showed that seven years of abundance would be followed by seven years of drought. ﴿ “Then thereafter will come a year in which people will have abundant rain.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:49). That is, they will experience rain, abundance and comfort ﴿ “and in which they will press.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:49). That is, they will press or juice the things that they commonly used to press, such as sugar cane, grapes, olives, sesame seeds and other things. He interpreted the dreams for them and guided them as to what they should do during the years of plenty and the years of famine and how they should store the grain they had harvested during the seven years of plenty, i.e. in its ears, except for what they set aside for their use (i.e. to be eaten). He also told them to keep only a minimum of seeds during the seven lean years, since it was most likely that the seeds would not produce any return. This proves how complete was Yoosuf’s knowledge, perception and understanding.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And the king said, “Bring him to me.” But when the messenger came to him, (Yoosuf) said, “Return to your lord and ask him, “What happened to the women who cut their hands? Surely, my Lord (Allah) is Well-Aware of their plot.” (The king) said (to the women), “What was your affair when you did seek to seduce Yoosuf?” The women said, “Allah forbid! No evil know we against him!” The wife of Al-‘Azeez said, “Now the truth is manifest (to all), it was I who sought to seduce him, and he is surely of the truthful.” He said, “It was in order that he (Al-‘Azeez) may know that I betrayed him not in secret. And, verily! Allah guides not the plot of the betrayers.

And I free not myself (from the blame). Verily, the (human) self is inclined to evil, except when my Lord bestows His Mercy (upon whom He wills). Verily, my Lord is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.” ﴿ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:50-53). When the king realised the completeness of Yoosuf’s knowledge, the perfect nature of his intellect, his acute powers of perception and his understanding, he ordered that he be brought in his presence, so that he might become a member of his inner circle. When the king’s messenger came to him with this information, he preferred not to leave until it had become clear to everyone that he had been wrongly and unjustly imprisoned and that he was totally innocent of the crime they had falsely ascribed to him. ﴿ [Yoosuf] said, Return to your lord ﴾, that is, the king. ﴿ “and ask him, “What happened to the women who cut their hands? Surely, my Lord (Allah) is Well-Aware of their plot.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:50) It was said that it means: Verily, my master, Al-‘Azeez knows that I am innocent of what was attributed to me; i.e. so tell the king to ask them how I strongly rejected their advances, when they attempted to seduce me and encourage them to tell the truth about this matter, which is neither honorable nor right. So when they were asked about it, they acknowledged what had actually happened and confirmed Yoosuf’s praiseworthy conduct. ﴿ The women said, “Allah forbid! No evil know we against him!” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:51). At this point, ﴿ the wife of Al-‘Azeez said ﴾. That is, Zulaikha. ﴿ “Now the truth has hashasa.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:51). That is, now the truth has become manifest to all; and the truth has a greater right to be heeded (than falsehood). ﴿ “It was I who sought to seduce him, and he is surely of the truthful.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:51). That is regarding his claim that he is innocent, that he did not attempt to seduce me and that he was wrongfully and unjustly imprisoned, based on false testimony.

And He, Most High, says, ﴿ He said, "It was in order that he (Al-'Azeez) may know that I betrayed him not in secret. And, verily! Allah guides not the plot of the betrayers." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:52). It was said that this was the saying of Yoosuf عليه السلام; i.e. I only requested this investigation in order that Al-'Azeez should know that I did not betray him in his absence. It was also said that it was the conclusion of the speech of Zulaikha, i.e. I only acknowledged this (sin) in order that my husband, Al-'Azeez should know that I did not actually betray him in this matter (by committing adultery). It was only an attempted seduction, and it did not result in unlawful sexual intercourse. This interpretation was supported by a great number of the later scholars and others. But Ibn Jareer and Ibn Abi Hatim only related the first interpretation.

﴿ "And I free not myself (from the blame). Verily, the (human) self is inclined to evil, except when my Lord bestows His Mercy (upon whom He wills). Verily, my Lord is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:53) It was said that this was from the speech of Yoosuf عليه السلام and it was also said that from the speech of Zulaikha; the view that it is a continuation of the speech of Zulaikha is more apparent, more appropriate and stronger. And Allah knows better.

And He, Most High, says, ﴿ And the king said, "Bring him to me that I may attach him to my person." Then, when he spoke to him, he said, "Verily, this day, you are with us high in rank and fully trusted." (Yoosuf) said, "Set me over the storehouses of the land; I am indeed hafeez and 'aleem." (as Minister of Finance in Egypt, in place of Al-'Azeez who was dead at that time). Thus did We give full authority to Yoosuf in the land, to take possession therein, as when or where he likes. We bestow of Our Mercy on whom We please, and We make not to be lost the reward of Al-Muhsinoon. ﴿ Soorah Yoosuf 12:54-57 ﴾

When Yoosuf's spotless character and his innocence of the accusation they had leveled against him became apparent to the king, he said, ﴿ Bring him to me that I may attach him to my person. ﴾ That is, I will make him one of my inner circle members, a prominent member of my government and an eminent personage in my entourage. When he had spoken to him and heard his words and his situation had become clear to him, ﴿ He said, "Verily, this day, you are with us high in rank and fully trusted." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:54) That is a person occupying a position of authority and trustworthiness. ﴿ [Yoosuf] said, "Set me over the storehouses of the land; I am indeed hafeez and 'aleem." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:55) He asked the king to appoint him to oversee the grain stores, because of the expected depletion in the amount of grain stored after seven years of plenty, as he would then be in a position to manage the situation in a manner that was pleasing to Allah, by making provisions for them and treating them with kindness. He informed the king that he was ﴿ "hafeez" ﴾. That is, strong in preserving what was in his hands and he could be trusted not to deal with it in any dishonest way. He also said that he was ﴿ "'aleem" ﴾. That is, possessing full knowledge of things and of the best way to deal with the grain stores. In this, there is evidence of the permissibility of seeking an appointment for the one who knows himself to be trustworthy and capable.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Thus did We give full authority to Yoosuf in the land, to take possession therein, as, when and where he liked. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:56) That is, after imprisonment, hardship and confinement came freedom to do as he pleased within the lands of Egypt, ﴿ to take possession therein, as, when and where he liked. ﴾ That is, whatsoever he wished was made lawful for him; thus did Allah honor him, bestow on him an enviable reward and exalt him. ﴿ We bestow of Our Mercy on whom We please, and We make not to be lost the reward of Al-Muhsinoon (those who do good deeds) ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:56) That is, all of this is a part of Allah's Recompense and Reward for the Believer, in addition to the abundance of goodness and handsome reward that have been stored for him in the Hereafter. This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And verily, the reward of the Hereafter is better for those who believe and used to fear Allah and keep their duty to Him (by abstaining from all kinds of sins and evil deeds and by performing all kinds of righteous good deeds) ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:57) It was said that 'Atfeer died and the king appointed Yoosuf in his place and married his widow, Zulaikha, to him, and he was an honest and trustworthy minister.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And Yoosuf's brethren came and they entered unto him, and he recognized them, but they recognized him not. And when he furnished them forth with provisions (according to their need), he said, "Bring me a brother of yours from your father; (he meant Binyameen). See you not that I give full measure, and that I am the best of the hosts? But if you bring him not to me, there shall be no measure for you with me, nor shall you come near me." They said, "We shall try to get permission (for him) from his father, and verily, we shall do it." And he (Yoosuf) told his servants to put their money (with which they had bought the corn) into their bags, so that they might know it when they go back to their people, in order that they might come back. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:58-62) Allah, Most High, informs us about the arrival of Yoosuf's brothers in the lands of Egypt, where they had come to purchase food (grain, etc.) after the years of drought had spread throughout the lands surrounding Egypt. At that time, Yoosuf ﷺ was in charge of both secular and religious affairs in Egypt and when they entered in his presence, he recognized them, but they did not recognize him, for they could not have dreamed of the rise to high status and greatness that had come to Yoosuf ﷺ; this is why he recognized them, but they did not recognize him. ﴿﴾

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And when he furnished them forth with provisions (according to their need) ﴾. That is, he had given them the foodstuffs (grain etc.) which were in accordance with his custom, of giving to every person a camel-load and not more, ﴿ he said “Bring me a brother of yours from your father.” ﴾ This was after he had asked them about their situation and how many they were, and they had replied, “We were twelve men, but one of us died and his full brother remained with our father.” He then said, “If you come back next year, bring him to me.” ﴿ “See you not that I give full measure, and that I am the best of the hosts?” ﴾ That is, I have treated you hospitably and entertained you well. Thus did he encourage them to return to him with their half-brother (Binyameen). In case they entertained the idea of not returning to him, he said, ﴿ “But if you bring him not to me, there shall be no measure for you with me, nor shall you come near me.” ﴾. That is, I will not give you any supplies and I will not allow you to come to me at all. This was in contrast to the kindness that he had extended to them on their arrival. So he strove to ensure that they would bring Binyameen with them, in order to satisfy his desire to see him, by employing a carrot-and-stick-approach. ﴿ They said, “We shall try to get permission (for him) from his father.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:61). That is, we will try our utmost to arrange that he accompanies us and to bring him to you. ﴿ “And verily, we shall do it.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:61). That is, and certainly, we are able to accomplish that. Then he ordered his servants to place the merchandise they had brought with them to exchange for food in their saddle-bags, without them realizing it. ﴿ So when they returned to their father, they said, "O, our father! No more measure of grain shall we get. So send our brother with us, and we shall get our measure and truly we will guard him." He said, "Can I entrust him to you except as I entrusted his brother (Yoosuf) to you aforetime? But Allah is the Best to guard, and He is the Most Merciful of those who show mercy." And when they opened their bags, they found their merchandise had been returned to them. They said, "O, our father! What (more) can we desire? This, our merchandise has been returned to us, so we shall get food for our family, and we shall guard our brother and add one more measure of a camel's load. This quantity is easy." He (Ya'qoob) said, "I will not send him with you until you swear a solemn oath to me in Allah's Name, that you will bring him back to me unless you are yourselves surrounded (by enemies, etc.)." And when they had sworn their solemn oath, he said, "Allah is the Witness over what we have said." And he said, "O, my sons! Do not enter by one gate, but enter by different gates, and I cannot avail you against Allah at all. Verily! The decision rests only with Allah. In him, I put my trust and let all those that trust, put their trust in Him." And when they entered according to their father's advice, it did not avail them in the least against (the Will of) Allah, it was but a need of Ya'qoob's inner-self which he discharged. And verily, he was endowed with knowledge because We had taught him, but most men know not. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:63-68) Allah, Most High, relates what happened to them after they returned to their father and how they said to him, ﴿ "No more measure of grain shall we get." ﴾ That is, after this year, unless you send our brother (Binyameen) with us; if you send him with us, we will not be prevented from receiving grain. ﴿ And when they opened their bags, they found their merchandise had been returned to them. They said, "O, our father! What (more) can we desire? This, our merchandise has been returned to us." ﴿. That is, what else can you wish for, now that our merchandise has been returned to us? ﴿ "so we shall get food for our family." ﴿. That is, we will be able to provide for them and bring them that which is beneficial to them this year and which will relieve the drought they are facing. ﴿ "And we shall guard our brother and add." ﴿. That is, because of his presence, ﴿ "one more measure of a camel's load." ﴿. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ "This quantity is easy." ﴿. That is, in return for his other son going with them. Ya'qoob ﷺ was very close indeed to his son, Binyameen, because he could smell in him the scent of Yoosuf ﷺ and he found consolation in him for the loss of Yoosuf ﷺ. This is why he said, ﴿ "I will not send him with you until you swear a solemn oath to me in Allah's Name, that you will bring him back to me unless you are yourselves surrounded (by enemies, etc.)." ﴿. That is, unless you are all prevented from bringing him back. ﴿ And when they had sworn their solemn oath, he said, "Allah is the Witness over what we have said." ﴿. He confirmed their oaths and validated their covenants and took precautions to ensure the safety of his son (Binyameen); but caution cannot avail against that which has been Divinely ordained. Had it not been for his need and the need of his people for supplies, he would not have sent his beloved son. But Allah's Divine Ordainment has its own rules; and the Lord, Most High, ordains what He Wills, chooses what He Wants and decides what He wills. And He is the Most Wise, the All-Knowing. Then he ordered them not to enter the city through one gate; but to enter it through different gates. It was said that he desired that none should afflict them with the evil eye of jealousy; this was due to the fact that they were all handsome men of strong form. This was said by ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, Mujahid, Muhammad Ibn Ka‘b , Qatadah, As-Suddi and Ad-Dahhak. It was also said that he wanted them to separate, that haply, they might find some trace of Yoosuf ؑ. This was said by Ibraheem An-Nakha‘i. But the first opinion appears more correct, which is why he said, ﴿ “and I cannot avail you against Allah at all.” ﴾. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And when they entered according to their father’s advice, it did not avail them in the least against (the Will of) Allah, it was but a need of Ya‘qoob’s inner-self which he discharged. And, verily, he was endowed with knowledge because We had taught him, but most men know not. ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:68)

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And when they went in before Yoosuf, he betook his brother (Binyameen) to himself and said, “Verily! I am your brother, so grieve not for what they used to do.” So when he had furnished them forth with their provisions, he put the bowl into his brother’s bag, then a crier called out, “O, you (in) the caravan! Surely, you are thieves!” They, turning toward them, said, “What is it that you have missed?” They said, “We have missed the bowl of the king and for him who produces it is (the reward of) a camel load; I will be bound by it.” They said, “By Allah! Indeed you know that we came not to make mischief in the land, and we are no thieves!” They (Yoosuf’s men) said, “What then shall be the penalty of him, if you are (proved to be) liars?” They (Yoosuf’s brothers) said, “The penalty should be that he in whose bag it is found should be held for the punishment (of the crime). Thus we punish the zalimoon (wrongdoers etc.)!” So he (Yoosuf) began (the search) in their bags before the bag of his brother. Then he brought it out of his brother’s bag. Thus did We plan for Yoosuf. He could not take his brother by the law of the king (as a slave), except that Allah willed it. (So Allah caused the brothers to bind themselves with their way of “punishment, i.e. the enslavement of a thief.”) We raise to degrees whom We please, but over all those endowed with knowledge is the All-Knowing (Allah). They (Yoosuf’s brothers) said, “If he steals, there was a brother of his (Yoosuf) who did steal before (him).” But these things did Yoosuf keep in himself, revealing not the secrets to them. He said (within himself), “You are in the worst case, and Allah knows best the truth of what you assert!” They said, “O, ruler of the land! Verily, he has an old father (who will grieve for him); so take one of us in his place. Indeed we think that you are one of the Muhsinoon (those who do good).” He said, “Allah forbid that we should take anyone but him with whom we found our property. Indeed (if we did so), we should be zalimoon (wrongdoers).” } (Soorah Yoosuf 12:69-79)

Allah relates what happened to them when they entered with their brother, Binyameen, the presence of his full brother, Yoosuf ﷺ, and how he received him and informed him in secret that he was his brother, ordering him to keep this knowledge to himself and not to share it with them. Then he ordered his servants to place the bowl from which he drank and which he used as a measure for the people during those times of drought among Binyameen’s belongings. Then he told them that they (his brothers) had stolen the king’s measuring bowl. And he promised them (the servants) that if it was returned to him, he would reward the finder with a camel-load of food. The caller guaranteed this to them. They (the brothers) approached the one who had accused them and they rebuked him and strongly censured him for what he had said to them. { They said, “By Allah! Indeed you know that we came not to make mischief in the land, and we are no thieves!” }. That is, you know of us what contradicts the accusation of theft that you have made against us. { They (Yoosuf’s men) said, “What then shall be the penalty of him, if you are (proved to be) liars?” They (Yoosuf’s brothers) said, “The penalty should be that he in whose bag it is found should be held for the punishment (of the crime). Thus we punish the zalimoon (wrongdoers etc.)!” ). This was their law, that the thief should be given up to the victim of the theft, which is why they said, ( “Thus we punish the zalimoon (wrongdoers, etc.)!” )

He, Most High, says, ( So he (Yoosuf) began (the search) in their bags before the bag of his brother. Then he brought it out of his brother’s bag ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:76) This was in order to avoid suspicion and to perfect the plot. Then He, Most High, says, ( Thus did We plan for Yoosuf (Joseph). He could not take his brother by the law of the king (as a slave), ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:76) That is, had they not acknowledged that the punishment for one in whose luggage the bowl was found was that he be handed over to the victim of the theft, Yoosuf ﷺ would not have been able to take him, according to Egyptian law. ( Except that Allah willed it. (So Allah caused the brothers to bind themselves with their way of “punishment, i.e. the enslavement of a thief.”) We raise to degrees whom We please ), that is, in knowledge, ( but over all those endowed with knowledge is the All-Knowing (Allah). ) This is because Yoosuf ﷺ was more knowledgeable and more perceptive than his brothers and he possessed a stronger will and firmer resolution than they did. He only did what he did in accordance with Allah’s Command to do so. This was because of the great benefit that resulted from it – and that was the coming of his father and his people to him and their approaching him in a delegation. When they saw the bowl being brought out from the baggage of Binyameen, ( They (Yoosuf’s brothers) said, “If he steals, there was a brother of his who did steal before (him).” ) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:77). They were referring to Yoosuf ﷺ. It was said that he had stolen the idol of his maternal grandfather and destroyed it. It was also said that his paternal aunt had tied a belt belonging to Ishaq ﷺ around him, under his clothing, when he was an infant; then they discovered it under his clothing and he (being a small child) was unaware of what she had done. And she had only done this because she wanted him to be in her care, because she loved him.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ “You are in the worst case, and Allah knows best the truth of what you assert!” ﴾. He answered them silently, in low voice – and his words were words of clemency and kindness, forgiveness, and pardon; they also spoke with kindness and gentleness, (though aloud) saying, ﴿ “O, ruler of the land! Verily, he has an old father (who will grieve for him); so take one of us in his place. Indeed we think that you are one of the Muhsinoon (those who do good).” He said, “Allah forbid that we should take anyone but him with whom we found our property. Indeed (if we did so), we should be zalimoon (wrongdoers).” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:78). That is, if we let the accused go free and took an innocent person. This is something that we would not do and we would not permit it to be done. We will only take the person in whose possession we found our property.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ So, when they despaired of him, they held a conference in private. The eldest among them said, “Know you not that your father did take an oath from you in Allah’s Name, and before this you did fail in your duty with Yoosuf? Therefore I will not leave this land until my father permits me, or Allah decides my case and He is the Best of the judges. Return to your father and say, “O, our father! Verily, your son (Binyameen) has stolen, and we testify not except according to what we know, and we could not know the unseen! And ask (the people of) the town where we have been, and the caravan in which we returned, and indeed we are telling the truth.” He (Ya’qoob) said, “Nay, but your ownelves have beguiled you into something. So patience is most fitting (for me). May be Allah will bring them all (back) to me. Truly, He, only He is All-Knowing, Most Wise.” And he turned away from them and said, “Alas, my grief for Yoosuf !” And he lost his sight because of the sorrow he was suppressing. They said, “By Allah! You will never cease remembering Yoosuf until you become weak with old age, or until you be of the dead.” He said, “I only complain of my grief and sorrow to Allah, and I know from Allah that which you know not. “O, my sons! Go you and inquire about Yoosuf and his brother, and never give up hope of Allah’s Mercy. Certainly no one despairs of Allah’s Mercy, except the people who disbelieve.” ﴿ Soorah Yoosuf 12:80-87)

Allah, Most High, informs us about them, saying that when they despaired of taking Binyameen from Yoosuf ﷺ, they began to whisper to one another in private. ﴿ The eldest among them said, ﴾ – that was Roobeel ﴿ “Know you not that your father did take an oath from you in Allah’s Name...” ﴾. That is, you have broken your oath to him and you have been negligent with him (i.e. Binyameen) as you were formerly negligent with his brother, Yoosuf. Now I cannot face him. ﴿ “Therefore I will not leave this land...” ﴾. That is, I will continue to stay here ﴿ “until my father permits me...” ﴾. That is, to come to him ﴿ “or Allah decides my case...” ﴾. That is, He enables me to secure my brother’s return to my father. ﴿ And He is the Best of the judges. Return to your father and say, “O, our father! Verily, your son (Benjamin) has stolen...” ﴾. That is, inform him of what you have seen of the matter with your own eyes. ﴿ “And we testify not except according to what we know, and we could not know the unseen! And ask (the people of) the town where we have been, and the caravan in which we returned.” ). That is, what we have told you about them seizing our brother because he had committed an act of theft is a matter which has become widely known in Egypt and the people of the caravan in which we returned know about it, because they were there. ( “And indeed we are telling the truth.” He (Ya‘qoob) said, “Nay, but your ownelves have beguiled you into something. So patience is most fitting.” ). That is, the matter is not as you have described; he did not steal, because it is not in his nature to do so. It is only your own selves that have seduced you into believing something (that is not true), so patience is the most fitting thing for me.

Then he said, ( “May be Allah will bring them all (back) to me.” ). That is, Yoosuf ﷺ, Binyameen and Roobeel. ( “Truly, He, only He is All-knowing.” ). That is, regarding my situation and the separation that I am enduring from my loved ones. ( “Most Wise.” ). That is, in all that He ordains and all that He does; and His is the most far-reaching Wisdom and the irrefutable evidence. ( And he turned away from them ). That is, Ya‘qoob ﷺ turned away from his sons. ( And said, “Alas, my grief for Yoosuf!” ) This new grief reminded him of his former grief and resurfaced that which had been latent, as someone said,

*Let your heart roam wherever you wish for the sake of love,
But (true) love is only for the first love.*

And someone else said,

*My companion censured me for weeping at the graves,
For the tears that welled up and spilt forth,*

*And he said, "Do you weep for every grave that you see?
For a grave which consists of layers of sand?"
I said to him, "Verily, grief evokes grief, so leave me,
For all of this is the grave of Malik."*

He, Most High, says, « And his eyes became white because of the sorrow. » That is, he became blind due to excessive weeping « that he was suppressing. » That is, the extreme grief, sorrow and longing that he was feeling for Yoosuf عليه السلام. When his sons observed the emotional upset and the pain of being parted (from Yoosuf and Binyameen) that he was suffering, « they said » to him in tones of compassion, pity and concern for him, « By Allah! You will never cease remembering Yoosuf until you become weak with old age, or until you be of the dead. » That is, you will continue to remember him until your body becomes weak and your strength departs, so if you take care of yourself, it will be better for you. « He said, "I only complain of my grief and sorrow to Allah, and I know from Allah that which you know not." » (Soorah Yoosuf 12:86). That is, I do not complain to you or to anyone among the people about my situation; I only complain to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, and I know that He will make a release and an escape for me from the situation that I am in. I also know that Yoosuf's vision must be fulfilled and that you and I will find no alternative to prostrating to him, as he saw. This is why he said, « "and I know from Allah that which you know not." » Then he said to them, in order to incite them to find Yoosuf عليه السلام and his brother, that they should go and inquire about the matter: « "O, my sons! Go you and inquire about Yoosuf and his brother, and never give up hope of Allah's Mercy. Certainly no one despairs of Allah's Mercy, except the people who disbelieve." » (Soorah Yoosuf 12:87). That is, do not despair of attaining relief after hardship, because no one despairs of Allah's Mercy and Relief and the release from adversity that He can ordain, except the disbelieving people.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ Then, when they entered unto him (Yoosuf), they said, “O, ruler of the land! A hard time has hit us and our family, and we have brought but poor capital, so pay us full measure and be charitable to us. Truly, Allah does reward the charitable.” He said, “Do you know what you did with Yoosuf and his brother, when you were ignorant?” They said, “Are you indeed Yoosuf?” He said, “I am Yoosuf, and this is my brother (Binyameen). Allah has indeed been Gracious to us. Verily, he who fears Allah with obedience to Him (by abstaining from sins and evil deeds, and by performing righteous good deeds), and is patient, then surely, Allah makes not the reward of the Muhsinoon (those who do good) to be lost.” They said, “By Allah! Indeed Allah has preferred you above us, and we certainly have been sinners.” He said, “No reproach on you this day, may Allah forgive you, and He is the Most Merciful of those who show mercy! Go with this shirt of mine, and cast it over the face of my father, he will become clear-sighted, and bring to me all your family.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:88-93)

Allah, Most High, informs us about the return of Yoosuf’s brothers to him, their visit to him and their desire for his grain and for him to show charity toward them by returning their brother, Binyameen to them. ﴿ Then, when they entered unto him (Yoosuf), they said, “O, ruler of the land! A hard time has hit us and our family.” ﴾. That is, drought and straitened times, in addition to a large family ﴿ “and we have brought but poor capital...” ﴾. That is, we have brought money for the food we want to buy, but it is not substantial. It was said that they brought a mean sum of dirhams. It was also said that they were goods of little exchange value, except by the one who would be kind enough to overlook this. It was also said that they brought pine nuts, terebinth seeds<sup>(29)</sup> and such. It was reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that they were types of straw sacks, ropes and the like. ﴿ “So pay us full measure and be charitable to us. Truly, Allah does reward the charitable.” ﴾. It was said by As-Suddi that it means by accepting what we have brought. It was also said that it means by returning our brother to us. This was the opinion of Ibn Juraij.

He saw the situation they were in and the pitiful payment that they brought and he felt compassion for them and made himself known to them, informing them about the Command of his Lord and their Lord. When he had revealed his identity to them, ﴿ He said, “Do you know what you did with Yoosuf (Joseph) and his brother, when you were ignorant? They said” ﴾. They were absolutely amazed to know his identity, for they had visited him numerous times and they had not recognised him. ﴿ “Are you indeed Yoosuf?” He said, “I am Yoosuf, and this is my brother (Binyameen)” ﴾. That is, I am Yoosuf with whom you dealt as you did and whom you abandoned aforesaid. ﴿ “And this is my brother (Binyameen).” ﴾ He said this in order to confirm the truth of what he had told them and to make clear to them the envy that they had harbored toward them and the deceitful stratagems they had employed against them, which is why he said, ﴿ “Allah has indeed been Gracious to us.” ﴾ That is, by the kindness and charity He has shown to us and by gathering us together after having been separated. This was the result of our obedience to Him and the patience we have shown in the face of the trials that have beset us, in addition to the obedience and filial piety we have shown toward our father and his great love and affection for us. ﴿ “Verily, he who fears Allah with obedience to Him (by abstaining from sins and evil deeds, and by performing righteous good deeds), and is patient, then surely, Allah makes not the reward of the Muhsinoon (those who do good) to be lost.” They said, “By Allah! Indeed Allah has preferred you above us.” ﴿ That is, He has favored you over us and given you that which He has not given to us (i.e. Prophethood). ﴿ “And we certainly have been sinners.” ﴾. That is, in what we have done to you; and now here we are before you. ﴿ He said, “No reproach on you this day.” ﴾ That is, I will not rebuke you for what you did to me after this day. Then he went further, saying to them, ﴿ “may Allah forgive you, and He is the Most Merciful of those who show mercy!” ﴾ Then he ordered them to go with his shirt, which he wore next to his skin, and he told them to place it over their father’s eyes and he told them that his sight would be restored as a result, by Allah’s Permission, after he had lost it. This was an amazing phenomenon, proof of his Prophethood and a major miracle. Then he ordered them to bring all of their families to the lands of Egypt, to enjoy goodness, abundant provision and unity, after separation, in the most complete manner. ﴿ And when the caravan departed, their father said, “I do indeed feel the smell of Yoosuf, if only you think me not a dotard (a person who has weakness of mind because of old age).” They said, “By Allah! Certainly, you are in your old error.” Then, when the bearer of the glad tidings arrived, he cast it (the shirt) over his face and he became clear-sighted. He said, “Did I not say to you that I know from Allah that which you know not?” They said, “O, our father! Ask for forgiveness (from Allah) for our sins, indeed we have been sinners.” He said, “I will ask my Lord for forgiveness for you, verily, He, only He is the Oft-Forgiving, the Most Merciful.” ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:94-98)

‘Abdur-Razzaq narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn

‘Abbas ؑ that he said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And when the caravan departed ﴾, “When the caravan departed, a wind sprang up and it carried the smell of Yoosuf’s shirt to Ya‘qoob ؑ and he said, ﴿ I do indeed feel the smell of Yoosuf, if only you think me not a dotard (a person who has weakness of mind because of old age). ﴾” Ibn ‘Abbas ؑ said, “He picked up his scent from a distance of eight days’ (travel) away!” Ath-Thawri also narrated it thus, as did Shu‘bah and others, on the authority of Abu Sinan. Al-Hasan Al-Basri and Ibn Juraij Al-Makki said that the distance between them was eighty farsakhs <sup>(30)</sup> and that he had been parted from him for eighty years. ﴿ “If only you think me not a dotard (a person who has weakness of mind because of old age).” ﴾ That is, you say that I have only said this because I have become old and senile. ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؑ, ‘Ata’, Mujahid, Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair and Qatadah said that it means: “you think me foolish.” Mujahid also said – as did Al-Hasan Al-Basri – that it means “you think me senile and decrepit.” ﴿ They said, “By Allah! Certainly, you are in your old error.” ﴾ Qatadah and As-Suddi said that they spoke harsh words to him. Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ “When the bearer of the glad tidings arrived, he cast it (the shirt) over his face and he became clear-sighted.” ﴾ That is, as soon as he arrived with the shirt, he put it over Ya‘qoob’s face and immediately, his sight returned, after having been blind. When this happened, he said to his sons, ﴿ “Did I not say to you that I know from Allah that which you know not?” ﴾ That is, I know that Allah will reunite me with Yoosuf ؑ, that my eyes will be delighted by (seeing) him and that He will show me that which will please me regarding his situation. At this point, ﴿ They said, “O, our father! Ask for forgiveness (from Allah) for our sins, indeed we have been sinners.” ﴾ They requested from him that he ask Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful to forgive them for what they had done, what they had inflicted on him and his son and what they had resolved to do against him (i.e. Yoosuf ﷺ). And because they had made the intention to repent before committing the deed, Allah caused them to seek forgiveness after they had committed it. Their father agreed to do what they asked. ﴿ He said, "I will ask my Lord for forgiveness for you. Verily, He, only He is the Oft-Forgiving, the Most Merciful." ﴾

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Then, when they entered unto Yoosuf, he betook his parents to himself and said, "Enter Egypt, if Allah wills, in security." And he raised his parents to the throne and they fell down before him in prostration. And he said, "O, my father! This is the interpretation of my dream aforetime! My Lord has made it come true! He was indeed good to me, when He took me out of the prison and brought you (all here) out of the Bedouin life, after Shaitan had sown enmity between me and my brothers. Certainly, my Lord is the Most Courteous and Kind unto whom He Wills. Truly, He, Only He is the All-Knowing, the Most Wise. My Lord! You have indeed bestowed on me of the sovereignty, and taught me the interpretation of dreams; The (only) Creator of the heavens and the Earth! You are my Wali (Protector, Helper, Supporter, Guardian, etc.) in this world and in the Hereafter; cause me to die as a Muslim (the one submitting to Your Will), and join me with the righteous." ﴾ (Soorah Yoosuf 12:99-101)

The People of the Scripture claim that Yoosuf ﷺ was absent from his father for forty years; but the course of events related in the story is a fairly reliable guide to the length of his absence, because the woman attempted to seduce him when he was a young boy of seventeen, according to what has been related by a number of reporters, but he refused. Then he was in prison for a few years (seven, according to 'Ikrimah and others). Then he was released and the seven years of abundance occurred, then, when the people were suffering from the effects of the drought in the second year of the seven years, his brothers came, seeking food supplies in the first year. Then in the second year, they brought his brother, Binyameen with them. In the third year, he revealed himself to them and ordered them to bring all of their families with them and all of them came. « Then, when they entered unto Yoosuf, he betook his parents to himself ». That is, he met with them alone, without his brothers « and said, “Enter Egypt, if Allah wills, in security.” » It was said that this means that he told them to enter and then he betook them to himself. This was described as weak by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari; but he is excused (for that). It was also said that he met them and betook them to himself in a tent (outside the city) and that when they approached the gate of Egypt, he said « “Enter Egypt, if Allah wills, in security.” » This was said by As-Suddi. But if we said that the matter does not require this (explanation) and it is implicit in the word « “Enter...” » that means reside in Egypt « “if Allah wills, in security.” » (Soorah Yoosuf 12:99) – it would be correct and also more appropriate.

Allah, Most High, says, « and they fell down before him in prostration ». That is, his parents and his eleven brothers prostrated before him, in order to venerate and honor him and this was legislated for them (by Allah) and it continued to be acted upon in all of the Divine Legislations until it was made unlawful in the Revelation given to Muhammad. « And he said, “O, my father! This is the interpretation of my dream aforetime!” » That is, this is the interpretation of the dream that I related to you, in which eleven planets and the sun and moon, which prostrated before me when I saw them; and you told me to keep it secret and you promised me that which you promised me at that time. ﴿ “My Lord has made it come true! He was indeed good to me, when He took me out of the prison.” ﴾ That is, after the affliction and hardship, He has made me a governor and a person whose words are heeded and implemented in the lands of Egypt, wherever I wish ﴿ “and brought you (all here) out of the Bedouin life.” ﴾ That is, from the desert, for they lived in the region of the Arabs, in the lands of Al-Khaleel. ﴿ “After Shaitan had sown enmity between me and my brothers.” ﴾ This refers to the envy and malice which Satan inspired in their hearts, which caused them to do what they did to Yoosuf ﷺ, which we have already described. Then he said, ﴿ “Certainly, my Lord is the Most Courteous and Kind unto whom He wills.” ﴾ That is, when Allah Wills something, He prepares the causes that will bring it about and makes them easy in ways of which the slaves are unaware. Indeed, He ordains them and facilitates them, as a Kindness from Him, by His Supreme Omnipotence. ﴿ “Truly, He, Only He is the All-Knowing” ﴾. That is, He possesses (complete and perfect) Knowledge of all affairs. ﴿ “The Most Wise.” ﴾. That is, regarding His creation, His Legislation and His Divine Predestination.

Then, when Yoosuf ﷺ saw that his blessing was complete and all of his family had been gathered, he realized this (earthly) abode will not remain and that everything in it and on it is transitory. He saw that there is nothing after completeness except deficiency. As he realized all this, he praised his Lord in a manner that befitted Him and he acknowledged His Great Kindness and Grace and asked Him – and He is the Best of those who are asked – to grant that when death came to him, he might die as a Muslim and be joined with His righteous slaves. Thus it is said in the words of the supplication: “O, Allah! Cause us to live as Muslims and to die as Muslims.”

That is, when You bring death to us. It is possible that he asked this when death approached him, as the Prophet ﷺ asked, when death approached him, that Allah raise his soul to the heavenly host and the righteous companions from among the Prophets and the Messengers; he said three times, “O, Allah! Let me be with the highest companions,” and then he died. <sup>(31)</sup>

As for our Islamic Law, it prohibits us from supplicating for death, except where we fear fitnah, <sup>(32)</sup> as in the hadeeth of Mu‘az ؓ, describing the supplication of death, which was narrated by Ahmad, “If You are going to send fitnah to a people, then cause us to die and come to You without being put to trial.” <sup>(33)</sup> In another hadeeth, it is said: “Son of Adam! Death is better for you than fitnah.” <sup>(34)</sup>

Maryam (peace be upon her) said, ﴿ “Would that I had died before this, and had been forgotten and out of sight!” ﴾ (Soorah Maryam 19:23). ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib ؓ wished for death when the situation became grave, the discords and trials became oppressive, the fighting increased in intensity and rumor, gossip and hearsay became widespread. Abu ‘Abdullah Al-Bukhari, the compiler of the famous Saheeh wished for it when circumstances became difficult for him and he encountered those who opposed him.

However, in circumstances of comfort and ease, it was narrated by Al-Bukhari and Muslim in their authentic compilations, on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik ؓ that he said: “The Messenger

The Story of Ayyoob (Job) ﷺ

Ibn Ishaq said, "He was a man from Rome and his name was Ayyoob, son of Moos, son of Razaah, son of Al-'Ees, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel." Others said that he was Ayyoob (Job), son of Moos, son of Raghweel, son of Al-'Ees, son of Ishaq, son of Ya'qoob. And other genealogies have been given for him.

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And (remember) Ayyoob (Job), when he cried to his Lord, "Verily, distress has seized me, and You are the Most Merciful of all those who show mercy." So We answered his call, and We removed the distress that was on him, and We restored his family to him (that he had lost), and the like thereof along with them, as a mercy from Ourselves and a Reminder for all who worship Us .﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:83,84)

In Soorah Sad, He, Most High, says, ﴿ And remember Our slave Ayyoob, when he invoked his Lord (saying), "Verily! Shaitan has touched me with distress (by losing my health) and torment (by losing my wealth)!" (Allah said to him), "Strike the ground with your foot: This is a spring of water to wash, cool and a (refreshing) drink." And We gave him (back) his family, and along with them the like thereof, as a Mercy from Us, and a Reminder for those who understand. “And take in your hand a bundle of thin grass and strike therewith (your wife), and break not your oath.” Truly! We found him patient. How excellent (a) slave! Verily, he was ever oft-returning in repentance (to Us)! ﴿Soorah Sad 38:41-44﴾

Scholars of tafseer and history, and others have said that Ayyoob ﷺ (Job) was a man of great wealth, consisting of grazing stock, slaves, cattle and vast lands in Batheniyyah, which is located in Hooran.

Ibn ‘Asakir related that Ayyoob ﷺ had all of this and he also had many children and a large family, but all of this was taken from him and he was afflicted in his body by a variety of illnesses; and it has been authentically reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “The people who are tested the most severely are the Prophets, then the righteous, then the next best and the next best. A man is tried in accordance with his faith; if his faith is firm, then his affliction is hard and if his faith is weak, then his affliction is light.”<sup>(36)</sup> But all of this only increased Ayyoob ﷺ in patience, hope of Allah’s Reward and praise and thanks for Him – to such an extent that his name has become a byword for patience; and it has also become a byword for tribulation, due to the many trials that he endured.

Ibn Abi Hatim and Ibn Jareer narrated on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik ؓ that the Prophet ﷺ said, “Allah’s Prophet, Ayyoob, suffered for eighteen years from his affliction and was shunned by relatives and strangers alike, besides two men who were the closest of his brothers to him. They used to visit him every morning and every evening. One of them said to his companion, ‘You know, by Allah, that Ayyoob committed a great sin which nobody in the world ever committed.’ His companion said, ‘Why are you saying that?’ He said, ‘For eighteen years he has been suffering and Allah has not had Mercy on him and relieve his suffering.’ When he went to him the next morning, the (second) man could not wait to tell this to Ayyoob. Ayyoob said, ‘I do not know what you are talking about, but Allah knows that if I passed by two men who were arguing and they mentioned the Name of Allah, I would go back home and offer expiation lest they had mentioned the Name of Allah in an improper manner.’ Whenever he went out to answer the call of nature, when he finished, his wife would take his hand until he came back home. One day he took a long time, and Allah had revealed to Ayyoob, ﴿ Strike with your foot. This is (a spring of) water to wash, cool and a (refreshing) drink ﴾ (Soorah Sad 38:42) She thought that he had taken too long, so she turned to look at him, and saw that Allah had taken away the afflictions he had been suffering, and he looked better than he had ever looked. When she saw him, she said, “May Allah bless you! Have you seen Allah’s Prophet, the one who is sorely tested By Allah? I have never seen a man who looks more like him than you, if he were healthy.” He said, “I am he.” He had two threshing floors, one for wheat and one for barley. Allah sent two clouds, and when one of them reached the threshing floor of the wheat, it rained gold until it was full. The other rained gold on the threshing floor of the barley until it was full.” (37)

Ibn Abi Hatim narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ, from the Prophet ﷺ that he said, “When Allah restored to health, Ayyoob ؑ He rained golden locusts down on him and he began to gather them up with his hands and place them in his garment. It was said to him, 'O, Ayyoob! Do you not have sufficient?' He said, 'O, my Lord! Who can ever have sufficient of Your Mercy?' (38) It was also narrated by Ibn Hibban in his Saheeh, (39) but none of the compilers of the (six authentic) books narrated it, though it conforms to the criteria required for a hadeeth to be accepted as authentic. And Allah knows better.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah ؓ that he said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "While Ayyoob ؑ was bathing naked, locusts of gold fell upon him. Ayyoob, peace be upon him, began gathering them in his garment. Then his Lord called to him, 'O, Ayyoob, have I not made you so rich that you have no need of what you see?' He said, 'Yes, Lord! But I cannot do without Your Blessing!'" This was also narrated by Al-Bukhari, on the authority of 'Abdur-Razzaq ؓ. (40)

Allah's Saying: ﴿ Strike with your foot ﴾ means: strike the ground with your foot; and he did as he was commanded to do, upon which, Allah caused a spring, whose water was cold, to gush forth for him. Then Allah commanded him to wash in it and to drink from it; he did so, and Allah removed thereby all of the pain, disfigurement and illness that had afflicted his body, both outside and inside. He replaced his former ill-health with good health, bestowing on him perfect beauty and great wealth, to such an extent that He rained down a shower of golden locusts upon him and He returned his family to him, as He, Most High, says, ﴿ and We restored his family to him (that he had lost), and the like thereof along with them. ﴾ (Soorah

(38) Narrated by Imam Ahmad (10260).

Al-Anbiya` 21:84) It was said that He restored the selfsame family to life. It was also said that He rewarded him for those he had lost and recompensed him in the life of this world with others, and that He reunited him with all of them in the life of the Hereafter.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ as a Mercy from Ourselves. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya` 21:84) That is, We relieved him of his hardship. ﴿ and We removed the distress that was on him. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya` 21:84) – as a Mercy from Us to him and a Kindness and Beneficence ﴿ and a reminder for the worshippers. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya` 21:84) That is, a reminder for those who are tested in their bodies, their wealth or their children, for they have an example in the Prophet of Allah, Ayyoob ﷺ, who was tested by Allah with a test greater than that and he bore it patiently, hoping for Allah's Reward, until He relieved him of it.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And take in your hand a bundle of thin grass and strike therewith (your wife), and break not your oath. Truly! We found him patient. How excellent (a) slave! Verily, he was ever oft-returning in repentance (to Us)! ﴾ (Soorah Sad 38:44) This is a license from Allah, Most High, to His slave and His Messenger, Ayyoob ﷺ, because of the oath he had made to beat his wife with a hundred stripes. It was said that he made an oath to do this because she had sold her braids. It was also said that Satan appeared to her in a pleasant form and he described to her how to prepare a cure for Ayyoob ﷺ and so she prepared it and informed Ayyoob ﷺ of what had happened. He realized immediately that it was Satan and he swore an oath that he would beat her with a hundred stripes. When Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful cured him, He commanded him to take a hundred stems of thin grass and strike her with them once; and this would be equivalent to a hundred stripes. Thus he had fulfilled his oath and not broken it. This is a release and a way out for the one who fears Allah and obeys Him, especially with regard to the right of a patient wife, who hopes for Allah's Reward, who is long-suffering, honest, dutiful and rightly guided – may Allah be pleased with her. This is why Allah granted this license and explained it in His Words: ﴿ Truly! We found him patient. How excellent (a) slave! Verily, he was ever oft-returning in repentance (to Us)! ﴾ (Soorah Sad 38:44)

The Story of Dhul-Kifl ﷺ

Who, According to Some People, Was the Son of Ayyoob ﷺ

Allah, Most High, says, after relating the story of Ayyoob ﷺ in Soorah Al-Anbiya', ﴿ And (remember) Isma'eel, and Idris (Enoch) and Dhul-Kifl (Isaiah), all were from among As-Sabireen (the patient ones, etc.). And We admitted them to Our Mercy. Verily, they were of the righteous. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:85,86)

Also after relating the story of Ayyoob ﷺ in Soorah Sad, He, Most High, says, ﴿ And remember Our slaves, Ibraheem, Ishaq, and Ya'qoob, (all) owners of strength (in worshipping Us) and (also) of religious understanding. Verily, We did choose them by granting them (a good thing, i.e.) the remembrance of the home (in the Hereafter and they used to make the people remember it, and also they used to invite the people to obey Allah and to do good deeds for the Hereafter). And they are with Us, verily, of the chosen and the best! And remember Isma'eel (Isma'eel), Al-Yasa'a (Elisha), and Dhul-Kifl (Isaiah), all are among the best ﴾ (Soorah Sad 38:45-48).

Ibn Jareer and Ibn Abi Najeeh narrated on the authority of Mujahid that he was not a Prophet, but that he was a righteous man, who was appointed to act on behalf of the Prophet sent to his people and to carry out his responsibilities towards them and to judge between them with fairness; as a result, he was known as Dhul-Kifl. <sup>(41)</sup>

And Ibn Abi Hatim said: It is reported on the authority of Kinanah Ibn Al-Akhnas that he said: I heard Al-Ash'ari (i.e. Abu Moosa) when he was at the pulpit, saying, "Dhul-Kifl was not a Prophet; but there was a righteous man among the Children of Isra'eel, who used to offer a hundred prayers every day. He died and Dhul-Kifl took his place, offering a hundred prayers every day. For this reason, he was called Dhul-Kifl." <sup>(42)</sup>

Mention of Communities That Were Completely Eradicated

This was before the revelation of the Torah, based on the evidence in the Words of Allah, Most High: ﴿ And indeed We gave Moosa (Moses), after We had destroyed the generations of old, the Scripture (the Tawrah [Torah]) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:43). Likewise, Ibn Jareer At-Tabari, Ibn Abi Hatim and Al-Bazzar narrated on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri ؓ that he said, "Allah did not destroy any people on the face of the Earth with a punishment from the heaven or from the Earth after the Tawrah had been revealed, except for the village

(41) This is because the word kifl is derived from the verb kafala, meaning to be responsible.

(42) See Ad-Durr Al-Manthoor (5/664). Al-Hafiz Ibn Katheer said in his 'Tafseer' (3/192), "It is munqati' (broken) between Qatadah and Abu Moosa ؓ."

whose people were transformed into apes. Do you not see that Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And indeed We gave Moosa, after We had destroyed the generations of old, the Scripture (the Tawrah) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:43) <sup>(43)</sup> In one version narrated by Al-Bazzar, he described it as marfoo'. But it appears most likely that it is mawqoof (i.e. that it may be attributed to Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri, and not to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ). In any case, it proves that every nation that was completely destroyed was before Moosa ؑ. Among them were the dwellers of Ar-Rass, of whom Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And (also) 'Ad and Thamood, and the dwellers of Ar-Rass, and many generations in between. And for each of them We put forward examples (as proofs and lessons, etc.), and each (of them) We brought to utter ruin (because of their disbelief and evil deeds) ﴾ (Soorah Al-Furqan 25:38,39)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Qaf, ﴿ Denied before them (i.e. these pagans of Makkah who denied you, O, Muhammad) the people of Nooh, and the dwellers of Ar-Rass, and Thamood. And 'Ad, and Fir'awn (Pharaoh), and the brethren of Loot. And the dwellers of that wood, and the people of Tubba' Everyone of them denied (their) Messengers, so My Threat took effect. ﴾ (Soorah Qaf 50:12-14). The context of these Soorahs proves that they were destroyed, eradicated and annihilated. And this refutes the preferred opinion of Ibn Jareer At-Tabari, which was that they were the People of the Ditch, who were mentioned in Soorah Al-Burooj, because these people came after the Maseeh ؑ, according to Ibn Ishaq and a number of others. And this claim also requires careful investigation.

(43) Narrated by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari in his Tafseer (20/80). In Al-Majma', Al-Haithami attributed it to Al-Bazzar in both mawqoof and marfoo' forms, while in Ad-Durr Al-Manthoor (5/129), As-Suyooti ascribed it to Ibn Abi Hatim. And Al-Haithami said, "...and its rijal (men) are all narrators of authentic ahadeeth."

Ibn Jareer At-Tabari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said: “The dwellers of Ar-Rass were the inhabitants of one of the villages of Thamood.” And at the start of his Tareekh, when describing the building of Damascus, Al-Hafiz Abul-Qasim Ibn ‘Asakir related from the Tareekh of Abul-Qasim ‘Ubaidullah Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn Khurdazbah and from other sources that the dwellers of Ar-Rass were in Hadoor <sup>(44)</sup> and Allah sent a Prophet to them whose name was Hanzalah Ibn Safwan, but they rejected him and killed him. So ‘Ad, son of ‘Aws, son of Iram, son of Sam, son of Nooh ﷺ led his children from Ar-Rass and settled in Al-Ahqaf and they spread out through the land of Yemen and throughout all the lands, until Jairoon, son of Sa’d, son of ‘Ad, son of ‘Aws, son of Iram, son of Sam, son of Nooh settled in Damascus and built the city, calling it Jairoon and that is Iram of the Pillars. <sup>(45)</sup> And there is no place with more stone pillars than Damascus. Allah sent Hood, son of ‘Abdullah Ibn Rabah, son of Khalid, son of Al-Khulood, son of ‘Ad to the descendants of ‘Ad at Al-Ahqaf, but they rejected him and so Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful destroyed them. This means that the dwellers of Ar-Rass lived a very long time before ‘Ad. And Allah knows better.

Ibn Abi Hatim narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ that he said, “Ar-Rass is a well in Azerbaijan.” Ath-Thawri narrated on the authority of Abu Bukair, who reported on the authority of ‘Ikrimah that he said, “Ar-Rass is a well in which they buried their Prophet.” <sup>(46)</sup> Ibn Juraij said, “Ikrimah said that the dwellers of Ar-Rass were the dwellers of the town mentioned in Soorah Ya Seen, according to what 'Ikrimah has claimed, who were completely annihilated. Allah, Most high, says regarding them, « It was but one Saiyah (shout, etc.) and lo! They (all) were silent (dead – destroyed). » (Soorah Ya Seen 36:29) And we shall relate their story after these people's story, though it would appear that they were another people (i.e. not the people referred to in Soorah Ya Seen); and they were also destroyed and eradicated. At all events, it contradicts what Ibn Jareer said.

(46) This is said to be derived from the Arabic verb rassa, which means to bury.

The Story of the People of YaSeen

Who Were the Dwellers of the Town

Allah, Most High, says, ﴿And put forward to them a similitude; the (story of the) dwellers of the town, when there came Messengers to them. When We sent to them two Messengers, they belied them both, so We reinforced them with a third, and they said, "Verily! We have been sent to you as Messengers." They (people of the town) said, "You are only human beings like ourselves, and the Most Beneficent (Allah) has revealed nothing, you are only telling lies." They said, "Our Lord knows that we have been sent as Messengers to you. And our duty is only to convey plainly." They (the people) said, "For us, we see an evil omen from you, if you cease not, we will surely stone you, and a painful torment will touch you from us." They (the Messengers) said, "Your evil omens be with you! (Do you call it an evil omen) because you are admonished? Nay, but you are a people musrifoon (transgressing all bounds by committing all kinds of great sins, and by disobeying Allah). And there came running from the farthest part of the town, a man, saying, "O, my people! Obey the Messengers; obey those who ask no wages of you (for themselves), and who are rightly guided. And why should I not worship Him (Allah, Alone) Who has created me and to Whom you shall be returned. Shall I take besides Him alihah (gods), (when) if the Most Beneficent (Allah) intends me any harm, their intercession will be of no use for me whatsoever – and nor can they save me? Then verily, I should be in plain error. Verily! I have believed in your Lord, so listen to me!” It was said (to him when the disbelievers killed him), “Enter Paradise.” He said, “Would that my people knew! That my Lord (Allah) has forgiven me, and made me of the honored ones!” And We sent not against his people after him a host from heaven, nor do We send (such a thing). It was but one Saiyah (shout, etc.) and lo! They (all) were silent (dead – destroyed). ﴿ Soorah Ya Seen 36:13-29)

It has been widely reported from many of the Salaf and the later scholars that this town was Antioch (Antakiyah). This was narrated by Ibn Ishaq, who reported it on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, Ka‘b Al-Ahbar and Wahb Ibn Munabbih. It was likewise narrated on the authority of Buraidah Ibn Al-Husaib, ‘Ikrimah, Qatadah, Az-Zuhri and others.

But this saying is very weak, because when the Maseeh ؑ sent three of the Disciples to the people of Antioch (Antakiyah), they were the first city to believe in the Maseeh ؑ at that time. For this reason, it was one of the four cities in which there were Christian Patriarchs; and they were Antioch, Jerusalem, Alexandria and Rome. After them, Constantinople became a Patriarchal city, but none of them was destroyed, while the inhabitants of this village mentioned in the Qur’an were destroyed, as Allah says at the end of their story, after they had killed the one who believed in the Messengers. ﴿ And put forward to them a similitude; the (story of the) dwellers of the town, when there came Messengers to them ) (Soorah Ya Seen 36:13) But if (it was said that) the three Messengers mentioned in the Qur'an were sent to the people of Antioch in the distant past and they rejected them and Allah destroyed them. The city was then rebuilt after that and then when it was the time of the Maseeh ﷺ, they believed in the messengers he sent to them, this cannot be ruled out. And Allah knows better.

He, Most High, says, ( And put forward to them a similitude. ) That is for your people, Muhammad . ( the (story of the) dwellers of the town ). That is, the city. ( when there came Messengers to them. When We sent to them two Messengers, they belied them both, so We reinforced them with a third. ) (Soorah Ya Seen 36:13,14) That is, We supported them by sending a third person to deliver the Message. ( They said, "Our Lord knows that we have been sent as Messengers to you." ) (Soorah Ya Seen 36:16). But they answered them by saying that they were only human beings, like them, as (all) the disbelieving nations said to their Messengers, deeming the idea that Allah would send a human Messenger to be farfetched. The Messengers replied that Allah knew that they were Messengers sent to them and that if they were lying about Him, He would have punished them and exacted condign Retribution on them. ( "And our duty is only to convey plainly." ) (Soorah Ya Seen 36:17) That is, the only obligation upon us is to convey to you the Message with which Allah has sent us to you; it is Allah Who guides whom He wills and increases in misguidance whomsoever He wills. ( They (the people) said, "For us, we see an evil omen from you." ) That is, we see an evil omen in that which you have brought. ( "...if you cease not, we will surely stone you." ). That is, we will revile you verbally. It was also said that it means we will physically stone you. But the first explanation is supported by His Words: ( "and a painful torment will touch you from us.” 》. So they threatened them with death and verbal abuse. ﴿ They (the Messengers) said, “Your evil omens be with you!” 》 That is, they are thrown back upon you. ﴿ “(Do you call it “an evil omen”) because you are admonished?” 》 That is, because of the guidance to which we have called you, would you threaten us with death and verbal abuse? ﴿ “Nay, but you are a people musrifoon (transgressing all bounds by committing all kinds of great sins, and by disobeying Allah).” 》 That is, you do not accept the truth, nor do you desire it. And He, Most High, ﴿ And there came running from the farthest part of the town, a man. 》 That is, to support the two Messengers and to openly declare his belief in them ﴿ saying, “O, my people! Obey the Messengers; those who ask no wages of you (for themselves), and who are rightly guided.” 》 (Soorah Ya Seen 36:20,21). That is, they call you to the pure truth, without receiving or expecting any payment or any recompense. Then he called upon them to worship Allah, Alone, without ascribing partners to him and he forbade them to worship any other deity besides Him, which can offer them no benefit in this world or in the Hereafter. ﴿ “Then verily, I should be in plain error.” 》 (Soorah Ya Seen 36:24). That is, if I abandoned the worship of Allah and worshipped others besides Him. Then he said, addressing the Messengers, ﴿ “Verily! I have believed in your Lord, so listen to me!” 》 (Soorah Ya Seen 36:25). It was said that it means: Listen to my words and bear witness for me to them before your Lord. It was also said that it means: Hear, O, my people, my open testimony of belief in the Messengers of Allah. Upon hearing this, they killed him; it was said that they stoned him. It was also said that they tortured him to death. And it was also said that they leapt upon him as one man and killed him. Ibn Ishaq related from one of his companions, who reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn

Mas'ood ﷺ that he said, "They stamped on him until they had spilled his entrails."

'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ﷺ said, "He advised his people while he lived: ﴿ "O, my people! Obey the Messengers." ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:20) – and after his death: ﴿ He said, "Would that my people knew! That my Lord (Allah) has forgiven me, and made me of the honored ones!" ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:26,27) This was narrated by Ibn Abi Hatim. Qatadah said: "You will never find a believer but he is sincere and is never insincere. When he saw with his own eyes how Allah had honored him. He said, ﴿ 'Would that my people knew! That my Lord (Allah) has forgiven me, and made me of the honored ones!' ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:26,27). He wished that his people could know about what he was seeing with his own eyes of the honor of Allah." Qatadah added, "And no, by Allah! Allah did not censure his people after they had killed him." ﴿ It was but one Saihah and lo! They (all) were silent (dead – destroyed). ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:29)

And He, Most High, says, ﴿ And We sent not against his people after him a host from heaven, nor do We send (such a thing). ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:28) That is, We did not need to send down an army from the heaven in order to exact retribution upon them. This was the meaning narrated by Ibn Ishaq, who reported on the authority of one of his companions, who in turn reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood ﷺ. Mujahid and Qatadah said, that His not sending upon them a host means: He did not send down to them another Message. But Ibn Jareer At-Tabari said, "But the first explanation is more appropriate."

I say that it is also stronger, which is why Allah says, ﴿ nor do We send (such a thing). ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:28) That is,

We did not need to do this in order to exact retribution, when they belied Our Messengers and killed Our Wali. ﴿ It was but one Saiyah and lo! They (all) were silent (dead – destroyed). ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:29)

The scholars of tafseer said that Allah sent Jibraeel ﷺ to them and he seized the posts of the gates to their city, then he unleashed a single shout upon them ﴿ and lo! They (all) were silent (dead – destroyed) ﴾ (Soorah Ya Seen 36:29). That is, their voices were silenced and their movements were stilled, so that not even an eye movement remained among them. All of this proves that this village was not Antakiyak (Antioch), because these people were destroyed because of their rejection of the Messengers whom Allah sent to them, while the inhabitants of Antioch believed and obeyed the messengers of the Maseeh ﷺ from among the disciples whom he sent to them. For this reason it was said that Antioch was the first city to believe in the Maseeh ﷺ.

The Story of Yoonus (Jonah) ﷺ

Allah, Most High, says in Soorah Yoonus, ﴿ Was there any town (community) that believed (after seeing the punishment), and its faith (at that moment) saved it (from the punishment)? (The answer is none,) – except the people of Yoonus (Jonah); when they believed, We removed from them the torment of disgrace in the life of the (present) world, and permitted them to enjoy for a while. ﴾ (Soorah Yoonus 10:98)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Al-Anbiya’, ﴿ And (remember) Dhun-Noon (Jonah), when he went off in anger, and imagined that We shall not punish him (i.e. the calamities which had befallen him)! But he cried through the darkness (saying), “La ilaha illa Anta (none has the right to be worshipped but You [O, Allah]), Glorified (and Exalted) are You (above all that [evil] they associate with You). Truly, I have been of the wrong-doers.” So We answered his call, and delivered him from the distress. And thus We do deliver the Believers (who believe in the Oneness of Allah, abstain from evil and work righteousness). ﴿ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:87,88)

He, Most High, says in Soorah As-Saffat, ﴿ And, verily, Yoonus was one of the Messengers. When he ran to the laden ship, He (agreed to) cast lots, and he was among the losers. Then a (big) fish swallowed him and he had done an act worthy of blame. Had he not been of them who glorify Allah, he would have indeed remained inside its (the fish) belly till the Day of Resurrection. But We cast him forth on the naked shore while he was sick. And We caused a plant of gourd to grow over him. And We sent him to a hundred thousand (people) or even more. And they believed; so We gave them enjoyment for a while. ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:139-148)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Noon (i.e. Soorah Al-Qalam), ﴿ So wait with patience for the Decision of your Lord, and be not like the Companion of the Fish, when he cried out (to Us) while he was in deep sorrow. (See the Qur'an, Verse 21:87). Had not a Grace from his Lord reached him, he would indeed have been (left in the stomach of the fish, but We forgave him), so he was cast off on the naked shore, while he was to be blamed. But his Lord chose him and made him of the righteous. ﴾ (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:48-50)

The scholars of tafseer said that Allah sent Yoonus ﷺ to the people of Neenawa, in the land of Al-Mawsil (Mosul); he called them to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, but they rejected him and arrogantly persisted in their disbelief and willful rejection of the truth. When this state of affairs had gone on for a long time, he departed from them and threatened them with the descent of Allah's Punishment upon them after three days.

'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood رضي الله عنه, Mujahid, Sa'eed Ibn Jubair, Qatadah and more than one of the earlier and the later generations said that when he departed from among them and they became convinced of the imminent descent of Allah's Punishment upon them, Allah cast repentance and remorse into their hearts and they felt a sense of regret for the way they had treated their Prophet.

This is why Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ Was there any town (community) that believed (after seeing the punishment), and its faith (at that moment) saved it (from the punishment)? ﴾ That is, was there any town in past times whose whole population believed? This (rhetorical question) indicates that this did not happen. Indeed, as Allah, Most High, says, ﴿ And We did not send a warner to a township, but those who were given the worldly wealth and luxuries among them said, "We believe not in the (Message) with which you have been sent." ﴾ (Soorah Saba' 34:34). Then He, Most High, says, ﴿ except the people of Yoonus; when they believed, We removed from them the torment of disgrace in the life of the (present) world, and permitted them to enjoy for a while. ﴾ (Soorah Yoonus 10:98) That is, all of them believed. Scholars of tafseer have disagreed as to whether or not their belief would benefit them in the Afterlife and save them from the Punishment of the Hereafter, as it saved them from Punishment in the life of this world. The most apparent answer, according to the context, is yes. And Allah knows better. As He, Most High, says, ﴿ when they believed. ﴾ (Soorah Yoonus 10:98) And He, Most High, says, ﴿ And We sent him to a hundred thousand (people) or even more. And they believed; so We gave them enjoyment for a while. ﴿ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:147,148) This enjoyment for a while does not negate the possibility that there is another reward with it, that being the lifting of the Punishment of the Hereafter. And Allah knows better.

He, Most High, says, ﴿ And verily, Yoonus was one of the Messengers. When he ran to the laden ship, he (agreed to) cast lots, and he was among the losers. Then a (big) fish swallowed him as he had done an act worthy of blame. ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:139-141). That is to say, when he was the loser when they drew lots, he was cast overboard into the sea and Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful sent a great fish from the Mediterranean Sea and it devoured him; Allah, Most High, commanded it not to eat his flesh or break his bones, because he was not food for it. So it took him and swam through all of the seas. It was said that this fish was swallowed by another, even larger fish. They said that when he had stayed for some time in the fish belly, he thought that he had died; then he moved his limbs and saw that he was alive. He fell down in prostration before Allah in the belly of the fish, and he said, "O, Lord! I have taken as a place of worship to You a place which no other person has reached." They differed as to how long he spent in the belly of the fish. Some said three days; this was the view of Qatadah. Some said seven days; this was the view of Ja'far As-Sadiq, may Allah be pleased with him. Some said forty days; this was the view of Abu Malik. Mujahid said, narrating from Ash-Sha'bi, "It swallowed him in the morning and cast him forth in the evening." This is supported by the poetry of Umayyah Ibn Abi As-Salt

*And You, by a Grace from You, saved Yoonus,
And He remained in the belly of the fish for a night.*

What is meant is that when the fish began to swim with him in the deep seas, and hurtled with him through the salty waves, he heard the sound of the fish praising the Most Beneficent and he even heard the praises of the pebbles for the Splitter of seeds and (fruit) stones <sup>(47)</sup> and the Lord of the seven heavens and the seven earths and all that lies between them and that which is beneath the soil. On hearing these praises, he began to beseech Allah, silently and in words, as Allah has informed us, the Owner of Might and Majesty, Who knows the secrets and confidential talks and Who alleviates harm and affliction, Who hears all voices, even though they may be weak, Who knows the unseen things, even though they may be minute and Who answers the supplications of those who are in great distress, as He says in His Book, which was revealed to His trustworthy Messenger – and He is the Most Truthful of Speakers, the Lord of the Worlds and the God of the Messengers – ﴿ And (remember) Dhan-Noon (Jonah), when he went off in anger, and imagined that We shall not punish him (i.e. the calamities which had befallen him)! But he cried through the darkness (saying), “La ilaha illa Anta (none has the right to be worshipped but You [O, Allah]), Glorified (and Exalted) are You (above all that [evil] they associate with You). Truly, I have been of the wrong-doers.” So We answered his call, and delivered him from the distress. And thus We do deliver the believers (who believe in the Oneness of Allah, abstain from evil and work righteousness). ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:87,88)

As for His Saying: ﴿ and (he) imagined that We shall not punish him (i.e. the calamities which had befallen him)! ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:87), it means: We would not constrain him. It was also said that it means: We would not ordain for him; and this is linguistically well-known, as the poet says (in ‘Al-Bahr At-Taweel), (47) See Soorah Al-An’am 6:95.

*There is no return for that time which has gone,
Blessed are You – that which You ordain will be,
And the matter is all in Your Hands.*

As for His Saying: ﴿ But he cried through the darkness ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:87), 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood ﷺ, 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ, 'Amr Ibn Maimoon, Sa'eed Ibn Jubair, Muhammad Ibn Ka'b , Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Qatadah and Ad-Dahhak said that it means the darkness of the fish, the darkness of the sea and the darkness of the night. As for His saying: ﴿ Had he not been of those who glorify Allah, He would have indeed remained inside its belly (the fish) till the Day of Resurrection ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:143,144), it was said that it means: Were it not for the fact that he had praised Allah when he was in that situation, and spoken those words affirming Allah's sole right to be worshipped, glorifying Him, acknowledging Him with humility and repentance to Him and resorting to Him (in his hour of need), he would have remained there until the establishment of the Day of Resurrection – and he would have been sent forth from the belly of that fish.

This is supported by the narration of Imam Ahmad and some of the compilers of the Sunan, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas ؓ, who said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to me, "O, boy! I will teach you some words: Remember Allah and He will remember you. Remember Allah and you will find Him before you. Remember Allah in times of ease and He will remember you in times of hardship."<sup>(48)</sup>

He, Most High, says, ﴿ But We threw him ﴾ (Soorah As-Saffat 37:145). That is, We cast him forth ﴿ on al-'ara' ﴾ (Soorah

(48) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (2800) and At-Tirmidhi (2516).

As-Saffat 37:145). That is, in a deserted place, in which there are no trees; rather, it is bare of them. (While he was sick) (Soorah As-Saffat 37:145). That is, physically weak. ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood ؓ said, “Like the body of a chicken without feathers on it.”<sup>(49)</sup> ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas ؓ, As-Suddi and Ibn Zaid said that his body was like the body of a child when it is born, swollen and without anything on it. (And We caused a gourd plant to grow over him) (Soorah As-Saffat 37:146).

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Sa‘d Ibn Abi Waqqas ؓ that he said: I passed by ‘Uthman Ibn ‘Affan ؓ in the mosque and I greeted him with salutations of peace; he looked at me, but he did not return my salutations of peace. So I went to ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab ؓ and said, “O, Commander of the Faithful! Has anything happened in Islam?” Twice I repeated this, but he replied, “No. Why do you ask?” I said, “Only because I passed by ‘Uthman Ibn ‘Affan a short while ago in the mosque and I greeted him with salutations of peace and he saw me clearly. But he did not answer my salutations.” He said: So ‘Umar ؓ sent for ‘Uthman ؓ and said to him, “What prevented you from replying to your brother’s salutation?” He said, “I did not (ignore his salutations).” Sa‘d ؓ said, “Yes (you did).” They continued to contradict each other until they both swore that they were telling the truth. He said: Then ‘Uthman ؓ remembered and he said, “Yes (I remember now). I ask Allah’s Forgiveness and I turn to Him in repentance. You passed by me a while ago and I was preoccupied with thoughts of a saying which I heard from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ which I never think of except that a veil comes down over my eyes and my heart.” Sa‘d said: And I will tell you what it was. The Messenger of Allah told us the first part of the supplication

(49) Narrated by Ibn Abi Shaibah in Al-Musannaf (6/338, No. 31866) as part of a lengthy narration.

then a Bedouin came and kept him busy, then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ got up and I followed him. When I felt worried that he would enter his house, I stamped my feet on the ground and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ turned toward me and said, "Who is this, Abu Ishaq?" he said, "I replied, "(What is the matter) I said, yes, O Messenger of Allah. he said: "keep silent" "Nothing, by Allah, except that you told us the first part of the supplication, then this Bedouin came and kept you busy." He said, "Yes, the supplication of Dhun-Noon when he was in the belly of the fish: ﴿ "None has the right to be worshipped but You. Glorified be You! Truly, I have been of the wrongdoers." ﴾ (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:87). No Muslim ever supplicates to his Lord with these words for anything, but He will answer his prayer. <sup>(50)</sup>

(50) This is an authentic hadeeth narrated by Imam Ahmad (1465), At-Tirmidhi (3505) and An-Nasa'i in 'Al-Kubra' (6/168, No. 10492)

Mention of the Virtue of Yoonus عليه السلام

Allah, Most High, says, « And, verily, Yoonus was one of the Messengers » (Soorah As-Saffat 37:139). Allah, Most High, mentioned him as being among the Noble Prophets in Soorah An-Nisa' and Soorah Al-Anbiya' – may the choicest prayers and blessings from Allah be upon them all.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah رضي الله عنه that he said: The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "No slave should say that I am better than Yoonus, son of Matta." <sup>(51)</sup>

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه that he reported from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that he said, "No slave should say that I am better than Yoonus, son of Matta." <sup>(52)</sup>

Preface to the Revision

All praise and thanks be to Allah (SWT), Who revived knowledge of His religion and caused it to blossom forth after it had all but disappeared, and Who demolished the false conjectures of the apostates. I praise Him and I seek refuge with Him from the sins which weigh upon the backs of mankind. I worship Him and seek His aid in removing hindrances and difficulties in the practice of my religion. I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped except Allah, Alone, without partners and I bear witness that Muhammad – who, by Allah’s leave, brought about the dawn of faith to the darkness and misguidance which existed in the hearts of mankind – is the slave and Messenger of Allah. May the Blessings and Peace of Allah be upon him in perpetuity.

O, Allah! We seek Your favor and through You we seek to ward off affliction. We ask You to protect us and to grant us mercy. Our Lord! Make not our hearts deviate after You have already guided us. Make it easy for us to perform our deeds in the way that You have taught us. Make us grateful for what You have given us and make plain a path for us which leads to You. Open up the doors between us and You by which we may arrive before You. To You belong the keys to the heavens and the Earth and You are Most Able to do all things. To proceed:

Among the blessings which Allah has bestowed upon us, the community of Muslims is that He has made it easy for us to follow the path of guidance, and He has opened the doors of knowledge by making available to us these new publications, which present to us the writings of the early scholars and reveal to us what they said regarding legal verdicts, history, events, information and lessons. These scholars opened a clear beacon of light for all those Muslims seeking guidance and they set up for us a signpost in which there is neither deviation nor crookedness. Whoever follows it will arrive safely at his desired destination and whoever diverts from it will be lost forever. They have written these books and treatises and made clear to us therein events, information and virtues. Among such books is this unique work, Al-Bidayah Wan-Nihayah, by the Imam, the Hafiz, the master scholar of hadeeth, ‘Imaduddeen Isma‘eel Ibn Katheer

Al-Qurashi – may Allah have mercy on him. This book was greeted with approval by the vast majority of Muslims. No Islamic library would be complete without it. In it, the author has recorded what Allah, Most High has made easy for him about the history of mankind, from the beginning of creation, starting with the creation of the Throne and the Kursi (Footstool), the heavens and the Earth and all that they contain and all that lies between them, such as the angels, the jinn and the devils. He also described how Adam (Peace be upon him) was created, and told the stories of the prophets up to the days of the Children of Isra‘eel and the Days of Ignorance (Jahiliyyah), until the advent of Prophet Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), which heralded the end of Prophethood. He then recorded his Seerah. Then he recorded the events which took place up to his own time. He also spoke of the trials and battles, the signs of the approach of the Hour, then the sending forth of mankind and the terrors of the Resurrection, which he described in detail. He then described the Hell-fire, with all its horrors, and Paradise and all the good things contained therein. He called this particular volume of his book: AnNihayah Fil-Fitan Wal-Malahim (The Ending in Trials and Battles). As for the book which is in our hands today, it is Al-Bidayah.

By Allah’s Grace, I came to know brother Abdul Malik Mujahid, the general manager of Darussalam Publishing in Riyadh. He visited me in my humble office in Damascus and suggested to me the idea of creating a summarised version of this wonderful book. I prayed for Allah’s Guidance in the matter and sought help from Him in completing the project. Allah enabled me to make the acquaintance of a number of people of knowledge and experience in this field and a plan of action for the work was written. It consisted of ten principal points and we then started the task, seeking help from the Lord of the heavens and the Earth. All of us exerted our utmost efforts in this task, making repeated revisions and corrections, until we reached the point where, by Allah's Permission, we completed it and it was published in the form which is in your hands today.

The Plan of Action for This Book:

1. Summarization of the text. This was achieved by concentrating on the most important events narrated in the book. In doing so, we took care not to leave out any important details which would cause loss of meaning or import.
2. We relied on a number of printed and handwritten copies of the book and in cases where any contradiction or omission was found, we succeeded in establishing the most accurate and authentic text.
3. We left out the ahadeeth which proved to be baseless or weak and confined ourselves to the ahadeeth which are authentic or hasan and those which are acceptable due to the existence of other supporting narrations. On rare occasions, when it was found that there were no other ahadeeth in the chapter, we included some weak ahadeeth whose weakness was not of an extreme nature.
4. We performed takhreej of the ahadeeth with ascription of the number of the section and the page, the number of the hadeeth and in many cases, the precise location of the hadeeth in the original source, then the ruling on its authenticity, if it was not from the Saheehain, because the ahadeeth therein do not require any ruling on their authenticity and they have been widely accepted by the Muslim Ummah. As for the ahadeeth in this book, we have relied on the opinions of the Imams and scholars of hadeeth – including the earlier scholars, the later scholars and those of the present day. On some occasions, we have recorded the weak ahadeeth, while making it plain that they are not authentic. We have not omitted them because the author has included them in order to warn the people against them due to their widespread popularity amongst the Muslims in general. In such cases, we desired not to oppose the author in this effort and so we left them, at the same time making the scholars’ ruling on them clear, so as to warn the people against them.

5. We summarized the asaneed present in the book, in most cases mentioning only the Companion who narrated the hadeeth, or the person who reported it from him.
6. We omitted many of the Isra’eeliyyat found in this book which the author referred to in the preface, where he said: “We do not record the Isra’eeliyyat except those which the Lawgiver has permitted, i.e., those which do not contradict the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). These are stories which are neither believed nor belied and they have been recorded because they provide details of unclarified narratives that we have, or they provide names for people and places that have only been mentioned in passing in our Revelation, due to there being no benefit in specifying them for us. Thus we have reported them in order to provide extra detail and not with the intention of citing them as evidence or placing any reliance on them. Only the Book of Allah and the authentic Sunnah of His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) may be relied and depended upon. It is from Allah that we seek help and it is He in Whom we place our trust; there is no help and no power except in Allah, the All-Powerful, the Most Wise, the Most High, the Almighty.
7. In some instances, we have referred back to the original manuscript in order to verify the wording of a hadeeth from its source. In some cases, the author has combined two narrations of the same hadeeth together and so where this has occurred, we have noted it and separated the two narrations, placing our own words between brackets, i.e., (and in another narration...) and we have also identified the source of the addition in the footnotes.

8. We have written the Qur'anic Verses in the Uthmani script, in conformity with the copy of the Qur'an published by Al-Madinah Al-Munawwarah Printing Complex.
9. We vowelised the words of many of the ahadeeth in the book and, in addition, the poetic verses, wherever possible.
10. We mentioned the meters of the poetic verses between parentheses.
11. We explained the meanings of some difficult or obscure words, relying on dictionaries, books containing ghareeb ahadeeth and narrations and other sources.
12. We furnished a brief biography of the author, Hafiz Ibn Katheer though in reality, he requires no introduction and no description.

Finally, I ask Allah, Most High, to accept this humble work from us and to acknowledge it as having been done purely and sincerely with the aim of pleasing Him and to grant us and our brothers, who assisted us in the production of this book, pardon and forgiveness in religious and secular matters. In addition, we ask Him that He include this work in the weight of our good deeds on the Day of Resurrection – a Day on which neither wealth nor sons will benefit anyone – except for those whom Allah has blessed with pure hearts.

And our final declaration is that all praise and thanks are due to Allah (SWT), and we invoke blessings and peace upon Prophet Muhammad and upon all his righteous family and Companions until the Day of Reckoning.

Publisher's Preface

Verily, all praise and thanks are due to Allah (SWT). We seek His aid and we ask forgiveness of Him. We seek refuge with Allah from the wickedness in ourselves. Whomsoever Allah guides, there is none who can misguide him and whomsoever He sends astray, there is none who can guide him. I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah and that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger. He sent him with guidance and the true Religion and with the light (of truth), the admonition and wisdom, at a time when no Messengers were sent for a long period, when there was little religious knowledge and the people had gone astray, when the Hour was drawing nearer. Whoever obeys Allah and His Messenger has followed the right course, while whoever disobeys Allah and His Messenger erred from it and gone far astray. To proceed:

The book Al-Bidayah (The Beginning) by the Hafiz, the Imam, the scholarly critic, Ibn Katheer is an incomparable work regarding the study of the events and their chronological order, the knowledge of which he strove hard to acquire. He began by describing the start of creation – from the creation of the Throne and the Kursi and the heavens and the Earth and all that is in them and all that lies between them, such as the angels, the jinn and the devils and he described the manner of Adam's creation (Peace be upon him). He recounted the stories of the Prophets and the events that took place therein, up to the times of the Children of Isra'eel and the Days of Ignorance, which ended with the advent of the final Prophet, Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). Then he gave a detailed description of his life and what happened after that, up to the time in which he, lived. He then wrote a separate volume called An-Nihayah Fil – Fitān Wal-Malahim (The Ending With Trials and Great Battles).

Furthermore, Allah inspired us to undertake the noble task of making this book easily accessible to both the students and the

scholars and then to translate it into several languages, by Allah's Permission.

I suggested to my brother, Yoosuf Al-Hajj, the necessity of summarizing this book in a suitable manner, through the omission of unbeneficial repetition, weak ahadeeth, lengthy poems, etc. I am thankful to brother Yoosuf for assembling a team that consisted of Abdul Malik Wadih, Abu Muslim Al-Jaza'iri, Muwaffeq Khaleel Hammad, and himself. Darussalam funded the entire project, paying each team member for his contribution and work. After they completed their portion of the project, the work then went through numerous people in the Research Division of Darussalam, who meticulously went through the work, adding and subtracting materials. After this, the project went through another round of editing of the Arabic material before it was sent to the translation department. The translation was then checked for accuracy and then sent for editing, resulting in the final project that you see before you. All praise and thanks be to Allah for allowing us to produce such a classical work for the first time in the English language.

O Allah! We ask that You bless us with sincerity and success and that You spread goodness through our hands.

Mention of the Story of Moosa, Al-Kaleem (Peace be upon him)

He was Moosa, son of ‘Imran, son of Qahith, son of ‘Azir, son of Lowi, son of Ya‘qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem (peace be upon them). Allah, Most High, says, "And mention in the Book (this Qur’an) Moosa. Verily! He was chosen and he was a Messenger (and) a Prophet. And We called him from the right side of the Mount, and made him draw near to Us for a talk with him (Moosa). And We bestowed on him his brother Haroon (Aaron), (also) a Prophet, out of Our Mercy." (Soorah Maryam 19:51-53) Allah mentions him at different places in the Qur’an and He mentions his story at several places, both in brief as well as in detail. We have spoken about this at relevant places in the Tafseer and we shall set forth his life story here from the beginning to the end, as related in the Qur’an and the Sunnah. We shall also mention what has been related in the traditions that have been transmitted from Isra’eeliyyat – those which were mentioned by the Salaf and those mentioned by others – if Allah wills; and in Him we place our trust and on Him we depend.

He, Most High, says, "Ta- Seen- Meem. (These letters are one of the miracles of the Qur’an, and none but Allah, Alone, knows their meanings). These are Verses of the Book (that makes clear truth from falsehood, good from evil, etc.). We recite to you some of the news of Moosa and Fir‘awn in truth, for a people who believe (those who believe in Qur’an, and in the Oneness of Allah). Verily, Fir‘awn exalted himself in the land and made its people sects, weakening a group among them, killing their sons, and letting their females live. Verily, he was of the mufsidoon (i.e. those who commit great sins and crimes, oppressors, tyrants, etc.). And We wished to do a favor to those who were weak (and oppressed) in the land, and to make them rulers and to make them the inheritors, And to establish them in the land, and We let Fir‘awn and Haman and their hosts receive from them that which they feared." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:1-6)

Allah, Most High, mentions the story in brief and then He explains it in detail after that. He mentions that

He is relating to His Prophet (Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)) the story of Moosa (Peace be upon him) and Fir'aun in truth; that is, the true facts which were heard and witnessed by those who were present at the time."Verily, Fir'aun exalted himself in the land and made its people sects. " (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:4) That is, he behaved tyrannically, was insolent, exceeded all limits, committed outrages, preferred the life of this world (to the life of the Hereafter) and refused to obey his Lord, Most High, "and made its people sects" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:4). That is, he divided his subjects into groups and classes, "weakening a group among them" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:4). The group referred to is the tribe of Banu Isra'eel, who were from the offspring of Prophet Ya'qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem, Allah's Khaleel, peace be upon them all, who were at that time, the best people on Earth. This unjust, tyrannical, disbelieving, iniquitous king had gained mastery over them, enslaved them and used them to perform vilest, the meanest and the lowest of tasks, in addition to which, he was "killing their sons, and letting their females live. Verily, he was of the mufsidoon." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:4) His justification for doing these wicked things was that the Children of Isra'eel used to study the religious texts that were in their possession, which they had transmitted from Ibraheem (Peace be upon him); these texts claimed that from his progeny a baby boy would be born at whose hands the king of Egypt would be destroyed. It was said – and Allah knows best the truth of this – that this was revealed to Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) at the time when the king of Egypt attempted to carry out his evil desires with Sarah, the wife of Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him), and Allah protected her from him. These tidings were wellknown to the Children of Isra'eel and the Copts spoke of them among themselves until news of them was communicated to Fir‘awn by his governors and nobles when they would sit and talk with him in the evenings. Upon hearing this, he ordered that the sons of Banu Isra’eel be killed, in order to prevent that prophesied child from being born, but no precaution can circumvent what has been ordained by Allah (SWT).

It means that Fir‘awn took every possible precaution to prevent Moosa from growing up to fulfill the prophecy, to such an extent that he appointed men and midwives, whose duty it was to visit the houses of the pregnant women and to find out their expected delivery dates. Then, whenever a woman would give birth to a boy, those slaughterers would kill him at once. According to the People of the Scripture, he ordered the killing of the males in order to weaken the power of the Children of Isra’eel, so that they could not resist them if they fought them. But this claim is doubtful; indeed, it is false, because this order to kill their sons was only given after Moosa (Peace be upon him) was sent, as He, Most High, says, "Then, when he brought them the Truth from Us, they said, 'Kill the sons of those who believe with him and let their women live'." (Soorah Ghafir 40:25) This was because the Children of Isra’eel said to Moosa (Peace be upon him) "We (the Children of Isra’eel) have suffered troubles before you came to us, and since you have come to us." (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:129) So the truth is that Fir‘awn only ordered the killing of their sons at first as a precaution, in order to prevent the coming of Moosa (Peace be upon him). He did all this, but the Fate said, "O, you tyrannical king, who is deceived by his large army, his great power and his extensive authority! The Greatest (i.e. Allah) – Whom none can defeat and none can resist, Whose Ordainments cannot be contradicted, has decreed that this child against whom you seek to guard yourself, due to which you have killed untold number of innocent souls, will be brought up in none other than your own house and upon your own bed and he will not partake of any food or drink but yours, which is served in your home. It is you who will raise him and educate him, while you are his enemy; yet you will not discover the significance of all this, and then your destruction in this world and in the Hereafter will be at his hands, because of your opposition to the clear truth that he brings and your rejection of the Revelation given to him. This is in order that you and all of the mankind may know that the Lord of the heavens and the Earth is the Doer of what He wills and that He is the All-Powerful, the Stern, Owner of Strength and Power and Will which cannot be opposed.

Allah, Most High, says, "And We inspired the mother of Moosa, (saying), 'Suckle him (Moosa), but when you fear for him, then cast him into the river and fear not, nor grieve. Verily! We shall bring him back to you, and shall make him one of (Our) Messengers.' Then the household of Fir'awn picked him up, that he might become for them an enemy and a (cause of) grief. Verily! Fir'awn, Haman and their hosts were sinners. And the wife of Fir'awn said, 'A comfort of the eye for me and for you. Kill him not, perhaps he may be of benefit to us, or we may adopt him as a son.' And they perceived not (the result of that)." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:7-9) This Revelation was an inspiration and spiritual guidance, as He, Most High, says, "And your Lord inspired the bee, saying, 'Take your habitations in the mountains and in the trees and in what they erect. Then, eat of all fruits, and follow the ways of your Lord made easy (for you).'

" (Soorah An-Nahl 16:68,69) This was not the Revelation of Prophethood, as Ibn Hazm and more than one from among the rationalists claimed. The correct interpretation is the first, as reported by Abul-Hasan AlAsh'ari from the madhab of Ahlus-Sunnah Wal-Jama'ah.

Allah placed in her heart and her soul that she should not fear and she should not grieve, because if he went away from her, Allah would return him to her and He would make him a Prophet and Messenger, whose word would be raised high in this life and in the Hereafter. So she did as she was commanded to do and she placed him in a basket in the river, but she neglected to secure the end of the rope to the shore and so the Nile carried him away and the basket passed by the abode of Fir'awn. "Then they picked him up." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:8) He, Most High, says, "that he might become for them an enemy and a (cause of) grief." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:8). Some said that the letter lam used in the Verse is lam al-'aqibah. And it would appear to be so, although it pertains to the preceding words: "Then the household of Fir'awn picked him up." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:8) But if it is understood to relate to the meaning of the words, which is that the family of Fir'awn were predestined to find him, so that he should become an enemy to them and a (cause of) grief, then the lam will be for justification or explanation, and Allah knows better.

This second supposition is strengthened by the Words of Allah: "Verily! Fir'awn, Haman" (Soorah AlQasas 28:8) Haman was Fir'awn's wicked Wazeer "and their hosts" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:8) That is, those who followed them both "were sinners" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:8) It means, they followed what was contrary to the truth, and so they deserved this punishment and pain.

The scholars of tafseer mentioned that the servants picked him up from the water and he was in a closed box, but they did not venture to open it until they had placed it in the hands of Fir'awn's wife, whose name was Asiyah, daughter of Muzahim, son of 'Ubaid, son of Ar-Rayyan Ibn Al-Waleed, who had been the Fir'awn of Egypt during the time of Yoosuf (Peace be upon him). It was said that she was from Banu Isra'eel, from the descendants of Moosa (Peace be upon him). It was also said that she was his paternal aunt; this was reported by As-Suhaili. And Allah knows better.

We will relate the praises and commendations that have been heaped on her in the story of Maryam, daughter of 'Imran, and how, on the Day of Resurrection, they will be with the wives of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) in Paradise. When she opened the box and removed the covering from him, she saw his face, which was radiant with the light of Prophethood and the Mosaic Illustriousness. When she saw him, she immediately loved him intensely. When Fir'awn came, he said, "What is this?" And he ordered that he be slaughtered; but she snatched the baby from him and pushed him away, saying, "A comfort of the eye for me and for you.” (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:9) But Fir‘awn said to her, “As for you, he may be; but for me, no.” That is, I have no need of him. She said, “maybe he will profit us...” (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:9) Allah granted her that benefit which she hoped for: In this world, it was that Allah guided her through him and in the Hereafter, it was that He made her to reside in His Paradise because of him.

"Or we shall adopt him as a son." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:9) This was because they brought him up, as they had no children of their own.

Allah, Most High, says, "And they perceived not (the result of that" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:9) means that, they did not know what Allah had willed for them, that He had ordained for them to pick him up as part of His Plan to bring Divine Retribution to Fir‘awn and his hosts. "And the heart of the mother of Moosa became empty. She was very near to disclose him, had We not strengthened her heart (with faith), so that she might remain as one of the Believers. And she said to his (Moosa’s) sister, 'Follow him.' So she (his sister) watched him from a junub, while they perceived not. And We had already forbidden (other) foster suckling mothers for him, until she (his sister came up and) said, 'Shall I direct you to a household who will rear him for you, and sincerely they will look after him in a good manner?' So did We restore him to his mother, that she might be delighted, and that she might not grieve, and that she might know that the Promise of Allah is true. But most of them know not." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:10-13)

‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, ‘Ikrimah, Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair, Abu ‘Ubaidah, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Ad-Dahhak and others all said regarding His Saying: "And the heart of the mother of Moosa became empty" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:10) which it means: her heart became empty of all worldly matters, except Moosa (Peace be upon him). "She was very near to disclose him" means to disclose his case, namely that the child was her son and to ask about him openly "had We not strengthened her heart" means made her patient and strong "so that she might remain as one of the Believers. And she said to his (Moosa's) sister, 'Follow him'." She was her grownup daughter. That is, go after him and seek information about him. "She (his sister) watched him from a junub." Mujahid said that it means: from a distance.

Qatadah said, "She began to observe him, (casually,) as if she had no interest in him, which is why Allah, Most High, says, "while they perceived not." This was because, when Moosa (Peace be upon him) was taken to live in Fir'awn's house, they wanted to provide him with a wet-nurse, but he would not accept the breast of any of them, nor would he eat any food. So they felt at a loss as to what to do for him, having exerted all of their efforts to find some way to feed him, but to no avail. As He, Most High, says, "And We had already forbidden (other) foster suckling mothers for him." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:12) So they sent him with the midwives and maids to the marketplace, in the hope that they would find someone whose milk he would accept. While they were standing with him and the people were busy looking at him, his sister espied him, but she did not reveal that she knew him. Instead she said, "Shall I direct you to a household who will rear him for you, and sincerely they will look after him in a good manner?" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:12) According to 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), when she said this, they said to her, they had some doubts about her, so they seized her and asked her how she knew these people will be sincere and care for him? She said to them, "They will be sincere and will care for him because they want the king to be happy and because they hope for some reward." So they let her go. After what she said, being safe from their harm, they took her to their house and brought the baby to his mother. She gave him her breast and he accepted it, so they rejoiced and sent the glad tidings to the wife of Fir'awn. She called for Moosa's mother, treating her kindly and rewarding her generously. She did not realize that she was his real mother, but she saw that the baby accepted her breast. Then Asiyah asked her to stay with her and nurse the baby, but she refused, saying, "I have a husband and children, and I cannot stay with you, but if you would like me to nurse him in my own home, I will do that.” Fir‘awn’s wife agreed to that, and paid her a regular salary and gave her extra gifts and clothing and treated her kindly. The mother of Moosa (Peace be upon him) came back with her child, happy that after a time of fear Allah granted her security, prestige and ongoing provision. There was only a short time between the distress and the way out, a day and night, or thereabouts. And Allah knows best. Glory be to the One in Whose Hands are all things; what He wills happens and what He does not will does not happen. He is the One Who grants those who fear Him, a way out from every worry and distress, Allah says, "So did We restore him to his mother, that she might be delighted, and that she might not grieve, and that she might know that the Promise of Allah is true." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:13) That is, We promised to return him to her and make him a Messenger; so his return to her is proof of the truth of the glad tidings of his status as a Messenger. But most of them know not." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:13)

Allah bestowed this favor on Moosa (Peace be upon him) on the night when He spoke to him, and among the things He said to him was: “And indeed We conferred a favor on you another time (before). When We inspired your mother with that which We inspired. Saying, 'Put him (the child) into the taboot (a box or a case or a chest) and put it into the river (Nile), then the river shall cast it up on the bank, and there, an enemy of Mine and an enemy of his shall take him.' And I endued you with love from Me, in order that you may be brought up under My Eye.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:37-39) This was that no person saw him except that he loved him. “that you may be brought up under My Eye.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:39) Qatadah and others among the Salaf said that it means: You will be fed and given a pleasant life and you will be given the best foods to eat and the finest garments to wear. All of this is due to My Protection and My Supervision of you in that which I have created in you and for you and the things that I have ordained, which no one besides Me could do. “When your sister went and said, 'Shall I show you one who will nurse him?' So We restored you to your mother, that she might cool her eyes and she should not grieve. Then you did kill a man, but We saved you from great distress and tried you with a heavy trial." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:40)

He, Most High, says, "And when he attained his full strength, and was perfect (in manhood), We bestowed on him Hukman (Prophethood, right judgment of the affairs) and religious knowledge (of the Religion of his forefathers i.e. Islamic Monotheism). And thus do We reward the muhsinoon (i.e. those who do good – see the footnote of V. 9:120). And he entered the city at a time of unawareness of its people, and he found there two men fighting – one of his party (his Religion – from the Children of Isra'eel), and the other of his foes. The man of his (own) party asked him for help against his foe, so Moosa struck him with his fist and killed him. He said, 'This is of Shaitan's doing, verily, he is a plain misleading enemy.' He said, 'My Lord! Verily, I have wronged myself, so forgive me.' Then He forgave him. Verily, He is the Oft-Forgiving, the Most Merciful. He said, 'My Lord! For that with which You have favored me, I will never more be a helper for the mujrimoon (criminals, those disobedient to Allah, polytheists and sinners, etc.)!'" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:14-17) Allah, Most High, mentioned that He blessed Moosa's mother by returning him to her and by the Kindness and Grace He bestowed on her following this. Then He described how, when Moosa (Peace be upon him) grew up and became a man of fine physique and exemplary character – according to most authorities, he was aged forty years – Allah bestowed wisdom and knowledge on him, i.e. Prophethood and the Message, the glad tidings of which He informed Moosa's mother in His Words: "Verily! We shall bring him back to you, and shall make him one of (Our) Messengers." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:7) Then He, Most High, described the cause of Moosa's departure from Egypt, his journey to the land of Madyan and his residence there for the time ordained for him, and how Allah spoke to him and ennobled him with that which He ennobled him, as we shall make clear. Allah, Most High, says,

"And he entered the city at a time of unawareness of its people." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:15) 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Sa'eed Ibn Jubair, 'Ikrimah, Qatadah and As-Suddi said that this was in the middle of the day. It was also reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said that it was between the two 'isha's "and he found there two men fighting" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:15) means exchanging blows and struggling with one another "one of his party". That is, one of them being from among the Children of Isra'eel "and the other of his foes". That is, the other being from among the Copts. This was said by 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Qatadah, As-Suddi and Muhammad Ibn Ishaq. "The man of his (own) party asked him for help against his foe." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:15) This was because Moosa (Peace be upon him) possessed power in Egypt, due to the fact that he had been adopted and brought up by Fir'awn in his palace. As a result of this, the Children of Isra'eel had gained a degree of strength and respect and they acquired prestige and status due to the fact that one of them had breastfed him, which made them his "uncles", i.e. through a foster relationship. So when that Isra'eelite requested Moosa's help against the Copt, Moosa (Peace be upon him) advanced toward him "so Moosa struck him." (Soorah AlQasas 28:15) Mujahid said that it means that he struck him a blow with his fist. Qatadah said that he struck him with a stick that he had with him "and killed him." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:15) That is, he died as a result of the blow; and that Copt was a disbeliever, who ascribed partners to Allah, the Almighty. Moosa (Peace be upon him) had not intended to kill him; he had only intended to restrain him and curb his aggression. Because of this, Moosa (Peace be upon him) said, "This is of Shaitan's doing, verily, he is a plain misleading enemy.' He said, 'My Lord! Verily, I have wronged myself, so forgive me.' Then He forgave him. Verily, He is the Oft-Forgiving, the Most Merciful. He said, 'My Lord! For that with which You have favored me, I will never more be a helper for the mujrimoon (criminals, those disobedient to Allah, polytheists, sinners, etc.)!" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:15-17)

And He, Most High, says, "So he became afraid, looking about in the city (waiting as to what would be the result of his crime of killing), when, behold, the man who had sought his help the day before, called for his help (again). Moosa said to him, 'Verily, you are a plain misleader!' Then, when he decided to seize the man who was an enemy to both of them, the man said, 'O, Moosa! Is it your intention to kill me as you killed a man yesterday? Your aim is nothing but to become a tyrant in the land, and not to be one of those who do right.' And there came a man running, from the farthest end of the city. He said, 'O, Moosa! Verily, the chiefs are taking counsel together about you, to kill you, so escape. Truly, I am to you of those who give sincere advice.' So he escaped from there, looking about in a state of fear. He said, 'My Lord! Save me from the people who are zalimoon (polytheists and wrongdoers)!" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:18-21)

Allah, Most High, informs us that the following day, Moosa (Peace be upon him) was in a state of anxiety in the Egyptian city; i.e. he was fearful that Fir'awn and his council of elders would know that the murder victim, whose case had been submitted to Fir'awn, had been killed by none other than Moosa (Peace be upon him), while supporting a man from among the Children of Isra'eel, for this would strengthen their belief that Moosa (Peace be upon him) was one of them – and the consequences of this would be severe. So he began to walk around the city on that morning, "so he became afraid, looking about." It means that he started glancing about in all directions. And while he was engorged, the same Isra'eelite who had sought his help the previous day "called to him" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:18) That is, he shouted to him and requested his help against another man with whom he had picked a fight. But Moosa (Peace be upon him) rebuked him and blamed him for his repeated wickedness and argumentativeness, saying to him, "Verily, you are a plain misleader!" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:18) Then, when he intended to fight with that Copt – who was the enemy of Moosa (Peace be upon him) and of the Isra'eelite – to restrain him and rescue the Isra'eelite from him, he advanced toward the Copt, "The man said, 'O, Moosa! Is it your intention to kill me as you killed a man yesterday? Your aim is nothing but to become a tyrant in the land, and not to be one of those who do right!'" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:19) Some said that these words were spoken by the Isra'eelite, who was aware of what Moosa (Peace be upon him) had done the previous day; and it was as if, when he saw him advancing on the Copt, he thought that Moosa (Peace be upon him) wanted to hit him because of his rebuke to him, "Verily, you are a plain misleader!" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:18) and so he said those words to Moosa (Peace be upon him) (in self-defense). Thus he made known what had transpired the previous day and the Copt went to Fir'awn and incited him against Moosa (Peace be upon him).

What is intended here is that Fir'awn was informed that Moosa (Peace be upon him) was the man who had killed the Copt the previous day and so he sent his people out to look for him. But they were preceded by an advisor, who had taken a shortcut to reach him "And there came a man running, from the farthest end of the city." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:20). That is, hastening to him, because he was concerned for his safety. He said, "O, Moosa! Verily, the chiefs are taking counsel together about you, to kill you, so escape" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:20) means so, you escape from this land. "Truly, I am to you of those who give sincere advice." That is, in what I say to you. Allah, Most High, says, "so he escaped from there, looking about in a state of fear," (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:21) meaning he left the land of Egypt immediately, being unaware of which road he was taking and not knowing where it would lead him, saying, "My Lord! Save me from the people who are zalimoon." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:21).

And He, Most High, says, "And when he went toward (the land of) Madyan he said, 'It may be that my Lord guides me to the Right Way.' And when he arrived at the water of Madyan (Midian) he found there a group of men watering (their flocks), and besides them he found two women who were holding back. He said, 'What is the matter with you?' They said, 'We cannot water (our flocks) until the shepherds take (their flocks). And our father is a very old man.' So he watered (their flocks) for them, then he turned back to shade, and said, 'My Lord! Truly, I am in need of whatever good that You bestow on me!'" (Soorah AlQasas 28:22-24).

Allah, Most High, informs us about the departure of His slave, His Messenger and His Kaleem from Egypt "looking about in a state of fear." That is, afraid that one of Fir'awn's men would recognize him, while he had no idea in which direction he was heading, or where his footsteps were taking him. This was due to the fact that he had never before left Egypt. "And when he went toward (the land of) Madyan" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:22) means, when he (unknowingly) embarked on the road that led him there, "He said, 'It may be that my Lord guides me to the Right Way'.'" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:22). That is, haply this road will lead to (a good) destination. And that was what happened; it led him to a destination – and what a destination! "And when he arrived at the water of Madyan" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:23) it was a well at which the people used to draw water. Madyan was the city whose inhabitants, the companions of the Aykah, whom Allah had destroyed. They were the people of Shu'aib (Peace be upon him), and their destruction took place before the time of Moosa (Peace be upon him), according to one of two opinions held by the scholars. When he reached the aforementioned water, "he found there a group of men watering (their flocks), and besides them he found two women who were holding back." (Soorah AlQasas 28:23) That is, they were holding back their sheep, to prevent them from becoming mixed with the other peoples' sheep. According to the People of the Scripture, they were seven girls, but this is also a mistake; possibly there were seven daughters, but only two of them were watering the sheep. In this manner, we can reconcile the two sayings, if that is what has been (reliably) reported. Otherwise, (we must say that) it is apparent that he had only two daughters. "He said, 'What is the matter with you?' They said, 'We cannot water (our flocks) until the shepherds take (their flocks). And our father is a very old man'." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:23) They said that, we cannot get near to the water until after the shepherds have taken their sheep away, because we are weak; and the reason why we have come here with our sheep is because our father is elderly and weak. Allah, Most High, says, "So he watered (their flocks) for them." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:24)

He, Most High, says, "Then there came to him one of the two women, walking shyly. She said, 'Verily, my father calls you that he may reward you for having watered (our flocks) for us.' So when he came to him and narrated the story, he said, 'Fear you not. You have escaped from the people who are zalimoon.' And said one of them (the two women), 'O, my father! Hire him! Verily, the best of men for you to hire is the strong, the trustworthy.' He said, 'I intend to wed one of these two daughters of mine to you, on condition that you serve me for eight years, but if you complete ten years, it will be (a favor) from you. But I intend not to place you under a difficulty. If Allah wills, you will find me one of the righteous.' He (Moosa) said, 'That (is settled) between me and you, whichever of the two terms I fulfill, there will be no injustice to me, and Allah is Surety over what we say'." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:25-28)

When Moosa (Peace be upon him) sat in the shade and said, "O, My Lord! Truly, I am in need of whatever good that You bestow on me!" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:24), the two women heard him and they went to their father; it was said that he rebuked them because of their early return and so they told him about Moosa (Peace be upon him) and he ordered one of them to go to him and invite him, "Then there came to him one of the two women, walking shyly," (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:25) means walking like a free woman. She said, "Verily, my father calls you that he may reward you for having watered (our flocks) for us." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:25) She spoke frankly to him, so that her words should not excite any suspicion in him – and this was a part of her perfect modesty and chastity. "So when he came to him and narrated the story" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:25) means, when he told him his story and related to him the events surrounding his departure from Egypt, as he fled from Fir'aun. On hearing his story, the old man said, "Fear you not. You have escaped from the people who are zalimoon." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:25) It means that you have left the area in which they exercise their authority and you are no longer in their lands. Scholars disagreed as to the identity of this old man; it was said that he was Shu'aib (Peace be upon him) and this is widely accepted by many; among those who related it were Al-Hasan Al-Basri and Malik Ibn Anas and he stated it positively in a Hadith, but there is some doubt regarding the authenticity of its chain of narrators. Another group declared that Shu'aib (Peace be upon him) lived for a very long time after the destruction of his people, so that Moosa (Peace be upon him) encountered him and married his daughter.

What is intended is that he offered him his hospitality, gave him a comfortable place to stay and informed him about his situation; he gave him the glad tidings that he was safe. At that point, one of his daughters said to him, "O, my father! Hire him!" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:26) so that to herd your sheep; then she praised, him saying that he was strong and trustworthy.

'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood (May Allah be pleased with him) said: The most discerning of people are three: The companion of Yoosuf (Peace be upon him) (i.e. Al-'Aziz), when he said to his wife, "Make his stay comfortable." (Soorah Yoosuf 12:21), the companion of Moosa, when she said, "O, my father! Hire him! Verily, the best of men for you to hire is the strong, the trustworthy." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:26) and Abu Bakr (May Allah be pleased with him) when he designated 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab (May Allah be pleased with him) as his successor.

He, Most High, says, "He (Moosa) said, 'That (is settled) between me and you, whichever of the two terms I fulfill, there will be no injustice to me, and Allah is Surety over what we say!'" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:28) Allah tells us that Moosa (Peace be upon him) said to his father-in-law, "The matter will be as you have said and whichever you decide, there will be no sin upon me; and Allah will be the Hearer and Witness to what we agree upon – and He is the Disposer of my affairs and of yours." But though he said this, he completed the ten years in full.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Sa'eed Ibn Jubair that he said, "A Jew from the people of AlHirah asked me which one of the two periods Moosa completed." I said, "I don't know, (but wait) until I see the most learned Arab and enquire him about it." So I went to Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and asked him. He replied, "Moosa completed the longer and better period." Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) added, "Verily, a Messenger of Allah always does what he says."

He, Most High, says, "Then, when Moosa had fulfilled the term, and was traveling with his family, he saw a fire in the direction of At-Toor (Mount). He said to his family, 'Wait, I have seen a fire; perhaps I may bring to you from there some information, or a burning fire-brand that you may warm yourselves.' So when he reached it (the fire), he was called from the right side of the valley, in the blessed place from the tree, 'O, Moosa! Verily! I am Allah, the Lord of Al-'Alameen. And throw your stick!' But when he saw it moving as if it were a snake, he turned in flight, and looked not back. (It was said), 'O, Moosa! Draw near, and fear not. Verily, you are of those who are secure. Put your hand in your bosom, it will come forth white without a disease, and draw your hand close to your side to be free from fear (that which you suffered from the snake, and also by that your hand will return to its original state). These are two burhan (signs, miracles, evidences and proofs) from your Lord to Fir'awn and his chiefs. Verily, they are the people who are fasiqoon (rebellious, disobedient to Allah)!' (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:29-32)

We said previously that Moosa (Peace be upon him) completed the longer of the two specified periods (eight years or ten years) and this may be understood from the Words of Allah: "Then, when Moosa had fulfilled the term." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:29) It is reported on the authority of Mujahid that he completed ten years of service and another ten after that. Allah says, "and was traveling with his family" (Soorah AlQasas 28:29) means, he had left his father-in-law – according to what more than one of the scholars of tafseer and others have said – because he missed his family; so he set out to visit them in secret in Egypt. He was traveling with his family, including his two sons, and some sheep which he had acquired during his time in his father-in-law's service. The scholars said, it was a dark, cold night, due to this, they lost their way and were unable to find the path again. He tried to kindle a fire, but he was unable to do so. The darkness and cold increased and while he was occupied in trying to start a fire, he observed a fire burning at a distance, in the direction of At-Toor, which was a mountain that lay to the west of him, somewhere of to his right. He said to his family, "Wait! Verily, I have seen a fire." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:10). It was as if – and Allah knows better – he alone saw it, because this fire was from the Light of Truth and it would not be fitting that every person should see it. "Perhaps I may bring to you from there some information" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:29) means, perhaps I can ask those whose fire it is on the way to the road. "...or a burning fire-brand that you may warm yourselves." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:29) It is proved that they had lost their way on a cold, dark night, because Allah, Most High, says in another Verse, "And has there come to you the story of Moosa? When he saw a fire, he said to his family, 'Wait! Verily, I have seen a fire, perhaps I can bring you some burning brand therefrom, or find some guidance at the fire.'" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:9,10) So this proves that there was darkness and that they had lost their way.

He, Most High, says: "(Remember) when Moosa said to his household, 'Verily! I have seen a fire, I will bring you from there some information, or I will bring you a burning brand, that you may warm yourselves.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:7) So he brought them news from it – and what news he brought them! And he found guidance there – and what guidance he found! And he acquired a light from it – but what a light he acquired! Allah, Most High, says, "So when he reached it (the fire), he was called from the right side of the valley, in the blessed place from the tree, 'O, Moosa! Verily! I am Allah, the Lord of Al-'Alameen!'" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:30)

In Soorah An-Naml, He Most High, says, "But when he came to it, he was called, 'Blessed is whosoever is in the fire, and whosoever is round about it! And Glorified be Allah, the Lord of Al-'Alameen.'" (Soorah An-Naml 27:8) That is, Glory be to Allah, Who does as He wills and decides what He wills. "And when he came to it (the fire), he was called by name, 'O, Moosa! Verily! I am your Lord! So take off your shoes, you are in the sacred valley, Tuwa. And I have chosen you. So listen to that which is inspired to you. Verily! I am Allah! La ilaha illa Ana (none has the right to be worshipped but I), so worship Me, and perform as--salah (iqamat as-salah – Prayer) for My Remembrance. Verily, the Hour is coming and My Will is to keep it hidden that every person may be rewarded for that which he strives. Therefore, let not the one who believes not therein (i.e. in the Day of Resurrection, Reckoning, Paradise and Hell, etc.), but follows his own lusts, divert you therefrom, lest you perish!'" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:11-16)

More than one of the scholars of tafseer from among the earlier and the later generations have said that when Moosa (Peace be upon him) walked toward that fire which he had seen, and when he reached it, he found that it was burning in a green boxthorn tree. The more the fire burned, the more the greenness of the tree increased and he stood in amazement. The tree was at the foot of a mountain, which lay west of him, to his right, as He, Most High, says, "And you (O, Muhammad) were not on the western side (of the Mount), when We made clear to Moosa the Commandment, and you were not among those present."

(Soorah Al-Qasas 28:44) Moosa (Peace be upon him) was in a valley named Tuwa and he was facing the Qiblah and that tree was on his right, in the West. His Lord called to him in the Sacred Valley of Tuwa and He commanded him first of all to remove his shoes, out of reverence and respect for that blessed location – and especially on that blessed night. According to the People of the Scriptures, he placed his hand on his face in awe and in fear for his sight, due to the intensity of the light. Then Allah, Most High, addressed him as He willed, saying to him, "Verily! I am Allah, the Lord of Al-'Alameen!" (Soorah AlQasas 28:30) and "Verily! I am Allah! La ilaha illa Ana (none has the right to be worshipped but I), so worship Me, and perform as--salah (iqamat as-salah) for My Remembrance." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:14). That is, I am the Lord of the Worlds, besides Whom none has the right to be worshipped – and worship devoted to any other deity cannot benefit.

Then He informed him that the life of this world is only temporary and that the permanent abode is that of the Day of Resurrection, whose establishment is inevitable "that every person may be rewarded for that which he strives." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:15) That is, whether good or evil. He encouraged him and incited him to work for it and to avoid those who do not believe in it, such as those who disobey their Lord and follow their own vain desires. Then He informed him that He is able to do all things, saying to a thing, "Be!" and it is: "And what is that in your right hand, O, Moosa?" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:17) means that, is this not your stick, which We have known since you had it. This is an interrogative, used for the purpose of affirmation. "He said, 'It is my stick upon which I lean, with which I beat down branches for my sheep and for which I find other uses.'" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:18) That is, it is my stick which I know and of which I am sure. "(Allah) said, 'Cast it down, O, Moosa!' He cast it down, and behold! It was a snake, moving quickly." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:19, 20)

This was a great miracle and an irrefutable proof that when the One Who was speaking to him says to something, “Be!” it is – and that He does as He wills.

This serpent combined huge size with lightning speed and when Moosa (Peace be upon him) saw it "he turned in flight" (Soorah An-Naml 27:10) means, he fled in fear from the snake, because it was a natural human reaction to do so, "and did not look back." (Soorah An-Naml 27:10). That is, he did not turn around; so his Lord called him, saying, “O, Moosa! Draw near, and fear not. Verily, you are of those who are secure.” (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:31) When he returned, Allah, Most High, commanded him to take hold of it: He said, “Grasp it, and fear not, We shall return it to its former state.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:21) It was said that he feared it greatly and so he placed his hand in the sleeve of his garment and then placed his hand inside its mouth. According to the People of the Scriptures, he grasped it by its tail and when he held it firmly, it became a stick once again, with two branches. So Glory be to Allah, the Omnipotent, Almighty, Lord of the two Easts and the two Wests. Then He, Most High, commanded him to place his hand inside his garment and then to remove it, upon which he saw that it was shining white, like the moon “without any disease” means without leprosy or bahaq, which is why He says, “Put your hand in your bosom, it will come forth white, without a disease, and draw your hand close to your side to be free from fear (that which you suffered from the snake, and also by that your hand will return to its original state).” (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:32)

What is meant is that when Allah, Most Glorified, commanded Moosa (Peace be upon him) to go to Fir'awn, "He said, 'My Lord! I have killed a man among them, and I fear that they will kill me. And my brother Haroon (Aaron), he is more eloquent in speech than I, so send him with me as a helper to confirm me. Verily! I fear that they will belie me.' Allah said, 'We will strengthen your arm through your brother, and give you both power, so they shall not be able to harm you, with Our Ayat, you two as well as those who follow you will be the victors'." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:33-35)

Allah, Most High, informs us about Moosa (Peace be upon him) and his reply to his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, when He told him to go to his enemy, from whose power and injustice in the lands of Egypt he had fled, after he had killed the Copt. He said, "He said, 'My Lord! I have killed a man among them, and I fear that they will kill me. And my brother Haroon he is more eloquent in speech than I, so send him with me as a helper to confirm me. Verily! I fear that they will belie me!'" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:33, 34) That is, make along with me a helper, an adviser and a supporter, who will aid me in delivering Your Message to them, because he is more eloquent in speech than I am and better able to elucidate.

Allah, Most High, says in reply to his question, "Allah said, 'We will strengthen your arm through your brother, and give you both power!'" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:35). That is proof and evidence "So they shall not be able to harm you, with our Ayat". That is, so they will not be able to inflict any harm on you because of your acting upon Our Ayat (fulfilling Our Commands), or it was said, due to the blessing of Our Ayat. "You two as well as those who follow you will be the victors."

In Soorah Ta Ha, He says, "Go to Fir'awn! Verily, he has transgressed (all bounds in disbelief and disobedience, and has behaved arrogantly and as a tyrant)." (Moosa) said, "O, my Lord! Open for me my chest (grant me self-confidence, contentment, and boldness). And ease my task for me; and make loose the knot (the defect) from my tongue, (i.e. remove my speech defect), that they may understand my speech." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:24-28) It was said that he was afflicted by a speech impediment as a result of putting a burning coal in his mouth when he was a small child. This was due to Fir'awn, wanting to test his intelligence when, as a small child, he seized his beard. Fir'awn wanted to kill him (for pulling his beard), but Asiyah, fearing for him, said, "He is a baby!" So Fir‘awn tested him by placing a date and a burning coal in front of him; Moosa (Peace be upon him) tried to take the date, but Fir‘awn directed his hand to the coal and he took it and placed it on his tongue, as a result of which he was afflicted with a speech defect. So he asked Allah to remove a part of it – sufficient that the people might understand his speech – and he did not ask Him to completely remove it.

Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, “Messengers only ask for what is sufficient for their needs; for this reason, a little of the defect remained on his tongue. This is why Fir‘awn – may Allah’s curse be upon him – claimed concerning Moosa (Peace be upon him), “...and (he) can scarcely express himself clearly.” (Soorah AzZukhruf 43:52) It means that he cannot convey his meaning and express what is in his mind and his heart. Then Moosa (Peace be upon him) said, “And appoint for me a helper from my family, Haroon, my brother; increase my strength with him, and let him share my task (of conveying Allah’s Message and Prophethood), that we may glorify You much and remember You much, verily! You are of us Ever AllSeeing.” (Allah) said, “You are granted your request, O, Moosa!” (Soorah Al-Qasas 20:29-36) That is,

We have granted everything that you asked and given you all that you requested – and it was due to the high estimation in which his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful held him that when he asked Allah to grant Prophethood to his brother, He did so. And this is indicative of great rank. He, Most High, says, "and he was honorable before Allah." (Soorah Al-Ahzab 33:69)

*He, Most High, says, "And We bestowed on him his brother Haroon, (also) a Prophet, out of Our Mercy."
(Soorah Maryam 19:53)*

The Mother of the Believers, ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, heard a man saying to some people when they were traveling on the road for Hajj (in Makkah), “Which brother was most benevolent toward his brother?" The people remained silent, but 'A'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said to those around her howdah, "It was Moosa, son of 'Imran, when he asked for Prophethood to be bestowed on his brother, Haroon, and Allah did so. This is why Allah, Most High, says, 'And We bestowed on him his brother, Haroon, (also) a Prophet, out of Our Mercy'." (Soorah Maryam 19:53)

He, Most High, says in Soorah Ash-Shu'ara', "And (remember) when your Lord called Moosa (saying), 'Go to the people who are zalimoon (polytheists and wrongdoers), The people of Fir'awn. Will they not fear Allah and become righteous?' He said, 'My Lord! Verily, I fear that they will belie me, and my breast straitens, and my tongue expresses not well. So send for Haroon (to come along with me). And they have a charge of crime against me, and I fear they will kill me.' Allah said, 'Nay! Go you both with Our Signs. Verily! We shall be with you, listening. And when you both come to Fir'awn, say, We are the Messengers of the Lord of Al-'Alameen, so allow the Children of Isra'eel to go with us'." (Fir'awn) said (to Moosa), 'Did we not bring you up among us as a child? And you did dwell many years of your life with us. And you did your deed, which you did. And you are one of the ingrates'." (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:10-19) And the meaning of these Words is: So they went to Fir'awn and spoke these words to him, conveying to him the Message they had been given, which was to call him to the worship of Allah, Most High, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him; to free the slaves, the Children of Isra'eel, from his grip and his subjugation and allow them to worship their Lord as and when they wished; let them be free to declare His Oneness, invoke Him and humble themselves before Him. But Fir'awn responded with arrogance, insolence and oppression, looking on Moosa (Peace be upon him) with contempt and scorn, saying to him, "Did we not bring you up among us as a child? And you did dwell many years of your life with us." (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:18) That is, was it not you whom we brought up in our house, to whom we showed kindness, and on whom we bestowed favors for so many years? This proves that the Fir‘awn to whom Moosa (Peace be upon him) was sent was the same Fir‘awn from whom he fled. This contradicts the claim of the People of the Scriptures, who said that the Fir‘awn from whom he fled died while he was living in Madyan and that the person to whom he was sent was another Fir‘awn.

He, Most High, says, “And you did your deed, which you did. And you are one of the ingrates” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:19). means, you killed the Coptic man and fled from us and were ungrateful for the favors we bestowed on you. Moosa said, “I did it then, when I was ignorant (as regards my Lord and His Message).” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:20). That is, before my Lord inspired me and sent down Revelation to me. “So I fled from you when I feared you. But my Lord has granted me Hukman (i.e. religious knowledge, right judgment of the affairs and Prophethood), and appointed me as one of the Messengers.” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:21) Then he replied to Fir‘awn regarding the favors he had given him, such as bringing him up and showing kindness to him, “And this is the past favor with which you reproach me, that you have enslaved the Children of Isra’eel.” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:22) It means that, this favor which you have mentioned, which was that you treated me with kindness – and I am one man from among the Children of Isra’eel – does it compare with the manner in which you have used this entire great nation and enslaved them with a view to making them carry out your works and serve you. Fir‘awn said, “And what is the Lord of the Al-‘Alameen?” Moosa said, “Lord of the heavens and the Earth, and all that is between them, if you seek to be convinced with certainty.” Fir‘awn said to those around, “Do you not hear (what he says)?” Moosa said, “Your Lord and the Lord of your ancient fathers!” Fir‘awn said, “Verily, your Messenger who has been sent to you is a mad man!” Moosa said, “Lord of the East and the West, and all that is between them, if you did but understand!” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:23-28)

Allah, Most High, informs us of the discussion, the dispute and the debate which took place between Fir‘awn and Moosa (Peace be upon him) and the proof (of disbelief) which Al-Kaleem confirmed against the wicked Fir‘awn, including the rational and spiritual proofs and then the tangible, perceptible proofs. This was because Fir‘awn – may Allah have curse on him – demonstrated his rejection of the Creator, Most Blessed, Most High, and claimed that he was the (only) deity. "Then he gathered his people and cried aloud, saying, 'I am your lord, most high!'" (Soorah An-Nazi‘at 79:23,24) And he said, "O, chiefs! I know not that you have an ilah (god) other than me." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:38) He was just being stubborn in this dispute and he knew that he was a slave, subject to Allah’s Mastery and Lordship and that He is the Creator, the Inventor of all things, the Bestower of forms, the true God, as He, Most High, says, "And they belied them (those Ayat) wrongfully and arrogantly, though their ownselves were convinced thereof [i.e. those (Ayat) are from Allah, and Moosa is the Messenger of Allah in truth, but they disliked to obey Moosa, and hated to believe in his Message of Monotheism]. So see what was the end of the mufsidoon (disbelievers, those disobedient to Allah, evildoers, liars)." (Soorah An-Naml 27:14)

This is why he said to Moosa (Peace be upon him) by way of rejection of his Message and evincing his belief that there is no lord who had sent him, "And what is the Lord of the Al-‘Alameen?" (Soorah AshShu‘ara’ 26:23) That is, the Lord of the Worlds, the Creator of these heavens and this Earth, which are visible (to all) and every oft-created thing in between them, such as the clouds, the winds, the rains, the plants and the animals, which every rational person knows, do not create themselves and require a Creator – and that is Allah, besides Whom none has the right to be worshipped, the Lord of the Worlds. "He said", that is, Fir‘awn said "to those around him". Such as his princes, his provincial governors and his ministers, by way of mockery and ridicule of what Moosa (Peace be upon him) had related, "Do you not hear?" means these words of his. Moosa (Peace be upon him) said, addressing both Fir‘awn and those around him, “Your Lord and the Lord of your ancient fathers!” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26: 26). It means, it is He Who created you and your fathers, your grandparents and all of the previous generations, because every person knows that he did not create himself nor did his father and mother create themselves; and he (i.e. everybody) was not brought into being without a Creator – he was only brought into being and created by the Lord of the Worlds. And it is these two aspects that are referred to in the Words of Allah, Most High: "We will show them Our Signs in the universe, and in their own selves, until it becomes manifest to them that this (the Qur’an) is the truth." (Soorah Fussilat 41:53) But in spite of all this, Fir‘awn did not wake up from his sleep, nor did he divest himself of his errors. Instead, he persisted in his transgression, stubbornness and rejection. "Fir‘awn said, 'Verily, your Messenger who has been sent to you is a madman!' Moosa said, 'Lord of the East and the West, and all that is between them, if you did but understand!'" (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:27, 28) That is, it is He Who subjugates these shining stars and causes the celestial bodies to remain in their orbits. He created the darkness and the light. He is the Lord of the Earth and the heaven. He is the Lord of the first created people and the last. He created the sun, the moon and the moving and the fixed celestial bodies. He created the night with its darkness and the day with its light. All are under His Subjugation and Control and all of their movements are ordained by Him and follow courses decreed by Him at all times, for He, Most High, is the Creator, the Owner, and He disposes of the affairs of His creation as He wills.

When the proofs were established against Fir‘awn and his specious arguments had been refuted and no words remained for him except words of obstinacy, he gave up arguing and used his authority, his rank and his power, saying, “If you choose an ilah (god) other than me, I will certainly put you among the prisoners.” Moosa said, “Even if I bring you something manifest (and convincing)?” Fir‘awn said, “Bring it forth then, if you are of the truthful!” So (Moosa) threw his stick, and behold, it was a serpent, manifest. And he drew out his hand, and behold, it was white to all beholders!" (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:29-33) These were the two proofs with which Allah had supported him: the stick and the hand. In this situation, he displayed the great miracle, which dazzled their eyes and their minds when he threw the stick and lo, it became a serpent, manifest, i.e. with a huge body, terrifying and hideous to the beholders.

Allah, Most High, says in Soorah Ta Ha, "When your sister went and said, 'Shall I show you one who will nurse him?' So We restored you to your mother, that she might cool her eyes and she should not grieve. Then you did kill a man, but We saved you from great distress and tried you with a heavy trial. Then you stayed a number of years with the people of Madyan. Then you came here according to a fixed term. And I have Istana'tuka for Myself. Go you and your brother with My Ayat, and do not taniya in My Remembrance. Go, both of you, to Fir'awn, verily, he has transgressed (all bounds in disbelief and disobedience and behaved as an arrogant man and as a tyrant). And speak to him mildly, perhaps he may accept admonition or fear Allah." They said, "Our Lord! Verily! We fear lest he should hasten to punish us or lest he should transgress (all bounds against us)." He (Allah) said, "Fear not, verily! I am with you both, hearing and seeing." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:40-46)

Allah, Most High, addressed Moosa (Peace be upon him) on the night when He inspired him and conferred Prophethood on him, and informed him that He was a Witness when he was in the house of Fir'awn and that He was guarding him, protecting him and bestowing His Kindness on him. Then He reminded him of how He removed him from Egypt to Madyan by His Will, His Power and His Disposal and how he remained there for a number of years. "Then you came here according to a fixed term." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:40). That is, according to the fixed term ordained by Me. "And I have Istana'tuka for Myself.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:41) That is, I have chosen you for Myself, to convey My Message and to hear

My Speech. “Go you and your brother with My Ayat, and do not taniya in My Remembrance” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:42) means, do not be weak or slack in remembering Me when you approach him, for that will be a support for you when addressing him, answering him, offering him advice and establishing the evidence against him.

Allah, Most High, says, "O, you who believe! When you meet (an enemy) force, take a firm stand against them and remember the Name of Allah much (both with tongue and mind), so that you may be successful." (Soorah Al-Anfal 8:45) Then He, Most High, says, “Go, both of you, to Fir‘awn, verily, he has transgressed (all bounds in disbelief and disobedience and behaved as an arrogant man and as a tyrant). And speak to him mildly, perhaps he may accept admonition or fear Allah.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:43, 44) This was from Allah’s Gentleness, Generosity, Compassion and Mercy toward His creation, in spite of His Knowledge of Fir‘awn’s disbelief, his arrogance and his tyranny; and at that time, he was the worst of Allah’s creation, yet Allah sent one who was the best of His creation at that time to him. Nevertheless, He commanded them to call Fir‘awn to Allah in the best way, with kindness and gentleness and to treat him as one who it is hoped may remember Allah or fear Him, as He, Most High, said to His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), "Invite (mankind, O, Muhammad,) to the Way of your Lord (i.e. Islam) with wisdom (i.e. with the Divine Inspiration and the Qur’an) and fair preaching, and argue with them in a way that is better." (Soorah An-Nahl 16:125).

He, Most High, says, "And argue not with the people of the Scriptures (Jews and Christians), unless it be in (a way) that is better (with good words and in good manner, inviting them to Islamic Monotheism with His Verses), except with such of them as do wrong." (Soorah Al-Ankaboot 29:46) Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, regarding the Words of Allah: "And speak to him mildly" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:44) means, be tolerant and forbearing with him and say to him, “Verily, you have a Lord and you have a Hereafter – and before you are a Garden and a Fire.”

He, Most High, says, “So go you both to him, and say, 'Verily, we are Messengers of your Lord, so let the Children of Isra'eel go with us, and torment them not; indeed, we have come with a sign from your Lord!

And peace will be upon him who follows the guidance! Truly, it has been revealed to us that the punishment will be for him who denies (believes not in the Oneness of Allah and in His Messengers, etc.), and turns away (from the truth and obedience to Allah).” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:47,48) Allah, Most High, tells us that He commanded them both to go to Fir'awn and to call him upon him to believe in Allah, Most High, and worship Him, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him, and to ask him also to cease tormenting the Children of Isra'eel; free them from their enslavement and allow them to leave with Moosa and Haroon, may Allah be pleased with them both. “And peace will be upon him who follows the guidance!” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:47) That is, peace will be on you if you follow the guidance. Then they warned him against rejecting their Message, saying, “Truly, it has been revealed to us that the punishment will be for him who denies (believes not in the Oneness of Allah and in His Messengers, etc.), and turns away (from the truth and obedience to Allah).” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:48) That is, rejects the truth in his heart and turns away from acting upon it. He, Most High, says, regarding Fir'awn, Fir'awn said, “Who then, O, Moosa, is the Lord of you two?” (Moosa) said, “Our Lord is He Who gave to each thing its form and nature, then guided it aright.” (Fir'awn) said, “What about the generations of old?” (Moosa) said, “The knowledge thereof is with my Lord, in a Record. My Lord is neither unaware nor does He forget.” Who has made earth for you like a bed (spread out); and has opened roads (ways and paths, etc.) for you therein; and has sent down water (rain) from the sky. And We have brought forth with it various kinds of vegetation. Eat and pasture your cattle, (therein); verily, in this are proofs and signs for men of understanding. Thereof (the earth) We created you, and into it We shall return you, and from it We shall bring you out once again." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:49-55)

Allah, Most High, informs us that Fir'awn refused to confirm the existence of the Creator, saying, "Who then, O, Moosa, is the Lord of you two?" (Moosa) said, "Our Lord is He Who gave to each thing its form and nature, then guided it aright." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:49,50) That is, it is He Who created mankind and ordained for them their deeds, their sustenance and their lifespans; He recorded all of these things with Him, in His Book, Al-Lawh Al-Mahfooz (the Preserved Tablet). This Verse is like the Words of Him, Most High, "Glorify the Name of your Lord, the Most High, Who has created (everything), and then proportioned it. And Who has measured; then guided (i.e. showed mankind the right as well as wrong paths, and guided the animals to pasture.)(Soorah Al-A'la 87:1-3) That is, He ordained preordainments and guided His creations to them. Fir'awn said to Moosa (Peace be upon him), "Then if your Lord is the Creator, Who ordains everything and guides His creatures to that which He has ordained, in which case, none would have the right to be worshipped but He, then why did the earlier peoples worship deities other than Him, ascribing partners and rivals to Him from such things as the stars, as you know? Why were the earlier generations not guided to that which you have mentioned?" "(Moosa) said, 'The knowledge thereof is with my Lord, in a Record. My Lord is neither unaware nor does He forget.'" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:52) That is, even if they worshipped other deities besides Allah, that is not an argument or an authorization for you to do likewise, nor does it prove anything that contradicts what I say, because they were ignorant, like you. They will be held accountable for everything that they did and they will be recompensed accordingly, by my Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and He does not wrong anyone, even as little as an atom's weight, because all of the deeds of the slaves are recorded with Him in a Record and He is not unaware of any of their doeds, nor does He forget anything.

Then he spoke to him of Allah's Greatness and His Ability to create (all) things; he described to him how Allah made the Earth a resting place and the sky a ceiling, safe and well-guarded, and He subjugated the clouds and the rains to provide sustenance to His slaves and their livestock and (other) animals, as He, Most High, says, "Eat and pasture your cattle (therein); verily, in this are proofs and signs for men of understanding." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:54) That is, for those who possess rational minds and sound innate character, for He, Most High is the Creator and the Sustainer, as He says, "O, mankind! Worship your Lord (Allah), Who created you and those who were before you so that you may become Al-Muttaqoon. Who has made the Earth a resting place for you, and the sky as a canopy, and sent down water (rain) from the sky and brought forth therewith fruits as a provision for you. Then do not set up rivals unto Allah (in worship) while you know (that He Alone has the right to be worshipped)." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:21,22).

And after Allah had described how He gave life to the Earth with rain and caused thereby the plants and crops to burst forth from it, He called attention to the ultimate destination (on the Day of Resurrection), saying "Thereof" i.e. from the Earth "We created you, and into it We shall return you, and from it We shall bring you out once again." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:55), as He, Most High, says, "As He brought you (into being) in the beginning, so shall you be brought into being (on the Day of Resurrection) (in two groups, one as a blessed one [Believers], and the other as a wretched one [disbelievers])." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:29)

He, Most High, says, "And He it is Who originates the creation, then will repeat it (after it has been perished), and this is easier for Him. His is the highest description (i.e. none has the right to be worshipped but He, and there is nothing comparable unto Him) in the heavens and in the Earth. And He is the Almighty, the Most - Wise." (Soorah Ar-Room 30:27) Then He, Most High, says, "And indeed We showed him (Fir'awn) all Our Signs and Evidences, but he denied and refused. He (Fir'awn) said, 'Have you come to drive us out of our land with your magic, O, Moosa? Then verily, we can produce magic the like thereof; so appoint a meeting between us and you, which neither we, nor you shall fail to keep, in an open wide place where both shall have a just and equal chance (and beholders could witness the competition).' (Moosa) said, "Your appointed meeting is the day of the festival, and let the people assemble when the sun has risen." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:56-59)

Allah, Most High, informs us about the wretchedness and sheer ignorance of Fir'awn, the meanness of his intellect in denying Allah's Signs, his arrogant refusal to follow them and his saying to Moosa (Peace be upon him), "Verily, what you have brought is no more than magic and we shall oppose you with its like." Then he asked Moosa (Peace be upon him) that he appoint a meeting between them at a fixed time and in a designated place. And this was one of Moosa's major objectives – to show Allah's Signs and His Proofs openly to an assembly of the people, which is why he said, "Your appointed meeting is the day of the festival." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:59) That was the day of their New Year celebration and a day on which it was their custom to gather. "And let the people assemble when the sun has risen." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:59) That is, in the late morning, just before noon, when the light of the sun was very bright; in this way, the truth would be clearer and more obvious to them; and he did not request that the meeting be held at night, so that they might not be deceived by trickery and falsehood in the darkness of night. Instead, he requested that it be held in daylight and openly, because he had insight from his Lord and he had certainty that Allah would make His Word and His Religion triumphant, even though the Copts might dislike it.

Allah, Most High, says, "So Fir'awn withdrew, devised his plot and then came back. Moosa said to them, 'Woe unto you! Invent not a lie against Allah, lest He should destroy you completely by a punishment. And surely, he who invents a lie (against Allah) will fail miserably.' Then they debated with one another what they must do, and they kept their talk secret. They said, 'Verily! These are two magicians. Their object is to drive you out from your land with magic, and overcome your chiefs and nobles. So devise your plot, and then assemble in line. And whoever overcomes this day will be indeed successful'." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:60-64)

Allah, Most High, informs us about Fir'awn and how he went and gathered the magicians in his land – Egypt at that time was filled with magicians who excelled in their art – so they gathered before him from all corners of the land and they were very large in numbers.

Fir'awn came along with his princes and the governors of his provinces without exception. This was because Fir'awn had ordered their presence at this unprecedented meeting; they came out, saying, "That we may follow the sorcerers (who were on Fir'awn's religion of disbelief) if they are the winners." (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26: 40). Moosa (Peace be upon him) advanced toward the magicians and he admonished them and rebuked them for practicing vain and false magic, which contradicts Allah's Signs and His Proofs, saying, "Woe unto you! Invent not a lie against Allah, lest He should destroy you completely by a punishment. And surely, he who invents a lie (against Allah) will fail miserably." Then they debated with one another what they must do. (Soorah Ta Ha 20:61,62) It was said that it means that they disagreed among themselves and one of them said, "This is the speech of a Prophet and not magic," while another said, "Nay, it is magic." And Allah knows better. They spoke these words and others secretly, among themselves. They said: "Verily! These are two magicians. Their object is to drive you out from your land with magic" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:63) They said, "This man, Moosa and his brother are skilled magicians and their aim is to gather the people on their side and to attack the King and his entourage and expel you from your abodes; and they are scheming against you by this magic. "So devise your plot, and then assemble in line. And whoever overcomes this day will be indeed successful." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:64) They only said these first words in order to prepare, encourage one another and bring forth all of the tricks, deceptions, cheating, sorcery and falsehood. But how far from the truth were their beliefs and how wrong were their ideas! How could their falsehood, their sorcery and their folly oppose the proofs which Moosa (Peace be upon him), Allah's slave, His Kaleem and His Messenger brought; proofs which dazzled the eyes and confused the minds. They said, "and then assemble in line." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:64) As the assembled all together they incited each other to advance in this position, because Fir'awn had promised them and caused them to hope for a great reward; but that which Satan promises them is naught but illusion. They said, "O, Moosa! Either you throw first or we will be the first to throw." (Moosa) said, "Nay, throw you (first)!" Then behold, their ropes and their sticks, by their magic, appeared to him as though they moved fast. So Moosa conceived a fear in himself. We (Allah) said, "Fear not! Surely, you will have the upper hand. And throw that which is in your right hand! It will swallow up that which they have made. That which they have made is only a magician's trick, and the magician will never be successful, no matter whatever amount (of skill) he may attain." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:65-69)

When the magicians lined up and Moosa and Haroon, peace be upon them, stood before them and they said to Moosa (Peace be upon him), "Either you throw before us, or we will throw before you." (Moosa) said, "Nay, throw you (first)!" They had taken ropes and sticks and placed in them quicksilver and other substances, which would cause them to twist and turn in a manner that would make them appear to be moving of their own accord. But they only moved because of these tricks and thus they deceived the eyes of the people and terrified them. As they threw their ropes and their sticks, they chanted, "By the might of Fir'awn, it is we who will certainly win!" (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26: 44). He, Most High, says, "So when they threw, they bewitched the eyes of the people, and struck terror into them, and they displayed a great magic." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:116) He, Most High, says, "Then behold, their ropes and their sticks, by their magic, appeared to him as though they moved fast. So Moosa conceived a fear in himself." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:66,67) That is, he feared for the people that they would be seduced by their sorcery and their trickery before he could throw what was in his hand, for he would not do anything before Allah commanded him and inspired him to throw at the fixed time: "Fear not! Surely, you will have the upper hand. And throw that which is in your right hand! It will swallow up that which they have made. That which they have made is only a magician's trick, and the magician will never be successful, no matter whatever amount (of skill) he may attain." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:68, 69) On hearing this, Moosa (Peace be upon him) threw his stick and he said, "What you have brought is sorcery, Allah will surely make it of no effect. Verily, Allah does not set right the work of mufsidoon (the evildoers, corrupt ones, etc.). And Allah will establish and make apparent the truth by His Words, however much the mujrimoon (criminals, disbelievers, polytheists, sinners, etc.) may hate it." (Soorah Yoonus 10:81, 82). He, Most High, says, "Then Moosa threw his stick, and behold, it swallowed up all the falsehoods which they showed!" (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:45)

He, Most High, says, "Thus truth was confirmed, and all that they did was made of no effect. So they were defeated then and there, and were returned disgraced. And the sorcerers fell down in prostration.

They said, 'We believe in the Lord of the Al-'Alameen – the Lord of Moosa and Haroon!'" (Soorah AlA'raf 7:118-122). This was because when Moosa (Peace be upon him) threw his stick, it became a huge serpent with feet – according to what has been reported from more than one scholars from among the Salaf – and it also had a large neck and a gigantic, terrifying body, which caused scare among the people and forced them flee, in awe and fear, from the spot. The serpent advanced upon the ropes and sticks they had thrown and began to devour them, one after another, moving very rapidly. The people looked at it in sheer amazement. As for the magicians, they saw something that terrified them and confused them, and they beheld a thing the like of which they had never seen and never imagined, and was beyond their comprehension and devoid of capabilities to reproduce. At this point, with the knowledge of magic they possessed, they realized that this was not magic, nor was it sleight of hand, nor trickery, nor imagination, nor falsehood, nor lies, nor misguidance. Rather, it was real and none could do it except Allah, Who sent it to support the truth. Allah lifted the cover of foolishness from their hearts and illuminated them with the guidance that He had created; and He banished the hardness from them, causing them to turn to their Lord in repentance and throw themselves down in prostration before Him. They said loudly for all those present to hear, without fearing any punishment or affliction, "We have believed in the Lord of Moosa and Haroon," as Allah, Most High, says, "So the magicians fell down in prostration. They said, 'We believe in the Lord of Haroon and Moosa.' (Fir'awn) said, 'Believe you in him (Moosa) before I give you permission? Verily! He is your chief who taught you magic. So I will surely cut off your hands and feet on opposite sides, and I will surely crucify you on the trunks of date-palms, and you shall surely know which of us (I, [Fir'awn]-) or the Lord of Moosa [i.e. Allah]) can give the severe and more lasting punishment.' They said, 'We prefer you not over the clear signs that have come to us, and to Him (Allah) Who created us. So decree whatever you desire to decree, for you can only decree (regarding) the life of this world. Verily! We have believed in our Lord, that He may forgive us our faults, and the magic to which you did compel us. And Allah is better as regards reward in comparison to your (Fir'awn's) reward, and more lasting (as regards punishment in comparison to your punishment).' Verily! Whoever comes to his Lord as a mujrim (criminal, polytheist, disbeliever in the Oneness of Allah and His Messengers and sinner, etc.), then surely, for him is Hell, therein he will neither die nor live. But whoever comes to Him (Allah) as a Believer (in the Oneness of Allah, etc.), and has done righteous good deeds, for such are the high ranks (in the Hereafter), the Gardens of 'Adn (Eden) (everlasting Gardens), under which rivers flow, wherein they will abide forever: such is the reward of those who purify themselves (by abstaining from all kinds of sins and evil deeds which Allah has forbidden and by doing all that which Allah has ordained)." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:70-76) Sa'eed Ibn Jubair, 'Ikrimah, Al-Qasim Ibn Abi Burdah, Al-Awza'i and others said that when the magicians prostrated, they saw their houses and their palaces in Paradise prepared and decorated for their arrival and for this reason, they did not pay any heed to Fir'awn's threats. This was because, when Fir'awn saw that the magicians had publicly embraced Islam and that the people were saying good things about Moosa and Haroon, peace be upon them, this made him alarmed and he saw something that confused him, robbed him of his perception and took away his sight. He was a sly, cunning and deceptive man, highly skilled in avoiding Allah's Path and so he said, addressing the magicians before the assembled crowd, "Believe you in him (Moosa) before I give you permission?" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:71). That is, did you not think to consult me before doing this terrible thing that you have done in front of my assembled subjects? Then he resorted to threats, intimidation, ranted and raved and lied and made far-fetched claims, saying, "Verily! He is your chief who taught you magic." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:71). And in another Verse, he said, "Surely, this is a plot which you have plotted in the city to drive out its people, but you shall come to know." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:123) These words which he spoke were false, and every rational person acknowledges the disbelief, untruthfulness and folly in them; indeed, a child would not believe them, for all of those present, including the people of his country and others knew that these (magicians) had never met Moosa (Peace be upon him) before, so how could he be their chief, who had taught them magic? In addition to this, it was not he who had gathered them and he knew nothing of their gathering. It was Fir'awn who invited them and selected them from every deep mountain pass and valley, from the farthest corners of Egypt, from the cities and from the countryside. He, Most High, says in Soorah Al-A'raf, "Then after them We sent Moosa with Our Signs to Fir'awn and his chiefs, but they wrongfully rejected them. So see how was the end of the mufsidoon. And Moosa said, 'O, Fir'awn! I am a Messenger from the Lord of Al-‘Alameen. Proper it is for me that I say nothing concerning Allah but the truth. Indeed I have come unto you from your Lord with a clear proof. So let the Children of Isra’eel go along with me.' (Fir‘awn) said, 'If you have come with a sign, show it forth - if you are one of those who tell the truth.' Then he (Moosa) threw his stick and behold! It was a serpent, manifest! And he drew out his hand, and behold! It was white (with radiance) for the beholders. The chiefs of the people of Fir‘awn said, 'This is indeed a well-versed sorcerer; he wants to get you out of your land, so what do you advise?' They said, 'Put him and his brother off (for a time), and send callers (men) to the cities to collect (and) that they bring up to you all well-versed sorcerers.' And so the sorcerers came to Fir‘awn. They said, 'Indeed there will be a (good) reward for us if we are the victors.' He said, 'Yes, and moreover you will (in that case) be of the nearest (to me).' They said, 'O, Moosa! Either you throw (first), or shall we have the (first) throw?' He (Moosa) said, 'Throw you (first).' So when they threw, they bewitched the eyes of the people, and struck terror into them, and they displayed a great magic. And We inspired Moosa (saying), 'Throw your stick,' and behold! It swallowed up straight away all the falsehoods which they showed. Thus truth was confirmed, and all that they did was made of no effect. So they were defeated then and there, and were returned disgraced. And the sorcerers fell down prostration. They said, 'We believe in the Lord of Al-‘Alameen, the Lord of Moosa and Haroon.' Fir‘awn said, 'You have believed in him (Moosa) before I give you permission. Surely, this is a plot which you have plotted in the city to drive out its people, but you shall come to know. Surely, I will cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, then I will crucify you all.' They said, 'Verily, we are returning to our Lord. And you take vengeance on us only because we believed in the Ayat of our Lord when they reached us! Our Lord! Pour out on us patience, and cause us to die as Muslims'." (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:103-126)

What is meant is that Fir‘awn rejected everything, invented lies and evinced extreme disbelief in his words: "Verily! He is your chief who taught you magic." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:71) He brought forth a statement so patently false that its untruthfulness was clear to all. He said, "Surely, this is a plot which you have plotted in the city to drive out its people, but you shall come to know." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:123) And he said, "Surely, I will cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:124).

This way he threatened to cut off their right hands and their left feet. "Then I will crucify you all." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:124). He said that he would make an example of them and a warning to others among his subjects against emulating them, which is why he said, "and I will surely crucify you on the trunks of date-palms." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:71) He said he would place them on the trunks of date-palms because they are the highest and most visible "and you shall surely know which of us (I, [Fir'awn]- or the Lord of Moosa [i.e. Allah]) can give the severe and more lasting punishment." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:71) means in the life of this world. They said, "We prefer you not over the clear signs that have come to us." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:72) That is, we will not obey you and abandon the faith in the clear signs and irrefutable proofs that has become firmly set in our hearts "and to Him (Allah) Who created us." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:72). It was said that the letter "waw" in this Verse means "and", and it was said that it implies an oath. "So decree whatever you desire to decree" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:72) means do whatever you are able to do "for you can only decree (regarding) the life of this world." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:72). It means that, your jurisdiction over us is limited to this Earthly life and when we move on from it to the abode of the Hereafter, we will be under the Jurisdiction of Him to Whom we have submitted and Whose Messengers we have obeyed. "Verily! We have believed in our Lord, that He may forgive us our faults, and the magic to which you did compel us. And Allah is better as regards reward in comparison to your (Fir'awn's) reward, and more lasting (as regards punishment in comparison to your punishment)." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:73) That is, His Reward is better than that which you promised us and made us aspire to and "more lasting" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:72) means more permanent than this transient, Earthly life. In another Verse, He says: They said, “No harm! Surely, to our Lord (Allah) we are to return; verily! We really hope that our Lord will forgive us our sins” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:50, 51) means He will forgive us for the sins and unlawful deeds we committed. “As we are the first of the believers (in Moosa and in the Monotheism which he has brought from Allah).” That is, we are the first from among the Copts to believe in Moosa and Haroon, peace be upon them both.

They also said to him, “And you take vengeance on us only because we believed in the Ayat!” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:126). That is, we are not guilty of any sin in your eyes except that we have believed in our Messenger and obeyed the Signs of our Lord, when they came to us. “Our Lord! pour out on us patience” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:126). Means to make us steadfast in the face of the punishment that this obstinate tyrant, this ruthless ruler may inflict on us “and cause us to die as Muslims.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:126). They also said, seeking to warn him and make him fear the Punishment of his Lord, the Great, “Verily! Whoever comes to his Lord as a mujrim, then surely, for him is Hell, therein he will neither die nor live.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:74) They said to him, “So take care not to be one of them,” but he was one of them. “But whoever comes to Him (Allah) as a believer (in the Oneness of Allah, etc.), and has done righteous good deeds, for such are the high ranks (in the Hereafter).” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:75) That is, the elevated abodes (in Paradise) "The Gardens of ‘Adn (Eden) (everlasting Gardens), under which rivers flow, wherein they will abide forever: such is the reward of those who purify themselves (by abstaining from all kinds of sins and evil deeds which Allah has forbidden and by doing all that which Allah has ordained).” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:76) So beware of being among them. But those pre ordainments – which none can overcome and none can prevent – came between him and that (i.e. Paradise) and the Judgment of Allah, Most High, was that he would be among the inhabitants of the blazing Fire, so that he should feel the agonizing punishment that would be poured on his head from above, and that is al-hameem and the painful humiliation. It will be said to him by way of rebuke and censure – and he is disgraced, manbooh, wretched and base: “Taste you (this)! Verily, you were (pretending to be) the mighty, the generous!” (Soorah Ad-Dukhan 44:49)

It is apparent from these words that Fir‘awn – may Allah’s Curse be on him – crucified them and tortured them – may Allah be pleased with them all. ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and ‘Ubaid Ibn ‘Umair said that at the start of the day, they were magicians and by the end of it, they were pious martyrs. This is supported by their saying: “Our Lord! Pour out on us patience, and cause us to die as Muslims.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:126)

Section:

When this momentous event transpired, i.e. the defeat which was inflicted on the Copts in that place and the magicians who sought help from their Lord embraced Islam, it did not increase in them in anything except disbelief, stubbornness and remoteness from the truth. Allah, Most High, says, after relating the above mentioned story in Soorah Al-A‘raf, The chiefs of Fir‘awn’s people said, “Will you leave Moosa and his people to spread mischief in the land, and to abandon you and your gods?” He said, “We will kill their sons, and let their women live, and we have indeed irresistible power over them.” Moosa said to his people, “Seek help in Allah and be patient. Verily, the Earth is Allah’s. He gives it as a heritage to whom He wills of His slaves, and the (blessed) end is for the muttaqoon.” They said, “We (Children of Isra’eel) had suffered troubles before you came to us, and since you have come to us.” He said, “It may be that your Lord will destroy your enemy and make you successors on the Earth, so that He may see how you act.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:127-129)

Allah, Most High, informs us that the chiefs among the people of Fir‘awn – and they were the governors and the powerful and influential – incited Fir‘awn to inflict harm on the Prophet of Allah, Moosa (Peace be upon him), and to respond to the Message he brought with disbelief, rejection and harm, rather than belief. They said, “Will you leave Moosa and his people to spread mischief in the land, and to abandon you and your gods?” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:127) They – may Allah humiliate them – meant that his call to worship Allah, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him, and his prohibition of worshipping deities other than Him was a corruption in comparison to the beliefs of the Copts – may Allah’s Curse be on them. Some of them said, “and to abandon you and your ilahah?” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:127) means their worship of you. It is possible to understand this in two ways; one of them is "and to abandon your religion" and this is strengthened by the other recitation. The second is "and to abandon worship of you," because he used to claim that he was a god – may Allah’s Curse be on him. He said, “We will kill their sons, and let their women live.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:127) so that their fighters should not become great in numbers “and we have indeed irresistible power over them.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:127). That is, to overcome them. Moosa said to his people, “Seek help in Allah and be patient. Verily, the Earth is Allah’s. He gives it as a heritage to whom He wills of His slaves, and the (blessed) end is for the muttaqoon.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:128). That is, if they are bent on harming you and murdering you, then seek refuge with your Lord and bear patiently your tribulation. “Verily, the Earth is Allah’s. He gives it as a heritage to whom He wills of His slaves, and the (blessed) end is for the muttaqoon.” It means that you be of those pious people, so that the blessed end may be yours, as He, Most High, says in another Verse, And Moosa said, “O, my people! If you have believed in Allah, then put your trust in Him, if you are Muslims (those who submit to Allah’s Will).” They said, “In Allah, we put our trust. Our Lord! Make us not a trial for the folk who are zalimoon (i.e. do not make them overpower us). And save us by Your Mercy from the disbelieving folk.” (Soorah Yoonus 10:84-86)

As for their saying: “We (Children of Isra’eel) had suffered troubles before you came to us, and since you have come to us.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:129) That is, our sons were killed before you came to us and after you came to us. He said, “It may be that your Lord will destroy your enemy and make you successors on the earth, so that He may see how you act.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:129)

Allah, Most High, says in Soorah Ha Meem Al-Mu‘min, "And indeed We sent Moosa with Our Ayat, and a manifest authority, to Fir‘awn, Haman and Qaroon (Korah), but they called (him) 'a sorcerer, a liar!'" (Soorah Ghafir 40:23, 24). Fir‘awn was the king and Haman was his minister; Qaroon was an Isra’eelite from among the people of Moosa (Peace be upon him), yet he followed the religion of Fir‘awn and his notables. He possessed great wealth, as we shall show in his story, which we shall relate later, if Allah, Most High, wills. Then, when he brought them the Truth from Us, they said, “Kill the sons of those who believe with him and let their women live,” but the plots of disbelievers are nothing but errors! (Soorah Ghafir 40:25). The sole purpose of this killing of the male infants after the start of Moosa’s mission was to humiliate, degrade and diminish the Children of Isra’eel, so that they would not have the courage to defend themselves or to attack the Copts. There were among the Copts those who warned them, but this did not benefit them and it did not deflect from the Ordainment of the One Who, (when He wills something,) simply says, “Be!” And it is. Fir‘awn said, “Leave me to kill Moosa, and let him call his Lord (to stop me from killing him)! I fear that he may change your religion, or that he may cause mischief to appear in the land!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:26)

This is why the people said, by way of mockery: Fir‘awn has become a “reminder”, because Fir‘awn, according to his claim, feared for the people that Moosa (Peace be upon him) would cause them to go astray. Moosa said, “Verily, I seek refuge in my Lord and your Lord from every arrogant person who believes not in the Day of Reckoning!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:27). That is, I have sought refuge and recourse with Allah against Fir‘awn or anyone else assailing me with evil. His saying: “from every arrogant person...” (Soorah Ghafir 40:27). That is, every obstinate tyrant who will not desist or cease and fears not the Punishment of Allah, because he does not believe in the Return (to Allah, on the Day of Resurrection) or the Recompense, which is why he said, “...from every arrogant person who believes not in the Day of Reckoning!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:27)

He, Most High, says, And a believing man of Fir‘awn’s family, who hid his faith said, “Would you kill a man because he says, ‘My Lord is Allah’, and he has come to you with clear Signs (proofs) from your Lord? And if he is a liar, upon him will be (the sin of) his lie. But if he is telling the truth, then some of that (calamity) wherewith he threatens you will fall on you. Verily, Allah guides not one who is a musrif (a polytheist, or a murderer who sheds blood without a right, or the one who commits major sins, an oppressor, or a transgressor), a liar! O, my people! Yours is the kingdom this day, you are uppermost in the land. But who will save us from the Punishment of Allah, should it befall us?” Fir‘awn said, “I show you only that which I see, and I guide you only to the path of right policy!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:28, 29)

This man was a paternal cousin of Fir‘awn and he concealed his faith from his people out of fear for his own safety.

What is meant is that this man hid his belief and when Fir‘awn – may Allah’s curse be on him – made his intention clear to kill Moosa (Peace be upon him), he consulted his notables regarding this matter, the believer feared for Moosa (Peace be upon him) and so he responded gently to Fir‘awn, with words that contained a mixture of encouragement (to do good) and warning (against doing evil); he spoke in the manner of one who is asking for advice and seeking an opinion – and it has been confirmed in the Hadith from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “The best jihad is to speak words of truth before an unjust ruler.”

This was the highest level of such kind of a jihad, because Fir‘awn was the most tyrannical and oppressive of rulers; and there was nothing truer or more just than this speech, because in it there was protection of the blood of a Prophet. It is also possible that he argued with them by revealing his faith and making plain to them that which he had formerly concealed. But the first explanation appears more likely, and Allah knows better. He said, “Would you kill a man because he says, ‘My Lord is Allah’.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:28) It means that simply due to his saying that "My Lord is Allah" you would kill him. If so, this is not a just cause for killing a man; rather it is a reason to treat him with honor, respect, gentleness and forsake vengeance, i.e. especially since “he has come to you with clear Signs (proofs) from your Lord?” (Soorah Ghafir 40:28). That is, with miracles that prove the truth of that which he has brought from Him Who sent him. So if you deal gently with him, you will be safe, because “if he is a liar, upon him will be (the sin of) his lie.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:28). That is, that will not harm you, “but if he is telling the truth,” (Soorah Ghafir 40:28) – and you have opposed him, “then some of that (calamity) wherewith he threatens you will fall on you.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:28) – and you fear that even the lightest punishment from that which he has warned you of may befall you, then what will you do if the whole punishment is inflicted on you? These words in this situation are at the highest levels of courteousness, carefulness and perfect logic. His saying: “O, my people! Yours is the kingdom this day, you are uppermost in the land” (Soorah Ghafir 40:29) was a warning that they might be deprived of this mighty kingdom, because states never oppose Allah’s Religion except that they lose their dominion and are humbled after having possessed great power. And this is what befell the people of Fir‘awn; they continued to doubt, oppose and resist the Message brought by Moosa (Peace be upon him) until Allah removed them from the authority they had enjoyed, expelled them from their houses and their palaces and took away their blessings and their pleasures. Then they were cast into the sea, humiliated; and their souls were transferred from their former state of greatness and high rank to that of the lowest. This is why the believing, righteous, rightlyguided man, follower of the truth, adviser to his people and possessor of perfect understanding said, “O, my people! Yours is the kingdom this day, you are uppermost in the land.” That is, you are in authority over the people, rulers over them. “But who will save us from the Punishment of Allah, should it befall us?” (Soorah Ghafir 40:29) means even if possessed double the numbers, preparedness, strength and power that you do, this would not avail us anything and it would not protect us from Allah’s Punishment. Fir‘awn said (Soorah Ghafir 40:29), in answer to all of this, “I show you only that which I see.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:29). That is, I only say unto you that which I consider to be true. “and I guide you only to the path of right policy!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:29). And he lied in both of these statements, because in his heart, he knew that what Moosa (Peace be upon him) had brought was the truth from Allah, without any doubt. He only displayed opposition to it due to sinfulness, enmity, arrogance and disbelief.

As for his saying: “and I guide you only to the path of right policy!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:29). He lied in this also, because he was not following right guidance in the matter; on the contrary, he was following foolishness, error, stupidity and vain fancy. He was one of the first to worship idols and graven images, then he called upon his ignorant, misguided people to follow him and believe his claim that he was their lord.

What is intended is to make clear the untruthfulness of his saying: “I show you only that which I see.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:29) and his saying: “and I guide you only to the path of right policy!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:29)

He, Most High, says, And he who believed said, “O, my people! Verily, I fear for you a fate like that day (of disaster) of the Confederates (of old)! Like the fate of the people of Nooh, and ‘Ad and Thamood and those who came after them. And Allah wills no injustice for (His) slaves. And, O, my people! Verily! I fear for you the Day when there will be mutual calling (between the people of Hell and of Paradise)." A Day when you will turn your backs and flee, having no protector from Allah. And whomsoever Allah sends astray, for him there is no guide. And indeed Yoosuf did come to you, in times gone by, with clear signs, but you ceased not to doubt in that which he did bring to you, till when he died you said, "No Messenger will Allah send after him." Thus Allah leaves astray him who is a musrif (a polytheist, oppressor, criminal, sinner, who commit major sins) and a murtab (one who doubts Allah’s Warning and His Oneness). Those who dispute about the Ayat of Allah, without any authority that has come to them, it is greatly hateful and disgusting to Allah and to those who believe. Thus does Allah seal up the heart of every arrogant tyrant (so they cannot guide themselves to the Right Path). (Soorah Ghafir 40:30-35)

Allah’s Wali (friend) warned them that if they belied Allah’s Messenger, Moosa (Peace be upon him), the same punishments that were inflicted on the people of Nooh (Peace be upon him), ‘Ad, Thamood and those who came after them, up to the time of Fir‘awn’s people, would be inflicted on them. By these exemplary punishments, Allah established the proofs for all of the people of the Earth in the truth of the Messages that the Prophets brought, which showed how He exacted retribution on their rejecters and saved the Awliya’ who followed them. Furthermore, He made them fear the Day of Resurrection, which is the Day of the Gathering, i.e. when He will call the people in successive groups and they will turn on their heels in an attempt to flee, but they will find no way to do so. On that day man will say, "Where (is the refuge) to flee?" No! There is no refuge! Unto your Lord (Alone) will be the place of rest that day. (Soorah Al-Qiyamah 75:10-12)

He, Most High, informs us about the inhabitants of Egypt at that time, i.e. about their natural inclination to reject the truth and oppose the Messengers, which is why He says, but you ceased not to doubt in that which he did bring to you, till when he died you said, “No Messenger will Allah send after him.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:34). That is, you continued to reject it, which is why he said, Thus Allah leaves astray him who is a musrif (a polytheist, oppressor, a criminal, sinner who commit major sins) and a murtab (one who doubts Allah’s Warning and His Oneness). Those who dispute about the Ayat of Allah, without any authority that has come to them, it is greatly hateful and disgusting to Allah and to those who believe. Thus does Allah seal up the heart of every arrogant, tyrant. (So they cannot guide themselves to the Right Path) (Soorah Ghafir 40:34, 35) That is, they reject Allah’s Proofs and the evidences of His Oneness, and they do not have any proof or evidence from Allah. This is a thing that is absolutely abhorrent to Allah, i.e. He hates those of mankind who possess such characteristics, which is why he says, Thus does Allah seal up the heart of every arrogant tyrant (so they cannot guide themselves to the Right Path). (Soorah Ghafir 40:35). The first word in the Verse (kadhalika) has been read as meaning "likewise" and also as "thus" – and both of them are inseparable: That is, thus, if the hearts oppose the truth and do so without any evidence from Allah, He seals them.

He, Most High, says, And Fir‘awn said, “O, Haman! Build me a tower that I may arrive at the ways, the ways of the heavens, and I may look upon the Ilah (God) of Moosa but verily, I think him to be a liar.” Thus it was made fair-looking, in Fir‘awn’s eyes, the evil of his deeds, and he was hindered from the (Right) Path, and the plot of Fir‘awn led to nothing but loss and destruction (for him). (Soorah Ghafir 40:36,37) Fir‘awn belied Moosa (Peace be upon him) in his assertion that Allah had sent him and falsely claimed to his people that "I know not that you have an ilah (a god) other than me, so kindle for me (a fire), O, Haman, to bake (bricks out of) clay, and set up for me a Sarhan (a lofty tower, or palace, etc.) in order that I may look at (or look for) the Ilah (God) of Moosa; and verily, I think that he (Moosa) is one of the liars.” (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:38). And here He says, “...that I may arrive at the ways, the ways of the heavens.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:36, 37). That is, the paths or roads. “...and I may look upon the Ilah (God) of Moosa but verily, I think him to be a liar.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:37). It is possible to infer two meanings from this Verse; one of them is: I think that he is a liar when he says that there is a Lord of this world other than me. The second is in his claim that Allah sent him. The first appears more likely, based on what is known of Fir‘awn’s nature, because he used to deny the existence of the Creator. However, the second is closer to the wording, since he said, “...and I may look upon the Ilah (God) of Moosa.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:37). That is, so that I might see if He sent him or not. “...but verily, I think him to be a liar.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:37). But Fir‘awn’s intention was no more than to discourage his people from believing in Moosa (Peace be upon him) and to encourage them to reject him.

Let us return to the advice of the believer and the arguments he advanced. Allah, Most High, says, And the man who believed said, O, my people! Follow me, I will guide you to the way of right conduct (i.e. guide you to Allah’s Religion of Islamic Monotheism with which Moosa has been sent). O, my people! Truly, this life of the world is nothing but a (quick passing) enjoyment, and verily, the Hereafter that is the home that will remain forever. Whosoever does an evil deed will not be requited except the like thereof, and whosoever does a righteous deed, whether male or female and is a true believer (in the Oneness of Allah), such will enter Paradise, where they will be provided therein (with all things in abundance) without limit. (Soorah Ghafir 40:38-40)

He – may Allah be pleased with him – called them to the path of right guidance and truth, which is following the Prophet of Allah, Moosa (Peace be upon him), and believing in the Message that he brought from his Lord. Then he induced them to give up the pleasures of this temporary Earthly life, which must, without doubt, come to an end. He encouraged them to seek the reward which is with Allah, with Whom no deed is lost. He is the Omnipotent, in Whose Hands is the dominion of all things. It is He Who gives a great reward for few deeds and it is from His Justice that He does not recompense an evil deed except with its like. He (the believer) informed them that the Hereafter is an everlasting abode, which He will grant to the believer, who performs righteous deeds. Such will be admitted to the highest Gardens of Paradise and Halls of Tranquility, and they will have many superior good things, everlasting blessings which will never perish or pass away. And the goodness that they will have will be more than they require.

Then he began to invalidate their beliefs and to cause them to fear the end to which they were heading, saying, “And O, my people! How is it that I call you to salvation while you call me to the Fire! You invite me to disbelieve in Allah (and in His Oneness), and to join partners in worship with Him; of which I have no knowledge, and I invite you to the Almighty, the Oft-Forgiving! No doubt you call me to (worship) one who cannot grant (me) my request (or respond to my invocation) in this world or in the Hereafter. And our return will be to Allah, and musrifoon! They shall be the dwellers of the Fire! And you will remember what I am telling you, and my affair I leave it to Allah. Verily, Allah is the All-Seeing of (His) slaves.” So Allah saved him from the evils that they plotted (against him), while an evil punishment encompassed Fir‘awn’s people. The Fire; they are exposed to it morning and afternoon, and on the day when the Hour will be established (it will be said to the angels), “Cause Fir‘awn’s people to enter the severest punishment!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:41-46)

He had called them to the worship of the Lord of the heavens and Earth, Who says to a thing, “Be!” and it is, while they called him to the worship of Fir‘awn, the ignorant man, the misguided, the cursed, which is why he said to them by way of rebuke, “And O, my people! How is it that I call you to salvation while you call me to the Fire! You invite me to disbelieve in Allah (and in His Oneness), and to join partners in worship with Him; of which I have no knowledge, and I invite you to the Almighty, the Oft-Forgiving!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:41,42). Then he made clear to them the futility of worshipping anything other than Allah, such as idols and graven images and he further explained that they have no power to benefit or harm, saying, “No doubt you call me to (worship) one who cannot grant (me) my request (or respond to my invocation) in this world or in the Hereafter. And our return will be to Allah, and musrifoon! They shall be the dwellers of the Fire!” (Soorah Ghafir 40:43)

Then he warned them what would happen if they continued in their obstinacy, saying, “And you will remember what I am telling you, and my affair I leave it to Allah. Verily, Allah is the All-Seeing of (His) slaves.” (Soorah Ghafir 40:44) Allah, Most High, says, So Allah saved him from the evils that they plotted (against him) (Soorah Ghafir 40:45) means, because of his rebuke to them, Allah saved him from the punishment that befell them, because of their disbelief in Allah and the plots they hatched in order to prevent people from reaching the Path of Allah, such as vain fancies and tricks which they imposed on the common people, which is why He said, "encompassed". That is, surrounded. So Allah saved him from the evils that they plotted (against him), while an evil punishment encompassed Fir'awn's people. The Fire; they are exposed to it morning and afternoon." (Soorah Ghafir 40:45,46). That is, their souls are exposed night and day in their barzakh to the Fire. “And on the day when the Hour will be established (it will be said to the angels), 'Cause Fir'awn's people to enter the severest punishment!’” (Soorah Ghafir 40:46). And we have already discussed the evidence in this Verse for the punishment of the grave in the Tafseer. All praise and thanks be to Allah (SWT).

What is meant is that Allah, Most High, did not destroy them until after the proofs had been established against them, including the sending of Messengers to them and the removal of doubts from them. And the establishment of the proofs against them was achieved sometimes by instilling fear in them and at other times by encouragement, as He Most High, says, And indeed We punished the people of Fir‘awn with years of drought and shortness of fruits, that they might remember (take heed). But whenever good came to them, they said, “Ours is this.” And if evil afflicted them, they ascribed it to evil omens connected with Moosa and those with him. Be informed! Verily, their evil omens are with Allah but most of them know not. They said (to Moosa), “Whatever Ayat you may bring to us, to work therewith your sorcery on us, we shall never believe in you.” So We sent on them the flood, the locusts, the lice, the frogs, and the blood: (as a succession of) manifest signs, yet they remained arrogant, and they were of those people who were mujrimoon." (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:130-133)

Allah, Most High, informs us how He tried the people of Fir‘awn, i.e. the Copts, with the years; and these were the years of drought during which the crops failed and no entreaty was of benefit. He says, "and shortness of fruits" (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:130) is referred to the fruits of the trees. That they might remember (take heed). (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:130). But they did not benefit from it, nor did they take heed; instead, they remained arrogant and persisted in their disbelief and obstinacy. But whenever good came to them (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:131) means abundance of crops and the like. They said, “Ours is this.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:131) means this is what we deserve and what is fitting for us. And if evil afflicted them, they ascribed it to evil omens connected with Moosa and those with him. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:131) That is, they would say, “This has befallen us because of their evil portents, yet they would not say regarding their good fortune that it was their blessing (from Allah) and due to their (the Copts’) proximity to Moosa (Peace be upon him) and his people. Instead, their hearts were filled with rejection and arrogance and were averse to the truth. When evil befell them, they ascribed it to Moosa (Peace be upon him) and when good came their way, they ascribed it to themselves. He, Most High, says, Be informed! Verily, their evil omens are with Allah (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:131) means Allah will recompense them with the fullest recompensation for this. But most of them know not. They said (to Moosa), “Whatever Ayat you may bring to us, to work therewith your sorcery on us, we shall never believe in you.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:131-132). That is, no matter what Ayat (i.e. miracles) you may bring, we will not believe in you, we will not follow you and we will not obey you – even if you were to bring every Ayat. Likewise, Allah informs us in His Saying: Truly! Those, against whom the Word (Wrath) of your Lord has been justified, will not believe. Even if every sign should come to them – until they see the painful torment. (Soorah Yoonus 10:96-97). He, Most High, says, So We sent on them the flood, the locusts, the lice, the frogs and the blood: (as a succession of) manifest signs, yet they remained arrogant, and they were of those people who were mujrimoon. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:133)

Allah, Most High, says, And when the punishment fell on them they said, “O, Moosa! Invoke your Lord for us because of His Promise to you. If you will remove the punishment from us, we indeed shall believe in you, and we shall let the Children of Isra’eel go with you.” But when We removed the punishment from them to a fixed term, which they had to reach, behold! They broke their word! So We took retribution from them. We drowned them in the sea, because they belied Our Ayat and were heedless about them. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:134-136)

He, Most High, informs us about their disbelief, their arrogance and their determination to continue in their error, ignorance and refusal to follow Allah’s Ayat and to believe in His Messenger, in spite of the great and clear signs and the profound and overwhelming proofs which Allah allowed them to witness with their own eyes. But the more signs they witnessed, and the more they weakened them and exhausted them, the more they swore to Moosa (Peace be upon him) and promised him that if he relieved them of these (afflictions), they would surely believe in him and they would definitely send with him his followers. But every time they were relieved of these signs, they returned to the evil they had formerly practiced and they rejected the truth that he had brought to them and did not pay any heed to it. And so Allah would send upon them another sign, more severe than the last and more powerful. So they would speak, but they would lie, and they would promise, but they would not keep their promise. “If you will remove the punishment from us, we indeed shall believe in you, and we shall let the Children of Isra’eel go with you.” (Soorah Al-A’raf 7:134). So they would be relieved of the calamitous punishment, after which they would return to their vast and deep ignorance. And Allah, the Mighty, the Gentle, the Omnipotent would grant them a respite; He would not hurry them. Instead He would defer their punishment. Then He seized them after the evidence was established against them and they had received the warning. He seized them with the Seizure of the Almighty and made them a warning and an example to those disbelievers who resemble them and a lesson to those believers among His slaves who allow themselves to be admonished by them, as He, Most Blessed, Most High, says – and He is the Most Truthful of speakers – in Soorah Ha Meem Wal-Kitab Al-Mubeen: And indeed We did send Moosa with Our Ayat to Fir‘awn and his chiefs (inviting them to Allah’s Religion of Islam) He said, “Verily, I am a Messenger of the Lord of Al-‘Alameen.” But when he came to them with Our Ayat, behold! They laughed at them. And not an Ayah (sign, etc.) We showed them but it was greater than its fellow, and We seized them with torment, in order that they might turn (from their polytheism to Allah’s Religion [Islamic Monotheism]). And they said (to Moosa), “O, you sorcerer! Invoke your Lord for us according to what He has covenanted with you. Verily, We shall guide ourselves (aright).” But when We removed the punishment from them, behold! They broke their covenant (that they will believe if We remove the punishment for them). And Fir‘awn proclaimed among his people, saying, “O, my people! Is not mine the dominion of Egypt, and these rivers flowing underneath me. See you not then? Am I not better than this one (Moosa), who is maheen (has no honor nor any respect, and is weak and despicable) and can scarcely express himself clearly? Why then are not golden bracelets bestowed on him, or angels sent along with him?” Thus he

(Fir‘awn) befooled and misled his people, and they obeyed him. Verily, they were ever a people who were fasiqoon (rebellious, disobedient to Allah). So when they angered Us, We punished them and drowned them all. And We made them a precedent and an example to later generations. (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:46-56)

Allah, Most High, describes how He sent His slave, Al-Kaleem, the noble, to Fir‘awn, the despicable, the vile; and how He, Most High, supported him with clear and obvious signs, which deserved to be received with exaltation and belief, abandonment of the pagan beliefs that they followed and a return to the truth and the Straight Path. Whereas instead of that, they laughed at them and mocked at and they rejected Allah’s Path and declined to follow the truth. So Allah sent upon them the Ayat, one after another; and each Ayah was greater than the one that preceded it, because confirmation was more profound than that which came before it. And not an Ayah (sign, etc.) We showed them but it was greater than its fellow, and We seized them with punishment, in order that they might turn (from their polytheism to Allah’s Religion [Islamic Monotheism]). And they said (to Moosa), “O, you sorcerer! Invoke your Lord for us according to what He has covenanted with you. Verily, We shall guide ourselves (aright).” (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:48, 49) The word “sorcerer” at that time did not have any negative connotations, because the learned men at that time were sorcerers, which is why they addressed him thus when they needed him and implored him. Allah, Most High, says, But when We removed the punishment from them, behold! They broke their covenant (that they will believe if We remove the punishment for them). (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:50) Then He, Most High, informs us about Fir‘awn’s bragging of his kingdom, the vastness of his land, of its beauty and of the waterways which traverse it, i.e. the canals which they dug for minimizing the effect of the Nile’s flood and to make use of its waters for irrigation purposes. Then he boasted about himself and his jewelry and began to belittle the Messenger of Allah, Moosa (Peace be upon him) , and to ridicule him, saying that he "can scarcely express himself clearly" (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:52) means his speech was not clear due to the remainder of that tongue impediment, which in him was a sign of nobility, perfection and beauty and it did not prevent him from being spoken to by Allah and receiving Revelation from Him; and after that, He revealed the Tawrah to him, yet Fir‘awn belittled him – may Allah’s curse be upon him – because he did not wear bracelets on his arms and bore no adornments. And yet (in fact) such adornments are for women and are unbecoming an ordinary man, so what then of the Messengers, who possess the most complete discernment and understanding and the highest intentions, and are the most abstemious people on Earth, and know best what Allah has prepared for His Awliya’ in the Hereafter.

And He, Most High, says, “...or angels sent along with him?” (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:53) But the matter does not require that; if the idea was that the angels would glorify and exalt him, the angels glorify and display humility toward much lesser men than Moosa (Peace be upon him), according to the Hadith which states, “Verily, the angels lower their wings for the seeker of knowledge, out of pleasure for what he is doing.” So what would be the manner of their humility and glorification toward Moosa (Peace be upon him), Al-Kaleem? And if the idea was that they might bear witness to the truth of his Message, then Allah has already supported him with miracles, which prove indisputably to those with good hearts and those who are seeking truth and that which is right and proper. But those who look at the outer covering and ignore what is inside it are blind to the clear proofs and plain evidences that he brought; and the Lord of lords has sealed their hearts, because of the doubt and uncertainty they feel, as was the case with Fir‘awn, the Copt, the blind man (i.e. blind to the truth), the liar. Allah, Most High, says, Thus he (Fir‘awn) befooled and misled his people, and they obeyed him" (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:54) means, he deceived their hearts and minds and turned them from one state to another, until they believed his claim that he was their lord – may Allah's curse be on him and disgrace them. Verily, they were ever a people who were fasiqoon (rebellious, disobedient to Allah). (Soorah Az-

Zukhruf 43:54) So when they angered Us, We visited vengeance on them. (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:55) That is, by drowning, debasement and deprivation of power, replacing might with humiliation, blessings with punishment, luxury with poverty and fine living with the Fire – we seek refuge with Allah from that. And We made them a precedent (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:56) means as a lesson for those who possessed similar characteristics. And an example (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:56). That is to those who take warning from them and fear the evil consequences that befell them, as He, Most High, says, Then, when Moosa came to them with Our Clear Ayat, they said, “This is nothing but invented magic. Never did we hear of this among our fathers of old.” Moosa said, “My Lord knows him best who came with guidance from Him, and whose will be the happy ending in the Hereafter. Verily, the zalimoon will not be successful.” Fir‘awn said, “O, chiefs! I know not that you have an ilah (a god) other than me, so kindle for me (a fire), O, Haman, to bake (bricks out of) clay, and set up for me a Sarhan (a lofty tower, or palace, etc.) in order that I may look at (or look for) the Ilah (God) of Moosa; and verily, I think that he (Moosa is one of the liars.” And he and his hosts were arrogant in the land, without right, and they thought that they would never return to Us. So We seized him and his hosts, and We threw them all into the sea (and drowned them). So behold (O, Muhammad) what was the end of the zalimoon. And We made them leaders inviting to the Fire, and on the Day of Resurrection, they will not be helped. And We made a curse to follow them in this world, and on the Day of Resurrection, they will be among maqboohoon (those who are prevented from receiving Allah’s Mercy or any good, despised or destroyed, etc.). (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:36-42)

Allah, Most High, informs us that when they arrogantly refused to follow the truth and their king made his false claim, and they agreed upon it and obeyed him in it, the Anger of the Lord, the Omnipotent – the Almighty, Whom none can overcome and none can resist – increased upon them, and He inflicted the severest of punishments on them and He drowned Fir‘awn and his followers on one morning, so that not a single one of them escaped. In fact, all of them died and entered the Fire and they continue to be cursed by the people in this world, and on the Day of Resurrection, wretched will be the state of the supporters and the supported (Fir'awn) and on that Day they will be the most abject and debased.

The Story of the Destruction of Fir‘awn and His Armies

When the Copts of Egypt persisted in their disbelief, arrogance and obstinacy, in obedience to Fir‘awn and disobedience to Allah’s Prophet and Messenger and His Kaleem, Moosa (Peace be upon him), son of ‘Imran, and Allah, Most High, bared the solid proofs against the people of Egypt and showed them the miracles which dazzled their eyes and bewildered their minds, they paid no heed; in spite of all this, they would not stop their nasty activities, would not desist and would not return (to belief) – none but a few of them believed. It was said only three, Fir‘awn’s wife – and the People of the Scriptures have no information about her – the Believer from Fir‘awn’s family whose story we have already told, and the man who came running to advise Moosa (Peace be upon him) from the farthest side of the city, saying, “O, Moosa! Verily, the chiefs are taking counsel together about you, to kill you, so escape. Truly, I am to you of those who give sincere advice.” (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:20) This was said by ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), according to what was narrated by Ibn Abi Hatim from him; and he was referring to other than the magicians, for they were from the Copts.

They kept their faith concealed because of the fear of Fir‘awn and his power, his tyranny and his authoritative rule, and also that news of their accepting Islam would be conveyed to him by his chiefs, which would result in him preventing them from practicing their religion.

Allah, Most High, says, and verily, Fir‘awn was an arrogant tyrant on the Earth. (Soorah Yoonus 10:83)

He was an obstinate oppressor, determined to practice falsehood. He was indeed one of the musrifoon (polytheists, sinners and transgressors, those who give up the truth and follow the evil, and commit all kinds of great sins). (Soorah Yoonus 10:83) He was a disease the time for whose eradication had come, an evil fruit whose time to be destroyed had arrived and an evil soul whose destruction had been ordained.

On this, Moosa (Peace be upon him) said, “O, my people! If you have believed in Allah, then put your trust in Him if you are Muslim (those who submit to Allah’s Will).” They said, “In Allah we put our trust. Our Lord! Make us not a trial for the folk who are zalimoon (i.e. do not make them overpower us). And save us by Your Mercy from the disbelieving folk.” (Soorah Yoonus 10:84-86) He ordered them to put their trust in Allah and seek help from Him and to seek refuge with Him and they complied with his orders, so Allah made for them a release and a way of escape from the situation they were in. And We inspired Moosa and his brother (saying), “Take dwellings for your people in Egypt, and make your dwellings as a qiblah, and perform as-Salah (iqamat us-Salah), and give glad tidings to the believers.” (Soorah Yoonus 10:87). Allah revealed to Moosa (Peace be upon him) and his brother, Haroon (Peace be upon him) that they should tell the Children of Isra’eel to take houses that were separate from the houses of the Copts, so that they might be ready to leave in case they were commanded to do so, and in that case, they would know each other’s houses. As for His Saying: “and make your dwellings as a qiblah...” (Soorah Yoonus 10:87), it was said that it means as places of worship and it was also said that it means as places in which you offer frequent prayers; this latter opinion was held by Mujahid, Abu Malik, Ibraheem An-Nakha‘i, Ar-Rabee‘, Ad-Dahhak, Zaid Ibn Aslam, his son, ‘Abdur Rahman and others.

Based on this understanding, the meaning of the Verse would be that they should seek help from Allah against the pain, misery and oppression to which they were being subjected by offering frequent prayers, as He, Most High, says, And seek help in patience and as-Salah (the prayer) and truly it is extremely heavy and hard except for al-khashi‘oon (i.e. the true Believers in Allah – those who obey Allah with full submission, fear much from His Punishment, and believe in His Promise [Paradise, etc.] and in His Warnings [Hell, etc.]). (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:45) And whenever the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was beset by any problem, he would pray.

Sa'eed Ibn Jubair said that "and make your dwellings as a qiblah..." (Soorah Yoonus 10:87) means make them facing each other.

And He, Most High, says, And Moosa said, "Our Lord! You have indeed bestowed on Fir'awn and his chiefs splendor and wealth in the life of this world. Our Lord! That they may lead men astray from Your Path. Our Lord! Destroy their wealth, and harden their hearts, so that they will not believe until they see the painful punishment." Allah said, "Verily, the invocation of you both is accepted. So keep you both to the Straight Way (i.e. keep on doing good deeds and preaching Allah's Message with patience), and follow not the path of those who know not (the truth, i.e. to believe in the Oneness of Allah, and also to believe in the Reward of Allah: Paradise, etc.) (Soorah Yoonus 10:88, 89)

This was a great and momentous invocation which Allah's Kaleem, Moosa (Peace be upon him) , made against his enemy, Fir'awn, out of anger for Allah's sake, because of his arrogant refusal to follow the truth, his turning away from Allah's Path, his obstinacy, his recalcitrance, his disobedience, his dogged insistence on adhering to follow that which is false and invalid and his disdain for the clear, plain and perceptible truth and the indisputable evidence, which is why he said, "Our Lord! You have indeed bestowed on Fir'awn and his chiefs" (Soorah Yoonus 10:88) (on his followers among the Copts and those who professed and practiced his religion) "splendor and wealth in the life of this world, our Lord! That they may lead men astray from Your Path." (Soorah Yoonus 10:88). It means that those who exalt the importance of the life of this world are bedazzled by this, causing the ignorant among them to think that they are following what is correct, because of the fine things, such as garments, ships, houses and palaces, foodstuffs, beautiful landscapes, great power, etc., that they possess, but these things were theirs in the life of this world, not in the Hereafter. Our Lord! Destroy their wealth. (Soorah Yoonus 10:88). ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and Mujahid said that it means, eradicate it. As for His

Saying: “and harden their hearts, so that they will not believe until they see the painful punishment” (Soorah Yoonus 10:88), according to ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), it means seal them; and this invocation was made out of anger for Allah’s sake, for His Religion and for His Proofs. And Allah, Most High, accepted it and implemented it, just as He accepted the invocation of Nooh (Peace be upon him) against his people, when he said, “My Lord! Leave not one of the disbelievers on the Earth!” (Soorah Nooh 71:26). This is why Allah, Most High, says, addressing Moosa (Peace be upon him) when he made his invocation against Fir‘awn and his chiefs and his invocation was affirmed by Haroon (Peace be upon him) and so he was described as a supplicator also: Allah said “Verily, the invocation of you both is accepted. So you both keep to the Straight Way (i.e. keep on doing good deeds and preaching Allah’s Message with patience), and follow not the path of those who know not (the truth i.e. to believe in the Oneness of Allah, and also to believe in the Reward of Allah: Paradise, etc.).” (Soorah Yoonus 10:89)

And He, Most High, says, And We inspired Moosa, saying, “Take away My slaves by night, verily, you will be pursued.” Then Fir‘awn sent callers to (all) the cities, (saying), “Verily! These indeed are but a small band. And verily, they have done what has enraged us; But we are host all assembled, amply forewarned.” So, We expelled them from gardens and springs, treasures and every kind of honorable place. Thus (We turned them [Fir‘awn’s people] out) and We caused the Children of Isra’eel to inherit them. So they pursued them at sunrise. And when the two hosts saw each other, the companions of Moosa said, “We are sure to be overtaken.” (Moosa) said, “Nay, verily! With me is my Lord, He will guide me.” Then We inspired Moosa (saying), “Strike the sea with your stick.” And it parted, and each separate part (of that seawater) became like the huge, firm mass of a mountain. Then We brought near the others (Fir‘awn’s party) to that place. And We saved Moosa and all those with him. Then We drowned the others. Verily! In this is indeed a sign (or a proof), yet most of them are not believers. And verily, your Lord! He is truly the Almighty, the Most Merciful. (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:52-68). The scholars of tafseer said that when Fir‘awn and his army set out in pursuit of the Children of Isra’eel, he headed a large force.

What is meant is that Fir‘awn and his army caught up with them at sunset and the two hosts saw one another and there remained no doubt and no confusion. They looked across at each other and it seemed that naught remained except for them to fight each other. At that point, Moosa’s companions said fearfully to him, “We are sure to be overtaken.” (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:61). This was they had had to follow a path to the sea and they had no way to go except into the sea – and none of them could do this. To their left and to their right lay mountains – and they were of towering heights. Fir‘awn had trapped them and now faced them; they saw him before him at the head of his soldiers and they observed their great numbers and their preparedness (weapons, chariots, armor, etc.) and they were in a state of extreme fear and terror, because of the humiliation and deception they had experienced under his rule. So they complained to the Prophet of Allah (Peace be upon him) of their situation; but the Messenger, the honest and trustworthy said to them, “Nay, verily! With me is my Lord, He will guide me.” (Soorah AshShu‘ara’ 26:62)

Then, when the matter came to a head and the situation became critical and Fir‘awn advanced with his armies, intent on their task, bearing their arms and filled with anger and resentment and the eyes (of the Children of Isra’eel) were turned away and their hearts were in their throats, at that moment, the Most Gentle, the Mighty, the Omnipotent, Lord of the Noble Throne revealed to Moosa, Al-

Kaleem (Peace be upon him): “Strike the sea with your stick.” (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:63). And when he struck the sea, it was reported that he said to it, “Split, by Allah’s Permission.”

Allah, Most High, says, Then We inspired Moosa (saying), “Strike the sea with your stick.” And it parted, and each separate part (of that seawater) became like the huge, firm mass of a mountain. (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:63). It was said that it parted revealing twelve paths, one for each tribe to proceed. It was even said that Allah caused apertures (like windows) to appear so that they might see each other, but this statement requires verification, because water is a transparent substance when there is light behind it. So the water was standing still, like mountains, held back by the Mighty Power which emanates from the One Who says to a thing, “Be!” and it is. And He, Most High, commanded the west wind and it burned the black clay of the sea, so that it became dry and did not stick to the hooves of their horses and the feet of their camels.

Allah, Most High, says, { And indeed We inspired Moosa (saying), “Travel by night with ‘ibadi (My slaves) and strike a dry path for them in the sea, fearing neither to be overtaken (by Fir‘awn [Fir‘awn]) nor being afraid (of drowning in the sea).” Then Fir‘awn pursued them with his hosts, but the seawater completely overwhelmed them and covered them up. And Fir‘awn led his people astray, and he did not guide them } (Soorah Ta Ha 20:77-79)

And what is meant is that when the sea was transformed in this manner by the Permission of the Lord, the Mighty, the Powerful, He commanded Moosa (Peace be upon him) to cross it with the Children of Isra’eel, and so they went down to it in haste, filled with happiness. And they had seen that amazing sight, which bedazzled those who saw it and guided the hearts of the Believers. Then, when they had crossed it and the last of them had emerged from it, they departed from it. This happened as the first of Fir‘awn’s army arrived at the path across the sea, and Moosa (Peace be upon him) intended to strike the sea with his staff again, so that it would return to its former state, in order to prevent Fir'awn and his army from reaching them. But Allah, the Omnipotent, Owner of Majesty ordered him to leave the sea in this state, as He, the Truthful says in His Words: {And indeed We tried before them Fir'awn's people, when there came to them a noble Messenger (i.e. Moosa [Moosa] saying, "Restore to me the slaves of Allah (i.e. the Children of Isra'eel). Verily! I am to you a Messenger worthy of all trust. And exalt not (yourselves) against Allah. Truly, I have come to you with a manifest authority. And truly, I seek refuge in my Lord and your Lord, lest you stone me (or call me a sorcerer or kill me). But if you believe me not, then keep away from me and leave me alone. (But they were aggressive), so he (Moosa) called upon his Lord (saying), "These are indeed the people who are mujrimoon (disbelievers, polytheists, sinners, criminals, etc.). (Allah said), "Depart you with My slaves by night. Surely, you will be pursued. And leave the sea as it is. Verily, they are a host to be drowned. How many of gardens and springs have they (Fir'awn's) people left. And green crops (fields, etc.) and goodly places, and comforts of life wherein they used to take delight! Thus (it was)! And We made other people inherit them (i.e. We made the Children of Isra'eel to inherit the kingdom of Egypt). And the heavens and the Earth wept not for them, nor were they given a respite. And indeed We saved the Children of Isra'eel from the humiliating punishment, from Fir'awn. Verily! He was arrogant and was of the musrifoon (those who transgress all bounds in spending and other things and commit great sins). And We chose them (the Children of Isra'eel) above the 'Alameen (during the time of Moosa [Moosa]) with knowledge, and granted them signs in which there was a plain trial} (Soorah Ad-Dukhan 44:17-33). The meaning of His Words: {"And leave the sea as it is"} (Soorah Ad-Dukhan 44:24) is: still, as it is, do not change it from this state. This was said by 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, Ar-Rabee', Ad-Dahhak, Qatadah, Ka'b Al-Ahbar, Simak Ibn Harb, 'Abdur-Rahman Ibn Zaid Ibn Aslam and others.

When he left it as it was, and Fir‘awn reached it and saw what he saw and witnessed what he witnessed, he was alarmed at the sight and he acknowledged what he had secretly acknowledged before, which was that this was the Work of the Lord of the Noble Throne and he recoiled and did not advance. In his heart, he regretted that he had set out in pursuit of them; but at such a time and in such circumstances, his regret profited him nothing. However, he showed a brave front to his troops and he dealt with them in an aggressive manner. But his disbelieving soul and his sinful nature caused him to say to those who scorned and despised them and obeyed him and followed him in his falsehood, “See how the sea has rolled up so that I may overtake my slaves who have run away from my authority, abandoned obedience to me and left my land!” And he told himself that he should go after them and he hoped that he would be safe, but how far he was from that!

Allah, Most High, says, And We saved Moosa and all those with him. Then We drowned the others. Verily! In this is indeed a sign (or a proof), yet most of them are not believers. And verily, your Lord! He is truly the Almighty, the Most Merciful. (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:65-68) That is, in His saving of His Awliya’ – for not a single one of them was drowned – and His drowning of His enemies – for not a single one of them was saved. And this was a great sign and an indisputable proof of His Mighty, the Omnipotence and of the truthfulness of His Messenger with regard to the noble law and the righteous system of jurisprudence that he brought from his Lord. And He, Most High, says, And We took the Children of Isra’eel across the sea, and Fir‘awn with his hosts followed them in oppression and enmity, till when drowning overtook him, he said, “I believe that La ilaha illa (Allah): (none has the right to be worshipped but [Allah]), in Whom the Children of Isra’eel believe, and I am one of the Muslims (those who submit to Allah’s Will).” Now (you believe) while you refused to believe before and you were one of the mufsidoon. So this day We shall deliver your (dead) body (out from the sea) that you may be a sign to those who come after you! And verily, many among mankind are heedless of Our Ayat. (Soorah Yoonus 10:90-92)

Allah, Most High, informs us how Fir'awn, the leader of the disbelieving Copts, was drowned and how the waves plunged him down and then raised him up, while the Children of Isra'eel looked at him and at his troops and the great punishment which Allah had inflicted on them, in order to gladden the eyes of the Children of Isra'eel and heal their hearts. When Fir'awn saw the destruction and the agony of death approached him, he regretted and repented (of his disbelief) and at that moment, he believed, when his belief no longer availed him, as Allah, Most High, says, Truly! Those against whom the Word (Wrath) of your Lord has been justified will not believe. Even if every sign should come to them – until they see the painful punishment. (Soorah Yoonus 10:96,97) And He, Most High, says, So when they saw Our punishment, they said, “We believe in Allah, Alone, and reject (all) that we used to associate with Him as (His) partners. Then their Faith (in Islamic Monotheism) could not avail them when they saw Our Punishment. (Like) this has been the way of Allah in dealing with His slaves. And there the disbelievers lost utterly (when Our Punishment covered them). (Soorah Ghafir 40:84,85) And thus did Moosa (Peace be upon him) supplicate against Fir'awn and his chiefs, that Allah destroy their wealth and harden their hearts, “...so that they will not believe until they see the painful punishment.” (Soorah Yoonus 10:88) That is, when it would no longer avail them and it would be a cause of regret for them. And Allah, Most High, had said to them both, i.e. Moosa (Peace be upon him) and Haroon (Peace be upon him) when they made this supplication, “Verily, the invocation of you both is accepted.” (Soorah Yoonus 10:89). So this proves that Allah, Most High, accepted and answered the supplication of His Kaleem, Moosa (Peace be upon him) and his brother, Haroon (Peace be upon him).

It is also clear from the Hadith narrated by Imam Ahmad, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), who said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “(Regarding) when Fir‘awn said, “I believe that La ilaha illa (Allah): (none has the right to be worshipped but [Allah]), in Whom the Children of Isra’eel believe, and I am one of the Muslims (those who submit to Allah’s Will).”} (Soorah Yoonus 10:90), Jibraeel said to me, “If you had seen me... when I thrust the mire of the sea into his mouth in order to prevent the Mercy (of Allah) reaching him.”

And He, Most High, says, “Now (you believe) while you refused to believe before and you were one of the mufsidoon?” (Soorah Yoonus 10:91). This is a rhetorical question, implying censure and rebuke and it proves that Allah, Most High, did not accept his repentance, because – and Allah knows better – if he were returned to the life of this world, he would have returned to what he was doing before, as Allah, Most High, says, regarding the disbelievers, when they see the Fire, that they will say, “Would that we were but sent back (to the world)! Then we would not deny the Ayat of our Lord, and we would be of the believers!” (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:27)

And He, Most High, says, “So this day We shall deliver your (dead) body (out from the sea) that you may be a sign to those who come after you!” (Soorah Yoonus 10:92). ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and more than one scholars said that some of the Children of Isra’eel doubted that Fir‘awn was dead, indeed some of them even went so far as to say, “Fir‘awn does not (i.e. cannot) die.” So Allah commanded the sea to raise him up high, or it was said, onto the surface of the water, or it was also said, onto an elevated piece of land – and he was wearing his armor, which they recognized and by which they were able to confirm that he was dead and to realize Allah’s Omnipotence over him. This is why He says, “So this day We shall deliver your (dead) body (out from the sea)...” (Soorah Yoonus 10:92) means with your armor on your body by which you will be recognized “...that you may be a sign.” (Soorah Yoonus 10:92) That is, you are a sign “...to those who come after you!” (Soorah Yoonus 10:92). That is, from the Children of Isra'eel, as evidence of Allah's Ability to destroy him. For this reason, some of the Salaf recited "...that you may be a sign to those who come after you!" (Soorah Yoonus 10:92), meaning: We shall deliver you along with your armor, in order that your armor may be a sign to those who come after you from the Children of Isra'eel, by which they may recognize you and know that you are dead. And Allah knows better. The destruction of Fir'awn and his army took place on the Day of 'Ashurah, according to what Imam Al-Bukhari has narrated in his Saheeh, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), who said, "When the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) arrived in Madinah, the Jews were fasting on the Day of 'Ashurah and they said, "This is the day on which Moosa defeated Fir'awn." The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said (to the Muslims), "You have more right to celebrate Moosa's victory than they have. So observe the fast on this day." The essence of this Hadith is recorded in the Saheehain and in other compilations. And Allah (SWT) knows better.

Chapter Regarding the Events Surrounding the Children of Isra'eel After the Destruction of Fir'awn

Allah, Most High, says, So We took retribution from them. We drowned them in the sea, because they belied Our Ayat and were heedless about them. And We made the people who were considered weak to inherit the eastern parts of the land and the western parts thereof which We have blessed. And the fair Word of your Lord was fulfilled for the Children of Isra'eel, because of their endurance. And We destroyed completely all the great works and buildings which Fir'awn and his people had erected. And We brought the Children of Isra'eel (with safety) across the sea, and they came upon a people devoted to some of their idols (in worship). They said, "O, Moosa! Make for us an ilah (a god) as they have alihah (gods)." He said, "Verily, you are a people who know not (the Majesty and Greatness of Allah and what is obligatory upon you, i.e. to worship none but Allah Alone, the One and the Only God of all that exists).” (Moosa added,) “Verily, these people will be destroyed for that in which they are engaged (idol worship). And all that they are doing is in vain.” He said, “Shall I seek for you an ilah (a god) other than Allah, while He has given you superiority over Al-‘Alameen?” And (remember) when We rescued you from Fir‘awn’s people, who were subjecting you to the worst kind of torment, killing your sons and letting your daughters live? And in that was a great trial from your Lord. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:136-141). Allah, Most High, mentions what happened to Fir‘awn and his army, how they were drowned and how He took away their power, their wealth and their lives and caused the Children of Isra‘eel to inherit all of their wealth and property, as He, Most High, says, Thus (We turned them [Fir‘awn’s people] out) and We caused the Children of Isra‘eel to inherit them. (Soorah Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:59). And He, Most High says, And We wished to do a favor to those who were weak (and oppressed) in the land, and to make them rulers and to make them the inheritors. (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:5). And (in Soorah Al-A‘raf) He, Most High, says, And We made the people who were considered weak to inherit the eastern parts of the land and the western parts thereof which We have blessed. And the fair Word of your Lord was fulfilled for the Children of Isra‘eel, because of their endurance. And We destroyed completely all the great works and buildings which Fir‘awn and his people had erected. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:137). He demolished all of that and took from them their great and vast power in the world and destroyed the king, his followers, his governors and his troops and none remained in Egypt except the common folk. Ibn ‘Abdul-Hakam reported in his Tareekh Misr (History of Egypt) that from that time onward, the women of Egypt enjoyed dominance over men, due to the fact that the wives of the governors and the aristocracy married men of lesser social status from among the general populace and so they had power over them; and this has continued to be the custom of women in Egypt to this day.

And they (the scholars) mentioned that when they (the Children of Isra'eel) crossed the sea and headed toward Ash-Sham (Syria), they remained for three days without finding any water. Some of them began to talk due to this and they found some salty water which they were unable to drink, but Allah commanded Moosa (Peace be upon him) to place a piece of wood in it and he did so; and it became sweet and drinkable. And there the Lord taught him the religious obligations and supererogatory practices and taught him a number of Commandments. He, Most High, says in His Noble Book, And We brought the Children of Isra'eel (with safety) across the sea, and they came upon a people devoted to some of their idols (in worship). They said, "O, Moosa! Make for us an ilah (a god) as they have alihah (gods)." He said, "Verily, you are a people who know not (the Majesty and Greatness of Allah and what is obligatory upon you, i.e. to worship none but Allah Alone, the One and the Only God of all that exists)." (Moosa added,) "Verily, these people will be destroyed for that which they are engaged in (idol worship). And all that they are doing is in vain." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:138,139)

They spoke these words of ignorance and misguidance after they had already witnessed Allah's Ayat and His Ability to do all things, which demonstrated to them the truth of what Allah's Messenger (Peace be upon him) brought to them from the Owner of Majesty and Honor. This occurred when they passed by a people who were worshipping idols – it was said that they were in the form of cows – and it appears as if they asked them why they were worshipping them and they replied that they had the ability to benefit them and harm them, and they said that they sought sustenance through them in times of need. It appears as if some of the ignorant ones among them believed these claims of theirs and so they asked their Prophet, Al-Kaleem, the noble, the great, to make for them deities, like the deities of these people. And he said to them, in order to make clear to them that they had no sense and were not rightly guided, "Verily, these people will be destroyed for that which they are engaged in (idol worship). And all that they are doing is in vain.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:139). Then he reminded them of the blessings that Allah had bestowed on them and of how He had favored them over all of the peoples of their time with knowledge, the Law, the Messenger in their midst, His Kindness toward them and the Graces that He bestowed on them, such as their deliverance from the grasp of Fir‘awn, the obstinate tyrant and his subsequent destruction, which they witnessed. He also reminded them of how He had made them to inherit the wealth and prosperity that Fir‘awn and his chiefs had gathered and the buildings that they had erected. And he made clear to them that no worship Allah is of benefit except that of Allah, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him, because He is the Creator, the Sustainer and the Subduer. Not all of the Children of Isra‘eel asked this question; rather, the name “Children of Isra‘eel” is used in Allah’s Words: And We brought the Children of Isra‘eel (with safety) across the sea, and they came upon a people devoted to some of their idols (in worship). They said, “O, Moosa! Make for us an ilah (a god) as they have alihah (gods).” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:138) to refer to those who asked the question, without indicating that all of them are included, i.e. some of them said it, as in His Saying: And we shall gather them all together so as to leave not one of them behind. And they will be set before your Lord in (lines as) rows, (and Allah will say), “Now indeed, you have come to Us as We created you the first time. Nay, but you thought that We had appointed no meeting for you (with Us).” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:47,48)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Waqid Al-Laithi (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “We set out with the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) for Hunain and we passed by a lote tree and we said, “O, Messenger of Allah! Make for us a Dhat Anwat, like that of the disbelievers.” The pagans had a lote tree on which they used to hang their weapons and they used to stay around it. On hearing this, the Prophet of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Allahu Akbar! This is similar to what the Children of Isra‘eel said to Moosa (Peace be upon him): “Make for us an ilah (a god) as they have alihah (gods).” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:138)! Verily, you are following the ways of those who went before you!”

What is meant is that when Moosa (Peace be upon him) departed from Egypt and headed for Bait AlMaqdis (the Holy Land), he found there arrogant people from among the Hittites, the Cananites, the Perizzites and others and Moosa (Peace be upon him) commanded the Children of Isra’eel to make war on them and drive them out of Jerusalem, because Allah had ordained that for them and promised it for them through Revelation given to Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him) and Moosa, Al-Kaleem (Peace be upon him). But they refused and recoiled from jihad and so Allah caused fear to overpower them and cast them into the desert, where they wandered here and there, back and forth for forty long years, as He, Most High, says, And (remember) when Moosa said to his people, “O, my people! Remember the Favor of Allah to you, when He made Prophets among you, made you kings, and gave you what He had not given to any other among the Al-‘Alameen. O, my people! Enter the Holy Land (Palestine) which Allah has assigned to you, and turn not back for then you will be returned as losers.” They said, “O, Moosa! In it (this Holy Land) are a people of great strength, and we shall never enter it, till they leave it; when they leave, then we will enter.” Two men of those who feared and on whom Allah had bestowed His Grace (they were Yeshua [Joshua] and Kalab [Caleb]) said, “Assault them through the gate, for when you are in, victory will be yours, and put your trust in Allah if you are indeed Believers.” They said, “O Moosa! We shall never enter it as long as they are there. So go you and your Lord and fight you two, we are sitting right here.” He (Moosa) said, “O, my Lord! I have power only over myself and my brother, so separate us from the people who are the fasiqoon (rebellious and disobedient to Allah)!” (Allah) said, “Therefore it (this Holy Land) is forbidden to them for forty years; in distraction they will wander through the land. So be not sorrowful over the people who are the fasiqoon.” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:20-26)

The Prophet of Allah (Peace be upon him) reminded them of the Blessings that Allah had bestowed on them and the Kindness He had shown them by granting them worldly and religious favors and he ordered them to make jihad in Allah's Cause and to fight His enemies; he said, "O, my people! Enter the holy land (Palestine) which Allah has assigned to you, and turn not back", (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:21) means do not turn on your heels and refuse to fight your enemies "for then you will be returned as losers." (Soorah AlMa'idah 5:21). It means that you will lose after your previous gains and you will be diminished after having been complete. They said, "O, Moosa! In it (this Holy Land) are a people of great strength." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:22) That is, they are fierce and arrogant disbelievers. "and we shall never enter it, till they leave it; when they leave, then we will enter." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:22). They feared these strong, aggressive people, even though they had witnessed the destruction of Fir'awn, who was more tyrannical than they, sterner in punishment, commanding more people and with a stronger force at his disposal. This proves that they were rebuked due to saying these words and censured because of them. This was due to their cowardice in the face of the enemy's aggression and their refusal to fight them.

Regarding the Saying of Allah, Most High: Two men of those who feared said (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:23) means, feared Allah, though some recited it as "who were feared". On whom Allah had bestowed His Grace (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:23) means with Islam, faith, obedience and courage. ...said, "Assault them through the gate, for when you are in, victory will be yours, and put your trust in Allah if you are indeed Believers." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:24). That is, if you have put your trust in Allah, sought help from Him and protection from Him, He will help you against your enemy, help you against them and make you victorious over them. They said, "O Moosa! We shall never enter it as long as they are there. So go you and your Lord and fight you two, we are sitting right here." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:24). Their elders were determined to refrain from engaging in jihad in Allah's Cause and a serious situation developed. It was said that when Yoosha‘ and Kalab heard these words, they tore their garments and Moosa (Peace be upon him) and Haroon (Peace be upon him) sat down in shock at these words and they became angry for Allah’s sake and they also felt compassion for them, because of the awful consequences for them of their words: He (Moosa) said, “O, my Lord! I have power only over myself and my brother, so separate us from the people who are the fasiqoon!” (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:25). ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “Judge between me and them.” (Allah) said, “Therefore it (this Holy Land) is forbidden to them for forty years; in distraction they will wander through the land. So be not sorrowful over the people who are the fasiqoon (rebellious and disobedient to Allah).” (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:26) They were punished for their refusal to do jihad by being made to wander aimlessly night and day, morning and evening in the desert.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Al-Miqdad that he said to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) on the day of the Battle of Badr, “O, Messenger of Allah! We will not say to you, as the Children of Isra’eel said to Moosa (Peace be upon him), “So go you and your Lord and fight you two, we are sitting right here.” (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:24).’ But (we will say), “Go you and your Lord and fight; we are with you fighting.” This chain of narrators is good from this source and it is narrated from other sources. ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood said that Al-Miqdad went to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and found him invoking Allah against the pagans and he said, “By Allah, O, Messenger of Allah, we will not say to you as the Children of Isra’eel said to Moosa, “So go you and your Lord and fight you two, we are sitting right here.” (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:24). Rather, we will fight on your right, on your left, in front of you and behind you,” and I saw the Messenger of Allah’s face beaming when he heard this and he was extremely happy.”

Chapter Concerning the Children of Isra'eel's Wandering in the Wilderness

We have already discussed the Children of Isra'eel's refusal to fight against the giants and how Allah, Most High, punished them by causing them to wander in the wilderness and He ordained that they would not leave it for forty years.

According to the scholars of tafseer, the Children of Isra'eel camped around Mount Sinai and Moosa (Peace be upon him) ascended the mountain and his Lord spoke to him and commanded him to remind the Children of Isra'eel of the Blessings that Allah had bestowed on them, such as how He had delivered them from Pharaoh and his people ... and He told him that on the third day, they must assemble around the mountain, but that none of them should approach it, for anyone who did so would be killed. He even forbade that any of their livestock should come near so long as they could hear the sound of the horn, but that once the horn was silent, it was lawful for them to approach it. The Children of Isra'eel heard these Words of Allah, but they did not understand until Moosa (Peace be upon him) made them understand. Then they said to Moosa (Peace be upon him), "Convey to us what the Lord, the Almighty, the AllPowerful has told you, for we fear to die." So Moosa (Peace be upon him) conveyed to them what Allah had told him and he spoke these Ten Commandments:

1. That they should worship Allah, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him.
2. That they should not swear falsely by Allah (SWT).
3. That they should preserve the sanctity of the Sabbath, meaning that they should devote themselves on one day in the week to the worship of Allah – and this occurs (now) on Friday, the day which Allah selected to replace the abrogated day, Saturday.

4. That they should honor their fathers and their mothers, in order that they might enjoy a long life in this world which Allah, their Lord, had given them.
5. That they should not commit murder.
6. That they should not commit adultery or unlawful sexual intercourse.
7. That they should not steal.
8. That they should not bear false witness against their neighbors.
9. That they should not covet their neighbors' houses.
10. That they should not covet their neighbors' wives, or male or female slaves, or oxen, or donkeys, or anything that belonged to their neighbors.

All of this is a prohibition of envy. Many of the scholars from among the Salaf and others said that these Ten Commandments are all implied in two Qur'anic Verses; and they are the Words of Allah, Most High, in Soorah Al-An'am: Say (O, Muhammad). "Come, I will recite what your Lord has prohibited to you: Join not anything in worship with Him; be good and dutiful to your parents; kill not your children because of poverty – We provide sustenance for you and for them; come not near to fawahish (shameful sins, illegal sexual intercourse, etc.) whether committed openly or secretly, and kill not anyone whom Allah has forbidden, except for a just cause (according to Islamic law). This He has commanded you that you may understand. And come not near to the orphan's property, except to improve it, until he (or she) attains the age of full strength; and give full measure and full weight with justice. We burden not any person, but that which he can bear. And whenever you give your word (i.e. judge between men or give evidence, etc.), say the truth even if a near relative is concerned, and fulfill the Covenant of Allah, This He commands you, that you may remember. And verily, this (i.e. Allah's Commandments mentioned in the above two Verses 151 and 152) is my Straight Path, so follow it, and follow not (other) paths, for they will separate you away from His Path. This He has ordained for you that you may become muttaqoon." (Soorah Al-An'am 6:151-153)

In addition to these Ten Commandments, they mentioned many other counsels and rulings which have come and gone and which were acted upon for a time, until they were disobeyed by those who were charged with the duty of fulfilling them. Then they set about changing them, distorting them and misinterpreting them. Then after all this, they abandoned them and they became abrogated and replaced with others, after having been prescribed and executed. And the whole affair – both past and present – is in Allah's Hands; and He commands what He wills and does as He wants. Surely, His is the Creation and Commandment. Blessed be Allah, the Lord of Al-'Alameen!

And He, Most High, says, O, Children of Isra'eel! We delivered you from your enemy, and We made a covenant with you on the right side of the Mount, and We sent down to you al-manna and quails, (saying) eat of the Tayyibat (good and lawful things) wherewith We have provided you, and commit no oppression therein, lest My Anger should justly descend on you. And he on whom My Anger descends, is indeed destroyed. And verily, I am indeed Forgiving to him who repents, believes (in My Oneness, and associates none in worship with Me) and does righteous good deeds, and then remains constant in doing them, (till his death). (Soorah Ta Ha 20:80-82)

Allah, Most High, reminds the Children of Isra'eel the Grace and Kindness that He has shown to them, by saving them from their enemies and delivering them from hardship and oppression. And He reminds them that He promised them the company of their Prophet – His Kaleem – to the right side of the mountain, i.e. to the right of them, in order that He might send down the great Commandments to him – and in these Commandments was great benefit for them – both in the life of this world and in the Hereafter. He also calls upon them to bring to mind how He sent down manna to them from the heaven when they were traveling throughout the Earth, in places where there were no crops and no livestock. They would awake each morning and find it around their tents and they would take from it for that day, sufficient for their needs until the same time the next day. And if anyone stored up more than that, he would find that it had gone bad, but if anyone took a little from it, he would find that it was enough for him. They used to make from it something resembling bread, which was just white and very sweet. Then in the afternoon, quails would descend on them and they would avail themselves of them without difficulty, as much as they needed, according to what was sufficient for their dinner.

And during the summer months, Allah would shade them with clouds, which protected them from the heat and dazzling brightness of the sun, as He, Most High, says in Soorah Al-Baqarah, O, Children of Isra'eel! Remember My Favor which I bestowed upon you, and fulfill (your obligations to) My Covenant (with you) so that I fulfill (My Obligations to) your covenant (with Me), and fear none but Me. And believe in what I have sent down (this Qur'an), confirming that which is with you, (the Tawrah and the Injeel), and be not the first to disbelieve therein, and buy (get) not with My Verses (the Tawrah and the Injeel) a small price (i.e. getting a small gain by selling My Verses), and fear Me and Me Alone. (Tafseer At-Tabari, Vol. I, page 253). (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2: 40,41) up to His words: And (remember) when We delivered you from Fir'awn's people, who were subjecting you to horrible torment, killing your sons and sparing your daughters, and therein was a mighty trial from your Lord. And (remember) when We separated the sea for you and saved you and drowned Fir'awn's people while you were looking (at them, when the seawater covered them). And (remember) when We appointed for Moosa forty nights, and (in his absence) you took the calf (for worship), and you were zalimoon. Then after that We forgave you so that you might be grateful. And (remember) when We gave Moosa the Scripture (the Tawrah) and the criterion (of right and wrong) so that you may be guided aright. And (remember) when Moosa said to his people, “O, my people! Verily, you have wronged yourselves by worshipping the calf. So turn in repentance to your Creator and kill yourselves (the innocent kill the wrongdoers among you), that will be better for you with your Lord.” Then He accepted your repentance. Truly, He is the One Who accepts repentance, the Most Merciful. And (remember) when you said, “O, Moosa! We shall never believe in you till we see Allah plainly.” But you were seized with a thunderbolt (lightning) while you were looking. Then We raised you up after your death, so that you might be grateful. And We shaded you with clouds and sent down on you al-manna and the quails, (saying), “Eat of the good lawful things We have provided for you,” (but they rebelled). And they did not wrong Us but they wronged themselves. (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:49-57) – up to His Words: And (remember) when Moosa asked for water for his people, We said, “Strike the stone with your stick.” Then twelve springs gushed forth therefrom. Each (group of) people knew its own place for water. “Eat and drink of that which Allah has provided and do not act corruptly, making mischief on the Earth.” And (remember) when you said, “O Moosa! We cannot endure one kind of food. So invoke your Lord for us to bring forth for us of what the earth grows, its herbs, its cucumbers, its foom, its lentils and its onions.” He said, “Would you exchange that which is better for that which is lower? Go you down to any town and you shall find what you want!” And they were covered with humiliation and misery, and they drew on themselves the Wrath of Allah. That was because they used to disbelieve the Ayat of Allah and killed the Prophets wrongfully. That was because they disobeyed and used to transgress the bounds (in their disobedience to Allah, i.e. commit crimes and sins) (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:60,61)

So Allah, Most High, reminded them of the Blessings that He had bestowed on them and the Kindness He had shown to them, which made their lives easier, such as the manna and the quails – two pleasant foods, which they obtained without difficulty or effort on their part; indeed, Allah used to send down the manna in the early morning and the quails in the afternoon and He caused the water to gush forth in springs for them. Moosa (Peace be upon him) struck a rock which they had been carrying with them with his stick, upon which twelve springs gushed forth, one surging spring for each tribe. Then the flow became cold and they drew water, drank and watered their riding beasts, after which they kept what sufficed to supply their needs. In addition, He shaded them with the clouds from the heat (of the sun).

These were a plenty of blessings and valuable gifts from Allah, but they did not give them the attention or respect that they deserved, nor did they give thanks or observe worship for them. Then many of them became dissatisfied and bored with them and so they asked to be given something else in their place, from the produce of the land, such as herbs, cucumbers, foom, lentils and onions.

Al-Kaleem rebuked them, scolded them and reprehended them for these words and berated them, saying, “Would you exchange that which is better for that which is lower? Go you down to any town and you shall find what you want!” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:61) It means that which you request and desire, in place of these blessings which you are enjoying may be found with the inhabitants of large and small towns; so if you go to them, i.e. and you give up this privilege – which you do not deserve – you will find there (in the towns) all those inferior foods that you mentioned, which you desire and yearn for. But I will not accede to your request, nor will I convey to you the fate which you bring upon yourselves.

And all of these characteristics which they displayed prove that they did not desist from what they were forbidden to do, as He, Most High, says, ...and commit no oppression therein, lest My Anger should justly descend on you. And he on whom My Anger descends, he is indeed perished. (Soorah Ta Ha 20:81) That is, he is surely destroyed and he is most deserving of that; and Allah is the Destroyer, the Annihilator, Whose Anger rightly befalls such a person.

The Request to See Allah

Allah, Most High, says, And We appointed for Moosa thirty nights and added (to the period) ten (more), and he completed the term, appointed by his Lord, of forty nights. And Moosa said to his brother Haroon, “Replace me among my people, act in the Right Way (by ordering the people to obey Allah and to worship Him Alone) and follow not the way of the mufsidoon (mischief-makers).” And when Moosa came to the meeting appointed by Us, and his Lord spoke to him, he said, “O, my Lord! Show me (Yourself), that I may look upon You.” Allah said, “You cannot see Me, but look upon the mountain, if it stands still in its place, then you shall see Me.” So when his Lord appeared to the mountain, He made it collapse to dust, and Moosa fell down unconscious. Then, when he recovered his senses he said, “Glory be to You, I turn to You in repentance and I am the first of the Believers.” He (Allah) said, “O, Moosa I have chosen you above men by My Messages, and by My speaking (to you). So hold that which I have given you and be of the grateful.” And We wrote for him on the Tablets the lesson to be drawn from all things and the explanation of all things (and said), “Hold unto these with firmness, and enjoin your people to take the better therein. I shall show you the home of fasiqoon. I shall turn away from My Ayat those who behave arrogantly on the Earth, without a right, and (even) if they see all the Ayat, they will not believe in them. And if they see the way of righteousness (Monotheism, piety, and good deeds), they will not adopt it as the way, but if they see the way of error (polytheism, crimes and evil deeds), they will adopt that way, that is because they have rejected Our Ayat and were heedless (to learn a lesson) from them. Those who deny Our Ayat and the Meeting in the Hereafter (Day of Resurrection,), vain are their deeds. Do they expect to be rewarded with anything except what they used to do?” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:142-147)

A number of the Salaf, including ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Masrooq and Mujahid said that the thirty nights referred to were the whole month of Dhul-Qa‘dah and he completed forty days by remaining for ten days of Dhul-Hijjah; based on this reckoning, Allah’s Words would have been spoken to him on the day of ‘Eid An-Nahr. And on the same day, Allah, the Almighty, the AllPowerful, completed for Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) His Religion and confirmed His Evidence and His Proof. What is meant is that when Moosa (Peace be upon him) had completed the appointed time period, during which he fasted – it was said that he did not taste food and when the month was over, he took some tree bark and chewed it in order to improve the smell of his breath. Then Allah commanded him to remain for a further ten nights, making a total of forty nights; this is why it was authentically reported in the Hadith: “The smell of the fasting person’s breath is sweeter to Allah than the odour of musk.”

Before leaving, Moosa (Peace be upon him) had appointed his beloved, respected and honored brother, Haroon (Peace be upon him), to be leader of the Children of Isra’eel in his absence; Haroon (Peace be upon him) was his full brother and his minister in supplicating to Allah, and so he advised him and commanded him – and his status as a Prophet does not make this incompatible or incongruous – Allah, Most High, says, And when Moosa came to the meeting appointed by Us (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:143) means at the time he was commanded to attend and his Lord spoke to him. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:143). That is, Allah spoke to him from behind a screen, which allowed him to hear what was said to him, and He called him, confided in him and brought him near. This was indeed, a high rank, a strong position, a noble office and an exalted station – may abundant blessings and peace be upon him in the life of this world and in the Hereafter. When he was given this elevated status and sublime rank and he heard the (Divine) Speech, he asked Allah to raise the screen, saying to the Almighty, Whom no eyes may behold and Whose Evidence is Strong, "O, my Lord! Show me (Yourself), that I may look upon You." Allah said, "You can not see Me" (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:143). Then Allah, Most High, explained to him that he could not withstand Allah's revealing Himself, because the mountain, which was stronger, of greater size and firmer than a human being, could not withstand His revealing Himself to it, which is why He says, "...but look upon the mountain, if it stands still in its place, then you shall see Me." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:143)

'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: No vision can grasp Him (Soorah Al-An'am 6:103), "This refers to His Light; it is His Light which, if it is revealed to anything, it cannot withstand it." This is why He, Most High, said to Moosa (Peace be upon him), So when his Lord appeared to the mountain, He made it collapse to dust, and Moosa fell down unconscious. Then, when he recovered his senses he said, "Glory be to You, I turn to You in repentance and I am the first of the Believers." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:143)

Mujahid said, regarding the Words of Him, Most High: "...but look upon the mountain, if it stands still in its place, then you shall see Me." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:143), "(It means:) Because it (the mountain) is larger than you and stronger; but when his Lord revealed Himself to the mountain, and he saw that the mountain could not withstand it and collapsed into dust, he fell to the ground unconscious."

We have mentioned in the Tafseer the narration of Imams Ahmad and At-Tirmidhi – which was declared authentic by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari and Al-Hakim – on the authority of Anas (May Allah be pleased with him), who reported that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) recited So when his Lord appeared to the mountain, He made it collapse to dust. He indicated by placing his thumb on the top joint of his little finger (how much of Himself Allah had revealed to the mountain) and this caused the mountain to sink to the ground.”

As-Suddi narrated on the authority of ‘Ikrimah, who reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said that what Allah revealed of Himself it was no more than the extent of a little finger and it caused the mountain to turn to dust. . . .and Moosa fell down unconscious. That is, it caused him to swoon. Qatadah said, “(He fell down) dead.” But the first interpretation is the correct one, because He says, Then, when he recovered his senses... (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:143) – and one can only recover or awake from a faint (not from death) – he (Moosa (Peace be upon him)) said, “Glory be to You...” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:143). This is an acknowledgement that Allah is Above such a thing (as being seen by His creation) and glorification and exaltation of Him. “I turn to You in repentance...” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:143). That is, I shall not ask to see You again after this. “...and I am the first of the Believers” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:143) means, the first to believe that You cannot be seen by any living thing without it being killed and (You cannot be revealed to) any dry (inanimate) thing without it tumbling to the ground.

And it has been authentically reported in the Saheehain on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, ‘Do not ascribe to me superiority over the other Prophets, for on the Day of Resurrection the people will become unconscious and I will (feel that) I am the first to regain consciousness. Then I will see Moosa holding one of the legs of the Throne. I will not know whether he has come to his senses before me or that the shock he had received at the Mountain, (during his worldly life) was sufficient for him’.”

And He, Most High, says, He (Allah) said, “O, Moosa I have chosen you above men by My Messages, and by My speaking (to you).” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:144). That is, in that time, not the times before him, because Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him) was superior to him, as we made clear earlier, in the story of Ibraheem (Peace be upon him). Nor does it include the time after him, because Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) is superior to both of them, as evinced by the story of Al-Isra, where his superiority over all of the Messengers and Prophets was made clear. And it was also confirmed that he said, “The entire creation will turn to me, including even Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) (for intercession).”

And He, Most High, says, “So hold that which I have given you and be of the grateful” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:144) means, so take what I have given you of the Message and (My) Speech and do not ask for more than that, and be grateful for it.

And He, Most High, says, And We wrote for him on the Tablets the lesson to be drawn from all things and the explanation of all things. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:145). The Tablets were of precious stone; and it has been reported in the Saheeh that Allah wrote for him the Tawrah with His Hand and in it there are admonitions against sin and details of all that they needed to know regarding what is lawful and what is unlawful, punishments and rulings. “Hold unto these with firmness.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:145). That is, with a firm resolve and a sincere intention. “...and enjoin your people to take the better therein.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:145) means, to take them and act upon them in the best manner. “I shall show you the home of fasiqoon.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:145). That is, you (Children of Isra’eel) will see the consequences for those who turn away from obedience to Allah, disobey His Commands and belie His Messengers. I shall turn away from My Ayat (Verses of the Qur’an) (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:146) It means that, I shall deprive the hearts of those who are too proud to obey Me, and arrogant with people without right, from understanding the Signs and proofs that testify to My Might, Law and Commandments. Those who behave arrogantly on Earth, without a right, and (even) if they see all the Ayat, they will not believe in them. (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:146) That is, no matter what miracles and supernatural phenomena they witnessed, they would not agree to be guided by them. And if they see the way of righteousness (monotheism, piety, and good deeds), they will not adopt it as the Way. (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:146) That is, they will not travel it or follow it. ...but if they see the way of error (polytheism, crimes and evil deeds), they will adopt that way, that is because they have rejected Our Ayat and were heedless (to learn a lesson) from them (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:146) means We have turned them away from following the Straight Path because of their rejection of Our Ayat, their disregard of them, their refusal to believe in them, reflect on their meaning and act upon them. Those who deny Our Ayat and the Meeting in the Hereafter (Day of Resurrection,), vain are their deeds. Do they expect to be rewarded with anything except what they used to do? (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:147)

The Story of Their Worship of the Calf During the Absence of Allah's Kaleem From Them

Allah, Most High, says, And the people of Moosa made in his absence, out of their ornaments, the image of a calf (for worship). It had a sound (as if it was mooing). Did they not see that it could neither speak to them nor guide them to the way? They took it for worship and they were zalimoon (wrongdoers). And when they regretted and saw that they had gone astray, they (repented and) said, "If our Lord has not Mercy upon us and forgives us not, we shall certainly be of the losers." And when Moosa returned to his people, angry and grieved, he said, "What an evil thing is that which you have done (i.e. worshipping the calf) during my absence. Did you hasten and go ahead as regards the matter of your Lord (you left His worship)?" And he threw down the Tablets and seized his brother by (the hair of) his head and dragged him toward him. Haroon said, "O, son of my mother! Indeed the people judged me weak and were about to kill me, so make not the enemies rejoice over me, nor put me amongst the people who are zalimoon." Moosa said, "O, my Lord! Forgive me and my brother, and make us enter into Your Mercy, for you are the Most Merciful of those who show mercy." Certainly, those who took the calf (for worship), wrath from their Lord and humiliation will come upon them in the life of this world. Thus do We recompense those who invent lies. But those who committed evil deeds and then repented afterward and believed, verily, your Lord after (all) that is indeed Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. And when the anger of Moosa was subsided, he took up the Tablets, and in their inscription was guidance and mercy for those who fear their Lord. (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:148-154)

Allah, Most High, informs us about the affair of the Children of Isra'eel and how, when Moosa (Peace be upon him) departed from them for the appointment with his Lord and remained on the mountain, where his Lord confided in him and he asked Him about many things and He answered him, a man from among the Children of Isra'eel, whose name was Haroon (Aaron) As-Samiri, took some jewelry that that he had borrowed and fashioned a calf from it; in it he cast some dust which he had taken from the trace of Jibraeel's steed, when he saw him on the day when Allah drowned Pharaoh at Jibraeel's hand. When he cast it, the calf lowed as a real calf lows. It was said that it was transformed into a living, flesh-and-blood calf and that it lowed. This was said by Qatadah and others. It was also said that it was only the wind, when it entered it from the rear and exited from its mouth, making the lowing sound, in the manner in which a cow lows. Upon this, they began to dance around it and celebrate. They said, "This is your ilah (god), and the ilah (god) of Moosa, but (Moosa) has forgotten." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:88). It means that Moosa (Peace be upon him) has forgotten his "Lord", which is with us and he has gone off to seek him, when he is here. Exalted is He above what they say, hallowed be His Names and His Attributes and multiplied be His Blessings and His Promised Rewards. Allah, Most High, says, making clear the falseness of their claims, Did they not see that it could not return them a word (for answer), and that it had no power either to harm them or to do them good? (Soorah Ta Ha 20:89). And He says, Did they not see that it could neither speak to them nor guide them to the way? They took it for worship and they were zalimoon. (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:148). So He said that the animal could not speak and could not reply to them, nor did it possess the power to inflict harm on them or benefit them, nor could it guide them to right conduct. They took it as a deity to be worshipped and thus they wronged themselves, knowing within themselves that what they were doing was falsehood, ignorance and plain error. And when they regretted (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:149) means, when they repented of what they had done ...and saw that they had gone astray, they (repented and) said, "If our Lord has not Mercy upon us and forgives us not, we shall certainly be of the losers." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:149). Then, when Moosa (Peace be upon him) returned to them, and saw that they were worshipping the calf, and he had with him the Tablets containing the Towrah, he threw them down and it was said that he broke them.

Then he advanced upon them and reprimanded them, rebuked them and disparaged them for their wicked deed and they offered an invalid excuse for their action, saying, "...we were made to carry the weight of the ornaments of the (Fir'awn's) people, then we cast them (into the fire), and that was what As-Samiri suggested." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:87). They said that they found it difficult to carry the people of Pharaoh's jewelry – and they were the soldiers; Allah had commanded them to take it and made it lawful for them. They did not seek to excuse themselves for having worshipped the calf, which had a body and which lowed, besides Allah, the One, As-Samad, the Subduer, because of their ignorance, lack of knowledge and intelligence. Then Moosa (Peace be upon him) went to his brother, Haroon (Peace be upon him), and said to him, "O, Haroon! What stopped you when you saw them going astray, that you followed me not (according to my advice to you)?" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:92,93). That is, why, when you saw what they were doing, did you not obey me and inform me of what they were doing? "Verily, I feared lest you should say, "You have caused a division among the Children of Isra'eel," (Soorah Ta Ha 20:94). means you have left them and come to me, when you had been appointed to take my place as their leader in my absence. He (Moosa) said, "O, my Lord! Forgive me and my brother, and make us enter into Your Mercy, for you are the Most Merciful of those who show mercy." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:151). Haroon (Peace be upon him) had indeed forbidden them to do this wicked deed in the sternest of terms and strongly rebuked them for it. Allah, Most High, says, And Haroon indeed had said to them beforehand, "O, my people! You are being tried in this..." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:90). That is, Allah has ordained this calf for you and made it low as a trial and a test for you. "...and verily, your Lord is (Allah) the Most Beneficent" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:90) means not this calf; "...so follow me." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:90). That is, in what I say to you. and obey my order." They said, "We will not stop worshipping it (i.e. the calf), until Moosa returns to us.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:90-91) Allah bears witness on behalf of Haroon (Peace be upon him) – and Allah, Most High, is Sufficient as a Witness – that he forbade them to do that and rebuked them for it, but they did not obey him and they did not follow him. Then Moosa (Peace be upon him) approached As-Samiri. “And what is the matter with you, O, Samiri?” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:95) That is, what made you do what you did? He (AsSamiri) said, “I saw what they saw not” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:96) means I saw Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) when he was riding his steed “...so I took a handful (of dust) from the (hoof) prints of the messenger.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:96) the hoof prints of Jibraeel’s steed.

And some of the scholars mentioned that he saw it and every time it placed its hooves on the ground, the place became green and grass grew; so he took some dust from its hoof prints and he threw it onto the calf which had been manufactured from gold, that which we have mentioned happened. This is why Allah, Most High, says, “...and I threw it (into the fire in which were put the ornaments of the Fir‘awn’s people, or into the calf). Thus my inner-self suggested to me.” He (Moosa) said, “Then go away! And verily, your (punishment) in this life will be that you will say, “Touch me not (i.e. you will live alone exiled away from mankind).” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:96,97). This was a supplication against him, that he might not touch anyone, as a punishment for touching that which he had no right to touch. This was a punishment for him in this world; then he informed him of what awaited him in the Hereafter, saying, “...and verily (for a future punishment), you have a promise that will not fail.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:97) It was also recited as: that We will not fail (to fulfill). “And look at your ilah (god), to which you have been devoted. We will certainly burn it, and scatter its particles in the sea.” (Soorah Ta Ha 20:97). It was said that Moosa (Peace be upon him) went to the calf and burned it in fire; this was said by Qatadah and others. It was also said that it was filed down; this was said by ‘Ali (May Allah be pleased with him), ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and others and it was the version according to the People of the Scriptures. Then he scattered it into the sea. After that, he commanded the Children of Isra'eel to drink from it and when those who had worshipped the calf drank of it, the sand stuck to their lips, as proof of their guilt. It was also said that their skin became yellow. Then Allah, Most High, tells us that Moosa (Peace be upon him) said to them, "Your Ilah (God) is only Allah, the One (La ilaha illa Huwa) (none has the right to be worshipped but He). He has full knowledge of all things." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:98) And He, Most High, says, Certainly, those who took the calf (for worship), wrath from their Lord and humiliation will come upon them in the life of this world. Thus do We recompense those who invent lies. (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:152). And that is what happened. Some of the Salaf said that Allah's Saying: Thus do We recompense those who invent lies (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:152) applies to all those who innovate in religious matters until the Day of Resurrection. Then He, Most High, informs us of His Gentleness and Mercy toward His creation and His Kindness toward His slaves, in accepting the repentance of those who turn in repentance to Him. He says, But those who committed evil deeds and then repented afterward and believed, verily, your Lord after (all) that is indeed Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:153). But Allah, Most High, did not accept the repentance of those who worshipped the calf, except by their being killed, as He, Most High, says, And (remember) when Moosa said to his people, "O, my people! Verily, you have wronged yourselves by worshipping the calf. So turn in repentance to your Creator and kill yourselves (the innocent kill the wrongdoers among you), that will be better for you with your Lord." Then He accepted your repentance. Truly, He is the One Who accepts repentance, the Most Merciful. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:54)

Then He, Most High, says, And when the anger of Moosa subsided, he took up the Tablets, and in their inscription was guidance and mercy for those who fear their Lord. (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:154) Some of the scholars cited His Saying: and in their inscription (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:154) as evidence that they were destroyed; but there is some doubt about this claim; there is nothing in the wording to suggest that they were broken. And Allah knows better. ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said in the Hadith of the trial that their worship of the calf was soon after their emergence from the sea and this is not improbable, because when they came out from it, They said, “O, Moosa! Make for us an ilah (a god) as they have alihah (gods).” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:138)

And He, Most High, says, And Moosa chose out of his people seventy (of the best) men for Our appointed time and place of meeting, and when they were seized with a violent earthquake, he said, “O, my Lord, if it had been Your Will, You could have destroyed them and me before; would You destroy us for the deeds of the foolish ones among us? It is only Your Trial by which You lead astray whom You will, and keep guided whom You will. You are our Wali (Protector), so forgive us and have Mercy on us, for You are the Best of those who forgive. And ordain for us good in this world, and in the Hereafter. Certainly we have turned unto You.” He said, “(As to) My Punishment I afflict therewith whom I will and My Mercy embraces all things. That (Mercy) I shall ordain for those who are the muttaqoon, and give zakah; and those who believe in Our Ayat; those who follow the Messenger, the Prophet who can neither read nor write (i.e. Muhammad) whom they find written with them in the Tawrah (Deut, xviii, 15) and the Injeel (John xiv, 16), – he commands them for al-ma‘roof (i.e. Islamic Monotheism and all that Islam has ordained); and forbids them from al-munkar (i.e. disbelief, polytheism of all kinds, and all that Islam has forbidden); he allows them as lawful Tayyibat (i.e. all good and lawful as regards things, deeds, beliefs, persons, foods, etc.), and prohibits them as unlawful khaba’ith (i.e. all evil and unlawful as regards things, deeds, beliefs, persons, foods, etc.), he releases them from their heavy burdens (of Allah’s Covenant), and from the fetters (bindings) that were upon them. So those who believe in him (Muhammad), honor him, help him, and follow the Light (the Qur’an) which has been sent down with him, it is they who will be successful. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:155-157)

As-Suddi, ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and others said that these seventy were scholars from among the Children of Isra’eel and with them was Moosa (Peace be upon him), Haroon (Peace be upon him), Yoosha’, Nadab and Abihu. They went with Moosa (Peace be upon him) to ask for forgiveness for the Children of Isra’eel for their worship of the calf. They had been commanded to bathe, purify themselves and wear perfume and when they went with him and approached the mountain, it was covered with clouds and there was a column of brilliant light emanating from them. Moosa (Peace be upon him) went up the mountain. The Children of Isra’eel said that they heard the Speech of Allah and this corresponds with what was said by a group of the scholars of tafseer and they understood Allah’s Saying: ...a party of them (Jewish rabbis) had heard the Word of Allah (the Tawrah), then they changed it knowingly after they had understood it. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:75) in light of it. But this is not necessarily so, because He, Most High, says, ...then grant him protection, so that he may hear the Word of Allah (the Qur’an). (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:6). That is, conveyed to him. In the same way, those (from the Children of Isra’eel) heard it from Moosa (Peace be upon him).

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, “Moosa (Peace be upon him) selected from among the Children of Isra’eel seventy of the best men. He said to them, “Go to the meeting with Allah and repent for what you committed. Beg His Forgiveness for those of your people whom you left behind. Fast, purify yourselves and clean your clothes.” So, he went with them to Mount Toor in Sinai for the meeting place and time designated by his Lord. He went there only with the leave and knowledge of Allah.

The seventy requested that they might hear the Speech of Allah and he (Moosa) said, “I will do so.” (i.e. I will submit your request to Allah). Then, when Moosa (Peace be upon him) approached the mountain, a column of clouds came down over it and the mountain was covered. Moosa (Peace be upon him) approached and entered the clouds and he said to the people, "Approach." When Allah spoke to Moosa (Peace be upon him), his cloak was surrounded by a brilliant light which no human could bear to look at, so below him a barrier was placed and the people approached. When they entered the cloud they fell in prostration and they heard Him while he was speaking to Moosa (Peace be upon him), commanding him and forbidding him, saying what to do and what not to do. When He completed commanding him, and removed the cloud from Moosa (Peace be upon him), he faced the people and they said, "O, Moosa! We will not believe in you unless we see Allah directly." So the thunder shook them, their souls were captured and they all died.

Moosa (Peace be upon him) stood up invoking, begging and supplicating to his Lord, "O, My Lord, if it had been Your will, you could have destroyed them and me before; would you destroy us for the deeds of the foolish ones among us." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:55). But the thunderbolt seized them and their souls were destroyed and all of them died. Then Moosa (Peace be upon him) stood up and implored his Lord, saying, "O, my Lord, if it had been Your Will, You could have destroyed them and me before; would You destroy us for the deeds of the foolish ones among us?" (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:155). That is, do not blame us because of the actions of those foolish people among us who worshipped the calf, for we are innocent of what they did. 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, Qatadah and Ibn Juraij said that the thunderbolt only took them because they did not forbid their people to worship the calf. As for Allah's Saying: "It is only Your Trial" (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:155), the meaning is: Your Test (of the Children of Isra'eel). This was said by 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Sa'eed Ibn Jubair, Abul 'Aliyah, Ar-Rabee' Ibn Anas and more than one of the earlier and the later scholars. That is, it is You Who ordained this and created the affair of the calf in order to test them thereby, as Haroon (Peace be upon him) said to them before, "O, my people! You are being tried in this" (Soorah Ta Ha 20:90) means you are being tested by this; this is why Allah tells us that Moosa (Peace be upon him) said,

“...by which You lead astray whom You will, and keep guided whom You will.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:155). That is, You cause to go astray whom You will by Your Trial and You guide whom You will thereby. The Judgment and the Decision belongs to You and no one can prevent or repel what You have decided and ordained. “You are our Wali (Protector), so forgive us and have Mercy on us, for You are the Best of those who forgive.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:155)

And He, Most High, says, “And ordain for us good in this world, and in the Hereafter. Certainly we have turned unto You.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:156) It means that we have repented to You, returned to You and sought forgiveness from You. This was said by ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair-Abul ‘Aliyah, Ibraheem At-Taimi, Adh-Dahhak, As-Suddi, Qatadah and a number of others and it is also linguistically correct. He said: “(As to) My Punishment I afflict therewith whom I will and My Mercy embraces all things.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:156) That is, I punish whomsoever I will, with whatever punishment I will from among the things that I have created and ordained. “...and My Mercy embraces all things.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:156) – as confirmed in the Saheehain, from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), who said, “When Allah created the Creation, He wrote in His Book – and He wrote (that) about Himself, and it is placed with Him on the Throne – ‘Verily My Mercy overcomes My Anger’.” “That (Mercy) I shall ordain for those who are the muttaqoon, and give zakah; and those who believe in Our Ayat” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:156) means I shall definitely ordain it for those who possess these attributes. Those who follow the Messenger, the Prophet who can neither read nor write (i.e. Muhammad). (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:157) In this there is confirmation that Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and his nation were mentioned by Allah to Moosa (Peace be upon him) among the things which He confided to him, taught him and apprised him of.

Al-Hafiz Abu Hatim Muhammad Ibn Hatim Ibn Hibban said in his Saheeh, on the authority of AlMugheerah Ibn Shu‘bah (May Allah be pleased with him) who reported on the authority of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) while standing on the pulpit, “Verily, Moosa (Peace be upon him) asked his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, 'Which of the inhabitants of Paradise will have the least rank?' He said, 'A man will come after the people of Paradise have entered it and it will be said to him, Enter Paradise. He will say, 'How shall I enter Paradise when the people have entered their abodes and taken what is theirs?' It will be said to him, 'Would you be happy to have of Paradise what one of the kings of the Earth had?' He will say, 'Yes, O, my Lord!' So it will be said to him, 'This is yours, plus the like of it, plus the like of it again.' He will say, 'O, my Lord! I am well-pleased.' It will be said to him, 'In addition to this, yours is whatever your heart desires and whatever pleases your eye.' And he asked his Lord, 'Which of the people of Paradise occupy the highest position in Paradise?' Allah said, 'I will tell you about them: I have fixed their nobility with My Own Hands and sealed it and no eye has seen Paradise, no ear has heard it and it cannot be imagined by the mind of any human being'.”

Ibn Hibban said, on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him), that he reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Moosa (Peace be upon him) asked his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful about six qualities which he believed belonged to him, and a seventh, which Moosa (Peace be upon him) did not like. He said, “O, my Lord! Which of your slaves is the most pious?” He said, “The one who remembers (Allah) and does not forget (Him).” Moosa (Peace be upon him) then asked, “And which of Your slaves is most rightly guided?” Allah said, “He who follows the (Divine) guidance.” Moosa (Peace be upon him) then asked, “And which of Your slaves is most judicious?” Allah said, “The one who judges for the people as he judges for himself.” Moosa (Peace be upon him) said, “And which of Your slaves is most knowledgeable?” Allah said, “The scholar whose appetite for knowledge is never satisfied; he combines the knowledge of the people with his (own) knowledge.” Moosa (Peace be upon him) then said, “And which of Your slaves is most mighty?” Allah replied, “He who, when he is master, displays forgiveness.” Moosa (Peace be upon him) then asked, “And which of Your slaves is wealthiest?” Allah answered, “He who is happy with what he is given.” Moosa (Peace be upon him) then said, “And which of Your slaves is poorest?” Allah said, “The one who possesses manqoos.” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “(True) wealth is not that which is apparent; it is only wealth of the soul. And when Allah wills something good for a slave, He places his wealth in his soul and his piety in his heart. But if He wills something bad for a slave, He places his poverty in front of his eyes (i.e. He makes him feel it and he is always discontented).”

Ibn Hibban said that the possessor of “manqoos” means the one who is dissatisfied with his circumstances; he regards what he has been given as insufficient and seeks more.

Ibn Hibban said, “Allah’s Kaleem asked his Lord to teach him something by which he might remember Him”. It was reported on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Moosa said, 'O, my Lord! Teach me something by which I might remember You and supplicate You.' Allah said, 'Say, O, Moosa, 'La ilaha ill-Allah (none has the right to be worshipped except Allah)'.” Moosa (Peace be upon him) said, “O, my Lord! All of your slaves say this.” Allah said, “Say, 'La ilaha ill-Allah (none has the right to be worshipped except Allah)'.” Moosa (Peace be upon him) said, “I only want You to give something special for me.” Allah said, “O, Moosa! If all of the inhabitants of the seven heavens and the seven earths were placed in a scale and 'La ilaha illAllah, was placed in (the other side of) it, ‘La ilaha ill-Allah (none has the right to be worshipped except Allah)’ would be heavier than they.”

This Hadith is supported by the Hadith of Al-Bitaqah and the nearest thing to its meaning is the Hadith narrated in the Sunan from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), in which it is reported that he said, “The best invocation is the invocation on ‘Arafah and the best thing that I and the Prophets who came before me have said is: ‘La ilaha ill-Allah Wahdahu la shareeka Lahu; Lahul-mulku wa Lahul-hamdu wa Huwa ‘ala kulli shay’in Qadeer (none has the right to be worshipped except Allah, Alone, without partners; His is the Kingdom and to Him belongs all praise and He is Able to do all things)’.”

Ibn Abi Hatim said, in the explanation of "Ayat Al-Kursi", “It is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Children of Isra’eel asked Moosa (Peace be upon him), “Does your Lord sleep?” He said, “Fear Allah!” Then his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful called him (saying), “O, Moosa! They asked you if your Lord sleeps; take two bottles in your hands and stand for the whole night.” So Moosa (Peace be upon him) did so, and when a third of the night had passed, he became drowsy and fell to his knees; then he recovered and retained his grip on them. But toward the end of the night, he became drowsy and the two bottles fell and smashed. Then Allah said, “O, Moosa! If I were to sleep, the heavens and the Earth would fall and be destroyed, just as the two bottles in your hands were destroyed.” Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “So Allah sent down to His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) Ayat Al-Kursi.”

And He, Most High, says, "And (remember) when We raised the mountain over them as if it had been a canopy, and they thought that it was going to fall on them. (We said), 'Hold firmly to what We have given you (i.e. the Tawrah), and remember that which is therein (act on its Commandments), so that you may fear Allah and obey Him.” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:171)

‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and more than one of the Salaf said, “When Moosa (Peace be upon him) came to them with the Tablets on which was written the Tawrah, he ordered them to accept them and hold onto them with strength and determination, but they said, “Announce them to us, and if their commands and prohibitions are easy, we will accept them.” He said, “Nay, you must accept them with all that they entail.” But they examined them over and over again, until Allah raised the mountain over their heads, so that it became like a canopy over them, i.e. like a cloud over their heads and it was said to them, “If you do not accept them and all that they entail, this mountain will fall on you.” So they accepted that and then they were commanded to prostrate, which they did. But they began to look toward the mountain, from the sides of their faces and this became a Sunnah for the Jews until this day. They say, “There is no prostration greater than the prostration in which the punishment was lifted from us.” Sunaid Ibn Dawood reported on the authority of Hajjaj Ibn Muhammad, who in turn reported on the authority of Abu Bakr Ibn ‘Abdullah that he said, “When he proclaimed them (the Commandments) to them, there was not a mountain, a tree or a rock on the face of the Earth that did not shake and there is not a Jew on the face of the Earth – whether great or small – who does not tremble when the Tawrah is recited to him and shake his head.” Allah, Most High, says, "Then after that you turned away" (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:64) means then after witnessing this great covenant and this momentous matter, you violated your oaths and your covenants. "Had it not been for the Grace and Mercy of Allah upon you" (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:64) means that He sent to you a succession of Messengers and sent down to you His Books "indeed you would have been among the losers." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:64)

The Story of the Cow of the Children of Isra'eel

Allah, Most High, says, "And (remember) when Moosa said to his people, 'Verily, Allah commands you that you slaughter a cow.' They said, 'Do you make fun of us?' He said, 'I take Allah's Refuge from being among Al-Jahiloon (the ignorant or the foolish).' They said, 'Call upon your Lord for us that He may make plain to us what it is!' He said, 'He says, 'Verily, it is a cow neither too old nor too young, but (it is) between the two conditions', so do what you are commanded.' They said, 'Call upon your Lord for us to make plain to us its color.' He said, 'Allah says, 'It is a yellow cow, bright in its color, pleasing to the beholders'.' They said, 'Call upon your Lord for us to make plain to us what it is. Verily, to us all cows are alike, and surely, if Allah wills, we will be guided.' He (Moosa) said, 'He says, 'It is a cow neither trained to till the soil nor water the fields, sound, having no other color except bright yellow'.' They said, 'Now you have brought the truth.' So they slaughtered it though they were near to not doing it. And (remember) when you killed a man and fell into dispute among yourselves as to the crime. But Allah brought forth that which you were hiding. So We said, 'Strike him (the dead man) with a piece of it (the cow).' Thus Allah brings the dead to life and shows you His Ayat so that you may understand." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:67-73)

They were commanded to slaughter a cow which was 'awan, i.e. halfway between old and young. This was said by 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, Abul-'Aliyah 'Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Qatadah and a number of others. Then they became more demanding and made things more difficult for themselves, asking about its color. They were then commanded to slaughter a yellow cow, whose color was bright, i.e. mixed with redness, which was pleasing to those who saw it; and this color is hard to find.

Then they became even more demanding, They said, “Call upon your Lord for us to make plain to us what it is. Verily, to us all cows are alike, and surely, if Allah wills, we will be guided.” (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:70) And in the Hadith traceable to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) which was narrated by Ibn Abi Hatim and Ibn Marduyah, it was reported: “Had not the Children of Isra’eel said that they would be guided if Allah willed, they would not have been granted guidance.” But there is some doubt about its authenticity – and Allah knows better. He (Moosa) said, “He says, ‘It is a cow neither trained to till the soil nor water the fields, sound, having no shiyah in it’.” They said, “Now you have brought the truth.” So they slaughtered it though they were near to not doing it. (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:71) This description was more difficult than what had preceded it, since they were now commanded to slaughter a cow which had not been trained to plough the earth or irrigate the soil with a water scoop, being musallamah, i.e. sound in body, without any defects. This was said by Abul-‘Aliyah and Qatadah. Allah’s Saying: "...having no shiyah in it" (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:71) means: having no other color besides yellow. Rather, it was free from any defect and free from having any other colors mixed with its yellow color. When he had determined its description in such great detail, They said, “Now you have brought the truth.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:71) It was said that they did not find a cow matching this description except with a man from among them who was dutiful to his father and they requested it from him, but he refused to give it to them. So they asked him to suggest a price for it, even offering to pay him its weight in gold, according to As-Suddi, but he still refused to give it to them unless they agreed to give him ten times its weight in gold. They did so and he then sold it to them, after which Allah’s Prophet (Peace be upon him) commanded them to slaughter it. "So they slaughtered it though they were near to not doing it." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:71) That is, they were uncertain regarding it. Then he conveyed to them from Allah that they should strike the body of the murdered man with a part of it. It was said that that part was the meat of its thigh and it was also said that it was the bone that adjoins the cartilage. It was also said that they struck him with the part that is between the shoulders. When they struck him with a part of it, Allah, Most High, brought him back to life and he stood up and the blood was flowing from his jugular veins. Then the Prophet of Allah (Peace be upon him) asked him, "Who killed you?" He replied, "My brother's son killed me." Then he became dead once more. Allah, Most High, says, "Thus Allah brings the dead to life and shows you His Ayat so that you may understand." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:73) It means that as you have witnessed the bringing back to life of this murdered man, as a result of Allah's Command to him, likewise it is the case regarding all people who die; if Allah wills to revive them, He revives them in a single hour, as He, Most High, says, "The creation of you all and the resurrection of you all are only as (the creation and resurrection of) a single person." (Soorah Luqman 31:28)

The Story of Moosa and Al-Khidr

Allah, Most High, says, "And (remember) when Moosa said to his servant, 'I will not give up (traveling) until I reach the junction of the two seas or (until) I spend years and years in traveling.' But when they reached the junction of the two seas, they forgot their fish, and it took its way through the sea as in a tunnel. So when they passed further on (beyond that fixed place), Moosa said to his servant, 'Bring us our morning meal; truly, we have suffered much fatigue in this, our journey.' He said, 'Do you remember when we betook ourselves to the rock? I indeed forgot the fish; none but Shaitan made me forget it. It took its course into the sea in a strange (way)!' (Moosa) said, 'That is what we have been seeking.' So they went back retracing their footsteps. Then they found one of Our slaves, unto whom We had bestowed Mercy from Us, and whom We had taught knowledge from Us. Moosa said to him (Al-Khidr), 'May I follow you so that you teach me something of that knowledge (guidance and true path) which you have been taught (by Allah)?' He (Al-Khidr) said, 'Verily! You will not be able to have patience with me! And how can you have patience about a thing which you know not?' Moosa said, 'If Allah wills, you will find me patient, and I will not disobey you in aught.' He (Al-Khidr) said, 'Then, if you follow me, ask me not about anything till I myself mention it to you.' So they both proceeded, till, when they boarded the ship, he (Al-Khidr) scuttled it. Moosa said, 'Have you scuttled it in order to drown its people? Verily, you have committed a thing imran (a munkar - evil, bad, dreadful thing).' He (Al-Khidr) said, 'Did I not tell you that you would not be able to have patience with me?' (Moosa) said, 'Call me not to account for what I forgot, and be not hard upon me for my affair (with you).' Then they both proceeded, till they met a boy, and he (Al-Khidr) killed him. Moosa said, 'Have you killed an innocent person who had killed none? Verily, you have committed a thing nukran (a great munkar - prohibited, evil, dreadful thing)!' (Al-Khidr) said, 'Did I not tell you that you would not be able to have patience with me?' (Moosa) said, 'If I ask you anything after this, keep me not in your company, you have received an excuse from me.' Then they both proceeded till, when they came to the people of a town, they asked them for food, but they refused to entertain them. Then they found therein a wall about to collapse and he (Al-Khidr) set it up straight. (Moosa) said, 'If you had wished, surely, you could have taken wages for it!' (Al-Khidr) said, 'This is the parting between me and you; I will tell you the interpretation of (those) things regarding which you were unable to have patience: As for the ship, it belonged to masakeen (poor people) working in the sea. So I wished to make a defective damage in it, as there was a king after them who seized every ship by force. And as for the boy, his parents were Believers, and we feared lest he should oppress them by rebellion and disbelief. So we intended that their Lord should change him for them for one better in righteousness and near to mercy. And as for the wall, it belonged to two orphan boys in the town; and there was under it a treasure belonging to them; and their father was a righteous man, and your Lord intended that they should attain their age of full strength and take out their treasure as a Mercy from your Lord. And I did it not of my own accord. That is the interpretation of those (things) regarding which you could not be patient.'” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:60-82)

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair that he said, “I said to ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), ‘Nawf Al-Bikali claims that Moosa of the Children of Isra’eel was not Moosa, the companion of Al-Khidr.’” Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “Allah’s enemy tells a lie! Ubayy Ibn Ka‘b narrated to us that Allah’s Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Moosa got up to deliver a sermon before the Children of Isra’eel and he was asked, “Who is the most learned person among the people?” Moosa replied, “I (am the most learned).” Allah then admonished Moosa for he did not ascribe all knowledge to Allah only. (Then) came the Divine Inspiration: “Yes, one of Our slaves at the junction of the two seas is more learned than you.” Moosa said, “O, my Lord ! How can I meet him?” Allah said, “Take a fish in a basket and wherever the fish is lost, follow it (you will find him at that place). So Moosa set out along with his slave, Yoosha‘ Ibn Noon, and they carried with them a fish till they reached a rock and rested there. Moosa put his head down and slept. (Sufyan, a sub-narrator said that somebody other than ‘Amr said:) “At the rock there was a water spring called ‘Al-Hayat’ and none came in touch with its water but became alive. Some of the water of that spring fell over that fish, so it moved and slipped out of the basket and entered the sea. When Moosa woke up, he said to his servant, “Bring us our morning meal.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:62) The narrator added: Moosa did not suffer from fatigue except after he had passed the place he had been ordered to observe. His servant, Yoosha‘ (Joshua) said to him, “Do you remember when we betook ourselves to the rock? I indeed forgot the fish; none but Shaitan made me forget it. It took its course into the sea in a strange (way)!” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18.63) The narrator added, “So they came back, retracing their steps and then they found in the sea, the way of the fish looking like a tunnel. So there was an astonishing event for his slave, and there was a tunnel for the fish. When they reached the rock, they found a man covered with a garment. Moosa greeted him. The man said astonishingly, “Is there any such greeting in your land?” Moosa said, “I am Moosa.” The man said, “Moosa of the Children of Isra’eel?” Moosa said, “Yes,” and added, “May I follow you so that you teach me something of that knowledge (guidance and true path) which you have been taught (by Allah)?” (18.66) Al-Khidr said to him, “O, Moosa! You have something of Allah’s knowledge which Allah has taught you and which I do not know; and I have something of Allah’s knowledge which Allah has taught me and which you do not know.” Moosa said, “But I will follow you.” Al-Khidr said, “Then if you follow me, ask me no question about anything until I myself speak to you concerning it.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:70) After that both of them proceeded along the seashore. There passed by them a boat whose crew recognized Al-Khidr and received them on board free of charge. So they both got on board. A sparrow came and sat on the edge of the boat and dipped its beak unto the sea. Al-Khidr said to Moosa, “My knowledge and your knowledge and all the creation's knowledge compared to Allah's knowledge is not more than the water taken by this sparrow's beak." Then Moosa was startled by Al-Khidr's action of taking an adze and scuttling the boat with it. Moosa said to him, "These people gave us a free lift, but you intentionally scuttled their boat so as to drown them. "In order to drown its people? Verily, you have committed a thing imran (a munkar – evil, bad, dreadful thing) He (Al-Khidr) said, Did I not tell you, that you would not be able to have patience with me? Moosa said, "call me not to account for what I forgot, and be not haved upon me for my affair (with you)." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:71-73) Then they both proceeded and found a boy playing with other boys. Al-Khidr took hold of him by the head and cut it off. Moosa said to him, "Have you killed an innocent person who had killed none? Verily, you have committed a thing nukran (a great munkar – prohibited, evil, dreadful thing)!" (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:74) He said, "Did I not tell you that you would not be able to have patience with me?" – up to "...but they refused to entertain them. Then they found therein a wall about to collapse." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:75-77) Al-Khidr moved his hand thus and set it upright (repaired it). Moosa said to him, "When we entered this town, they neither gave us hospitality nor fed us; if you had wished, you could have taken wages for it," Al-Khidr said, "This is the parting between me and you; I will tell you the interpretation of (those) things regarding which you were unable to have patience." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:78)

Allah's Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "We wished that Moosa could have been more patient so that He (Allah) could have described to us more about their story."

Sa'eed Ibn Jubair said that 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) used to recite, "as there was a king before them who seized every ship by force." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:79) and he used to recite, "And as for the boy, he was a disbeliever and his parents were Believers." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:80)."

And He, Most High, says, “And as for the wall, it belonged to two orphan boys in the town; and there was under it a treasure belonging to them; and their father was a righteous man, and your Lord intended that they should attain their age of full strength and take out their treasure as a Mercy from your Lord. And I did it not of my own accord. That is the interpretation of those (things) regarding which you could not be patient.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:82) As-Suhaili said that they were Asram and Sareem, the sons of Kashih. “...and there was under it a treasure belonging to them.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:82) According to ‘Ikrimah, it was gold. ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said that it was knowledge. What appears most likely is that it was a golden tablet on which knowledge was written.

He, Most High, says, “...and their father was a righteous man.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:82) It was said that he was the seventh father and it was also said that he was the tenth. At all events, in it there is evidence that the righteous man is protected in his offspring and Allah is the One Whose Help is sought. And He, Most High, says, “...as a Mercy from your Lord.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:82) This proves that he was a Prophet and that he did nothing of his own accord; rather, he acted in accordance with the Command of his Lord, which means that he was a Prophet. It was also said that he was a Messenger and also that he was a Wali. But stranger than that is the claim of those who said that he was an angel.

The Story of the Building of the Tabernacle of Time

The People of the Scripture said that Allah commanded Moosa (Peace be upon him) to make a tent from cedar wood, leather and sheepskin; and He commanded him to embellish it with dyed silk, gold and silver, using intricate designs, according to the People of the Scripture. This Tabernacle of Time was with the Children of Isra’eel in the wilderness and they used to pray toward it, so it was their Qiblah and their Ka‘bah; and their Imam was Allah’s Kaleem, Moosa (Peace be upon him), while the one who offered the sacrifices was his brother, Haroon (Peace be upon him). When Haroon and then Moosa (peace be upon them both) died, the sons of Haroon (Peace be upon him) continued to follow what their father had practiced with regard to the sacrifice – and they still practice it until this day. They undertook the burden of Prophethood after Moosa (Peace be upon him) and the responsibility of leadership after him was given to his slave, Yoosha‘, and it was he who brought them into Bait Al-Maqdis (the Holy Land).

What is meant here is that when he became ruler of Bait Al-Maqdis, this Tabernacle was erected on the rock of Bait Al-Maqdis and they used to pray toward it. After it had gone, they prayed toward its former place, i.e. the rock. This is why it was the Qiblah of the Prophets who came after him, until the time of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) – and he prayed toward it prior to the migration to Madinah, though he would pray with the Ka‘bah directly in front of him. After he had migrated to Madinah, he was commanded to pray toward Bait Al-Maqdis and he did so for sixteen or seventeen months. Then the Qiblah was changed to the Ka‘bah – and that was the Qiblah of Ibraheem – in the month of Sha‘aban, in the year 2 A.H., at the time of the ‘Asr prayer, or, it was said, the Zuhr prayer.

The Story of Qaroon with Moosa

Allah, Most High, says, "Verily, Qaroon (Korah) was of Moosa’s people, but he behaved arrogantly toward them. And We gave him the treasures, that of which the keys would have been a burden to a body of strong men. When his people said to him, 'Do not exult; verily! Allah likes not those who exult. But seek, with that (wealth) which Allah has bestowed you, the home of the Hereafter, and forget not your portion of legal enjoyment in this world, and be generous as Allah has been Generous to you, and seek not mischief in the land. Verily, Allah likes not the mufsidoon (those who commit great crimes and sins, oppressors, tyrants, mischief-makers and corrupt people).' He said, 'This has been given to me only because of knowledge I possess.' Did he not know that Allah had destroyed before him generations, men who were stronger than him in might and greater in the amount (of riches) they had collected. But the mujrimoon (criminals, disbelievers, polytheists and sinners, etc.) will not be questioned of their sins (because Allah knows them well, so they will be punished without account). So he went forth before his people in his pomp. Those who were desirous of the life of the world, said, 'Ah, would that we had the like of what Qaroon has been given! Verily! He is the owner of a great fortune.' But those who had been given (religious) knowledge said, 'Woe to you! The Reward of Allah is better for those who believe and do righteous good deeds, and this none shall attain except those who are patient (in following the truth).' So We caused the earth to swallow him and his dwelling place. Then he had no group or party to help him against Allah, nor was he one of those who could save themselves. And those who had desired (a position like) his position the day before, began to say, 'Know you not that it is Allah Who enlarges the provision or restricts it to whomsoever He pleases of His slaves? Had it not been that Allah was Gracious to us, He could have caused the earth to swallow us up (also)! Know you not that the disbelievers will never be successful? That home of the Hereafter (i.e. Paradise), We shall assign to those who rebel not against the truth with pride and oppression in the land nor do mischief by committing crimes. And the good end is for the muttaqoon'." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:76-83)

It is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “Qaroon was Moosa’s cousin. Qatadah said that he was called An-Noor (the Light) because of his pleasant voice when reciting the Tawrah. But the enemy of Allah was guilty of hypocrisy, like the hypocrisy of As-Samiri, and he was destroyed by his wrongdoing, because of his wealth.

Allah, Most High, described his enormous wealth to the extent that a group of strong men would have found the keys to his treasures heavy to carry. It was also said that his wealth was in animal skins and that it was carried on sixty mules. And Allah knows better. The advisers among his people had admonished him, saying, "Do not exult. Verily! Allah likes not those who exult" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:76) means do not be proud because of what you have been given and do not behave arrogantly toward others. "But seek, with that (wealth) which Allah has bestowed on you, the home of the Hereafter." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:77) They were saying, "Let your priority be the attainment of Allah's Reward in the abode of the Hereafter, because it is better than and more lasting." And at the same time, "...and forget not your portion of legal enjoyment in this world." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:77) That is, take from your property what Allah has made lawful to you and enjoy yourself with it in a lawful manner. "...and be generous as Allah has been Generous to you" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:77) means be good to Allah's creation, just as their Creator has been good to you. "...and seek not mischief in the land." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:77) It means that do not act meanly toward them, do not spread corruption among them and do not treat them in a manner contrary to that which you were commanded to do, for (if you do that), He will punish you and take what He has given you away from you. "Verily, Allah likes not the mufsidoon." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:77) But his reply to this correct and eloquent advice from his people was naught but to say, "This has been given to me only because of knowledge I possess." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:78) That is, I have no need to act upon what you have mentioned or what you have indicated, because Allah has only given me this (wealth) because He knows that I deserve it and am worthy of it; and if I was not beloved by Him, He would not have given me what He has given me. But Allah answered him, saying, "Did he not know that Allah had destroyed before him generations, men who were stronger than him in might and greater in the amount (of riches) they had collected. But the mujrimoon will not be questioned of their sins (because Allah knows them well, so they will be punished without account)" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:78) means We have destroyed previous generations because of their sins and offenses – and they possessed much greater power and wealth and more children than Qaroon. So if what he says is correct; We would not punish anyone who had more wealth than he. His wealth is not a proof of Our Love for him or Our Care for him, as He, Most High, says, "And it is not your wealth, nor your children that bring you nearer to Us (i.e. pleases Allah), but only he (will please Us) who believes (in Islamic Monotheism), and does righteous deeds; as for such, there will be twofold reward for what they did, and they will reside in the high dwellings (Paradise) in peace and security." (Soorah Saba' 34:37) And He, Most High says, "Do they think that We enlarge them in wealth and children, We hasten unto them with good things (in this worldly life so that they will have no share of good things in the Hereafter)? Nay, but they perceive not." (Soorah Al-Mu'minoon 23:55, 56)

Allah, Most High, says, "So he went forth before his people in his pomp." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:79) Many of the scholars of tafseer said that he would set out with great pomp and ceremony, wearing fine clothes and riding in a beautiful carriage, with servants and retinue and when those who are impressed by the splendor of the life of this world saw him, they wished that they had wealth like his and were envious of his situation. When the scholars – those who possessed correct understanding, the intelligent and ascetic – heard their words, they said to them, "Woe to you! The Reward of Allah is better for those who believe and do righteous good deeds." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:80) That is, Allah's Reward in the abode of the Hereafter is better, more lasting, more splendid and more exalted. Allah, Most High, says, "...and this none shall attain except those who are patient (in following the truth)" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:80) means none shall attain this advice, this statement and this high-mindedness zeal for the abode of the Hereafter, which is much superior when compared to the embellishments of this inferior, Earthly life – except those whose hearts Allah guides and makes firm, whose understanding He supports and whose aims and goals He causes to be achieved. And how fine is the saying of one of the Salaf, who said, "Verily, Allah loves penetrating insight in cases of doubt or obscurity and perfect rationality in cases of vain desire." Allah, Most High, says, "So We caused the earth to swallow him and his dwelling place. Then he had no group or party to help him against Allah, nor was he one of those who could save themselves." (Soorah AlQasas 28:81) After describing how he would set out with his pomp and his pride therein, showing disdain toward the people because of it, Allah said, "So We caused the earth to swallow him and his dwelling place."

As narrated in Saheeh Al-Bukhari in the Hadith of Az-Zuhri, who reported on the authority of Salim, who in turn reported on the authority of his father, who reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, "While a man was dragging his izar (lower garment) on the ground (behind him), suddenly Allah made him sink into the earth and he will go on sinking into it till the Day of Resurrection."

And Allah, Most High, says, "Then he had no group or party to help him against Allah, nor was he one of those who could save themselves." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:81) There was no one to help him – neither he himself nor any other, as Allah says, "Then will (man) have no power, nor any helper." (Soorah At-Tariq 86:10) And when the swallowing of the earth, the loss of his wealth, the ruin of his house and the destruction of him, his family and his landed property befell him, those who had wished for wealth such as he had been given repented and thanked Allah, Who organizes the affairs of His slaves as He wills, in the best way. This is why they said, "Had it not been that Allah was Gracious to us, He could have caused the earth to swallow us up (also)! Know you not that the disbelievers will never be successful?" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:82)

Then He, Most High, informs us of that "That home of the Hereafter (i.e. Paradise)" (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:83) – and that is the everlasting abode, the abode which those who are given it will be happy and will be comforted by the (beautiful) women therein. And it is only prepared for those who desire not grandeur and greatness in this world, nor corruption. Grandeur is pride, arrogance and insolence and corruption is acts of disobedience, such as taking the wealth of the people by force, corrupting their way of life, treating them badly and not advising them. Then He, Most High, says, "And the good end is for the muttaqoon (pious)." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:83)

Allah, Most High, has described the censure of Qaroon in more than one Verse of the Qur'an: He, Most High, says, "And indeed We sent Moosa with Our Ayat, and a manifest authority, to Fir'awn, Haman and Qaroon, but they called (him) "a sorcerer, a liar!" (Soorah Ghafir 40:23,24)

And Imam Ahmad has narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that one day he mentioned the prayer, saying, "Whoever observes it (regularly and conscientiously) will have a light, a proof and salvation on the Day of Resurrection. But he who does not observe it will have no light, no proof and no salvation; and on the Day of Resurrection, he will be with Qaroon, Fir'awn, Haman and 'Ubayy Ibn Khalaf." Imam Ahmad was alone in narrating this.

Description of the Virtues, Good Qualities and Characteristics of Moosa and His Death

Allah, Most High, says, "And mention in the Book (this Qur'an) Moosa. Verily! He was chosen and he was a Messenger (and) a Prophet. And We called him from the right side of the Mount, and made him draw near to Us for a talk with him (Moosa). And We bestowed on him his brother Haroon, (also) a Prophet, out of Our Mercy." (Soorah Maryam 19:51-53)

And He, Most High, says, (Allah) said, "O, Moosa! I have chosen you above men by My Messages, and by My speaking (to you)." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:144)

And we have mentioned previously that it is recorded in the Saheehain from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, "Do not ascribe to me superiority over the other Prophets, for on the Day of Resurrection the people will become unconscious and I will (feel that) I am the first to regain consciousness. Then I will see Moosa holding one of the legs of the Throne. I will not know whether he has come to his senses before me or that the shock he had received at the Mountain, (during his worldly life) was sufficient for him."

And Imam Abu 'Abdullah Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, '(Prophet) Moosa was a shy person and used to cover his body completely because of his extensive shyness. One of the Children of Isra'eel hurt him by saying, He covers his body in this way only because of some defect in his skin, either leprosy or scrotal hernia, or he has some other defect. Allah wished to clear Moosa of what they said about him, so one day while Moosa was in seclusion, he took off his clothes and put them on a stone and started taking a bath. When he finished the bath, he moved toward his clothes so as to take them, but the stone took his clothes and fled; Moosa picked up his stick and ran after the stone saying, 'O, stone! Give me my garment!' Till he reached a group of the Children of Isra'eel who saw him naked then, and found him the best of what Allah had created, and Allah cleared him of what they had accused him of. The stone stopped there and Moosa took and put his garment on and started hitting the stone with his stick. By Allah, the stone still has some traces of the hitting, three, four or five marks. This was what Allah refers to in His Saying: “O, you who believe! Be you not like those who annoyed Moosa, But Allah cleared him of that which they alleged, and he was honorable in Allah’s Sight.” (Soorah Al-Ahzab 33.69)

And it is reported in the Saheehain in the narration of Qatadah, on the authority of Anas, who reported on the authority of Malik Ibn Sa’sa’ah, who reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that on the night when he was raised up to the heavens, he met Moosa (Peace be upon him) in the sixth heaven and Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) said to him, “This is Moosa.” So he greeted him with salutations of peace; he said, “I greeted him with salutations of peace and he said, 'Welcome to the righteous Prophet and righteous brother.' When I proceeded on, he started weeping and when he was asked why he was weeping, he said, 'I am weeping because followers of this youth who was sent after me will enter Paradise in greater number than my followers'.”

Allah, Most High, has mentioned Moosa (Peace be upon him) in the Qur’an in many places, praised him and related his story in His Noble Book a number of times and He has repeated it at length and in brief. He has praised him eloquently and in many places, He has coupled mention of him and his Book (the Towrah) with the mention of Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and His Book (the Qur’an), as in Soorah Al-Baqarah, where He says, "And when there came to them a Messenger from Allah (i.e. Muhammad) confirming what was with them, a party of those who were given the Scripture threw away the Book of Allah behind their backs as if they did not know!" (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:101) And He, Most High, says "And indeed We granted to Moosa and Haroon the criterion (of right and wrong), and a shining light (i.e. the Tawrah) and a Reminder for Al-Muttaqoon. Those who fear their Lord without seeing Him, while they are afraid of the Hour. And this is a blessed Reminder (the Qur’an) which We have sent down, will you then (dare to) deny it?" (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:48-50)

And He, Most High, says, "Let the people of the Injeel (Gospel) judge by what Allah has revealed therein. And whosoever does not judge by what Allah has revealed (then) such (people) are the Fasiqoon (the rebellious i.e. disobedient (of a lesser degree) to Allah. And We have sent down to you (O, Muhammad,) the Book (this Qur'an) in truth, confirming the Scripture that came before it and muhaiminan (trustworthy in highness and a witness) over it (old Scriptures)." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:47,48) So He has made the Qur'an as a judge over all of the previous Scriptures, a confirmation of them and an explanation of the alterations and substitutions that have occurred therein, because the People of the Scripture were entrusted with the Scriptures that were in their hands, but they were unable to preserve them, retain them and protect them. This is why alterations and substitutions occurred therein – because of their poor understanding, their deficient knowledge, their bad intentions and their betrayal of their Deity – may Allah's Curse remain upon them until the Day of Resurrection. This is why their books contain clear errors regarding Allah and His Messengers – errors which are innumerable and indescribable, the like of which are not to be found and are unknown elsewhere.

In short, the law of Moosa (Peace be upon him) was great and the people of his nation were in large numbers; among them were Prophets, learned men, those who were devoted to worshipping Allah, ascetics, men of understanding, kings, princes, leaders and nobles. But they passed away and were replaced, and they altered their law and were turned into apes and swine. Then they abrogated them after all of the accounting of their nation and misadventures too numerous to mention befell them. However, we shall relate those which contain convincing arguments for those who wish to know it, if Allah wills. On Him we depend and on Him we rely.

Mention of the Pilgrimage of Moosa to the Ancient House and the Description of It

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) passed by Al-Azraq Valley and he asked, “Which valley is this?” They said, “It is Al-Azraq Valley.” He said, “It is as if I am now looking at Moosa coming down from the mountain track and he is calling upon Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful in a loud voice, saying, 'Here I am, at Your service, O, Allah!' – until he reached the mountain track of Harsha’.” He then asked them, “Which mountain track is this?” They said, “This is the mountain track of Harsha’.” He said, “It is as if I am now looking at Yoonus, son of Matta, riding on a red she-camel, with a cloak of wool around him and the reins of his she-camel are made from khulbah.” Hushaim said, “It (khulbah) means date-palm fibers – and he was calling upon Allah, saying, 'Here I am, at Your service, O, Allah!'”

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Mujahid that he said, “We were with Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and someone mentioned Ad-Dajjal and it was said, “It is written between his eyes: ‘Kaf, Fa’, Ra’ ’.” He said, “What do they say?” He said, “They say, “It is written between his eyes: ‘Kaf, Fa’, Ra’.” Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) then said, “I did not hear him (i.e. the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)) say that, but he said, “As for Ibraheem, look at your companion (i.e. look at me), while as for Moosa, he was a well-built man, with curly hair and he rode a red camel, whose reins were made of khulbah. It is as if I am seeing him now going down into the valley and calling out, 'Here I am, at Your service, O, Allah!'.” Hushaim said that khulbah means date-palm fibers.

Description of Moosa's Death

Al-Bukhari narrated in his Saheeh on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Angel of Death was sent to Moosa (Peace be upon him). When he came to Moosa, he struck him. The angel returned to his Lord and said, "You have sent me to a slave who does not want to die." Allah said, "Return to him and tell him to put his hand on the back of an ox and for every hair that will come under it, he will be granted one year of life." Moosa said, "O, Lord! What will happen after that?" Allah replied, "Then death." Moosa said, "Let it come now!" Moosa then requested Allah to let him die close to the Holy Land so that he would be at a stone's throw distance from it." Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) added, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'If I were there, I would show you his grave below the red sand dune at the side of the road.'"

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, The Angel of Death came to Moosa (Peace be upon him) and he said, "Answer your Lord." But Moosa struck the Angel of Death in the eye and knocked it out. The angel returned to Allah and said, "You sent me to a slave of Yours who does not wish to die." He added, "And he has knocked out my eye!" Allah then restored his eye and said, "Return to My slave and say to him, 'Is it life you desire? If you desire to live, then place your hand on the back of the bull. Then you will live as many years as the number of hairs covered by your hand.'" Moosa (Peace be upon him) asked, "Then what?" He was told, "Then death." He said, "Then now, O, my Lord, or soon!" Imam Ahmad was alone in narrating this and it is mawqoof with this wording. It was narrated by Ibn Hibban in his Saheeh, on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). Ibn Hibban was doubtful about it, and he explained it, saying, "When the Angel of Death said this, Moosa (Peace be upon him) did not know him, because he came to him in a form which Moosa (Peace be upon him) did not recognize, just as Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) came to the Prophet (Peace be upon him) in the form of a Bedouin and the angels came to Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) and Lot (Peace be upon him) in the form of young men and Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) and Lot (Peace be upon him) did not recognize them at first. Similarly, it seems likely that Moosa (Peace be upon him) did not recognize him for the same reason, and so he struck him and knocked out his eye, because he entered his house without seeking permission. This is in agreement with our law, which permits the removal of the eye of one who looks at you in your house without permission.”

Then he related the Hadith via ‘Abdur-Razzaq, on the authority of Ma‘mar, who reported on the authority of Hammam, who in turn reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “The Angel of Death came to Moosa in order to take his soul and he said to him, 'Answer your Lord.' But Moosa struck the Angel of Death in the eye and knocked out his eye.”

It was as if he did not recognize him in that form; he did not know that the angel was speaking the truth, since at that time, he had not established that it was a noble angel, for there were many things that he hoped to see occur in his lifetime, such as their departure from the wilderness and their entry into the Holy Land. But it had already been ordained by Allah that he should die in the wilderness, after his brother, Haroon (Peace be upon him), as we shall make clear, if Allah, Most High, wills.

Some of them claimed that it was Moosa (Peace be upon him) who led them out of the wilderness and into the Holy Land – and this contradicts what the People of the Scripture and the majority of the Muslims believe.

Among the proofs for this is the saying of Moosa (Peace be upon him), when he chose death, saying, “My Lord! Bring as close as a stone’s throw to the Holy Land,” and if he had entered it, he would not have said that. But when he was with his people in the wilderness and the time of his death drew near, he wished to be close to the land to which he had migrated and he encouraged his people to go there. But fate intervened between them and it by a stone’s throw.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “When I was raised up to the heaven, I passed by Moosa and he was standing in prayer in his grave, near the red sand dune.”

The Story of Yoosha'

Prophethood and His Undertaking of the Burdens of the Children of Isra'eel After the Deaths of Moosa and Haroon

He was Yoosha', son of Noon, son of Afrayeem, son of Yoosuf, son of Ya'qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel (peace be upon them all). The People of the Scriptures say that he was the cousin of Hood (Peace be upon him) and Allah has mentioned him in the Qur'an, without specifying his name, in the story of Al-Khidr, as we mentioned previously: "And (remember) when Moosa said to his servant." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:60) "So when they had passed further on (beyond that fixed place), Moosa said to his servant..." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:62) And we have mentioned previously the authentic narration of Ubayy Ibn Ka'b (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), in which he stated that he was Yoosha', son of Noon (Peace be upon him) and the People of the Scriptures concur with the view that he was a Prophet.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "One of the Prophets fought in a battle and he said to his people, 'Let no man follow me who has married a woman and wishes to consummate the marriage but has not yet done so, nor one who has built a house and has not yet erected its roof, nor one who has bought a sheep or a she-camel and he is waiting for it to deliver its young.' So he set out to do battle and neared the town at the time for 'Asr prayer, or thereabouts and he said to the sun, "You are commanded (by Allah) and I am commanded (by Allah). O, Allah! hold it (the sun) back for me for a little while." So it was held back for him until Allah granted him victory. Then they gathered the booty they had won and the fire came to burn it, but it refused to consume it. So he said, “Among you there is someone who has stolen something from the booty. So let one man from every tribe swear an oath of allegiance to me. The hand of one of them stuck to his hand and he said, “Among you are the ones who have stolen something from the booty. Let your tribe swear an oath of allegiance to me.” So his tribe swore an oath of allegiance to him and the hands of two or three men stuck to his hand and he said, “Among you are those who have stolen the booty. You are the thieves who have stolen the booty.” Then they produced for him the equivalent of a cow’s head in gold and they put it with the wealth and it was on a plateau. Then the fire accepted it and consumed it. The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) added, “The spoils of war were not made lawful for any people before us. This is because Allah saw our weakness and humility and made them lawful for us.” Muslim was alone in narrating it from this source.

What is meant is that when he led them through the gate of the city, they were commanded to enter it while bowing in submission and thanks to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful for the great victory which He had bestowed on them, and which He had promised them. And they were commanded to say as they entered the city, hittatun. That is, remove from us the sins that we committed in the past, i.e. our refusal to fight. This is why, when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) entered Makkah on the day of the conquest, he entered it – and he was riding his she-camel – in a state of submission, in order to express praise and thanks to Allah. In fact, so low did he bow his head that the tip of his beard touched the saddle of his riding beast. And with him were the soldiers, in particular, the green regiment, of whom nothing was visible except their eyes (because of their armor). When he entered it, he first bathed and then prayed eight rak‘ahs.

As for the Children of Isra’eel, they disobeyed the command given to them in word and in deed: They entered the gate, crawling on their posteriors and saying, “Habbatun fee sha’rah (a seed in a hair),” or, according to another narration, “Hintatun fee sha‘rah (a grain of wheat in a hair).” In short, they altered what they had been commanded to do and mocked it, as Allah, Most High, says about them in Soorah AlA‘raf, which is a Makkan Soorah, And (remember) when it was said to them, “Dwell in this town (Jerusalem) and eat therefrom wherever you wish, and say, ‘(O, Allah) forgive our sins.’ And enter the gate in prostration (bowing with humility). We shall forgive you your wrongdoings. We shall increase (the reward) for those who do good.” But those among them who did wrong changed the word that had been told to them. So We sent on them a punishment from heaven in return for their wrongdoings. (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:161-162)

And He, Most High, says in Soorah Al-Baqarah – which is a Madinan Soorah – addressing them, And (remember) when We said, “Enter this town (Jerusalem) and eat bountifully therein with pleasure and delight wherever you wish, and enter the gate in prostration (or bowing with humility) and say, ‘Forgive us’, and We shall forgive you your sins and shall increase (reward) for those who do good.” But those who did wrong changed the word from that which had been told to them for another, so We sent upon the wrongdoers rijzan (a punishment) from the heaven because of their refusal to obey Allah. (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:58-59) (Tafseer At-Tabari, Vol. 1, Page 305)

Mention of the Stories of Al-Khidr and Ilyas (Elias) (Peace be upon them)

As for Al-Khidr (Peace be upon him), we have already said that Moosa (Peace be upon him) traveled to him in order to seek the hidden knowledge that he possessed; and Allah relates their stories in His Book, in Soorah Al-Kahf, which we have spoken of in the tafseer of that Soorah. And here we relate the Hadith which clearly mentions Al-Khidr (Peace be upon him) and describes how Moosa (Peace be upon him), son of ‘Imran, the Prophet of the Children of Isra’eel, to whom the Towrah was sent down, traveled to see him.

Scholars have continued to disagree regarding his name, his lineage and whether or not he was a Prophet until now, voicing a number of opinions, which I will mention to you here, if Allah wills, by His Strength and His Power. Al-Hafiz Ibn ‘Asakir said, “It is said that he was Al-Khidr, son of Adam (Peace be upon him), i.e. the fruit of his loins.” Then he narrated a Hadith from Ad-Daraqutni, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), who said, “Al-Khidr is the son of Adam, the fruit of his loins. And Allah has prolonged his lifespan until the day when he will belie the Dajjal.

Ibn Qutaibah mentioned in Al-Ma‘arif, on the authority of Wahb Ibn Munabbih that Al-Khidr’s name was Balya. It was also said that he was Eelya, son of Malkan, son of Falagh, son of ‘Abir, son of Shalakh, son of Arfakhshadh, son of Sham, son of Nooh (Peace be upon him). Isma‘eel Ibn Abi Uwais said, “According to what has been conveyed to us, Al-Khidr’s name was Al-Mu’ammarr, son of Malik, son of ‘Abdullah, son of Nasr, son of Al-Azad – and Allah knows better.”

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “He was only known as Al-Khidr because when he sat upon a piece of white, barren land, it became green with plantation (after he sat on it).”

The context of the story proves that he was a Prophet from a number of aspects; one of them is the Saying of Allah, Most High: Then they found one of Our slaves, unto whom We had bestowed mercy from Us, and whom We had taught knowledge from Us. (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:65) Another is when Moosa (Peace be upon him) said to him, “May I follow you so that you teach me something of that knowledge (guidance and true path) which you have been taught (by Allah)?” He (Al-Khidr) said, “Verily! You will not be able to have patience with me! And how can you have patience about a thing which you know not?” Moosa said, “If Allah wills, you will find me patient, and I will not disobey you in aught.” He (Al-Khidr) said, “Then, if you follow me, ask me not about anything till I myself mention it to you.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:66-70) Now if he was a Wali and not a Prophet, Moosa (Peace be upon him) would not have addressed him in this manner and he would not have answered Moosa (Peace be upon him) in this way. Moosa (Peace be upon him) only asked to accompany him in order to acquire the knowledge with which Allah had favored him, and not Moosa (Peace be upon him). And if he was not a Prophet, he would not have been infallible and Moosa (Peace be upon him) – who was also a great Prophet and a noble Messenger and necessarily infallible – would not have felt any great need to acquire knowledge from a Wali, who was not necessarily infallible and he would not have decided to go to him and remain with him for an extended period of time – it was said that it was eighty years – and when he met with him, he behaved with humility toward him and followed in him in a manner that enabled him to benefit from him. This proves that he was a Prophet, like him and that he received Revelation, like him. And he was favored with hidden knowledge and Prophetic secrets which Moosa, Al-Kaleem, the noble Prophet (Peace be upon him) had not been made privy to. Ar-Rummani cited this as evidence of Al-Khidr’s Prophethood. The third aspect is that Al-Khidr killed the boy and he would not have done so unless he had been ordered to do so via Revelation from an angel. This is a separate proof of his Prophethood and a clear evidence of his infallibility, because it is not permissible for a Wali to embark on killing individuals simply based on what might enter his mind, because his notions are not infallible, since it is possible for him to make mistakes, according to the consensus of the scholars. And when Al-Khidr resolved to kill that boy, who had not yet reached maturity, it was because he knew that if he reached maturity, he would become a disbeliever and his parents might follow him into disbelief, because of their great love for him. So in killing him there was a great benefit for them, since it prevented them from falling into disbelief and being punished for that. This proves that he was a Prophet, and that he was supported by Allah with infallibility. I have seen Shaikh Abul Faraj Ibn Al-Jawzi following this path in citing the evidence for AlKhidr's Prophethood and it was declared authentic and cited as evidence by Ar-Rummani as well. The fourth aspect is that when Al-Khidr explained the reasons for his actions to Moosa (Peace be upon him) and made clear to him the truth of the matter, after all that, he said, "...as a Mercy from your Lord. And I did it not of my own accord." (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:82) That is, I did not do those things of my own accord; rather, I was commanded to do them and I received Revelation regarding them. These aspects prove that he was a Prophet and his attainment of the status of Wali, or even Messenger does not invalidate that, as others have said. As for the view that he was one of the angels, it is very strange. And if it is established that he was a Prophet, as we have mentioned, then those who claimed that he was a Wali have nothing to support their claim – although a Wali might become acquainted with the truth in matters, without being a Prophet or Messenger.

As for the difference of opinion regarding his existence in our time, the majority of scholars hold that he remains alive to this day. It was said that because Adam (Peace be upon him) was buried after they escaped from the flood, he was included in the supplication of his father, Adam (Peace be upon him), requesting long life. It was said that his longevity was due to the fact that he drank from the spring of life and so he lives on. They also mentioned reports which they cited as evidence that he remains alive until now and we shall relate them if Allah wills. And this was his advice to Moosa (Peace be upon him), when he said this, (Al-Khidr) said, “This is the parting between me and you, I will tell you the interpretation of (those) things over which you were unable to hold patience.” (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:78)

Numerous traditions which are munqati‘ah have been narrated in this regard.

Shaikh Abul-Faraj Ibn Al-Jawzi – may Allah have Mercy on him – has dealt with the Ahadeeth related in this regard that are marfoo‘ah in his book Ujalatul-Muntaziri Fee Sharhi Halat Al-Khidr and he has made clear that they are fabricated. As to the traditions from the Companions (y) and the Tabi‘oon, he has shown that their asaneed are weak, by explaining them and the ignorance of their narrators and he has succeeded in this very well and delivered an expert critique.

As for those who claimed that he has died, they include Al-Bukhari, Ibraheem Al-Harbi, Abul-Husain Al-

Munadi and Ibn Al-Jawzi, who supported the idea and wrote a Ujalatul-Muntaziri Fee Sharhi Halat Al-Khidr. And he argued on their behalf, citing a number of proofs, including the Words of Allah, Most High: And We granted not to any human being immortality before you (O, Muhammad) (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:34) So if Al-Khidr was human, then he must necessarily be included in the generality of this statement; and it is not permissible to exclude him from it without some authentic proof – and the basic principle is non-existence, unless until it is proven otherwise. And nothing has been reported from any infallible source that contains evidence that he is so excluded, which would necessitate acceptance. Another of the proofs cited by Ibn Al-Jawzi is the Saying of Allah, Most High: And (remember) when Allah took the Covenant of the Prophets, saying, “Take whatever I gave you from the Book and Hikmah (understanding of the Laws of Allah, etc.), and afterward there will come to you a Messenger (Muhammad) confirming what is with you; you must, then, believe in him and help him.” Allah said, “Do you agree (to it) and will you take up My Covenant (which I conclude with you)?” They said, “We agree.” He said, “Then bear witness; and I am with you among the witnesses (for this).” (Soorah Ali ‘Imran 3:81) ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “Allah did not send a Prophet except that He took from him a Covenant that if Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) should be sent while he was alive, he would certainly believe in him and support him. And He commanded each Prophet to take from his nation a covenant that if Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was sent during their lifetime, they would believe in him and support him. Al-Bukhari narrated this from him. Now if Al-Khidr was a Prophet or a Wali, he would be included in this covenant and if he had been alive during the time of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), he would have come to him and believed in what Allah revealed to him, and would have helped prevent any of his enemies reaching him, for if he was a Wali, then Abu Bakr As-Siddeeq was better than he; and if he was a Prophet, then Moosa (Peace be upon him) was better than he. Imam Ahmad has narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, If Moosa (Peace be upon him) was alive, he would have no alternative but to follow me.” And this is conclusive argument. And this Verse has proved that if it had happened that all of the Prophets were alive and mukallafoon during the time of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), all of them would have followed him and would have been under his orders, and they would have been obliged to live in accordance with the law that he was given, just as when he met with them on the night of AlIsra (the Night Journey), he was raised above all of them and when they descended with him to Bait AlMaqdis, and the time for prayer came, Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) conveyed to them Allah's Command that he should lead them in the prayer, which he did, in the place of their wilayah (responsibility) and the abode in which they had lived. This proves that he is the greatest Imam and the Seal of the Messengers, who has been given precedence over all of them – may Allah's choicest Blessings and Peace be upon him and upon all of them. If this is known – and it is something known to every Believer – then it must be accepted that if Al-Khidr (Peace be upon him) was alive, he would have been one of the nation of Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and among those who followed his Law and he would have had no alternative but to do so. And when 'Eesa, the son of Mary, (Peace be upon him) will descend at the end of time, he will judge in accordance with this pure Law and he will not depart from it or deviate from it; and he is one of the five Messengers known as Ulul-'Azm and the Seal of the Prophets of Banu Isra'eel. And it is well-known that it has not been transmitted in any authentic or hasan narration that Al-Khidr (Peace be upon him) met with the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) on even a single day, or that he fought with him in any battle; and on the day of the Battle of Badr, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) invoked his Lord, asking Him for help and victory against the disbelievers, saying, "O, Allah! If this small band of Muslims is destroyed, You will not be worshipped on this Earth." This small band of Muslims included the leaders of the Muslims and the leaders of the angels, including Jibraeel (Peace be upon him), as Hassan Ibn Thabit said in a Verse of one of his poems which has been called "the most splendid verse spoken by the Arabs":

Jibraeel, (Fighting) under our banner, and Muhammad."*

Now if Al-Khidr had been alive, his standing under this banner would have been the noblest position he had ever occupied and the greatest battle in which he had ever fought. Also, if he had still been alive after that, he would have transmitted the Prophetic Ahadeeth and Qur'anic Verses that he heard from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he would have denounced the fabricated Ahadeeth, the narrations that were maqloobah, the innovated opinions and the fanatical heresies. And he would have fought alongside the Muslims in their battles, attended their Friday prayers and their gatherings and benefited them (with his knowledge and wisdom) and repelled the harm that the disbelievers desired to inflict on them. He would have supported the scholars and lawmakers and corroborated their proofs and rulings. This would have the best thing said of him regarding his existence throughout time, his traversing of the deserts and tracts of land, his meetings with peoples, many of whose circumstances are unknown. No one has any doubts regarding these things that we have mentioned after he has been made to understand – and Allah guides whom He wills to the Straight Path.

And it has been authentically reported in the Saheehain and elsewhere on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) performed the 'Isha' prayer one night and then he said, "Do you know the importance of this night? Nobody present on the face of the Earth tonight will be living after one hundred years from this night." In another version, it was reported that he said, "no eye will be moving...."

Ibn Al-Jawzi said, "These authentic Ahadeeth prove conclusively that the claim that Al-Khidr is alive is incorrect. The scholars said that if Al-Khidr did not reach the era of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) – as appears most apparent – then there is no ambiguity in the matter. And if he reached his era, then this Hadith must mean that he was not alive a hundred years after that night, in which case, he must now be dead, because he is included in the generality of this statement; and the fundamental principle is that there is no exception to such a general statement, unless it is confirmed by some authentic proof which must be accepted. And Allah knows better.

As For Ilyas ...(Elias)

Allah, Most High, says, after relating the story of Moosa and Haroon (peace be upon them both) in Soorah As-Saffat, And verily, Ilyas was one of the Messengers. When he said to his people, “Will you not fear Allah? Will you call upon Ba‘l (a well-known idol of his nation whom they used to worship) and forsake the Best of creators, Allah, your Lord and the Lord of your forefathers?” But they denied him (Ilyas), so they will certainly be brought forth (to the punishment), except the chosen slaves of Allah. And We left for him (a goodly remembrance) among generations (to come) in later times. Salamun (peace) be upon Ilyaseen (Ilyas)!” Verily, thus do We reward the Muhsinoon (those who do good, who perform good deeds totally for Allah’s sake only). Verily, he was one of Our believing slaves. (Soorah As-Saffat 37:123-132)

The scholars of genealogy said that he was Ilyas Ibn Tusba. It was also said that he was the son of Ya Seen, son of Finhas, son of Al-‘Eezar, son of Haroon (Peace be upon him).

And it was said that he was Ilyas, son of Al‘azir, son of Al-‘Eezar, son of Haroon (Peace be upon him), son of ‘Imran. They (the scholars) said that he was sent to the people of Ba‘labak, which lies to the east of Damascus. He called upon them to believe in Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and to abandon the worship of their idol, which they called Ba‘l.

It was said that the idol was a woman called Ba‘l, but the first explanation is more correct. This is why he said to them, “Will you not fear Allah? Will you call upon Ba‘l and forsake the Best of creators, Allah, your Lord and the Lord of your forefathers?” (Soorah As-Saffat 37:124-126) But they belied him and opposed him and attempted to kill him. It was said that he fled from them and that he hid from them.

Makhool narrated on the authority of Ka‘b that he said, “Four Prophets are living: two of them are on Earth – Ilyas and Al-Khidr – and two of them are in the heavens – Idrees and 'Eesa (peace be upon them all).”

Mention of a Number of Prophets From Banu Isra’eel After Moosa

Ibn Jareer At-Tabari said in his Tareekh, “There is no disagreement among the scholars of the history of the people of the past and their affairs from among our nation and others, that the one who took over the affairs of Banu Isra’eel after Yoosha‘ (Peace be upon him) (Joshua) was Caleb (Kalab), son of Yuafanna, i.e. one of the companions of Moosa (Peace be upon him) and his brother-in-law. He was one of the two men from among those who feared Allah – Joshua and Caleb – and it was they who said to the Children of Isra’eel, when they refused to fight in Allah’s Cause, “Assault them through the gate, for when you are in, victory will be yours, and put your trust in Allah if you are indeed Believers.” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:23)

Ibn Jareer At-Tabari said, “Then after him, the one who undertook responsibility for the affairs of Banu Isra’eel was (Hizqeel) Ezekiel (Peace be upon him), son of Boozi, and it was he who invoked Allah and He revived . . . those who went forth from their homes in thousands, fearing death. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:243)

The Story of Hizqeel (Ezekiel ) – Peace be upon him

Allah, Most High, says, Did you (O Muhammad,) not think of those who went forth from their homes in thousands, fearing death? Allah said to them, “Die”. And then He restored them to life. Truly, Allah is full of Bounty to mankind, but most men thank not. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:243)

And Muhammad Ibn Ishaq reported on the authority of Wahb Ibn Munabbih that he said, “When Allah took Kalab, the son of Yoofanna to Him after Yoosha‘, he appointed as his successor to lead the Children of Isra’eel, Hizqeel, son of Boozi, who was the son of Al-‘Ajooz and it was he who supplicated for the people whom Allah mentioned in His Book, according to what has been conveyed to us: those who went forth from their homes in thousands, fearing death... (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:243) Ibn Ishaq said, “They fled from the plague and they camped on a raised area of land; and Allah said to them, “Die,” and they all died.”

And it was reported on the authority of As-Suddi, who in turn reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood and on the authority of other Companions that they said regarding Allah’s Words: Did you (O Muhammad,) not think of those who went forth from their homes in thousands, fearing death? Allah said to them, “Die”. And then He restored them to life. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:243) that they were the people of a town known as Dawardan, in the direction of Wasit, where the plague broke out. As a result of that, the majority of the population fled and camped in an area near to it. And (most of) those who remained in the town were destroyed, while others were saved and not many of them died. When the plague ended, they returned safely and (those who still lived from) those who had remained alive said, “These companions of ours were more prudent than we; had we done as they did, we would (all) have survived. And if the plague

returns, we shall certainly leave with them.” So when the plague returned, they fled and they numbered more than thirty thousand and they camped in a place which was a wide valley. There, an angel called them from the floor of the valley and another from the top of it, saying, “Die!” And they died. Then, when they were dead and their bodies remained lying there (decomposed), a Prophet named Hizqeel (Peace be upon him) passed by them and when he saw them, he stopped and began to think about them, twisting the corners of his mouth and his fingers. Then Allah revealed to him, “Do you wish Me to show you how I will return them to life?” He said, “Yes,” thinking only of his amazement at Allah’s Power over them. It was said to him, “Call!” So he called, “O, you bones! Allah commands you to unite!” upon which, the bones flew together until they became skeletal bodies. Then Allah revealed to him that he should call, “O, you bones! Allah commands you to be clothed in flesh!” upon which, they became covered with flesh and blood and (even) the garments in which they had died. Then it was said to him, “Call.” So he called, “O, you bodies! Allah commands you to stand up!” upon which, they stood up. Some said that Mansoor claimed, on the authority of Mujahid, that when they were brought back to life, they said, “Glorified be You, O Allah, and all praise and thanks be to You. None has the right to be worshipped except You.” Then they returned to their people alive, and their people knew that they had been dead, for they had the pallor of death on their faces and they were wearing rotted garments. Then they lived on until the time written for them. Imam Ahmad and the compilers of the Saheehain (Al-Bukhari and Muslim) narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab (May Allah be pleased with him) set out for Ash-Sham (Syria) and when he reached Sargh, the Commanders of the (Muslim) army, Abu ‘Ubaidah Ibn Al-Jarrah (May Allah be pleased with him) and his Companions met him and told him that an epidemic had broken out in Ash-Sham. ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “Call for me the early emigrants.” So ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) called them, consulted them and informed them that an epidemic had broken out in Ash-Sham. Those people differed in their opinions. Some of them said, “We have come out for a purpose and we do not think that it is proper to give it up,” while others said (to ‘Umar), “You have along with you other people and the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), so do not advise that we take them to this epidemic.” ‘Umar said to them, “Leave me now.” Then he said, “Call the Ansar for me.” I called them and he consulted them and they followed the way of the emigrants and differed as they did. He then said to them, “Leave me now,” and added, “Call for me the old people of Quraish who emigrated in the year of the Conquest of Makkah.” I called them and they gave a unanimous opinion saying, “We advise that you should return with the people and do not take them to that (place) of epidemic.” So ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) made an announcement, “I will ride back to Madinah in the morning, so you should do the same.” Abu ‘Ubaidah Ibn Al-Jarrah said (to ‘Umar), “Are you running away from what Allah has ordained?” ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “Would that someone else had said such a thing, O Abu ‘Ubaidah! Yes, we are running from what Allah has ordained to what Allah has ordained. Don’t you agree that if you had camels that went down a valley having two places, one green and the other dry, you would graze them on the green one only if Allah had ordained that, and you would graze them on the dry one only if Allah had ordained that?” At that time ‘Abdur-Rahman Ibn ‘Awf, who had been absent because of some job, came and said, “I have some knowledge about this. I have heard the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) say, ‘If you hear about it (an outbreak of plague) in a land, do not go to it; but if plague breaks out in a country where you are staying, do not run away from it.’” ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) thanked Allah and returned to Madinah.”

I say: We have already related the story of Ilyas (Peace be upon him) (Elias) following on from the story of Al-Khidr (Peace be upon him), because they are frequently mentioned together and because their story is after the story of Moosa (Peace be upon him) in Soorah As-Saffat and so we have advanced his story because of this. And Allah knows better. It has been reported that Muhammad Ibn Ishaq narrated on the authority of Wahb Ibn Munabbih that he said, “Then Ilyas’ successor, Al-Yasa‘ (Elisha) (Peace be upon him) was raised to Prophethood after him and this is his story:

The Story of Al-Yasa‘a (Elisha) – Peace be upon him

Allah has mentioned him among the Prophets in Soorah Al-An‘am in His Saying: And Isma‘eel (Ishmael) and Al-Yasa‘a (Elisha), and Yoonus (Jonah) and Loot (Lot), and each one of them We preferred above Al-‘Alameen (of their times). (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:86) And He, Most High says in Soorah Sad, And remember Isma‘eel, Al-Yasa‘a, and Zul-Kifl (Isaiah), all are among the best. (Soorah Sad 38:48). Ishaq Ibn Bishr Abu Huzaifah said, “Sa‘eed informed us on the authority of Qatadah, who reported on the authority of Al-Hasan that he said, “After Ilyas (Peace be upon him) was Al-Yasa‘a (Peace be upon him) and he remained for as long as Allah willed, calling them to Allah and holding fast to the teachings of Ilyas (Peace be upon him) and the law given to him until Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful took him.

After that, changes and corruption spread among them, innovations and sins became widespread, tyrants became numerous and they killed the Prophets. Among them was a willful, obstinate and despotic king.

Al-Hafiz Abul-Qasim Ibn ‘Asakir said in “the letter Ya” in his Tareekh, “Al-Yasa‘a – and he was AlAsbat, son of ‘Adiyy, son of Shootlam, son of Afratheem, son of Yoosuf, son of Ya‘qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel (peace be upon them all). It was also said that he was the paternal cousin of Ilyas (Peace be upon him). And it was said that he hid with him on the mountain known as Qasiyoon, from the king of Ba‘labak, that then he went with him to that land and that when Ilyas (Peace be upon him) was raised up, Al-Yasa'a (Peace be upon him) succeeded him as leader of his people and Allah appointed him as a Prophet after him.

The Story of Shamweel (Samuel) – Peace be upon him

And Therein Begins the Case of Dawood (David)

He was Shamweel (Samuel), son of Bali, son of 'Al-Qamah, son of Yarkham, son of Aleehoo, son of Tahoo, son of Zoof, son of 'Al-Qamah, son of Mahath, son of Amusa, son of Ezria. Muqatil said that he was descended from Haroon (Peace be upon him), while Mujahid said that he was Asamweel, son of Halfaqa, but he did not give details of his lineage more than this. And Allah knows better.

Allah, Most High, says in His Noble Book, Have you not thought about the group of the Children of Isra'eel after (the time of) Moosa? When they said to a Prophet of theirs, "Appoint for us a king and we will fight in Allah's Cause." He said, "Would you then refrain from fighting, if fighting was prescribed for you?" They said, "Why should we not fight in Allah's Cause, while we have been driven out of our homes and our children (families have been taken as captives)?" But when fighting was ordered for them, they turned away, all except a few of them. And Allah is Aware of the Zalimoon. And their Prophet (Samuel) said to them, "Indeed Allah has appointed Taloot (Saul) as a king over you." They said, "How can he be a king over us when we are better fitted than he for the kingdom, and he has not been given enough wealth?" He said, "Verily, Allah has chosen him above you and has increased him abundantly in knowledge and body. And Allah grants His Kingdom to whom He wills. And Allah is Sufficient for His creature's needs, All-Knowing." And their Prophet (Samuel) said to them, "Verily! The sign of His Kingdom is that there shall come to you At-Taboot (a wooden box), wherein is Sakeenah (peace and reassurance) from your Lord and a remnant of that which Moosa and Haroon left behind, carried by the angels. Verily, in this is a sign for you if you are indeed Believers.” Then, when Taloot set out with the army, he said, “Verily! Allah will try you by a river. So whoever drinks thereof, he is not of me, and whoever tastes it not, he is of me, except him who takes (thereof) in the hollow of his hand.” Yet they drank thereof, all except a few of them. So when he had crossed it (the river), he and those who believed with him, said, “We have no power this day against Jaloot (Goliath) and his hosts.” But those who knew with certainty that they were to meet their Lord, said, “How often a small group overcame a mighty host by Allah’s Leave?” And Allah is with As-Sabireen (the patient, persevering ones). And when they advanced to meet Jaloot (Goliath) and his forces, they invoked (Allah, saying), “Our Lord! Pour forth on us patience and make us victorious over the disbelieving people.” So they routed them by Allah’s Leave and Dawood (David) killed Jaloot, and Allah gave him (Dawood) the kingdom (after the death of Taloot and Samuel) and Al-Hikmah (Prophethood) and taught him of that which He willed. And if Allah did not check one set of people by means of another, the Earth would indeed be full of mischief. But Allah is full of Bounty to Al-‘Alameen. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:246-251)

Most of the scholars of tafseer said that the Prophet of the people mentioned in this story is Shamweel (Peace be upon him). It was also said that it is Sham’oon and it was said they are one and the same person. And it was also said that it is Yoosha‘ (Peace be upon him), but this is very improbable, according to what Imam Abu Ja’afar Ibn Jareer At-Tabari has narrated in his Tafseer, which states that between the death of Yoosha‘ (Peace be upon him) and the sending of Shamweel (Peace be upon him) was a period of four hundred and sixty years. And Allah knows better.

What is meant by this is that when these people had become exhausted by wars and they had been vanquished by enemies, they asked the Prophet of Allah (Peace be upon him) at that time to appoint for them a king to whom they would pledge their obedience and alongside whom they would fight their enemies. He said to them, “Would you then refrain from fighting, if fighting was prescribed for you? They said, “Why should we not fight in Allah’s way”. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:246) That is, what prevents you from fighting? “...while we have been driven out of our homes and our children (families have been taken as captives)?” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:246) They said, “We have been fought against and wronged and so it is only fitting that we should fight in defense of our children who have been taken by force and the weak among them and those who have taken away by them. He, Most High, says, But when fighting was ordered for them, they turned away, all except a few of them. And Allah is Aware of the Zalimoon. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:246). As Allah says at the end of the story, none crossed the river with the king except a few, while the rest returned and refused to fight.

And their Prophet (Samuel) said to them, “Indeed Allah has appointed Taloot as a king over you.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:247) ‘Ikrimah and As-Suddi said that he was a water carrier. Wahb Ibn Munabbih said that he was a tanner. Others mentioned other occupations. And Allah knows better. This is why they said, “How can he be a king over us when we are better fitted than he for the kingdom, and he has not been given enough wealth?” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:24) He said, “Verily, Allah has chosen him above you and has increased him abundantly in knowledge...” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:247) It was said that the knowledge was in matters pertaining to warfare; and it was said that rather, it was in all matters. “...and body.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:247) It was said that it means in height and also that it means in handsomeness. But it would appear from the context that he was the most handsome of them and the most knowledgeable of them after their Prophet (Peace be upon him). “And Allah grants His Kingdom to whom He wills.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:247) Judgment is for Him, as is the creation and all matters. “And Allah is Sufficient for His creature needs, All-Knowing.” And their Prophet (Samuel) said to them, “Verily! The sign of His Kingdom is that there shall come to you at-taboot (the wooden box), wherein is Sakeenah (peace and reassurance) from your Lord and a remnant of that which Moosa and Haroon left behind, carried by the angels. Verily, in this is a sign for you if you are indeed Believers.” (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:247,248) This is also from the blessing of the appointment of this righteous man over them and good fortune bestowed on them, that Allah returned to them the Taboot, which had been forcibly taken from them by their enemies. And aforesometimes, they had been aided in achieving victory over their enemies because of it. “...wherein is Sakeenah from your Lord and a remnant of that which Moosa and Haroon (Aaron) left behind.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:248) It was said that in it were pieces of the Tablets (on which the Ten Commandments were written) and some of the manna that had descended on them when they were in the wilderness. “...carried by the angels” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:248) means the angels will come to you bearing it and you will witness that with your own eyes, so that it will be a proof from Allah against you and a clear evidence of the truth of what I say to you and of the correctness of the appointment of this righteous king over you. This is why he said, “Verily, in this is a sign for you if you are indeed Believers.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:248) It was said that the Amalekites had seized this box, which contained the things we have mentioned, such as the Sakeenah and the blessed remnants.

And it was said that it also contained the Towrah and while it was in their possession, they placed it under an idol belonging to them in their land and in the morning they found it on the head of the idol, so they placed it under it again, but on the following day, they found the box on top of the idol. When this was repeated, they realized that it was the Work of Allah, Most High, and so they sent it out of their city, to one of their villages. But a disease afflicted their necks. When this situation had persisted for some time, they put it in a cart and tied two cows to it and sent them forth. It was said that the angels gave them water until they came to the leaders of the Children of Isra'eel, who were waiting for it, in according with the information given to them by their Prophet regarding it.

And He, Most High, says, Then, when Taloot set out with the army, he said, "Verily! Allah will try you by a river. So whoever drinks thereof, he is not of me, and whoever tastes it not, he is of me, except him who takes (thereof) in the hollow of his hand." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:249) 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and several scholars of tafseer said that it was the River Jordan, which was known as Ash-Sharee'ah. One of the commands given by Taloot to his army at the edge of the river – which was conveyed to him by the Prophet of Allah (Peace be upon him) as a test and a trial – was that if any of them drank from the river, he could not accompany Taloot into battle, except those who only took a handful of water.

Allah, Most High, says, Yet, they drank thereof, all except a few of them. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:249) AsSuddi said, "The army consisted of eighty thousand men and seventy-six thousand of them drank from it, leaving only four thousand men remaining with Taloot." And Al-Bukhari narrated in his Saheeh, on the authority of Al-Bara' Ibn 'Azib (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "We, the Companions of Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), used to say that the number of the warriors of Badr was the same as the number of Taloot's companions who crossed the river (of Jordan) with him, and none crossed the river with him but a Believer, and they were over three hundred and more than ten Believers."

As-Suddi's claim that the number of soldiers was eighty thousand is questionable, because it is not likely that an army of warriors reaching eighty thousand could have assembled in the land of Bait Al-Maqdis. And Allah knows better. Allah, Most High, says, So when he had crossed it (the river), he and those who believed with him, they said, "We have no power this day against Jaloot and his hosts.” (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:249). That is, they deemed themselves too few in numbers and too weak to stand against their enemies, when they compared their own small force with the huge numbers of their enemies. But those who knew with certainty that they were to meet their Lord, said, “How often has a small group overcome a mighty host by Allah’s Leave!” And Allah is with As-Sabiroon (the patient ones, etc.)” (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:249. Meaning the cavalry among them; and the cavalry were those who possessed faith and certainty and they were patient in the face of argument and abuse. And when they advanced to meet Jaloot (Goliath) and his forces, they invoked, “Our Lord! Pour forth on us patience and make us victorious over the disbelieving people.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:250) They asked Allah to pour on them patience, i.e. to immerse them in it from above, so that their hearts would remain steadfast and they would not fear, make their feet firm on the battlefield and strengthen the brave ones in the turmoil of battle. So they asked Allah to grant them steadfastness, both open and hidden, that He grant them victory against their enemies and His enemies among the disbelievers and the rejecters of His Signs and His Blessings and He, the Almighty, the Omnipotent, the All-Hearing, the All-Seeing, the Most Wise, the All-Knowing granted their request and caused them to achieve their objectives. This is why He says, So they routed them by Allah’s Leave. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:251) That is, by Allah’s Power, not by their own power and by Allah’s Strength and Help, not by their own strength and their numbers; and they won this victory in spite of the great numbers of the enemy, as Allah, Most High, says, And Allah has already made you victorious at Badr, when you were a weak little force. So, fear Allah much (abstain from all kinds of sins and evil deeds which He has forbidden and love Allah much, perform all kinds of good deeds which He has ordained) that you may be grateful. (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:123) And in the Words of Him, Most High: ...and Dawood killed Jaloot, and Allah gave him (Dawood) the kingdom (after the death of Taloot and Samuel) and Al-Hikmah (Prophethood), and taught him of that which He willed. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:251) There is evidence of the bravery of Dawood (Peace be upon him) and that he killed Jaloot and humiliated thereby his army and broke it; and there is no greater battle than the one in which a king kills his enemy and due to that, he captures (as booty) a huge amount of wealth, their champions are taken as captives, the word of faith is elevated over the idols, Allah's Awliya' are given ascendancy over His enemies and the Religion of Truth is made victorious over falsehood and its adherents.

The Story of Dawood (David) – Peace be upon him

He was Dawood, son of 'Eesha, son of Uwaid, son of Ba'az, son of Salmoon, son of Nahshoon, son of 'Uwainazab, son of 'Iram, son of Hisroon, son of Faras, son of Yahooza, son of Ya'qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel (peace be upon them): Allah's slave and His Prophet, and His Khaleefah in the land of Bait Al-Maqdis. Allah combined in him kingship and Prophethood, the best of this earthly life and the Afterlife. Kings belonged to one lineage and Prophets to another, but in the case of Dawood (Peace be upon him), both were combined in him. This is as Allah, Most High, says, ...and Dawood killed Jaloot, and Allah gave him (Dawood) the kingdom (after the death of Taloot and Samuel) and AlHikmah (Prophethood), and taught him of that which He willed. And if Allah did not check one set of people by means of another, the Earth would indeed be full of mischief. But Allah is full of Bounty to Al'Alameen. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:251) It means that if kings were not set up to rule over the people, the strong would devour the weak. And Allah says, And indeed We bestowed Grace on Dawood from Us (saying), "O, you mountains! Glorify (Allah) with him! And you birds (also)! And We made the iron soft for him." Saying, "Make you perfect coats of mail, balancing well the rings of chain armor, and work you (men) righteousness. Truly, I see all that you do." (Soorah Saba' 34:10,11) And He, Most High, says,

And We subjected the mountains and the birds to glorify Our Praises along with Dawood, And it was We Who was the doer (of all these things). And We taught him the making of metal coats of mail (for battles), to protect you in your fighting. Are you then grateful? (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:79,80) Allah helped him in the making of iron coats of mail, to strengthen them against their enemies and He guided him as to how to make them. He says, "...balancing well the rings of chain armor." (Soorah Saba' 34:11) That is, do not make the rivets too loose that the rings (of chain mail) will shake, or make them too tight that they will not be able to move at all, but make it just right. This was said by Mujahid, Qatadah, Al-Hakam and 'Ikrimah.

And it has been confirmed in an authentic Hadith: "The best thing that a man can eat is that which he has earned by working with his own hands. The Prophet of Allah, Dawood, used to eat from the earnings of his own hands."

And He, Most High, says, and remember Our slave Dawood, Dhul-Aydi. Verily, he was ever oftreturning in all matters and in repentance (toward Allah). Verily, We made the mountains to glorify Our Praises with him (Dawood) in the 'ashiyy (i.e. after midday till sunset) and ishraq (i.e. after sunrise till midday). And (so did) the birds assemble, all with him (Dawood) did turn (to Allah i.e. glorified His Praises). We made his kingdom strong and gave him Al-Hikmah and sound judgment in speech and decision. (Soorah Sad 38:17-20) 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and Mujahid said that Dhul-Aydi (literally, the Owner of Hands) means possessor of strength in obedience (to Allah); i.e. strong in worship and the performance of righteous deeds. Qatadah said, "He was given strength in worship and understanding of Islam." He added, "And it was reported to us that he used to stand at night (in prayer) and he would fast half of the time." And it has been confirmed in the Saheehain that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "The prayer most beloved by Allah is the prayer of Dawood

(Peace be upon him) and the fast most beloved by Allah is the fast of Dawood (Peace be upon him): he used to sleep for half of the night, then he would stand (in prayer) for a third of it and then sleep for a sixth of it. And he would fast for a day and break his fast for a day and he would not flee if he encountered (an enemy).”

And He, Most High, says, Verily, We made the mountains to glorify Our Praises with him (Dawood) in the ‘ashiyy and ishraq. And (so did) the birds assemble: all with him (Dawood) did turn (to Allah i.e. glorified His Praises). (Soorah Sad 38:18,19) This is, like His Saying: “O, you mountains! Glorify with him! And you birds (also)!” (Soorah Saba’ 34:10) This was said by ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid and others in the explanation of this Verse. Verily, We made the mountains to glorify Our Praises with him (Dawood) in the ‘ashiyy and ishraq (Soorah Sad 38:18) means at the end of the forenoon and at the start of it. This was because Allah had bestowed on him a beautiful voice, the like of which He had not given to anyone before him, so that whenever he recited His Book (the Zaboor [Psalms]), the birds would stop in the air and sing with him and glorify (Allah) with him, and likewise, the mountains responded to him and glorified (Allah) with him, singing praises with him every morning and evening – may the blessings and peace of Allah be upon him.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, that she said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) heard the voice of Abu Moosa AlAsh’ari (May Allah be pleased with him) when he was reciting (the Qur’an) and he said, “Abu Moosa has been given one of the Psalms of the people of Dawood (Peace be upon him).” And this is in accordance with the conditions for acceptance stipulated by the two Shaikhs (Al-Bukhari and Muslim), though they did not narrate it via this route. In addition to his pleasant voice, he was swift in reciting the Psalms, according to the narration of Imam Ahmad on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him), who said, The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Recitation was made easy for Dawood (Peace be upon him); he used to order that his riding beast be saddled and he would finish his recitation before it was saddled and he would not eat except from the fruits of his own labor.”

And He, Most High, says, We made his kingdom strong and gave him Al-Hikmah and sound judgment (Soorah Sad 38:20) means, We gave him a great kingdom and insightful judgment.

As to His Saying: ...and gave him Al-Hikmah. (Soorah Sad 38:20) That is, Prophethood. ...and sound judgment. Shuraih Al-Qadi, Ash-Sha‘bi and Qatadah said that and sound judgment is testimony and oaths. Qatadah said, “Two witnesses for the plaintiff or an oath on the part of the defendant is meaning of sound judgment.” This is the sound judgment which the Prophets and Messengers judged and the believers and righteous accepted. This is the basis of this Ummah’s judicial system until the Day of Resurrection. This was the view of Abu ‘Abdur-Rahman As-Sulami. Mujahid and As-Suddi said that it means passing the right judgment and understanding the case. Mujahid also said, “It is soundness in speech and in judgment, and this includes all of the above.” This is what is meant, and it is the view favored by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari.

And Allah, Most High, says, And has the news of the litigants reached you? When they climbed over the wall into (his) mihrab (a praying place or a private room). When they entered upon Dawood, he was terrified of them, they said, “Fear not! (We are) two litigants, one of whom has wronged the other, therefore judge between us with truth, and treat us not with injustice, and guide us to the Right Way. Verily, this my brother (in religion) has ninety-nine ewes, while I have (only) one ewe, and he says, “Hand it over to me, and he overpowered me in speech.” (Dawood) said (immediately without listening to the opponent), “He has wronged you in demanding your ewe in addition to his ewes. And, verily, many partners oppress one another, except those who believe and do righteous good deeds, and they are few.” And Dawood guessed that We had tried him and he sought Forgiveness of his Lord, and he fell down prostration and turned (to Allah) in repentance. So We forgave him that, and verily, for him is a near access to Us and a good place of (final) return (Paradise). (Soorah Sad 38:21-25)

Many of the scholars of tafseer from among the earlier and later scholars have related stories and reports in explanation of these Verses, but most of them are Isra'eeliyyat and they include fabricated stories which we have no alternative but to omit from our book. So it is better to speak briefly of this story and refer knowledge of it to Allah, may He be exalted. And Allah guides whom He wills to the Straight Path.

Allah, Most High, says, So We forgave him that, and verily, for him is a near access to Us and a good place of (final) return (Paradise). (Soorah Sad 38:25) That is, on the Day of Resurrection, he will be brought close to Allah by virtue of his good deeds, as confirmed in the Hadith: “Behold! the Dispensers of Justice will be seated on pulpits of light, on the right side of the Merciful, Exalted and Glorious. Either side of Him is the right side, both being equally meritorious. (The Dispensers of Justice are) those who do justice in their rules, in matters relating to their families and in all that they undertake to do.”

Scholars have differed regarding whether the prostration of Soorah Sad is obligatory or one of thanks. There are two opinions in this matter:

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Al-'Awwam that he said, “I asked Mujahid about the prostration of Soorah Sad and he said, “I asked Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), “Why do you prostrate?” He said, “Have you not read ...and among his progeny Dawood, Sulaiman. (Soorah Al-An'am 6:84) (and) They are those whom Allah had guided. So follow their guidance. (Soorah Al-An'am 6:90) So Dawood (Peace be upon him) was one of those whom your Prophet was commanded to follow. Dawood (Peace be upon him) prostrated here so the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) also prostrated here.”

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said regarding the prostration in Soorah Sad, “It is not one of the obligatory prostrations, but I have seen the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) prostrating in it.”

Al-Bukhari, Abu Dawood, At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasa’i narrated likewise on the authority of Ayyoob and At-Tirmidhi said that it is hasan-saheeh. An-Nasa’i said, “Ibraheem Ibn Al-Hasan Al-Maqsami told me: ‘Hajjaj Ibn Muhammad related to us on the authority of ‘Umar Ibn Dharr, who in turn reported on the authority of his father, who likewise reported on the authority of Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) prostrated in Soorah Sad and he said, Dawood (Peace be upon him) performed this prostration out of repentance and we perform it out of thanks.’” Ahmad was alone in narrating this, but all of the men (in the chain of narrators) are trustworthy.

Ibn Abi Hatim said, “It was reported on the authority of Malik Ibn Deenar that he said regarding the Words of Allah: ...and verily, for him is a near access to Us and a good place of (final) return (Paradise). (Soorah Sad 38:25) “Dawood will stand on the Day of Resurrection at the foot of the Throne and Allah will say, “O, Dawood! Glorify Me on this Day with that fine and pleasant voice with which you used to glorify Me in the life of the world.” Dawood (Peace be upon him) will say, “How, when You have taken it?” Then Allah will say, “Verily, I return it to you.” Then Dawood (Peace be upon him) will lift up his voice in a manner that will bring forth all of the felicities and delights of the Gardens (of Paradise).” O, Dawood! Verily! We have placed you as a successor on Earth, so judge you between men in truth (and justice) and follow not your desire for it will mislead you from the Path of Allah. Verily! Those who wander astray from the Path of Allah (shall) have a severe punishment, because they forgot the Day of Reckoning. (Soorah Sad 38:26) This was an address from Allah, Most High, to Dawood (Peace be upon him) and what is meant by this is the rulers and governors of the people; He commanded them to be just and to follow the truth sent down from Allah and no other opinions or fancies. And He warned those who follow something other than that and judge according to something other than that, of a severe punishment. And Dawood (Peace be upon him) was the model at that time of justice and frequent worship and all deeds through which one may draw near to Allah (taqarrubat), to such a degree that he would pass an hour of the day or night without the members of his household being engaged in acts of worship, as He, Most High, says, "Work you, O, family of Dawood, with thanks!" But few of My slaves are grateful. (Soorah Saba' 34:13)

Al-Hafiz Ibn 'Asakir reported many pleasant and agreeable things in The Biography of Dawood (Peace be upon him), such as his saying: "Be toward the orphan as a compassionate father." And: "Know that as you sow, so shall you reap." And he narrated with a chain of narrators that is ghareeb and marfoo' that Dawood (Peace be upon him) said, "O, you sower of evil deeds! You shall reap their thorns and their hasak." And it was reported from Dawood (Peace be upon him) that he said, "The likeness of a foolish orator in the meeting place of the people is as the likeness of the one who sings at the head of a dead person." He also said, "How ignominious is poverty after wealth, yet how much worse than that is error after guidance." And he said, "Think of something that you would hate to be said of you in the meeting place of the people and do not do it when you are alone." And he said, "Never promise your brother that which you do not fulfill for him, for that is enmity between you and him."

And the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "The best fast is the fast of Dawood (Peace be upon him).” He used to recite the Zaboor in seventy different recitations... and he used to bow in prayer at night and weep in it and everything would weep along with him; and his voice would alleviate the troubled and the sick.

A Description of Dawood's Death

As for his death – may Allah’s Peace be upon him – Imam Ahmad narrated in his Musnad, on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him), that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Dawood (Peace be upon him) was intensely protective and solicitous of his family and whenever he went out, he would lock the door and no one would visit his family until he returned. He went out one day and the house was locked. His wife happened to look out and saw a man standing in the middle of the courtyard. She said to those within in the house, “From where did this man enter when the house is locked? By Allah, we will bring disgrace on Dawood.” Then Dawood (Peace be upon him) arrived and found the man standing in the middle of the house and he said to him, “Who are you?” He said, “I am the one who fears not the kings and who may not be prevented by a barrier.” Dawood (Peace be upon him) said, “Then by Allah, you are the Angel of Death; I welcome Allah’s Commandment.” Then he remained until his soul had been taken. When he had been washed and shrouded and all matters pertaining to him had been completed, the sun rose upon him and Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) said to the birds, “Shade Dawood,” so they shaded him until the earth covered him. Then Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) said to the birds, “Grasp your wings.” Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) said that at this point in the story, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) grasped his hand to show them what the birds did. On that day, most of the shade was provided by falcons with large wingspans.

The Story of Sulaiman (Solomon), Son of Dawood – Peace be upon him

Al-Hafiz Ibn ‘Asakir said that he was Sulaiman, son of Dawood, son of ‘Eesa, son of ‘Owaid, son of Ba‘az, son of Salmoon, son of Nahshoon, son of Aminazab, son of Iram, son of Hasroon, son of Faras, son of Yahooda, son of Ya‘qoob, son of Ishaq, son of Ibraheem, Abur-Rabee‘ (peace be upon them), the Prophet of Allah, son of the Prophet of Allah.

Allah, Most High, says, And Sulaiman inherited Dawood. He said, “O, mankind! We have been taught the language of birds, and on us have been bestowed all things. This, verily, is an evident Grace.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:16) That is, he inherited Prophethood and the throne of his father. It does not refer to wealth, because Dawood (Peace be upon him) had other sons and he would not favor him over the others. It has been confirmed in authentic Ahadeeth from more than one source, on the authority of a number of the Companions that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “We do not bequeath our property to anyone; what we leave is given in charity.” And in another version: “We, the community of Prophets, are not inherited.” So the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) has informed us that the Prophets’ wealth is not inherited from them, as other people’s wealth is inherited. Rather, their wealth is given in charity after their death to the poor and needy. It is not given to their kin, because the life of this world was considered of too little value by them for them to do that, as it was in the Sight of Him Who sent them, chose them and preferred them. He says, “O, mankind! We have been taught the language of birds.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:16) This means that Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) understood the language by which the birds used to converse with each other and was able to interpret for the people their meanings and their desires.

And He, Most High, says, “...and on us have been bestowed all things.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:16) That is, everything that the king needs, including numbers, materials, troops, armies, hosts from among the Jinn and mankind, birds, wild animals, free roaming devils, knowledge, understanding and the ability to read the minds of Allah's creatures, both those that speak and those that do not.

Then He says, "This, verily, is an evident Grace" (Soorah An-Naml 27:16) means from the Originator of all creatures and the Creator of the heavens and the Earth, as He, Most High says, And there were gathered before Sulaiman his hosts of Jinn and men and birds, and they all were set in battle order (marching forward). Till when they came to the valley of the ants, one of the ants said, "O, ants! Enter your dwellings, lest Sulaiman and his hosts crush you, while they perceive not." So he (Sulaiman) smiled, amused at her speech and said, "My Lord! Awzi'nee that I may be grateful for Your Favors which You have bestowed on me and on my parents, and that I may do righteous good deeds that will please You, and admit me by Your Mercy among Your righteous slaves." (Soorah An-Naml 27:17-19)

Allah, Most High, informs us about His Prophet, the son of His Prophet, Sulaiman, son of Dawood, of how he rode with his army one day, all of them from the jinn, mankind and the birds; the jinn and men marched with him, while the birds flew over him, shading him and the others with their wings from the heat of the sun. And there were three men charged with the task of keeping each row straight, i.e. officers who organized the ranks into straight lines, so that no one advanced from his designated marching place or lagged behind it. Allah, Most High, says, Till when they came to the valley of the ants, one of the ants said, "O, ants! Enter your dwellings, lest Sulaiman and his hosts crush you, while they perceive not." (Soorah An-Naml 27:18) So it commanded and warned and excused Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) and his armies, due to the fact that they were unaware (of the ants' presence). Wahn said that he (Sulaiman) was sitting on a carpet in a valley in At-Ta'if and that this ant's name was Jarsa and that it belonged to a colony called Banu Shaisaban, that she was lame and that she was the same size as a wolf, but these claims are doubtful. Indeed, the wording of the Verse indicates that he was riding with his army at the time, not, as some claimed, sitting on a carpet. This is because, if it had been as they said, the ants would not have been harmed in any way by him, nor would they have been trampled.

What is intended is that Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) understood the words of good advice which that ant addressed to its community and he smiled at that, out of a feeling of delight and happiness at the gift which Allah had bestowed on him alone. It is not as some of the foolish people claim, that before Sulaiman (Peace be upon him), the animals of the earth used to converse with mankind, until Sulaiman, son of Dawood took from them a covenant which silenced them, after which they did not converse with mankind. All of this is only claimed by those who do not know. If it were so, Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) would not have any superiority over others due to his understanding of their languages, since all of mankind – according to their claim – would have understood them. And if he had taken a covenant from them not to speak to anyone other than him, while he understood them, there would have been no benefit in this either. This is why he said, My Lord “Awzi‘nee...” (Soorah An-Naml 27:19). That is, inspire me and guide me “...that I may be grateful for Your Favors which You have bestowed on me and on my parents, and that I may do righteous good deeds that will please You, and admit me by Your Mercy among Your righteous slaves.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:19) So he asked Allah to ordain for him gratitude for the Blessing that He had bestowed on him and the superiority that He had granted to him over other men. He also asked Him to make it easy for him to perform righteous deeds and to gather him when he should, with His righteous slaves. And Allah, Most High, acceded to his supplication. What is meant by his parents is his father, Dawood (Peace be upon him) and his mother, who was one of the righteous slaves (of Allah).

He, Most High, says, He inspected the birds, and said, “What is the matter that I see not the hoopoe? Or is he among the absentees? I will surely punish him with a severe punishment, or slaughter him, unless he brings me a clear reason.” But the hoopoe stayed not long, he said, “I have grasped that which you have not grasped and I have come to you from Saba’ (Sheba) with sure news. I found a woman ruling over them, and she has been given all things and she has a great ‘arsh. I found her and her people worshipping the sun instead of Allah, and Shaitan has made their deeds fair-seeming to them, and has barred them from (Allah’s) Way, so they have no guidance Al-la (this word has two interpretations) (a) (as Shaitan has barred them from Allah’s Way) so that they do not worship (prostrate before) Allah, or (b) So that they may worship (prostrate before) Allah, Who brings to light what is hidden in the heavens and the Earth, and knows what you conceal and what you reveal.” (Tafseer At-Tabari, Vol. 19, page 149) Allah, la ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), the Lord of the Supreme Throne! (Sulaiman) said, “We shall see whether you speak the truth or you are (one) of the liars. Go you with this letter of mine, and deliver it to them, then draw back from them, and see what (answer) they return.” She said, “O, chiefs! Verily! Here is delivered to me a noble letter. Verily, it is from Sulaiman, and verily! It (reads), “In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful: “Be you not exalted against me, but come to me as Muslims (true Believers who submit to Allah with full submission).” She said, “O, chiefs! Advise me in (this) case of mine. I decide no case till you are present with me.” They said, “We have great strength, and great fortitude, but it is for you to command; so think over what you will command.” She said, “Verily! kings, when they enter a town (country), they despoil it, and make the most honorable amongst its people low. And thus they do. But verily, I am going to send him a present, and see with what (answer) the messengers return.” So when (the messengers with the present) came to Sulaiman, he said, “Will you help me in wealth? What Allah has given me is better than that which He has given you! Nay, you rejoice in your gift!” (Then Sulaiman said to the chief of her messengers who brought the present), “Go back to them. We verily shall come to them with hosts that they cannot resist, and we shall drive them out from there in disgrace, and they will be abased.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:20-37)

Allah, Most High, tells us about the affair of Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) and the hoopoe, describing how the birds of all kinds came, fulfilling what he requested from them and coming to him in rotation, as is the custom of armies with kings. And the job of the hoopoe – according to what Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and others said – was, when they were in need of water in the deserts during their travels, it would come and see if there was water for them in a certain spot. It had an ability given to it by Allah, Most High, which allowed it to see water underground. When it had shown them where to find it, they would dig for it, find it, extract it and use as much of it as they needed. So when Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) called for it one day, he did not find it in its place of service. He inspected the birds, and said, “What is the matter that I see not the hoopoe? Or is he among the absentees?” (Soorah An-Naml 27:20) means why is he missing from here? Has he absented himself from my sight, so that I do not see him before me? “I will surely punish him with a severe punishment.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:21). He threatened him with some kind of punishment. Scholars disagreed as to what the nature of that punishment was, but the result is the same, no matter what kind of punishment it was. “...or slaughter him, unless he brings me a clear reason” (Soorah An-Naml 27:21) means a reason that saves him from this predicament. Allah, Most High says, But the hoopoe stayed not long. (Soorah An-Naml 27:22). That is, the hoopoe remained absent for only a short time, then he came back and he said to Sulaiman (Peace be upon him), “I have grasped that which you have not grasped...” (Soorah An-Naml 27:22) That is, I have obtained information of something which is unknown to you. “...and I have come to you from Saba’ (Sheba) with sure news” (Soorah An-Naml 27:22) meaning with true information. “I found a woman ruling over them, and she has been given all things that could be possessed by any ruler of the Earth, and she has a great throne.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:23) He described the great kingdom ruled over by the kings of Saba’ in Yemen. At that time, the crown had been inherited by a woman from among them, who was the daughter of a king who had not left any other heir besides her, so they made her their queen.

Ath-Tha‘labi narrated on the authority of Abu Bakrah that he said, “I mentioned Bilqees in the presence of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he said, “Any people who appoint a woman to rule over them will not be successful.” Isma‘eel Ibn Muslim (one of the narrators) is Al-Makki and he is weak. But it has been confirmed in Saheeh Al-Bukhari on the authority of Abu Bakrah (May Allah be pleased with him) that when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was informed that the people of Persia had crowned the daughter of Kisra (Khosrau) as their queen he said, “A people who appoint a woman as their leader will never be successful.”

And He, Most High, says, “...and she has been given all things.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:23) That is, everything that kings are given. “...and she has a great ‘arsh” (Soorah An-Naml 27:23) means the throne of her kingdom, which was inlaid with all kinds of precious stones, pearls, gold and dazzling gems. Then he mentioned their disbelief in Allah, their worship of the sun, to the exclusion of Allah, Shaitan's misguidance of them and his hindering of them from worshipping Allah, Alone, without partners Who brings to light what is hidden in the heavens and the earth, and knows what you conceal and what you reveal. (Soorah An-Naml 27:25) It means that He knows everything that is hidden in the heavens and on earth and He knows what His servants say and do in secret, and what they say and do openly. Allah, la ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), the Lord of the Supreme Throne! (Soorah An-Naml 27:26) That is, to Him belongs the Supreme Throne, besides which there is no greater throne among the created things. On hearing this, Sulaiman (Peace be upon him)

sent with him a letter containing an invitation to declare their obedience to Allah and to His Messenger (Peace be upon him), to turn to Him in repentance and to submit in humility to His Dominion and His Authority, which is why He said to them, “Be you not exalted against me...” (Soorah An-Naml 27:31) That is, do arrogantly refuse to obey me and follow my commands. “...but come to me as Muslims (true Believers who submit to Allah with full submission).” (Soorah An-Naml 27:31) That is, come to me as those who hear and obey, without argument or hesitation. When the letter came to them with the bird, then the people took the letter but what has the ground to do with the Pleiades? This paper was with a bird who heard and obeyed, who understood and had knowledge of what was said. And more than one of the scholars of tafseer and other scholars have mentioned that the hoopoe bore the letter and arrived at her palace, where he dropped it on her while she was alone. Then he stood at one side and waited to see what her reply to the letter would be. She gathered her governors, ministers and the leading members of the country in order to seek their advice. She said, “O, chiefs! Verily, here is delivered to me a noble letter.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:29) Then she read the first line of the letter to them: “Verily, it is from Sulaiman.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:30) Then she read the letter: “In the Name of Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful, Be you not exalted against me, but come to me as Muslims (true believers who submit to Allah with full submission).” (Soorah An-Naml 27:30) Then she asked their advice regarding the letter and what had befallen her. She behaved courteously toward them and addressed them and they listened to her. She said, “O, chiefs! Advise me in (this) case of mine. I decide no case till you are present with me.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:32) That is, I do not settle or determine any matter unless you are present. They said, “We have great strength and great fortitude” (Soorah An-Naml 27:33) means, we possess (military) strength and have the ability to fight and oppose their warriors, so if you desire us to do that, we are fully able to do so. “...but it is for you to command; so think over what you will command.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:33) So they expressed their commitment to hear and obey and they informed her of their readiness for war, but they left it to her to decide what the best guidance for her and for them was. Her opinion was better and more correct than theirs, for she realized that the writer of this letter could not be defeated, thwarted, opposed or deceived. She said, “Verily! kings, when they enter a town (country), they despoil it, and make the most honorable amongst its people low. And thus they do.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:34) She gave her sensible opinion, which was that if this king defeated her kingdom, the responsibility would be hers alone and their enmity would be mainly directed toward her, as the ruler. “But verily, I am going to send him a present, and see with what (answer) the messengers return.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:35). She decided to cooperate with him, in order to protect herself and her people, by sending a gift to Sulaiman (Peace be upon him), but she did not know that Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) would not accept a gift from them in such circumstances, because they were disbelievers and he and his armies were able to defeat them, which is why when (the messengers with the present) came to Sulaiman, he said, “Will you help me in wealth? What Allah has given me is better than that which He has given you! Nay, you rejoice in your gift!” (Soorah An-Naml 27:36) This was in spite of the fact that those gifts were magnificent, according to what the scholars of tafseer have said.

Then he said to her messenger and the delegation she had sent to him – while the people were gathered and were listening – “Go back to them. We verily shall come to them with hosts that they cannot resist, and we shall drive them out from there in disgrace, and they will be abased.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:37) He said: Return with the gifts that you have presented to me to the one who bestowed them, for the wealth, gifts and men with which Allah has blessed me are better and more numerous than that which pleases you so much and due to which you glory over the rest of mankind. “We verily shall come to them with hosts that they cannot resist.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:37) It means that I will surely send upon them armies against which they will be unable to defend themselves and I will surely expel them from their land, their estates, their businesses and their country belittled. "...and they will be abased." (Soorah An-Naml 27:37) That is, upon them will be heaped humiliation, disgrace and ruin. When this was conveyed to them from the Prophet of Allah (Peace be upon him), they had no alternative but to hear and obey. They hastened to answer him in that hour and they went to their queen together in obedience to Sulaiman's command. When Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) heard of their delegation, he said to those of the Jinn who were in his presence and who were subjugated to him, "O, chiefs! Which of you can bring me her throne before they come to me surrendering themselves in obedience?" An 'Ifreet from the Jinn said, "I will bring it to you before you rise from your place (council). And verily, I am indeed strong and trustworthy for such work." One with whom was knowledge of the Scripture said, "I will bring it to you within the twinkling of an eye!" then, when (Sulaiman) saw it placed before him, he said, "This is by the Grace of my Lord to test me whether I am grateful or ungrateful! And whoever is grateful, truly, his gratitude is for (the good of) his ownself, and whoever is ungrateful, certainly, my Lord is Rich (Free of all wants), Bountiful." He said, "Disguise her throne for her that we may see whether she will be guided (to recognize her throne), or she will be one of those not guided." So when she came, it was said (to her), "Is your throne like this?" She said, "(It is) as though it were the very same." And (Sulaiman) said, "Knowledge was bestowed on us before her, and we submitted to Allah (in Islam as Muslims before her)." And that which she used to worship besides Allah has prevented her, for she was of a disbelieving people. It was said to her, "Enter as-sarh," (a glass surface with water underneath it or a palace), but when she saw it, she thought it was a pool, and she (tucked up her clothes) uncovering her legs, Sulaiman said, "Verily, it is sarh (a glass surface with water underneath it or a palace) paved smooth with glass." She said, "My Lord! Verily, I have wronged myself, and I submit (in Islam), together with Sulaiman, to Allah, the Lord of Al'Alameen." (Soorah An-Naml 27:38-44)

When Sulaiman requested from the jinn that they bring him the throne of Bilqees (Saba'), which was the seat of her kingdom on which she used to sit when passing judgment, before her arrival in Sulaiman's court. An 'Ifreet from the jinn said, "I will bring it to you before you rise from your place (council)" (Soorah An-Naml 27:39) means, before he could complete his judgments. It was said that this council customarily took place from early in the morning until just before midday; during this council, he would busy himself with the affairs and concerns of Banu Isra'eel. "And verily, I am indeed strong and trustworthy for such work." (Soorah An-Naml 27:39) That is, I possess the ability to bring it to you and I can be trusted with the precious stones in it. One with whom was knowledge of the Scripture said... (Soorah An-Naml 27:40) It is well-known that his name was Asif Ibn Barkhiya, who was the maternal cousin of Sulaiman (Peace be upon him). It was also said that he was a man from among the Believers of the jinn who knew the Greatest Name of Allah. It was also said that he was a man from among Banu Isra'eel and that he was one of their scholars. And it was said that he was Sulaiman (Peace be upon him), but this is a very strange claim. It was dismissed as weak by As-Suhaili, on the basis that it was incompatible with the wording. It was also said that there was a fourth opinion, which was that the speaker was Jibraeel. "I will bring it to you within the twinkling of an eye!" (Soorah An-Naml 27:40) It was said that the meaning is: before you can send a messenger to the farthest point on the Earth which your eye can see and he can return to you. It was also said that it means: before the farthest person you can see can reach you. And it was said that it means: before your glance becomes weary and you blink your eye. It was also said that it means: before you can close your eyes. And it was also said that it means: before your glance can return to you, when you look toward the farthest point from you, then you close your eyes. And this seems most likely of all these sayings. Then, when (Sulaiman) saw it placed before him... (Soorah An-Naml 27:40) means when he saw the throne of Bilqees placed in front of him in this short space of time from the land of Yemen to Bait Al-Maqdis, in the blink of an eye, he said,

“This is by the Grace of my Lord to test me whether I am grateful or ungrateful!” (Soorah An-Naml 27:41) That is, this is from Allah’s Favor upon me and upon His slaves, to test us and see if we are grateful for that Favor or not. And whoever is grateful, truly, his gratitude is for (the good of) his ownself. (Soorah An-Naml 27:40) That is, the benefit of that gratitude will only accrue to him. "and whoever is ungrateful, certainly, my Lord is Rich (Free of all wants), Bountiful.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:40) means that He is in no need of the thanks of those who show gratitude and He is not harmed by the ingratitude of those who are ungrateful to Him. Then Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) ordered that the throne’s adornments be altered and disguised so that she would not recognize it, in order to test her understanding and her intelligence, which is why he said, “Disguise her throne for her that we may see whether she will be guided (to recognize her throne), or she will be one of those not guided.” So when she came, it was said (to her), “Is your throne like this?” She said, “(It is) as though it were the very same.” (Soorah An-Naml 27:41,42) This was due to her astuteness and deep understanding, because she considered it unlikely that it could be her throne, since she had left it behind in the land of Yemen and she knew of no one who was able to do such an amazing thing. Allah, Most High, says, informing us about Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) and his people, “Knowledge was bestowed on us before her, and we submitted to Allah (in Islam as Muslims before her).” And that which she used to worship besides Allah has prevented her, for she was of a disbelieving people. (Soorah An-Naml 27:42,43) That is, the worship of the sun, before which she and her people used to prostrate, instead of to Allah, prevented her from embracing Islam. They did this because they followed the religion of their fathers and their forefathers; no evidence led them or urged them to do so. Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) had ordered the construction of a palace made of glass and he ordered them to make a passageway of water, over which a glass floor was placed. In the water he had placed fish and other aquatic creatures. The Queen of Saba’ was ordered to enter the palace, where she found Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) sitting on his throne. ...But when she saw it, she thought it was a pool, and she (tucked up her clothes) uncovering her legs, Sulaiman said, "Verily, it is sarh (a glass surface with water underneath it or a palace) paved smooth with glass." She said, "My Lord! Verily, I have wronged myself, and I submit (in Islam), together with Sulaiman, to Allah, the Lord of Al'Alameen." (Soorah An-Naml 27:44)

And He, Most High, says, And to Dawood We gave Sulaiman. How excellent (a) slave! Verily, he was ever oft-returning in repentance (to Us)! When there were displayed before him in the afternoon, welltrained horses of the highest breed (for jihad [holy fight in Allah's Cause]). And he said, "I did love the good (these horses) instead of remembering my Lord (in my 'Asr prayer)," till the time was over and it had hidden in the veil (of night). Then he said, "Bring them (horses) back to me." Then he began to pass his hand over their soeq and their a'naq (till the end of the display). And indeed We did try Sulaiman and We placed on his throne Jasad (a devil, so he lost his kingdom for a while) but he did return (to his throne and kingdom by the Grace of Allah and he did return) to Allah with obedience and in repentance. He said, "My Lord! Forgive me and bestow upon me a kingdom such as shall not belong to any other after me: verily, You are the Bestower." So We subjected to him the wind; it blew gently to his order whithersoever he willed, and also the Shayateen (devils) from the Jinn (including) every kind of builder and diver. And also others bound in fetters. (Saying of Allah to Sulaiman), "This is Our gift, so spend you or withhold, no account will be asked." And verily, he enjoyed a near access to Us and a good final return (Paradise)." (Soorah Sad 38:30-40)

Allah, Most High, relates how He granted Dawood (Peace be upon him) a son, Sulaiman (Peace be upon him), then He praises them both, saying, How excellent (a) slave! Verily, he was ever oft-returning in repentance (to Us)! (Soorah Sad 38:30) That is, oft-returning to Allah and obedient to Him. Then Allah relates the story of the horses which were safinat, i.e. those which stand on three legs and raise the fourth. They were outstanding horses, lean and swift. And he said, "I did love the good (these horses) instead of remembering my Lord (in my 'Asr prayer)," till the time was over and it had hidden in the veil (of night) (Soorah Sad 38:32) means the sun, or it was said, the horses. "Bring them (horses) back to me." Then he began to pass his hand over their soooq and their a'naq (till the end of the display). (Soorah Sad 38:33) It was said that their hamstrings and their necks were struck with swords. It was also said that he began patting the horses' heads and legs out of love for them. Most of the Salaf supported the first interpretation; they said that he was busily engaged with the presentation of those horses until the time for offering the 'Asr prayer had departed and the sun had set. This was narrated on the authority of 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) and others. What is certain is that he did not intentionally neglect the prayer, without permission, though it was said that he was engaged in watering them and so he delayed the prayer for reasons of jihad – and the presentation of the horses was a part of that.

He, Most High, says, And indeed We did try Sulaiman and We placed on his throne Jasad (a devil, so he lost his kingdom for a while) and he did return (to Allah with obedience and in repentance, and to his throne and kingdom by the Grace of Allah. (Soorah Sad 38:34) Ibn Jareer At-Tabari, Ibn Abi Hatim and other scholars of tafseer related here a number of traditions from a group of the Salaf, but most, if not all of them are taken from Isra'eeliyyat – and in many of them there are extremely unacceptable things.

It is reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Al-'As (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "When Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) built Bait Al-Maqdis, he asked his Lord, the Almighty, the All-powerful for three things; Allah granted him two of them and we hope that the third will be granted to us. He asked Him for judgment that concurred with His Judgment and He granted him that; he asked Him for a kingdom the like of which no one after him would ever enjoy and He granted him that; He also asked Him that if any man left his house desiring nothing but prayer in this mosque, he would leave behind his sins, like he was on the day on which his mother gave birth to him. And we hope that Allah has granted this to us.”

As for the judgment which agreed with Allah’s Judgment, Allah has praised him and his father, Dawood (Peace be upon him) in His Words: And (remember) Dawood and Sulaiman, when they gave judgment in the case of the field in which the sheep of certain people had pastured at night and We were witness to their judgment. And We made Sulaiman to understand (the case), and to each of them We gave Hukman (right judgment of the affairs and Prophethood) and knowledge. And We subjected the mountains and the birds to glorify Our Praises along with Dawood, And it was We Who was the Doer (of all these things). (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:78,79) Shuraih Al-Qadi and more than one of the Salaf have mentioned that these people owned grapevines and the sheep of some other people ate them during the night, consuming the whole vine. They took their case to Dawood (Peace be upon him) for judgment and he ruled in favor of the owners of the grapevines, saying that the owners of the sheep must pay them the full value of what their sheep had consumed. When they came out, Sulaiman asked them, “What did the Prophet of Allah judge for you?” They said, “Such-and-such.” He said, “Were I the judge, I would have not ruled except that the owners of the sheep hand them over to the owners of the grapevines, so that they could benefit from their offspring and milk, until the owners of the sheep had repaired the grapevines and returned them to the condition they were in previously, after which their sheep would be returned to them. When this was conveyed to Dawood (Peace be upon him), he ruled accordingly.

In Soorah Sad, Allah, Most High, says, So We subjected to him the wind, it blew gently to his order whithersoever he willed and also the Shayateen (devils) from the Jinn (including) every kind of builder and diver and also others bound in fetters. (Saying of Allah to Sulaiman), “This is Our gift, so spend you or withhold, no account will be asked.” And verily, he enjoyed a near access to Us and a good final return (Paradise). (Soorah Sad 38:36-40) When he gave up the horses, seeking thereby Allah’s Countenance, Allah replaced them for him with the wind, which is faster, stronger and greater and entailed no trouble or expense for him (unlike the horses). ...it blew gently to his order whithersoever he willed. (Soorah Sad 38:36) That is, wherever he wished from any country; it seems that he had a wooden platform, on which he could place all that he needed, such as erected houses, palaces and tents, goods, horses, camels, loads, men from among mankind and the jinn and other things, such as animals and birds. Then, when he wanted to travel or go on a pleasure trip, or make war on a king or enemies from any land that Allah willed, when the aforementioned things had been loaded on the platform, he would command the wind and it would get underneath it and raise it up. Then, when it was raised up between the heaven and the Earth, he would order it to blow gently and it would proceed with him. If he wanted to go faster than that, he would command the storm and it would carry him at the fastest possible speed and put him down in any place he wished, so that he would set out from Bait Al-Maqdis in the early part of the day and the wind would come and take him to Istakhr (in Persia) and he would remain there throughout the morning hours until midday, then the wind would return him to Bait Al-Maqdis, as Allah, Most High, says, And to Sulaiman We subjected the wind, its morning (stride from sunrise till midday) was a month’s (journey), and its afternoon (stride from the midday decline of the sun to sunset) was a month’s (journey i.e. in one day he could travel two months’ journey). And We caused a fount of qitr to flow for him, and there were Jinn that worked in front of him, by the Leave of his Lord, and whosoever of them turned aside from Our Command, We shall cause him to taste of the punishment of the blazing Fire. They worked for him what he desired, (making) high rooms, images, jifan like jawab and qudoor rasiyat. “Work you, O family of Dawood, with thanks!” But few of My slaves are grateful. (Soorah Saba’ 34:12,13) Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, “He used to set out in the morning from Damascus and he would alight at Istakhr, where he would take lunch. From there he would travel to Kabul (in Turkey); and the distance between Damascus and Istakhr was one month’s travel, while the distance between Istakhr and Kabul is also one month’s travel.” I say: The scholars of buildings and towns say that Istakhr was built by the jinn of Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) and that in ancient times, it had been the seat of power of the Turks. They said that likewise, numerous cities, such as Tadmur, Bait Al-Maqdis, Bab Jairoon and Bab Al-Bareed, which are both in Damascus were built by them.

As for qitr, according to ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, ‘Ikrimah, Qatadah and a number of others, it means (molten) copper. Qatadah said, “It was in Yemen that Allah brought it forth for him.” As-Suddi said, “In just three days, He extracted for him all that he needed for buildings and other things.”

And He, Most High, says, ...and there were Jinn that worked in front of him, by the Leave of his Lord, and whosoever of them turned aside from Our Command, We shall cause him to taste of the punishment of the blazing Fire. (Soorah Saba’ 34:12) That is, Allah subjected to him workers from among the Jinn, who worked for him on whatever he wished and did not disobey him; as for those who did refuse to obey his commands he punished and shackled them. They worked for him what he desired, (making) high rooms. (Soorah Saba’ 34:13) And they are beautiful places, the best and innermost parts of meeting places. This was permissible under their law and their religious code. jifan. Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said that a jafnah (jifan is the plural) is like a pit in the ground, or in another narration on his authority, like a water basin. Mujahid said likewise, as did Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Ad-Dahhak and others. Based on this narration, the word jawab would be the plural of jabiyah, which is a basin in which water collects, as Al-A'sha said in Al-Bahr At-Taweel:

“A pool of water passes by the family of Al-Muhallaq, Like the reservoir of As-Saih Al- 'Iraqi, it fills to overflowing.”

As for the qudoor rasiyat, 'Ikrimah said that they are fixed cooking cauldrons. Mujahid and others concurred with this, and they were placed thus for the purpose of feeding people and giving charity to mankind and the jinn. Allah, Most High, says, “Work you, O family of Dawood, with thanks!” But few of My slaves are grateful. (Soorah Saba' 34:13) and He, Most High, says, And also the Shayateen (devils) from the jinn, (including) every kind of builder and diver and also others bound in fetters. (Soorah Sad 38:37,38) means, some of them had been subjugated to him as builders, while others had been subjugated to him as divers, whose job it was to dive in the sea and collect precious stones and pearls and other things which were not present with them. and also others bound in fetters (Soorah Sad 38:38) means that they had disobeyed and so they had been shackled in pairs. All of these were among the things that Allah had prepared for him and subjugated to his will and which were a part of the completeness of his kingdom, the like of which was not given to anyone before him or after him.

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Verily, an 'ifreet from among the Jinn came to me yesterday suddenly, so as to spoil my prayer, but Allah enabled me to overpower him, and I caught him and intended to tie him to one of the pillars of the Mosque so that all of you might see him, but I remembered the invocation of my brother Sulaiman: 'My Lord! Forgive me, And grant me a kingdom such as shall not belong to any other after me.' (Soorah Sad 38:35) so I let him go cursed.”

And more than one of the Salaf have mentioned that Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) had a thousand wives; seven hundred of them had been wedded to him after the payment of dowries and three hundred had been taken as captives. It was also said that it was the other way around, that they were three hundred free women and seven hundred slaves. It was said that he had a huge appetite for women. Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Sulaiman, the son of Dawood, said, 'Tonight I will sleep with seventy women each of whom will conceive a child who will be a knight fighting for Allah’s Cause.' His companion said, 'if Allah wills.' But Sulaiman did not say so; therefore none of those women got pregnant except one who gave birth to a half child.' The Prophet further said, 'If Prophet Sulaiman had said it (i.e. if Allah wills) he would have begotten children who would have fought in Allah’s Cause.’” Shu’aib and Ibn Abi Az-Zinad said, “Ninety (women) is more correct (than seventy).” Al-Bukhari was alone in narrating it from this source.

He, Most High, says, He said, “My Lord! Forgive me, and bestow upon me a kingdom such as shall not belong to any other after me: verily, You are the Bestower.” (Soorah Sad 38:35). And Allah gave him all of that, according to the testimony of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). And when Allah, Most High, mentioned the great and complete blessings that He had bestowed on him, He said, “This is Our gift, so spend you or withhold, no account will be asked.” (Soorah Sad 38:39) That is, give to whom you will and deny whom you will, for you will not be held accountable for it, i.e. dispose of the wealth as you will, because Allah has permitted whatever you may do with it and He will not ask you to account for it. This was the case with the Prophet-King, unlike the slave-Messenger, who neither gave nor denied without Allah’s Permission. And Allah allowed our Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), to choose between these two situations (slave-Messenger or Prophet-King), and he chose to be a slave-Messenger.

When Allah described what He had granted to His Prophet, Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) of the goodness of this life, He described the reward, abundance and beautiful recompense that He has prepared for him in the Hereafter, in addition to the nearness to Him, the great success and the honor that he will enjoy before Him. All of this will be on the Day of Return and Recompense, as He, Most High, says, And verily, he enjoyed a near access to Us and a good final return (Paradise). (Soorah Sad 38:40)

A Description of His Death

Allah, Most Glorified, Most High, says, Then ,when We decreed death for him (Sulaiman), nothing informed them (the Jinn) of his death except a crawling creature of the earth, which kept (slowly) gnawing away at his stick, so when he fell down, the Jinn saw clearly that if they had known the Unseen, they would not have stayed in the humiliating punishment. ( Soorah Sad 34:14)

And Ibn Jareer At-Tabari, Ibn Abi Hatim and others narrated the Hadith of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), in which he reported on the authority of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Sulaiman (Peace be upon him), the Prophet of Allah used to see a tree growing before him and he would say to it, “What is your name?” The tree would answer, “So-and-so.” He said, “For what purpose are you? If it was for seeds, it would be allowed to go to seed. If it was for medicine, it would be allowed to grow. One day, when he was praying, he saw a tree before him and he said to it, “What is your name?” It said, “Al-Kharroobah.” He said, “For what purpose are you?” It replied, “For the destruction of this house.” He said, “O, Allah! Keep my death hidden from the jinn until the humans realize that the jinn do not know the unseen.” So he carved a stick from it and he leaned on it for a whole year, while the jinn continued working. The stick was eaten by a termite (causing him to fall down), after which it was clear to mankind that if the jinn had known the unseen, they would not have remained for a year in humiliating punishment.”

Mention of a Number of Prophets from Banu Isra'eel after Dawood and Sulaiman and before Zakariyya and Yahya

Among them were those whose lifetime cannot be precisely pinpointed, except to say that they lived after Dawood (Peace be upon him) and before Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) and (Yahya (Peace be upon him)). They included: Sha'ya, son of Amsiya; Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, "He was before Zakariyya and Yahya (peace be upon them both) and he was one of those who gave the glad tidings of 'Eesa and Muhammad (peace be upon them both)." During his lifetime there was a king over the Children of Isra'eel whose name was Sadeeqah, in the land of Bait Al-Maqdis. He used to listen to Sha'ya (Peace be upon him) and obey whatever he commanded him to do and refrain from whatever he forbade. Affairs had become difficult among the Children of Isra'eel and the king became ill, suffering from an ulcer in his leg. The king of Babylon set out for Bait Al-Maqdis at that time, and his name was Sanhareeb. Ibn Ishaq said that he had six hundred thousand troops with him.

The people were greatly terrified. The king asked Sha'ya, "What did Allah reveal to you regarding Sanhareeb and his army?" He replied, "He has not yet revealed anything to me." Then the revelation came down for King Sadeeqah to appoint a successor, as he wished, because his end was at hand. When Sha'ya told him this, the king turned to the Qiblah (the direction faced in prayer); he prayed, glorified Allah, invoked Him, and wept. Weeping and invoking Allah, the All-Powerful, and majestic with a sincere heart, trust and patience, he said, "O, Lord of lords, and God of gods! O, Benevolent and Merciful One Whom neither sleep nor nodding can overpower, remember me for my deeds and my just judgment over the Children of Isra'eel; and all that was from You, and You know it better than I do, my open acts and my secrets are with You.”

Allah answered his prayers had compassion on him. He revealed to Sha'ya to tell him the glad tidings that He had compassion for his weeping and would extend his life for a further fifteen years and save him from the enemy, Sanhareeb. When Sha'ya told this to Sadeeqah, his disease was healed. Evil and sadness departed, and he fell in prostration, saying, “O, Lord, it is You Who grants kingship to whomsoever You wish and dethrones whomsoever You wish and elevates whomsoever You wish and degrades whomsoever You wish, Knower of the Unseen and the evident. And lo! You are the First and the Last; the Manifest and the Perceived; You grant Mercy and answer the prayers of the troubled ones.” When he raised his head, Allah revealed to Sha'ya to command the king to extract the juice of the fig and apply it to his ulcer, and he would be whole and cured. He did so and was cured.

Then Allah sent death upon the army of Sanhareeb. In the morning, they were all corpses, except Sanuhareeb and five of his companions, among them Nebuchadnezzar (Bukhtunassar). The king of Isra'eel immediately sent for them, put them in shackles and displayed them in the land for seventy days to spite and insult them. Every day each of them was fed a loaf of barley bread; after seventy days he confined them in prison. Allah then revealed to Sha'ya that the king should send them back to their country so that they might warn their people what would happen to them. When they returned, Sanhareeb gathered his people and told them what had happened to them. The priests and magicians said to him, “We told you about their Lord and their prophets, but you did not listen to us. It is a nation which, with their God, nobody can overcome.” So, Sanhareeb was afraid of Allah. He died seven years later.

A Description of the Destruction of Bait Al-Maqdis

Allah, Most High, says, And We gave Moosa the Scripture and made it a guidance for the Children of Isra'eel (saying), "Take not other than Me as (your) Wakil (Protector, Lord, or Disposer of your affairs, etc). O offspring of those whom We carried (in the ship) with Nooh (Noah)! Verily, he was a grateful slave." And We decreed for the Children of Isra'eel in the Scripture, that indeed you would do mischief on the earth twice and you will become tyrants and extremely arrogant! So, when the promise came for the first of the two, We sent against you slaves of Ours given to terrible warfare. They entered the very innermost parts of your homes. And it was a promise (completely) fulfilled. Then We gave you once again, a return of victory over them. And We helped you with wealth and children and made you more numerous in manpower. (And We said), "If you do good, you do good for your own selves, and if you do evil (you do it) against yourselves." Then, when the second promise came to pass, (We permitted your enemies) to make your faces sorrowful and to enter the mosque (of Jerusalem) as they had entered it before, and to destroy with utter destruction all that fell in their hands. (And We said in the Tawrah,) "It may be that your Lord may show mercy unto you, but if you return (to sins), We shall return (to Our Punishment). And We have made Hell a prison for the disbelievers. (Soorah Al-Isra 17:2-8)

Wahb Ibn Munabbih said, "When sins became prevalent among the Children of Isra'eel, Allah revealed to a Prophet from among them, whose name was 'Armiya (Jeremiah) that he should stand up in the midst of them and inform them that: "You have hearts, yet you do not understand; you have eyes, yet you do not see; and you have ears, yet you do not hear. I thought of the righteousness of their fathers and that made Me feel compassion for their children." (Allah said,) "So ask them, how did they find the outcome of obedience to Me? And was anyone who disobeyed Me made fortunate as a result of his disobedience? And was anyone who obeyed Me made wretched as a result of his obedience? The animals remember their homes and they feel a desire for them, yet these people have abandoned the Religion which I commanded their fathers to follow and sought blessings from other than it. As for their rabbis, they denied My Truth; and as for their (Towrah) reciters, they worshipped other (gods) than Me; and as for their devout, learned men, they did not benefit from what they knew; And as for their rulers, they lied against Me and against My Messengers and they harbored deception in their hearts and accustomed their tongues to lying. I swear by My Majesty and My Might that I will surely incite armies against them whose languages they will not understand and whose faces they will not recognize and they will show no mercy for their tears. And I will surely send to them a tyrannical and cruel king with armies like racing clouds and retinues like mountain trails, as if the flapping of their banners were the wings of eagles, and as if the attacks of their cavalry were the attacks of hawks. They will demolish the buildings and leave the towns deserted, then woe to their inhabitants, how I will subject them to killing and captivity! And I will replace the raised voices in their wedding celebrations with screams and the whinnying of the horses with howling of wolves. And I will turn the galleries of their palaces into the dwellings of beasts of prey. I will replace the lamplight with flames and smoke, might with humiliation and blessings with slavery. And I will surely replace the perfume of their women with dust and their soft carpets will be walked on by their enemies. I will surely make their bodies as fertilizer for the earth and their bones will be bleached by the sun. I will surely humiliate them with all kinds of punishment, then I will surely command the heaven and it will become as a cover of iron, while the earth will become as a copper smelter. If it rains, the earth will not bring forth vegetation. And if anything comes forth from it at that time, it will be by My Mercy toward the grazing animals. Then I will withhold it (the rain) at the time of sowing and send it at the time of harvesting. So if they have grown anything during that time, it will be ruined. And if anything is saved from it, it will be devoid of any blessing. If they call upon Me, I will not answer them and if they ask anything, I will not give it. If they weep, I will not show Mercy to them and if they humble themselves, I will turn My Face away from them.” It was narrated by Ibn ‘Asakir with this wording.

Hisham Ibn Muhammad Ibn As-Sa’ib Al-Kalbi said, “Then (Bukhtunassar) Nebuchadnezzar advanced upon Bait Al-Maqdis and its king made a peace treaty with him. He was of the family of Dawood (Peace be upon him) and he bribed him into leaving the Children of Isra’eel. He took from him captives and set out to return home. When he reached Tabariyyah, word reached him that the Children of Isra’eel had rebelled against their king and killed him, because of the peace treaty he had made with him. So he beheaded the captives who were with him and returned to them and took the city by force, killing the fighters and taking the children captive.” Hisham said, “We were informed that he found Prophet ‘Armiya (Peace be upon him) in jail and he set him free...” Then he related his story and his relations with them, how he warned them about these things, and how they belied him and imprisoned him. Bukhtunassar said, “How wretched are a people who disobey the Messenger of Allah (Peace be upon him) and abandon his Path!” He treated him well and the weak ones who remained from the Children of Isra’eel gathered to him and they said, “We have done wrong and have been unjust and we turn in repentance to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful for what we have done, so ask Allah to accept our repentance.” So he asked his Lord, but Allah revealed to him that He would not do so, and if they were truthful, they should reside with him in that city, and He told him to inform them of what Allah, Most High, had commanded them to do. But they said, “How shall we reside in this city, when it has been destroyed and Allah is Angry with its inhabitants?” So they refused to reside therein.

Ibn Al-Kalbi said, “From that time, the Children of Isra’eel became dispersed throughout the land; a group of them settled in Al-Hijaz, while another group settled in Yathrib (Madinah), still another group settled in Wadi Al-Qura and a small number of them went to Egypt. Bukhtunassar wrote to its king, asking him to return those who had fled there, but he refused and so he set out with his army and fought him, vanquishing him and taking his people captive. Then he rode to the land of Al-Maghrib (Morocco) until he reached the farthest borders of that land. Then he departed therefrom with numerous captives from the land of Al-Maghrib, Egypt, Bait Al-Maqdis, the land of Palestine and Jordan – and included among the captives was Danyal (Daniel (Peace be upon him)).”

I say, “It would appear that he was Danyal (Daniel), son of Hizqeel (Ezekiel) – the younger, not the elder – according to what was related by Wahb Ibn Munabbih. And Allah knows better.”

Some Details About Danyal (Daniel) – Peace be upon him

Yoonus Ibn Bukair reported on the authority of Muhammad Ibn Ishaq, who in turn reported on the authority of Abu Khaldah Khalid Ibn Deenar, that he was informed by Abul-‘Aliyah: “When we conquered Tustar, we found among the property of Hurmuzan a couch on which there was a dead man and at his head was a book. We took the book and carried it to ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab (May Allah be pleased with him). He called for Ka‘b, who translated it for him into Arabic. I was the first Arab man to read it as I read this Qur’an.” (The sub-narrator said,) “I said to Abul-‘Aliyah, “What was in it?” He replied, “Your stories, your affairs, your speech and what will be in the future.” I said, “What did you do with the (dead) man?” He said, “We dug thirteen different graves by the river and when it was nighttime, we buried him and leveled all of the graves, so that the people should not know where he was buried and dig him up.” I said, “And what did they hope from him?” He said, “When rain did not fall on them, they used to bring out his couch and supplicate for rain.” I said, “Who do you think the man was?” He said, “A man who was known as Danyal.” I asked, “How long ago did he die?” He replied, “Three hundred years ago.” I said, “Had nothing changed in him?” He said, “No, except some hairs at the back of his head. Verily, the flesh of the Prophets does not decompose in the earth and it is not eaten by wild beasts.” The isnad of this narration is authentic up to Abul-‘Aliyah, but if it is correct that he had lived three hundred years before them, then he was not a Prophet, but some other righteous man, because there was no Prophet between ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), the son of Maryam, and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), according to the text of a Hadith which is found in Saheeh Al-Bukhari.

An Account of the Reconstruction of Bait Al-Maqdis

Allah, Most High, says in His Book – and He is the Most Truthful of speakers – Or like the one who passed by a town and it had tumbled over its rooves. He said, “Oh! How will Allah ever bring it to life after its death?” So Allah caused him to die for a hundred years, then raised him up (again). He said, “How long did you remain (dead)?” He (the man) said, “(Perhaps) I remained (dead) a day or part of a day.” He said, “Nay, you have remained (dead) for a hundred years, look at your food and your drink, they show no change; and look at your donkey! And thus We have made of you a sign for the people. Look at the bones, how We bring them together and clothe them with flesh.” When this was clearly shown to him, he said, “I know (now) that Allah is Able to do all things.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259)

Hisham Ibn Al-Kalbi said, “Then Allah, Most High, revealed to ‘Armiya (Peace be upon him), according to what has been conveyed to me: I will rebuild Bait Al-Maqdis, so go out to it and take up quarters there.” So he set out for it and as he approached it and saw it destroyed, he said to himself, “Glorified be Allah! Allah commanded me to take up quarters in this city and He informed me that He will rebuild it. When will Allah rebuild it and when will He revive it after its death?” Then he laid his head down and slept; with him was his donkey, and also a basket of food. He remained sleeping for seventy years until Bukhtunassar had died and his successor, Lahrasab had ascended to the throne. His reign lasted for a hundred and twenty years and after him, his son, Bashtasab Ibn Lahrasab became king. News of the death of Bukhtunassar had reached Bashtasab that Ash-Sham was in utter ruin. The wild beasts had multiplied in Palestine, for it had become empty of men. Bashtasab therefore called to the Children of Isra’eel in Babylon, “Whoever wants to return to Ash-Sham may do so.” It was ruled by one from the House of Dawood, who was ordered by Bashtasab to rebuild Jerusalem and its mosque, so they returned and rebuilt it. Then ‘Armiya opened his eyes, blinked from the seventy year sleep, and saw how the city was being reconstructed. He remained in that sleep of his until he had completed one hundred years. When Allah awoke him, he thought that he had slept not more than an hour. He had known the city as a devastated land; when he saw it rebuilt and peopled, he said: “I know (now) that Allah is Able to do all things.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259) Ibn Al-Kalbi said that the Isra’eelites settled in it, and Allah rebuilt their glory. It remained so until Rome vanquished them in the era of the tribal kings; then they lost their community and their authority after the appearance of Christianity. This is how Ibn Jareer tells their story in his Tareekh.

The Story of 'Uzair (Ezra) – Peace be upon him

Ishaq Ibn Bishr reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said that ‘Uzair (Ezra) (Peace be upon him) was a righteous and wise slave. He went out one day to his own farm, as was his custom. About noon he came to a deserted, ruined place and felt the heat. He entered the ruined town and dismounted his donkey, taking figs and grapes in his basket. He went under the shade of the kharibah tree and ate his food. Then he got up to look at what remained of the ruins. The people had long been lost, and he saw bones. “Oh! How will Allah ever bring it to life after its death?” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259) He said this not out of doubt but out of curiosity. Allah sent the Angel of Death to take his life. He remained dead for a hundred years. After a hundred years had passed and there had been changes in the affairs of the Children of Isra’eel, Allah sent an angel to ‘Uzair (Peace be upon him) to revive his heart and his eyes in order for him to feel and see how Allah revives the dead. The angel said to him, “How long did you remain (dead)?” He (the man) said, “(Perhaps) I remained (dead) a day or part of a day.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259) He said this because he knew he had slept early in the afternoon and woken up late in the afternoon. The angel said, Nay, you have remained (dead) for a hundred years, look at your food and your drink. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259) His food was dry bread and his drink was juice that he had pressed in his bowl. When he looked at them, he saw that they had not changed. Likewise, the figs and grapes had not changed and were still fresh. It was as if he doubted in his heart and so the angel said to him, “Do you doubt what I have told you? Look at your donkey.” So he looked at his donkey and saw that its bones had become dried and decayed. So the angel called the donkey’s bones and they responded and gathered from every side and the angel reconstructed them, while ‘Uzair (Peace be upon him) looked on. Then he dressed them with veins and nerves, then he clothed them with muscles and then he grew skin and hair over them. Then the angel breathed into the donkey and it stood up and raised its head and its ears to the heaven and brayed, thinking that the Resurrection had begun. This is why he said, ...and look at your donkey! And thus We have made of you a sign for the people. Look at the bones, how We bring them together and clothe them with flesh.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259) That is, look at the bones of your donkey, how they are connected to one another in their joints until they form the skeleton of a donkey, without flesh. Then see how we clothe them in flesh. When this was clearly shown to him, he said, “I know (now) that Allah is Able to do all things.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259) That is, to give life to the dead and other things. He rode on his donkey and entered his native place, but the people did not recognize him, nor did his household, except the maid, now an old woman. She had been a girl of twenty years of age when he had left. He asked her, "Is this the house of 'Uzair?" She wept and said, "Yes, but I have not seen anyone since the year such-and-such speaking of 'Uzair, and the people have forgotten him." He said, "I am 'Uzair, Allah had taken my life for a hundred years and then he returned it to me." She said: "Glorified be Allah! We had lost 'Uzair a hundred years ago and we have heard no mention of him." He repeated, "I am 'Uzair." She said, "'Uzair used to be answered when he prayed to Allah; he would ask Allah to grant wellbeing and recovery to the sick and those afflicted by disaster. So ask Allah to return my sight to me, so that I may see you. If you are 'Uzair, I will recognize you." So he supplicated for her and massaged her eyes with his hands and she was cured. Then he took her by the hand and said, "Get up, by Allah's Permission," Allah freed her legs and she stood up, cured, as if she had been released from a hobbling rope. She looked and said, "I bear witness that you are 'Uzair," and she rushed to the place of Children of Isra'eel and found them in their assembly. 'Uzair's son was a hundred and eighteen years old, and his children's children now were chiefs of the assembly. She called out to them saying, "This is 'Uzair come to you." They accused her of lying. She said, "I am so-and-so, your old maid. He supplicated his Lord for me, and He has returned my sight to me and cured my lameness. He claims that Allah caused him to do for a hundred years, then He returned him to life." The people stood up and looked at him. His son said, "My father had a black mole between his shoulders." So he uncovered his shoulders and they saw that he was 'Uzair. They said: "None among us memorized the Towrah except 'Uzair, according to what we have been told, and Bukhtunassar burned the Towrah, so nothing remains of it except what the men have memorized. So write it for us." There was only one copy of the Towrah, which was hidden by his father, Sarookh. He buried it in the days of Bukhtunassar in a place none but 'Uzair knows." 'Uzair led the people to the hidden place and took out that copy of the Towrah. Its leaves had rotted, and the book itself crumbled. ‘Uzair (Peace be upon him) sat under the shade of a tree surrounded by the Children of Isra’eel and copied out the Towrah for them. And it was said that two shooting stars descended from the heaven and entered him and he recalled the Towrah and copied it out for the Children of Isra’eel. It was from this time that the Jews began to say that ‘Uzair (Peace be upon him) is the son of Allah, because of the two shooting stars, his re-copying of the Towrah and his undertaking of the affairs of the Children of Isra’eel.

He had been copying the Towrah for Hizqeel in the rural region, in Dair Hizqeel. The village in which he died was said to be Sayirabaz. ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) remarked, “So it is as Allah said: And thus We have made of you a sign for the people.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:259) That is, for the Children of Isra’eel, in that he was sitting among his children, and they were old men, while he was a young man, because he died when he was forty years old and so Allah resurrected him as he had been on the day he died. ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “He was resurrected after Bukhtunassar had died.” Al-Hasan concurred with this.

Conclusion

It is well-known that ‘Uzair (Peace be upon him) was one of the Prophets sent to the Children of Isra’eel, that his mission was after Dawood and Sulaiman (peace be upon them both) and before Zakariyya and Yahya (peace be upon them both) and that no one remained among the Children of Isra’eel who had memorized the Towrah. Because of this, Allah inspired him with the memorization of it and he recited it to the Children of Isra’eel, as Wahb Ibn Munabbih said, “Allah commanded an angel to descend with a large ladle filled with light; the angel emptied it over ‘Uzair (Peace be upon him) and he copied the Towrah, letter by letter, until he had completed it.”

Ibn ‘Asakir narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he asked ‘Abdullah Ibn Salam (May Allah be pleased with him) about the Words of Allah, Most High: And the Jews say, “ ‘Uzair (Ezra) is the son of Allah.” (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:30), saying, “Why did they say this?” Ibn Salam (May Allah be pleased with him) then related to him from what he had memorized of the written Towrah that was in the hands of the Children of Isra’eel and of how they had said, “Moosa could not bring us the Towrah except as a book, but ‘Uzair brought it to us without a book.” So a group of them claimed that he was the son of Allah. This is why many of the scholars say that the continuity of the Towrah was interrupted during the time of ‘Uzair (Peace be upon him).

The Story of Zakariyya and Yahya (Peace be upon them)

Allah says in His Noble Book, Kaf Ha Ya ‘Ain Sad. (These letters are one of the miracles of the Qur’an, and none but Allah, Alone, knows their meanings). (This is) a mention of the Mercy of your Lord to His slave Zakariyya. When he called out to his Lord (Allah) a call in secret, saying, “My Lord! Indeed my bones have grown feeble, and grey hair has spread on my head, and I have never been unblessed in my invocation to You, O, my Lord! And Verily! I fear the mawali after me, since my wife is barren. So give me from Yourself an heir, who shall inherit me, and inherit (also) the posterity of Ya‘qoob. And make him, my Lord, one with whom You are Well-pleased!” (Allah said), “O Zakariyya! Verily, We give you the glad tidings of a son, his name will be Yahya. We have given that name to none before (him).” He said, “My Lord! How can I have a son, when my wife is barren, and I have reached extreme old age?” He said, “So (it will be). Your Lord says: It is easy for Me. Certainly I have created you before, when you had been nothing!” He (Zakariyya) said, “My Lord! Appoint for me a sign.” He said, “Your sign is that you shall not speak unto mankind for three nights, though having no bodily defect.” Then he came out to his people from Al-Mihrab (a praying place or a private room, etc.), he revealed to them that they should glorify Allah’s Praises in the morning and in the afternoon. (It was said to his son), “O, Yahya! Hold fast to the Scripture (the Tawrah).” And We gave him wisdom while yet a child. And (We gave him) Hanan from Us, and (made him) pure from sins (i.e. Yahya) and he was righteous, and dutiful toward his parents, and he was neither arrogant nor disobedient (to Allah or to his parents). And Salamun (peace) be on him the day he was born, the day he dies, and the day he will be raised up to life (again)! (Soorah Maryam 19:1-15)

And He, Most High, says, So her Lord (Allah) accepted her with goodly acceptance. He made her grow in a good manner and put her under the care of Zakariyya. Every time he entered Al-Mihrab to (visit) her, he found her supplied with sustenance. He said, “O Maryam! From where have you got this?” She said, “This is from Allah.” Verily, Allah provides sustenance to whom He wills, without limit.” At that time Zakariyya invoked his Lord, saying, “O my Lord! Grant me from You a good offspring. You are indeed the Hearer of (all) invocations.” Then the angels called him, while he was standing in prayer in AlMihrab, (saying), “Allah gives you glad tidings of Yahya, confirming (believing in) the Word from Allah (i.e. the creation of ‘Eesa, the Word from Allah [“Be!” – and he was!]), noble, hasoor, a Prophet, from among the righteous.” He said, “O, my Lord! How can I have a son when I am very old, and my wife is barren?” Allah said, “Thus Allah does what He wills.” He said, “O, my Lord! Make a sign for me.” Allah said, “Your sign is that you shall not speak to mankind for three days except with signals. And remember your Lord much (by praising Him again and again), and glorify (Him) in the afternoon and in the morning.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:37-41)

What is meant by these Verses is that Allah, Most High, commanded His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to relate to the people the story of Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) and the events that transpired when Allah, Most High, granted him a son in his old age, when his wife was barren, due to her advanced age, so that no one should give up hope or despair of His Bounty and His Mercy. He, Most High, says, (This is) a mention of the Mercy of your Lord to His slave Zakariyya. When he called out to his Lord (Allah) a call in secret. (Soorah Maryam 19:2,3) Qatadah said in his explanation of these Verses, “Verily, Allah knows the pure heart and hears the secret call.” Some of the Salaf said that he stood up for a part of the night and called to his Lord in secret, so that those present in the house should not hear him, saying, “O, my Lord!” His Lord answered, “I am here, I am here, I am here.” He said, “My Lord! Indeed my bones have grown feeble...” (Soorah Maryam 19:4) That is, they have grown weak and declined in vigor, due to old age. “...and grey hair has spread on my head.” (Soorah Maryam 19:4) That is, as fire spreads over kindling, i.e. white hair has overcome the black hair, as Ibn Duraid said in his poetic verses:

*“Do you not see my head, how its color resembles,
The sprouting of morning under the tail of night,
And the white has spread through the black,
Like the spreading of fire through hot coals,
And the youthful branch has become dry and withered,
Having formerly been flexible and moist?”*

He said that weakness has overcome him, both internally and externally and that was what Zakariyya

(Peace be upon him) said: “Indeed my bones have grown feeble and grey hair has spread on my head.”

(Soorah Maryam 19:4) And he said, “...and I have never been unblessed in my invocation to You, O my Lord!” (Soorah Maryam 19:4) That is, you have accustomed me to naught in supplications to You, except that You have answered them. What caused him to make this request was that after he became the guardian of Maryam, daughter of Mathan, he found that whenever he entered her room, she had fruits which were not in season and these were among the blessings of Allah’s Awliya’ and he realized that the Provider of something outside its season is Able to provide him with a son, even though he has become old. At that time Zakariyya invoked his Lord, saying, “O my Lord! Grant me from You, a good offspring. You are indeed the Hearer of (all) invocations.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:38)

And He, Most High, says, “And Verily! I fear the mawali after me, since my wife is barren.” (Soorah Maryam 19:5) It is said that what is meant by mawali is relatives; it was as if he feared that whoever managed the affairs of the Children of Isra’eel after his death might do so in accordance with ideas that were not consistent with Allah’s Law and obedience to Him. So he asked Allah to produce a son for him from his loins, who would be pious and pure and would seek to please his Lord, which is why he said, “Grant me from Yourself...” (Soorah Maryam 19:5) That is by Your Power and Your Strength. “...an heir, who shall inherit me” (Soorah Maryam 19:5,6) means in Prophethood and judgment among the Children of Isra’eel. “...and inherit (also) the posterity of Ya‘qoob. And make him, my Lord, one with whom You are Well-pleased!” (Soorah Maryam 19:6) That is, just as his fathers and forefathers from the descendants of Ya‘qoob (Peace be upon him) were Prophets, make him like them in the Honor that You bestowed upon them by granting them Prophethood and Revelation. This does not refer to the inheritance of wealth, as some of the Shiites have claimed.

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Zakariyya was a carpenter.”

And He, Most High, says, (Allah said,) “O Zakariya! Verily, We give you the glad tidings of a son, His name will be Yahya. We have given that name to none before (him).” (Soorah Maryam 19:7) This is explained by His Words: Then the angels called him, while he was standing in prayer in Al-Mihrab (saying), “Allah gives you glad tidings of Yahya, confirming (believing in) the Word from Allah (i.e. the creation of ‘Eesa, the Word from Allah [“Be!” – and he was!]), noble, keeping away from sexual relations with women, a Prophet, from among the righteous.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:39). Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) was surprised to hear these glad tidings, to hear that a son could be conceived in such circumstances, which is why he said, “My Lord! How can I have a son, when my wife is barren, and I have reached extreme old age?” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:40) That is, how can an old man father a son? It was said that his age at that time was seventy-seven years, but it seems more likely – and Allah knows better – that he was older than that. “...when my wife is barren” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:40) means at the time of her old age, she has become barren and cannot bear a child – and Allah knows better – as Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him) said, “Do you give me glad tidings (of a son) when old age has overtaken me? Of what then is your news?” (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:54) and Sarah said, She said (in astonishment), “Woe unto me! Shall I bear a child while I am an old woman, and here is my husband, an old man? Verily! This is a strange thing!” They said, “Do you wonder at the Decree of Allah? The Mercy of Allah and His Blessings be on you, O family (of Ibraheem). Surely, He (Allah) is Most Praiseworthy, Most Glorious.” (Soorah Hood 11:72,73). And in the same way was Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) answered. Said the angel to whom Revelation was given, by the Command of his Lord, “So (it will be). Your Lord says, “It is easy for Me.” (Soorah Maryam 19:9) That is, a simple matter, posing no difficulty for Him. “Certainly I have created you before, when you had been nothing!” (Soorah Maryam 19:9) That is, His Ability to do all things brought you into being after you had previously not existed, so can He not then produce a son from you, even though you are an old man?

And He, Most High, says, So We answered his call, and We bestowed upon him Yahya, and cured his wife (to bear a child) for him. Verily, they used to hasten on to do good deeds, and they used to call on Us with hope and fear, and used to humble themselves before Us. (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:90) And the meaning of curing his wife is that she had not had menses and how she had them once more.

And He, Most High, says, He said, “O, my Lord! Make a sign for me.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:41) That is, make a sign that alerts me that the child will come. Allah said, “Your sign is that you shall not speak unto mankind for three nights, though having no bodily defect.” (Soorah Maryam 19:10) Allah tells him that his sign is that he will be afflicted by silence, which will leave him unable to speak for three days and that he will only be able to communicate by signs, but that in spite of this, he would be in good health. And He commanded him to mention Allah frequently at this time in his heart and to remember Him much at night and in the morning. When he was given these glad tidings, he went out happily to his people from his mihrab. He revealed to them that they should glorify Allah’s Praises in the morning and in the afternoon. (Soorah Maryam 19:11) Revealing here means silently communicating with them, either by writing, as Mujahid and As-Suddi said, or by signs, as Mujahid also said, and Wahb and Qatadah concurred with this. Mujahid, ‘Ikrimah, Wahb, As-Suddi and Qatadah said that his tongue was stilled, without him being afflicted by any illness. Ibn Zaid said, “He used to recite and glorify Allah, but he could not speak to anyone.”

And Allah, Most High, says, (It was said to his son), “O, Yahya! Hold fast to the Scripture (the Tawrah).” And We gave him wisdom while yet a child. (Soorah Maryam 19:12) Allah, Most High, informs us about the birth of the son, in accordance with the Divine Tidings given to, Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) and He tells us that He taught him the Scripture and wisdom while he was still a child. ‘Abdullah Ibn AlMubarak said, “Ma’mar said, “The children said to Yahya, son of Zakariyya, “Come with us and we will play.” But he replied, “We were not created for play.” This is the explanation of His Words: And We gave him wisdom while yet a child. (Soorah Maryam 19:12) As for His Saying: And (We gave him) Hanan from Us. (Soorah Maryam 19:13) Ibn Jareer At-Tabari narrated on the authority of ‘Amr Ibn Deenar, who in turn narrated on the authority of ‘Ikrimah, who narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “I do not know what Hanan is.” It was also narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, ‘Ikrimah, Qatadah and Ad-

Dahhak that And (We gave him) Hanan from Us means: as a Mercy from Us; through it We showed Mercy to Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) and blessed him with a son. It was reported on the authority of 'Ikrimah that Hanan means: Love. It is possible that this was an attribute to make Yahya (Peace be upon him) beloved by the people, in particular, by his parents, who loved him, for he was dutiful and solicitous toward them. As for the purity, it means purity of the heart and freedom from defects and vices. As for the righteousness, it means showing obedience to Allah, by fulfilling His Commands and avoiding the things that He has prohibited. Then He mentioned his dutifulness toward his parents, his obedience to their commands and prohibitions and his avoidance of showing disrespect to them in word and deed. And He, Most High, says, And dutiful toward his parents, and he was neither an arrogant nor disobedient (to Allah or to his parents). (Soorah Maryam 19:14) Then He says, And Salamun (peace) be on him the day he was born, the day he dies, and the day he will be raised up to life (again)! (Soorah Maryam 19:15) These three times are the most difficult for mankind, because in each case, he transfers from one state to another. He loses the first, after he becomes familiar with it and comes to know it and he goes onto another state in which he knows not what is before him, which is why he cries out when he emerges from the womb and leaves it softness and its embrace and comes into this world, where he will endure its anxieties and its sorrows. Likewise, when he departs from this life and goes onto AlBarzakh, which is between the life of this world and the permanent abode of the Hereafter. After living in houses and palaces, he takes up residence among the dead, in the graves. There he waits for the blow of the Trumpet, which will herald the arrival of the Day of Resurrection and Gathering. On that Day, a group will be in Paradise and another will be in the blazing Fire. One of the poets put it well when he said:

When your mother gave birth to you, you were crying and screaming,

*And the people around you were laughing and happy,
So take care of yourself, so that when, on the day of your death,
they weep,*

You will be laughing, happy.

And since these three stages are the most difficult for mankind, Allah sent peace upon Yahya (Peace be upon him) in all three of them, saying, And Salamun (peace) be on him the day he was born, the day he dies, and the day he will be raised up to life (again)! (Soorah Maryam 19:15) Sa'eed Ibn Abi 'Aroobah reported on the authority of Qatadah that Al-Hasan said, "Yahya and 'Eesa met and 'Eesa said to Yahya, "Ask forgiveness for me, for you are better than I." Yahya said, "Ask forgiveness for me, for you are better than I." 'Eesa answered, "You are better than I, because I invoked peace on myself, but Allah sent peace on you."

And He says in another Verse, "...noble, hasoor, a Prophet, from among the righteous." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:39) What is meant by hasoor is that he avoids sexual relations with women. Other explanations have been given for this, but it is similar to His Words: "Grant me from You a good offspring." (Soorah Aal'Imran 3:38)

And Imam Ahmad has narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "There is none among the sons of Adam who has not committed a sin or intended to do so except Yahya, son of Zakariyya; and it is not right that anyone should say that I am better than Yoonus, son of Matta."

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Al-Harith Al-Ash'ari that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Verily, Allah commanded Yahya, son of Zakariyya, to act upon five things and to order the Children of Isra'eel to act upon them. But Yahya was slow in carrying out these commandments.

‘Eesa said to Yahya, “You were ordered to implement five commandments and to order the Children of Isra’eel to implement them. So either order it, or I will order it.” Yahya said, “My brother! I fear that if you do it before me, I will be punished or the earth will be shaken under my feet.” So Yahya called the Children of Isra’eel to Bait Al-Maqdis, until they filled the Mosque. He sat on the balcony, thanked Allah and praised him and then said, “Allah ordered me to implement five commandments and He commanded me to order you to adhere to them. The first is that you worship Allah alone and not associate anyone with Him. The example of this commandment is the example of a man who bought a servant from his money with paper or gold. The servant started to work for the master, but was paying the profits to another person. Who among you would like his servant to do that? Allah created you and sustains you. Therefore, worship Him alone and do not associate anything with Him. I also command you to pray, for Allah directs His Face toward His servant’s face, as long as the servant does not turn away. So when you pray, do not turn your heads to and fro. I also command you to fast. The example of it is the example of a man in a group of men and he has some musk wrapped in a piece of cloth, and consequently, all of the group smells the scent of the wrapped musk. Verily, the odour of the mouth of a fasting person is better before Allah than the scent of musk. I also command you to give charity. The example of this is the example of a man who was captured by the enemy. They tied his hands to his neck and brought him forth to cut off his head. He said to them, “Can I pay a ransom for myself?” He kept ransoming himself with small and large amounts until he liberated himself. I also command you to always remember Allah. The example of this deed is that of a man who the enemy is tirelessly pursuing. He takes refuge in a fortified fort. When the slave remembers Allah, the Almighty, the AllPowerful, he will be resorting to the best refuge from Shaitan.” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “And I order you to fulfill five commandments that Allah has ordered me to fulfill. Hold fast to the Jama‘ah (Community of the Faithful), listen to and obey (your leaders) and perform hijrah

(migration) and jihad for the sake of Allah. Whoever abandons the Jama'ah, even the distance of a hand span, will have removed the tie of Islam from his neck, unless he returns. Whoever uses the slogans of Jahiliyyah (the pre-Islamic period of ignorance) he will be among those kneeling in Jahannam (Hellfire). He said, "O, Messenger of Allah! Even if he prays and fasts?" He said, "Even if he prays, fasts and claims to be Muslim. So call the Muslims with the names with which Allah has called them: the Muslims, the believing slaves of Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful."

Explanation of the Cause of Yahya's Killing

Scholars have cited numerous reasons for the killing of Yahya (Peace be upon him); among the most well-known of them is that one of the kings at that time in Damascus desired to marry a member of his family who was unlawful to him and Yahya (Peace be upon him) forbade him from doing so, but he insisted on marrying her. Dressing attractively, she sang and danced before him. She succeeded in arousing his lust. Embracing her, he offered to fulfill whatever she desired. She then asked for Yahya (Peace be upon him) to be killed. The king granted this request and sent men to kill him and bring his head and his blood to her in a bowl. It was said that she died immediately upon holding it. It was also said that the wife of that king loved Yahya (Peace be upon him) and so she sent a message to him, but he refused her. When she despaired of him, she requested of the king that he kill him, but he refused. However, she kept on insisting until he agreed; then he sent some men to kill him and bring his head and his blood in a bowl.

Scholars differed regarding the killing of Yahya (Peace be upon him): Did it happen in Al-Aqsa Mosque, or somewhere else? There are two opinions in the matter: Ath-Thawri reported on the authority of Al-A'mash, who in turn reported on the authority of Shimr Ibn 'Atiyyah that he said, "Seventy Prophets were killed on the rock that is in Bait Al-Maqdis, including Yahya, son of Zakariyya (peace be upon them both)."

Abu ‘Ubaid Al-Qasim Ibn Sallam said, “We were informed by ‘Abdullah Ibn Salih, who reported on the authority of Al-Laith, who in turn reported on the authority of Yahya Ibn Sa‘eed, who likewise reported on the authority of Sa‘eed Ibn Al-Musayyib that he said, “Bukhtunossar advanced on Damascus and he found the blood of Yahya boiling. He asked about it and they told him about it. On account of his blood, he killed seventy thousand, after which it became still.” The isnad of this narration is authentic up to Sa‘eed Ibn Al-Musayyib and this must mean that he was killed in Damascus and that the story of Bukhtunassar was after ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), as claimed by ‘Ata’ and Al-Hasan Al-Basri. And Allah knows better.

Al-Hafiz Ibn ‘Asakir narrated by way of Al-Waleed Ibn Muslim, on the authority of Zaid Ibn Waqid, who said, “I saw the head of Yahya, son of Zakariyya, when they intended to build the Damascus Mosque; it was taken from beneath one of the pillars of the Qiblah, which is next to the mihrab, adjacent to the east. The skin and the hair were unaffected by decay and remained unchanged.” In another version, it was stated that: “...it was as if he had just been killed.”

It was reported regarding the building of Damascus Mosque that it was placed under the pillar which is known as As-Sakasikah. And Allah knows better.

Al-Hafiz Ibn ‘Asakir narrated in Al-Mustaqsa Fi Fada’ilil-Aqsa by way of Al-‘Abbas Ibn Subh, who reported on the authority of Marwan, who in turn reported on the authority of Sa‘eed Ibn ‘Abdul-‘Azeez, who likewise reported on the authority of qusaim, the freed slave of Mu‘awiyah that he said, “The king of this city (i.e. Damascus) was Hadad Ibn Hadad and he had married his niece, Aryal, Queen of Saida. Included among its territories was Sooq Al-Mulook in Damascus. He had sworn to divorce her three times, but then he wished to return her to him and so he sought a religious verdict from Yahya. Yahya (Peace be upon him) told him,

“She is not lawful for you until she has married another man (and been divorced by him).” She harbored feelings of hatred toward him because of this and so she requested from the king that he give her the head of Yahya. This was at the instigation of her mother, but he refused her at first, then later he agreed and sent some men to Jairoon Mosque, where they found him praying; they then killed him and brought the king his head. The head said to him, “She will not be lawful to you until she marries another man (and is subsequently divorced from him).” The woman took the plate and carried it on her head to her mother and it was still repeating the words it had said to the king. When she stood before her mother, the earth opened up at her feet and she sank down to her loins. Her mother began to wail and the servants screamed and slapped their faces. Then she sank down to her shoulders and so her mother ordered the swordsman to strike her neck and cut off her head, so that at least she could keep her head. Then the earth spat out her body. They were then humiliated and destroyed and the blood of Yahya (Peace be upon him) continued to boil until Bukhtunassar arrived and killed seventy-five thousand people on account of it.”

The Story of ‘Eesa, Son of Maryam (Peace be upon them)

Allah, Most High, says, Allah chose Adam, Nooh (Noah), the family of Ibraheem (Abraham) and the family of ‘Imran above Al-‘Alameen (of their times). Offspring, one of the other, and Allah is the AllHearing, All-Knowing. (Remember) when the wife of ‘Imran said, “O, my Lord! I have vowed to You what (i.e. the child that) is in my womb to be dedicated for Your services (free from all worldly work; to serve Your Place of worship), so accept this, from me. Verily, You are the All-Hearing, the AllKnowing.” Then, when she delivered her child, she said, “O, my Lord! I have delivered a female child...” – and Allah knew better what she had delivered – “And the male is not like the female, and I have named her Maryam, and I seek refuge with You (Allah) for her and for her offspring from Shaitan, the outcast.” So her Lord (Allah) accepted her with goodly acceptance. He made her grow in a good manner and put her under the care of Zakariyya. Every time he entered Al-Mihrab to (visit) her, he found her supplied with sustenance. He said, “O, Maryam! From where have you got this?” She said, “This is from Allah.” Verily, Allah provides sustenance to whomever He wills, without limit. (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:33-37)

Allah, Most High, describes how He chose Adam (Peace be upon him) and the purest of his progeny, who observed His Law and were resolute in their obedience to Him. Then He made a particular specification, saying, “...the family of Ibraheem.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:33) and He included among them the children of Isma‘eel (Peace be upon him) and the children of Ishaq (Peace be upon him). Then He spoke of the virtue of this pure and noble house, i.e. the family of ‘Imran. The ‘Imran referred to is the father of Maryam (peace be upon her). Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, “He was ‘Imran, son of Basham, son of Amoon, son of Mansha, son of Hizqiya, son of ‘Ahzeeq son of Motham, son of ‘Azariya, son of ‘Amsiya, son of Yawash, son of ‘Ahzeehoo, son of Yaram, son of Yahfashat, son of ‘Aish, son of Aban, son of Rahab‘am, son of Yaram, son of Dawood (peace be upon them).”

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq and others also said that Mary’s mother was unable to conceive. Then one day, she saw a bird feeding its chick and she wanted a child and so she vowed that if she became pregnant, she would surely devote the child to be a servant of Bait Al-Maqdis. It was said that she immediately was afflicted by menses, and that when she became purified from it, her husband was intimate with her and she became pregnant with Maryam (peace be upon her). When she delivered her, she said, “O, my Lord! I have delivered a female child...” – and Allah knew better what she had delivered. (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:36) This was also recited in a manner that would mean: “And Allah knows better what I have delivered.” “And the male is not like the female.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:36). That is, regarding service to Bait Al-

Maqdis; at that time, they used to pledge their sons to the service of Bait Al-Maqdis.

Her saying: "...and I have named her Maryam." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:36) proves that the naming of a child is done on the day of its birth. Likewise, it has been confirmed in the Saheehain on the authority of Anas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he went with his (newborn) brother to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), who performed tahneek for his brother and named him 'Abdullah. It was also mentioned in the Hadith of Al-Hasan from Samurah (May Allah be pleased with him) in a marfoo' form that: "Every child is held in pledge for his 'aqeeqah which is sacrificed for him on his seventh day and he is named on it and his head is shaved." This was narrated by Imam Ahmad and the compilers of the Sunan and it was declared authentic by At-Tirmidhi. In some versions, it was said, "tadmiyyah should be performed on him," instead of: "he is named." And Allah knows better. And she said, "...and I seek refuge with You (Allah) for her and for her offspring from Shaitan, the outcast." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:36) This supplication was answered by Allah, just as her pledge was accepted.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Every newborn is touched by Shaitan when he is born, causing him to cry out, except Maryam and her son." Then Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) said, "And recite if you wish: "...and I seek refuge with You (Allah) for her and for her offspring from Shaitan, the outcast." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:36)."

Allah, Most High, says, So her Lord (Allah) accepted her with goodly acceptance. He made her grow in a good manner and put her under the care of Zakariyya. (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:37). Many of the scholars of tafseer said that when her mother delivered her, she wrapped her in her garments and went out to the mosque with her. She presented her to the worshippers who lived there and because she was the daughter of their Imam and prayer leader, they vied with one another to be her guardian.

It would appear that she only presented her to them after she had completed breastfeeding her. Then, when she presented her to them, they vied with one another regarding which of them would be her guardian. Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) was their Prophet at that time and he wished to be alone in being her guardian, because his wife was her sister or her maternal aunt, according to two different opinions. But they did not agree to this and so they requested that he allow them to draw lots for her. They did so and Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) was the successful one. This was because a maternal aunt is of the same status as a mother.

Allah, Most High, says, and put her under the care of Zakariyya. (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:37) That is, because he defeated them in the drawing of lots, as He, Most High, says, This is a part of the news of the ghaib (Unseen, i.e. the news of the past nations of which you have no knowledge) which We inspire you with (O Muhammad). You were not with them, when they cast lots with their pens as to which of them should be charged with the care of Maryam; nor were you with them when they disputed. (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:44) Scholars said that it means that all of them threw their pens, which were recognizable. Then they carried them and placed them in a certain location and ordered a sinless boy to select one of them.

He did so and it was the pen of Zakariyya (Peace be upon him). They then requested that they might cast their pens again, but that this time, they might throw them into the river and that whichever of them remained still, in spite of the current, its owner would be Mary's guardian. It was Zakariyya's pen that resisted the current. They then requested that they might cast them a third time. This time, they said that whichever pen flowed with the river's current, while the others flowed in a contrary direction, the owner of that pen would win. They did this, and again, it was Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) who was the winner. So he became her guardian, since he had the greatest right, according to the Divine Law and based on numerous (other) reasons. Allah, Most High, says, Every time he entered Al-Mihrab to (visit) her, he found her supplied with sustenance. He said, “O, Maryam! From where have you got this?” She said, “This is from Allah.” Verily, Allah provides sustenance to whomever He wills, without limit. (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:37) The scholars of tafseer said that Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) appointed for her a noble place in the mosque which none but she could enter. There she used to worship Allah and undertake the duties incumbent upon her, such as acting as caretaker of the mosque, when it was her turn to do so. The days and nights she would spend in the worship of Allah, until her name became a byword for devotion among the Children of Isra’eel. She also became known for the miracles with which she was blessed and for her noble character, to such a degree that, whenever the Prophet of Allah, Zakariyya (Peace be upon him), came to see her in her place of worship, he would find with her strange sustenance which was not in season; he would find with her summer fruits in winter and winter fruits in summer. He asked her, “From where have you got this?” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:37), to which she replied, “This is from Allah.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:37) That is, this is sustenance which Allah has provided for me. Verily, Allah provides sustenance to whomever He wills, without limit. (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:37). At this point, Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) conceived a desire for a son of his own, even though he was well advanced in years. He said, “O, my Lord! Grant me from You a good offspring. You are indeed the AllHearing of invocation.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:38). Some of the scholars said that he said, “O, You Who provides Maryam with fruits that are out of season, grant me a son, even though I am “out of season” (i.e. no longer of the age when one might normally father a child).” And we have already told what happened to him in his story.

Allah, Most High, says, And (remember) when the angels said, “O Maryam! Verily, Allah has chosen you, purified you (from polytheism and disbelief) and chosen you above the women of Al-

‘Alameen. O, Maryam! Submit yourself with obedience to your Lord (Allah, by worshipping none but Him Alone) and prostrate yourself, and irka‘i (bow down, etc.) along with Ar-Raki‘oon (those who bow down, etc.).” This is a part of the news of the ghaib (Unseen, i.e. the news of the past nations of which you have no knowledge) with which We inspire you (O Muhammad). You were not with them when they cast lots with their pens as to which of them should be charged with the care of Maryam; nor were you with them when they disputed. (Remember) when the angels said, “O Maryam! Verily, Allah gives you the glad tidings of a Word (“Be!” - and he was! i.e. ‘Eesa the son of Maryam [Mary]) from Him, his name will be the Maseeh, ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, held in honor in this world and in the Hereafter, and will be one of those who are near to Allah. He will speak to the people in the cradle and in manhood, and he will be one of the righteous.” She said, “O my Lord! How shall I have a son when no man has touched me.” He said, “So (it will be) for Allah creates what He wills. When He has decreed something, He says to it only, “Be!” and it is. And He (Allah) will teach him (‘Eesa) the Book and Al-Hikmah (i.e. the Sunnah, the faultless speech of the Prophets, wisdom, etc.), (and) the Tawrah and the Injeel. (And He will make him ‘Eesa) a Messenger to the Children of Isra’eel (saying), “I have come to you with a sign from your Lord, that I design for you out of clay, as it were, the figure of a bird, and breathe into it, and it becomes a bird by Allah’s Leave; and I heal him who was born blind and the leper, and I bring the dead to life by Allah’s Leave. And I inform you of what you eat and what you store in your houses. Surely, therein is a sign for you, if you believe. And I have come confirming that which was before me of the Tawrah, and to make lawful to you part of what was forbidden to you, and I have come to you with a proof from your Lord. So fear Allah and obey me. Truly! Allah is my Lord and your Lord, so worship Him (Alone). This is the Straight Path. (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:42-51)

Allah, Most High, says that the angels informed Maryam (peace be upon her) that Allah had chosen her from among all of the women of her time to bear a son, without a father. She was also informed that he would be a noble Prophet. “He will speak to the people in the cradle.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:46) That is, when he is an infant, he will call them to the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners. He will also do so when he is a man of mature age. This proves that he attained middle age and called the people to Allah in it. She was commanded to worship Allah much, to be pious and devout, to prostrate and bow, in order to be deserving of this generosity and to show gratitude for this blessing. It was said that she used to stand in prayer until the skin of her feet split – may Allah be pleased with her and show Mercy to her and to her mother and father. The angels said, “O, Maryam! Verily, Allah has chosen you.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:42) That is, He has selected you and preferred you over the low creatures and given you beautiful characteristics. “...and chosen you above the women of Al-‘Alameen.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:42) It is possible that this means the women of her time, as in Allah’s Words to Moosa (Peace be upon him): “I have chosen you above men...” (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:144) and as in His Words regarding the Children of Isra’eel: And We chose them (the Children of Isra’eel) above Al-‘Alameen with knowledge. (Soorah AdDukhan 44:32). And it is well known that Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) is better than Moosa (Peace be upon him) and that Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) is better than both of them. And likewise, this nation (of Islam) is better than all of the other nations, greater in numbers, superior in knowledge and purer in deeds than the Children of Isra’eel and others.

It is also possible that: “...and have chosen you above the women of Al-‘Alameen.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:42) is a general statement, meaning that she is the best of women in this world, including all those before her and all those after her, because she was a Prophetess, according to those who opine that she, Sarah, the mother of Ishaq (Peace be upon him) and the mother of Moosa (Peace be upon him) were Prophetesses. Ibn Hazm and others cite as evidence for this the words of the angels and the Revelation given to the mother of Moosa (Peace be upon him). According to this, it is not impossible that Maryam might be better than Sarah and the mother of Moosa (Peace be upon him), based on the generality of Allah's Words: "...and have chosen you above the women of Al-'Alameen." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:42), if it (the generality) is not contradicted by any other evidence. And Allah knows better. As for the opinion of the majority, according to what has been related by Abul-Hasan Al-Ash'ari and others, on the authority of Ahl As-Sunnah Wal-Jama'ah, which states that the Prophethood is conferred exclusively on men and there are no Prophetesses. So the status of Maryam would be as Allah, Most High, says, The Maseeh ('Eesa, son of Maryam), was no more than a Messenger; many were the Messengers that passed away before him. His mother (Maryam was a Siddiqah (i.e. she believed in the words of Allah and His Books). (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:75) Based on this, it is not impossible that she might be the best of the renowned and celebrated Siddeeqat – including those before her and those after her. And Allah knows better. She has been linked with Asiyah Bint Muzahim, Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid and Fatimah Bint Muhammad, may Allah be pleased with them all.

Imam Ahmad, Al-Bukhari and Muslim, At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasa'i narrated on the authority of 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Maryam, the daughter of 'Imran, was the best among the women (of the world of her time) and Khadeejah is the best amongst the women (of this nation)."

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Ibn Al-Musayyib that he said, "Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) said that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "The best women are the riders of the camels and the righteous among the women of Quraish; and show affection to their children and zealously guard the wealth of their husbands." Abu Hurairah said that Maryam, the daughter of 'Imran, never rode a camel.

And Abu Ya‘la Al-Mawsili narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) drew four lines in the earth and he said, “Do you know what this is?” They said, “Allah and His Messenger know better.” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “The best among the women of Paradise are Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid, Fatimah Bint Muhammad, Maryam Bint ‘Imran and Asiyah Bint Muzahim, the wife of Fir‘awn.”

As for the Hadith narrated by Ibn Marduyayih, on the authority of Shu‘bah, who reported on the authority of Mu‘awiyah Ibn Qurrah, who in turn reported on the authority of his father that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Many men attained perfection, but no women attained perfection except three: Mary, the daughter of ‘Imran, Asiyah, the wife of and Khadeejah, the daughter of Khuwailid. And the superiority of ‘A’ishah over other women is as the superiority of thareed over all other foods.”

And likewise, the following Hadith narrated by the Jama‘ah – aside from Abu Dawood – is also authentic.

It was reported on the authority of Abu Moosa Al-Ash‘ari (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Many men attained perfection but no women attained perfection except Asiyah, the wife of Fir‘awn and Maryam, the daughter of ‘Imran; and verily, the superiority of ‘A’ishah over other women is as the superiority of thareed over all other foods.” As you see, the Shaikhain (Al-Bukhari and Muslim) agreed upon it. And its wording necessitates that perfection in women was confined to Maryam and Asiyah; and it is likely that what is meant by this is in their times, because each of them was the guardian and protector of a Prophet during his formative years: Asiyah was the guardian of Moosa (Peace be upon him) and Mary was the guardian of her son, the slave of Allah and His Messenger, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him).

And this does not negate the possibility that other women from this nation, such as Khadeejah and Fatimah (may Allah be pleased with them) attained perfection. Khadeejah (may Allah be pleased with her) served the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) before his mission started for fifteen years, and after it for more than ten years. She was his adviser and she devoted herself and her wealth in the cause of Islam – may Allah be Pleased with her and gratify her. As for Fatimah (may Allah be Pleased with her), the daughter of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), she was favored with greater excellence than her sisters, for she outlived the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), while all of her sisters died during his lifetime. And as for ‘A’ishah (May Allah be Pleased with her), she was the most beloved wife of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to him and he did not marry any virgin except her. In addition, no woman in this nation – or in any other nation – is known of who was superior to her in (religious) knowledge and understanding. And Allah protected her (honor) when the slanderers lied about her, by revealing to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) from above seven heavens that she was innocent. She lived for about fifty years after the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), during which time she conveyed what she had learned of the Qur’an and Sunnah from him and acted as peacemaker between those who differed. She was the noblest of the Mothers of the Faithful, even Khadeejah, the daughter of Khuwailid (may Allah be Pleased with her), the mother of the sons and daughters of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), according to the opinion of one group of scholars. But it is better to refrain from making pronouncements regarding which of them was superior. This is because the Prophet’s statement: “And the superiority of ‘A’ishah over other women is as the superiority of thareed over all other foods.” – may be understood to be a general statement, including the aforementioned and others, or it may be a general statement with regard to other women only. And Allah knows better.

What is intended here is to discuss matters pertaining to Maryam, (peace be upon her) daughter of ‘Imran, for Allah purified her and chose her over the women of her time; and it is also possible that her superiority was over all women, as we have said. It has been reported in a Hadith that she will be one of the wives of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) in Paradise, along with Asiyah, the daughter of Muzahim. We have related in the Tafseer on the authority of some of the Salaf that when he said that, he drew support from the Words of Allah: ...previously married and virgins. (Soorah AtTahreem 66:5) He said, “The previously married refers to Asiyah, while among the virgins is Maryam, the daughter of ‘Imran.” And we have spoken of this at the end of Soorah At-Tahreem. And Allah knows better.

The Description of the Birth of ‘Eesa – Peace be upon him

Allah, Most High, says, And mention in the Book (the Qur’an, O Muhammad, the story of) Maryam, when she withdrew in seclusion from her family to a place facing east. She placed a barrier (to screen herself) from them; then We sent to her Our Rooh (Angel Jibraeel), and he appeared before her in the form of a man in all respects. She said, “Verily! I seek refuge with the Most Beneficent (Allah) from you, if you are truly taqiyy.” He said, “I am only a Messenger from your Lord, to give you a pure boy.” She said, “How can I have a son, when no man has touched me, nor am I unchaste?” He said, “So your Lord said; (He said,) “That is easy for Me (Allah). And We will appoint him as a sign to mankind and a Mercy from Us (Allah), and it is a matter (already) decreed, (by Allah).” So she conceived him, and she withdrew with him to a far place (i.e. Bethlehem valley about 4-6 miles from Jerusalem). And the pains of childbirth drove her to the trunk of a date-palm. She said, “Would that I had died before this, and had been forgotten and out of sight!” Then he who was below her cried unto her, saying, “Grieve not! Your Lord has provided a water stream under you; and shake the trunk of the date-palm toward you, it will let fall fresh ripe-dates upon you. So eat and drink and be glad, and if you see any human being, say, "Verily! I have vowed a fast unto the Most Beneficent (Allah) so I shall not speak to any human being this day." Then she brought him (the baby) to her people, carrying him. They said, "O, Mary! Indeed you have brought a thing fariyan. O sister of Haroon (Aaron)! Your father was not a man who used to commit adultery, nor was your mother an unchaste woman." Then she pointed to him. They said, "How can we talk to one who is a child in the cradle?" He ('Eesa) said, "Verily! I am a slave of Allah; He has given me the Scripture and made me a Prophet. And He has made me blessed wheresoever I may be, and He has enjoined on me salah (prayer) and zakah as long as I live. And dutiful to my mother, and made me not arrogant and unblessed. And salam (peace) be upon me the day I was born, and the day I die, and the day I shall be raised alive!" Such is 'Eesa, son of Maryam. (It is) a statement of truth, about which they doubt (or dispute). It befits not (the Majesty of) Allah that He should beget a son (this refers to the slander of Christians against Allah, by saying that 'Eesa is the son of Allah). Glorified (and Exalted) be He (above all that they associate with Him). When He decrees a thing, He only says to it, "Be!" and it is. ('Eesa said), "And verily Allah is my Lord and your Lord. So worship Him (Alone). That is the Straight Path (Allah's Religion of Islamic Monotheism which He did ordain for all of His Prophets)." (Soorah Maryam 19:16-37) (Tafseer At-Tabari) Then the sects differed (i.e. they differed regarding 'Eesa), so woe unto the disbelievers (those who gave false witness by saying that 'Eesa is the son of Allah) from the meeting of a great Day (i.e. the Day of Resurrection, when they will be thrown in the blazing Fire).

Allah, Most High tells this story after the story of Zakariyya (Peace be upon him), which is like an introduction and a preparation before it.

We have already said that when Maryam's mother pledged her to the service of Bait Al-Maqdis, her sister's husband or her maternal aunt's husband, Zakariyya (Peace be upon him), the Prophet of that time, became her guardian. He appointed for her a mihrab in which to worship, and that was a noble place in the Mosque, in which none could visit her except he. Allah also informed us that when she came of age, she devoted herself to worship and she was without equal at that time in all aspects of worship. That which caused Zakariyya (Peace be upon him) to envy her befell her and she was spoken to by the angels, who indicated to her that Allah had chosen her and that He would bestow on her a pure son, who would be a Noble Prophet, purified, venerated and aided by miracles. She was amazed at the idea that she might have a child without a father, because she was not married, nor was she among those who would marry. The angels informed her that Allah is Able to anything that He wills and that when he ordains a thing, He merely says to it, "Be!" and it is. On hearing this, she submitted to it and surrendered herself to Allah's Command. She knew that in this there was a great trial for her, because people would speak about her due to it, for they would be unaware of the truth of the matter. She would simply judge by appearances without reflection or understanding. She only used to leave the Mosque when she was menstruating or in order to fulfill some essential need, such as drawing water or bringing food. One day, when she had left the Mosque to take care of her affairs, when she withdrew in seclusion (Soorah Maryam 19:17) she went alone to the eastern corner of Al-Aqsa Mosque and lo, Allah sent to her the Angel Jibraeel (Peace be upon him), the Trustworthy Spirit, and he appeared before her in the form of a man in all respects. (Soorah Maryam 19:17) When she saw him, She said, "Verily! I seek refuge with the Most Beneficent (Allah) from you, if you are truly taqiyy." (Soorah Maryam 19:18)

Abul-'Aliyah said, "I learned that taqiyy means the one who possesses intellect and understanding. This is a reply to those who claimed that among the Children of Isra'eel there was a man who was well known for his immorality and sinfulness and that his name was taqiyy, for this claim is false and baseless; indeed, it is ridiculous saying. He said, "I am only a Messenger from your Lord." (Soorah Maryam 19:19) That is, the angel addressed her, saying, "I am only a Messenger from your Lord, not a human being and He has sent me to you." "...to give you a pure boy." (Soorah Maryam 19:19) That is, to give you news of a pure and righteous son. She said, "How can I have a son..." (Soorah Maryam 19:20) This means that Maryam was amazed at this. She said, "How can I have a son..." meaning: "In what way would a son be born to me..." "...when no man has touched me, nor am I unchaste?" (Soorah Maryam 19:20) That is, I have no husband and I am not a woman who commits sinful acts (i.e. unlawful sexual intercourse). He said, "So your Lord said; (He said,) "That is easy for Me (Allah)." (Soorah Maryam 19:21) That is, the angel responded to her amazement that she should have a son in such circumstances by saying, "So your Lord said" (Soorah Maryam 19:21) means He has promised that He will create from you a son, even though you have no husband and you are not among those who commit outrages. "That is easy for Me (Allah)." (Soorah Maryam 19:21) That is, it is an easy thing for Him to do, because He is Able to do all things.

And He, Most High, says, "And We will appoint him as a sign to mankind" (Soorah Maryam 19:21) means We will make his creation in these circumstances a proof for the completeness and perfection of Our Ability to create all kinds of things, for He, Most High, created Adam (Peace be upon him) without a male or a female and Eve from a male, without a female. And He created 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) from a female, without a male. The rest of the mankind, He created from a male and a female.

And He, Most High, says, "...and a mercy from Us (Allah)." (Soorah Maryam 19:21) means through him We shall show Mercy to the slaves, by him calling them to Allah in his infachildhood and in his adult life, and in his middle age, asking them to worship

Allah, Alone, without partners and to declare Him above taking a wife or having sons, or having partners or equals. "...and it is a matter (already) decreed, (by Allah)." (Soorah Maryam 19:21) It is possible that these words are part of Jibraeel's dialogue with Maryam, i.e. he informed her that this matter was preordained by Allah's Power and Will. Muhammad Ibn Ishaq gave this interpretation and Ibn Jareer At-Tabari preferred it, but it was not related by anyone besides Ibn Ishaq. And Allah knows better.

It is also possible that His Words: "...and it is a matter (already) decreed, (by Allah)" (Soorah Maryam 19:21) are an allusion to Jibraeel breathing into her, as He, Most High, says, Andv (the example of)

Maryam, the daughter of 'Imran, who guarded her chastity, so We blew into (her garment) through Our Spirit (i.e. Jibraeel) (Soorah At-Tahreem 66:12) So she conceived him. (Soorah Maryam 19:22) ...and she withdrew with him to a far place (i.e. Bethlehem valley about 4-6 miles from Jerusalem). (Soorah Maryam 19:22) This was because when Maryam (peace be upon her) conceived, she was unable to bear it, for she knew that many of the people would gossip about her situation. More than one of the Salaf, including Wahb Ibn Munabbih said that when the signs of pregnancy became obvious in her, among the first persons to notice it was a man from among the slaves of Banu Isra'eel, whose name was Yoosuf, son of Ya'qoob, the carpenter. He was her maternal cousin and he expressed great amazement at her state. This was because he knew how religious, decent and devout she was, and yet in spite of this, he observed that she was pregnant when she had no husband. So one day, he confronted her, saying, "O, Maryam! Can there be cultivation without a seed being planted?" She said, "Yes, for who made the first cultivation grow?" Then he asked, "Then can a tree grow without water or rain?" She replied, "Yes, for who created the first tree?" Then he asked her, "Then can there be a son without a male (i.e. a father)?" She answered, "Yes, for verily, Allah created Adam without a male or a female." He said, "Then tell me your news (i.e. how you came to be pregnant)." She said, "Verily, Allah gave me glad tidings. (Remember) when the angels said, “O Maryam! Verily, Allah gives you the glad tidings of a Word (“Be!” – and he was! i.e. ‘Eesa the son of Maryam) from Him, his name will be the Maseeh ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, held in honor in this world and in the Hereafter, and will be one of those who are near to Allah. He will speak to the people in the cradle and in manhood, and he will be one of the righteous.” (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:45,46) And something like this has been narrated about Zakariyya (Peace be upon him), that he asked her and she answered him in the same way. And Allah knows better.

He, Most High, says, And the pains of childbirth drove her to the trunk of a date-palm. (Soorah Maryam 19:23) That is, her labor pains caused her to make for the trunk of a date-palm tree and this interpretation is substantiated by a Hadith narrated by An-Nasa’i, with a chain of narrators that is not objectionable (i.e. there are no weak narrators in it): It is reported on the authority of Anas (May Allah be pleased with him) in a marfoo’ form and by Al-Baihaqi, with a chain of narrators that he declared to be authentic, on the authority of Shaddad Ibn Aws, which is also in a marfoo’ form. According to this narration, this took place at Baitlahm (Bethlehem). And Allah knows best. She said, “Would that I had died before this, and had been forgotten and out of sight!” (Soorah Maryam 19:23) In this there is evidence that it is permissible to wish for death when afflicted by trial and tribulation. This is because she knew that the people would accuse her (of unlawful sexual intercourse) and they would not believe her. Instead they would accuse her of lying when she came to them with a son in her arms, in spite of the fact that she had been with them in performing acts of worship, religious rites and used to seclude herself in the Mosque. Because of this she wished that she might have died before this or that she had been “...forgotten and out of sight!” (Soorah Maryam 19:23) means that she had never been created at all. And He, Most High, says, Then he who was below her cried unto her. (Soorah Maryam 19:2) This was also recited as Then he called to her from below her. There are two opinions with regard to who the personal pronoun “he” refers to. One is that it refers to Jibraeel (Peace be upon him). This was said by Al-‘Awfi, who reported it on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him). He said, “ ‘Eesa did not speak except in the presence of the people.” Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair concurred with this, as did ‘Amr Ibn Maimoon, Ad-Dahhak, As-Suddi and Qatadah. Mujahid, Al-Hasan, Ibn Zaid and Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair – according to another narration – said that it refers to her son, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him). This was the preferred view of Ibn Jareer At-Tabari and it is authentic.

But the correct interpretation is the first one, based on the Words of Allah, Most High, “And shake the trunk of date-palm toward you, it will let fall fresh ripe-dates upon you.” (Soorah Maryam 19:25) So He mentions food and drink, which is why He says, “So eat and drink and be glad.” (Soorah Maryam 19:26). Then it was said that the trunk of the date-palm was dry. It was also said that the date-palm was bearing fruit. And Allah knows better. It is possible that it was a date-palm, but that it was not bearing fruit at that time, because the time of his birth was in the winter – and that is not the time when date-palms bear fruit. This might be understood from the Words of Allah, Most High, as being a Grace (from Allah): it will let fall fresh ripe-dates upon you.” (Soorah Maryam 19:26) ‘Amr Ibn Maimoon said, “There is nothing better for the woman in childbirth than dried dates and fresh dates.” Then he recited this Verse. And He, Most High, says, “...and if you see any human being, say, “Verily! I have vowed a fast unto the Most Beneficent (Allah) so I shall not speak to any human being this day.” (Soorah Maryam 19:26) That is, if you see any person, say to him, by mute expression and sign, "Verily! I have vowed a fast unto the Most Beneficent (Allah)." (Soorah Maryam 19:26) That is, I have vowed to remain silent; according to Qatadah, As-Suddi and Ibn Aslam, it was a part of their religious law that when a person fasted, he would refrain from speaking and from eating. This is proven by the Words of Allah: “...so I shall not speak to any human being this day.”

(Soorah Maryam 19:26) But in our religious law, it is disliked for the fasting person to remain silent from morning till night.

And He, Most High, says, Then she brought him (the baby) to her people, carrying him. They said, “O Mary! Indeed you have brought a thing fariyan. O sister of Haroon! Your father was not a man who used to commit adultery, nor was your mother was an unchaste woman.” (Soorah Maryam 19:27,28)

What is meant is that when they saw her carrying her son, They said, “O Mary! Indeed you have brought a thing fariyan.” (Soorah Maryam 19:27) The word fariyah means a shocking and terrible deed or statement. Then they said, “O sister of Haroon (Aaron)!” (Soorah Maryam 19:28) It was said that they compared her to one of the devout men of their time, whom she sought to surpass in worship and that his name was Haroon. It was also said that they compared her with an adulterous man of their time, whose name was Haroon. This was said by Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair. It was also said that they were referring to Haroon (Peace be upon him), the brother of Moosa (Peace be upon him), and that they were comparing her to him because of her devoutness in worship.

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Al-Mugheerah Ibn Shu‘bah that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) sent me to Najran and they said, “You read: “O sister of Haroon...” (i.e. Maryam) in the Qur’an, whereas Moosa was born much before ‘Eesa.” When I came back to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), I asked him about that, whereupon he said, “Did you not inform them that they (the people of former times) used to be named after the Prophets and righteous people who had gone before them?”

What is meant by this is that they (Maryam’s people) said, “O sister of Haroon!” (Soorah Maryam 19:28) and the Hadith has prove that she had a brother in lineage whose name was Haroon, and that he was wellknown for his devoutness, his righteousness and his charitable deeds, which is why they said, “Your father was not a man who used to commit adultery, nor was your mother an unchaste woman” (Soorah Maryam 19:28) means you are not from a family who possessed these evil traits, nor were your parents or your brother ever accused of committing such major sins. Then she pointed to him (Soorah Maryam 19:29) meaning: address him and speak to him, because your answer is his responsibility and that which you seek you may hear from him. When she indicated the baby, those among them who were arrogant and nasty said, “How can we talk to one who is a child in the cradle?” (Soorah Maryam 19:29) That is, how can you refer us for an answer to a small baby, who is unable to speak, and is a suckling infant in his crib, unable to distinguish between pure milk, unadulterated by water – and buttermilk. And by this suggestion of yours you are merely mocking, ridiculing and belittling us. You are also making light of us, when you do not answer us in words; instead, you refer us for an answer to a child in his crib. At this point, He (‘Eesa) said, “Verily! I am a slave of Allah; He has given me the Scripture and made me a Prophet. And He has made me blessed wheresoever I may be, and He has enjoined on me salah (prayer) and zakah as long as I live.” (Soorah Maryam 19:30,31) These were the first words uttered by ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam (Peace be upon him), and the very first words he spoke were: “Verily! I am a slave of Allah.” (Soorah Maryam 19:30) – in which he acknowledged that he worships his Lord and that Allah is his Lord, and so he declared himself to be innocent what the unjust people attribute to him, i.e. that he is the son of Allah. Rather, he is His slave and His Messenger, and the son of his people. Then he declared his mother innocent of what the ignorant folk attributed to her and accused her of, saying, “He has given me the Scripture and made me a Prophet.” (Soorah Maryam 19:30), for Allah does not give Prophethood to one who is as they claim, may Allah curse them and disgrace them. He, Most High, says, And because of their (the Jews’) disbelief and (their) uttering against Maryam a grave false charge... (Soorah An-Nisa’ 4:156) This was that a group from among the Jews at that time said, “She became pregnant with him due to having committed unlawful sexual intercourse during the time of her menses,” may Allah curse them. So Allah declared her innocent of that and informed us that she was honest and upright and that He had taken her child as a Prophet sent by Him, one of the Ulul-‘Azm, the five greatest Prophets. This is why He says, “And He has made me blessed wheresoever I may be.” (Soorah Maryam 19:31) This is because wherever he was, he used to call the people to the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners and deny the imperfection or deficiency which is implicit in the claim that He had taken a son or a consort. Far above that is He. “...and He has enjoined on me salah (prayer) and zakah as long as I live.” (Soorah Maryam 19:31). This is the obligation of slaves (of Allah), to fulfill the rights of the Almighty, Most Praiseworthy, to offer prayers and to do good to His creatures, through zakah. The word zakah includes the purification of souls from mean, despicable traits and the purification of wealth, by giving to all kinds of needy folk, offering hospitality to guests, providing for wives, slaves and kinfolk, and all acts of obedience (to Allah) and deeds through which one seeks closeness to Him. Then He says, “And dutiful to my mother, and made me not arrogant and unblessed.” (Soorah Maryam 19:32) That is, He has made me dutiful to my mother. This He did by confirming her rights upon him, for he had no parent except her. So Glorified be He Who created all things, showered His Benevolence on them and offered every soul its true guidance. “...and made me not arrogant and unblessed” (Soorah Maryam 19:32) means I am neither rude nor impolite and no words or deeds that contradict Allah’s Commands or the obligation to obey Him ever emanate from me.

Then Allah, Most High, related his true story, made clear his situation and fully explained it, saying, Such is ‘Eesa, son of Maryam. (It is) a statement of truth, about which they doubt (or dispute). It befits not (the Majesty of) Allah that He should beget a son (this refers to the slander of Christians against Allah, by saying that ‘Eesa is the son of Allah). Glorified be He (and Exalted above all that they associate with Him). When He decrees a thing, He only says to it, "Be!" and it is. (Soorah Maryam 19:34,35), as He, Most High, says in Soorah Aal 'Imran, after relating his story and his situation: This is (what We recite to you, O Muhammad) of the Verses and the Wise Reminder (i.e. the Qur'an). Verily, the likeness of 'Eesa before Allah is the likeness of Adam. He created him from dust, then (He) said to him, "Be!" – and he was. (This is) the truth from your Lord, so be not of those who doubt. Then whoever disputes with you concerning him ('Eesa) after (all this) knowledge that has come to you, (i.e. 'Eesa being a slave of Allah, and having no share in Divinity) say, (O Muhammad), "Come, let us call our sons and your sons, our women and your women, ourselves and yourselves – then we pray and invoke (sincerely) the Curse of Allah upon those who lie." Verily! This is the true narrative (about the story of 'Eesa), and La ilaha illAllah (none has the right to be worshipped but Allah, the One and the Only True God, Who has neither a wife nor a son). And indeed, Allah is the Almighty, Most Wise. And if they turn away (and do not accept these true proofs and evidences), then surely, Allah is Most Aware of those who do mischief. (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:58-63)

What is meant is that when Allah, Most High, made clear the situation of the Maseeh (Peace be upon him), He said to His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), "Such is 'Eesa, son of Maryam. (It is) a statement of truth, about which they doubt (or dispute). (Soorah Maryam 19:34) That is, that he is a created slave, born of a woman from among Allah's slaves, which is why He says, "It befits not (the Majesty of) Allah that He should beget a son (this refers to the slander of Christians against Allah, by saying that 'Eesa is the son of Allah). Glorified be He (and Exalted above all that they associate with Him). When He decrees a thing, He only says to it, "Be!" and it is. (Soorah Maryam 19:35) That is, nothing is impossible for Him, nothing troubles Him and nothing, for He is Omnipotent and the Doer of whatever He wills. "Verily, His Command, when He intends a thing, is only that He says to it, "Be!" and it is!" (Soorah Ya Seen 36:82) And as for His Saying: "Truly! Allah is my Lord and your Lord, so worship Him (Alone). This is the Straight Path" (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:51) it is the completion of 'Eesa's speech to them in the cradle, in which he informed them that Allah is their Lord, the God Whom he worshipped and the God Whom they were obliged to worship and that it was the Straight Path. He, Most High, says, Then the sects differed (i.e. regarding 'Eesa), so woe unto the disbelievers (those who gave false witness by saying that 'Eesa is the son of Allah) from the meeting of a great Day (i.e. the Day of Resurrection, when they will be thrown in the blazing Fire). (Soorah Maryam 19:37) That is, the people of that time and those after them differed regarding him. Among the Jews there were those who claimed that he was the illegitimate son of an adulteress and persisted in their disbelief and obstinacy. Another group went to the other extreme and claimed that he is the son of Allah. But the true Believers said that he is Allah's slave and His Messenger, the son of his nation and Allah's Word, which He bestowed on Maryam, and a spirit created by Him. These people are the saved ones, who will be rewarded (by Allah) and they are supported and helped (by Him). And those who contradicted them in any of these things are disbelievers, they are astray and they are ignorant. And Allah has warned them (of the punishment that awaits them) in His Words: So woe unto the disbelievers (those who gave false witness by saying that 'Eesa is the son of Allah) from the meeting of a great Day (i.e. the Day of Resurrection, when they will be thrown in the blazing Fire). (Soorah Maryam 19:37)

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'Ubadah Ibn As-Samit, who reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, "Whoever bore witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allah, Alone, Who has no partners, that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger, and that 'Eesa is Allah's slave and His Messenger and His Word, which He bestowed on Maryam and a Spirit created by Him, that Paradise is true and Hell is true, Allah will admit him into Paradise with the deeds which he had done even if those deeds were few.” (Junadah, the sub-narrator said, “ ‘Ubadah added, “Such a person can enter Paradise through any of its eight gates he likes.”)

Chapter on Declaration that Allah, Most High, Has no Son

Allah, Most High, says at the end of this Soorah, And they say, “The Most Beneficent (Allah) has begotten a son (or offspring or children) [as the Jews say: ‘Uzair is the son of Allah, the Christians say that He has begotten a son (‘Eesa), and the pagan Arabs say that He has begotten daughters (angels, etc.)]. Indeed you have brought forth (said) a thing ‘iddan! That is, a terrible, evil saying and a lie. Whereby the heavens are almost torn, and the Earth is split asunder, and the mountains fall in ruins, that they ascribe a son (or offspring or children) to the Most Beneficent (Allah). But it is not suitable for (the Majesty of) the Most Beneficent (Allah) that He should beget a son (or offspring or children). There is none in the heavens and the earth but comes unto the Most Beneficent (Allah) as a slave. Verily, He knows each one of them, and has counted them a full counting. And everyone of them will come to Him alone on the Day of Resurrection (without any helper, or protector or defender). (Soorah Maryam 19:88-95) Thus Allah, Most High, has made it clear that it is not fitting that He should have a son, because He is the Creator of all things and the Owner of all things and every thing is in need of Him, submits to Him and is humbled before Him. And all of the inhabitants of the heavens and the Earth are His slaves, while He is their Lord, La ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He) – and there is no lord but He, as He, Most High, says, Yet, they join the Jinn as partners in worship with Allah, though He has created them (the Jinn), and they attribute falsely without knowledge sons and daughters to Him. Be He Glorified and Exalted above (all) that they attribute to Him. He is the Originator of the heavens and the Earth. How can He have children when He has no wife? He created all things and He is the Knower of everything. Such is Allah, your Lord! La ilaha illa Huwa (none has the right to be worshipped but He), the Creator of all things. So worship Him (Alone), and He is the Wakil (Trustee, Disposer of affairs, Guardian, etc.) over all things. No vision can grasp Him, but His Grasp is over all vision. He is the Most Subtle and Courteous, Well-Acquainted with all things. (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:100-103) So He has made clear that He is the Creator of all things, so how can He have a son, when a son cannot be produced except from two like beings – and Allah, Most High, has no like or equal, so He can have no consort and therefore, no son, as He, Most High, says, Say (O Muhammad, “He is Allah, (the) One. Allah-us Samad (the Self-Sufficient Master, Whom all creatures need, He neither eats nor drinks). He begets not, nor was He begotten; and there is none coequal or comparable unto Him.”) (Soorah Al-Ikhlās 112:1-4) He has determined that He is the One, Who has no equal in His Divine Essence, in His Attributes or His Actions. “Allah-us Samad (the Self-Sufficient Master, Whom all creatures need, He neither eats nor drinks).” He is the Master, Who is Complete in His Knowledge, His Wisdom, His Mercy and all of His Attributes. “He begets not.” That is, No son has come from Him “...nor was He begotten” means He was not born to anyone or anything that existed before Him (because nothing existed before Him). “...and there is none coequal or comparable unto Him.” That is, there is nothing equal to Him, nor anything similar to Him. So He is without equal in all ways and all senses, to it is not possible that he could have a son, since a son can only be begotten of two equal things, or similar things. Far Above that is Allah, Most High.

He, Most High, says, And they say, “The Most Beneficent (Allah) has begotten a son (or children).” Glory to Him! They (those whom they call children of Allah, i.e. the angels, ‘Eesa son of Maryam, ‘Uzair, etc.), are but honored slaves. They speak not until He has spoken, and they act on His Command. He knows what is before them, and what is behind them, and they cannot intercede except for him with whom He is Pleased. And they stand in awe for fear of Him. And if anyone of them should say, “Verily, I am an ilah (a god) besides Him (Allah),” such a one We should recompense with Hell. Thus We recompense the zalimoon (polytheists, wrongdoers, etc.). (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:26-29)

And He, Most High, says at the beginning of Soorah Al-Kahf, which was revealed in Makkah, All the praises and thanks be to Allah, Who has sent down to His slave (Muhammad) the Book (the Qur’an), and has not placed therein any crookedness. (He has made it) Straight to give warning (to the disbelievers) of a severe punishment from Him, and to give glad tidings to the believers (in the Oneness of Allah, Islamic Monotheism), who work righteous deeds, that they shall have a fair reward (i.e. Paradise). They shall abide therein forever. And to warn those (Jews, Christians, and pagans) who say, “Allah has begotten a son (or offspring or children).” No knowledge have they of such a thing, nor had their fathers. Mighty is the word that comes out of their mouths (i.e. that He begot (took) sons and daughters). They utter nothing but a lie. (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:1-5)

And He, Most High, says, They (Jews, Christians and pagans) say, “Allah has begotten a son (children).” Glory be to Him! He is Rich (Free of all wants). His is all that is in the heavens and all that is in the Earth. No warrant have you for this. Do you say against Allah what you know not? Say, “Verily, those who invent a lie against Allah will never be successful.” – A brief enjoyment in this world! – And then unto Us will be their return, then We shall make them taste the severest torment because they used to disbelieve (in Allah, belie His Messengers, deny and challenge His Ayat.) (Soorah Yoonus 10:68-70)

The Noble Verses, which were revealed in Makkah include a reply to all of those disbelieving parties, such as the philosophers, the pagan Arabs, the Jews and the Christians, who claimed – without knowledge – that Allah has a son (or children). Glorified be He! He is Far Above what the unjust wrongdoers say.

And since the Christians – may Allah’s Curse be on them in perpetuity, until the Day of Resurrection – were among the foremost of those who made this claim, they were mentioned frequently in the Qur’an, in order for Allah to reply to their claims and to expose their contradictions, their lack of knowledge and their deep ignorance.

Their sayings of disbelief take manifold forms and this is because falsehood has a way of diversifying into many branches, varieties and mutual contradictions. As for the truth, it does not vary and it does not suffer from any confusion or contradiction. Allah, Most High, says, Had it been from other than Allah, they would surely have found therein much contradictions. (Soorah An-Nisa’ 4:82) This proves that truth is one and is in agreement and conformity with itself, while falsehood is contradictory and confused. A party from among their ignorant and misguided folk claimed that the Maseeh (Peace be upon him) is Allah, Most High, while another party said that he is the son of Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.

Another group said that he is the third part of a trinity of which they claim that Allah consists. He, Most High, says, Surely, in disbelief are they who say that Allah is the Maseeh, son of Maryam. Say (O Muhammad), “Who then has the least power against Allah, if He were to destroy the Maseeh, son of Maryam, his mother, and all those who are on the earth together?” And to Allah belongs the dominion of the heavens and the Earth, and all that is between them. He creates what He wills. And Allah is Able to do all things. (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:17)

So Allah, Most High, informs us about their disbelief and their ignorance and He makes it clear that He is the Creator, Who is Able to do all things, and it is He Who disposes of the affairs of all things, and He is the Lord of all things, the Owner of all things and the God Who should be worshipped by all things. At the end of Soorah Al-Ma’idah, He, Most High, says, Surely, they have disbelieved who say, "Allah is the Maseeh ('Eesa), son of Maryam." But the Maseeh said, "O, Children of Isra'eel! Worship Allah, my Lord and your Lord." Verily, whosoever sets up partners in worship with Allah, then Allah has forbidden Paradise for him, and the Fire will be his abode. And for the Zalimoon there are no helpers. Surely, disbelievers are those who said, "Allah is the third of the three (in a trinity)." But there is no ilah (god) (none who has the right to be worshipped) but One Ilah (God – Allah). And if they cease not from what they say, verily, a painful torment will befall the disbelievers among them. Will they not repent to Allah and ask His Forgiveness? For Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. The Maseeh, son of Maryam, was no more than a Messenger; many were the Messengers that passed away before him. His mother (Maryam) was a Siddiqah (i.e. she believed in the Words of Allah and His Books. They both used to eat food (as any other human being, while Allah does not eat). Look how We make the Ayat clear to them, yet look how they are deluded away (from the truth). (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:72-75)

Allah, Most High, has delivered His Verdict on their disbelief with good cause and He informs us that this (disbelief) emanated from them, in spite of the fact that the Messenger sent to them, i.e. 'Eesa (Peace be upon him), the son of Maryam, had made clear to them that he was a slave, subject to Allah's Lordship, created and fashioned in the womb and he called the people to the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners. And he warned them that opposing this would lead to punishment in the Hellfire in the Eternal Abode and humiliation, degradation and ignominy in the Hereafter. This is why He says, Verily, whosoever sets up partners in worship with Allah, then Allah has forbidden Paradise for him, and the Fire will be his abode. And for the Zalimoon there are no helpers. (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:72) Then He says, Surely, disbelievers are those who said, "Allah is the third of the three (in a trinity)." But there is no ilah

(god) (none who has the right to be worshipped) but One Ilah. (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:73) Ibn Jareer AtTabari and others said that what is meant by this is their saying regarding the personages of the trinity, the personage of the Lord, the personage of the son and the personage of the Word sent from the father to the son, according to all the differing sects, including the Melkites to the Jacobites and the Nestorians – may Allah’s Curse be on them. And we shall explain how they differed in this and the three councils they held during the reign of Constantine, son of Constantius – three hundred years after ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) and three hundred years before the commencement of the Mission of Prophet Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). This is why Allah, Most High, says, But there is no ilah (god) (none who has the right to be worshipped) but One Ilah. (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:73). That is, there is no god who has the right to be worshipped, except Allah, Alone, without partners and He has no equal, no like, no consort and no son.

Then He warned them and threatened them, saying, And if they cease not from what they say, verily, a painful torment will befall the disbelievers among them. (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:73) Then He called upon them, with His Mercy and Kindness, to repent and ask forgiveness for these terrible sins and enormities, which merit the Fire; He says, Will they not repent to Allah and seek His Forgiveness? For Allah is OftForgiving, Most Merciful. (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:74) Then He made clear the situation of the Maseeh (Peace be upon him) and his mother and emphasized that he was a slave and Messenger and that his mother was a Siddiqah, i.e. she was not an adulteress, as the Jews claim – may Allah’s Curse be on them. And in this there is evidence that she was not a Prophet, as a group of scholars have claimed.

And He, Most High, says, They both used to eat food (as any other human being, while Allah does not eat). (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:75) This is an allusion to the fact that food was excreted by them, just as it is excreted by others. That is to say, how can anyone who shares such an attribute be a deity? Far Above their claim and their ignorance is Allah, Most High.

As-Suddi and others said that what is intended by Allah's Saying: Surely, disbelievers are those who said, "Allah is the third of the three (in a trinity)" (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:73) is a reference to their claim that 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) and Maryam are deities besides Allah, i.e. as Allah, Most High, made clear regarding their disbelief in this matter, in His Saying: And (remember) when Allah will say (on the Day of Resurrection), "O 'Eesa, son of Maryam! Did you say unto men, 'Worship me and my mother as two gods besides Allah'?" He will say, "Glory be to You! It was not for me to say what I had no right (to say). Had I said such a thing, You would surely have known it. You know what is in my inner self, though I do not know what is in Yours, truly, You, only You, are the All-Knowing of all that is hidden and unseen. Never did I say to them aught except what You (Allah) did command me to say: 'Worship Allah, my Lord and your Lord.' And I was a witness over them while I dwelt amongst them, but when You tawaffaitani, You were the Watcher over them, and You are a Witness to all things." (This is a great admonition and warning to the Christians of the whole world) "If You punish them, they are Your slaves, and if You forgive them, verily You, only You are the Almighty, the Most Wise." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:116-118)

Allah, Most High, informs us that He will question 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) on the Day of Resurrection, in a manner which honors him and which rebukes and censures those who worshipped him. Those who lie against him and invent a calumny, claiming that he is the son of Allah, or that he is Allah, or that he is His partner – Allah is Far Above all that they ascribe to Him. He will question him, even though He knows that he did not do what he is being asked about. But He will ask in order to rebuke those lied against him; He will say to him, Did you say unto men, 'Worship me and my mother as two gods besides Allah'?" He will say, "Glory be to You!" (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:116) That is, You are Far Above the partners they ascribe to You. It was not for me to say what I had no right (to say) (Soorah AlMa'idah 5:116) means no one has this right but You. "Had I said such a thing, You would surely have known it. You know what is in my inner self, though I do not know what is in Yours, truly, You, only You, are the All-Knowing of all that is hidden and unseen.” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:116) One may note that great courteousness is shown in the question and the answer. “Never did I say to them aught except what You (Allah) did command me to say” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:117) means when You sent me to them and revealed to me the Scripture, which I used to recite to them. Then he explained what he used to say to them in his words: "Worship Allah, my Lord and your Lord." (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:117) That is, my Creator and your Creator, my Sustainer and your Sustainer. “And I was a witness over them while I dwelt amongst them, but when You tawaffaitani...” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:117) That is, when You raised me up to You, when they intended to crucify me and kill me, but You had Mercy on me and saved me from them, casting my likeness upon one of them, so that they took their vengeance upon him. And when this happened, “You were the Watcher over them, and You are a Witness to all things.” (This is a great admonition and warning to the Christians of the whole world). (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:117) Then he said, in tones indicating submission to the Will of the Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and a declaration of self-exoneration from the claims of the Christians, “If You punish them, they are Your slaves...” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:118) means they deserve that. “...and if You forgive them, verily You, only You are the Almighty, the Most Wise.” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:118) All matters refer back to Allah, for He does what He Wills and none can question Him about what He does, while He will question them, which is why he said, “...verily You, only You are the Almighty, the Most Wise.” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:118). He did not say, the Most Forgiving, the Most Merciful.

And it has been confirmed in an authentic Hadith from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Allah, Most High, says, “The son of Adam has reviled Me and he had no right to do so; he claims that I have a son, when

I am the One, As-Samad, Who does not beget and Who was not begotten and like unto Whom there is none.”

Explanation of the Revelation of Four Scriptures and the Times of Their Revelation

Abu Zur‘ah Ad-Dimashqi said, ‘Abdullah Ibn Saleh told us, “I was told by Mu‘awiyah Ibn Saleh, on the authority of the person who informed him, that he said, The Towrah was sent down to Moosa (Peace be upon him) on the sixth night of the month of Ramadan. The Zaboor (Psalms) was sent down to Dawood (Peace be upon him) on the twelfth night of the month of Ramadan. This was four hundred and eightytwo years after the Towrah. The Injeel (Gospel) was sent down to ‘Eesa, (Peace be upon him) on the eighteenth night of the month of Ramadan, one thousand and fifty years after the Zaboor. And Al-Furqan (the Criterion, i.e. the Qur’an) was sent down to Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) on the twenty-fourth night of the month of Ramadan.”

We have mentioned in the Tafseer in the explanation of the Words of Allah, Most High: The month of Ramadan in which was revealed the Qur’an. (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:185) the Ahadeeth reported to that effect and it is mentioned in them that the Injeel was sent down to ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) on the eighteenth night of the month of Ramadan.

Ibn Jareer mentioned in his Tareekh that it was sent down to him when he was thirty years old and he remained until Allah raised him up to the heaven, when he was thirty-three years old.

Ishaq Ibn Bishr said, “We were informed by Sa‘eed Ibn Abi ‘Aroobah, who reported on the authority of Qatadah – and Muqatil on his authority – on the authority of ‘Abdur-Rahman Ibn Adam, who reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, revealed to ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), 'O, ‘Eesa! Be diligent in (practicing and teaching) My Religion and be tireless; and listen and obey, O son of the pure woman, the chaste, the virgin. You were born without a father, and I created you as a Sign for the worlds. So worship Me Alone and depend upon Me Alone. Take the Scripture (i.e. the Injeel) with vigor and zeal and go to the Syriac people and convey to them from what is in your hands, that I am the Truth, the Living, the Everlasting, Who never goes away. Believe in the Unlettered, Arab Prophet, the owner of the camel and the headdress (i.e. the ‘imamah [turban]), the woollen garment, the sandals and the staff, the wide-eyed, the smooth-browed, the smooth-cheeked, the curly-haired, the heavily-bearded, whose eyebrows are joined, the hook-nosed, whose incisors are split, whose ‘anfaqah is free of hair, whose neck is like a silver pitcher, whose clavicles appear to have gold running in them, who has hairs from his throat to his navel, like a branch – and there is no hair on his stomach or on his chest except this. His hands and feet are thick, when he turns (to look), he does so with his whole body and when he walks, it is as if he is walking down from a rock and descending from a hillside (i.e. he walks with confidence). The sweat on his face is like pearls and the scent of musk emanates from it. His like has not been seen before and will not be seen again. He is of fine build and he has a good odour. He will marry many women, but will have only a small number of offspring, His descendants are from a blessed woman (i.e. Khadeejah, may Allah be Pleased with her) and she will have an abode (in Paradise) made from hollowed pearl, in which there will neither be fatigue nor clamor. You will support him, O ‘Eesa, at the end of time, just as Zakariyya supported your mother. He will have two offsprings through her (i.e. Khadeejah), both of whom shall be martyred. He will have an abode in Paradise the like of which no other human being will have. His speech is the Qur’an, his Religion is Islam and I am Peace. Tooba will be for those who live in his time, witness his days and pay heed to his words'.”

‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, “O, my Lord! What is Tooba?” He said, “It is a tree which I have planted with My Own Hands; it is for all of the Gardens (of Paradise). Its roots are of ridwan, its water is from tasneem, whose coldness is like kafoor and whose taste is like that of ginger. Anyone who drinks once of that spring shall never be thirsty.” ‘Eesa said, “O, my Lord! Give me to drink of it.” He answered, “It is forbidden for the Prophets to drink from it until that Prophet first drinks of it; it is forbidden for the nations to drink from it until the nation (i.e. followers) of that Prophet first drinks from it. I shall take you up to Me and send you down at the end of time to see wonders from the nation of that Prophet, and that you might assist them against the accursed Dajjal. I shall send you down at prayer time that you may pray with them, but then you shall not lead them in prayer, for they are a nation favored with mercy, and no Prophet will come after him.”

Hisham Ibn ‘Ammar reported on the authority of Al-Waleed Ibn Muslim, who reported on the authority of ‘Abdur-Rahman Ibn Zaid, who in turn reported on the authority of his father that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, “O, my Lord! Inform me about this nation that is favored with mercy.” He said, “It is the nation of Ahmad; they are scholars and men of wisdom, as if they are Prophets. They are pleased with little that they receive from Me and I am Well-Pleased with few deeds from them. I will admit them to Paradise because of (their declaration:) ‘La ilaha ill-Allah (none has the right to be worshipped except Allah)’. O, ‘Eesa! They will be the majority of the inhabitants in Paradise, because the tongues of no nation have been humbled by ‘La ilaha ill-Allah (none has the right to be worshipped except Allah)’ as their tongues have been humbled. And the necks of no nation have been humbled by prostration as their necks have been humbled.” (Narrated by Ibn ‘Asakir)

And He, Most High, says, And when I (Allah) put in the hearts of Al-Hawariyyoon (the Disciples of ‘Eesa) to believe in Me and My Messenger, they said, “We believe. And bear witness that we are Muslims.” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:111) It was said that what is meant by this Revelation is the Revelation of inspiration. That is, Allah led them to it and guided them to it. It was also said that what is meant by it is Revelation through the medium of the Messenger and the reconciliation of their hearts toward the acceptance of the truth. This is why they responded by saying, we believe in Allah, and bear witness that we are Muslims (i.e. we submit to Allah).” (Soorah Ali ‘Imran 3:52)

This is one of the Blessings bestowed by Allah on His slave and Messenger, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), that He granted him helpers and supporters, who aided him and called with him to the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners.

The miracles given to each Prophet in his time were suited to the communities in which they lived. It was said that the miracle given to Moosa (Peace be upon him) befitted the people of his time, who were skilled magicians, so he was sent with Signs which dazzled the eyes and humbled the necks. And since the magicians were well-versed in the art of magic and its consequences and they witnessed those dazzling occurrences, which they knew could not have been produced by anyone except one who was helped by Allah and given supernatural miracles to prove his truthfulness, they immediately embraced Islam and they did not hesitate.

Likewise, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) was sent at a time when his people excelled in the natural sciences and so he was sent with miracles which they could not emulate and the secrets of which they could not discover, for what could a physician do for the one who was born blind, which is the worst form of blindness, the leper and the one who was afflicted with a chronic illness? And how could any created being acquire the knowledge of how to raise the dead from his grave? As everyone knows, such a miracle proves the truthfulness of the one who performs it and the Omnipotence of the One Who sent him.

Likewise, Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), according to the consensus of the scholars, was sent at a time renowned for the eloquence and articulacy of the people. So Allah sent to them the Mighty Qur'an, which falsehood cannot approach from the front or from behind; (it is) sent down by the Most Wise, Worthy of All Praise. Its Words are a miracle, which challenge the mankind and the jinn to produce the like of it, or to produce even ten Soorahs like it, or even one Soorah like it – and He pronounced definitely that they would not be able to do so, whether at that time or in the future, saying that if they did not do it, and they would never do it, because it is the Speech of the Creator, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. And there is nothing that resembles Allah, Most High, neither in His Essence, nor in His Attributes, nor in His Actions.

What is meant is that when 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) established the arguments and proofs against them, most of them persisted in their disbelief, error, obduracy and oppression, though a righteous group of them dedicated themselves to him and they were his helpers and supporters. They followed him, assisted him and offered sincere advice to him. This was at the time when the Children of Isra'eel became preoccupied with him and denounced him to one of the rulers of that time. They became determined to kill him and crucify him, but Allah saved him from them and raised him up to Him from their midst and cast his likeness on one of his companions and they took him and crucified him to death, believing him to be 'Eesa (Peace be upon him). But they were mistaken in this and contradicted the truth. Many of the Christians believed their claim, but both parties were in error in the matter.

Allah, Most High, says, And they (the disbelievers) plotted (to kill 'Eesa), and Allah planned too. And

Allah is the Best of planners. (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:54) And He, Most High, says, And (remember) when 'Eesa, son of Maryam, said, "O, Children of Isra'eel! I am the Messenger of Allah unto you confirming the Tawrah (which came) before me, and giving glad tidings of a Messenger to come after me, whose name shall be Ahmad.” But when he (Ahmad i.e. Muhammad) came to them with clear proofs, they said, “This is plain magic.” And who does more wrong than the one who invents a lie against Allah, while he is being invited to Islam? And Allah guides not the people who are Zalimoon. They intend to put out the Light of Allah (i.e. the Religion of Islam, this Qur’an, and Prophet Muhammad) with their mouths. But

Allah will complete His Light even though the disbelievers hate (it). (Soorah As-Saff 61:6-8) – up to the Words of Him, Most High after that: O you who believe! Be you helpers (in the Cause) of Allah as said

‘Eesa, son of Maryam, to Al-Hawariyyoon (the Disciples), “Who are my helpers (in the Cause) of Allah?” Al-Hawariyyoon said, “We are Allah’s helpers (i.e. we will strive in His Cause)!” Then a group of the Children of Isra’eel believed and a group disbelieved. So We gave power to those who believed against their enemies, and they became the uppermost. (Soorah As-Saff 61:14)

And something similar to this has been narrated on the authority of Al-‘Irbadh Ibn Sariah and Abu Umamah (may Allah be Pleased with them both) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and in it he spoke of: “...the supplication of my father, Ibraheem and the glad tidings of ‘Eesa.” This was because when Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) built the Ka‘bah he said, “Our Lord! Send amongst them a Messenger of their own.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:129) When Prophethood among the Children of Isra’eel came to an end with ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), he addressed them and informed them that

Prophethood had been cut off from them and that after him, it would go to the Arabian Prophet, the final

Seal of the Prophets, Ahmad, who is Muhammad Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib Ibn Ibn Hisham Hashim, who was of the descendants of Ishmael (Peace be upon him), son of Ibraheem Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him).

Allah, Most High, says, But when he came to them with clear proofs, they said, “This is plain magic.” (Soorah As-Saff 61:6) It is possible that the pronoun ‘he’ refers to ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) and it is also possible that it refers to Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him).

Then He encouraged His believing slaves to help Islam and its adherents and to assist its Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and support him in establishing the Religion and propagating it, saying, O you who believe! Be you helpers (in the Cause) of Allah as said ‘Eesa, son of Maryam, to AlHawariyyoon, “Who are my helpers (in the Cause) of Allah?” (Soorah As-Saff 61:14) means who will assist me in calling the people to Allah? Al-Hawariyyoon said, “We are Allah’s helpers (i.e. we will strive in His Cause!)” (Soorah As-Saff 61:14) This took place in a village known as An-Nasirah, which is why they became known as Nasara (Nazarenes). Allah, Most High, says, Then a group of the Children of Isra’eel believed and a group disbelieved. (Soorah As-Saff 61:14) That is, when ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) called the Children of Isra’eel and others to Allah, Most High, some of them believed, while others disbelieved. Among those who believed in him were the people of Antioch in their entirety, according to what has been reported by more than one of the scholars of Seerah, history and tafseer. He sent three messengers to them, one of whom was Simon the Pure and the people believed and responded positively to their preaching. But it is not they who are referred to in Soorah Ya Seen, according to what we have already established in the story of the people of the town. Others from among the Children of Isra’eel disbelieved, and they were the majority of the Jews. Allah supported those who believed in him against those who disbelieved afterward and they became victorious over them and conquered them, as Allah, Most High, says, And (remember) when Allah said, “O ‘Eesa! I will take you and raise you to Myself and clear you (of the forged statement that ‘Eesa is Allah’s son) of those who disbelieve, and I will make those who follow you (Monotheists, who worship none but Allah) superior to those who disbelieve (in the Oneness of Allah, or disbelieve in some of His Messengers, e.g. Muhammad, ‘Eesa, Moosa, etc., or in His Holy Books, e.g. the Tawrah, the Injeel, the Qur’an) till the Day of Resurrection. (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:55) So those who are closest to the truth will always be victorious over those who are farthest from it. And because the saying of the Muslims about him is the truth, of which there is no doubt, i.e. that he is the slave of Allah and His Messenger, they were victorious against the Christians, who were excessive in their claims regarding him and ascribed to him a status above that which Allah has designated for him.

And because the Christians were closer to the truth regarding him than the Jews – may Allah’s Curse be on them – the Christians were victorious over the Jews during the period up to the time of Islam and its followers.

The Story of the Table Spread

Allah, Most High, says, (Remember) when Al-Hawariyyoon (the Disciples) said, “O, ‘Eesa, son of Maryam! Can your Lord send down to us a table spread (with food) from heaven?” ‘Eesa said, “Fear Allah, if you are indeed Believers.” They said, “We wish to eat thereof and to be stronger in faith, and to know that you have indeed told us the truth and that we ourselves be its witnesses.” ‘Eesa, said, “O, Allah, our Lord! Send us from heaven a table spread (with food) that there may be for us – for the first and the last of us – a festival and a sign from You; and provide us sustenance, for You are the Best of sustainers.” Allah said, “I am going to send it down unto you, but if anyone of you after that disbelieves, then I will punish him with a punishment such as I have not inflicted on anyone among (all) Al‘Alameen.” (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 112-115)

We have already mentioned in the Tafseer the traditions reported regarding the descent of Al-Ma’idah (the Table Spread) on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas, Salman Al-Farisi, ‘Ammar Ibn

Yasir and others from among the Salaf. Among those narrations, it was stated that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) ordered Al-Hawariyyoon to fast for thirty days and when they had completed the fast, they requested of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) that a table (spread with food) be sent down from the heaven to them, so that they might eat from it and in order that the faith in their hearts might be strengthened, knowing that Allah had accepted their fast and answered their request, and that they should have an ‘Eid in which they could break their fast and it would be sufficient for the first of them to the last of them, for the wealthy among them and the poor among them. But ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) cautioned them against this and feared for them that they would not show gratitude for it, or fulfill the conditions attached to it, but they would not accept from him aught but that he ask this for them from his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. When they refused to give up this request, he stood up to pray and donned a coarse hair shirt, bowed his head and his eyes filled with tears as he wept and entreated Allah to answer his supplication by granting their request. So Allah sent down to them a table from the heaven. The people saw it descend gradually from between two clouds. It continued to descend by degrees and all the while it was descending, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) was asking his Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful to make it a mercy and not an affliction and to make it a (source of ) blessing and salvation. It continued to come down until it stood before ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him). It was covered with a cloth and so he uncovered it, saying, “In the Name of Allah, the Best of Providers.” When it was uncovered, they saw that on it were seven fish and seven loaves. It was also said that there was vinegar and also that there were pomegranates and other fruits. It had a very strong aroma. Allah said to it, “Be!” – and it was. Then ‘Eesa ordered them to eat from it. They said, “We will not eat until you eat.” He said, “But it was you who asked for it in the first place!” But they refused to eat from it first. So he ordered the poor and needy, the sick and the lame to eat from it. They numbered about one thousand, three hundred and they all ate from it, after which all who were sick, lame or infirm were cured. On seeing the situation of those who had eaten from it, the people regretted not having done likewise. It was said that it then descended once a day and the people would eat from it, the last of them eating as much as the first. It was said that this continued until as many as seven thousand had eaten from it. Then it descended every day, just as the people used to drink from the shecamel of Saleh (Peace be upon him) day after day. Then Allah commanded ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) to restrict its use to the poor and needy, and not the rich. This upset many people and the hypocrites among them began to gossip about it. This led to the whole table being raised up and those who had spread gossip and tittle-tattle about it were transformed into swine.”

And Ibn Abi Hatim and Ibn Jareer both narrated on the authority of ‘Ammar Ibn Yasir (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “The table descended from the heaven with bread and meat and they were commanded not to cheat, hoard the food or keep it for the morrow, but they cheated, hoarded the food and kept it for the morrow and so they were transformed into apes and swine.

Then Ibn Jareer narrated it on the authority of Bundar, who reported on the authority of Ibn Abi ‘Adiyy, who in turn reported on the authority of Sa‘eed, who likewise reported on the authority of Qatadah, who in turn reported on the authority of Khilas, on the authority of ‘Ammar (May Allah be pleased with him), in a mawqoof form. And this is more correct. It was narrated thus by way of Simak, on the authority of a man from Banu ‘Ijl, who reported on the authority of ‘Ammar (May Allah be pleased with him), in a mawqoof form. And that is the correct view, and Allah knows better.

The narration of Khilas, on the authority of ‘Ammar (May Allah be pleased with him) is munqati‘. And even if this Hadith was authentic in a marfoo‘ form, it would be a decisive criterion in this story, because the scholars have disagreed regarding whether or not the table descended. The majority of scholars hold that it descended, as proven by these traditions and it is also clear from the text of the Qur'an, in particular, His Words: "I am going to send it down unto you..." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:115), as confirmed by Ibn Jareer At-Tabari. And Allah knows better.

And Ibn Jareer has narrated, with an authentic chain of narrators up to Mujahid and Al-Hasan Ibn AbulHasan Al-Basri that they both said that it did not descend and that they refused its descent when Allah said, "...but if anyone of you after that disbelieves, then I will punish him with a punishment such as I have not inflicted on anyone among (all) Al-'Alameen." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:115), which why it was said that the Christians do not know the story of the Table Spread and why it is not mentioned in their Scripture, although it must have been transmitted by numerous people who witnessed it. And Allah knows better.

Section

Abu Bakr Ibn Abi Ad-Dunya said, "We were informed by a man (whose name is omitted) that he said that Hajjaj Ibn Muhammad was informed by Abu Hilal Muhammad Ibn Sulaiman, who reported on the authority of Bakr Ibn 'Abdullah Al-Muzani that he said, "Al-Hawariyyoon lost their Prophet, 'Eesa (Peace be upon him), and it was said to them, "He has gone to the sea." So they set out in search of him and when they reached the sea, they found him walking on the water, the waves lifting him up and then lowering him again, as they rose and fell. He was wearing a garment, half of which he was using as a lower garment and half of which he was using as an upper garment. He advanced toward them and one of them – Abu Hilal said that he believed he was one of the best of them – said, "Shall I not come to you, Oh, Prophet of Allah?" He said, "Certainly." So he placed one of his feet on the water, then he went to place the other foot, but he said, "O! I am afraid that I will drown, O, Prophet of Allah!" 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) said to him, "Give me your hand, Oh, you of little faith! If mankind had as much faith as the equivalent of a single hair, he would be able to walk on water.”

This was narrated by Abu Sa‘eed Ibn Al-‘Arabi, on the authority of Ibraheem Ibn Abil-Jaheem, who reported on the authority of Sulaiman Ibn Harb, who in turn reported on the authority of Abu Hilal, who reported something similar on the authority of Bakr.

Then Ibn Abid-Dunya said, “I was informed by Muhammad Ibn ‘Ali Ibn Al-Hasan Ibn Shaqeeq, who said, “I was informed by Ibraheem Ibn Al-Ash‘ath, who reported on the authority of Al-Fudail Ibn ‘Iyad that he said, “It was said to ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam (Peace be upon him), “O ‘Eesa! By what thing do you walk on water?” He said, “By faith and certainty.” They said, “We have believed as you have believed and we are certain as you are certain.” He said, “Then walk!” So they walked with him on the wave, but they sank. ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) said to them, “What is wrong with you?” They said, “We feared the wave.” He said, “Did you not fear the Lord of the wave?” So he took them out and then struck the earth with his hand and took up a handful of it, then he opened his hand and in one of his hands was gold, while in the other was mud or small stones. He asked them, “Which of them is more pleasing to your hearts?” They said, “This gold.” He said, “To me, they are equal.”

We have mentioned previously in the story of Yahya (Peace be upon him), son of Zakariyya (Peace be upon him), on the authority of some of the Salaf that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) used to wear a hair shirt and eat the leaves of the trees and he would not take shelter in a house or with any family and he had no money and he did not store up anything for the morrow. Some of them said that he used to eat from the (earnings of) his mother’s spinning (peace be upon them both).

And Ibn ‘Asakir narrated on the authority Ash-Sha‘bi that he said, “Whenever the Hour was mentioned in the presence of ‘Eesa

(Peace be upon him), he would cry out and say, “It is not fitting that the Hour should be mentioned in the presence of the son of Maryam.” Then he would be silent.

And it is reported on the authority of ‘Abdul Malik Ibn Sa‘eed Ibn Abjar that when ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) heard a religious exhortation, he would cry loudly.

It is reported on the authority of ‘Abdur-Razzaq that he said, “Ma‘mar informed us that he was told by Ja‘afar Ibn Burqan that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) used to say, “O Allah! I have arrived at a situation where I cannot repel that which I hate and I possess not the ability to acquire what I want. The situation is now in the hands of other than me and I have become pledged to my work, so there is no poor person who is poorer than I. O Allah! Let not my enemy triumph over me and let not my friend be unfortunate because of me. Let me not suffer any affliction in my Religion and let not those who show no mercy or compassion to me gain mastery over me.”

Al-Fudail Ibn Iyad reported on the authority of Yoonus Ibn ‘Uбайд that he said, “‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) used to say, ‘No one achieves true faith until he cares not about consuming (the good things in) this world.’”

Al-Fudail also said, “ ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) used to say, ‘I thought about the creation and I discovered that He Who was not created is more delightful to me than those who are created’ .”

Ishaq Ibn Bishr reported on the authority of Hisham Ibn Hassan, who reported on the authority of AlHasan that he said, “Verily, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) will be the head of the ascetics on the Day of Resurrection. He added, “And those who will flee with their sins will be gathered on the Day of Resurrection with ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him).”

He said, “One day, while ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) was sleeping on a rock and enjoying his sleep there, Iblees came to him and said, ‘O ‘Eesa! Do you not claim that you do not desire anything of the material things of this life? Then this rock is one of the material things of this life.’ Upon hearing this, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) took the rock and threw it at him, saying, ‘This is for you and the life of this world’.”

Mu’tamir Ibn Sulaiman said, “ ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) came out to his companions, wearing a woollen cloak, a garment and pants and he was barefoot and weeping. His hair was dishevelled, his skin jaundiced, due to hunger and his lips were dry, due to thirst. He said, “Peace be upon you, Oh, Children of Isra’eel! I am the one who has relegated the life of this world to its true place, by Allah’s Permission, without wonder or pride. Do you know where my abode is?” They said, “Where is your abode, oh, Spirit of Allah?” He said, “My abode is the mosques, my perfume is water, my food is hunger, my light is the moon at night, my warmth in the winter is the sun, my sweet basil is the vegetation of the earth, my garments are of wool and my distinguishing characteristic is fear of the Lord of the Might. My companions are the chronically sick and the needy. In the morning, I have nothing and in the evening, I have nothing. But I am in good spirits and have no cares. So who is richer and gets profits more than I?”

(Narrated by Ibn ‘Asakir)

It was narrated in the biography of Muhammad Ibn Al-Waleed Ibn ‘Aban Ibn Hibban Abul Hasan Al‘Uqaili Al-Misri that he said, “We were informed by Hani’ Ibn Al-Mutawakkil Al-Iskandarani, who reported on the authority of Haiwah Ibn Shuraih that he said, “Al-Waleed Ibn Abil-Waleed informed me on the authority of Shufayy Ibn Mati’, who reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Allah, Most High, revealed to ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), ‘O ‘Eesa! Move from place to place, so that you are not recognized and subjected to harm, for by My Power and Might, I will give you a thousand hawra' as wives and I will surely give you a wedding banquet that will last for four hundred years'." This Hadith is ghareeb; and it was declared by the narrator to be marfoo'. It could be marfoo' from the narration of Shufayy Ibn Mati', on the authority of Ka'b Al-Ahbar, or someone else from among the Isra'eelites. And Allah knows better.

Al-Mubarak narrated on the authority of Sufyan Ibn 'Uyainah, who reported on the authority of Khalaf Ibn Hawshab that he said, " 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) said to Al-Hawariyyoon, 'Just as the kings have left wisdom to you, likewise, leave for them the life of this world'."

said, " 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, "Ask me, for verily, I am tenderhearted and verily, I am insignificant in my own sight'."

Isma'eel Ibn 'Ayyash reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Deenar, who reported on the authority of Ibn 'Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "'Eesa (Peace be upon him) said to AlHawariyyoon, 'Eat barley bread and drink pure water, and depart the world safe and secure. In truth, I say to you that verily, the sweetness of the life of this world is the bitterness of the Hereafter, and the bitterness of the life of this world is the sweetness of the Hereafter. And verily, the slaves of Allah are not those who lead lives of luxury and ease. I truth, I say to you that verily, your evil is like a scholar whose desires affect his knowledge and so he wishes that all of the people were like him. And something like it was narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him).

Abu Mus'ab reported on the authority of Malik that he informed him that 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) used to say, "O Children of Isra'eel! It is incumbent on you to drink pure water, eat vegetables, the fruit of the arak tree and barley bread; and beware of wheat bread, because you will not fulfill the gratitude for it."

And Ibn Wahb reported on the authority of Sulaiman Ibn Bilal, who reported on the authority of Yahya Ibn Sa'eed that he said, "'Eesa (Peace be upon him) used to say, ' Traverse this world and do not become too comfortable in it.' And he used to say, 'Love of this world is the head of every sin, and looking cultivates desire in the heart!'"

Wuhaib Ibn Al-Ward related something similar and he added, "And it may be that desire causes those who have it to inherit long sadness."

And it is reported from 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) that he said, "O weak son of Adam! Fear Allah wherever you are and be in this world like a guest. Take the mosques as your abode and teach your eyes to weep, your body to be patient and your heart to contemplate. And do not be preoccupied with tomorrow's sustenance, because it is a sin."

It is also reported from him that he said, "None of you can make a home on a wave of the sea, so do not take this world as an abode."

And regarding this Sabiq Al-Barbari says,

You have houses in Mistan As-Suyool, And can a house be built on water, whose foundation is mud?

And Sufyan Ath-Thawri said, "'Eesa (Peace be upon him), the son of Maryam said, 'Love of this world and love of the Hereafter cannot reside together in the heart of a Believer, just as water and fire cannot remain together in a vessel!'"

Ibraheem Al-Harbi reported on the authority of Dawood Ibn Rasheed, who reported on the authority of Abu 'Abdullah As-Soofi that he said, "'Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, 'The one who seeks the life of this world is like the one who drinks seawater; the more he drinks, the thirstier he becomes, until it kills him'."

And it is reported from ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) that he said, “Verily, Shaitan is with the life of this world, his plot is with wealth, his ability to make evil things seem fair is with desire and his ability to establish himself is with lusts.”

Al-A’mash reported on the authority of Khaithamah that he said, “‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) used to put food for his companions and he would stand over them and say, ‘Thus must you behave toward guests’.”

Al-A’mash also narrated that a woman said to ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), “Blessed be the womb that bore you and the breast that fed you.” He said, “Blessed be he who recites the Scripture and pays heed to it.”

It was also reported from him that he said, “Blessed be he who weeps when he recalls his sin, guards his tongue and whose abode suffices him.”

It was also reported from him that he said, “Blessed be the eye that sleeps and does not speak to itself of sin, but pays attention to that which is not sinful.”

And it was reported on the authority of Malik Ibn Deenar that he said, “‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) and his companions passed by a corpse and they said, ‘How malodorous is its smell!’ He said, ‘How white are its teeth!’” He said this in order to forbid them from backbiting.

And Abu Bakr Ibn Abi Ad-Dunya said, “Al-Husain Ibn ‘Abdir-Rahman related to us on the authority of Zakariyya Ibn ‘Adiyy that he said, “‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), said, ‘Oh, company of Disciples! Be content with the meanest of this world’s provisions, while safeguarding your Religion, as the people of this world are content with the least of Religion, while safeguarding their share of this world's provisions.'

Zakariyya said, and regarding this, the poet said,

"I see men with the least Religion who are content, But I do not see them content with a life of little provision, Be satisfied with the Religion over the worldly riches of kings, As kings are satisfied with their worldly riches over the Religion."

And Abu Mus'ab reported on the authority of Malik that he said, " 'Eesa (Peace be upon him), the son of Maryam said, 'Do not speak excessively about matters other than remembrance of Allah, as it will harden your hearts, for verily, a hard heart is far from Allah, but you know not. And look not at the sins of the slaves, as if you are lords, but instead, look at them as if you are slaves, because the mankind consists of only two types of men: Those who are protected and those who are put to trial. So be compassionate toward those who are put to trial and praise Allah for His Protection.'

And 'Abdullah Ibn Al-Mubarak said, "Sufyan informed us, on the authority of Mansoor, who reported on the authority of Salim Ibn Abul-Ja'd that he said, " 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, 'Work for Allah and do not work for your stomachs. Look at this bird, how it eats and goes away and it neither tills the soil nor harvests, yet Allah provides it with sustenance. So if you say, 'We have larger stomachs than this bird...', then look at these animals, such as cows and donkeys, for they eat and then go away and they neither till the soil nor harvest, yet Allah provides them with sustenance.'

And Safwan Ibn 'Amr said, "It was reported on the authority of Shuraih Ibn 'Ubaid, who reported on the authority of Yazeed Ibn Maisarah that he said, "Al-Hawariyyoon said to the Maseeh (Peace be upon him), "O Maseeh of Allah! Look at the Mosque of Allah, how fine it is! He said, Ameen, Ameen! In truth, I say to you, Allah will not leave a single stone of this Mosque standing; He will destroy it because of the sins of its people. Verily, Allah does not do anything because of the gold, silver and stone that so impress you. Verily, righteous hearts are more beloved by Allah than these things. Because of them (the hearts of mankind), Allah makes the earth and because of them, He destroys it, if they are not righteous.”

Al-Hafiz Abul-Qasim Ibn ‘Asakir reported in his Tareekh on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “ ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) passed by a ruined city and the buildings impressed him, so he said, “O my Lord! Command this city to answer me.” So Allah revealed to the city, “O you ruined city! Answer ‘Eesa!” The city called out, “O ‘Eesa, my beloved! What do you want of me?” He said, “What happened to your trees, your rivers and your palaces? And where are your inhabitants?” It replied, “My beloved! The true Promise of your Lord was fulfilled and my trees became dry, my rivers dried up, my palaces were destroyed and my inhabitants died.” ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) asked, “So where is their wealth?” The city replied, “They gathered it together, including the lawful and the unlawful and placed it in my belly (i.e. they buried it); to Allah belongs the inheritance of the heavens and the Earth.” So ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) called out, “I am amazed at three persons: (i) the one who seeks the life of this world, while death is seeking him, (ii) the builder of palaces, when the grave will be his abode and (iii) the one who laughs in a loud voice, while the Fire lies before him. Son of Adam, you are not sated by much (wealth), nor are you content with little. You gather your wealth for those who do not praise you and you go to a Lord who will not pardon you. You are no more than a slave of your stomach and your desire. Your stomach will only be filled (i.e. with Fire) when you enter your grave. And you, O son of Adam, will see the piling up of your wealth in the scale of another.”

This Hadith is very strange, but there is a good admonition in it, which is why we have included it.

Sufyan Ath-Thawri reported on the authority of his father, who reported on the authority of Ibraheem AtTaimi that he said, “‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, ‘O company of Disciples! Make your treasure in the heaven, because the heart of a man is where he has stored it.’”

And Thawr Ibn Yazeed reported on the authority of ‘Abdul-‘Azeez Ibn Zibyan that he said, “ ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), the son of Maryam, said, Whoever learned and taught and acted (upon his learning), he will be called great in the Kingdom of Heaven.”

And Abu Kuraib said, “It was narrated that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, 'There is no goodness in knowledge that does not cross the valley with you, but instead the caller carries you across'.”

And Ibn ‘Asakir narrated with a chain of narrators that is ghareeb, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) in a marfoo‘ form that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) stood before the Children of Isra’eel and said, “O company of Disciples! Do not speak of the underlying wisdoms (in religious matters) to people who are not qualified to understand them (i.e. the ignorant folk), for you may do injustice thereby to them (the underlying wisdoms) and do not withhold them from those who are qualified to understand them (i.e. the religious scholars), for you will thereby do injustice to them (the scholars). (Religious) matters may be divided into three categories: (i) a matter, the integrity of which and the logic behind which is apparent, (ii) a matter, the sin and error of which is clear and (iii) a matter which is unclear to you; such matters you should refer to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.”

And ‘Abdur-Razzaq said, “We were informed by Ma‘mar, on the authority of a man who reported on the authority of ‘Ikrimah that he said, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, 'Do not cast pearls to swine, because swine will not do anything with pearls. And do not give wisdom to one who does not desire it, for wisdom is better than pearls, and those who do not desire it are worse than swine.’”

Wahb and others related something similar from him, namely, that he said to his companions, “You are the salt of the earth, so if you go bad, there will be no cure for you; verily, there are two traits of ignorance in you: laughing at things that are not remarkable and early morning without wakefulness.”

And that it was said to him, “Who is the worst of people in causing discord and dissent?” He said, “It is the scholar who commits mistakes, for when the scholar errs, many err with him.”

It was also reported from him that he said, “O scholars of evil! You have placed the world above your heads and the Hereafter beneath your feet. Your words are a cure and your deeds are a medicine. Your likeness is as the likeness of an oleander tree: it impresses those who look upon it, but it kills those who eat of it.”

And Wahb said, ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) said, “O scholars of evil! You have sat at the gates of Paradise, but you will not enter it and you do not call the needy to enter it; verily the wickedest of people with Allah is a scholar who seeks the life of this world through his knowledge.”

And Makhool said, “Yahya (Peace be upon him) and ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) met and ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) shook Yahya’s hand; he was laughing and Yahya (Peace be upon him) said to him, “O son of my aunt! Why do I see you laughing, as if you have been saved?” ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) replied, “Why do I see you frowning, as if you have despaired?” So Allah revealed to them both: “The most beloved of you two to Me is the one who is friendliest toward the other.”

And Wahb ibn Munabbih said, “‘Eesa stood with his companions near a grave, as its occupant was being lowered into it. They began to discuss the grave and its narrowness, and he said, ‘You were in a place narrower than it: your mothers’ wombs. If Allah likes to widen it, He will do so.’”

And Abu ‘Umar Ad-Dareer said, “Whenever ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) thought about death, his skin would drip blood.”

A Description of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him)

Eesa’s Ascension to the Heaven, to the Protection of His Lord and Exposition of the Lies of the Jews and Christians, Who Claimed That He Was Crucified

Allah, Most High, says, {And they (the disbelievers) plotted (to kill ‘Eesa), but Allah planned too. And Allah is the Best of planners. And (remember) when Allah said, “O, ‘Eesa! I will take you and raise you to Myself and clear you (of the forged statement that ‘Eesa is Allah’s son) of those who disbelieve, and I will make those who follow you (Monotheists, who worship none but Allah) superior to those who disbelieve (in the Oneness of Allah, or disbelieve in some of His Messengers, e.g. Muhammad, ‘Eesa, Moosa, etc., or in His Holy Books, e.g. the Tawrah, the Injeel, the Qur’an) till the Day of Resurrection.

Then you will return to Me and I will judge between you in the matters in which you used to dispute.”} (Soorah Al ‘Imran 3:54, 55)

And He, Most High, says, {Because of their breaking the covenant, and of their rejecting the Ayat of Allah, and of their killing of the Prophets unjustly, and of their saying: “Our hearts are wrapped (with coverings, i.e. we do not understand what the Messengers say)” – nay, Allah has set a seal upon their hearts because of their disbelief, so they believe not but a little. And because of their (the Jews’) disbelief and uttering against Maryam a grave false charge (that she has committed illegal sexual intercourse); and because of their saying (in boast): “We killed the Messiah, ‘Eesa (‘Eesa), son of Maryam, the Messenger of Allah,” - but they killed him not, nor crucified him, but the resemblance of ‘Eesa (‘Eesa) was put over another man (and they killed that man), and those who differ therein are full of doubts. They have no (certain) knowledge, they follow nothing but conjecture. For surely, they killed him not (i.e. 'Eesa, son of Maryam). But Allah raised him ('Eesa) up (with his body and soul) unto Himself (and he is in the heavens). And Allah is All--powerful, Most Wise. And there is none of the people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians), but must believe in him ('Eesa, son of Maryam, as only a Messenger of Allah and a human being)), before his ('Eesa's ['Eesa'] or a Jew's or a Christian's death (at the time of the appearance of the Angel of Death). And on the Day of Resurrection, he ('Eesa) will be a witness against them} (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:155-159). Allah, Most High, informs us that He raised him up to the heaven after He had caused him to sleep, according to what has been authentically and decisively reported, saving him from those Jews who wished to harm him and complained of him to one of the disbelieving rulers of that time.

Al-Hasan Al-Basri and Muhammad Ibn shaq said that his name was Dawood Ibn Yoora and he ordered that 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) be killed and crucified. They surrounded him in an abode in Bait Almaqdis on a Friday evening/Saturday night. When the time for them to enter came, Allah cast his likeness onto the face of one his companions who was present with him, and He raised 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) from the skylight of that house to the heaven, while the people of the house looked on. They entered and found that young man upon whom Allah had cast his likeness. They took him, thinking that he was 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) and crucified him. They placed thorns on his head, in order to humiliate him. Most of the Christians, who had not witnessed what happened to 'Eesa (Peace be upon him), accepted the Jews' claim that they had crucified him and because of that, they went far astray. Allah, Most High, informs us in His Words: {And there is none of the people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians), but must believe in him ('Eesa, son of Maryam, as only a Messenger of Allah and a human being), before his ('Eesa's or a Jew's or a Christian's death) at the time of the appearance of the Angel of Death)} (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:159). That is, after his descent to the earth at the end of time, before the Day of Resurrection. At that time, he will descend and kill the pigs and break the crosses; he will abrogate the jizyah and he will accept naught but Islam (i.e. submission to Allah, Alone, without partners), as we have made clear in the ahadeeth accompanying the explanation of this Noble Qur'anic Verse in Soorah An-Nisa'. And we shall relate this in detail in the Book of Trials and Battles, in the information pertaining to Al-Maseeh AdDajjal; and we shall also mention what has been related regarding the descent of Al-Maseeh Al-Mahdi (Peace be upon him) from the Owner of Power (Allah), to kill Al-Maseeh Ad-Dajjal, the liar, who will call to misguidance and error.

And Ibn Abi Hatim narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "When Allah intended to raise 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) up to the heaven, he came out to visit his companions and in the house he found twelve men, including Al-Hawariyyoon, i.e. he came out to them from an opening in the house and his head was dripping with water. He said, "Among you is the one who will deny me twelve times, after having believed in me." Then he said, "Which of you will have my likeness cast upon him and be killed in my place, then he will be with me in my rank (in Paradise)?" On hearing this, a youth, who was among the youngest of them, stood up; but 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) said to him, "Sit down." Then he repeated his request to them, and the young man stood up again, but he said to him once more, "Sit down." Then he repeated his request to them for a third time and the young man stood up again and said, "I." 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) then said, "Let it be you." And so 'Eesa's likeness was cast upon him and 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) was raised up from a skylight in the house to the heaven. The pursuers from among the Jews arrived and they took the young man and killed him. Then they crucified him and one of them rejected him (i.e. 'Eesa (Peace be upon him)) twelve times, after having believed in him. They split into three groups; one of them said, "Allah was among us for as long as He willed, then He ascended to the heaven." These were the Jacobites. A second group said, "The son of Allah was among us for as long as he willed, then Allah raised him up to Him.” These were the Nestorians. The third group said, “Allah’s slave and His Messenger was among us for as long as He (Allah) willed and then Allah raised him up to Him.” These are the Muslims. But the two disbelieving groups prevailed over the Muslim group and they killed them. After that, Islam remained completely effaced until Allah sent Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him).” ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “And that is the meaning of Allah’s Words: {So We gave power to those who believed against their enemies, and they became the uppermost.} (Soorah As-Saff 61:14) This chain of narrators is authentic up to ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), according to the conditions for acceptance stipulated by Muslim.

Ibn Ishaq said, “Among them there was another man, whose name was (Sergius) and he was concealed by the Christians; it was he on whom the appearance of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) was placed and he was crucified in his place.” He said, “Some of the Christians claim that the one who was crucified in place of Maseeh (Peace be upon him) and on whom his likeness was cast Yoodus Zakariyya Yoota Judas Iscariot – and Allah knows better.”

Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, “The age of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) on the day when he was raised up to the heaven was thirty-four years.” And in the hadeeth it was stated that: “The people of Paradise will enter it wearing shabby clothes and hairless, wearing kohl on their eyes, and they will be aged thirty-three years.” In another hadeeth: “...on the birthday of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) and with the good looks of Yoosuf (Peace be upon him).”

As for the hadeeth narrated by Al-Hakim in his Mustadrak, in which it is stated that ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) used to say, “Fatimah informed me that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) told her that: “There was no Prophet who was succeeded by another Prophet except that the Prophet who came after him lived for half of his lifespan.” He also informed her that: “ ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, lived for a hundred and twenty years, so I do not think that I will live beyond sixty years.” This is the wording of Al-Fasawi and it is ghareeb.

Al-Hafiz Ibn ‘Asakir said, “The truth is that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) did not attain this age. Sufyan ibn ‘Uyainah narrated on the authority of ‘Amr Ibn Deenar, who reported on the authority of Yahya Ibn Ja’dah that Fatimah said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to me, “ ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, remained among the Children of Isra’eel for forty years.” But this is munqati’. Jareer and Ath-Thawri reported on the authority of Al-A‘mash that Ibraheem said, “ ‘Eesa remained among his people for forty years.” And it is narrated on the authority of the Commander of the Faithful, ‘Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) that ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him) was raised up on the night of the twenty-second of Ramadan; and on the same night, ‘Ali died, five days after being stabbed.”

A Description of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), His Character and His Virtues

Allah, Most High, says, {‘Eesa, son of Maryam, was no more than a Messenger; many were the Messengers that passed away before him. His mother (Maryam) was a Siddiqah (i.e. she believed in the Words of Allah and His Books [see Verse 66:12])} (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:75)

It was said that he was named Al-Maseeh (the Messiah) because of his mash of the earth, i.e. his traveling in it and his flight with his Religion from the trials of that time caused by the Jews’ denial of him and the lies they invented against him and his mother (peace be upon them both). It was also said that he was called Al-Maseeh because his feet were anointed.

Allah, Most High, says, {And in their footsteps, We sent ‘Eesa (‘Eesa), son of Maryam, confirming the Tawrah that had come before him, and We gave him the Injeel (Gospel), in which was guidance and light} (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:46). And He, Most High, says, {And indeed, We gave Moosa the Book and followed him up with a succession of Messengers. And We gave ‘Eesa (‘Eesa), the son of Maryam, clear signs and supported him with Rooh ul-Quds (Jibra’eel).} (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:87). And the Verses regarding this are extremely numerous. We have mentioned previously the hadeeth confirmed in the Saheehain: “There is no child born except that Shaitan stabs its side when it is delivered, causing it to cry out. The only exceptions to this are Maryam and her son; he went to stab him, but the stab struck a barrier protecting him.”

We have already related the hadeeth of ‘Umair ibn Hani’, on the authority of Junadah, who reported on the authority of ‘Ubadah (May Allah be pleased with him), who reported from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Whoever bore witness that ‘La Ilaha ill-Allahu Wahdahu la Shareeka Lahu wa Anna Muhammadan ‘Abduhu wa Rasooluhu wa Anna ‘Eesa ‘Abdullahi wa Rasooluhu wa Kalimatuhul-Latee Alqaha Ila Maryama wa Roohun Minhu wal-Jannatu Haqqun, wanNone haqqun (who testify that none has the right to be worshipped except Allah, Alone, without partners and Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger, and ‘Eesa is Allah’s slave and His Messenger and His Word, which He cast into Maryam and a Spirit from Him, and that Paradise is true, and the Fire is true),’ Allah will admit him to Paradise, according to his deeds.” (Narrated by Al-Bukhari (and this is his wording) and Muslim.

And Al-Bukhari and Muslim narrated on the authority of Abu Moosa (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, ‘If a person teaches his slave girl good manners, educates her properly, and then manumits and marries her, he will get a double reward. And if a man believes in ‘Eesa and then believes in me, he will get a double reward. And if a slave fears his Lord (i.e. Allah) and obeys his masters, he too will get a double reward.’

And ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “The Prophet mentioned Al-Maseeh Ad-Dajjal in front of the people saying, Allah is not one-eyed while Al-Maseeh Ad-Dajjal is blind in the right eye and his eye looks like a bulging grape. While sleeping near the Ka‘bah last night, I saw in my dream a man of brown color, the best one can see amongst brown color and his hair was so long that it fell between his shoulders. His hair was lank and water was dribbling from his head and he was placing his hands on the shoulders of two men while circumambulating the Ka‘bah. I asked, “Who is this?” They replied, “This is ‘Eesa, son of Maryam.” Behind him I saw a man who had very curly hair and was blind in the right eye, resembling Ibn Qatan (a pagan Arab) in appearance. He was placing his hands on the shoulders of a person while performing tawaf around the Ka‘bah. I asked, “Who is this?” They replied, “Al-Maseeh Ad-Dajjal.”

And it is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “You will be gathered barefoot, naked and uncircumcised.” He then recited: {...as We began the first creation, We shall repeat it, (it is) a promise binding upon Us. Truly, We shall do it.} (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:104) He added, “The first to be dressed on the Day of Resurrection, will be Ibraheem, and some of my companions will be taken toward the left side (i.e. to the Hellfire), and I will say, “My Companions! My Companions!” It will be said, “They reneged against Islam after you left them.” Then I will say as the pious slave of Allah (i.e. ‘Eesa) said: {“And I was a witness over them while I dwelt amongst them, but when You took me up, You were the Watcher over them, and You are a Witness to all things. (This is a great admonition and warning to the Christians of the whole world). If You punish them, they are Your slaves, and if You forgive them, verily, You, only You are the Almighty, the Most Wise.”} (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:117,118)

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “None spoke in cradle but three: (The first was) ‘Eesa, (the second was) a man from Banu Isra’eel called Juraij. While he was offering his prayers, his mother came and called him. He said (to himself), “Shall I answer her or keep on praying?” (He went on praying) and did not answer her, his mother said, “O, Allah! Do not let him die till he sees the faces of prostitutes.” So while he was in his hermitage, a lady came and sought to seduce him, but he refused. So she went to a shepherd and presented herself to him to commit illegal sexual intercourse with her and then later she gave birth to a child and claimed that it belonged to Juraij. The people therefore came to him and dismantled his hermitage and expelled him out of it and abused him. Juraij performed the ablution and offered prayer, and then came to the child and said, “O, child! Who is your father?” The child replied, “The shepherd.” (After hearing this) the people said, “We shall rebuild your hermitage of gold,” but he said, “No, of nothing but mud.” (The third was the hero of the following story:) A lady from Banu Isra’eel was nursing her child at her breast when a handsome rider passed by her. She said, “O, Allah ! Make my child like him.” On that, the child left her breast, and facing the rider said, “O, Allah! Do not make me like him.” The child then started to suck her breast again. (Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) further said, it is as if I were now looking at the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) sucking his finger [by way of demonstration].”) After a while the people passed by, with a slave girl and she (i.e. the child’s mother) said, “O, Allah! Do not make my child like this (slave girl)!” On that, the child left her breast and said, “O, Allah! Make me like her.” When she asked why, the child replied, “The rider is one of the tyrants while this slave girl is falsely accused of theft and illegal sexual intercourse.”

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “I heard the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) say, “I am the nearest of all the people to the son of Maryam, and all the Prophets are paternal brothers, and there has been no Prophet between me and him (i.e. ‘Eesa).”

And it is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “The Prophets are paternal brothers; their Religion is one, but their mothers are different. I am the nearest of all the people to ‘Eesa, son of Maryam, because there was no Prophet between me and him and he will descend, so if you see him acknowledge him, for he is a well-built man, whose complexion is somewhere between red and white. He will descend while wearing two long, light yellow garments. His head appears to be dripping water, even though no moisture touched it. He will break the cross, kill the pig, and abolish the jizyah and will call the people to Islam. During his time, Allah will destroy all religions except Islam and Allah will destroy Al-Maseeh Ad-Dajjal. Safety will then fill the earth, so much so that the lions will mingle with camels, tigers with cattle and wolves with sheep. Children will play with snakes, and they will not harm them. ‘Eesa (‘Eesa) will remain for forty years and then he will die and the Muslims will offer the funeral prayer over him and bury him.”

And Hisham ibn ‘Urwah narrated on the authority of Saleh, the freed slave of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “He will remain in the world for forty years.” And details of his descent at the end of time will be given later, insha’ Allah, in the Book of Battles; we have also explained it in the Tafseer, in the explanation of the Words of Allah, Most High, in Soorah An-Nisa’:

{And there is none of the people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians), but must believe in him (‘Eesa, son of Maryam, as only a Messenger of Allah and a human being), before his (‘Eesa’s or a Jew’s or a Christian’s) death (at the time of the appearance of the Angel of Death). And on the Day of Resurrection, he (‘Eesa) will be a witness against them.”} (Soorah An-Nisa‘ 4:159) and His Words: {And he (‘Eesa, son of Maryam) shall be a known sign for (the coming of) the Hour (Day of Resurrection) (i.e. ‘Eesa’s descent to the earth)} (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:61) and we have explained how he will descend on the White Minaret in Damascus, after the iqamah for the Fajr prayer will be called, and the Imam of the Muslims will say to him, “Advance, O, Spirit of Allah!” But he will reply, “No. Some amongst you are commanders over others. This is the honor from Allah for this Ummah (Nation).

The Differing of the Companions of Al-Maseeh (Peace be upon him) (the Messiah)

The companions of Maseeh (the Messiah) disagreed after he had been raised up to the heaven, holding a number of divergent opinions, according to ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and others among the Imams of the Salaf, as we have related in the explanation of the Words of Allah, Most High: {So We gave power to those who believed against their enemies, and they became the uppermost.} (Soorah As-Saff 61:14). ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) and others said that some of them said, “His slave and His Messenger was among us, then Allah raised him up to the heaven.” Others said, “He is Allah.” Still others said, “He is the son of Allah.” But it is the first that is the truth, and the other two sayings are terrible disbelief, as He, Most High, says, {Then the sects differed (i.e. the Christians about ‘Eesa), so woe unto the disbelievers (those who gave false witness by saying that ‘Eesa is the son of Allah) from the meeting of a great Day (i.e. the Day of Resurrection, when they will be thrown in the blazing Fire).} (Soorah Maryam 19:37). They also disagreed regarding the transmission of the Gospels, holding four conflicting views in the matter, ranging from exaggeration to understatement and from distortion to alteration. Then three hundred years after Maseeh (Peace be upon him), the Great Calamity occurred and the four Patriarchs and all of the bishops, the priests, the deacons and the monks differed regarding the Maseeh (Peace be upon him), holding opinions too numerous to be defined and determined. They held a council and sought judgment from Emperor Constantine, the founder of Constantinople. This was the first council, and the emperor supported the view of the largest sect, who were agreed on one of those opinions. They were known as Melkites. The emperor also refuted the opinions of others and declared them to be apostates. Those who claimed that 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) was a slave from among the slaves of Allah and a Messenger from among His Messengers were isolated and so they settled in the deserts and wildernesses. There they built hermitages, monasteries and religious retreats. They contented themselves with abstemious lives and they did not mix with those other sects. The Melkites built huge churches. They took the buildings erected by the Greeks and altered their mahareeb from their original direction, which was toward the North Star, so that they faced toward the east.

Description of the Building of Baitlaham (Bethlehem) and Al-Qumamah

Emperor Constantine built Bethlehem at the location of the birth of the Maseeh and his mother made Hailanah Al-Qumamah, that is, over the grave of the crucified one, and they accepted the claim of the Jews, that it was the Maseeh (Peace be upon him). In fact, both of them were guilty of disbelief. They fabricated laws and religious rulings, including some that contradicted the Tawrah, and they declared lawful things that were unlawful, according to the text of the Tawrah, such as swine flesh. They prayed toward the east, though the Maseeh (Peace be upon him) did not pray toward anything except the rock of Bait Al-

Maqdis, and all of the Prophets after Moosa (Peace be upon him) did likewise. Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), the Seal of the Prophets prayed toward it after his migration to Al-Madinah, for sixteen or seventeen months. Then he changed the direction of his prayer toward the Ka‘bah, which was built by Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him). They put images in the churches, and there had been no images in them prior to that. They corrupted the beliefs which are maintained by their children and their men and their womenfolk, and they call this a trust, but in fact, it is the greatest disbelief and betrayal. All of the Melkites and Nestorians are the followers of Nestorius, the organizers of the second council. The Jacobites are the followers of Jacob Baradaeus, the organizers of the third council. They share the same creed, but they differ in their elucidation of it. Here I will describe it – and the one who describes disbelief is not a disbeliever – in order to reveal the weakness of their arguments, the depth of their disbelief and the stupidity which leads the one who proclaims it to the blazing Fire; and they say, “We believe in One God, the Master of all, the Creator of the heavens and the earth – all that is seen and all that is unseen – and (we believe) in one Lord, ‘Eesa, the Maseeh, the only begotten son of God, born of the Father, before time, light of light, the God of Truth, from the God of Truth, born not created, equal to the Father in essence, who existed for the sake of us, mankind and in order to save us, he descended from the heaven and took on human form from the Holy Spirit and from the Virgin Maryam, the God Incarnate, who was crucified during the reign of Mulatis, the Nabatean. He suffered and was buried and then he arose on the third day, as is reported in the Scriptures. Then he ascended to the heaven and sat on the right of the Lord. And also he will come in his physical body to order the affairs of the living and the dead. His Kingdom is eternal. And (we believe in) the Holy Spirit, the Life-giving Lord, who proceeded from the Father, with the Father. And (we believe in) the son, before whom all prostrate. And he acknowledged his right to be worshipped, due to his having died for our sins, according to People of the Scriptures.

The Book of the Stories of the People of the Past

We refer to those from the Children of Isra'eel and others up to the end of their time period, excluding the times of the Arabs and their Jahiliyyah (Days of Ignorance). We shall present that after we complete this section, if Allah, Most High, wills. He, Most High, says, {Thus We relate to you (O, Muhammad) some information of what happened before. And indeed We have given you from Us a Reminder (this Qur'an).} (Soorah Ta Ha 20:99). And He, Most High, says, {We relate unto you (O, Muhammad) the best of stories through Our Revelations unto you, of this Qur'an. And before this (i.e. before the coming of Divine Inspiration to you), you were among those who knew nothing about it (the Qur'an). } (Soorah Yoosuf 12:3)

The Story of Dhul-Qarnain

Allah, Most High, says, {And they ask you about Dhul-Qarnain. Say, "I shall recite to you something of his story." Verily, We established him in the earth, and We gave him the means of everything. So he followed a way. Until, when he reached the setting place of the sun, he found it setting in a spring that was hami'ah. And he found near it a people. We (Allah) said (by inspiration), "O, Dhul-Qarnain! Either you punish them, or treat them with kindness." He said, "As for him (a disbeliever in the Oneness of Allah) who does wrong, we shall punish him; and then he will be brought back unto his Lord, Who will punish him with a terrible torment (Hell). But as for him who believes (in Allah's Oneness) and works righteousness, he shall have the best reward, (Paradise), and we (Dhul-Qarnain) shall speak unto him mild words (as instructions)." Then he followed another way, until, when he came to the rising place of the sun, he found it rising on a people for whom We (Allah) had provided no shelter against the sun. So

(it was)! And We knew all about him (Dhul-Qarnain). Then he followed (another) way, until, when he reached between two mountains, he found, before (near) them (those two mountains), a people who scarcely understood a word. They said, “O, Dhul-Qarnain! Verily! (Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj) are doing great mischief in the land. Shall we then pay you a tribute in order that you might erect a barrier between us and them?” He said, “That (wealth, authority and power) in which my Lord had established me is better (than your tribute). So help me with strength (of men), I will erect between you and them a barrier. Give me pieces (blocks) of iron.” Then, when he filled up the gap between the two mountain cliffs, he said, “Blow,” till when he made it (red as) fire, he said, “Bring me molten copper to pour over it.” So they (Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj) were made powerless to scale it or dig through it. (Dhul Qarnain) said, “This is a Mercy from my Lord, but when the Promise of my Lord comes, He will level it down to the ground. And the Promise of my Lord is ever true.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:83-98). Allah, Most High, mentions DhulQarnain and He praises him for his justice and tells how he traveled to the East and to the West and achieved dominion over vast provinces and territories and subdued their inhabitants. He traveled among them dispensing perfect justice and authority confirmed (by Allah), victorious, all-conquering and just. The truth is that he was one of the just kings. It was also said that he was a Prophet and that he was a Messenger. The strongest claim is that he was one of the angels. This was related from the Commander of the Faithful, ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattab (May Allah be pleased with him). He heard a man saying to another, “O, Dhul-Qarnain!” On this, he said, “Be silent! Is it not sufficient for you to take the names of the Prophets, but instead you adopt the names of the angels?” This was narrated by As-Suhaili.

And Wakee‘ narrated on the authority of Isra’eel, who reported on the authority of Jabir, who in turn reported on the authority of Mujahid, who likewise reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Amr (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “Dhul-Qarnain was a Prophet.” And Al-Hafiz ibn ‘Asakir narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “I do not know whether Tubba’ was a cursed one or not. And, I do not know whether hudood (the prescribed penalties) are expiatory for their people or not. And, I do not know whether Dhul-Qarnain was a Prophet or not.” From this source, this narration is ghareeb.

Scholars have disagreed regarding his name; Az-Zubair ibn Bakkar narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that his name was ‘Abdullah ibn Ad-Dahhak ibn Ma’add. And it was said that his name was Mus‘ab ibn ‘Abdullah ibn Qinan ibn Mansoor ibn ‘Abdullah ibn AlAzad ibn Ghawth ibn Nabt ibn Malik ibn Zaid ibn Kahlan ibn Saba’ ibn Qahtan.

And it has been narrated in a hadeeth that he was from Himyar and that his mother was a Roman woman and that he was known as the “Philosopher”, because of his intellect. One of the Himyarites composed a poem expressing pride in the fact that he was one of their ancestors; he said:

*Dhul-Qarnain my ancestor, was a Muslim,
A king to whom the kings submitted and gathered,
He traveled to the East and to the West,
Seeking to fulfill the Commands of a Wise Guide,
He saw the disappearance of the sun when it set,
In a muddy, black pool of water,
After him came Bilqees and she was my aunt,
She ruled them until the hoopoe came to her.*

Regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: {And they ask you about Dhul-Qarnain} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:83) the reason for them was because Quraish asked the Jews for something with which to test the knowledge of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and they said to them, “Ask him about a man whoever traveled throughout the Earth and about some young men whose deeds no one knows.” So Allah, Most High, revealed the story of the inhabitants of the cave and the story of DhulQarnain; this is why He says, {Say, “I shall recite to you something of his story.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:83). That is, useful and sufficient information in explanation of his affairs and description of his situation. He says, {Verily, We established him in the earth and We gave him the means of everything} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:84). That is, We made broad his kingdom in the lands and We gave him the tools with which to achieve his great goals and his grand designs. And it is reported on the authority of Habeeb Ibn Hammad that he said, “I was with ‘Ali ibn Abi Talib when a man asked him about Dhul-Qarnain and how he reached the East and the west, and he said to him, “Allah subjugated the clouds to him and all necessary means were extended to him, and He extended the light for him.” Then he said to him. “Shall I tell you more?” But the man remained silent and so ‘Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) also remained silent.

And it is reported on the authority of Al-Hasan that he said, “Dhul-Qarnain was a king who lived after Nimrod and it is told that he was a righteous Muslim who traveled to the East and to the West. Allah extended his life for him and supported him, so that he subdued the lands, amassed great wealth, conquered the cities and killed (many) men. He roamed throughout the lands and found great citadels. He journeyed on until he reached the farthest points of east and west, which is why Allah says, {And they ask you about Dhul-Qarnain. Say, “I shall recite to you something of his story.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:83). That is, information (about him). {Verily, We established him in the earth, and We gave him the means of everything} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:84). That is, knowledge with which to find the ways to camping places. {...and We gave him the means of everything} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:84). That is, knowledge. Qatadah and Matar Al-Warraaq said that it means knowledge of the different parts and features of the earth.

And He, Most High, says, {So he followed a way} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:85). {Until, when he reached the setting place of the sun...} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:86). That is, in the earth; he reached a place where no one could proceed further and he stopped on the shore of the western ocean, which is known as Oceanus and in which lie the islands known as Al-Khalidat, which are at the beginning of the lines of longitude, according to one of two opinions held by scholars of geography; the second opinion is that they are on the coast of this sea, as we mentioned previously. There he witnessed the setting of the sun, i.e. he followed a route until he reached the furthest point that could be reached in the direction of the sun's setting, which is the west of the Earth. {...he found it setting in a spring that was hami'ah} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:86). What is meant by it is the sea, i.e. he saw the sun as if it were setting in the ocean. This is something which everyone who goes to the coast can see: it looks as if the sun is setting into the sea but in fact it never leaves its path, in which it is fixed. This is why Allah says, {he found} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:86), i.e. it appeared to him and He does not say: "it was setting in a spring that was hami'ah, i.e. muddy. Ka'b AlAhbar said, "It is black mud." Some recited it as "hamiyah", i.e. boiling. This was due to the fierceness of the sun's light and its rays.

A Description of Dhul-Qarnain's Quest For the Spring of Life

Allah, Most High, says, {We (Allah) said (by inspiration), "O, Dhul-Qarnain! Either you punish them, or treat them with kindness." He said, "As for him (a disbeliever in the Oneness of Allah) who does wrong, we shall punish him; and then he will be brought back unto his Lord, Who will punish him with a terrible torment (Hell).”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:86-87). That is, the punishments of this world and the Hereafter will be combined on him. He began with the punishment of this world, because it is a greater deterrent to the disbelievers. {“But as for him who believes (in Allah’s Oneness) and works righteousness, he shall have the best reward, (Paradise), and we (Dhul Qarnain) shall speak unto him mild words (as instructions).”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:88). And He began with the most important thing and that is the reward of the Hereafter and He bestowed His Favor on him, and that was justice, knowledge and faith. Allah, Most High, says, {So he followed a way} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:85). That is, he followed a path, returning from the West to the East; and it was said that his return spanned twelve years. {Until, when he came to the rising place of the sun, he found it rising on a people for whom We (Allah) had provided no shelter against the sun} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:90) That is, they had no houses or shelters to protect them from the heat of the sun. Many of the scholars said, “But when the heat of the sun was intense, they sought refuge in burrows in the ground which they had made, and which resembled graves. Allah, Most High, says, {So (it was)! And We knew all about him (Dhul-Qarnain)} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:91). That is, We know what he was following and We protected him and preserved him during his travels. All of this was from the West of the land to the east of it.

And He, Most High, says, {Then he followed (another) way, until, when he reached between two mountains, he found, before (near) them (those two mountains), a people who scarcely understood a word.} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:92) That is, they did not understand his language because of their isolation from other peoples. It was said that they were the Turks, the sons of Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj’s paternal uncle (i.e. their cousins). They informed him that these two tribes had committed acts of aggression against them, spread corruption throughout their land and practiced highway robbery and they paid him a tribute in return for which they asked him to make a barrier which would prevent these two tribes from reaching them. He refused to accept the tribute, being content with the great wealth that Allah had given him. {He said, “That (wealth, authority and power) in which my Lord had established me is better (than your tribute).”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:95). Then he requested that they gather for him men and materials, in order that he might build a barrier between them and their enemies. That barrier took the form of a dam between two mountains which was the only route by which Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj could attack them. The rest of it was taken up by vast seas and towering mountains. So he built it, as Allah says, from iron and molten copper. It was said that the Arabic word ‘qitr’ used in the Verse means lead, but the first interpretation is the correct one. Instead of bricks, he used iron and instead of mud, he used copper. This is why Allah, Most High, says, {So they (Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj) were made powerless to scale it} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:97). That is, they could not climb it with ladders or anything else. {...or dig through it} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:97). That is, with pickaxes or other digging implements. So He has compared the easiest thing with the easiest thing and the most difficult with the most difficult. {He (Dhul-Qarnain) said, “This is a Mercy from my Lord.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:98). That is, Allah has ordained the barrier’s existence in order for it to be a Mercy for His slaves, that it might prevent their enemies from reaching them via that route. {...but when the Promise of my Lord comes...”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:98). That is, the time when He has ordained that they shall sally forth against the people at the end of time. {He will level it down to the ground} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:98). That is, He will flatten it; and there is no escaping this event, which is why He says, {“And the Promise of my Lord is ever true.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:98). This is like His Saying: {Until, when Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj are let loose (from their barrier) and they swiftly swarm from every mound. And the true promise (Day of Resurrection) shall draw near (of fulfillment). Then, (when the mankind is resurrected from their graves), you shall see the eyes of the disbelievers fixedly staring in horror. (They will say), “Woe to us! We were indeed heedless of this; nay, but we were zalimoon.”} (Soorah Al-Anbiya’21:96-97). This is why He says here (in Soorah Al-Kahf ), {And on that day

(i.e. the day when Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj will come out), We shall leave them to surge like waves on one another} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:99). That is, the day when the barrier will be breached, according to the authentic hadeeth. {...and the Trumpet will be blown, and We shall collect them all together} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:99)

Mention of the Nations of Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj, a Description of Them, What Has Been Related Regarding Them and a Description

It is reported on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Allah, Most High, will say, on the Day of Resurrection, "O, Adam!" Adam will reply, "Labbaik wa Sa'daik, and all the good is in Your Hand." Allah will say, "Bring out the people of the fire." Adam will say, "O, Allah! How many are the people of the Fire?" Allah will reply, "From every one thousand, take out nine-hundred and ninety-nine." At that time children will become hoary headed {and every pregnant woman will drop her load, and you shall see mankind as in a drunken state, yet they will not be drunken, but severe will be the Torment of Allah.} (Soorah Al-Hajj 22:2)." The Companions of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) asked, "O, Messenger of Allah! Who is that (excepted) one?" He said, "Rejoice with glad tidings; one person will be from you and one thousand will be from Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj."

In another narration, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Rejoice with glad tidings, for among you there are two nations (i.e. Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj), wherever they go, they defeat the people through strength of numbers."

This proves that their numbers are great and that they outnumber the mankind by many times. They are from the progeny of Nooh (Peace be upon him), because Allah, Most High, informs us that He answered the supplication of His slave, Nooh (Peace be upon him) against the people of the Earth, in His Words: {And Nooh said, "My Lord! Leave not one of the disbelievers on the earth!"}

(Soorah Nooh 71:26) and He said {Then we saved him and those with him in this ship} and His statement {And, his progeny, them we made the survivors}

As for the claim that Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj were created when Adam (Peace be upon him) had a nocturnal emission and his sperm became mixed with the earth and that this resulted in their creation and they are not descended from Eve, this was related by Shaikh Abu Zakariyya An-Nawawi in his explanation of Saheeh Muslim and others, but they declared it to be weak – and it is only fitting that it should be so deemed, since there is no evidence for it. Indeed, it contradicts what we have mentioned, which is that all of the people today are descended from Nooh (Peace be upon him), according to the text of the Qur'an.

If it was said, how does the hadeeth in the Saheehain prove that they are the ransom of the Believers on the Day of Resurrection and that they will be in the Fire, though no Messenger was sent to them and

Allah has said, {And We never punish until We have sent a Messenger (to give warning)} (Soorah AlIsra' 17:15)' the answer is that they will not be punished until the evidence has been established against them and they have been given a chance to offer their excuses, as Allah, Most High, says, {And We never punish until We have sent a Messenger (to give warning)} (Soorah Al-Isra' 17:15). So if they lived during the time before the sending of Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), then it means that Messengers from among them came to them, in which case, the evidence has been established against them. But if Allah had not sent Messengers to them, then they will fall under the ruling of the people of the Fatrah and those whom the call (to Islam) did not reach. And the hadeeth which has been reported from sources on the authority of a number of the Companions (May Allah be pleased with them) from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him): "Verily, those who are thus will be tested in the fields of the Resurrection and whoever answered the caller (to Islam) will enter Paradise, while those who refused will enter the Fire.” We have recorded the hadeeth with its various chains and different wordings and the opinions of the Imams regarding it in our Tafseer, in the explanation of Allah’s Saying: {And We never punish until We have sent a Messenger (to give warning)} (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:15). It was related by Shaikh Abul-Hasan Al-Ash’ari that there was a consensus (among the scholars) of AhlAs-Sunnah wal-Jama’ah regarding this. Their being tested does not necessarily mean that they will be saved, nor does it contradict the information regarding them which states that they are the inhabitants of the Fire, because Allah informs His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) of what He wills from the knowledge of the unseen, and He has informed him that these people are from among the wretched and that their characteristics prevent them from accepting the truth and acting upon it, so they do not accept the preaching of the caller (to Islam) until the Day of Resurrection. So it is known from this that they are the worst rejecters of the truth in this world, even when it comes to them therein, because in the fields of the Resurrection, some of those who rejected guidance in the life of this world will be guided, for there is even greater reason to believe there, because of the terrors that will be seen (on that Day), than in the life of this world – and Allah knows better – as He, Most High, says, {And if you only could see when the mujrimoon (criminals, disbelievers, polytheists, sinners, etc.) shall hang their heads before their Lord (saying), “Our Lord! We have now seen and heard, so send us back (to the world), we will do righteous good deeds. Verily, we now believe with certainty.”} (Soorah As-Sajdah 32:12). And He says, {How clearly will they (the polytheists and disbelievers in the Oneness of Allah) see and hear on the Day when they will appear before Us!} (Soorah Maryam 19:38). As for the hadeeth in which it is stated that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) called them (to Islam) on the night of Al-Isra’ and that they did not accept his call, it is munkar; indeed, it is fabricated, and the person who fabricated it was ‘Amr Ibn As-Subh.

As for the barrier, we have mentioned previously that Dhul-Qarnain built it from iron and copper and he closed off the path between the towering mountains thereby; and no mightier construction on the face of the Earth is known, nor any more beneficial one to mankind in their earthly life. Al-Bukhari narrated that a man said to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), "I saw the barrier." The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) asked, "How did you find it (i.e. what was it like)?" The man said, "I found it (i.e. it looked) like al-burd ul-muhabbar (a striped cloak)." The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "You have seen it." This is how Al-Bukhari reported it, in a mu'allaq form and in an apocryphal form. But I have not seen it with a connected chain of narrators which is acceptable to me, although Ibn Jareer narrated it in his Tafseer in a mursal form. He said, "Bishr informed us that Yazeed told him, "I was told by Sa'eed, who reported on the authority of Qatadah that he said, "It was mentioned to us that a man said, "O, Messenger of Allah! I have seen the barrier of Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj." The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Describe it to me." He said, "It was like al-burd ul-muhabbar (a striped cloak), with black and red stripes." On hearing this, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "You have seen it."

And if it was asked, then how can we reconcile the Saying of Allah, Most High: {So they (Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj) were made powerless to scale it or dig through it} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:97) and the hadeeth narrated by Al-Bukhari on the authority of Zainab Bint Jahsh, the Mother of the Believers (may Allah be Pleased with her), who said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) awoke from sleep with a red face and he was saying: There is no god but Allah; there is a destruction in store for the Arabs because of the turmoil which is near at hand as the barrier of Ya'jooj and Ma'jooj has been opened like this," and he (in order to explain it) made a ring with the help of his thumb and forefinger. I said, "O, Messenger of Allah, would we be destroyed even though there are pious people amongst us?" The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Yes, when evil predominates.” ’ The answer is: As for the opinion of those who hold that this is an indication of the opening of the gates of evil and trials and that this is simply a metaphor, there is no ambiguity. And as for the opinion of those who consider it to be information about a tangible thing, as appears obvious, then there is also no ambiguity, because His Saying: {So they (Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj) were made powerless to scale it or dig through it} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:97), i.e. in that time, because this wording is in the past tense and so it does not negate the possibility that they might do so in the future, if Allah permits them to penetrate it by degrees, until the appointed time is reached and the (Divine) Ordainment is concluded and they emerge, as Allah, Most High, says, {And they swiftly swarm from every mound} (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:96). But another hadeeth is more detailed than this, and it is that which was narrated by Imam Ahmad in his Musnad on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him), who reported from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj will excavate the barrier every day until, when they begin to see the rays of the sun, their leader will say, “Return, and you will dig it tomorrow.” So they will return to it and when they come back, they will find that the barrier has become stronger than it was before. This will continue until their time comes and Allah wishes to send them forth. They will dig until they begin to see sunlight, then the one who is in charge of them will say, “Go back; you can carry on digging tomorrow, if Allah wills.” In this case, he will make an exception by saying “if Allah wills,” thus relating the matter to the Will of Allah. They will return on the following day and find the hole exactly as they left it. They will carry on digging and come out against the people. They will drink all the water, and find the hole exactly as they left it and the people will entrench themselves in their fortresses. Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj will fire their arrows into the sky, and they will fall back to earth with something like blood on them. Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj will say, “We have defeated the people of earth, and overcome the people of Heaven.” Then Allah will send a kind of worm in the napes of their necks, and they will be killed by it... “By Him in Whose Hand is the soul of Muhammad, the beasts of the earth will become fat after grazing on their flesh and their blood.” So we are informed in this hadeeth that: “they (Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj) will excavate the barrier every day until, when they begin to see the rays of the sun,” this is due to the thinness of the barrier. Now if it is authentic, it can be understood to mean that this work of theirs will be at the end of time, when their emergence is near, or the meaning of His Words: {...or dig through it} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:97) could be that they have made a small hole in it, and that does not negate the possibility that they dig it, but do not penetrate it. And Allah knows better.

Based on this, it is possible to reconcile this hadeeth with what has been recorded in the Saheehain, on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him): “...the barrier of (Ya’jooj and Ma’jooj) has been opened like this.” That is, a hole has been opened in it. And Allah knows better.

The Story of the Companions of the Cave

Allah, Most High, says, {Do you think that the People of the Cave and the inscription (the news or the names of the People of the Cave) were a wonder among Our Signs? (Remember) when the young men fled for refuge (from their disbelieving folk) to the cave, they said, “Our Lord! Bestow on us mercy from Yourself and facilitate for us our affair in the right way!” Therefore We covered up their (sense of) hearing (causing them to go into a deep sleep) in the cave for a number of years. Then We raised them up (from their sleep), that We might test which of the two parties was best at calculating the time period that they had tarried. We narrate unto you (O, Muhammad) their story with truth: Truly, they were young men who believed in their Lord (Allah) and We increased them in guidance. And We made their hearts firm and strong (with the light of faith in Allah and bestowed upon them patience to bear the separation of their kith and kin and dwellings, etc.) when they stood up and said, “Our Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the Earth, never shall we call upon any ilah (god) other than Him; if we did, we should indeed have uttered an enormity in disbelief. These our people have taken for worship alihah (gods) other than Him (Allah). Why do they not bring for them a clear authority? And who does more wrong than he who invents a lie against Allah.” (The young men said to one another,) “And when you withdraw from them and that which they worship, except Allah, then seek refuge in the cave, your Lord will open a way for you from His Mercy and will make easy for you your affair (i.e. will give you what you will need of provision, dwelling, etc.)” And you might have seen the sun when it rose, declining to the right from their Cave, and when it set, turning away from them to the left, while they lay in the midst of the cave. That is (one) of the Ayat (proofs, evidences, signs) of Allah. He whom Allah guides is rightly guided; but he whom He sends astray, for him you will find no waliyy (guiding friend) to lead him (to the right Path). And you would have thought them awake, while they were asleep. And We turned them on their right and on their left sides, and their dog stretching forth his two forelegs at the entrance (of the cave or in the space near to the entrance of the cave [as a guard at the gate]). Had you looked at them, you would certainly have turned back from them in flight, and would certainly have been filled with awe of them. Likewise, We awakened them (from their long deep sleep) that they might question one another. A speaker from among them said: "How long have you stayed (here)?" They said, "We have stayed (perhaps) a day or part of a day." They said, "Your Lord (Alone) knows best how long you have stayed (here). So send one of you with this silver coin of yours to the town, and let him find out which is the good lawful food and bring some of that to you. And let him be careful and let no man know of you. For if they come to know of you, they will stone you (to death or abuse and harm you) or turn you back to their religion, and in that case you will never be successful." And thus We made their case known to the people, that they might know that the Promise of Allah is true, and that there can be no doubt about the Hour. (Remember) when they (the people of the city) disputed among themselves about their case, they said, "Construct a building over them, their Lord knows best about them," (then) those who won their point said (most probably the disbelievers), "We verily shall build a masjid over them." (Some) say they were three, the dog being the fourth among them; (others) say they were five, the dog being the sixth, guessing at the unseen; (yet others) say they were seven, the dog being the eighth. Say (O, Muhammad), "My Lord knows best their number; none knows them but a few." So debate not (about their number, etc.) except with the clear proof (which We have revealed to you). And consult not any of them (people of the Scripture, Jews and Christians) about (the affair of) the people of the cave. And never say of anything, "I shall do such and such thing tomorrow," except (with the saying): "If Allah wills!" And remember your Lord when you forget and say, "It may be that my Lord guides me unto a nearer way of truth than this." And they stayed in their cave three hundred years, and add nine. Say, "Allah knows best how long they stayed. With Him is the unseen of the heavens and the Earth. How clearly He sees, and hears (everything)! They have no waliyy (helper, disposer of affairs, protector, etc.) other than He, and He makes none to share in His Decision and His Rule.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:9-26)

The reason for the sending down of the story of the Companions of the Cave and the information regarding Dhul-Qarnain was, according to what has been reported by Muhammad Ibn Ishaq in his Seerah and by others was that Quraish sent a message to the Jews, asking them about matters with which they might test the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and questions that they might ask him, in order to see what his answer might be. The Jews said, “Ask him about people who went out in the past and it is not known what they did. And ask him about a man who traveled throughout the Earth. And (ask him) about the Spirit.” So Allah, Most High, revealed: {And they ask you (O, Muhammad) concerning the Rooh (the Spirit)} (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:85) and: {And they ask you about Dhul-Qarnain} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:83). And here He says, {Do you think that the people of the cave and the Inscription (the news or the names of the people of the cave) were a wonder among Our Signs?} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:9). That is, it is not a great wonder, compared with the information that We have conveyed to you, the clear Signs and the strange wonders. And the Arabic word ‘kahf’ means a cavern in a mountain.

It is apparent from the context that their people were polytheists, who worshipped idols. Many of the scholars of tafseer, historians and others said that they lived during the era of a king whose name was Daqyanoos (Dacianus) and they were the sons of leading members of society. It was also said that they were the sons of kings. It happened that they gathered on a day that was a religious holiday for their people and they saw their people occupied in prostration to their idols and glorification of their graven images. They looked with discerning eyes and Allah removed the veil of ignorance from their hearts and inspired them with guidance, so they knew that their people were not following guidance and they abandoned their religion and instead worshipped Allah, Alone, without partners. It was said that when Allah inspired each one of them with belief in His Oneness (Tawheed), they withdrew from the people. These young men gathered in one place, as confirmed by the hadeeth in Saheeh Al-Bukhari: “The spirits are massed armies. Those of them that knew one another are friendly. Those that did not know one another disagree.” So each of them asked the other about his situation and his circumstances and they informed one another about their own individual conditions. They agreed to withdraw from their people, to wash their hands of them and to flee with their Religion from them – and this is what has been legislated in times of trial and tribulation and the appearance of evil. Allah, Most High, says, {We narrate unto you (O, Muhammad) their story with truth: Truly! They were young men who believed in their Lord (Allah) and We increased them in guidance. And We made their hearts firm and strong (with the light of faith in Allah and bestowed upon them patience to bear the separation of their kith and kin and dwellings, etc.) when they stood up and said, “Our Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the Earth, never shall we call upon any ilah (god) other than Him; if we did, we should indeed have uttered an enormity in disbelief. These our people have taken for worship alihah (gods) other than Him (Allah). Why do they not bring for them a clear authority?”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:13-15). That is, a clear evidence for what they are following. {“These our people have taken for worship alihah (gods) other than Him (Allah). Why do they not bring for them a clear authority? And who does more wrong than he who invents a lie against Allah. (The young men said to one another,) “And when you withdraw from them and that which they worship, except Allah...”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:15,16). That is, when you abandon their religion and wash your hands of the idols that they worship besides Allah. This was because they used to associate partners with Allah, as Al-Khaleel said, {“Verily, I am innocent of what you worship, except Him (i.e. I worship none but Allah Alone) Who did create me, and verily, He will guide me.”} (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:26, 27). Likewise, one of these young men said, “Since you have withdrawn from your people in your religion, remove yourselves physically from their midst, in order to avoid them bringing their evil to you.” {“...then seek refuge in the cave, your Lord will open a way for you from His Mercy and will make your affair easy for you (i.e. will give you what you will need of provision, dwelling, etc.).”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:16). That is, He will cause a veil to descend over you and you will be under His Protection and He will make your end to be good, as stated in the hadeeth: “O, Allah! Make the end of all of our affairs us from the humiliation of this world and the punishment of the Hereafter.” Then Allah, Most High, describes the cave in which they sought refuge and how its entrance faces toward the north and its interior faced toward the qiblah. And that was the most beneficial place, with its interior facing toward the qiblah and its entrance facing north. He says, {And you might have seen the sun, when it rose, declining} (Soorah AlKahf 18:17). The Arabic word (تَتَّالِزُ رَوْرُودًا) was also recited (زَيْتًا رَوْرُودًا) {to the right from their cave, and when it set, turning away from them to the left} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:17). So He informs us that the sun, i.e. during the summer time or close to it, when it first rose, appeared to those in the cave on the western side of it, then it gradually departed from it. And that is the meaning of its declining toward the right. Then it rose into the sky and departed from the doorway of the cave. Then when it began to set, it entered it little by little from the eastern side, until the time when it set, as may be seen from a similar position. And the wisdom behind the sun’s entering at different times is so that the air therein did not become spoiled. {...while they lay in the midst of the cave. That is (one) of the Ayat \of Allah} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:17). That is, their remaining in this situation for a period lasting many years, during which they did not eat or drink and their bodies did not receive any form of nourishment is one of Allah’s Ayat and a proof of His Great Omnipotence. {He whom Allah guides is rightly guided; but he whom He increases in error, for him you will find no waliyy (guiding friend) to lead him (to the right Path). And you would have thought them awake, while they were asleep} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:17,18). Some of the scholars said that this was because their eyes remained open, so that they would not become decayed by being closed for an extended period of time. {And We turned them on their right and on their left sides} (Soorah

Al-Kahf 18:18). It was said that every year they were turned once from one side to the other. It is also possible that they were turned more often than that. And Allah knows better. {...and their dog stretching forth his two forelegs at the entrance} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:18). Shu'aib Al-Jaba'i said that the name of their dog was Humran. Others said that the word 'al-waseed' used in the Verse means the entrance to the cave. What is meant is that the dog that was with them when they withdrew from their people remained with them, but it did not enter the cave with them; instead, it lay down at the cave's entrance and placed its front paws at the threshold. It was his nature and habit to lie down at their door as if guarding them. It was sitting outside the door, because the angels do not enter a house in which there is a dog, as was reported in an authentic hadeeth, nor do they enter a house in which there is an image, a person in a state of ritual impurity or a disbeliever, as was narrated in the hadeeth that has been graded hasan. The blessing they enjoyed extended to their dog, so the sleep that overtook them overtook it too. This is the benefit of accompanying good people, and so this dog attained fame and stature. It was said that it was the hunting dog of one of the people which is the more appropriate view, or that it was the dog of the king's cook, who shared their religious views, and brought his dog with him. And Allah knows better. Much has been related regarding this dog, but most of it was obtained from Isra'eeliyyat and most of it is lies and of no benefit, such as their dispute regarding its name and its color.

But Allah has related what is most beneficial regarding their situation and what is most important concerning their affair, and He has described their situation so that it is as if the listener was witnessing and the one who was informed saw the cave as it was described and their situation therein, and how they turned from side to side and how their dog lay with its paws stretched out at the threshold. Allah says, {Had you looked at them, you would certainly have turned back from them in flight} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:18). That is, because Allah had made them appear dreadful, so that no one could look at them without being filled with terror, because of the frightening appearance they had been given. This was so that no one would come near them or touch them until the appointed time when their sleep would come to an end as Allah willed, because of the wisdom, clear proof and great mercy involved in that. It is possible that the address in His Words: {Had you looked at them...} is to mankind in general and not only to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), as in His Words: {Then what (or who) causes you to deny the Recompense (i.e. Day of Resurrection)?} (Soorah At-Teen 95:7). That is, O, mankind. And this is because it is the nature of mankind to flee from the sight of terrifying things in most cases, which is why He says, {Had you looked at them, you would certainly have turned back from them in flight} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:18). This proves that hearing about something is not the same as seeing it, as stated in the hadeeth, because the information has been given, but the flight and fear has not occurred. Then Allah informed us that He awakened them from their slumber, after they had slept for three hundred and nine years. And when they awoke, they asked one another, {"How long have you stayed (here)?" They said, "We have stayed (perhaps) a day or part of a day." They said, "Your Lord (Alone) knows best how long you have stayed (here). So send one of you with this silver coin of yours to the town."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:19). That is, take these dirhams of yours, i.e. that you have with you, to the city. It was said that the name of the city was Dafsoos. {"...and let him find out which is the good, lawful food."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:19). Azka means purest. {and bring some of that to you} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:19). That is, some of that food, that you may eat of it. They said this because of their asceticism and their piety. {And let him be careful} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:19). That is, when he enters the city. {and let no man know of you, for if they come to know of you, they will stone you (to death or abuse and harm you) or turn you back to their religion, and in that case you will never be successful."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:19, 20). That is, if you return to their religion after Allah had saved you from it. And all of this is because of their belief that they had slept for a day or part of a day, or more than that, and they did not realise that they had slept for more than three hundred years and that the states and countries and those who ruled them had completely changed, and that the generation among whom they had lived had gone and been replaced by others, who had likewise gone and been replaced by others. And when one of them – whose name, it was said, was Teedhoosis – set out, he arrived at the city in disguise, so that none of his people should recognize him, based on his belief (that they had only slept for a short while). The country had changed beyond recognition and the inhabitants he met did not recognize him. It was said that he fled from them and it was also said that rather, he informed them about himself and his companions and what had befallen them. The people then went with them, in order that he might show them their place. When they approached the cave, he entered it and went to his brothers and informed them of their true situation and of the length of time they had slept. When he told them, they realized that this had been ordained for them by Allah through His Omnipotence. It was said that they continued to sleep and it was also said that rather, they died after that. As for the people of the city, it was said that they were not guided to their place in the cave and that Allah kept their situation secret from them. It was also said that they were unable to physically enter it and that they were in fear of them.

They differed regarding their case and some of them said: {"Construct a building over them..."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:21). That is, seal up the doorway of the cave over them, so that they may not exit from it, or so that no harm may reach them. Others – and it was their opinion that was implemented – said, {"We verily shall build a masjid over them."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:21). That is, a place of worship, so that it might become a blessed place for those righteous people who live around it. This was something wellknown to those who came before us. But in our religious law, according to what has been confirmed in the Saheehain from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him): "May Allah curse the Jews and Christians for they built the places of worship at the graves of their Prophets." He was warning his Companions (May Allah be pleased with them) against doing what they had done. As for His Words: {And thus We made their case known to the people, that they might know that the Promise of Allah is true, and that there can be no doubt about the Hour} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:21). That is, We revealed their circumstances to the people. Many of the scholars of tafseer said that it means that the people might know that the Promise is true and that there can be no doubt of the Hour, when they knew that these people had slept for more than three hundred years and then woke up as they were before, without any change in them, because He Who caused them to remain as they were is Able to return their bodies, even though they had been eaten by worms and to give life to the dead, even though their bodies and their bones had crumbled. And this is something which the Believers do not doubt. {Verily! Our Word unto a thing when We intend it, is only that We say unto it, "Be!" and it is} (Soorah An-Nahl 16:40). It is also possible that the pronoun in His Words: {that they might know} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:21) refers to the Companions of the Cave, because their knowledge of this was deeper and more profound than that of others. It is also possible that it refers to everyone. And Allah knows better. Then He, Most High, says, {(Some) say they were three, the dog being the fourth among them; (others) say they were five, the dog being the sixth, guessing at the unseen; (yet others) say they were seven, the dog being the eighth} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:22). Allah mentions the dispute among the people regarding their number and He relates three sayings. He declares the first two to be weak and He confirms the third and this proves that it is the truth. Since, if there were other opinions, He would have related them. And if this third saying was not the correct one, He would have declared it to be weak. So this proves what we have said. And since there is no avail in disputes such as these and no benefit in them, Allah guided His Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to the correct behavior in such cases in which the people dispute, telling him to say, "Allah knows better." And this is why He says, {Say (O, Muhammad), "My Lord knows best their number."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:22) and He says, {"...none knows them but a few.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:22). That is, of mankind. {So debate not (about their number, etc.) except with the clear proof (which We have revealed to you)} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:22). That is, gently and politely and do not become engaged in arguments in cases such as these or seek pronouncements from any person. This is why Allah, Most High, left their number unclear at the beginning of the story, saying, {They were young men who believed in their Lord (Allah)} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:13). And if there was any great benefit in specifying their number, the Knower of the unseen and the seen would have mentioned it. And He, Most High, says, {And never say of anything, “I shall do such and such thing tomorrow,” except (with the saying), “if Allah wills!” And remember your Lord when you forget and say, “It may be that my Lord guides me unto a nearer way of truth than this.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:23,24)

This is a great etiquette to which Allah, Most High, has guided him and which He has encouraged His creation to follow; and that is, that if a person says, “I will do such-and-such in the future,” it is legislated that he should not do so without adding, “...if Allah wills,” so that he will achieve his objective, because the slave does not know what will happen on the morrow and he does not know if this thing that he intends is ordained for him or not. And the addition of the words: “...if Allah wills,” is not a condition, rather it is a statement of certainty, which is why, ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said that a person may say “...if Allah wills,” even if it is a year later, it means that if he forgets to say it when he makes the oath or when he speaks, and he remembers it later, even a year later, the Sunnah is that he should say it, so that he will still be following the Sunnah of saying “...if Allah wills,” even if that is after breaking his oath, as we said earlier in the story of Sulaiman (Peace be upon him), when he said, “Tonight I will go around to seventy women (according to some reports, it was ninety or one hundred women) so that each one of them will give birth to a son who will fight for the sake of Allah.” It was said to him (according to one report, the angel said to him), “Say, ‘If Allah wills,’” but he did not say it. He went around to the women but none of them gave birth except for one who gave birth to a half-formed child. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “By Him in Whose hand is my soul, had he said, “If Allah wills,” he would not have broken his oath, and that would have helped him to attain what he wanted.” According to another report, “...they would all have fought as horsemen in the cause of Allah.” At the beginning of this Soorah we discussed the reason why this Ayah was revealed: when the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was asked about the story of the People of the Cave, he said, “I will tell you tomorrow.” Then the revelation was delayed for fifteen days.

And He, Most High, says, {And remember your Lord when you forget} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:24). This is because forgetfulness might be from Shaitan and mentioning Allah repels him from the heart, so that the one who forgets might remember what he had forgotten. And He, Most High, says, {and say, “It may be that my Lord guides me unto a nearer way of truth than this.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:24). That is, when a matter is unclear or a situation is difficult, or the sayings of the people are obscure regarding something, then ask Allah and He will make the matter easy for you and facilitate it for you. Then He says, {And they stayed in their cave for three hundred years, and add nine} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:25). Because there is a great benefit in knowing the length of time they remained in the cave, Allah, Most High, informs us about it. The extra nine years referred to means in lunar years, since one hundred solar years equals one hundred and three lunar years and so three hundred solar years is equivalent to three hundred and nine lunar years. {Say, “Allah knows best how long they stayed.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:26). That is, if you are asked about a matter similar to this and no information has been conveyed to you, then refer the matter to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. {“With Him is the unseen of the heavens and the Earth.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:26). That is, He is the Knower of the unseen and no one has access to it except those of His creation whom He wills. {How clearly He sees, and hears (everything)!} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:26). Ibn Jareer said, “The language used is an eloquent expression of praise.” The phrase may be understood to mean, how much Allah sees of everything that exists and how much He hears of everything that is to be heard, for nothing is hidden from Him! {They have no waliyy (helper, disposer of affairs, protector, etc.) other than He, and He makes none to share in His Decision and His Rule.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:26). That is, your Lord, Who is the sole Owner of the Dominion and Disposer of affairs, Alone, without partners.

The Story of the Two Men: The Believer and the Disbeliever

Allah, Most High, says in Soorah Al-Kahf, after relating the story of the People of the Cave {And put forward for them the example of two men; unto one of them We had given two gardens of grapes, and We had surrounded both with date-palms; and had put between them green crops (cultivated fields, etc.). Each of those two gardens brought forth its produce, and failed not in the least therein, and We caused a river to gush forth in the midst of them. And he had property (or fruit) and he said to his companion, in the course of mutual talk, “I am more than you in wealth and stronger in respect of men.” (See Tafseer Qurtubi, Vol. 10, page 403). And he went into his garden while he was unjust to himself. He said, “I think not that this will ever perish. And I think not the Hour will ever come, and if indeed I am brought back to my Lord, (on the Day of Resurrection), I surely shall find better than this when I return to Him.” His companion said to him, during the talk with him, “Do you disbelieve in Him Who created you out of dust (i.e. your father Adam), then out of a nutfah (mixed semen drops of male and female discharge), then fashioned you into a man? But as for my part (I believe that) He is Allah, my Lord and none shall I associate as partner with my Lord. It was better for you to say, when you entered your garden, ‘That which Allah wills (will come to pass)! There is no power but with Allah.’ If you see me less than you in wealth and children, it may be that my Lord will give me something better than your garden, and will send on it husban from the sky, then it will be a slippery earth. Or the water thereof (of the gardens) becomes deep-sunken (underground) so that you will never be able to seek it.” So his fruits were encircled (with ruin). And he remained clapping his hands with sorrow over what he had spent upon it, while it was all destroyed on its trellises, he could only say, “Would that I had ascribed no partners to my Lord!” (Tafseer Ibn Katheer). And he had no group of men to help him against Allah, nor could he defend or save himself. There (on the Day of Resurrection), Al-Walayah (the protection, power, authority and kingdom) will be for Allah (Alone), the True God. He (Allah) is the Best for reward and the Best for the final end. (La ilaha ill-Allah – none has the right to be worshipped but Allah.) (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:32-44)

Some of the people said that this is a parable set forth and it is not necessarily the case that it happened, but the majority are of the opinion that it actually happened. And His Saying: {And put forward for them the example} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:32). That is, for the disbelievers of Quraish, regarding their refusal to gather with the weak and the poor and their belittling of them and the arrogance they displayed for them, as He, Most High, says, {And put forward to them a similitude; the (story of the) dwellers of the town, when there came Messengers to them} (Soorah Ya Seen 36:13). {“I am more than you in wealth and stronger in respect of men.” (See Tafseer Al-Qurtubi, Vol. 10, page 403)} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:34). That is, I possess larger gardens; and what he meant by it was that he was better than his companion, i.e. what benefit do you gain from spending what you possess in the way that you do (i.e. giving in charity, etc.)? It would be better for you to do as I have done, so that you might be as I am (i.e. wealthy). So he behaved arrogantly toward his companion. {And he went into his garden while he was unjust to himself} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:35). means, he was not following the way that was pleasing to Allah. {He said, “I think not that this will ever perish.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf

18:35). He said this when he saw how vast his lands were, how much water there was and how fine the fruits on its trees were; and if it has perished all of these trees, they would have been replaced by others better than these, which plants are productive, due to the plentiful supply of water. Then he said, {"And I think not the Hour will ever come."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:36). He placed his reliance in the splendor of the transient life of this world and denied the existence of the Hereafter, which everlasting and permanent. Then he said, {"...and if indeed I am brought back to my Lord, (on the Day of Resurrection), I surely shall find better than this when I return to Him."} (Soorah AlKahf 18:36). That is, even if there is a Hereafter and a Return, I will certainly find there something better than this. This was because he deluded by his earthly life and believed that Allah had not given him all that except because of His Love for him and His Benevolence toward him, as Al-'As ibn Wa'il said to Khabbab ibn Al-Aratt, according to the information given to us by Allah in His Words: {Have you seen him who disbelieved in Our Ayat (this Qur'an and Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)) and (yet) says, "I shall certainly be given wealth and children (if I will be alive [again])." Has he known the unseen or has he taken a covenant from the Most Beneficent (Allah)?} (Soorah Maryam 19:77,78). And Allah, Most High, tells us that when man is given Blessings from Allah, {...he is sure to say, "This is for me (due to my merit), I think not that the Hour will be established. But if I am brought back to my Lord, surely, there will be for me the best (wealth, etc.) with Him."} (Soorah Fus And when this ignorant man was bedazzled by what he had been granted in this earthly life, denied the Hereafter and claimed that if there was an Afterlife, he would find therein with his Lord something better than that which he had been given in this life. His companion heard his words and {(he) said to him, during the talk with him} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:37). That is, while he was disputing with him. {"Do you disbelieve in Him Who created you out of dust (i.e. your father Adam), then out of a nutfah (mixed semen drops of male and female discharge), then fashioned you into a man?"} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:37). That is, do you reject the Return, when you know that

Allah created you from dust, then from a nutfah and then formed you into a man, blessed with hearing and sight, and you have knowledge, strength and understanding? So how can you reject the Return, when Allah is Able to create you from nothing? {“But as for my part (I believe) that He is Allah, my Lord.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:38). That is, but I say and believe something contrary to what you say and believe: {“He is Allah, my Lord and none shall I associate as partner with my Lord.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:38). That is, I do not worship anything except Him and I believe that He will send forth the bodies (of mankind) after they have rotted away, revive the dead and gather the remaining bones. And I know that Allah has no partners in His Creation or in His Dominion and that there is none worthy of worship but He. Then he guided him toward the thing that was more fitting for him to do whenever he entered his gardens, saying, {It was better for you to say, when you entered your garden, ‘That which Allah wills (will come to pass)! There is no power but with Allah’.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:39). For this reason, it is preferred for every person who sees something in his wealth, his family or his situation that favorably impresses him to say likewise.

Then the Believer said to the disbeliever, {“It may be that my Lord will give me something better than your garden.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:40). That is, in the abode of the Hereafter. {“...and will send on it husban from the sky.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:40). ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Ad-Dahhak and Qatadah said that it means a punishment from the heaven; and it would appear that it refers to blinding, heavy rain, which ruins crops and trees. {“...then it will be a slippery earth.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:40). And that is smooth ground in which there is no vegetation. {“Or the water thereof (of the gardens) becomes deep-sunken (underground).”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:41). And that is the opposite of a free-flowing spring. {“...so that you will never be able to seek it.”} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:41). That is, you will never be able to reclaim it. Allah, Most High, says, {So his fruits were encircled (with ruin)} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:42). That is, a Command (from Allah) came to him which encircled all of his crops and ruined and destroyed his garden. {And he remained clapping his hands with sorrow over what he had spent upon it, while it was all destroyed on its trellises} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:42). That is, they were totally destroyed and could not be returned. And that was the opposite of what he had expected when he said, {"I think not that this will ever perish."} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:36) and he regretted the words of disbelief in Allah, the Great, that he had spoken, saying, {"Would that I had ascribed no partners to my Lord!" (Tafseer Ibn Katheer)} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:42). Allah, Most High, says, {And he had no group of men to help him against Allah, nor could he defend or save himself. There (on the Day of Resurrection)} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:43). That is, there was no one who could compensate him for what had befallen him and he himself had no ability to do such a thing, as Allah, Most High, says, {Then will (man) have no power, nor any helper there} (Soorah At-Tariq 86:10). And He says, {(On the Day of Resurrection) Al-Walayah (the protection, power, authority and kingdom) will be for Allah (Alone), the True God} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:44). Some of them understood this Verse to begin with the word 'Hunalika' (There), (rather than as the final word of the previous verse) and this is also correct, as He, Most High, says, {The sovereignty on that Day will be the true (sovereignty), belonging to the Most Gracious (Allah), and it will be a hard Day for the disbelievers} (Soorah Al-Furqan 25:26). So the Judgment which cannot be repelled, prevented or overcome is in that situation; and in every situation the true Judgment is for Allah. Others recited AlHaqu rather than Al-Haqqi, making the Word an adjective for Al-Walayah – and the meanings of both are inseparable. {He (Allah) is the Best for reward and the Best for the final end. (La ilaha ill-Allah – none has the right to be worshipped but Allah).} (Soorah Al-Kahf 18:44). That is, His Treatment of a person is the best reward for him, which is the Recompense. As for being the Best for the final end, it refers to the end in this life and in the Hereafter. It may be inferred from this story that no one should depend on the life of this world, be misled by it or place one's faith in it. Instead, he should direct his attention toward obedience to Allah and dependence on Him. And that which is in Allah's Hand is more dependable than that which is in his hands. We may also understand from it that whoever gives precedence to something over obedience to Allah and spending in His Cause, he will be punished because of that and it might be taken from him, so that he receives the opposite of that to which he aspired. We may also infer from it that it is obligatory to accept the advice of one's brother, when he is concerned for our wellbeing and that when one opposes good advice, it entails evil consequences and ruin for him. In addition, we can derive from it that regret does not benefit once Allah's Ordainment has been fulfilled. And it is Allah from Whom we seek Help and upon Him we depend.

The Story of the Companions of the Garden

Allah, Most High, says, {Verily, We have tried them as We tried the people of the garden, when they swore to pick them in the morning, without saying, 'Insha' Allah (if Allah wills)'. Then there passed by on the (garden) something (fire) from your Lord at night and burned it while they were asleep. So the (garden) became black by the morning, like as-sareem (in complete ruins). Then they called out to one another as soon as the morning broke, saying, "Go to your tilth in the morning, if you would pick the fruits." So they departed, yatakhafatona, (saying,) "No miskeen (poor man) shall enter upon you into it today." And they went in the morning with strong intention, thinking that they have power. But when they saw it, they said, "Verily, we have gone astray," (Then they said), "Nay! Indeed we are deprived!" The best among them said, "Did I not say to you: 'Why do you not glorify?' They said, "Glory to our Lord! Verily, we have been zalimoon (wrongdoers, etc.)." Then they turned, one against another, in reproach. They said, "Woe to us! Verily, we were taghoon (transgressors, disobedient, etc.) We hope that our Lord will give us in exchange a better (garden) than this. Truly, we turn to our Lord (wishing for good, that He may forgive our sins, and reward us in the Hereafter)." Such is the punishment (in this life), but truly, the punishment of the Hereafter is greater, if they but knew } (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:17-33). And this is a parable set forth by Allah for the disbelievers of Quraish, regarding the Blessing that He bestowed on them, i.e. the sending of the great and noble Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to them and how they greeted him with denial and opposition, as He, Most High, says, {Have you not seen those who have changed the Blessings of Allah into disbelief (by denying Prophet Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and his Message of Islam), and caused their people to dwell in the house of destruction? Hell, in which they will burn – and what an evil place in which to settle!} (Soorah Ibraheem 14:28, 29). ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “They are the disbelievers of Quraish. So Allah, Most High, set forth for them the parable of the Companions of the Garden; their garden contained all kinds of crops and fruits, which were ripe and ready to be harvested. This is why He says, {when they swore...} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:17). That is, to one another. {...to pick them} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:17). That is, to harvest the fruits of the garden. {...in the morning} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:17). means, at daybreak, so that no poor or needy person should see them and they would not have to give them anything; and they swore an oath to that effect, but they did not add: ‘Insha’ Allah’ (if Allah wills) and so Allah invalidated their oath and brought destruction on their garden, burning it and leaving it blackened and ruined, so that nothing useful remained of it, which is why He says, {Then there passed by on the (garden) something (fire) from your Lord at night and burned it while they were asleep. So the (garden) became black by the morning, like as-sareem (in complete ruins)} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:19-20). That is, like a black night, empty of any light. And this Treatment invalidated their intention. {Then they called out one to another as soon as the morning broke} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:21). means, they woke up from their sleep and they called out to one another, saying, {“Go to your tilth in the morning, if you would pick the fruits.”} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:22). That is, go to your orchard early in the morning and pick the fruit before the sun has properly risen and many questions are asked. {So they departed, yatakhafatoo (saying,)) (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:23). That is, conversing with one another in low voices, saying, {"No miskeen (poor man) shall enter upon you into it today."} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:24). That is, they consulted upon this and agreed upon it. {And they went in the morning with strong intention, thinking that they have power.} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:25) That is, they went out to gather the fruits, believing that they had strength and power over their garden and concealing this bad intention in their hearts. 'Ikrimah and Ash-Sha'bi said that {and they went in the morning with strong intention, thinking that they have power} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:25) means that they were angry with the poor. But As-Suddi erred widely in his interpretation when he said that the word hard was the name of their cultivated land. {But when they saw it...} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:26). That is, they reached the garden and looked at the disaster that had befallen it, after it had been ripe for harvesting, beautiful and magnificent to behold. And they had been thus transformed because of their bad intention. When they saw what had happened, {they said, "Verily, we have gone astray,"} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:26). That is, we have taken the wrong path to it. Then they changed their minds and realized with certainty that it was actually the correct path, so they said, {"Nay! Indeed we are deprived!"} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:27). That is, we have been punished because of our bad intention and deprived of the blessing of our cultivation. {The awsat among them said} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:28). 'Abdullah ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid and others said that it means: the fairest and the best of them said, {"Did I not say to you: 'Why do you not glorify'?"} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:29). It was said by Mujahid, As-Suddi and Ibn Jareer At-Tabari that this means: Why did you not say, 'Insha' Allah' (if Allah wills)?" It was also said that it means: Why did you not say something good, instead of the wicked thing that you said? {They said, "Glory to our Lord! Verily, we have been zalimoon (wrongdoers, etc.)." Then they turned, one against another, in reproach. They said, "Woe to us! Verily, we were taghmoon (transgressors and disobedient, etc.)} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:29). When it was no longer of any use to them, they expressed their regret and acknowledged their sin after the punishment had been inflicted on them and when it availed them nothing. Allah, Most High, says, {Such is the punishment (in this life)} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:30). That is, thus do We punish those who disobey Our Command and show no compassion for the poor and needy among Our creation. {...but truly, the punishment of the Hereafter is greater} (Soorah AlQalam 68:33). means, more terrible and more severe than the punishment of this world. {...if they but knew} (Soorah Al-Qalam 68:33). And the story of these people resembles that of those in the story mentioned by Allah in His Words: {And Allah puts forward the example of a township (Makkah), that dwelt secure and well content; its provision coming to it in abundance from every place, but it (its people) denied the Favors of Allah (with ungratefulness). So Allah made it taste the extreme of hunger (famine) and fear, because of that (evil, i.e. denying Prophet Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)) which they (its people) used to do. And verily, there had come unto them a Messenger (Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)) from among themselves, but they denied him, so the torment overtook them while they were zalimoon.} (Soorah An-Nahl 16:112,113). It was said that this parable was set forth for the people of Makkah. It was also said it referred to the people of Makkah themselves and that Allah set forth the parable of them, for them. And this does not contradict the first opinion. And Allah (SWT) knows better.

The Story of the People of Ailah, Who Transgressed the Laws of Their Sabbath

Allah, Most High, says, {And ask them (O, Muhammad) about the town that was by the sea, when they transgressed in the matter of the Sabbath (i.e. Saturday): when their fish came to them openly on the Sabbath day, and did not come to them on the day they had no Sabbath. Thus We made a trial of them for they used to rebel

(Soorah An-Nisa' 4:154). And when a community among them said, "Why do you preach to a people whom Allah is about to destroy or to punish with a severe punishment?" (The preachers) said, "In order to be free from guilt before your Lord (Allah), and perhaps they may fear Allah." So when they forgot the reminders that had been given to them, We rescued those who forbade evil, but We seized those who did wrong with a severe punishment because they used to rebel (disobey Allah). So when they exceeded the limits of what they were prohibited, We said to them, "Be you monkeys, despised and rejected." (It is a severe warning to the mankind that they should not disobey what Allah commands them to do, and be far away from what He prohibits them)} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:163166)

'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, Qatadah, As-Suddi and others said that they were the people of Ailah. 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) added that it lies between Madyan and At-Toor (which is in Sinai). They said that they adhered to the religious teachings of the Tawrah, according to which the Sabbath was sacrosanct. The fish were accustomed to being left alone on the Sabbath, because it was unlawful for the Jews to catch them or to undertake any activities on that day, such as trading and business. So the fish were plentiful on that day, swimming near the surface, coming from hither and thither, feeling safe and at ease, and the Jews did not disturb them or alarm them. {...and did not come to them on the day they had no Sabbath} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:163). This was because they used to try to catch them on days other than the Sabbath. Allah, Most High, says, {Thus We made a trial of them} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:163). That is, We tested them through the plentiful fish on the Sabbath. {...for they used to rebel (see also Soorah An-Nisa' 4:154)} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:163). That is, because of the sins of disobedience they had previously committed. So when they saw the profusion of fish, they resorted to duplicity, by placing nets, ropes and artificial pools of water on Friday for the purpose of fishing before the Sabbath. When the fish came in abundance on Saturday

as usual, they were caught in the ropes and nets for the rest of Saturday. During the night, the Jews collected the fish after the Sabbath ended. Allah was Angry with them and cursed them for their duplicity, which went against His Command and entailed an apparent adherence to the law, while actually circumventing it. So when a group of them did that, the remainder of them split into two factions: (i) those who rebuked them for their deed and their subterfuge, in contravention of Allah's Command and His Law at that time; and (ii) those who did not do it, but did not forbid it, indeed, they rebuked those who forbade it and they said, {"Why do you preach to a people whom Allah is about to destroy or to punish with a severe punishment?"} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:164). They said, "What is the benefit of forbidding these people, when they have already merited the Punishment (of Allah) and it is inevitable?" The group which rebuked the sinners replied to them, saying, {"In order to be free from guilt before your Lord (Allah), and perhaps they may fear Allah."} (Soorah Al-'Araf 6:16). That is, regarding to what He has commanded us to do of ordering that which is good and forbidding that which is evil, and we fulfill it out of fear of His Punishment. {"...and perhaps they may fear Allah."} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:164). That is, perhaps these sinners may abandon this deed that they are doing and Allah may preserve them from His Punishment, if they turn back and listen. Allah, Most High, says, {So when they forgot the reminders that had been given to them...} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:165). That is, they paid no heed to those who forbade them from doing this disgraceful and detestable deed. {We rescued those who forbade evil} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:165). And they were the group who commanded that which is good and forbade that which is evil. {...but We seized those who did wrong} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:165). And they were those who committed the sin. {...with a severe punishment} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:165). And that was an extremely painful one. {...because they used to rebel (disobey Allah)} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:165). Then He explains the Punishment that befell them in His Words: {So when they exceeded the limits of what they were prohibited, We said to them, "Be you monkeys, despised and rejected."} (It is a severe warning to the mankind that they should not disobey what Allah commands them to do, and be far away from what He prohibits them).} (Soorah AlA'raf 7:166)

What is meant here is that Allah, Most High, destroyed the wrongdoers and saved the Believers who rebuked the sinners, and He passed over those who remained silent. The scholars divided into two groups regarding them. One held the opinion that they were among those who were saved, while the other opined that they were among those who were destroyed. The correct opinion is the first, according to the investigators and it was the preferred opinion of 'Abdullah ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), the Imam of the Qur'anic exegetes. He reached this opinion as a result of a debate with his freed slave, 'Ikrimah and because of this he clothed him in a garment, as a mark of honor and respect. I say: The only reason why they were not mentioned with those who were saved is because, although they inwardly expressed their disapproval of this sinful act, they did not express any outward censure of it, by verbally condemning it, which is the middle level of the three levels, the highest of which is to express disapproval by one's hand; after that comes verbal condemnation and the third level is to condemn it in one's heart. And since they were not mentioned, it means that they were saved along with the others who were saved, because they did not commit that evil deed; indeed, they censured it.

The Story of Luqman – Peace be upon him

Allah, Most High, says, {And indeed We bestowed upon Luqman Al-Hikmah (wisdom and religious understanding, etc.) saying:, "Give thanks to Allah," and whoever gives thanks, he gives thanks for (the good of) his ownself. And whoever is ungrateful, then verily, Allah is Free of all wants, Worthy of all praise. And (remember) when Luqman said to his son when he was advising him, "O, my son! Join not others in worship with Allah. Verily! Joining others in worship with Allah is a great zulm (wrong)

indeed. And We have enjoined on man (to be dutiful and good) to his parents. His mother bore him in weakness and hardship upon weakness and hardship, and his weaning is in two years, give thanks to Me and to your parents, unto Me is the final destination. But if they (both) strive with you to make you join in worship with Me others that of which you have no knowledge, then obey them not, but behave with them in the world kindly, and follow the path of him who turns to Me in repentance and in obedience. Then to Me will be your return, and I shall tell you what you used to do. “O, my son! If it be (anything) equal to the weight of a grain of mustard seed, and though it be in a rock, or in the heavens or in the earth, Allah will bring it forth. Verily, Allah is Subtle (in bringing out that grain), Well -Aware (of its place). O, my son! Aqim-is--salah (perform as--salah prayers), enjoin (on people) al--ma‘roof (Islamic Monotheism and all that is good), and forbid (people) from al--munkar (i.e. disbelief in the Oneness of Allah, polytheism of all kinds and all that is evil and bad), and bear with patience whatever befalls you. Verily, these are some of the important commandments. And turn not your face away from men, nor walk in insolence through the earth. Verily, Allah likes not each arrogant boaster. And be moderate in your walking, and lower your voice. Verily, the most disagreeable of sounds is the sound (braying) of the ass.”} (Soorah Luqman 31:12-19)

It is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “Luqman was an Abyssinian carpenter.” Qatadah reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn Az-Zubair that he said, “I said to Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah, “What has come to you regarding the case of Luqman?” He said, “He was of short stature and snub-nosed, and he was from Noobia.”

It has been widely reported from the majority of scholars that he was a wise man and a Waliyy, but not a Prophet. Allah, Most High, has mentioned him in the Qur’an and praised him and related his words of admonition to his son, who was the most beloved of Allah’s creation to him and of all mankind, the person for whose welfare he was most concerned. Among the first words of admonition that he addressed to his son was his saying: {"O, my son! Join not in worship others with Allah. Verily! Joining others in worship with Allah is a great zulm (wrong) indeed."} (Soorah Luqman 31:13). So he forbade him from such a sin and warned him against it.

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah that he said, "When {It is those who believe (in the Oneness of Allah and worship none but Him Alone) and confuse not their belief with zulm (wrong i.e. by worshipping others besides Allah)} (Soorah Al-An'am 6:82) was revealed, the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) were distressed by this, and said, "Who among us does not confuse his belief with zulm?" The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "That is not what it means. Have you not heard what Luqman said, {"O, my son! Join not in worship others with Allah. Verily, joining others in worship with Allah is a great zulm (wrong) indeed."}?" It was (also) narrated by Muslim.

Then Allah, Most High, commanded us to be dutiful and kind to our parents and set forth the parents' rights over their children and He confirmed it. He commanded us to treat parents well, even if they be disbelievers; but He told us that they are not to be obeyed if they order us to enter their religion. He then informed us regarding Luqman that he advised his son, {"O, my son! If it be (anything) equal to the weight of a grain of mustard seed, and though it be in a rock, or in the heavens or in the earth, Allah will bring it forth. Verily, Allah is Subtle (in bringing out that grain), Well -Aware (of its place)."} (Soorah Luqman 31:16). He forbids him from being unjust to mankind, even if the injustice is as insignificant as a mustard seed, for Allah, Most High, will ask about it and He will bring it forth at the time of the Reckoning and place it in the scale, as He, Most High, says, {Surely! Allah wrongs not even of the weight of an atom (or a small ant).} (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:40) and He, Most High, says, {And We shall set up balances of justice on the Day of Resurrection, then none will be dealt with unjustly in anything. And if there be the weight of a mustard seed, We will bring it. And Sufficient are We as Reckoners.} (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:47) He informed him that even if this injustice was as insignificant as a mustard seed and it was concealed within a solid rock, without any door or window in it, or it fell into something in the depths of the earth or it was in the wide expanse of the heavens, Allah would certainly know its location. {"Verily, Allah is Subtle (in bringing out that grain), Well-Aware (of its place)."} (Soorah Luqman 31:16). That is, His Knowledge is precise, so the smallest atoms – whether they be apparent or hidden – are known to Him, as He, Most High, says, {And with Him are the keys of the ghaib (all that is hidden), none knows them but He. And He knows whatever there is in (or on) the earth and in the sea; not a leaf falls, but He knows it. There is not a grain in the darkness of the earth nor anything fresh or dry, but is written in a Clear Record} (Soorah Al-An'am 6:59). And He says, {And there is nothing hidden in the heaven and the earth, but is in a Clear Book (i.e. Al-Lawh Al-Mahfooz)} (Soorah An-Naml 27:75) and He says, {(Allah, He is) the Knower of the unseen, not even the weight of an atom (or a small ant) or less than that or greater, escapes from His Knowledge in the heavens or in the earth, but it is in a Clear Book (Al--Lawh Al--Mahfooz)} (Soorah Saba' 34:3)

As for His Saying: {"O, my son! Aqim-is--salah (perform as--salah).} (Soorah Luqman 31:17), it means: Perform the prayer with all its obligatory acts regarding its limits, its timings, its bowing, its prostration, its repose, its humility and all that has been legislated therein. And refrain from whatever is prohibited therein. Then he said, {...enjoin (on people) for al--ma'roof (Islamic Monotheism and all that is good), and forbid (people) from al--munkar (i.e. disbelief in the Oneness of Allah, polytheism of all kinds and all that is evil and bad)} (Soorah Luqman 31:17). That is, (forbid them) with all your power and to the utmost of your ability, i.e. if you are able to do so, by your hand, if not, by verbal censure and if that is not possible, then by expressing hatred for the evil in your heart. Then he commanded him to be patient, saying, {...and bear with patience whatever befalls you} (Soorah Luqman 31:17). This is because the one who enjoins al-ma‘roof and forbids al-munkar may expect to be opposed and suffer harm; but the end result will be in his favor. This is why he ordered him to be patient in the face of that (opposition), for it is well known that the end result of patience is relief from suffering. And He, Most High, says, {Verily, these are some of the important commandments} (Soorah Luqman 31:17). That is, your enjoining alma‘roof and forbidding al-munkar and your patience in the face of harm is among the most important of commandments, which are unavoidable and from which there is no escape. {“And turn not your face away from men.”} (Soorah Luqman 31:18). ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid, ‘Ikrimah, Sa‘eed ibn Jubair, Ad-Dahhak, Yazeed ibn Al-Asamm, Abul-Jawza’ and others said that it means: do not behave arrogantly toward the people, turning your cheek away from them when you speak to them and when they speak to you. According to the scholars of Arabic language, the root meaning of the verb sa‘ara (used in the Verse) is a disease which afflicts camels in their necks, causing them to twist their heads to one side. So a proud man, who turns his face away when he speaks to people or when they speak to him is compared to the camel afflicted with this disease.

Abu Talib says in his poem:

In the past, we did not approve of injustice,

If they arrogantly turned their cheeks,

We would oppose it.

And ‘Amr ibn Hunayy At-Taghlibi said:

If a tyrant arrogantly turned his cheek,

We would stand firm against him and oppose him.

And Luqman said, {“...nor walk in insolence through the earth. Verily, Allah likes not each arrogant boaster.”} (Soorah Luqman 31:18). He forbade his son to walk with a strutting gait out of a sense of selfimportance and boastfulness before the people, as He, Most High, says, {And walk not on the earth with conceit and arrogance. Verily, you can neither rend nor penetrate the earth, nor can you attain a stature like the mountains in height} (Soorah Al-Isra’ 17:37). That is, you cannot traverse the lands by the speed of your walk using this gait of yours. Nor by your pounding of the earth with your feet can you penetrate it. Nor by your lofty behavior, your haughtiness and pride can you attain the height of the mountains, so be slow and deliberate, for you cannot outrun your destiny. And it has been confirmed in a hadeeth that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “While a man was strutting with pride due to his (fine) cloaks, Allah caused the earth to swallow him up and he will continue falling into it until the Day of Resurrection.” And in another hadeeth, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Beware of letting your izar (lower garment) hang down, because it is a form of pride and Allah does not like it.” For He, Most High, says in this Verse, {“Verily, Allah likes not each arrogant boaster.”} (Soorah Luqman 31:18). And when he forbade him to display arrogance in his gait, he ordered him to walk moderately, for one must walk and so he prohibited him from evil (when doing so) and ordered him to do good (by walking without pride), saying, {“And be moderate in your walking.”} (Soorah Luqman 31:19). That is, neither walk remarkably slowly, nor exceedingly quickly, but between those two extremes, with an upright posture, as He, Most High, says, {And the slaves of the Most Beneficent (Allah) are those who walk on the earth in humility and sedateness, and when the foolish address them (with bad words) they reply back with mild words of gentleness} (Soorah Al-Furqan 25:63). Then he said, {“...and lower your voice.”} (Soorah Luqman 31:19). That is, when you speak, do not raise your voice, because the loudest voice and {Verily, the most disagreeable of sounds is the sound (braying) of the ass.} (Soorah Luqman 31:19)

And it has been confirmed in the Saheehain that one should seek Allah’s Protection upon hearing the braying of a donkey at night, because it see a devil. This is why raising one’s voice without need is forbidden, especially when one sneezes; in such a case, it is preferred to lower one’s voice and cover one’s face, as confirmed by the hadeeth which describes the action of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). As for raising the voice when saying the Adhan (calling for prayer) when calling a group to fight and at the time of destruction and the like, that is lawful. This is what Allah, Most High, has related concerning Luqman in the Qur’an of wisdoms, admonitions and useful, comprehensive advices to attain goodness and repel evil. Many traditions have been transmitted relating stories pertaining to his life and the admonitions he proffered and there is a book which relates (advices, admonitions, etc.) from him, called Hikmatu Luqman (the Wisdom of Luqman); we shall quote from that as much as is easy for us, if Allah wills.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Luqman, the wise, used to say, “Verily, when Allah entrusts something, He protects it.”

And Ibn Abi Hatim reported on the authority of Al-Qasim Ibn Mukhaimirah that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Luqman said to his son when he was admonishing him, “O, my son! Beware of wearing a mask, for it is deception by night and it is humiliation by day.” He also said, “Luqman said to his son, “O, my son! Wisdom has made the poor to sit on the thrones of kings.”

And on the authority of ‘Awn Ibn ‘Abdullah said, “Luqman said to his son, “O, my son! If you go to the meeting place of a people, cast the arrow of Islam (i.e. salutation of peace) at them, then sit down in their vicinity and do not speak until you see that they have spoken. Then if you find them observing the remembrance of Allah, cast your arrow with their arrows (i.e. join them). But if they observe anything else, then turn away from them and seek others (who remember Allah).”

It is reported on the authority of Hafs Ibn ‘Umar that he said, “Luqman placed a bag of mustard seeds by his side and began to advise his son, giving him a piece of advice for each mustard seed that he withdrew, until he had exhausted the supply of mustard seeds. Then he said, “O, my son! I have given you advice, the like of which, if it was given to a mountain, it would have split open.” He (Hafs) said, “Then his son became like one cleft asunder.”

The Story of the Companions of the Ditch

Allah, Most High, says, {By the heaven, holding the big stars. And by the Promised Day (i.e. the Day of Resurrection). And by the witnessing day (i.e. Friday), and by the witnessed day (i.e. the day of ‘Arafat [Hajj] the ninth of Dhul-Hijjah). Cursed were the people of the ditch (the story of the boy and the king). Fire supplied (abundantly) with fuel, when they sat by it (fire), and they witnessed what they were doing against the believers (i.e. burning them). They had nothing against them, except that they believed in Allah, the Almighty, Worthy of all Praise! To Whom belongs the dominion of the heavens and the Earth! And Allah is Witness over everything. Verily, those who put into trial the believing men and believing women (by torturing them and burning them), and then do not turn in repentance, (to Allah), will have the torment of Hell, and they will have the punishment of the burning Fire.} (Soorah Al-Burooj 85:1-10)

We have spoken about this in detail in the tafseer of this Soorah, all praise and thanks be to Allah. Muhammad Ibn Ishaq claimed that it was after the sending of the Maseeh, but he was contradicted by others. They claimed that they lived before him. More than one mentioned that this deed was perpetrated many times against Believers by disbelieving tyrants. But these mentioned in the Qur'an have been mentioned in a hadeeth that is marfoo' and a tradition transmitted by Ibn Ishaq, but they both contradict each other; here we present both of them for you to read:

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Suhaib (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Among the people who came before you, there was a king who had a sorcerer, and when that sorcerer became old, he said to the king, "I have become old and my time is nearly over, so please send me a boy whom I can teach magic." So he sent him a boy and the sorcerer taught him magic. Whenever the boy went to the sorcerer, he sat with a monk who was on the way and listened to his speech and admired them. So, when he went to the sorcerer, he passed by the monk and sat there with him; and on visiting the sorcerer the latter would thrash him. The boy complained about this to the monk. The monk said to him, "Whenever you are afraid of the sorcerer, say to him, 'My people kept me busy.' And whenever you are afraid of your people, say to them, 'The sorcerer kept me busy'." The boy continued in this way (for some time). Then a huge terrible creature appeared on the road and the people were unable to pass by. The boy said, "Today I shall know whether the sorcerer is better or the monk is better'." So he took a stone and said, "O, Allah! If the deeds and actions of the monk are more liked by You than those of the sorcerer, then kill this creature so that the people can cross (the road)." Then he struck it with a stone killing it and the people passed by on the road. The boy came to the monk and informed him about it. The monk said to him, "O, my son! Today you are better than I, and you have achieved what I see! You will be put to trial. And in case you are put to trial, do not inform (them) about me." The boy used to treat the people suffering from congenital blindness, leprosy, and other diseases. There was a courtier of the king who had become blind and he heard about the boy. He came and brought a number of gifts for the boy and said, "All these gifts are for you on the condition that you cure me." The boy said, "I do not cure anybody; it is only Allah who cures people. So, if you believe in Allah and supplicate to Him, He will cure you." So he believed and supplicated to Allah and Allah cured him. Later, the courtier came to the king and sat at the place where he used to sit before. The king said, "Who gave you back your sight?" The courtier replied, "My Lord." The king then said, "I did?" The courtier said, "No, my Lord and your Lord – Allah." The king said, "Do you have another Lord beside me?" The courtier said, "Yes, your Lord and my Lord is Allah." The king tortured him and did not stop until he told him about the boy. The boy was then brought to the king and he said to him, "O, boy! Has your magic reached to the extent that you cure congenital blindness, leprosy and other diseases?" He said, "I do not cure anyone. Only Allah can cure." The king said, "I?" The boy replied, "No." The king asked, "Do you have a Lord other than me?" The boy answered, "My Lord and your Lord is Allah." So he tortured him also until he told him about the monk. Then the monk was brought to him and the king said to him, "Abandon your religion." The monk refused and so the king ordered a saw to be brought which was placed in the middle of his head and he fell, sawn in two. Then it was said to the man who used to be blind, "Abandon your religion." He refused to do so, and so a saw was brought and placed in the middle of his head and he fell, sawn in two. Then the boy was brought and it was said to him, "Abandon your religion." He refused and so the king sent him to the top of a mountain with some people. He told the people, "Ascend up the mountain with him till you reach its peak, then see if he abandons his religion; otherwise throw him from the top." They took him and when they ascended to the top, he said, "O, Allah! Save me from them by any means that You wish." So the mountain shook and they all fell down and the boy came back walking to the king. The king said, "What did your companions (the people I sent with you) do?" The boy said, "Allah saved me from them." So the king ordered some people to take the boy on a boat into the middle of the sea, saying, "If he renounces his religion (well and good), if he refuses, drown him." So, they took him out to sea and he said, "O, Allah! Save me from them by any means that you wish." So they were all drowned in the sea. Then the boy returned to the king and the king said, "What did your companions do?" The boy replied, "Allah, saved me from them." Then he said to the king, "You will not be able to kill me until you do as I order you. And if you do as I order you, you will be able to kill me." The king asked, "And what is that?" The boy said, "Gather the people in one elevated place and tie me to the trunk of a tree; then take an arrow from my quiver and say: 'In the Name of Allah, the Lord of the boy.' If you do this, you will be able to kill me." So he did this, and placing an arrow in the bow, he shot it, saying, "In the Name of Allah, the Lord of the boy." The arrow hit the boy in the temple, and the boy placed his hand over the arrow wound and died. The people proclaimed, "We believe in the Lord of the boy!" Then it was said to the king, "Do you see what has happened? That which you feared has taken place. By Allah, all the people have believed (in the Lord of the boy)." So he ordered that ditches be dug at the entrances to the roads and it was done, and fires were kindled in them. Then the king said, "Whoever abandons his religion, let him go, and whoever does not, throw him into the fire." They were struggling and scuffling in the fire, until a woman and her baby whom she was breastfeeding came and it was as if she was being somewhat hesitant of falling into the fire, so her baby said to her, "Be patient mother, for verily, you are following the truth!") This is how it was narrated by Imam Ahmad in his Musnad and Muslim also narrated it in his Saheeh.

Some of them claimed that the incident of the ditch was repeated many times throughout the world, as Ibn Abi Hatim reported, on the authority of 'Abdur-Rahman ibn Jubair, who said, "The ditch was in Yemen during the reign of Tubba', in Constantinople, who set the fires in which he threw the Christians who were holding fast to the Religion of 'Eesa (Peace be upon him) (Islamic Monotheism). It also took place in Iraq, in the land of Babylon during the lifetime of Bukhthnassar, who erected an idol and ordered the people to prostrate themselves before it. Danyal (Daniel (Peace be upon him)) and his two companions refused and thereupon, he set a great fire and threw them into it. However, Allah, Almighty, saved them from the fire and caused the nine men who had oppressed them to fall into the fire they themselves had made. Asbat reported on the authority of As-Suddi that he said regarding Allah's Words: {Cursed were the people of the ditch} (Soorah Al-Burooj 85:4), "There were three ditches: one in Ash-Sham, another in Iraq and the third in Yemen." (Narrated by ibn Abi Hatim)

Chapter Regarding the Permissibility of Narrating and Speaking About the Stories of the Children of Isra'eel

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) that he reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, "Relate from me, but do not lie about me; and whoever lies about me, let him prepare his seat in the Fire. And relate (the stories) of the Children of Isra'eel, for there is no objection (to that)."

He (Imam Ahmad) also said, "It is reported on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) that he reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, "Do not write down anything that I say except the Qur'an; and if anyone has written down anything from me aside from the Qur'an, he should erase it." And he said, "Relate (the stories) of the Children of Isra'eel, for there is no objection (to that). Relate from me and do not lie about me." Hammam said, "I think he said, "...intentionally... then let him prepare his seat in the Fire." This is how it was narrated by Muslim.

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah that ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattab (May Allah be pleased with him) came to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) with a book which he had obtained from one of the People of the Scripture and he read it to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) became angry and said, “O, Ibn Al-Khattab! Are you all going to fall into chaos? By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, I have brought it (Islam) to you clean and pure. Do not ask them about anything so that they will not tell you of something true which you might declare false, or something false which you might declare true. By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, if Moosa was alive, he would have no alternative but to follow me.” (Ahmad was alone in narrating this; and its chain of narrators conforms to the criteria for acceptance stipulated by Muslim). These ahadeeth are proof that they had altered, distorted and falsely interpreted the Divine Scriptures that were in their hands, and they omitted parts of it, especially those that were translated into Arabic – for they did not have comprehensive knowledge of them when they were in their own language, so how could they explain them in another language? Due to this, huge errors and baseless beliefs occurred in their translations, in addition to the fact that they had bad intentions and silly notions. This is apparent to anyone who reads the Scriptures that are in their hands and studies the bad interpretations, wicked substitutions and alterations therein. From Allah we seek help, and He is the Best Protector and the Best Helper.

And according to what they have said, the Tawrah, of which they reveal some and conceal much, contains distortions, substitutions, alterations and bad interpretations, which are clear to anyone who reads them and studies what they (the Jews) said, what they revealed and what they concealed and (one may see) how they permit explanations based on unsound foundations and constructions, which are false in meaning and wording. Ka‘b Al-Ahbar was one of the best of those who transmitted from them; he embraced Islam during the Caliphate of ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) and he used to transmit things from the People of the Scripture. ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) used to approve of some of what he transmitted, because it was in agreement with the truth and also, he wished to strengthen his faith. But many people enlarged on the information that he had and he, himself, overdid it in transmitting these things, many of which are not worth the ink with which they are written, while others are, without doubt, baseless. Others are correct, because they correspond with the truth which is in our hands. Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Humaid Ibn ‘Abdur-Rahman, who said that he heard Mu‘awiyah speaking to a group of Quraish in Al-Madinah and he mentioned Ka‘b Al-Ahbar. He said, “Though he is one of the most truthful of those who relate from the People of the Scripture, we found that some of what he said was lies (i.e. he transmitted these lies unintentionally).”

The Story of Juraij, One of the Slaves of Banu Isra’eel

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “None spoke in the cradle except three: ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, Juraij’s companion; Juraij was a man of worship, he had a place of worship and while he was in it, his mother came in and called upon him. He said to himself; ‘My Lord, my mother or my prayer?’ So he continued praying and she left. The next day also she came and called upon him while he was in prayer. He said to himself; ‘My Lord, my mother or my prayer?’ So he continued praying and again she left. The following day she came again and called upon him while he was in prayer, he said to himself; ‘My Lord, my mother or my prayer?’ So he continued praying. She said: ‘O, Allah, do not allow him to die until he sees the faces of prostitutes.’ The Children of Isra’eel knew of Juraij and his worship. There was a very beautiful prostitute who offered to seduce him. She attempted to do so but he did not pay any attention to her. She then approached a herdsman who used to seek refuge in his place of worship, she offered herself to him and he slept with her. She became pregnant, and when she gave birth she claimed that it was the child of Juraij. The people went to him, invoked curses over him, destroyed his place of worship and attacked him. He said, "Why are you doing this?" They responded, "You fornicated with this woman and she bore you a child." He said, "Where is the child?" So they brought him the child. He said, "Leave me until I pray." When he finished praying he came to the boy and poked him in his stomach. He said, "O, child, who is your father?" The baby boy responded, "So-and-so the herdsman." So the people turned to Juraij, kissing him and asking him for forgiveness. They offered to rebuild his place of worship in gold, but he refused and asked them to rebuild it from mud just as it was before, and so they did. [There was also a baby who was being breastfed by his mother when a rider in fine garments passed by on an agile animal. His mother said, "O, Allah! Make my child like him." The baby stopped suckling and looked at him, then he said, "O, Allah! Do not make me like him." He then continued suckling..." Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) said, "It is as if I can see Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) right now, as he is illustrating the scene of the baby's suckling with his forefinger in his mouth." He continued, "They passed by a slave girl who was being beaten by people who were accusing her of committing fornication and theft." She was saying, "Sufficient is Allah for me."

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'Abdur-Rahman Al-A'raj that he heard Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) heard the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) say, "While a woman was nursing her child, a rider passed by and she said, "O, Allah! Don't let my child die till he becomes like this (rider)." The child said, "O, Allah! Don't make me like him," and then returned to her breast (sucking it). (After a while) they passed by a lady who was being pulled and teased (by the people). The child's mother said, "O, Allah! Do not make my child like her." The child said, "O, Allah! Make me like her." Then he said, “As for the rider, he is an infidel, while the lady is accused of illegal sexual intercourse (falsely) and she says: “Allah is sufficient for me (i.e. He knows the truth).” And it has been reported regarding those who spoke in the cradle also that Yoosuf’s witness did so, and the son of Fir‘awn’s wife’s maidservant. And Allah knows better.

The Story of Barseesa

This is the opposite of the case of Juraij, for he resisted temptation, while Barseesa succumbed to it.

Ibn Jareer narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood (May Allah be pleased with him) regarding this Verse: {(Their allies deceived them) like Shaitan (Satan), when he says to man, “Disbelieve in Allah.” But when (man) disbelieves in Allah, Shaitan says, “I am free of you, I fear Allah, the Lord of the ‘Alameen!” So the end of both will be that they will be in the Fire, abiding therein. Such is the recompense of the zalimoon.} (Soorah Al-Hashr 59:16,17) – that he said, “Once there was a woman grazing sheep and goats. She had four brothers. She used to seek shelter at night at a monk’s cell. The monk committed adultery with her and she got pregnant. Shaitan came to him and said, “Kill the woman and then bury her for you are a reputable and highly respected man (i.e. do not risk your own reputation for such a simple woman).” The monk killed her and then buried her. Thereupon, Shaitan visited her four brothers in a dream while they were asleep and said to them, “The monk committed adultery with your sister and, he killed her and buried her in such-and--such a location because she got pregnant. In the morning, one of them said, “By Allah! Last night I dreamt of something and I do not know whether to relate it to you or just keep it to myself.” They said, “Relate it to us.” He did so and one of them said, “By Allah! I saw the same dream.” Another said the same. And the fourth one said the same thing. They agreed that there must be something serious about that dream. They went to the king and appealed for his help against the monk. The king's troops came to arrest him and he was taken away. On the way, Shaitan came to the monk (and whispered in his ears), "I caused you to fall into this. No one else can save you from this. Prostrate yourself before me just for once and in return, I will save you from this." Thereupon, the monk prostrated himself before Shaitan. When they presented themselves before the king, Shaitan said to him, "I am free of you! Finally, the monk was killed." It was likewise narrated thus on the authority of 'Abdullah ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Tawoos, Muqatil ibn Hayyan.

And in a narration on the authority of 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "A monk worshipped Allah, Alone for sixty years. Shaitan exerted himself to seduce him, but could not. He went to a woman and touched her with evil (maddened her). The woman had brothers who were visited by Shaitan, who told them to take her to that monk to receive treatment and cure. They took her to the monk and he treated her. Afterwards, she stayed for a while at his cell (house). One day, he was attracted to her and he committed adultery with her. She got pregnant and he killed her (to conceal his first crime). Her brothers came (after knowing the matter) and Shaitan appeared again for the monk and said, "I am your friend, I did not find a solution or way to mislead you, but (finally) I did this to you. So obey me and I will save you from this. Prostrate yourself before me and you will be saved." The monk did so. Then, Shaitan said: {"I am free of you, I fear Allah, the Lord of the 'Alameen!"} (Soorah Al-Hashr 59:16)

The Story of the Three Who Took Refuge in the Cave

Allah's Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "While three persons were traveling, they were overtaken by rain and they took shelter in a cave in a mountain. A big rock fell from the mountain over the mouth of the cave and blocked it. They said to each other. "Think of good (righteous) deeds which you did for Allah's sake only and invoke Allah by giving reference to those deeds so that Allah may relieve you from your difficulty. One of them said, "O, Allah! I had my parents who were very old and I had small children for whose sake I used to work as a shepherd. When I returned to them at night and milked (the sheep), I used to start giving the milk to my parents first before giving to my children. And one day I went far away in search of a grazing place (for my sheep), and did not return home till late at night and found that my parents had slept. I milked (my livestock) as usual and brought the milk vessel and stood at their heads, and I disliked to wake them up from their sleep, and I also disliked to give the milk to my children before my parents, though my children were crying (from hunger) at my feet. So this state of mine and theirs continued till the day dawned. (O, Allah!) If you considered that I had done that only for seeking Your pleasure, then please let there be an opening through which we can see the sky." So Allah made for them an opening through which they could see the sky. Then the second person said, "O, Allah! I had a cousin whom I loved as much as a passionate man loves a woman. I tried to seduce her, but she refused till I paid her one hundred dinars. So I worked hard till I collected one hundred dinars and went to her with that. But when I sat between her legs (to have sexual intercourse with her), she said, "O, slave of Allah! Be afraid of Allah ! Do not deflower me except legally (by marriage contract)." So I left her. O, Allah! If you considered that I had done that only for seeking Your pleasure, then please let the rock move a little to have a (wider) opening." So Allah moved that rock to make the opening wider for them. And the last (third) person said "O, Allah! I employed a laborer for wages equal to a faraq (a certain measure) of rice, and when he finished his job he demanded his wages, but when I presented his due to him, he gave it up and refused to take it. Then I kept on sowing that rice for him (several times) till I managed to buy with the price of the yield some cows and their shepherd. Later on the laborer came to me and said, "(Oh slave of Allah!) Be afraid of Allah, do not be unjust to me and give me my due.” I said (to him), “Go and take those cows and their shepherd.” So he took them and went away. (So, O, Allah,) if You consider that I did that for the purpose of seeking Your pleasure, then please remove the remaining part of the rock.” And so Allah released them (from their difficulty).”

The Story of the Three Men: the Blind, the Leper and the Bald

Al-Bukhari and Muslim narrated from more than one source on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he heard the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) say, “Allah willed to test three men from the Children of Isra’eel, who were a leper, a blind man and a baldheaded man. So He sent them an angel who came to the leper and said, “What thing would you like most?” He replied, “Good color and good skin, for the people have a strong aversion to me.” The angel touched him and his illness was cured, and he was given a good color and beautiful skin. The angel asked him, “What kind of property do you like best?” He replied, “Camels (or cows – the narrator is in doubt, for either the leper or the baldheaded man demanded camels and the other demanded cows).” So he (i.e. the leper) was given a pregnant she-camel and the angel said (to him), “May Allah bless you in it.” The angel then went to the baldheaded man and said, “What thing would you like most?” He said, “I would like good hair and wish to be cured of this disease, for the people feel repulsion for me.” The angel touched him and his illness was cured, and he was given good hair. The angel asked (him), “What kind of property do you like best?” He replied, “Cows.” The angel gave him a pregnant cow and said, “May Allah bless you in it.” The angel went to the blind man and asked, “What thing would you like best?” He said, “(I would like) that Allah may restore my eyesight to me so that I may see the people.” The angel touched his eyes and

Allah gave him back his eyesight. The angel asked him, "What kind of property do you like best?" He replied, "Sheep." The angel gave him a pregnant sheep. Afterwards, all the three pregnant animals gave birth to young ones, and multiplied and brought forth so much that one of the (three) men had a herd of camels filling a valley, and one had a herd of cows filling a valley, and one had a flock of sheep filling a valley. Then the angel, disguised in the shape and appearance of a leper, went to the leper and said, "I am a poor man, who has lost all means of livelihood while on a journey. So none can satisfy my need except Allah and then you." In the Name of Him Who has given you such a nice color and beautiful skin, and so much property, I ask you to give me a camel so that I may reach my destination. The man replied, "I have many obligations (so I cannot give you one)." The angel said, "I think I know you; were you not a leper to whom the people had a strong aversion? Were you not a poor man, and then Allah gave you (all this property)?" He replied, "(This is all wrong), I got this property through inheritance from my forefathers." The angel said, "If you are telling a lie, then let Allah make you as you were before." Then the angel, disguised in the shape and appearance of a bald man, went to the bald man and said to him the same as he told the first one, and he too answered the same as the first one did. The angel said, "If you are telling a lie, then let Allah make you as you were before." The angel, disguised in the shape of a blind man, went to the blind man and said, "I am a poor man and a traveler, whose means of livelihood have been exhausted while on a journey. I have nobody to help me except Allah, and after Him, you. I ask you in the Name of Him Who has given you back your eyesight to give me a sheep, so that with its help, I may complete my journey." The man said, "No doubt, I was blind and Allah gave me back my eyesight; I was poor and Allah made me rich; so take anything you wish from my property. By Allah, I will not stop you from taking anything (you need) of my property which you may take for Allah's sake." The angel replied, "Keep your property with you. You (i.e. three men) have been tested and Allah is pleased with you and is angry with your two companions."

The Hadeeth of the Man Who Borrowed a Thousand Dinars From His Companion and Repaid It

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that a man from among the Children of Isra'eel asked some of the Children of Isra'eel to lend him a thousand dinars. The second man required witnesses. The former replied, "Allah is sufficient as a witness." The second said, "I want a surety." The former replied, "Allah is sufficient as a surety." The second said, "You are right," and lent him the money for a certain period. The debtor then traveled across the sea. When he finished his work, he searched for a ship so that he might reach in time for the repayment of the debt, but he could not find any. So he took a piece of wood and made a hole in it, inserted in it one thousand dinars and a letter to the lender and then closed (i.e. sealed) the hole tightly. He took the piece of wood to the sea and said, "O, Allah! You know well that I took a loan of one thousand dinars from so-and-so. He demanded a surety from me but I told him that Allah's Guarantee was sufficient and he accepted Your Guarantee. He then asked for a witness and I told him that Allah was sufficient as a Witness, and he accepted You as a Witness. No doubt, I tried hard to find a ship so that I could pay his money but could not find, so I hand over this money to You." Saying that, he threw the piece of wood into the sea till it went out far into it, and then he went away. Meanwhile, he started searching for a ship in order to reach the creditor's country. One day the lender came out of his house to see whether a ship had arrived bringing his money, and all of a sudden he saw the piece of wood in which his money had been deposited. He took it home to use for fire. When he sawed it, he found his money and the letter inside it. Shortly after that, the debtor came bringing one thousand dinars to him and said, "By Allah, I had been trying hard to get a boat so that I could bring you your money, but failed to get one before the one

I have come by.” The lender asked, “Have you sent something to me?” The debtor replied, “I have told you I could not get a boat other than the one I have come by.” The lender said, “Allah has delivered on your behalf the money you sent in the piece of wood. So you may keep your one thousand dinars and depart guided on the right path.”

Imam Ahmad narrated it thus with a chain of narrators, while Al-Bukhari narrated it in a mu‘allaq form, in a place other than his Saheeh, on the authority of Al-Laith Ibn Sa‘d, indicating his firm belief that it is authentic.

Another Story Similar to This Story, Regarding Truth and Trustworthiness

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “A man bought a piece of land from another man, and the buyer found an earthenware jar filled with gold in the land. The buyer said to the seller, “Take your gold, as I have bought only the land from you, but I have not bought the gold from you.” The (former) owner of the land said, “I have sold you the land with everything in it.” So both of them took their case before a man, who asked, “Do you have children?” One of them said, “I have a boy.” The other said, “I have a girl.” The man said, “Marry the girl to the boy, spend of the money on both of them and give the rest of it in charity.”

Another Story

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “There was a man among the Children of Isra’eel who murdered ninety-nine persons. Then he set out asking (whether his repentance could be accepted or not). He came upon a monk and asked him if his repentance could be accepted. The monk replied in the negative, so the man killed him. He kept on asking till a man advised him to go to such-and-such a village. (So he set out for it) but death overtook him on the way. While dying, he turned his chest toward that village (where he had hoped his repentance would be accepted), and so the angels of mercy and the angels of punishment quarreled among themselves regarding him. Allah ordered the village (toward which he was going) to come closer to him, and ordered the village (from where he had come) to move further away, and then He ordered the angels to measure the distances between his body and the two villages. He was found to be one hand span closer to the village (toward which he was heading) and so he was forgiven.”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) performed the Fajr prayer, then he faced the people and said, “While a man was driving a cow, he suddenly mounted it and struck it. The cow said, “We have not been created for this, but we have been created for plowing.” On that the people said astonishingly, “Glorified be Allah! A cow speaks!” The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “I believe this, and Abu Bakr and ‘Umar believe it too,” although neither of them was present there. While a person was amongst his sheep, a wolf attacked and took one of the sheep. The man chased the wolf till he saved it from the wolf, where upon the wolf said, “You have saved it from me; but who will guard it on the day of the wild beasts when there will be no shepherd to guard them except me (because of riots and afflictions)?” The people said surprisingly, “Glorified be Allah! A wolf speaks!” The Prophet said, “I believe this, and Abu Bakr and ‘Umar, believe it too,” although neither of them was present there.”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Amongst the people who came before you there used to be muhaddithoon (i.e. persons who can guess things that come true later on, as if those persons have been inspired by a Divine Power), and if there is any such person amongst my followers, it is ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattab.”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated in his Saheeh, on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “The Prophet said, “While a dog was going round a well and was about to die of thirst, an Isra’elite prostitute saw it and took off her shoe and gave it water to drink. So Allah forgave her because of that (good deed).”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “A woman was punished because of a cat which she had imprisoned till it died. She entered the Fire because of it, for she neither gave it food nor water as she had imprisoned it, nor set it free to eat from the vermin of the earth.”

Another hadeeth: Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Among the Children of Isra’eel there was a woman who was short in stature and so she made two sandals out of wood and she used to walk between two short women. She had a gold ring and she placed the best of perfumes and musk underneath its stone and when she passed by the meeting-place, she would shake it and it would diffuse its fragrance.”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Mas‘ood (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “One of the sayings of the prophets which the people have got, is: "If you do not feel ashamed, then do whatever you like."

Another hadeeth: "Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "A man entered upon his family and when he saw how needy they were, he went out to the desert. When his wife saw that, she went to the millstone and set it up, then she went to the oven and lit it. After that, she said, "O, Allah! Provide us with sustenance." Then she looked, and saw that the jafnah had become filled and she went to the oven and saw that it had become filled. Then her husband returned and said, "Did you get something after me?" His wife said, "Yes, from our Lord." He stood up and went to the millstone." This was mentioned to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he said, "If he had not lifted it up, it would have continued turning until the Day of Resurrection."

The Story of the two Repentant Kings

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "While a man from among those who lived before you was in his kingdom, he began to think, and he realized that all of that would be cut off from him and that his (royal) situation had diverted him from the worship of his Lord, so he stole away from his palace one night and went to a neighboring kingdom. He arrived at the coast and there he found work of brick-making. With the wages he was paid, he sustained himself and gave the remainder as charity. He continued doing this until news of him, his worship and his virtue was conveyed to the king. The king sent a message to him calling for his presence. But he refused to go to him. The king repeated his demand again and again, but he refused to go to him. The king said, "Who is he, and who am I?" So he mounted his horse and rode to him. When the man saw him, he turned away from him and fled. When the king saw this, he raced in pursuit of him but he did not catch up with him, so he called out to him, "O, slave of Allah! You have nothing to fear from me.” So the man stood still until the king caught up with him. The king asked him, “Who are you, may Allah have mercy on you?” He replied, “I am so-and-so, the son of so-and-so, the ruler of such-and-such a kingdom. I thought about my situation and I realized that my kingdom would (one day) be cut off from me, and it had diverted me from the worship of my Lord, so I abandoned it and came here, that I might worship my Lord, the Almighty, the All-Powerful.” The king said, “You were not in greater need of that which you did than I.” Then he dismounted from his horse and set it free. Then he followed him and both of them together worshipped Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and they asked Him to cause them to die together. So they both died.” ‘Abdullah (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “If we were in Rumailah, Egypt, I would show You their graves in the location described to me by the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him).”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), that he said, “Amongst the people who lived before you, there was a man whom Allah had given a lot of money. When he was on his deathbed, he called his sons and said, “What type of father have I been to you?” They replied, “You have been a good father.” He said, “I have never done a single good deed; so when I die, burn me, crush my body, and scatter the resulting ashes on a windy day.” His sons did accordingly, but Allah gathered the particles and asked (him), “What made you do so?” He replied, “Fear of you.” So Allah bestowed His Mercy upon him (i.e. forgave him).”

Another hadeeth: It is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “A man used to give loans to the people and used to say to his servant, “If the debtor is poor, forgive him, so that Allah may forgive us.” So when he met Allah (after his death), Allah forgave him.”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Amir ibn Sa‘d Ibn Abi Waqqas from his father that he heard him asking Usamah Ibn Zaid (May Allah be pleased with him), “What did you hear from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) regarding plague?” Usamah replied, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Plague is a calamity which was sent to the Children of Isra’eel or upon those who were before you. So when you hear that it has broken out in a land, do not go to it, and when it has broken out in the land where you are, do not run away from it.” It was also narrated by Muslim.

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) that the people of Quraish became very worried about the Makhzoomiyyah lady who had committed theft. They said, “Nobody can speak (in favor of the lady) to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and nobody dares do that except Usamah, who is the favorite of Allah’s Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him).” When Usamah spoke to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) about that matter, he said, “Do you intercede (with me) to violate one of the legal punishments of Allah?” Then he got up and addressed the people, saying, “O, people! The nations before you went astray because if a noble person committed theft, they used to leave him, but if a weak person among them committed theft, they used to inflict the legal punishment on him. By Allah, if Fatimah, the daughter of Muhammad, committed theft, I would cut off her hand!”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “I heard a man reciting a Verse from the Qur’an and I had heard the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) reciting it in a different way and so I took him to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and informed him (of what I had heard). I recognized in his face signs of dislike and he said, “Both of you are right. Do not differ, for the nations before you differed and perished (because of their differences).”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “The Jews and Christians do not dye (their grey hair), so do the opposite of what they do (i.e. dye your grey hair and beards).” Al-Bukhari was alone in narrating this; Muslim did not narrate it. In Abu Dawood’s Sunan it is reported : “Pray in your shoes (and by so doing,) be different from the Jews.”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that once ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) was informed that a certain man sold alcohol and he heard him say, “May Allah curse so-and-so! Does he not know that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “May Allah curse the Jews, for Allah had forbidden them to eat the fat of animals but they melted it and sold it.”

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said: “The people mentioned the fire and the bell (i.e. they suggested those as signals to indicate the starting of prayers), and by that they mentioned the Jews and the Christians. Then Bilal was ordered to pronounce the Adhan for the prayers by repeating its wordings twice; and for the iqamah (the call for the actual standing for the prayers in rows) by pronouncing its wordings once. (The iqamah is pronounced when the people are ready for the prayer).”

What is meant by this is that we should be different to the People of the Scripture in all manners and characteristics, because when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) arrived in Al-Madinah, the Muslims used to come to prayer without any call to it. Then he ordered someone to call them to prayer (by saying, “The prayer is convened.”). Then they wished to be called to prayer with something that the people would recognize, so some of them said, “Let us ring a bell.” Others said, “Let us light a fire.” But they disliked this, because it was similar to the practices of the People of the Scripture. Then ‘Abdullah Ibn Zaid Ibn ‘Abd Rabbih Al-Ansari was shown the Adhan in a dream. He related this to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), who ordered Bilal (May Allah be pleased with him) to pronounce the Adhan, as described in the Chapter on the Adhan, in the Book of Judgments (in Saheeh Al-Bukhari).

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) and ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that they said that on his deathbed, the Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) would put a sheet over his face and when he felt hot, he would remove it from his face. While in that state (of putting and removing the sheet) he said, “May Allah’s Curse be on the Jews and the Christians for they build places of worship at the graves of their prophets.” (By that) he intended to warn (Muslims) against what they (i.e. the Jews and Christians) had done.

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “You will follow the ways of those nations who were before you, span by span and cubit by cubit (i.e. inch by inch) so much so that even if they entered a hole of a mastigure, you would follow them.” We said, “O, Messenger of Allah! (Are you referring to) the Jews and the Christians?” He said, “Whom else?”

What is meant by this is to acquaint us with the sayings and deeds that resemble those of the People of the Scripture who lived before us, which are prohibited according to Islamic Law, and to inform us that Allah and His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) have prohibited us from copying them in their words and deeds. Even if the intention of the Believer was a good one, if his deed is clearly an imitation of their deeds (it is forbidden). And just as praying at sunrise and sunset is prohibited, in order not to imitate the pagans, who used to prostrate before the sun in those times – even if no such intention occurred to the Believer. Likewise, this is why Allah, Most High, says, {O, you who believe! Say not (to the Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) ), “Ra‘ina,” but say “Unzurna,” (Do make us understand) and hear. And for the disbelievers there is a painful punishment. (See Verse 4:46)} (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:104). The disbelievers used to say to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), when they spoke with him, “Ra‘ina,” i.e. direct your gaze toward us and listen to our words. What they actually meant by this was ‘joke with us.’ So the Believers were prohibited from saying that, even if none of them intended this (evil meaning) by it.

And Imam Ahmad and At-Tirmidhi narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “I was sent with the sword just before the Last Hour, so that Allah is worshipped alone without partners. My sustenance was provided for me from under the shadow of my spear. Those who oppose my command were humiliated and made inferior, and whoever imitates a people, he is one of them.” So it is not permissible for Muslims to imitate them, whether it be in their religious festivals and holidays, or in their worship, because Allah, Most High, has honored this (Islamic) nation with the Seal of the Prophets, for whom the great, eternal, comprehensive and complete Religion was legislated – the Prophet who, if Moosa (Peace be upon him), son of ‘Imran – to whom the Tawrah was sent down – and ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), the son of Maryam – to whom the Injeel was revealed – were present, indeed if all of the Prophets were present, they would have no alternative but to follow this pure, noble, exalted and mighty

Law. And since Allah, Most High, has blessed us by making us the followers of Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), so how can it befit us to imitate a people who have gone astray aforetime, and who have misguided many from the Straight Path? They have altered their religion, distorted it and deliberately misinterpreted it, until it appeared that it was a different religion entirely to that which was originally legislated for them. In addition to this, it is based on adherence to that which has been abrogated; and holding fast to what has been abrogated is unlawful. Allah will accept neither little nor much of it. And there is no difference between it and something that was not legislated (by Allah) at all. And Allah guides whom He wills to the Straight Path.

Another hadeeth: Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Your period (i.e. the Muslims’ period) in comparison to the periods of the previous nations is like the period between the ‘Asr prayer and sunset. And your example in comparison to the Jews and the Christians is like the example of a person who employed some laborers and asked them, “Who will work for me till midday for one qeerat each?” The Jews worked for half a day for one qeerat each. The person asked, “Who will do the work for me from midday to the time of the ‘Asr (prayer) for one qeerat each?” The Christians worked from midday till the ‘Asr prayer for one qeerat. Then the person asked, “Who will do the work for me from the ‘Asr prayer till sunset for two qeerats each?” The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “It is you (i.e. the Muslims) who are doing the work from the ‘Asr prayer till sunset, so you will have a double reward. The Jews and the Christians got angry and said, “We have done more work but got less wages.” Allah said, “Have I been unjust to you as regards your rights?” They said, “No.” So Allah said, “Then it is My Blessing which I bestow on whomsoever I will.” In this hadeeth there is evidence that the period of this nation is short, compared to the periods of the nations who came before us. This is inferred from the saying of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him): “Your period (i.e. the Muslims’ period) in comparison to the periods of the previous nations is like the period between the ‘Asr prayer and sunset.” And none knows the past except Allah, just as none but He knows the future. But it is short in comparison to what has passed; and none knows precisely how much time remains except Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, as He, Most High, says, {None can reveal its time but He} (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:187) and He, Most High, says, {They ask you (o, Muhammad) about the Hour – when will be its appointed time? You have no knowledge to say anything about it. To your Lord belongs (the knowledge of) the term thereof} (Soorah An-Nazi‘at 79:42-44). As for the hadeeth that some of the people mention, which is well-known to the common folk, and which states: “He has no knowledge of the unseen,” it is baseless and is not to be found in the books of ahadeeth. A hadeeth has been related which states that the life of this world is one Friday of the Fridays of the Hereafter. But there is doubt about its authenticity. What is meant by this comparison between the workers is to point out the dissimilarity in their rewards and that this is not dependent on abundance of deeds or paucity of deeds. Rather, it is dependent on other matters which Allah, Most High, deems important. And how often are few deeds more useful or advantageous than abundant deeds? Deeds performed on Lailatul-Qadr, for example, are better than a thousand nights of worship performed at any other time. The Companions of Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) spent (in Allah’s Cause) and if someone in our time were to spend the same amount in gold as they spent in dates, it would not be equivalent to it. And Allah sent the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) when he was forty years old and took him when he was sixty-three, according to what is widely accepted. During these twentythree years, he excelled in beneficial knowledge and righteous deeds over all of the Prophets who came before him, including even Nooh (Peace be upon him), who remained among his people for nine hundred and fifty years, calling them to the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners and working day and night in obedience to Allah. May the Blessings and Peace of Allah be upon all of the Prophets. This nation was only honored and had its reward multiplied because of the blessed leadership of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), his nobility and his greatness, as Allah, Most High, says, {O, you who believe (in Moosa i.e. the Jews and 'Eesa i.e. the Christians)! Fear Allah and believe too in His Messenger (Muhammad). He will give you a double portion of His Mercy, and He will give you a light by which you shall walk (straight), and He will forgive you. And Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. So that the people of the Scripture (the Jews and Christians) may know that they have no power whatsoever over the Grace of Allah and that (His) Grace is (entirely) in His Hand to bestow on whomsoever He wills. And Allah is the Owner of Great Bounty.} (Soorah Al-Hadeed 57:28,29)

Section:

The stories of the Children of Isra'eel are extremely numerous in the Qur'an and the Prophetic Sunnah, and were we to make an exhaustive study of them, the book would be very long. But we have mentioned what Imam Abu 'Abdullah Al-Bukhari has mentioned in this book and in that there is sufficiency, and they are a reminder and examples for this chapter. And Allah (SWT) knows better.

As for the Isra'eelites' stories, according to what has been mentioned by the scholars of tafseer and the scholars of history, they are extremely numerous. Some of them are authentic and agree with what has been related in the Qur'an and Sunnah. But a lot of the stories they mention – indeed, most of them – are lies and inventions fabricated by their disbelievers and those who had gone astray. These narrations fall into three categories: (i) Those that are authentic, because they agree with what Allah has related in His Book or with what the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) has reported; (ii) those whose falseness is known, because they contradict the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him); and (iii) those which may be true, or they may be false. Concerning this latter category, we are commanded to remain non-committal. We neither believe them nor belie them, as confirmed in the authentic hadeeth: “If the People of the Scripture relate something to you, neither believe them, nor disbelieve them; instead, say, “We believe in what has been revealed to us and in what has been revealed to you.” And it is permissible to report it, according to the aforementioned hadeeth, which states: “Relate from the Children of Isra’eel, and there is no objection.”

Mention of the Alterations and Substitutions Made by the People of the Scripture in their Religion

As for the Jews, Allah had sent down to them the Tawrah, by the hand of Moosa, son of ‘Imran, and it was as Allah says: {Then, We gave Moosa the Book (the Tawrah), to complete (Our Favor) upon those who would do right, and explaining all things in detail} (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:154) and He, Most High, says, {Verily, We did send down the Tawrah (to Moosa), therein was guidance and light, by which the Prophets, who submitted themselves to Allah’s Will, judged the Jews. And the rabbis and the priests (too judged the Jews by the Tawrah after those Prophets) for to them was entrusted the protection of Allah’s Book, and they were witnesses thereto. Therefore fear not men but fear Me (O, Jews) and sell not My Verses for a miserable price. And whosoever does not judge by what Allah has revealed, such are the kafiroon (i.e. disbelievers of a lesser degree, as they do not act on Allah’s Laws)} (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:44). They used to judge by them and they held fast to them for a while, but then they began to distort them, alter them, misconstrue them and declare things that were not from them, as Allah, Most High, says, {And verily, among them is a party who distort the Book with their tongues (as they read), so that you may think it is from the Book, but it is not from the Book, and they say, “This is from Allah,” but it is not from Allah; and they speak a lie against Allah while they know it} (Soorah Ali ‘Imran 3:78). So Allah, Most High, informs us that they explained it, misconstrued it and quoted things out of context – and there is no disagreement in this matter among the scholars, i.e. that they interpreted its meanings freely (according to their whims) and attributed false implications to it, such as when they changed the ruling of stoning to flogging and blackening of the face with charcoal, without altering the word for stoning in it. In addition, when an eminent person among them committed theft, they would overlook his offense, but when a weak or unimportant person among them committed theft, they would inflict the prescribed punishment on him, in spite of the fact that they were commanded to inflict all prescribed punishments on the eminent and the lowly, without distinction.

As for their alteration of its wordings, some said that it means that all of the words were altered. Others said that the whole of the Tawrah was not altered and they cited as evidence the Words of Allah: {But how do they come to you for decision while they have the Tawrah, in which is the (plain) Decision of Allah} (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:43) and: {Whom they find written with them in the Tawrah (Deuteronomy, xviii, 15) and the Injeel (Gospel) (John xiv, 16) – he commands them to implement al-ma'roof (i.e. Islamic Monotheism and all that Islam has ordained); and forbids them from al-munkar (i.e. disbelief, polytheism of all kinds, and all that Islam has forbidden); he allows them as lawful at-tayyibat ([i.e. everything good and lawful] as regards things, deeds, beliefs, persons, foods, etc.)} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:157) and also: {Say (O, Muhammad), "Bring here the Tawrah and recite it, if you are truthful."} (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:93).

And there is the story of the stoning, as confirmed in the Saheehain, on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar (May Allah be pleased with him), in Saheeh Muslim, on the authority of Al-Bara' Ibn 'Azib (May Allah be pleased with him), of Jabir ibn 'Abdillah (May Allah be pleased with him) and in the Sunan, on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) and others, when they sought judgment from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) with regard to the case of the Jew and the Jewess who committed adultery, A Jew and a Jewess were brought to the Messenger of Allah on a charge of committing an illegal sexual intercourse. The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) asked them. "What is the legal punishment (for this sin) in the Tawrah." They replied, "We blacken their faces with charcoal and flog them." So the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) ordered them to bring the Tawrah. The Tawrah was brought, and ‘Abdullah ibn Sooria (one of the Jews) put his hand over the Verse of ar-rajm (stoning to death) and started reading what preceded and what followed it. On that, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to the Jew, “Lift up your hand.” So he lifted his hand and in it (the Tawrah) was the Verse of ar-rajm. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) then ordered that the two (sinners) be stoned to death and he said, “O, Allah! I am the first one to revive Your Commandment after they (the Jews) had suppressed it.” And in Abu Dawood’s Sunan, it was stated that they placed a cushion for the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) who sat on it and said, “Bring the Tawrah.” They brought it. Then he withdrew the cushion from beneath him and placed the Tawrah on it saying, “I believe in you and in Him Who revealed you.” Some of them said that he stood for it, but I have not read its sanad. And Allah knows better.

Many of the religious scholars and others have said that the tawatur of the Tawrah was cut off during the era of Bukhtunassar, and that none remained who had memorised it except Uzair (Ezra (Peace be upon him)). But Uzair (Peace be upon him) was a Prophet and was thus protected from error (by Allah) and tawatur up to a person who is protected from error is sufficient. Although it was said that it was not mutawatir up to him. But after him came Zakariyya, Yahya and ‘Eesa (peace be upon them all) – and all of them held fast to the Tawrah; now if it had not been authentic and valid, they would not have depended on it, since they were Prophets, protected from error. In addition, Allah, Most High, has stated in the Revelation sent down to His Messenger, Muhammad, the Seal of the Prophets – may the Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him and upon all of the Prophets – which rebukes the Jews for their evil intentions, because they turned away from that which they knew to be true (i.e. the Tawrah) and which they were commanded to follow, in favor of seeking judgment from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), even though they rejected what he had brought. But in reality, they were seeking a judgment that concurred with their heresy, i.e. flogging and blackening of the face, which was contrary to what Allah had Commanded them to do. And they said, "If he rules that you should flog them and blacken their faces, then accept it, and on the Day of Resurrection, when you stand before Allah, you will be able to plead in your defence that you were given a ruling by a Prophet. But if he does not make this ruling for you, then beware of accepting it from him." So Allah, Most High, rebuked them for their evil intention, which was prompted by the desire to attain a corrupt objective, and accorded with their own inclinations and desires, not the true Religion, which is why Allah, Most High, says, {But how do they come to you for decision while they have the Tawrah, in which is the (plain) Decision of Allah; yet even after that, they turn away. For they are not (really) Believers. Verily, We did send down the Tawrah (to Moosa), therein was guidance and light, by which the Prophets, who submitted themselves to Allah's Will, judged the Jews. And the rabbis and the priests (too judged the Jews by the Tawrah after those Prophets) for to them was entrusted the protection of Allah's Book, and they were witnesses thereto. Therefore fear not men but fear Me (O, Jews) and sell not My Verses for a miserable price. And whosoever does not judge by what Allah has revealed, such are the kafiroon (i.e. disbelievers – of a lesser degree, as they do not act on Allah's Laws} (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:43,44). This is why, when the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) ruled that they be stoned, he said, "O, Allah! I am the first one to revive Your Commandment after they (the Jews) had suppressed it." He asked them what caused them to do this and why they had abandoned Allah's Command which was in their hands. They replied: "Unlawful sexual intercourse had become widespread among our nobles and we were unable to enforce the legal punishment against them, so we used to stone the weak among us. So we said, "Let us resort to a just solution between the noble and the humble," so we agreed that we would flog them and blacken their faces." This was a part of their distortion, substitution, alteration and false interpretation. They only altered the meaning, not the wording of ar-rajm, which they left in their Scripture, as proven by the hadeeth whose authenticity is agreed upon by Al-Bukhari and Muslim. This is why some claimed that the substitution only occurred in the meanings and that the wordings remained, and that is a proof against them, for if they had implemented what was in their Scripture in full, it would have led them to follow the truth and to obey the Messenger, Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), as He, Most High, says, {Those who follow the Messenger, the Prophet, who can neither read nor write (i.e.

Muhammad) whom they find written with them in the Tawrah (Deuteronomy xviii, 15) and the Injeel (John xiv, 16) – he commands them for al-ma'roof; and forbids them from al-munkar he allows them as lawful at-tayyibat , and prohibits them as unlawful al-khaba'ith (i.e. all evil and unlawful as regards things, deeds, beliefs, persons, foods, etc.), he releases them from their heavy burdens (of Allah's Covenant), and from the fetters that were upon them} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:157). And He, Most High, says, {And if only they had acted according to the Tawrah, the Injeel, and what has (now) been sent down to them from their Lord (the Qur'an), they would surely have gotten provision from above them and from underneath their feet. There are from among them people who are on the right course (i.e. they act on the revelation and believe in Prophet Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) like 'Abdullah Ibn Salam).} (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:66). And He, Most High, says, {Say (O, Muhammad), "O, people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians)! You have nothing (as regards guidance) till you act according to the Tawrah, the Injeel, and what has (now) been sent down to you from your Lord (the Qur'an)."} Verily, that which has been sent down to you (O, Muhammad) from your Lord increases in many of them their obstinate rebellion and disbelief} (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:68). And this is the opinion, i.e. the one which states that the substitution only occurred in the meanings and not in the wordings, was expressed by AlBukhari, on the authority of 'Abdullah ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) at the end of his Saheeh and he acknowledged it and did not reject it. Al-Fakhr Ar-Razi also related it in his Tafseer, on the authority of most of the religious scholars.

I say: As for what is in their hands of the Arabic translation of the Tawrah, no rational person doubts that substitution has occurred in it, that many of its wordings have been distorted and that stories have been changed, along with wordings and that obvious and clear additions and omissions have occurred. In addition, it contains manifest lies and many monstrous errors. As for what they recite with their mouths and write down with their pens, we are not privy to it, but it is presumed that they are lying, treacherous and make many fabrications against their Messengers and their Scriptures.

As for the Christians, their four Gospels, narrated by way of Mark, Luke, Matthew and John, contain more contradictions, additions and omissions and more monstrous disparities than the Tawrah and contradict the rulings of the Tawrah and the Injeel in many matters. They have legislated many things in it according to their own will, including praying to the East, for there is no evidence for it and no command to do it in any place in the four Gospels. Likewise, their embellishment of their churches with pictures and images is without foundation, as is their abandonment of circumcision and their transfer of their fast from the spring season and their lengthening of it to fifty days. In addition, they eat pork and have instituted something totally without foundation, which is monasticism, involving the abandonment of marriage for those who wish to devote themselves to worship and they have declared it unlawful for them. And their priests have laid down three hundred and eighteen laws for them. All of these things were innovated and fabricated by them during the era of Constantine, son of Constantius, builder of Constantinople. He reigned three hundred years after the time of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him).

Comprehensive Book of the Stories of Previous Prophets

Allah, Most High, says, {Those Messengers! We preferred some to others; to some of them Allah spoke (directly); others He raised to degrees (of honor); and to ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, We gave clear proofs and evidences, and supported him with Rooh Al-Quds Jibra’eel} (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:253)

And He, Most High, says, {Verily, We have inspired you (O, Muhammad) as We inspired Nooh and the Prophets after him; We (also) inspired Ibraheem (Abraham), Isma’eel (Ishmael), Ishaq (Isaac), Ya‘qoob, and Al--Asbat (the twelve sons of Ya‘qoob [Jacob]), ‘Eesa, Ayyoob (Job), Yoonus (Jonah), Haroon (Aaron), and Sulaiman (Solomon), and to Dawood (David) We gave the Zaboor (Psalms). And

Messengers We have mentioned to you before, and Messengers We have not mentioned to you – and to Moosa Allah spoke directly. Messengers as bearers of good news as well as of warning in order that the mankind should have no plea against Allah after the Messengers. And Allah is Ever All-Powerful, Most Wise} (Soorah An-Nisa’ 4:163-165)

And it has been narrated on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “I am the Seal of a thousand Prophets or more and there was no Prophet among them who did not warn his people against the Dajjal. And that which has not been made clear to any of those before me regarding him has been made clear to me: He is one-eyed, and your Lord is not one-eyed.” The isnad of this hadeeth is hasan and the hadeeth is understood to refer to the number of Prophets who warned their people against the Dajjal. However, another hadeeth states: “There is no Prophet who did not warn his nation against the Dajjal.” So Allah knows better.

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Abu Hazim that he said, "I sat with Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) for five years and I heard him narrate from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that: "The Prophets used to rule the Children of Isra'eel. Whenever a Prophet died another Prophet succeeded him, but there will be no Prophets after me; instead there will be Khulafa' (Caliphs) and they will number many." They asked, "What then do you order us to do?" He said, "Fulfill your allegiance to them, one after the other. Give them their dues. Verily Allah will ask them about that with which he entrusted them."

And 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood (May Allah be pleased with him) said, "It is as if I am looking at the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) relating the story of one of the Prophets whose people have beaten and wounded him, and he was wiping the blood off his face and saying, "O, Lord! Forgive my people, for they do not know'."

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "A man put his right hand on the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and said, "By Allah! I am unable to put my hand on you due to the severity of your fever." The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "For us, the community of the Prophets, the severity of the affliction is increased many times over, just as the reward for us is multiplied. If a Prophet from among the Prophets is afflicted with qummal, they afflict him so severely that it kills him. If one of the Prophets is afflicted with poverty, he may take his cloak and cut it (in order to fashion a kind of pocket for it). But they rejoice in their afflictions as they rejoice in ease and comfort."

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Mus'ab Ibn Sa'd, who reported on the authority of his father, that he said, "I said, "O, Messenger of Allah! Which of the people are most severely afflicted by trials?" He said, "The Prophets, then the righteous people, then those who are nearest to them in perfection, then those among the people who are nearest to them in perfection. A man is tried in accordance with his religiousness; if his faith is strong, his test is increased and if he is weak in religion, his test is reduced. A Believer will be tested until he walks on the earth sinless (i.e. until his sins have been erased by the series of afflictions that he has endured).”

And we have already mentioned the hadeeth which states: “We, the community of the Prophets, are paternal brothers and their Religion is one; but their mothers are different.” This means that the Law given to them is one Law, even though there might be differences in the applied Jurisprudence given to each Prophet, and some of them abrogated others, until all of them ended in the Law that Allah gave to Muhammad (peace be upon him and upon all of them). But the Religion of every Prophet whom Allah sent was Islam, and that is to affirm Allah’s Oneness (Tawheed) and to worship Him, Alone, without ascribing partners to Him, as He, Most High, says, {And We did not send any Messenger before you (O, Muhammad) but We inspired him (saying), La ilaha illa Ana (there is none who has the right to be worshipped but I [Allah]), so worship Me (Alone and no one else).”} (Soorah Al-Anbiya’ 21:25). And He, Most High, says, {And ask (O, Muhammad) those of Our Messengers whom We sent before you,

“Did We ever appoint alihah (gods) to be worshipped besides the Most Beneficent (Allah)?”} (Soorah

Az-Zukhruf 43:45). And He, Most High, says, {And verily, We have sent among every Ummah (community, nation) a Messenger (proclaiming), “Worship Allah (Alone), and avoid (or keep away from) the taghoot (all false deities, etc. (i.e. do not worship the taghoot besides Allah).” Then of them were some whom Allah guided and of them were some upon whom the straying was justified. So travel through the land and see what was the end of those who denied (the truth)} (Soorah An-Nahl 16:36). Paternal brothers means that they share the same father, but their mothers are different. So the father represents the Religion, and that is to affirm the Oneness of Allah (Tawheed). The mothers represent the Divine Laws, which differ in matters of jurisprudence, as He, Most High, says, {To each among you, We have prescribed a Law and a Clear Way} (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:48). And He, Most High, says, {For every nation We have ordained religious ceremonies (e.g. slaughtering of the sacrificial beasts during the three days of stay at Mina (in Makkah) during the Hajj [pilgrimage]) which they must follow} (Soorah Al-Hajj 21:67). And He says, {For every nation there is a direction to which they face} (Soorah AlBaqarah 2:148) – according to one of the two sayings regarding its explanation. And what is meant is that the Laws, though they differed in the times at which they were revealed, all of them commanded that Allah be worshipped Alone, without partners – and that is the Religion of Islam, which Allah ordained for all of the Prophets; and it is the Religion besides which Allah will accept none on the Day of Resurrection, as He, Most High, says, {And whoever seeks a religion other than Islam, it will never be accepted of him, and in the Hereafter he will be one of the losers} (Soorah Ali 'Imran 3:85). And He, Most High, says, {And who turns away from the religion of Ibraheem (i.e. Islamic Monotheism) except he who befools himself? Truly, We chose him in this world and verily, in the Hereafter he will be among the righteous. When his Lord said to him, "Submit (i.e. be a Muslim)," he said, "I have submitted myself (as a Muslim) to the Lord of the 'Alameen."} (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:130,131). And He, Most High, says,

{Verily, We did send down the Tawrah (to Moosa), therein was guidance and light, by which the Prophets, who submitted themselves to Allah's Will, judged the Jews} (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:44). So the Religion of Islam is the worship of Allah, Alone, without partners; and that is sincere devotion to Him, Alone, without any other besides Him, and ihsan means to do so in the manner legislated (by Allah) at that time. This is why Allah, Most High, does not accept a deed from anyone which is contrary to what Allah ordained for

Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) after He has sent him, as He, Most High, says, {Say (O, Muhammad), “O, mankind! Verily, I am sent to you all as the Messenger of Allah.”} (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:158). And He, Most High, says, {“And this Qur’an has been revealed to me that I may therewith warn you and whomsoever it may reach.”} (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:19). And He, Most High, says, {and before it came the Book of Moosa, a guidance and a mercy, they believe therein, but those of the sects (Jews, Christians and all the other non-Muslim nations) that reject it (the Qur’an), the Fire will be their promised meeting place.} (Soorah Hood 11:17) And the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “I have been sent to the red and the black.” It was said that the red and the black refers to the Arabs and the non-Arabs. It was also said that it refers to mankind and the jinn. The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) also said, “By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, if Moosa (Peace be upon him) appeared among you, then you followed him and abandoned me, you would surely have gone astray.” The ahadeeth bearing this meaning are very numerous. And what is meant is that the brotherhood of al-‘allat means that they are from one father, but their mothers are different. The word is derived from the expression: “...drinking from al-‘alal (the tributaries) after (drinking from) the source. As for the brotherhood of al-akhyaf, it is the opposite of that, i.e. that their mothers are one, but their fathers are different. The brotherhood of al-‘yan means they are brothers from the same father and mother. And Allah, Most High, knows better.

In another hadeeth, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “We, the community of the Prophets, do not bequeath what we leave, for it is (given in) charity.” This is one of the special characteristics of the Prophets, that they do not bequeath anything. The reason for this is that the material things of this world are held in too much contempt by the Prophets for them to bequeath their worldly goods. In addition, their trust in Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful regarding their offspring is too great and too positive for them to need to leave their property to their heirs, to the exclusion of the rest of the mankind. Rather, all of what they leave is a charity for the poor people, to alleviate their poverty and fulfill their needs. We shall mention all of the characteristics peculiar to the Prophets, including the characteristics of our Prophet (peace be upon all of them) at the beginning of the Book of Marriage, in the Great Book of Rulings, where the Imams usually write them, in emulation of Imam Abu ‘Abdullah AshShafi‘i (may Allah have mercy on all of them).

Information Regarding the Arabs

It has been said that all of the Arabs can trace their lineage to Isma'eel, son of Ibraheem (peace be upon them both). What is correct and well-known is that there were pure Arabs before Isma'eel (Peace be upon him). And we have mentioned previously that pure Arabs included 'Ad, Thamood, Tasm, Jadees, Umaim, Jurhum, the Amalekites and others known to none except Allah. They were before Al-Khaleel (Ibraheem (Peace be upon him)) and during his time also. As for those who were assimilated into the Arabs, they are the Arabs of Al-Hijaz and they are the descendants of Isma'eel (Peace be upon him). As for the Arabs of Yemen, they are Himyar and it is well-known that they are from Qahtan, whose name was Muharrim, according to Ibn Makoola. It was said that they were four brothers: Qahtan, Qahit, Miqhat and Faligh. Qahtan was the son of Hood. It was also said that he was Hood (Peace be upon him) and it was said that Hood (Peace be upon him) was his brother, and also that he was from his progeny and that Qahtan was from among the progeny of Isma'eel (Peace be upon him). This last was related by Ibn Ishaq and others. Some said that he was Qahtan Ibn Al-Hamaisa', son of Taiman, son of Qaizar, son of Nabt, son of Isma'eel (Peace be upon him). Other claims were also made regarding his lineage to Isma'eel (Peace be upon him). And Allah knows better.

Al-Bukhari has written regarding his biography in his Saheeh, under the "Chapter: The Relationship of Yemen to Isma'eel (Peace be upon him), on the authority of Salamah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) passed by some people from the tribe of Aslam practicing archery. He said, "O, children of Isma'eel! Fire (your arrows), for your father was an archer. I am on the side of Banu so-and-so," meaning one of the two teams. The other team stopped firing, whereupon the Prophet said, "What has happened to them?" They replied, "How shall we throw while you are with Banu so-and-so?" He said, "Fire, for I am with all of you."

And Al-Bukhari said, “And Aslam Ibn Afsa Ibn Harithah Ibn ‘Amr ibn ‘Amir from Khuza‘ah refers to Khuza‘ah, a group from among those who split from the tribes of Saba’, when Allah sent upon them the great flood, as we shall explain later. Al-Aws and Al-Khazraj were also from them. The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to them, “O, children of Isma‘eel! Fire (your arrows), which proves that they were from his progeny. Others interpreted it as meaning the Arab race, but it is a farfetched interpretation, since it contradicts the apparent meaning without any proof. However, the majority hold that the Qahtani Arabs are from the Arabs of Yemen and the others are not from the progeny of Isma‘eel (Peace be upon him). They also contend that all of the Arabs may be divided into two categories: Qahtani and ‘Adnani. The Qahtanis are two tribes: Saba’ and Hadramawt. The ‘Adnanis are also two tribes: Rabee‘ah and Mudar; they were the sons of Nizar Ibn Ma‘add Ibn ‘Adnan. There is a difference of opinion regarding the fifth tribe, Quda‘ah. It was said that they were ‘Adnanis; Ibn ‘Abdul-Barr said, “And that is the opinion of the majority.” Muhammad Ibn Salam Al-Basri An-Nassabah said, “The Arabs have (descended from) three roots: ‘Adnanis, Qahtanis and Quda‘ah.” It was said to him, “Then which of them are the majority, the ‘Adnanis or the Qahtanis?” It depends on what Quda‘ah says; if they say that they are from Yemen, then the Qahtanis will be the majority. But if they say that they are from the tribe of Ma‘add, then they will be ‘Adnanis.” This proves that they are undecided regarding their origins. And if the aforementioned hadeeth of Ibn Lahee‘ah is authentic, then it is a proof that they are from the Qahtanis. And Allah knows better. Allah, Most High, says, {O, mankind! We have created you from a male and a female, and made you into nations and tribes, that you may know one another. Verily, the most honorable of you with Allah is that (Believer) who has at-taqwa (i.e. one of the muttaqoon (pious – see V. 2:2)) (Soorah Al-Hujurat 49:13). The scholars of genealogy said that it is said: nations and then tribes, then ‘ama’ir, then butoon, then afkhadh, then families, then kin. And kin are the closest of people to a man and there is nothing after it.

Let us begin first with a mention of the Qahtanis, then after them, we shall mention the Arabs of the Hijaz, who are the ‘Adnanis, and matters pertaining to the Jahiliyyah, in order that that may be connected to the Seerah of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), if Allah wills – and it is Him in Whom we place our trust.

Al-Bukhari said under the “Chapter: Mention of Qahtan, it is reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “The Hour will not be established until a man emerges from Qahtan and he drives the people with his stick.”

The Story of Saba’

Allah, Most High, says, {Indeed there was for Saba` (Sheba) a sign in their dwelling place – two gardens on the right hand and on the left (and it was said to them,) “Eat of the provision of your Lord, and be grateful to Him, a fair land and an Oft--Forgiving Lord. But they turned away (from the obedience of Allah), so We sent against them Sail Al--‘Arim (the flood released from the dam), and We converted their two gardens into gardens producing bitter, bad fruit and tamarisks, and a few lote- trees. In this way We requited them because they were ungrateful disbelievers. And never do We requite in such a way except those who are ungrateful (disbelievers). And We placed between them and the towns which We had blessed, towns easy to be seen, and We made the stages (of journey) between them easy (saying,) “Travel in them safely both by night and day.” But they said, “Our Lord! Make the stages between our journey longer.” And they wronged themselves, so We made them as tales (in the land), and We dispersed them all, totally. Verily, in this are indeed signs for every steadfast grateful (person).} (Soorah Saba’ 34:15-19)

The scholars of genealogy, including Ibn Ishaq, said that the name of Saba’ was ‘Abd Shams Ibn Yashjub

Ibn Ya‘rub Ibn Qahtan. They said that he was the first of the Arabs from Saba’ and so he was called Saba’. He was known as Ar-Ra’ish because he used to give the people from his property. As-Suhaili said, “It was said that he was the first to be crowned king. Some said that he was a Muslim and that he had poetry in which he gave tidings of the coming of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him); this included the following words:

*A Prophet will rule after us a great kingdom,
And he will not permit the unlawful,
And after him, from among them will be kings,
Who will treat the slaves without disparagement,
And after them, kings from among us will rule,
And the kingdom will be divided up among us,
And after Qahtan a Prophet will rule,
Who is pure of brow, the best of mankind,
He will be called Ahmad, how I wish that I,
Could live after he is sent for but a year,
I would support him and give him my help,
Will all my arms and all of my spearmen,
When he appears, be his supporters,
And whoever meets him, convey my salutations to him.*

This was related by Ibn Dihyah in his book At-Tanweer Fee Mawlid Al-Basheer An-Nadheer.

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of As-Saba'i 'Abdur-Rahman Ibn Wa'lah (that he said,) "I heard 'Abdullah ibn Al-'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) say, "A man asked the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) about Saba', was it a man, or a woman or a land? He said, "Nay, it was a man. He fathered ten sons and six of them took up residence in Yemen and the other four took up residence in Ash-Sham. As for the Yemenis, (they were) Madhhij, Kindah, Al-Azd, Al-Ash'ariyyoon, Anmar and Himyar. As for the Shamites, (they were) Lakhm, Judham, 'Amilah and Ghassan."

What is meant is that Saba' includes all of these tribes. Among them were At-Tababi'ah in Yemen (the singular is Tubba') and their kings had crowns that they wore at the time of delivering judgments, just as the Kisras of Persia used to do. The Arabs used to call every king who ruled Yemen, including Ash-Shihr and Hadramawt, "Tubba'", just as they referred to every ruler of Ash-Sham and Al-Jazeera as "Qaisar" (Ceasar), while every ruler of Persia was known as Kisra (Kisra). Every ruler of Egypt was known as "Fir'awn" (Pharaoh) and every ruler of Abyssinia was known as "An-Najashi" (the Negus) and every ruler of India was known as "Batlaimoos" (Ptolemy). Among the rulers of Himyar, in the land of Yemen was Bilqees, whose story with that of Sulaiman (Peace be upon him) we have already told. They enjoyed great good fortune and abundant provisions and plentiful fruits and crops. In addition to this, they were rightly guided and followed the path of righteousness. But when they repaid Allah's Blessing with disbelief, their land became uncultivable.

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq narrated on the authority of Wahb Ibn Munabbih that Allah sent thirteen Prophets to them. As-Suddi claimed that he sent twelve thousand Prophets to them. And Allah knows better. What is meant is that they turned away from guidance in favor of error and prostrated before the sun, instead of Allah – and that was during the reign of Bilqees and before it also – and this continued until Allah sent Sail Al-‘Arim against them, as He, Most High, says, {But they turned away (from the obedience of Allah), so We sent against them Sail Al-‘Arim (the flood released from the dam), and We converted their two gardens into gardens producing bitter, bad fruit and tamarisks and a few lote- trees. In this way We requited them because they were ungrateful disbelievers. And never do We requite in such a way except those who are ungrateful (disbelievers)} (Soorah Saba’ 34:16,17)

More than one of the earlier and the later scholars from among the scholars of tafseer and others said that the reason for the building of the dam of Ma‘rib was because the waters used to run between two mountains and so in the far distant past, they built a very strong dam between the two mountains, so that the water rose and the dam held it back to the tops of the mountains. Then they planted orchards and trees and got the best fruits that could ever be harvested, plentiful and beautiful and they grew bountiful crops. It was said that the first person to build the dam was Saba’ Ibn Ya‘rub and that seventy rivers ran into it, while it had thirty openings from which the water emerged (to irrigate the land). He died when the construction of the dam was not yet finished and so it was completed after him by Himyar. It was many farsakhs wide and they enjoyed great wealth and lived lives of enviable luxury, to such a degree that, according to Qatadah and others, a woman would walk with a large basket on her head and it would be filled with fruits that fell into it, due to their ripeness and their profusion. They also said that there were no fleas or harmful creatures in their lands, due to the healthy climate and the good health they enjoyed, as He, Most High, says, {Indeed there was for Saba’ a sign in their dwelling place – two gardens on the right hand and on the left (and it was said to them,) “Eat of the provision of your Lord, and be grateful to Him, a fair land and an Oft--Forgiving Lord} (Soorah Saba’ 34:15) and as He, Most High, says, {And (remember) when your Lord proclaimed, “If you give thanks (by accepting faith and worshipping none but Allah), I will give you more (of My Blessings), but if you are thankless (i.e. disbelievers), verily! My Punishment is indeed severe.”} (Soorah Ibraheem 14:7). So they worshipped (false) deities besides Allah and disregarded His Blessings and asked Allah to make the stages between their journey longer and to make their journeys longer and more difficult and tiresome. And they asked that He replace goodness with evil, just as the Children of Isra’eel asked for manna and quails to be replaced with herbs, cucumbers, foom (wheat or garlic), lentils and onions. So they were deprived of this great Blessing and the widespread Benevolence by the destruction of the land and the scattering of the slaves throughout the lands, as He, Most High, says, {But they turned away (from the obedience of Allah), so We sent against them Sail Al--‘Arim.} (Soorah Saba’ 34:16)

More than one of the scholars said that Allah sent rats to the foundations of the dam, i.e. desert rats. It was also said that they were moles. When they realized this, they brought cats to counter the rats, but this did not benefit them at all once the Divine Decree had come to pass. Their vigilance was to no avail. No! There is no refuge! When the rats took hold of the foundations, the dam collapsed and the water gushed forth and rushed through the bottom of the valley and destroyed everything in their path – buildings, trees, etc. As the water drained from the trees that were on the mountains, to the right and the left, those trees dried up and were destroyed. Those beautiful, fruit-bearing trees were replaced with something altogether different, as Allah says, {and We converted their two gardens into gardens producing bitter, bad fruit, and tamarisks.} (Soorah Saba’ 34:16)

‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), Mujahid and others said that it was the arak tree, whose fruit is known as bareer and tamarisk, which is at-tarfa’. It was also said that it resembles it and that it is dry wood has no fruit. {and some few lote- trees} (Soorah Saba’ 34:16). This was because it bore lotus fruit and so there were only a few of them, although it has many thorns and its fruit is, as it is said in the parable, “The meat of a lean camel is on the top of a high mountain and there is no easy path to it and (if you could reach it,) there is little meat to be had from it.” This is why Allah, Most High, says, {Like this We requited them because they were ungrateful disbelievers. And never do We requite in such a way except those who are ungrateful (disbelievers).} (Soorah Saba’ 34:17). That is, We only inflict this severe punishment on those who disbelieve in Us, belie Our Messengers, disobey Our Commandments and violate Our Prohibitions. And He, Most High, says, {So We made them as tales (in the land), and We dispersed them all, totally} (Soorah Saba’ 34:19). That is, when their wealth was destroyed and their land was ruined, they had to depart from it and so they were widely dispersed throughout the lands.

The Story of Rabee‘ah Ibn Nasr Ibn Abi Harithah Ibn ‘Amr Ibn ‘Amir

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, “Rabee‘ah Ibn Nasr was the king of Yemen, one among many of the

Tabab’ah. He saw a vision which terrified and shocked him and he gathered every soothsayer, magician, ‘a’if and astrologer from among his people and said to them, “I have seen a vision that terrified me and shocked me, so inform me about it and explain it to me.” They said, “Relate it to us and we will inform you of its explanation.” He said, “If I inform you of it, I am not sure that you will be able to explain it to me, because none can know its meaning except who knows it (the vision) before I inform him of it.” One of them said, “If the king desires this, then let him send word to Shiqq and Sateeh, because no one is more knowledgeable than they; they will inform about that which he asks.” So he sent word to them and Sateeh came to him before Shiqq and he said to him, “I have seen a vision that terrified me and shocked me; inform me about it and if you get it right, you will be able to correctly explain it.” He said,

“I will do so. You saw something that had been burned in the fire emerging from blackness and it arrived in Tahamah and there it ate every living creature.” The king said to him, “You have not erred in any detail of it, O, Sateeh! Now what is your explanation of it?” He said, “I swear by that which is between the two lava fields of Hanash, your land will be brought down by the Abyssinians and they will certainly rule that which lies between Abyan and Jurash.” The king said to him, “O, Sateeh! Verily, this is distressing and painful to us. When will it happen? Will it be in my time, or after it?” He said, “Nay! It will be a long time after it – more than sixty or seventy years.” He asked, “Will their rule continue, or will it be terminated?” He said, “Nay! It will be terminated after seventy-odd years, and then they will be killed and expelled from it and put to flight.” The king said, “And who will come after their killing and expulsion?” He replied, “They will be followed by Iram Dhee Yazan. He will attack them from Adan and he will not leave a single one of them in Yemen.” The king asked, “Will his rule continue, or will it be terminated?” He said, “Nay! It will be terminated.” The king said, “And who will terminate it?” Sateeh said, “A pure Prophet, who will receive Revelation from the Supreme (Allah).” The king asked, “And from whom is this Prophet?” He replied, “A man from the sons of Ghalib ibn Fihri ibn Malik ibn An-Nadr. The kingdom will remain in the hands of his people until the end of time.” The king asked, “Does time have an end, then?” Sateeh said, “Yes, a Day on which the first and the last generations will be gathered; on that Day, those who used to do good deeds will be happy, while those who did evil will be wretched.” The king asked, “Is it true, what you have told me?” He said, “Yes, by the afterglow of sunset, by the twilight, by the daybreak in its fullness, verily, that which I impart to you is the truth.”

The Story of Tubba‘

Abu Karib Tubban As‘ad, king of Yemen and the People of Al-Madinah, and How He Intended to Attack the Sacred House, Then

Sunniconnect.com

He Honoured and Glorified it and He Draped it With a Covering and He Was the First Person to Do So

Ibn Ishaq said, "It was Tubban As'ad Abu Karib, king of Yemen, who came to Al-Madinah and took two of the Jewish rabbis to Yemen. He also rebuilt the Sacred House and draped it with a covering. His reign was before that of Rabe'e'ah Ibn Nasr. He had selected his route through Al-Madinah when he returned from fighting in the lands of the east. He had passed by it on the outward journey and he did not burn its inhabitants. He appointed one of his sons to govern them, but he was assassinated. So when he arrived in the city, he resolved to destroy it, annihilate its inhabitants and burn down its date-palms. So he gathered to himself the tribe of the Ansar, whose chief was 'Amr Ibn Talhah, the confederate of Banu An-Najjar, then one of Banu 'Amr Ibn Mabdhood. The name of Mabdhood was 'Amir ibn Malik Ibn An-Najjar. And the name of An-Najjar was Taimullah Ibn Tha'labah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Al-Khazraj Ibn Harithah Ibn Tha'labah Ibn 'Amr Ibn 'Amir."

Ibn Ishaq added, "A man from Banu 'Adiyy Ibn An-Najjar, whose name was Ahmar, attacked a man from among the companions of Tubba' whom he found taking a bunch of his dates, striking him with his scythe and killing him. He said, "The dates are only for the one who pollinated them." This served to increase the anger of Tubba' against them and so they fought. The Ansar said that they used to fight him during the daylight and at night they would offer him their hospitality. This impressed him and he said, "By Allah, they are a generous people!"

Ibn Ishaq said, "While Tubba' was engaged in fighting them, two Jewish rabbis from Banu Quraizah, who were firmly grounded in knowledge came to him, when they heard that he intended to destroy AlMadinah and annihilate its inhabitants. They said to him, 'O, king! Do not do this, for if you insist on carrying out your intention, you will be prevented from doing so, and we fear that a swift punishment may descend upon you.' He said, 'And why should that be?’ They said, ‘It is the place of refuge for a Prophet who will depart from the Sacred Precincts (Makkah), fleeing from Quraish at the end of time. This will be his abode and his settlement.’ And so he desisted from attacking it. He realized that they were knowledgeable men and he was impressed by what he heard and so he left Al-Madinah and adopted their religion.”

We have already mentioned in the Tafseer the hadeeth that was reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) in which he said, “Do not curse Tubba‘ for he embraced Islam.” And AsSuhaili narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Do not curse As‘ad Al-Himyari, for he was the first to drape the Ka‘bah.” As-Suhaili said, “When the two rabbis informed Tubba‘ about the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), he recited the following poetic verses:

I bear witness that Ahmad is a Messenger from Allah, pure of soul,

And if my life was prolonged till his time, I would be his vizier and his nephew,

And I would perform jihad with my sword against his enemies,

And I would endeavor to free his heart from all cares.

And this poem continued to be passed down through generations of the Ansar and memorized by them; it was known to Abu Ayyoob Al-Ansari (May Allah be pleased with him).

The Cause of Abrahah's Determination to Destroy the Ka'bah With an Elephant

Allah, Most High, says, {Have you (O, Muhammad) not seen how your Lord dealt with the Owners of the Elephant (The elephant army which came from Yemen under the command of Abrahah Al-Ashram intending to destroy the Ka'bah at Makkah)? Did He not make their plot go astray, and send against them birds in flocks, striking them with stones of sijjeel? And He made them like an empty field of stalks (of which the corn has been eaten up by cattle)} (Soorah Al-Feel 105:1-5). He was the first person to put saddles on horses. As for the first person to tame horses and ride them, it was Tahmoorith, who was the third king in this world. It was also said that the first person to ride them was Isma'eel (Peace be upon him), and it is possible that he was the first person from among the Arabs to ride them. And Allah knows better.

It is said that the elephant, in spite of its great size and strength, flees from cats. Some generals employed cats in war against the Indians (who used elephants), releasing them during the turmoil of the battles and the elephants fled.

Ibn Ishaq said, "Then Abrahah built Al-Qullais in San'a'; it was a church the like of which had never been seen on earth at that time. He wrote to the Negus of Abyssinia saying, "I have built for you a church the like of which no king before you has ever built, but I will not be content until I have diverted the Arab pilgrims to it." As-Suhaili mentioned that Abrahah humiliated the people of Yemen during the building of this infamous church and forced them to labor on its construction. Those who arrived after sunrise to work on its construction would have one of their hands cut off. He transferred marble, stones and wonderful furnishings to it from the palace of Bilqees and he erected in it crosses of gold and silver. He also placed in it pulpits made from ivory and ebony and made it extremely high and very vast in width. After Abrahah had been killed and the Abyssinians had fled, anyone who tried to take anything from its furnishings would be afflicted with evil by the jinn. This was because the church was built over two idols: Ku'aib and his wife. The height of each of them was sixty cubits and so the people of Yemen left the church as it was and it remained so until the era of As-Saffah, the first Caliph of the Abbasid dynasty. He sent a group of resolute men of learning to it and they demolished it stone by stone, and all traces of it have remained hidden to this day.

Ibn Ishaq said, "When the Arabs heard about the letter that Abrahah had sent to the Negus, a man from An-Nasa'ah, who belonged to the tribe of Kinanah, became angry. They were known as An-Nasa'ah because they used to defer the sanctity of the month of Muharram until Safar (nasa'a is the Arabic verb to defer or postpone), announcing its deferment in Makkah, upon the completion of the Hajj rites, as we established in the explanation of the Words of Allah, Most High: {The postponing (of a Sacred Month) is indeed an addition to disbelief.} (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:37) Ibn Ishaq said, "So the Kinani man set out and traveled to Al-Qullais and he sat in it, i.e. relieved himself in it, in a place where no one could see him, after which he left the church and returned to his own land. On discovering this, Abrahah was furious and he swore to march on the House (of Allah) and destroy it, then he ordered the Abyssinians to prepare for the march to Makkah and they did so."

Ibn Ishaq added, "When Abrahah camped at Al-Mughammis, he sent a man from Abyssinia whose name was Al-Aswad Ibn Maqsood on horseback to Makkah. There he captured the property of the Makkan people from Quraish and other tribes, including two hundred camels belonging to 'Abdul-Muttalib Ibn Hashim, who was at that time the leader of Quraish and its chief. Quraish, Kinanah, Hudhail and those from other tribes and peoples who were in the Sacred Precincts desired to fight Abrahah, but then they realized that they did not have the ability to do so and they abandoned the idea. Abrahah sent Hunatah AlHimyari to Makkah and he said to him, "Ask for the leader of this city." Then say to him, "The king says to you, "I have not come to fight you, I have only come to destroy this House, and as long as you do not try to prevent us from doing so by fighting us, I have no desire to shed your blood. If he does not desire to fight, then bring him to me." When Hunatah entered Makkah, he asked for the leader of Quraish and he was told, "He is 'Abdul-Muttalib Ibn Hashim." So he went to him and conveyed the message that Abrahah had ordered him to give. 'Abdul-Muttalib said to him, "By Allah, we do not wish to fight him and we do not have the ability to do so. This is Allah's Sacred House and the House of His Khaleel, Ibraheem (Peace be upon him). So if He prevents him, then it is His Sacred Place and His House, and if He lets him approach it, by Allah, We have no means to defend it from him." So Hunatah told him, "Come with me to him (Abrahah)." And so 'Abdul-Muttalib went with him, accompanied by some of his sons. When Abrahah saw him, he was impressed by him, because 'Abdul-Muttalib was a large and handsome man. So Abrahah descended from his seat and sat with him on a carpet on the ground. Then he asked his translator to say to him, "What do you need?" 'Abdul-Muttalib replied to the translator, "I want the king to return my camels that he has taken from me, which are two hundred in number." Abrahah then told his translator to tell him, "I was impressed by you when I first saw you, but now I withdraw from you after you have spoken to me. You are asking me about two hundred camels which I have taken from you and you leave the matter of a House which is (the foundation of) your religion and the religion of your fathers, and which I have come to destroy and you do not speak to me about it!" 'Abdul-Muttalib said to him, "Verily, I am the lord of the camels. As for the House, it has its Lord Who will defend it." Abrahah said, "I cannot be prevented (from destroying it)." 'Abdul-Muttalib answered, "Then do so." It is said that a number of the chiefs of the Arabs accompanied 'Abdul-Muttalib and offered Abrahah a third of the wealth of the tribe of Tihamah if he would withdraw from the House, but he refused and returned ‘AbdulMuttalib’s camels to him. ‘AbdulMuttalib then returned to his people and ordered them to leave Makkah and seek shelter at the top of the mountains, fearful of the excesses which might be committed by the army against them. Then he took hold of the metal ring of the door of the Ka‘bah, and along with a number of Quraish, he called upon Allah to give them victory over Abrahah and his army. ‘AbdulMuttalib said, while hanging onto the ring of the door of the Ka‘bah:

There is no matter more important to any man right now,

Than the defence of his livestock and property,

So defend Your Property,

Their cross and their cunning will not be victorious,

Over Your Astuteness by the time morning comes.

Ibn Hisham said, “This is what has been authentically reported from him.” According to Ibn Ishaq, then ‘Abdul-Muttalib let go of the metal ring of the door of the Ka‘bah, and they left Makkah and ascended to the mountain tops. Muqatil Ibn Sulaiman mentioned that they left one hundred animals (camels) tied near the Ka‘bah hoping that some of the army would take some of them without a right to do so, and thus bring about the vengeance of Allah upon themselves. When morning came, Abrahah prepared to enter the sacred city of Makkah. He prepared the elephant named Mahmood. He mobilized his army, and they turned the elephant toward the Ka‘bah. At that moment Nufail Ibn Habeeb approached it and stood next to it, and taking it by its ear, he said, “Kneel, Mahmood! Then turn around and return directly to whence you came, for verily, you are in the Sacred City of Allah.” Then he released the elephant’s ear and it knelt, after which Nufail Ibn Habeeb left and hastened to the mountains. Abrahah’s men beat the elephant in an attempt to make it rise, but it refused. They beat it on its head with axes and used hooked staffs to pull it out of its resistance and make it stand, but it refused. So they turned him toward Yemen, and he rose and walked quickly. Then they turned him toward Ash-Sham and he did likewise. Then they turned him toward the East and he did the same thing. Then they turned him toward Makkah and he knelt down again. Then Allah (SWT) sent against them the birds from the sea, like swallows and herons. Each bird carried three stones the size of chickpeas and lentils, one in each claw and one in its beak. Everyone who was hit by them was destroyed, though not all of them were hit. They fled in panic along the road asking about the whereabouts of Nufail that he might point out to them the way home. Nufail, however, was at the top of the mountain with Quraish and the Arabs of the Hijaz observing the wrath which Allah had caused to descend on the People of the Elephant. Nufail then began to say:

Where will they flee when the One True God is the Pursuer, For Al-Ashram is defeated and not the victor?

Ibn Ishaq reported that Nufail said these lines of poetry at that time:

O, Rudaina! Did you not live with continued support?

We favored you all with a revolving eye in the morning (i.e., a guide along the way),

If you saw, but you did not see it at the side of the rock covered mountain that which we saw,

Then you will excuse me and praise my affair,

And do not grieve over what is lost between us,

*I praised Allah when I saw the birds, and I feared that the stones might be thrown down upon us, So all the people are asking about the whereabouts of Nufail,
As if I have some debt that I owe the Abyssinians.*

Ibn Ishaq said that they left (Makkah) being struck down and destroyed along every path and at every water spring. Abraham's body was afflicted by the pestilence of the stones and his army carried him away with them as he was falling apart piece by piece, until they arrived back in San'a'. When they arrived there he was but like the baby chick of a bird. And he did not die until his heart fell out of his chest, or so they claim.

Ibn Ishaq said that when Allah sent Muhammad with the Prophethood, among the things that he used to recount to Quraish as blessings that Allah had favored them with of His bounties, was His defending them from the attack of the Abyssinians. Due to this they (Quraish) were allowed to remain (safely in Makkah) for a period of time. Thus, Allah says, {Have you (O, Muhammad) not seen how your Lord dealt with the Owners of the Elephant (The elephant army which came from Yemen under the command of Abrahah AlAshram intending to destroy the Ka'bah at Makkah)? Did He not make their plot go astray, and send against them birds in flocks, striking them with stones of sijjeel? And He made them like an empty field of stalks (of which the corn has been eaten up by cattle).} (Soorah Al-Feel 105:1-5)

Ibn Hisham said that "ababeel" is the word used for hosts, and the Arabs do not speak of just one (bird). He also said, "As for sijjeel, Yoonus An-Nahwi and Abu 'Ubaidah have informed me that according to the Arabs, it means something hard and solid." He then said, "Some of the commentators have mentioned that it is actually two Persian words that the Arabs have made into one word. The two words are ‘sang’ and ‘gill’, ‘sang’ meaning stones, and ‘geel’ meaning clay. The rocks are of these two types: stone and clay.” He continued, saying, “‘asf’ are the leaves of the crops that are not gathered. One of them is called “‘asfah’.” Al-Kisa’i said, “I have heard some of the scholars of Arabic grammar (nahw) say that the singular of ‘ababeel’ is ‘Ibbeel’.” Many of the Salaf said that “ababeel” means different groups, some of them following others, from hither and thither. And it is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that they had beaks like those of birds and feet like those of dogs.” On the authority of ‘Ikrimah that he said, “They had heads like the heads of predatory animals and they emerged from the sea and were green in color.” ‘Ubaid Ibn ‘Umair said, “They were black birds of the sea that had stones in their beaks and claws.” And it is reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “They were shap like strange griffons.” It was also said by ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with them) that the smallest stone held by them was the size of a man’s head, while some of them were as large as camels. Yoonus ibn Bukair also mentioned this on the authority of Ibn Ishaq. It was also said that they were (all) small. And Allah knows better.

Ibn Abi Hatim narrated on the authority of ‘Ubaid Ibn ‘Umair that he said, “When Allah willed to destroy the People of the Elephant, He sent birds against them that came from the sea, like terns. Each of the birds was carrying three small stones – two stones in its claws and one stone in its beak. They came until they gathered in rows over their heads. Then they gave a loud cry and threw what was in their claws and beaks. Thus, no stone fell upon the head of any man except that it came out of his behind (i.e. it went through him), and it did not fall on any part of his body except that it came out from the opposite side. Then Allah sent a severe wind that struck the stones and increased them in force. Thus, they were all destroyed.”

I say: In that year the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was born, according to what is widely accepted. It was also said that it happened some years before his birth, as we shall mention, if Allah, Most High, wills, and in Him we place our trust.

Then Ibn Ishaq mentioned the poetry that the Arabs recited regarding this great incident, in which Allah saved His Sacred House, which it was His Will to ennoble, purify and revere by sending Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) with the true Religion that He had ordained for him, one of whose pillars is prayer; indeed it is a foundation of His Religion. And he would make the purified Ka‘bah its Qiblah. So what He did to the People of the Elephant was not to help Quraish, for they were the Abyssinian Christians, whose religion at that time was closer to the true Religion than that of the pagan Quraish. Nay, His Help was for the Sacred House and in preparation for the advent of Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him).

Ibn Hisham said, “It was narrated by Umayyah Ibn Abi As-Salt in Al-Bahr Al-Khafeef’:

“Verily, the Signs of our Lord are everlasting,

No one disputes regarding them except the disbelievers,

He created the night and the day,

And the measure of each of them is plainly ordained,

Then a Merciful Lord reveals the day,

With a sun whose rays are widely diffused,

He halted the elephant at Al-Mughammis,

Until it began to creep, as if it was wounded,

*Like a camel held back by reins,
As if it were an overturned, fallen rock,
Around it were the brave rulers of Kindah,
Stained with the dust of war, falcons,
They allowed it to lead, then they all raced ahead,
As if its leg bone was broken,
Every religion on the Day of Resurrection,
Will be held as falsehood in Allah's Sight,
Except the Haneef Religion."*

This incident occurred in the month of Muharram, in the Year 886, according to the calendar of DhulQarnain.

The Story of the Persian Involvement in Yemen

Ibn Hisham said, "Then Wahriz died and Kisra appointed Wahriz's son, Al-Marzuban as governor of Yemen. Then Al-Marzuban died and so Kisra appointed Marzuban's son, At-Tainujan as governor. After At-Tainujan died, he (Kisra) appointed Tainujan's son. Then he deposed him from the governorate of Yemen and appointed Badhan as its governor. During his era, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was sent." Ibn Hisham said, "It was conveyed to me on the authority of Az-Zuhri that he said, Khosrau wrote to Badhan informing him that a man from Quraish had appeared in Makkah, claiming that he was a Prophet and he ordered him to proceed there and tell him to repent. If he refused, he told Badhan to send his head to him. Badhan sent a messenger to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) with Kisra's letter. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) wrote to him, saying, "Verily, Allah has promised me that Kisra will be killed on such-and-such a day, in such-and-such a month." When the letter reached Badhan, he paused to think and then he said, "If he is a Prophet, then what he says will come to pass." Then Allah killed Kisra on the day specified by the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)." ibn Hisham said, "(He was killed) by the hand of his son, Sheerawaih." I say: Some said that his sons all took part in his murder. This Kisra's name was Abraweez, son of Hurmuz, son of Anushirwan, son of Qubaz; and he is the defeater of Rome mentioned in Allah's Words: {Alif-Lam-Meem. The Romans have been defeated in the nearer land (Syria, Iraq, Jordan, and Palestine).} (Soorah Ar-Room 30:1-3)

As-Suhaili said, "His murder occurred on the night of Tuesday, the tenth of Jumad Al-Oola, in the Year 9 A.H. It is said that when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) wrote to him, he invited him to embrace Islam, but Kisra was enraged and tore up the letter. He then wrote to his representative in Yemen with the aforementioned orders. And Allah knows better. In some narrations, it was stated that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to Badhan's messenger, "Verily, my Lord has killed your lord this night." And it transpired that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) had spoken truthfully; he had been killed on that very night by his sons because of his injustice and wrongdoings, having previously been a just ruler. After they had deposed him, they replaced him with his son, Sheerawaih; but he only remained alive for six months or less, after the death of his father. Regarding this incident, Khalid Ibn Hiqq Ash-Shaibani said:

And remember when Kisra was cut up,

By his sons with their swords,

As a piece of meat is dismembered,

For every person there is an appointed time.

Az-Zuhri said, "When Badhan was informed of this, he sent word to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he and those with him had embraced Islam. The messengers said, "To whom do we belong, O, Messenger of Allah?" He said, "You are from us and you belong to us, Ahl Al-Bait. Az-Zuhri said, "And for that reason the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Salman is from us, Ahl Al-Bait."

I say: It is apparent that this was after the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) migrated to Al-Madinah, which is why he sent governors to Yemen to teach the people goodness and call them to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. First, he sent Khalid Ibn Al-Waleed (May Allah be pleased with him) and 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him), then he sent after them Abu Moosa Al-Ash'ari (May Allah be pleased with him) and Mu'adh Ibn Jabal (May Allah be pleased with him), and Yemen and its people embraced the Religion of Islam. Then Badhan died and after him, Shahr, son of Badhan, took his place. It was he who was murdered by Al-Aswad Al-'Ansi, when he claimed to be a prophet and he took his wife, as we shall explain, if Allah wills. He also ousted all of the vicegerents appointed by the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). But after he had been killed, Islamic rule returned to Yemen. Ibn Hisham said, "And it was he who was referred to by Sateeh when he said, "A pure Prophet, who will receive Revelation from the Supreme (Allah)." And it was he who was referred to by Shiqq in his words: "Nay, it will be cut off by a Messenger sent (by Allah); he will bring truth and dispense with justice to the people of religion and virtue and the rule shall remain among his people until the Day of Decision.”

The Story of As-Satiroon, Owner of Al-Hadhr

‘Abdul-Malik Ibn Hisham mentioned his story here because of what some of the scholars of lineage have said, which was that it was An-Nu‘man Ibn Al-Mundhir who, as mentioned previously, was from the offspring of As-Satiroon, ruler of Al-Hadr. And we have related previously from Ibn Ishaq that AnNu‘man Ibn Al-Mundhir descended from Rabee‘ah Ibn Nasr and he narrated on the authority of Jubair Ibn Mut‘im that he was one of the descendents of Qunus Ibn Ma‘add ibn ‘Adnan. These are three opinions regarding his lineage. Ibn Hisham proceeded to describe the ruler of Al-Hadr. Al-Hadr was a massive fortress built by king, i.e. As-Satiroon, on the banks of the Euphrates. It was a towering, elevated structure, vast in breadth, with a huge courtyard; and its perimeter was like that of a great city. It was of the utmost perfection, magnificence, beauty and splendor. And all of the surrounding towns and villages owed fealty to it. As-Satiroon’s name was Ad-Daizan Ibn Mu‘awiyah Ibn ‘Ubaid Ibn Ajram, from the tribe of Banu Sulaih Ibn Halwan ibn Al-Haf Ibn Quda‘ah, according to the lineage attributed to him by ibn Al-Kalbi. Others said that he was from Al-Jaramiqah and that he was one of the kings of At-Tawa’if and that he used to lead them whenever they gathered for war against their enemies. His fortress lay between the Tigris and the Euphrates.

Ibn Hisham said, “Kisra Saboor, Zul Aktaf made war on As-Satiroon, king of Al-Hadr.” Others said that the person who made war on him was none other than Saboor, son of Ardasheer, son of Babak, the first of the Sassanid kings. He subdued the kings of At-Tawa’if and returned sovereignty of their lands to the Kisras. As for Saboor Zul Aktaf, son of Hurmuz, he lived many years after that. And Allah knows better. This was mentioned by As-Suhaili.

The Story of the Kings of At-Tawa'if

As for the ruler of Al-Hadr, he was As-Satiroon, and as we have said, he used to lead the other kings of At-Tawa'if. He lived in the time of Alexander, son of Philip II of Macedon, in Greece. The reason for this was because after Alexander had conquered the Persian King, Dara, son of Dara, subdued his kingdom, destroyed his lands, taken his people's property as booty, plundered his granaries and divided Persia, scattering the people in all directions. He resolved that no force should ever assemble against them again and that no one should unite against them and so he appointed kings over small groups of people (tawa'if), ruling over small parcels of land occupied by Arabs and non-Arabs. Each king would protect his territory and profit from his position, and when he died, his son or one of his people would succeed him. The situation continued thus for about five hundred years, until Azdasheer, son of Babak from the tribe of Sasan, son of Bahman, son of Isfandyar, son of Yashtasib, son of Lahrasib. He returned their kingdom to its former state and restored the empire. He abolished the petty kingdoms of At-Tawa'if and nothing of them remained. The siege of the ruler of Al-Hadr delayed him, for he was the greatest of them, the most powerful of them and the mightiest of them, being their leader. But when Azdasheer died, he was succeeded by his son, Saboor, who besieged the fortress until he captured the king, as we mentioned previously. And Allah, Most Glorified, Most High, knows better.

The Story of Khuza'ah and 'Amr Ibn Luhayy and His Worship of the Idols in the Land of the Arabs

Ibn Ishaq said, "Ghubshan was from Khuza'ah, who took over responsibility for the House from Banu Bakr Ibn 'Abd Manat. The person who took over from them was 'Amr ibn Al-Harith Al-Ghubshani.

Quraish at that time were scattered, separated and lived in abodes dispersed between the people of Kinanah. It was said that they were known as Khuza‘ah because they left the sons of ‘Amr Ibn ‘Amir and when they arrived from Yemen, they were en route to Ash-Sham, but they stopped at Marr Az-Zahran and took up residence there. ‘Awn Ibn Ayyoob Al-Ansari, then Al-Khazraji, said regarding this:

When we settled at Batn Marr,

Khuza‘ah left us on fast horses,

Every wadi in Tihamah fought,

With pointed spears and sharpened swords.

So Khuza‘ah took on responsibility for the House and it was passed down from father to son, until the last of them, Hulail Ibn Hubshiyah Ibn Salool Ibn Ka‘b Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Rabee‘ah Al-Khuza‘i. His daughter, Hubba, married Qusayy ibn Kilab. She bore him four sons: ‘Abdud-Dar, ‘Abd Manaf, ‘Abdul-‘Uzza and ‘Abd. Then the responsibility of the House passed to him, as we shall explain in detail in the relevant place, if Allah, Most High, wills – and in Him we place our trust.

Khuza‘ah continued to be responsible for the House for around three hundred years, or it was said, five hundred years. And Allah knows better. Ibn Hisham said, “I was informed by one of the scholars that ‘Amr Ibn Luhayy set out from Makkah for Ash-Sham on business and when he arrived at Ma‘ab in the land of Al-Balqa’, which was at that time in the hands of the Amalekites, who were the descendants of ‘Imlaq, or it was said, ‘Imleeq Ibn Lawadh Ibn Sam, Ibn Nooh. He saw them worshipping idols and he said to them, “What are these idols that I see you worshipping?” They said to him, “We worship these idols and ask them for rain and they grant us rain, and we seek help from them and they help us.” He said to them, “Will you not give me an idol from among them and I will take it to the land of the Arabs, that they may worship it?” So they gave him an idol named Hubal and he brought it to Makkah and erected it there and ordered the people to worship and glorify it.”

Ibn Ishaq said, “They claim that the beginning of idol worship among the descendants of Isma‘eel (Peace be upon him) was that whenever they departed from Makkah and they were traveling in the wide open spaces and were feeling uneasy, they would take with them a stone from the stones of the Sacred Precincts in glorification of them and wherever they camped, they would place it on the ground and circumambulate it, as they circumambulated the Ka‘bah until this led them to worship the stones and their descendants forgot the religion that they had formerly followed.

It is reported in Saheeh Al-Bukhari on the authority of Abu Raja’ Al-‘Utaridi (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “During the Jahiliyyah (days of ignorance), if we could not find a stone, we would collect a handful of dust, then we would bring a sheep and milk it over it, then we would circumambulate it.”

Based on this, we may infer that there were some remnants of the rites practiced during the time of Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) to which they adhered, i.e. glorification of the House and circumambulation of it, Hajj and ‘Umrah, standing on ‘Arafat, visiting Muzdalifah, slaughtering a sacrificial animal, making the ihlal for Hajj and ‘Umrah, though they added to them things to them which were not a part of them. When Kinanah and Quraish made ihlal, they would say, “Labbaik Allahumma Labbaik, Labbaika La Shareeka Laka Labbaik, Illa Shareekan Huwa Lak, Tamlikuhi Wa Ma Malak (O, Allah! I respond to Your Call, I respond to Your Call and You have no partner except a partner whom You have and You own all that he owns).” So they would declare His Oneness in the talbiyyah, then they would insert into it their idols and they would place their ownership in His Hand. Allah, Most High, said to Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him): {And most of them believe not in Allah except that they attribute partners unto Him (i.e. they are mushrikoon [polytheists].} See also Soorah AlAn‘am 6:121) (Soorah Yoosuf 12:106). That is, they do not affirm My Oneness except that they ascribe partners to Me from among My creation.

And it has been confirmed in the Saheeh that when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) heard them saying, “Labbaika La Shareeka Laka Labbaik (I respond to Your Call and You have no partner,” he said, “Qad, Qad (Enough, enough).”

And ‘Abdullah Ibn Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah ibn Mas‘ood (May Allah be pleased with him), who reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “The first person to let animals roam free for the idols was the father of Khuza‘ah, ‘Amr Ibn ‘Amir and I saw him dragging his entrails in the Fire.”

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) that she said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “I saw the Hellfire and its different portions were consuming each other and saw ‘Amr dragging his intestines (in it), and he was the first person to establish the tradition of letting animals loose (for the idols).”

What is meant is that ‘Amr Ibn Luhayy – may Allah Curse him – introduced heresies to them in their religion by which he changed the Religion of Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him) and the Arabs followed him in that, which caused them to stray far from the truth. And Allah, Most High, rebuked them in His Noble Book in more than one Verse, such as His Words: {And say not concerning that which your tongues put forth falsely: “This is lawful and this is forbidden,” so as to invent lies against Allah.} (Soorah An-Nahl 16:116) and His Words: {Allah has not instituted things like baheerah (a she--camel whose milk was spared for the idols and nobody was allowed to milk it) or a sa’ibah (a she--camel let loose for free pasture for their false gods, idols, etc. and nothing was allowed to be carried on it), or a waseelah (a she--camel set free for idols because it has given birth to a she--camel at its first delivery and then again gives birth to a she--camel at its second delivery) or a ham (a male -camel freed from work for their idols, after it had finished a number of matings assigned for it. All these animals were liberated in honor of idols as practiced by pagan Arabs in the pre--Islamic period). But those who disbelieve invent lies against Allah and most of them have no understanding} (Soorah Al-Ma’idah 5:103). We have discussed this in detail and we made clear the difference of opinion among the Salaf regarding its tafseer. So whoever wishes to read it may find it there, all praise and thanks be to Allah. And He, Most High, says, {And they assign a portion of that which We have provided them unto what they know not (i.e. false deities). By Allah, you shall certainly be questioned about (all of) that which you used to fabricate.} (Soorah An-Nahl 16:56)

And He, Most High, says, {And they assign to Allah a share of the tith and cattle which He has created, and they say, “This is for Allah according to their pretending, and this is for our (Allah’s so--called) partners.” But the share of their (Allah’s so--called) “partners” reaches not Allah, while the share of Allah reaches their (Allah’s so--called) “partners”! Evil is the way they judge! And so to many of the mushrikoon (polytheists - see v. 2:105) their (Allah’s so--called) “partners” have made fair-seeming the killing of their children, in order to lead them to their own destruction and cause confusion in their religion. And if Allah had willed they would not have done so. So leave them alone with their fabrications. And according to their pretending, they say, “such-and-such cattle and crops are forbidden, and none should eat of them except those whom we allow.” And (they say) there are cattle forbidden to be used for burden or any other work, and cattle on which (at slaughtering) the Name of Allah is not pronounced, lying against Him (Allah). He will recompense them for what they used to fabricate. And they say: “What is in the bellies of such-and-such cattle (milk or fetus) is for our males alone, and forbidden to our females (girls and women), but if it is born dead, then all have shares therein.” He will punish them for their attribution (of such false orders to Allah). Verily, He is Most Wise, All--Knowing. (Tafseer At--Tabari, Vol. 8, page 49). Indeed lost are those who have killed their children from folly, without knowledge, and have forbidden that which Allah has provided for them, inventing a lie against Allah. They have indeed gone astray and were not guided.} (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:136-140)

And Al-Bukhari narrated in his Saheeh on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “If you wish to know about the ignorance of the Arabs, refer to Soorah Al-An‘am after Verse No. 130: {Indeed lost are those who have killed their children from folly, without knowledge and have forbidden that which Allah has provided for them, inventing a lie against Allah. They have indeed gone astray and were not guided} (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:140). We have already given the explanation of this Verse and the heresies they introduced into the Religion, which were false and wicked, and which their leader, ‘Amr ibn Luhayy – may Allah Curse him – thought were beneficial and a mercy to the cattle and camels, but he was a liar and fabricator in this. And in spite of his ignorance and misguidance the foolish, common people followed him. Indeed, they followed him in something far worse than that, i.e. the worship of idols besides Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. And they altered the True Religion and the Straight path with which Allah sent Ibraheem, His Khaleel (Peace be upon him), and perverted the religious knowledge, when they themselves had no knowledge and no evidence – be it authentic or weak. And in doing so, they followed those pagan nations who came before them, imitating the people of Nooh (Peace be upon him), who were the first people to associate partners with Allah and to worship idols, which is why Allah sent Nooh (Peace be upon him) to them. He was the first Messenger who prohibited the worship of idols, as we made clear earlier, in the story of Nooh (Peace be upon him), {And they said, “You shall not leave your gods, nor shall you leave Wadd, nor Suwa‘, nor Yaghooth, nor Ya‘ooq, nor Nasr (names of the idols). And indeed they have led many astray.”} (Soorah Nooh 71:23,24). ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, “They (the idols) were righteous persons from among the people of Nooh (Peace be upon him) and when they died, they used to sit around their graves, then after a long period of time had passed, they began to worship them.” And we have explained how they used to worship them previously in such detail, that there is no necessity to repeat it here.

The Story of ‘Adnan, the Father of the Arabs of Al-Hijaz

There is no difference regarding the fact that ‘Adnan was one of the descendants of Isma‘eel, son of Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel (peace be upon them both), but there are several opinions regarding the number of forefathers there were between him and Isma‘eel (Peace be upon him). The greatest number of forefathers mentioned is forty, which is the number stated by the People of the Scripture. They took it from the Books of Rakhya, as we shall make clear. It was also said that there were thirty forefathers and also that there were twenty and that there were fifteen, and also ten and nine. The smallest number claimed was four, according to the narration of Moosa Ibn Ya‘qoob, who reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Wahb Ibn Zam‘ah Az-Zam‘i, who reported on the authority of his paternal aunt that she reported on the authority of Umm Salamah (may Allah be Pleased with her), that she reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “Ma‘add was the son of ‘Adnan Ibn Udad Ibn Zand ibn Yara Ibn A‘raq Ath-Thara.” Umm Salamah (may Allah be Pleased with her) said, “Zand is Al-Hamaisa‘, Al-Yara is Nabt and A‘raquth – Thara is Isma‘eel (Peace be upon him), because he is the son of Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) – and Ibraheem (Peace be upon him) was not consumed by the fire, just as fire does not consume ‘ath-thara’.” Ad-Daraqutni said, “We do not know Zand except in this hadeeth and Zand ibn Al-Jawn is Abu Dulamah, the poet.”

Abu ‘Umar said, “There were a number of people from among the Salaf, including ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood, Amr Ibn Maimoon Al-Azdi and Muhammad Ibn Ka‘b Al-Qurazi, who, when they recited the Words of Allah: {And those after them? None knows them but Allah} (Soorah Ibraheem 14:9), would add, “The scholars of lineage have lied.”

Abu ‘Umar – may Allah have Mercy on him – said, “The meaning, as we understand it, is different from what they have understood; it is that whoever claimed to know the number of Adam’s descendants, (they should know that) none knows it except Allah, Who created them. As for the lineages of the Arabs, the scholars know them, including times and ancestries and they have memorized their groups and the origins of their tribes, though have differed regarding some of the branches of those tribes.”

Abu ‘Umar also said, “The opinion of the scholars of this discipline regarding the lineage of ‘Adnan is that he is ‘Adnan Ibn Udad Ibn Muqawwam Ibn Nahoor Ibn Tairah Ibn Ya‘rub ibn Yashjub ibn Nabit ibn Isma‘eel ibn Ibraheem Al-Khaleel (peace be upon them both). This is how it was related by Muhammad Ibn Ishaq Ibn Yasar in his Seerah.”

What Has Been Said Regarding the Lineage of Quraish, Its Origins and Its Virtues – and They Are Banu An-Nadr ibn Kinanah

Ibn Hisham said, “An-Nadr is Quraish and the one who is descended from him is a Quraishite; those who are not descended from him are not Quraishites. Abu ‘Ubaid and Ibn ‘Abdul-Barr said, “The opinion of the majority is that he is An-Nadr Ibn Kinanah, based on the hadeeth of Al-Ash‘ath Ibn Qais.” I say: This is what was cited by Hisham Ibn Muhammad ibn As-Sa’ib Al-Kalbi and Abu ‘Ubaidah Ma‘mar Ibn AlMuthanna and it is the opinion of Ash-Shafi‘i (may Allah be pleased with him). Abu ‘Umar’s preferred opinion was that he was Fihr Ibn Malik and he cited as evidence that there is no one today who claims descent from Quraish except that he traces his lineage from Fihr Ibn Malik.”

And Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of Kulaib Ibn Wa’il that he said, “I said to the stepdaughter of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) (i.e. Zainab Bint Abi Salamah), “Tell me about the Prophet, did he belong to the tribe of Mudar?” She replied, “Yes, he belonged to the tribe of Mudar and was from the offspring of An-Nadr Ibn Kinanah.”

And At-Tabarani said, “on the authority of Al-Jufsheesh Al-Kindi that he said, ‘A people from Kindah came to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and they said, You are from us,’ and they claimed him (as one of them). But he said, ‘No, we are Banu An-Nadr Ibn Kinanah; we do not follow our mother and we do not deny our father’.”

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Muslim from Al-Haisam Ibn Al-Ash‘ath Ibn Qais (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “I went to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) with a delegation from Kindah and I said, “O, Messenger of Allah! We claim that you are from us.’ But the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, ‘We are Banu AnNadr ibn Kinanah; we do not follow our mother and we do not deny our father.’ Al-Ash‘ath ibn Qais said, “By Allah, I do not hear anyone denying that Quraish are from An-Nadr except that I inflict on him a flogging.’ And this is the decisive proof in this matter, so no regard should be paid to those who contradict it. And Allah knows better. A person from Quraish is known as a Qurashi or a Quraishi. AlJawhari said, This is a comparison; the poet said:

Every Quraishi is honorable,

He hastens to answer the call of the caller and he is generous.

He said, “If one intends by Quraish the clan, then it will be inflected (i.e. Quraishun), but if one intends by it the tribe, then it will be uninflected (i.e. Quraishu). The poet said regarding its being uninflected:

And Quraish’s support sufficed them against their problems.

And Muslim narrated in his Saheeh, on the authority of Wathilah Ibn Al-Asqa‘ that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Verily, Allah chose Kinanah from the sons of Isma‘eel, He chose Quraishan from Kinanah, He chose Hashim from Quraishin and He chose me from Banu Hashim.”

Ibn Ishaq said, “A person whose integrity I do not doubt informed me that ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab said to some men, among whom were men from Banu Murrah, “If you wish to refer to your lineages, then do so.” Ibn Ishaq said, “They were eminent people among Ghatafan and they were masters and leaders of them, a people possessing fame amongst all of Ghatafan and Qais. They held fast to their lineage and they said, “Whenever their lineage was mentioned, they would say, “We do not disavow or reject them and it is the dearest lineage to us.” Then he mentioned their poems regarding their claim of descent from Lu’ayy. He added, “They followed a practice known as al-basl, which was the designation of eight months in each year as sacred months; and the other Arabs accepted this from them and they would guarantee their safety in them.” I say: Rabee‘ah and Mudar accepted the sanctity of only four months in the year: Dhul-Qa‘dah, Dhul-Hijjah, Muharram – and Rabee‘ah and Mudar disagreed as to the fourth, but it is Rajab. Mudar said that it is the month that is between Jumada and Sha‘ban, while Rabee‘ah said that it is the month between Sha‘ban and Shawwal. And it has been confirmed in the Saheehain on the authority of Abu Bakrah (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said in the sermon that he delivered in his Farewell Pilgrimage: “The division of time has turned to its original form which was current when Allah created the heavens and the earths. The year is of twelve months, out of which four months are sacred: Three are in succession DhulQa‘dah, Dhul-Hijjah and Muharram, and (the fourth is) Rajab of (the tribe of) Mudar which comes between Jumada Ath-Thaniyah and Sha‘ban.” This lends more weight to the saying of Mudar, as opposed to that of Rabee‘ah; and Allah, Most High, says {Verily, the number of months with Allah is twelve months (in a year), so was it ordained by Allah on the Day when He created the heavens and the Earth; of them four are sacred, (i.e. the 1st, the 7th, the 11th and the 12th months of the Islamic calendar).} (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:36). This is a reply to Banu ‘Awf Ibn Lu’ayy and their designation of eight sacred months, for they increased thereby what Allah had ordained and included in it that which is not from it. As for the saying of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) in the hadeeth: “Three are in succession,” it is a reply to the people of An-Nasi’, who used to defer the sanctity of Muharram until Safar. As for his saying: “and (the fourth is) Rajab of (the tribe of) Mudar,” it is a reply to Rabee‘ah.

The Story of Qusayy Ibn Kilab

Qusayy was a master and leader among his people, a man whose commands were obeyed and who was venerated (by them). What is meant is that he gathered Quraish from their dispersed locations throughout the Arabian Gulf. He sought support from those Arab clans who obeyed him in his war against Khuza‘ah, their expulsion from the Sacred House and the handing over of it to Qusayy. There was much fighting and bloodshed between them, then they called for a ruling and they sought that ruling from Ya‘mur Ibn ‘Awf Ibn Ka‘b Ibn ‘Amir Ibn Laith Ibn Bakr Ibn ‘Abd Manat ibn Kinanah. Ya‘mur subsequently ruled that Qusayy had more right than Khuza‘ah to take responsibility for the House. He also ruled that Qusayy was not responsible for the bloodshed inflicted by him on Khuza‘ah and Banu Bakr, while Khuza‘ah and Banu Bakr were obligated to pay bloodwit for the bloodshed that they had inflicted on Quraish, Kinanah and Qudha‘ah. Finally, the area of Makkah, including the Ka‘bah was to be vacated for Qusayy and his people. Thenceforth, Ya‘mur became known as Ash-Shaddakh (the Crusher).

Ibn Ishaq said, “So Qusayy took over the custodianship of the Ka‘bah and the affairs of Makkah and he gathered his people from their homes and made them take up residence in Makkah. He also became ruler of his people and of Makkah. But he confirmed the Arabs in what they were following, for he considered that it was the true religion and that it did not require any alteration. He confirmed the family of Safwan, ‘Adwan, An-Nasa‘ah and Murrah Ibn ‘Awf in what they were doing and the matter remained thus until the advent of Islam, by which Allah destroyed all of that.” Ibn Ishaq said, “Qusayy was the first of Banu Ka‘b to become the ruler of Makkah, obeyed by all of his people. He was responsible for Al-Hijabah, AsSiqayah, Ar-Rifadah, An-Nadwah and Al-Liwa`. He divided Makkah into four regions which he then allocated to Quraish as their homes.”

I say: Custodianship of the House became established as the right of Quraish, while Khuza‘ah were dispossessed of it because of the heresies they introduced there, such as their worship of idols, their erection of them around the Ka‘bah, the animals they sacrificed to them, the humility they displayed toward them, the help they sought from them and the sustenance they requested from them. Qusayy apportioned the valleys of Makkah to the tribes of Quraish and he settled a group of them in its outskirts. All matters pertaining to leadership were in the hands of Qusayy Ibn Kilab, such as the maintenance and custodianship of the House and leadership in all military matters. He built a house for the resolution of disputes, which he called Dar An-Nadwah. When a problem arose, the leaders of all the tribes would meet therein and they would resolve it. But no military covenants or marriage contracts were enacted except in Dar An-Nadwah. The door of this meeting place was opposite the Sacred Mosque. Then this meeting place became the responsibility of Hakeem Ibn Hizam, after Banu ‘Abdud-Dar and he sold it during the era of Mu‘awiyah (May Allah be pleased with him) for a hundred thousand dirhams. Mu‘awiyah (May Allah be pleased with him) rebuked him for selling it, saying, “You have sold the honor of your people for a hundred thousand?” He replied, “By Allah, honor this day is only in piety. I purchased it in the Jahiliyyah for a skin of wine and look now, I have sold it for a hundred thousand dirhams and I call upon you to bear witness that its price is given in charity in Allah’s Cause. So which of us is deceived?” This was mentioned by Ad-Daraqutni in his discussion of the narrators in Al-Muwatta’.

The responsibility for providing water to the pilgrims was in the hands of Qusayy and they would not drink except from his water basins. Zamzam was at that time lost and had been like that since the time of Jurhum and knowledge of it had been forgotten and they were unable to find its location.

Ibn Ishaq said, “This was because Qusayy obliged them to do so; he said to them, “O, people of Quraish! You are Allah’s neighbors, the people of Makkah and the people of the Sacred Precincts and the pilgrims are Allah's guests and the visitors to His House and they are most worthy of hospitality. So prepare for them food and drink during the days of Hajj until they leave you." So they did this, and every year they would pay a tax from their wealth to him and he would use it to prepare food for the people during the days of Mina. Matters continued thus during the Jahiliyyah until the advent of Islam. Then matters continued in Islam and they have remained like this until this day, and that is the food which is prepared by the Sultan every year for the people until the Hajj is completed."

I say: Then this ended after Ibn Ishaq's time. Later, a group from Bait Al-Mal (the Treasury) were ordered to carry food and drink to people traveling to Makkah to perform Hajj. This is a good deed for reasons too numerous to be mentioned, but it should really be the sole responsibility of Bait Al-Mal, because they have the resources to do it. And it would be better if it were taken from the Jews and Christians, because they do not perform pilgrimage to the Ancient House; and it has been stated in the hadeeth, "Whoever is able to perform Hajj and does not do so, then let him die if he wishes as a Jew or a Christian."

Section

Then, when Qusayy became old, he passed the matter of these responsibilities which had been in his hands, such as the leadership of Quraish, Ar-rifadah, As-siqayah, Al-hijabah, Al-liwa' and an-nadwah, to his son, 'Abdud-Dar, who was his eldest son. He selected him to bear all of these responsibilities because his other brothers, 'Abd Manaf, 'Abdul-'Uzza and 'Abd had been honored during their father's lifetime and had achieved their greatest potential and so Qusayy wanted 'Abdud-Dar to attain the same level of leadership as they had. His brothers did not dispute this, but after they had passed away, their sons fell into dispute regarding it. They said, "Qusayy only chose 'Abdud-Dar for this responsibility because he wanted to bring him up to the same level as his brothers, but we deserve what our fathers deserved.” The sons of ‘Abdud-Dar said, “This is a matter that was decided for us by Qusayy, so we have more right to it.” So they disagreed profoundly and the clans of Quraish divided into two groups, one of them pledged their loyalty to ‘Abdud-Dar and entered into an alliance with him, while the other group pledged their loyalty to Banu ‘Abd Manaf and made an alliance with them. To signify this, they placed their hands in a bowl of perfume, then when they stood up, they wiped their hands on the corners of the Ka‘bah, for which reason the alliance became known as the Alliance of the Perfumers. Among the tribes of Quraish who did so were Banu Asad Ibn ‘Abdul-‘Uzza Ibn Qusayy, Banu Zuhrah, Banu Taim and Banul-Harith ibn Fihri. With Banu ‘Abdud-Dar were Banu Makhzoom, Banu Sahm, Banu Jumah and Banu ‘Adiyy. Banu ‘Amir ibn Lu‘ayy and Muharib ibn Fihri abstained and did not side with either group. Then they held peace talks and agreed that Ar-Rifadah and As-Siqayah should be the responsibility of Banu ‘Abd Manaf and that Al-Hijabah, Al-Liwa’ and An-Nadwah should remain in the hands of Banu ‘Abdud-Dar, and the matter was settled in this way and continued thus.

Chapter: Mention of a Group Who Were Renowned in the Jahiliyyah

The Story of Khalid Ibn Sinan Al-‘Absi Who Lived During the Era of AlFatrah

Some claimed that he was a Prophet, and Allah knows better.

Al-Hafiz Abul-Qasim At-Tabarani said, “on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The daughter of Khalid Ibn Sinan came to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he spread out his garment for her and said, “The daughter of a Prophet whose people neglected him.”

And it was narrated by Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Al-Bazzar (May Allah be pleased with him) on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “Khalid ibn Sinan was mentioned in the presence of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he said, “That was a Prophet whose people neglected him.” Then he said, “We do not know of any marfoo‘ version of it except from this source; and Qais Ibn Ar-Rabee‘ was a trustworthy person, except that he had a poor memory; and he had a son who used to insert things into his ahadeeth that did not belong in them. And Allah knows better. It would appear most likely that he was a righteous man who was virtuous and noble, for if he lived during al-fatrah, it has been confirmed in Saheeh Al-Bukhari that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “I am the nearest of all the people to the son of

Maryam, and all the Prophets are paternal brothers, and there has been no Prophet between me and him

(i.e. ‘Eesa).” If he lived before it, then it is impossible that he could have been a Prophet, because Allah,

Most High, says, {to give warning to a people to whom no warner had come before you.} (Soorah AlQasas 28:46). And more than scholar has said that Allah, Most High, did not send any Prophet to the Arabs after Isma‘eel (Peace be upon him) except Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), the Seal of the Prophets, to whom Ibraheem, Al-Khaleel, builder of the venerable Ka‘bah (which was ordained by Allah as the Qiblah for the people of the world) called, and whose advent the Prophets foretold to their peoples, until the last Prophet to foretell of his advent came, i.e. ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam (Peace be upon her). And by this very means one may refute the argument propounded by AsSuhaili and others – which holds that a Prophet from the Arabs, whose name was Shu‘aib ibn Dhee

Mahzam ibn Shu'aib ibn Safwan of Madyan was sent and that Hanzalah ibn Safwan was also sent to the Arabs, but that they belied them and so Allah made Bukhtunassar victorious over them, and that he killed some of them and took others captive, which was similar to the punishment inflicted on the Children of Isra'eel. They also claim that this occurred during the era of Ma'add ibn 'Adnan. But it would appear that these people were righteous men who called to goodness. And Allah knows better. We have already told the story of 'Amr Ibn Luhayy Ibn Qama'ah ibn Khindif in the stories of Khuza'ah, after Jurhum.

Mention of the Story of Hatim At-Ta'i, One of the Generous Folk in the Jahiliyyah

Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Al-Bazzar said in his Musnad, "on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "Hatim was mentioned in the presence of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he said, "That (man) intended something and he attained it." This hadeeth is ghareeb; Ad-Daraqutni said, "

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Adiyy Ibn Hatim (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "I said to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), "My father used to maintain the ties of kinship and do such-and-such; will he have the reward of that?" He replied, "Your father sought something and he attained it."

And in another hadeeth in the Saheeh, that they asked the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) about 'Abdullah Ibn Jud'an Ibn 'Amr Ibn Ka'b Ibn Sa'd Ibn Taim Ibn Murrah and they said to him, "He used to be hospitable toward his guests and he would free slaves and give charity; will that benefit him?" He said, "It would be of no avail to him as he did not ever say: "O, my Lord, pardon my sins on the Day of Resurrection." This was in spite of the fact that he was renowned as one of most generous people in the Jahiliyyah and also one of those who fed the poor during the years of drought and in times of sandstorms.

And Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Al-Baihaqi reported on the authority of ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “Glorified be Allah! I wonder at a Muslim who does not do benefit to his brother Muslim who stands in need of it. If he hopes for rewards and fears punishment, he should hasten toward good conduct as it shows the path of salvation.” On hearing this, a man stood up and said to him, “May my father and mother be ransomed for you, O, Commander of the Faithful! Did you hear it from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)?” ‘Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) replied, “Yes, and (I heard) that which is better than it, when the captives of Tai’ were brought to him, a girl with a rosy complexion, red lips, a fine nose, with a good stature and head, trim ankles, straight legs, good thighs, wide hips and a trim waist arrived and when I saw her, I admired her, so I said, “I will ask the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to make her a part of my share of the spoils, but when she spoke, her eloquence caused me to forget her beauty; she said, “O, Muhammad! If you wish, release me, but don’t dishonor me before the Arab clans. I am the daughter of the leader of my people and my father was the caretaker of my people. He used to set free the captives, feed the hungry, spread peace and never refused any beggar in his time of need. I am the daughter of Hatim Ta’i.” The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “O girl! What you have mentioned about his qualities are the attributes of a true Believer. If your father had been a Believer, we would have treated him with compassion. Set her free, for her father used to love good character and conduct and Allah, Most High, loves good character and conduct.” Then Abu Burdah Ibn Niyar stood up and said, “O, Messenger of Allah! Does Allah love good character and conduct?” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) replied, “By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, No one will enter Paradise unless he has a good character.”

Among the poems composed by Hatim is the following:

If I continued to drink more than my thirst demanded, Because of an intoxicant in the drink, then I would not quench my thirst,

*If I continued to cheat
Should I dishonor my neighbor's wife and deceive my neighbor?*

By Allah, I will not do so as long as I live.

Also from his poetry is the following (Al-Bahr Al-Kamil):

*No neighbor of mine has been harmed,
By not having a screen for his doorway,
I should close my eyes if my neighbor's wife appeared,
Until she was concealed by the curtain.*

Also from the poetry of Hatim (Al-Bahr ul-Wafir) is:

*It is not in my nature to malign my cousin,
Nor do I disappoint one who puts his hope in me,
And the word of an envier without cause,
I heard and said (to it), "Pass by and go through me,"
And they found fault with me for it, but it did not hurt me,
And it did not cause sweat on my brow at all,
And a hypocrite met me face-to-face,*

*And when he was absent, it did not worry me,
And I triumphed over his accusation and was forbearing toward him,*

In order to protect my dignity and my religion.”

Also from his poetry (Al-Bahr ut-Taweel) is:

*O, Umm Malik! Ask the cold and wretched person,
When he came to me, between my fire and my meat,
Did I not smile at him, as if he was the first guest,
And extend my benevolence to him, without rebuke?*

And he also said (Al-Bahrut-Taweel):

*And verily, if you gave your stomach its desire,
And also your loins, they would both receive the utmost censure.*

And Al-Qadi Abul-Faraj Al-Mu‘afa Ibn Zakariyya Al-Jareeri said, “Al-Husain Ibn Al-Qasim Al-Kawkabi told me, “Abul- ‘Abbas
Al-Mubarrid told me, “Ath-Thawri informed me on the authority of ‘Ubaidah that he said, When the following words of Al-Mutalammis reached Hatim At-Ta’i:

If you have but little money and you use it well, it will last,

And much money will not last if you waste it,

And saving money is better than finishing it,

And reckless expenditure, leaving one without provision.

He said, “What is wrong with him? May Allah cut off his tongue! He encourages the people to be miserly; why did he not say (Al-Bahrut-Taweel):

Generosity does not exhaust wealth before its time,

Nor does the miser’s niggardliness increase it,

So do not seek wealth by living a frugal life,

For every tomorrow there is a provision that will return anew,

Do you not see that wealth departs and disappears,

And that the One Who give it to you is not far away?

And Al-Qadi Abul-Faraj said, “He spoke well when he said,

“And that the One Who gives it to you is not far away?”

If he had been a Muslim, it might have been hoped that he might have a good end in the Hereafter; and Allah, Most High, says in His Book, {...and ask Allah of His Bounty} (Soorah An-Nisa’ 4:32), and He, Most High, says, {And when My slaves ask you (O, Muhammad) concerning Me, then (answer them), I am indeed near (to them by My Knowledge). I respond to the invocations of the supplicant when he calls on Me (without any mediator or intercessor)} (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:186).

Mention of Something of the Story of ‘Abdullah ibn Jud’an

He was ‘Abdullah Ibn Jud’an Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Ka’b Ibn Sa’d Ibn Taim Ibn Murrah, the chief of Banu Taim and he was the son of Abu Bakr As-Siddeeq’s great-uncle. He was one of the generous and kind folk in the Jahiliyyah, who used to feed the poor and needy.

Ibn Qutaibah and others mentioned that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “I used to get shelter under the water trough of ‘Abdullah Ibn Jud‘an at noontime.”

In the hadeeth of the killing of Abu Jahl it was mentioned that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to his Companions (May Allah be pleased with them), “Search for him among the dead; you will recognize him by a wound on his knee, for he and I argued regarding a banquet for Ibn Jud‘an and I pushed him and he fell on his knee and it fractured, and the scar of it remains on his knee.” So they found him like that.

It was also said that he used to feed people with dates and saweeq and he would give them milk until he heard the words of Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt:

I have seen the doers and their deeds,

And I have seen that the most generous of them are

Banu Ad-Dayyan,

Their food is wheat mixed with honey,

Not like what Banu Jud‘an give to us.

So Ibn Jud‘an sent two thousand camels bearing wheat, honey and clarified butter to Ash-Sham and he ordered a caller to invite the people every night from the roof of the Ka‘bah to drink from the water trough of Ibn Jud‘an. Umayyah said regarding this:

He has a swift caller in Makkah,

And another atop the Ka‘bah calling,

To bowls full of wheat mixed with honey.

But in spite of all this, it has been confirmed in Saheeh Muslim that ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) said, “O, Messenger of Allah! Verily, Ibn Jud’an used to give food and offer hospitality to the guests; will that benefit him on the Day of the Resurrection?” The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) replied, “No, for he never even once said, “My Lord! Forgive me my sins on the Day of Judgment.”

Mention of Imru’ul-Qais Ibn Hujr Al-Kindi, the Author of One of AlMu‘allaqat

It is one of the most excellent and most famous of them and it begins thus:

Stop and let us weep at the memory of a beloved person and his status.

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Imra’ul-Qais is the bearer of the flag of the poets to the Fire.”

Al-Kalbi mentioned that Imra’ul-Qais came forward with a banner, intending to fight Banu Asad after they had killed his father and he passed by Tabalah, where an idol called Dhul-Khalasah was located. The Arabs used to use divining arrows before it and so he cast the divining arrows and the arrow of prohibition came out. Then he cast them a second time and then a third time, with the same result, so he broke the arrows and struck the face of Dhul-Khalasah with them and said, “I bite your father’s penis! Had it been your father who was murdered, you would not have forbidden me from avenging him. Then he attacked Banu Asad and annihilated them.” Ibn Al-Kalbi said, “And he did not use divining arrows before Dhul-Khalasah after that until the advent of Islam.”

Some said that he celebrated Qaisar, the emperor of Rome, in his poetry and that he supported him in some of the wars that he fought, but that when he requested support from him, he did not receive what he had hoped for from him and so he disparaged him after that. It was said that Caesar had him poisoned as a result of this and that death approached him when he was beside the grave of a woman near to a mountain known as ‘Aseeb and there he wrote:

O, my neighbor, verily, the sanctuary is near,

And I will reside where ‘Aseeb resided,

O, my neighbor, verily, we are both strangers here,

And every stranger is to a fellow stranger a kinsman.

It was said that the seven Mu‘allaqat were attached to the Ka‘bah and this was because when one of the Arabs composed a qaseedah, he would present it to Quraish and if they approved of it, they would affix it to the Ka‘bah in order to honor and venerate it and so the seven Mu‘allaqat, the first of which was by Imru’ul-Qais Ibn Hujr Al-Kindi, were collected from these.

Mention of Something of the Story of Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt Ath-Thaqafi, Who Was One of the Poets of the Jahiliyyah and Who Lived During the Era of Islam

Al-Hafiz ibn ‘Asakir said, “He was Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt ‘Abdullah Ibn Abi Rabee‘ah ibn ‘Awf Ibn ‘Uqdah Ibn ‘Ghiyarah Ibn ‘Awf Ibn Thaqeef Ibn Munabbih Ibn Bakr Ibn Hawazin Abu ‘Uthman.” It was said that he was a righteous man and that at first, he had faith, but later, he deviated from it and that it was he who was referred to in the Words of Allah, Most High: {And recite (O, Muhammad) to them the story of him to whom We gave Our Ayat, but he threw them away, so Shaitan (Satan) followed him up, and he became of those who went astray} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:175)

And 'Abdur-Razzaq said that Ath-Thawri said, "Habeeb Ibn Abi Thabit informed me that 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr said regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: {And recite (O, Muhammad) to them the story of him to whom We gave Our Ayat, but he threw them away, so Shaitan followed him up, and he became of those who went astray} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:175), "He was Umayyah Ibn Abu As-Salt. on the authority of Nafi' Ibn 'Asim Ibn Mas'ood that he said, "I was in a gathering which included 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr and a man from among the people recited the verse which is in Soorah Al-A'raf: {And recite (O, Muhammad) to them the story of him to whom We gave Our Ayat, but he threw them away} (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:175) and he said, "Do you know who he is?" One of them said, "He is Saifi Ibn Ar-Rahib." Another said, "Nay, he is Bal'am, a man from Banu Isra'eel." He said, No." They asked, "Then who?" He replied, "Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt." This was also said by Abu Salih and Al-Kalbi and Qatadah transmitted it from some of them.

And Al-Hafiz Ibn 'Asakir narrated on the authority of Az-Zuhri that he said, "Umayyah ibn Abis-Salt said:

Will not a Messenger come to us from among us, informing us, About what is after our destination, and (who is) from our tribe."

He said, "Then Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt set out for Bahrain and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) announced his Prophethood, and Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt remained in Bahrain for eight years. After that, he traveled to At-Ta'if and he said to them, what does Muhammad Ibn 'Abdullah say?" They said, "He said, "He claims that he is a Prophet and that he is the one you were hoping for." So he set out for Makkah and met with him and he said to him, "O, son of 'Abdul-Muttalib! What is it that you are saying?" He said, "I say that I am the Messenger of Allah and that none has the right to be worshipped but He.” He said, “I wish to speak to you, so meet me tomorrow.” The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Your appointment is on the morrow.” Umayyah said, “Do you desire that I come to you alone, or with a group of my Companions? Or will you come to me alone, or with a group of your companions?” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) replied, “Whatever you wish.” He said, “Then I will come to you in a group.” Ibn ‘Asakir said, “So the next morning, Umayyah came with a group from Quraish and a number of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) also came to him and they sat in the shade of the Ka’bah. Umayyah began to speak and then he began to compose some poetry and to recite it aloud. After he finished reciting it, he said, “Answer me, O, son of ‘Abdul-Muttalib!” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) recited: “ {In the Name of Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful, Ya Seen. (These letters are one of the miracles of the Qur’an, and none but Allah [Alone] knows their meanings). By the Qur’an, full of wisdom (i.e. full of laws, evidences, and proofs)} (Soorah Ya Seen 36:1,2) – until the end of the Soorah. Then Umayyah leapt up and Quraish followed him, saying, “What do you say, O, Umayyah?” He said, “I bear witness that he is following the truth.” They asked, “Will you follow him?” He said, “Until I have considered his case.” Ibn ‘Asakir said, “Umayyah departed for Ash-Sham and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) went to Al-Madinah. When the participants in the Battle of Badr were killed, Umayyah came from Ash-Sham and camped at Badr. Then he set out in search of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and someone asked him, “What do you want, O, Abus-Salt?” He said, “I want Muhammad.” The questioner asked him, “And what will you do?” He said, “I will declare my belief in him and place my fate in his hands.” The questioner asked him, “Do you know who is in the well?” Umayyah said, “No.” He said, “In it are ‘Utbah Ibn Rabee‘ah and Shaibah Ibn Rabee‘ah, who are your maternal uncle’s sons and his (your uncle’s) mother is Rabee‘ah

Bint ‘Abd Shams.’ On hearing this, he cut off the ears and tail of his she-camel, then he stood beside the well and recited a long poem, lamenting the loss of life:

*What was in Badr? It was as a valley full of people,
Who are ready and willing to rush to one’s aid,
Badr was a battle where swords were flashing,
As the warriors moved across the sands,
The warriors were of all ages and sizes and very strong,
Can you not see what I see? The battle was very clear,
Can you not see that Makkah has become strong and ferocious?
Warriors were like friends who loved one another,
They were like kings during the battle,
They were tall, muscular and very strong,
And they did whatever they wanted during the battle,
Everything they said and did was good,
They were generous and used to feed people,
From the best food available to them,
There were giant pans full of food,
And they had food for whoever wanted it,
Their homes were always open and welcoming to guests,*

*They gave them anything that they needed,
And they gave them camels from the valley of Baladih,
Their generosity is more than any in the world,
They gave to people without counting the cost,
They are betrayed by people and they are the defenders,
When they fight with their swords,
They compete to be first on the battlefield,
I was sad when I heard them screaming on the battlefield,
May Allah bless the married and the single ones among them,
When they approached, the enemy would retreat in fear,
They advanced on their horses and ate up the distance,
And galloped for a long time, their heads held High,
These horses are like lions, strong and aggressive,
When the armies met with each other face to face,
They were as close as people shaking hands,
They were magnificent, thousand upon thousand,
Including those wearing armor and those bearing spears.
Then he returned to Makkah and At-Ta'if and abandoned Islam.*

Some said that he used to study the languages of animals and that while on a journey, he passed by a bird and he said to his companions, “This bird says such-and-such.” And they said, “We do not know the truth of what he is saying,” until they passed by a flock of sheep and they saw that an ewe and its lamb had become detached from the rest of the flock. He looked toward it and it bleated, as if it was prompting it to hasten and he said, “Do you know what it is saying to its lamb?” They said, “No.” He said, “It is saying, “Let us hasten, so that the wolf does not come and eat you, just as it ate your brother last year.” So they hurried on until they met the shepherd and they asked him if a wolf had eaten one of his sheep last year in that place, and he said, “Yes.” It was also said that one day he passed by a camel being ridden by a woman and it was raising its head toward her and foaming at the mouth. He said, “It is saying to her, “You are riding me and under the saddle there is a needle.” So they made the woman dismount and they removed the saddle and found underneath it a needle, as he had said.

And it has been confirmed in an authentic hadeeth on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “The truest word spoken by a poet was the saying of Labeed:

– and Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt almost embraced Islam.”

And Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Ash-Shareed (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “I was riding mounted behind the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he said to me, “Do you know any of Umayyah Ibn Abis-Salt’s poetry?” I replied, “Yes.” He said, “Then recite it to me.” So I recited a verse to him and after each verse I recited to him, he would say, “Yes,” until I had recited a hundred verses to him. Then the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) remained silent, so I became silent.”

It was also narrated thus by Imam Muslim, and in some narrations, it was stated, “Then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, Be it that he almost embraced Islam.”

And it was narrated on the authority of Al-Asma‘i that he used to recite from the poetry of Umayyah:

*Praise Allah, for He is Worthy of praise,
Our Lord is in the highest place,
(He is praised) highly in the evening,
In the highest edifice, which preceded,
The creation of mankind and He fashioned,
Above the heaven a Throne which is carried,
No eye has seen it, even the angels who bear it,
Avert their gaze from it.*

Also from the admirable poetry of Umayyah is:

*They do not violate the earth when they ask,
As if they are searching for excuses with sticks,
Rather, their faces shine and you see them,
When they ask, in the best color,
And when the poor man rises in the midst of their steeds,
They refer him to the Lord of the horses and the slaves,*

And if you called them to every misfortune,

They would block the rays of the sun with their horses.

Mention of Quss Ibn Sa'idah Al-Iyadi

It is reported on the authority of 'Ubadah Ibn As-Samit that he said, "A delegation visited the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) from Iyad and he said to them, "O, members of the delegation of Iyad! What has happened to Quss Ibn Sa'idah Al-Iyadi?" They replied, "He has died, O, Messenger of Allah." He said, "I witnessed him one day on the market of 'Ukaz, on a red camel, speaking admirable and elegant words, which I find myself unable to remember." Then a Bedouin from among the most remote people stood up and said, "I remember them, O, Messenger of Allah!" On hearing this, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) looked pleased. The Bedouin said, "He was in the market of 'Ukaz, on a red camel and he said:

O, assembly of people! Gather round, for all those who pass away have gone, And everything that is to come will come,

A dark night, a starry evening and a roaring sea,

Stars that shine, firmly fixed mountains and flowing rivers,

Verily, in the heaven there is a message,

And in the earth there is a warning, Why do I see the people going and not returning?

Are they happy to stand in prayer and so they pray?

*Or do they abandon it and sleep?
Quss swears an oath to Allah,
Of which there is no doubt,
Verily, Allah's Religion is more pleasing,
Than this religion if yours.
Then he recited these verses:
In those of the earlier generations who have gone,
There are insights for us,
When I saw the destinations of the dead,
Without origins,
And I saw my people like them,
The great and small depart,
None of those who have departed come to you,
And none of those who remain have departed,
I am certain that it is inevitable, That I shall go where they have gone.
Its isnad is ghareeb from this source.*

Al-Jarood Ibn Al-Mu'alla Ibn Hanash Ibn Mu'alla Al-'Abdi was a Christian who was renowned for his explanation and exegesis of the Scriptures and he was knowledgeable regarding the history and parables of Persia. He was also a learned philosopher and physician, shrewd, well mannered and handsome in appearance. He possessed great wealth and property and he was one of a delegation from 'Abdul-Qais, all of whom were intelligent and eloquent men, who visited the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and when he met the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), he stood in front of him and began to declaim:

O, Prophet of guidance! Men have come to you,

Having crossed vast tracts of desert,

And traversed barren lands to reach you,

And they did not consider tiredness,

In their eagerness to see you,

All of Bahma' avert their eyes from them,

As they spurred on their steeds,

They raced to traverse it,

In armor, like twinkling stars,

Seeking to avert the harm of a great Day,

Terrible, paining the hearts and frightening,

When all of creation will be gathered,

Estranged and separated,

For those who persisted in error,

They rode toward Light from the Deity,

*And in order to find proof and piety,
Allah has chosen you, o, son of Aminah,
For goodness, since clouds filled with rain have come,
So let great good come from you, o, Proof of Allah,
For there is no good for one who stays behind.*

After he finished, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) approached him and sat close to him, then he said to him, "O, Jarood! The promise for you and your people has been delayed." AlJarood replied, "May my father and mother be ransomed for you! Has not whoever delayed in coming to you lost his opportunity? And that would be the greatest sin and the worst punishment. I am not among those who have seen you or heard of you and then opposed you and followed someone other than you. I am presently a follower of the faith that you know (i.e. Christianity). I have come to you and here and now, I abandon it in favor of your Religion. Does that purify the sins, misdeeds and offenses that I have committed, and does such an action from the slave please the Lord?" The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to him, "I guarantee that for you; now devote yourself to belief in Allah's Oneness and leave behind you the religion of Christianity." Al-Jarood replied, "May my father and mother be ransomed for you! Extend your hand, for I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah, Alone, without partners and I bear witness that you, Muhammad, are His slave and His Messenger." So he embraced Islam and those with him from his people also embraced Islam. The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was happy with their Islam and showed them such hospitality as pleased them and delighted them. Then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) came to them and said, "Is there anyone among you who is acquainted with Quss Ibn Sa'idah AlIyadi?" Al-Jarood replied,

“May my father and mother be ransomed for you! All of us know him and I am the best acquainted of all of them with him and his circumstances. Quss, O, Messenger of Allah, was one of the sons of the Arabs; he lived for six hundred years, of which five were spent in the deserts and wastelands, raising his voice in glorification (of Allah), in imitation of the Messiah, during which time he remained unsettled, had no home to shelter him and heard not the sound of any neighbor. He used to wear hair shirts and travel alone for the purpose of worship and he never tired of his monasticism. He used to drink from ostrich eggs and keep the company of reptiles and vermin. He enjoyed the darkness. He would look and reflect and he would think and seek information. As a result of all this, his name became a byword for wisdom and terrors were removed through him. He was a contemporary of the head of the Disciples, Sam‘an (Simon) and he was the first person from among the Arabs to believe in Allah’s Oneness and devote himself to His service and to declare his certain belief in the Resurrection and the Reckoning. He warned the people against an evil return (i.e. the Hellfire) and he ordered them to do good deeds before it was too late and warned them against death. He submitted to Allah’s Divine Decree – whether in times of ease or in times of hardship – and he composed laments in poetic verse and he used to visit graves. He reminded them of the Resurrection and contemplated Allah’s Divine Ordainments. He demonstrated his knowledge and wisdom in numerous ways, pointing out to the people the many proofs of Allah’s existence in creation: in the heavens and the Earth, in the rotation of night and day, in the sun and the moon, in the wind and the rain, the land and the seas, in the existence of male and female throughout nature and many more signs too numerous to mention. He declared that Allah is One God, that He was not born and that He has no father, that He gives life and causes death. He called upon them to dwell on the fate of ‘Ad and Thamood and the fate of their fathers and their forefathers. He told them that all of them would have their just deserts in the Hereafter, good for good and evil for evil.” And it is he who said:

*Remembrance of Allah fills the heart with love,
As night is followed by day,
And dark clouds filled with rain,
Pour down water, and inside them is fire,
Its light blinds the eyes and,
Violent thunder causes hearts to flutter,
And lofty palaces are filled with goodness,
While others are empty and devoid of it,
And high mountains are firmly anchored,
And seas whose waters are abundant,
And stars that shine in the darkness of night,
We see them every day revolving,
Then a sun that is urged on by the evening moon,
And each follows the other in succession,
And young, grey-haired and old,
All of them will be equal on a Day that is coming,
And their minds will be unable to imagine,
And all of these things that I have mentioned,
Show the hearts the way to Allah,*

Those that are rightly-guided and reflect.

The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “No matter what I forget, I will never forget him in the market of ‘Ukaz, sitting on his red camel and addressing the people thus: “Gather and listen, and if you hear, remember it and if you remember it, then benefit from it. And speak, and if you speak, speak the truth. Whoever lives will die and whoever dies will pass away. And everything that comes comes, rain and plants and the living and the dead.”

Mention of Zaid Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Nufail (May Allah be pleased with him)

It is reported on the authority of Asma’ Bint Abu Bakr (may Allah be Pleased with them both) that she said, “I saw Zaid Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Nufail leaning his back against the Ka‘bah and he was saying, “O, assembly of Quraish! By Him in Whose Hand is Zaid’s soul, none of you is following the Religion of Ibraheem but I.” Then he said, “O, Allah! If I but knew the most beloved way to You, I would worship

You thereby, but I do not know.” Then he prostrated on his camel.” This is how it was narrated also by Abu Usamah, on the authority of Hisham. He added, “He used to pray toward the Ka‘bah and he would say, “My God is the God of Ibraheem and my Religion is the Religion of Ibraheem.” And he used to save girls from being buried alive, saying to the man who intended to kill his daughter, “Do not kill her. Give her to me and I will be her guardian. Then, when she had grown up, he would say, “If you wish, take her and if you wish, leave her.” This was narrated by An-Nasa’i by way of Usamah and Al-Bukhari included it in a mu‘allaq form.

And Abu Dawood At-Tayalisi said, “I was informed by Al-Mas‘oodi on the authority of Nufail Ibn Hisham Ibn Sa‘eed Ibn Zaid Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Nufail Al-‘Adawi, on the authority of his father, who in turn reported on the authority of his grandfather, that Zaid

Ibn ‘Amr and Waraqah Ibn Nawfal set out in search of the (true) Religion and they traveled until they reached a monk in Al-Mawsil. The monk said to Zaid Ibn ‘Amr, “From where have you come, O, owner of the camel?” He replied, “From the sons of Ibraheem.” He asked, “And for what are you searching?” He said, “I am searching for the (true) Religion.” He said, “Return, for it is about to appear in your land.” He said, “As for Waraqah, he became a Christian, and as for myself, I decided to follow Christianity, but it did not suit me.” So he returned, reciting:

Here I am, at Your service in truth,

Worshipping and as a slave,

It is piety that I desire and I seek not to beguile,

So should I migrate, like the one who said,

“I have believed in that in which Ibraheem believed,”

O, Allah I shall remain obedient to You,

No matter what hardships I may undergo,

I shall certainly bear them.

Then he fell down and prostrated. The narrator said, “Then his son, i.e. Sa‘eed Ibn Zaid (May Allah be pleased with him), one of the ten who were promised Paradise came and said, “O, Messenger of Allah! If my father was as I have seen and as you have been informed, then ask forgiveness for him.” He said, “Yes, for he will be sent forth on the Day of Resurrection as a nation of one.”

Zaid Ibn ‘Amr came to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), and with him was Zaid Ibn Harithah (May Allah be pleased with him) and they were eating from a table belonging to them. They invited him to eat their food, but Zaid Ibn ‘Amr said, “O, my nephew! I do not eat of that which has been slaughtered on stone altars.”

And Al-Bukhari narrated in his Saheeh on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) met Zaid Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Nufail at the bottom of (the valley of) Baldah before any Divine Inspiration came to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). A meal was presented to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) but he refused to eat from it. (Then it was presented to Zaid (May Allah be pleased with him)) who said, “I do not eat anything which you slaughter in the name of your stone idols. I eat none but those things on which Allah’s Name has been mentioned at the time of slaughtering.” Zaid Ibn ‘Amr used to criticize the way Quraish slaughtered their animals, and he used to say, “Allah has created the sheep and He has sent the water for it from the sky, and He has grown the grass for it from the earth, yet you slaughter it in other than the Name of Allah.” He used to say this because he rejected that practice and considered it as something abominable.”

And Ibn ‘Asakir cited here a number of ahadeeth which are very strange and in some of them there are extremely objectionable things. Then he related from numerous sources from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said, “He will be sent forth on the Day of Resurrection as a nation of one.” Among them was the narration of Muhammad Ibn ‘Uthman Ibn Abi Shaibah: on the authority of Jabir that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was asked if Zaid Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Nufail used to face the Qiblah in the Jahiliyyah and he said, “That man will be brought forth as a nation of one, between me and ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam.” Its isnad is jayyid, (good) hasan (sound).

And Al-Baghandi narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) that she said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) I entered Paradise and I saw two tall trees with many branches for Zaid Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Nufail.” Its isnad is jayyid and it is not in any of the books.

And from the poetry of Zaid Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Nufail is the following:

To Allah my praise and extolment are directed,

And pleasing words which time does naught to diminish,

To the Highest King, above Whom there is no god,

Nor any lord that approximates Him.

Also from his poetry affirming Allah’s Oneness are the following verses related by Muhammad Ibn Ishaq, Az-Zubair Ibn Bakkar and others:

I have submitted my countenance to the One to Whom,

The earth, which bears heavy rocks, has submitted,

He spread it and when it was leveled,

He made it firm and anchored the mountains,

And I have submitted my countenance to the One to Whom,

The clouds, which bear sweet, cold water, have submitted,

If they are sent to a land, they obey and pour abundant rain on it,

And I have submitted my countenance to the One to Whom,

The wind has submitted, when it is directed hither and thither.

The Story of the Re-Excavation of Zamzam

‘Abdul-Muttalib said, “While I was sleeping in my room, someone came to me, saying, “Dig Teebah.” I said, “What is Teebah?” Then he went away. The next day, I retired to my bed and while I was sleeping, he came to me saying, “Dig Barrah.” I said, “What is Barrah?” Then he left me and on the next day, I retired to my bed and while I was sleeping, he came to me and said, “Dig Al-Madnoonah.” I asked, “What is Al-Madnoonah?” Then he left me and on the following day, I retired to my bed and while I was sleeping, he came to me and said, “Dig Zamzam.” I asked, “What is Zamzam?” He replied, “It will never be depleted, nor will its water decrease. It is to provide water for the Hajj pilgrims. It is between the blood and the entrails, where the white-footed raven raps, near the ants’ nest.” He said, “When he had made its situation clear to me and directed me to its location I knew that he had spoken the truth.” He then took his adze and accompanied by his son, Al-Harith Ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib – who was his only son at that time – and he dug until he found what had been concealed, upon which he called out, “Allahu Akbar!” Immediately, Quraish realized that he had found what he was looking for.” Ibn Ishaq said, “This is what was conveyed to me on the authority of ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) regarding Zamzam.” He added, “And I have heard one who spoke regarding ‘Abdul-Muttalib saying that it was said to him when he ordered the digging of Zamzam,

Then call for sweet water, not muddy,

To provide water for Allah’s Hajj pilgrims in every place,

That no person need fear, as long as it lasts.

He said, “When this was said to ‘Abdul-Muttalib, he came out to Quraish and said, “Do you know that I was ordered to excavate Zamzam?” They said, “Was it made clear to you where it was?” He said, “No.” They said, “Then return to your bed where you saw what you saw and if it is the truth from Allah, he will make it clear to you, but if it is from Shaitan, he will not return to you.” So he returned home and slept and someone came to him and it was said to him, “Excavate Zamzam; if you excavate it, you will not regret it. It is an inheritance from your illustrious forefather. It will never be depleted, nor will its water decrease and it will provide water for the mass of pilgrims. It is like a shying ostrich and it is not shared. Let a person vow (to water them with it) and it will flow generously. It will be an inheritance and firm covenant. It does not belong to some, as you know; and it is between the blood and the entrails.

And Ibn Ishaq and others mentioned that during the time of ‘Abdul-Muttalib, there were many wells in Makkah prior to the appearance of Zamzam. Ibn Ishaq enumerated them, named them and mentioned their locations in Makkah, along with the names of those who dug them. Then he said, “Then Zamzam eliminated all of the wells and all of the people turned to it because of its location in the Sacred Mosque and its superiority over waters, for it was the well of Isma‘eel, son of Ibraheem (peace be upon them both). Banu ‘Abd Manaf vaunted their superiority over all of Quraish and all of the other Arabs because of it. And it has been confirmed in Saheeh Muslim in a hadeeth relating the story of how Abu Dharr (May Allah be pleased with him) embraced Islam, that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said of Zamzam, “It serves as a food and it is a cure for the sick.” And in another narration, “The water of Zamzam is for whatever purpose it was drunk for.”

The Story of ‘Abdul-Muttalib’s Vow to Sacrifice One of His Sons

Ibn Ishaq said, “According to what is claimed, due to the attitude of Quraish toward his digging of Zamzam, ‘Abdul-Muttalib vowed that if ten sons were born to him and they all survived to reach manhood, he would sacrifice one of them to Allah beside the Ka‘bah. When his sons numbered ten, he knew that Quraish would try to prevent him – and they were Al-Harith, Az-Zubair, Hajl, Dirar, AlMuqawam, Abu Lahab, Al-‘Abbas, Hamzah, Abu Talib, and ‘Abdullah – he gathered them and informed them of his vow and he called upon them to fulfill it for Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful and they obeyed him, asking him, “What will you do?” He replied, “Each of you will take a divining arrow and then he will write his name on it, then all of you come to me.” They did as he asked and then they came to him and he went with them to the idol, Hubal, which was inside the Ka‘bah. Hubal was near a well inside the Ka‘bah. It was at this well that donations to the Ka‘bah were stored. Beside Hubal there were seven divining arrows, which they used to use to seek judgments when any matter was difficult for them, such as bloodwit, paternity or any other problem. They would go there and cast their arrows and whatever the arrows ordered or forbade, they would fulfill it.

What is meant is that when ‘Abdul-Muttalib came and cast the divining arrows beside Hubal, the arrow on which ‘Abdullah’s name was written came up. He was his youngest son and the most beloved of them to him. But he took ‘Abdullah by the hand and took his knife and approached Isaf and Na’ilah, with the intention of sacrificing his son before them. But Quraish left their assemblies and tried to prevent him, saying, “What do you intend, O, ‘Abdul-Muttalib?” He said, “(I intend to) sacrifice him.” Quraish and his sons – the brothers of ‘Abdullah – said to him, “By Allah, you shall never sacrifice him unless there is some valid reason for it! If you do so, men will continue to come and sacrifice their sons and the people cannot remain upon such a custom.”

The Story of ‘Abdullah’s Giving of His Son, ‘Abdullah in Marriage to Aminah Bint Wahb Az-Zuhriyyah

Ibn Ishaq said, “Then ‘Abdul-Muttalib left, taking his son, ‘Abdullah by the hand and according to what is claimed, he passed by a woman from Banu Asad Ibn ‘Abdul-‘Uzza Ibn Qusayy, whose name was Umm Qannal; she was the sister of Waraqah Ibn Nawfal Ibn Asad Ibn ‘Abdul-‘Uzza Ibn Qusayy and she was beside the Ka‘bah. She looked at his face and she asked, “Where are you going, o, ‘Abdullah?” He said, “With my father.” She said, “You can have the like of the camels that were slaughtered in your stead if you will have intimate relations with me.” But he said, “I am with my father and I cannot disobey him or leave him.” So ‘Abdul-Muttalib departed with him and went to Wahb Ibn ‘Abd Manaf Ibn Zuhrah Ibn Kilab Ibn Murrah Ibn Ka‘b Ibn Lu‘ayy Ibn Ghalib Ibn Fihri, who was at that time the leader of Banu

Zuhrah, being the oldest of them and the noblest, and he gave ‘Abdullah to his daughter, Aminah Bint Wahb in marriage, who at that time was the head of the women of her tribe. It is claimed that he consummated his marriage to her as soon as he had transferred her to his home and that she became pregnant with the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). Then he left her and went to the woman who had offered herself to him and he said to her, “Why do you not offer to me today what you offered me yesterday?” She said to him, “The light that was with you yesterday has left you and so I have no need of you.” She used to hear from her brother, Waraqah Ibn Nawfal, who had embraced Christianity and read the Scriptures, that there would be a Prophet from this nation and so she desired that he should be born to her. But Allah made him to be from the finest and noblest stock, as Allah, Most High, says, {Allah (SWT) knows best with whom to place His Message.} (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:124)

Preface to the Revision

In the Name of Allah (SWT), the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful

All praise and thanks be to Allah (SWT), Who revived knowledge of His religion and caused it to blossom forth after it had all but disappeared, and Who demolished the false conjectures of the apostates. I praise Him and I seek refuge with Him from the sins which weigh upon the backs of mankind. I worship Him and seek His aid in removing hindrances and difficulties in the practice of my religion. I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped except Allah (SWT), Alone, without partners and I bear witness that Muhammad – who, by Allah’s leave, brought about the dawn of faith to the darkness and misguidance which existed in the hearts of mankind – is the slave and Messenger of Allah. May the Blessings and Peace of Allah be upon him in perpetuity.

O, Allah! We seek Your favor and through You we seek to ward off affliction. We ask You to protect us and to grant us mercy. Our Lord! Make not our hearts deviate after You have already guided us. Make it easy for us to perform our deeds in the way that You have taught us. Make us grateful for what You have given us and make plain a path for us which leads to You. Open up the doors between us and You by which we may arrive before You. To You belong the keys to the heavens and the Earth and You are Most Able to do all things. To proceed:

Among the blessings which Allah (SWT) has bestowed upon us, the community of Muslims is that He has made it easy for us to follow the path of guidance, and He has opened the doors of knowledge by making available to us these new publications, which present to us the writings of the early scholars and reveal to us what they said regarding legal verdicts, history, events, information and lessons. These scholars opened a clear beacon of light for all those Muslims seeking guidance and they set up for us a signpost in which there is neither deviation nor crookedness. Whoever follows it will arrive safely at his desired destination and whoever diverts from it will be lost forever. They have written these books and treatises and made clear to us therein events, information and virtues. Among such books is this unique work, Al-Bidayah Wan-Nihayah, by the Imam, the Hafiz, the master scholar of hadeeth, ‘Imaduddeen Isma‘eel Ibn Katheer Al-Qurashi – may Allah have mercy on him. This book was greeted with approval by the vast majority of Muslims. No Islamic library would be complete without it. In it, the author has recorded what Allah, Most High has made easy for him about the history of mankind, from the beginning of creation, starting with the creation of the Throne and the Kursi (Footstool), the heavens and the Earth and all that they contain and all that lies between them, such as the angels, the jinn and the devils. He also described how Adam (Peace be upon him) was created, and told the stories of the prophets up to the days of the Children of Isra‘eel and the Days of Ignorance (Jahiliyyah), until the advent of Prophet Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), which heralded the end of Prophethood. He then recorded his Seerah. Then he recorded the events which took place up to his own time. He also spoke of the trials and battles, the signs of the approach of the Hour, then the sending forth of mankind and the terrors of the Resurrection, which he described in detail. He then described the Hell-fire, with all its horrors, and Paradise and all the good things contained therein. He called this particular volume of his book: AnNihayah Fil-Fitan Wal-Malahim (The Ending in Trials and Battles). As for the book which is in our hands today, it is Al-Bidayah.

By Allah's Grace, I came to know brother Abdul Malik Mujahid, the general manager of Darussalam Publishing in Riyadh. He visited me in my humble office in Damascus and suggested to me the idea of creating a summarized version of this wonderful book. I prayed for Allah's Guidance in the matter and sought help from Him in completing the project. Allah (SWT) enabled me to make the acquaintance of a number of people of knowledge and experience in this field and a plan of action for the work was written. It consisted of ten principal points and we then started the task, seeking help from the Lord of the heavens and the Earth. All of us exerted our utmost efforts in this task, making repeated revisions and corrections, until we reached the point where, by Allah's Permission, we completed it and it was published in the form which is in your hands today.

The Plan of Action for This Book:

1. Summarization of the text. This was achieved by concentrating on the most important events narrated in the book. In doing so, we took care not to leave out any important details which would cause loss of meaning or import.
2. We relied on a number of printed and handwritten copies of the book and in cases where any contradiction or omission was found, we succeeded in establishing the most accurate and authentic text.
3. We left out the ahadeeth which proved to be baseless or weak and confined ourselves to the ahadeeth which are authentic or hasan and those which are acceptable due to the existence of other supporting narrations. On rare occasions, when it was found that there were no other ahadeeth in the chapter, we included some weak ahadeeth whose weakness was not of an extreme nature.

4. We performed takhreej of the ahadeeth with ascription of the number of the section and the page, the number of the hadeeth and in many cases, the precise location of the hadeeth in the original source, then the ruling on its authenticity, if it was not from the Saheehain, because the ahadeeth therein do not require any ruling on their authenticity and they have been widely accepted by the Muslim Ummah. As for the ahadeeth in this book, we have relied on the opinions of the Imams and scholars of hadeeth – including the earlier scholars, the later scholars and those of the present day. On some occasions, we have recorded the weak ahadeeth, while making it plain that they are not authentic. We have not omitted them because the author has included them in order to warn the people against them due to their widespread popularity amongst the Muslims in general. In such cases, we desired not to oppose the author in this effort and so we left them, at the same time making the scholars’ ruling on them clear, so as to warn the people against them.
5. We summarized the asaneed present in the book, in most cases mentioning only the Companion who narrated the hadeeth, or the person who reported it from him.
6. We omitted many of the Isra’eeliyyat found in this book which the author referred to in the preface, where he said: “We do not record the Isra’eeliyyat except those which the Lawgiver has permitted, i.e., those which do not contradict the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). These are stories which are neither believed nor belied and they have been recorded because they provide details of unclarified narratives that we have, or they provide names for people and places that have only been mentioned in passing in our Revelation, due to there being no benefit in specifying them for us. Thus we have reported them in order to provide extra detail and not with the intention of citing them as evidence or placing any reliance on them. Only the Book of Allah and the authentic Sunnah of His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) may be relied and depended upon. It is from Allah that we seek help and it is He in Whom we place our trust; there is no help and no power except in Allah, the All-Powerful, the Most Wise, the Most High, the Almighty.

7. In some instances, we have referred back to the original manuscript in order to verify the wording of a hadeeth from its source. In some cases, the author has combined two narrations of the same hadeeth together and so where this has occurred, we have noted it and separated the two narrations, placing our own words between brackets, i.e., (and in another narration...) and we have also identified the source of the addition in the footnotes.
8. We have written the Qur'anic Verses in the Uthmani script, in conformity with the copy of the Qur'an published by Al-Madinah Al-Munawwarah Printing Complex.
9. We vowelised the words of many of the ahadeeth in the book and, in addition, the poetic verses, wherever possible.
10. We mentioned the meters of the poetic verses between parentheses.
11. We explained the meanings of some difficult or obscure words, relying on dictionaries, books containing ghareeb ahadeeth and narrations and other sources.

12. We furnished a brief biography of the author, Hafiz Ibn Katheer though in reality, he requires no introduction and no description.

Finally, I ask Allah, Most High, to accept this humble work from us and to acknowledge it as having been done purely and sincerely with the aim of pleasing Him and to grant us and our brothers, who assisted us in the production of this book, pardon and forgiveness in religious and secular matters. In addition, we ask Him that He include this work in the weight of our good deeds on the Day of Resurrection – a Day on which neither wealth nor sons will benefit anyone – except for those whom Allah has blessed with pure hearts.

And our final declaration is that all praise and thanks are due to Allah, and we invoke blessings and peace upon Prophet Muhammad and upon all his righteous family and Companions until the Day of Reckoning.

Publisher's Preface

Verily, all praise and thanks are due to Allah (SWT). We seek His aid and we ask forgiveness of Him. We seek refuge with Allah (SWT) from the wickedness in ourselves. Whomsoever Allah (SWT) guides, there is none who can misguide him and whomsoever He sends astray, there is none who can guide him. I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah and that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger. He sent him with guidance and the true Religion and with the light (of truth), the admonition and wisdom, at a time when no Messengers were sent for a long period, when there was little religious knowledge and the people had gone astray, when the Hour was drawing nearer. Whoever obeys Allah (SWT) and His Messenger has followed the right course, while whoever disobeys Allah (SWT) and His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) erred from it and gone far astray. To proceed:

The book Al-Bidayah (The Beginning) by the Hafiz, the Imam, the scholarly critic, Ibn Katheer is an incomparable work regarding the study of the events and their chronological order, the knowledge of which he strove hard to acquire. He began by describing the start of creation – from the creation of the Throne and the Kursi and the heavens and the Earth and all that is in them and all that lies between them, such as the angels, the jinn and the devils and he described the manner of Adam's creation (Peace be upon him). He recounted the stories of the Prophets and the events that took place therein, up to the times of the Children of Isra'eel and the Days of Ignorance, which ended with the advent of the final Prophet, Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). Then he gave a detailed description of his life and what happened after that, up to the time in which he, lived. He then wrote a separate volume called An-Nihayah Fil – Fitān Wal-Malahim (The Ending With Trials and Great Battles).

Furthermore, Allah (SWT) inspired us to undertake the noble task of making this book easily accessible to both the students and the scholars and then to translate it into several languages, by Allah's Permission.

I suggested to my brother, Yoosuf Al-Hajj, the necessity of summarizing this book in a suitable manner, through the omission of unbeneficial repetition, weak ahadeeth, lengthy poems, etc. I am thankful to brother Yoosuf for assembling a team that consisted of Abdul Malik Wadih, Abu Muslim Al-

Jaza'iri, Muwaffeq Khaleel Hammad, and himself. Darussalam funded the entire project, paying each team member for his contribution and work. After they completed their portion of the project, the work then went through numerous people in the Research Division of Darussalam, who meticulously went through the work, adding and subtracting materials. After this, the project went through another round of editing of the Arabic material before it was sent to the translation department. The translation was then checked for accuracy and then sent for editing, resulting in the final project that you see before you. All praise and thanks be to Allah (SWT) for allowing us to produce such a classical work for the first time in the English language.

O Allah! We ask that You bless us with sincerity and success and that You spread goodness through our hands.

The Biography of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)

And a Report of His Times, His Battles, His Military Campaigns, the Delegations That Came to Him, His Qualities, His Virtues and His Signs

Chapter on Mention of His Illustrious Lineage and the Nobility of His Excellent Origins

Allah, Most High, says, "Allah knows best with whom to place His Message" (Soorah Al-An'am 6:124) and when Hiraql (Heraclius), the emperor of Rome, asked Abu Sufyan about his characteristics, "What is his family status amongst you?" Abu Sufyan replied, "He belongs to a good (noble) family amongst us." After asking several more questions, he said, "In fact, all the Messengers come from such families amongst their respective peoples." That is, from among the noblest of them and the largest of their tribes – may Allah's Blessings be upon them all.

He is the master of the sons of Adam (Peace be upon him) and the most honorable of them in the life of this world and in the Hereafter: Abul-Qasim and Abu Ibrahim, Muhammad and Ahmad, the Eradicator, through whom disbelief was eradicated, the final Prophet, after whom there will be no prophet, the Gatherer, who gathered the people (to follow) in his footsteps, the Follower (of all other Prophets), the Prophet of Repentance, the Prophet of War, the Seal of the Prophets, the Conqueror, Ta Ha, Ya Seen and 'Abdullah.

Al-Baihaqi said, "Some of the scholars added that Allah called him a Messenger, a Prophet, Unlettered, a Witness and Bearer of Glad Tidings, a Warner, a Caller to Allah, by His Permission, a Lamp Spreading Light, Compassionate and Merciful, a Blessing and a Guide in the Qur'an.”

He is the son of ‘Abdullah, who was the youngest of his father, ‘Abdul-Muttalib’s children and he was the second sacrifice, who was ransomed for a hundred camels.

Imam Abu Ja‘afar Ibn Jareer – may Allah have mercy on him – spoke at the opening of his Tareekh about this in great detail and in a clear and beneficial manner. A Hadith has been related in which he claimed while on the pulpit that he was descended from ‘Adnan. But Allah knows better with regard to its authenticity. Likewise, Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of Abu Bakr Ibn ‘AbdurRahman Ibn Al-Harith Ibn Hisham, “The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was informed that some men from Kindah were claiming that they were from him and he was from them. He said, 'Al-‘Abbas and Abu Sufyan Ibn Harb only used to say that when they came to Al-Madinah, in order to be given safety there and they were given safety, but we will not deny our forefathers; we are Banu AnNadr Ibn Al-Kindah.' He said that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) delivered a sermon in which he said, 'I am Muhammad, son of ‘Abdullah, son of ‘Abdul-Muttalib, son of Hashim, son of ‘Abd Manaf, son of Qusayy, son of Kilab, son of Murrah, son of Ka‘b, son of Lu'ayy, son of Ghalib, son of Fihir, son of Malik, son of An-Nadr, son of Kinanah, son of Khuzaimah, son of Mudrikah, son of Ilyas, son of Mudar, son of Nizar. And people do not split into two groups except that Allah has made me in the best of them. I have been produced from between my two parents and I am not affected by anything from the iniquity of the Jahiliyyah. I came forth from marriage and I did not come forth from fornication – from the time of Adam until I was born of my parents – and I am the best of you in soul and the best of you in lineage.'” This Hadith is very ghareeb, from the Hadith of Malik. Al-Qudami was alone in narrating it and he is weak. But we shall cite supporting narrations and other sources for it. Among them is the saying of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that "I came forth from marriage, not from fornication."

And ‘Abdur-Razzaq narrated on the authority of Abu Ja‘afar Al-Baqir regarding the Words of Allah, Most High: "Verily, there has come unto you a Messenger (Muhammad) from amongst yourselves (i.e. whom you know well)." (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:128) that it means that he was not affected by anything of the birth of the Jahiliyyah. He said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "I came forth from marriage and I did not come forth from fornication." And this is mursal, jayyid. Al-Baihaqi also narrated it, on the authority of Ja‘afar Ibn Muhammad, on the authority of his father. He said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Verily, Allah produced me from marriage and He did not produce me from fornication."

And it has been confirmed in Saheeh Al-Bukhari on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'I was sent from the best of generations of the sons of Adam, generation after generation, until the generation in which I was sent'."

And in Saheeh Muslim on the authority of Wathilah Ibn Al-Asqa‘ that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Verily, Allah chose from Isma‘eel from among the children of Ibrahim and He chose from among the children of Isma‘eel Banu Kinanah and from among Banu Kinanah He chose Quraish and from Quraish He chose Banu Hashim and He chose me from Banu Hashim."

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Al-‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was informed about some of the things that the people were saying and so he ascended the pulpit and said, 'Who am I?' They said, 'You are the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him).' He said, "I am Muhammad, son of 'Abdullah, son of 'Abdul-Muttalib. Verily, Allah created mankind and made me among the best of His creation. And He made them into two groups and He made me in the best group. He created the tribes and He made me in the best tribe. He made them families and He made me in the best family. So I am the best of you in family and I am the best individual among you.' May the blessings and peace of Allah be upon him forever, until the Day of Judgment."

And it has been confirmed in an authentic Hadith that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "I will be the leader of the sons of Adam on the Day of Resurrection and (I say this) without boasting."

And Al-Hafiz Al-Baihaqi said, "These Ahadeeth – although there may be among their narrators those who are not reliable – they confirm each other and the meaning of all of them derives from the Hadith of Wathilah Ibn Al-Asqa'. And Allah knows best."

I say: Abu Talib recited these poetic verses, in which he praised the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him),

If Quraish gathered one day in order to boast,

Then 'Abd Manaf would be their heart and their core,

And if the noblest of 'Abd Manaf were sought,

It would be found that Hashim were the noblest and oldest,

And if they boasted one day, then Muhammad,

*He is the Chosen One from their heart and their nobility,
The lean and the stout among Quraish rallied against us,
But they did not succeed and their dreams came to nought,
Of old, we would not accept injustice,
If they did not turn away from it in contempt,
we would put it right,
And we would guard it (justice) every day against aversion,
And we would turn away from its (injustice's)
holes those that covet it,
Through us the wilted tree is strengthened,
And only by our protection will it become supple and its roots grow.*

Chapter on The Birth of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)

He – may Allah’s blessings and peace be upon him – was born on a Monday, according to the narration of Muslim in his Saheeh, on the authority of Abu Qatadah (May Allah be pleased with him), who reported that a Bedouin said, “O, Messenger of Allah! What do you say regarding fasting on Mondays?” He said, “On that day I was born and on it the Revelation (first) came to me.”

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was born on Monday, Prophethood was conferred on him on Monday, he set out as an emigrant from Makkah to Al-Madinah on Monday, he arrived in Al-Madinah on Monday, he died on Monday and the Black Stone was raised on Monday.” Imam Ahmad was alone in narrating this version. Ibn Bukair narrated it on the authority of Lahee‘ah, with the addition: “Soorah Al-Ma‘idah was revealed on Monday: ‘This day I have perfected your Religion for you.’(Soorah Al-Ma‘idah 5:3) This is how some of them narrated it on the authority of Moosa Ibn Dawood and they also added: “...and the Battle of Badr took place on Monday.” Among those that said this was Yazeed Ibn Habeeb, but it is extremely munkar.

Ibn ‘Asakir said, “It is recorded that the Battle of Badr and the revelation of ‘This day I have perfected your Religion for you’ (Soorah Al-Ma‘idah 5:3) took place on Friday.” Ibn ‘Asakir is correct in this assertion.

This is how it was narrated from sources other than this, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him), that he was born on Monday; and there is no disagreement regarding the fact that he was born on Monday. In addition, the majority of scholars are of the opinion that it took place in the month of Rabee‘ ul-Awwal. It was said that it was on the second day of Rabee‘ ul-Awwal; this was stated by Ibn ‘Abdul-Barr in Al-Istee‘ab. It was also narrated by Al-Waqidi, on the authority of Abu Ma‘ashar Najeeh Ibn ‘Abdur-Rahman. It was also said that he was born on the eighth day of Rabee‘ ulAwwal. This was related by Al-Humaidi, on the authority of Ibn Hazm. It was narrated by Malik, Aqeel, Yoonus Ibn Yazeed and others, on the authority of Az-Zuhri, who reported on the authority of Muhammad Ibn Jubair Ibn Mut‘im. Ibn ‘Abdul-Barr transmitted on the authority of the historians that they declared it to be correct. Al-Hafiz Al-Kabeer Muhammad Ibn Moosa Al-Khuwarizmi stated it as an unequivocal fact. It was given preponderance by Al-Hafiz

Abul-Khattab Ibn Dihyah in his book AtTanweer Fee Mawlid Al-Basheer An-Nadheer. It was also said that he was born on the tenth day of Rabee‘ ul-Awwal. This was transmitted by Ibn Dihyah in his book and it was narrated by Ibn ‘Asakir on the authority of Abu Ja‘afar Al-Baqir and it was narrated by Mujalid on the authority of Ash-Sha‘abi, as we have already mentioned. It was already said that he was born on the twelfth day of Rabee‘ ul-Awwal. This was stated by Ibn Ishaq and it was narrated by Ibn Abi Shaibah in his book Al-Moosannaf, on the authority of Jabir and Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with them), who reported that they said that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was born in the Year of the Elephant, on Monday, on the twelfth day of the month of Rabee‘ ul-Awwal; on that date he was sent (as a Prophet), on that date he was made to ascend to the heaven, on that date he emigrated and on that date he died.” This is what is widely accepted by the majority of scholars. And Allah knows better.

Ibn Ishaq said, “In the year of Al-‘Ukaz, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was twenty years old.

Ibn Ishaq also said, “Al-Fijar occurred twenty years after the Year of the Elephant. The rebuilding of the Ka‘bah was fifteen years After Al-Fijar and the start of his Prophethood was five years after the rebuilding of the Ka‘bah.” Muhammad Ibn Jubair Ibn Mut‘im said, “‘Ukaz was fifteen years after the Year of the Elephant; the rebuilding of the Ka‘bah was ten years after ‘Ukaz and the beginning of his Prophethood was fifteen years after the rebuilding of the Ka‘bah.” Al-Hafiz Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of ‘Abdul-‘Azeez Ibn Abi Thabit Al-Madeeni that he said, “I was informed by Az-Zubair Ibn Moosa, who reported on the authority of Abul-Huwairith that he said, 'I heard ‘Abdul-Malik Ibn Marwan say to Qubath Ibn Ushaim Al-Kinani, then Al-Laithi, 'O, Qubath! Are you older (in years), or is the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) older (in years)?' He said, 'The Messenger of Allah is older than I, but I am older in years than him!.'

A Description of His Noble Birth (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)

‘Abdullah, son of ‘Abdul-Muttalib set out for Ghazzah in Ash-Sham (Syria) with a trade caravan from Quraish and when they finished their trade, they departed for home, passing by Al-Madinah. On that day, ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib was ill and he said, “I will remain behind with my maternal uncles in Banu ‘Adiyy Ibn An-Najjar.” So he stayed with them for a month in a state of ill health. His companions returned to Makkah, where ‘Abdul-Muttalib asked them about his son. They said, “We left him with his maternal uncles in Banu ‘Adiyy Ibn An-Najjar, for he was sick.” So ‘Abdul-Muttalib sent his eldest son, Al-Harith to him, but when he arrived in Al-Madinah, he found that he had died and buried in the house of An-Nabighah. So he returned to his father and informed him of what had happened. When he arrived, he found ‘Abdul-Muttalib in the company of his brothers and sisters and a grandfather. At that time, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was in his mother’s womb. When ‘Abdullah died, he was twenty five years old.

Muhammad Ibn Sa’d said, “Hisham Ibn Muhammad Ibn As-Sa’ib Al-Kalbi informed me on the authority of his father, who reported on the authority of ‘Awanah Ibn Al-Hakam that they said that ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib died when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was twenty-eight months old and it was also said that he died when he was seven months old. But the first narration, which stated that his wife was still pregnant when he died, is more reliable.”

Az-Zubair Ibn Bakkar narrated on the authority of Ibn Kharraboodh that he said, “ ‘Abdullah died in AlMadinah, when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was two months old and his mother died when he was four years old. His grandfather died when he was eight years old and he entrusted him to the care of his uncle, Abu Talib.” Al-Waqidi and his scribe, Al-Hafiz Muhammad Ibn Sa’d gave preponderance to the view that the father of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) died when he was but a fetus in the womb of his mother – and this is the ultimate in orphanhood and the highest level of it. We have mentioned previously in the Hadith: “And the vision of my mother, in which she said that it was as if a light was emitted from her private parts when I was born and this light illuminated the palaces of Ash-Sham.”

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, “Aminah Bint Wahb, the mother of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), said that someone came to her when she gave birth to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and said, “You have given birth to the master of this nation, so when he is born into the earth, say, 'I place him under the protection of the One, from the evil of the envier, from every slave, whether good or evil; a Protector protects me and He is the Praiseworthy, the Exalted, until I see that he has attained his objective. And the sign of that will be that his birth will be accompanied by a light which will fill the palaces of Busra, in the land of Ash-Sham. So when he is born, name him Muhammad, for his name is in the Tawrah: Ahmad – he is praised by the occupants of the heaven and the occupants of the Earth and his name is in the Injeel: Ahmad – he is praised by the occupants of the heaven and the occupants of the Earth; and his name is in the Qur’an: Muhammad.’ This and that necessitate that when she was pregnant with him and she saw, as if when he came out of her, the palaces of Ash-Sham were illuminated for him. Then, when she actually gave birth to him, she saw it with her own eyes, just as she had seen it in her vision." And Allah knows better.

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, "When she gave birth to him, she sent word to 'Abdul-Muttalib via her slave girl – and his father had already died while she was pregnant. It was also said that 'Abdullah died when the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was twenty-eight months old and Allah knows better which of them is correct. She said, "A boy has been born for you this night, so come and see him." So when he came to her, she informed him about what she had seen when she was carrying him and what had been said to her about him and she told him that she had been ordered to name him Muhammad. So 'Abdul-Muttalib took him to Hubal, which was inside the Ka'bah, and he stood and supplicated and thanked Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, saying,

All praise and thanks be to Allah, Who has given me,

This fine, well-proportioned boy,

While still in the cradle, he has become the leader of boys,

I seek refuge for him by the house possessing corners,

Until he has attained manhood,

And until I see him of mature stature,

I seek refuge for him from the one who hates,

From the envier, of deranged mind,

Until I see him raising his voice,

It is you who have been named in the Qur'an,

In confirmed, oft-recited Scriptures,

Ahmad is written on the tongue.

And Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of Al-'Abbas Ibn 'Abdul Muttalib (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was born circumcised and happy." He added, "His grandfather, 'Abdul-Muttalib was amazed by this and saw it as a good omen." He said, "This child of mine shall certainly have an important position." And this proved to be the case." But there is doubt about the authenticity of this Hadith. Al-Hafiz Ibn 'Asakir narrated it on the authority of Anas (May Allah be pleased with him) and he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'Among the virtues bestowed on me by Allah was that I was born circumcised and no one saw my private parts'."

And Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of Mu'awiyah Ibn Saleh, who reported on the authority of Abul-Hakam At-Tanookhi that he said, "Whenever a child was born among Quraish at night, they would send it to the women of Quraish until the morning and they would invert an earthenware pot over it, so when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was born, 'Abdul-Muttalib sent him to the women of Quraish and they upturned an earthenware pot over him; then in the morning, they came and found that the pot had cracked into two and they found that his eyes were open and he was staring toward the heaven. Then 'Abdul Muttalib came to them and they confided to him, 'We have never seen a newborn like him; we found the earthenware pot had cracked into two over him and we found his eyes open and he was staring at the heaven.' He said, 'Take care of him, for I hope that he will have an important position or that he will attain goodness.' Then on the seventh day, an animal was sacrificed for him and he invited Quraish to eat. When they had eaten, they said, 'O, 'Abdullah! Have you named this son of yours in honor of whom you have invited us?' He replied, 'I have named him Muhammad.' They asked, 'What caused you to favor that name over the names of his family members?' He said, 'I wanted Allah to praise him in the heaven and His creation to praise him on the Earth.'" The scholars of language said that everything in which all good qualities are combined is called Muhammad, as one of them said,

Toward you – who reject malediction – I directed my she-camel,

The illustrious, the noble master, the Muhammad (i.e. the praised).

One of the scholars said, "Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful inspired them to call him Muhammad, because of the praiseworthy characteristics he possessed, so that the name and the deed should agree with each other and so that the name and the person named should correspond in form and in meaning, as his uncle, Abu Talib said,

His name was thus derived in order to honor him,

For the Owner of the Throne is

Mahmood and he is Muhammad.

Chapter Pertaining to the Signs on the Night of His Birth

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, "on the authority of Hassan Ibn Thabit that he said, 'I was a young boy of seven or eight years and I understood what I saw and heard. Early one morning, I heard a Jewish man in Yathrib calling out, O, assembly of Jews! So they gathered to him and I was listening. They said to him, 'Woe to you! What is wrong with you?' He said, 'The star of Ahmad, who has been born this night, has risen.' And Al-Hafiz Abu Nu'aim narrated in his book, Dala'il An-Nubuwwah, on the authority of Abu Bakr 'Abdullah Al-'Amiri, who reported on the authority of Sulaiman Ibn Saheem and Rubaih Ibn 'Abdur-Rahman, both of whom reported on the authority of 'Abdur-Rahman Ibn Abi Sa'eed, who in turn reported on the authority of his father that he said, 'I heard Abu Malik Ibn Sinan saying, 'I went to Banu 'Abdul-Ashhal one day to speak with them – and at that time we were at peace with them – and I heard Yoosha' (Joshua), the Jew, say, 'A Prophet, whose name is Ahmad, is about to depart; he will depart from the Sacred Precincts (i.e. Makkah).' Khaleefah Ibn Tha'labah Al-Ashhali said to him in tones of mockery, 'What is his description?' He said, 'He is a man who is neither short nor tall. In his eyes there is redness and he wears a turban and rides a donkey. His sword is on his shoulder and he will migrate to this city.' Abu Malik said, 'So I returned to my people, Banu Khudrah and I was full of admiration for what Yoosha' had said at that time and I heard a man from among us asking, 'Is Yoosha' alone in saying this?' But they replied, 'No, all of the Jews of Yathrib are saying it.' Abu Malik Ibn Sinan said, 'So I set out and went to Banu Quraizah and I found an assembly who were discussing the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). Az-Zubair Ibn Bata said, 'The red star has risen, a star which does not rise except for the departure or the appearance of a Prophet – and none remains except Ahmad, and this is the place to which he will emigrate.' Abu Sa'eed said, 'So when the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) arrived, my father imparted this news to him and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'If Az-Zubair embraced Islam, his kinsman from the chiefs of the Jews would follow him.'”

Abu Nu'aim narrated on the authority of Zaid Ibn Thabit that he said, “The Jewish rabbis of Banu Quraizah and An-Nadeer used to speak about the description of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and when the red star rose, they said that he was a Prophet and that no prophet would come after him, that his name was Ahmad and that he would emigrate to Yathrib. Then, when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) arrived in Al-Madinah, they rejected him, were envious of him and disbelieved in him." This story was transmitted by Al-Hafiz Abu Nu'aim in his book, from other sources, all praise and thanks be to Allah (SWT).

His Nursemaids and Wet Nurses

Umm Aiman, whose name was Barakah was his nursemaid and the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) had inherited her from his father. When he grew up, he manumitted her and married her to his freed slave, Zaid Ibn Harithah and she bore him Usamah Ibn Zaid (may Allah be pleased with them all). The freed slave of his uncle, Abu Lahab, whose name was Thuwaibah, breastfed him, with his mother before Haleemah As-Sa'diyyah.

Al-Bukhari and Muslim narrated in their Saheehain, on the authority of Umm Habeebah Bint Abi Sufyan (may Allah be pleased with her) that she said, "O, Messenger of Allah! Marry my sister, the daughter of Abu Sufyan." The Prophet said, "would you like that?" She replied, "yes, for even now I am not your only wife and I would like that my sister should share the good with me." The Prophet said, "but that is not lawful for me." She said, "we have heard that you want to marry the daughter of Abu Salamah (or in another narration: Durrah, the daughter of Abu Salamah)." He said, "(do you mean) the daughter of Umm Salamah?" She said, "yes." He said, "even if she were not my stepdaughter, she would be unlawful for me to marry as she is my foster niece. I and Abu Salamah were suckled by Thuwaibah. So you should not present your daughters or your sisters (in marriage) to me." Urwah added, "Thuwaibah was the freed slave girl of Abu Lahab whom he had manumitted, and then she suckled the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). When Abu Lahab died, one of his relatives saw him in a dream in a very bad state and asked him, "What have you encountered?" Abu Lahab said, "I have not found any good since I left you, except that I have been given water to drink in this (the space between his thumb and other fingers) and that is because of my manumitting Thuwaibah."

Wet-Nursing of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) by Haleemah Bint Abi Dhu'aib As-Sa'diyyah

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Ja'afar Ibn Abi Talib that he said, "It was related regarding Haleemah Bint Al-Harith that she said, 'I came to Makkah with a group of women'..." and Al-Waqidi cited with his isnad that they were ten in number and that they were from Banu Sa'd Ibn Bakr who had come looking for children to wet-nurse during a year of drought. She added, "I arrived on a white donkey belonging to me. I had our baby with me and an old she-camel, which I swear by Allah (SWT) did not give us even a drop of milk. We did not get even a moment of sleep that night because my hungry baby was crying and there was no milk to be had from my breast or from the shecamel with which to feed him. When we reached Makkah, we looked for children to suckle and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was offered to every woman among us, but they all refused him saying that he was an orphan. That was because we hoped for a good reward from the child's father. We said, 'An orphan! And what can his mother do?' We disliked to take him because of that. Every woman who came with me found a child to suckle but I. Before we departed, I said to my husband, 'By Allah, I hate to return among my friends without a baby to suckle. I will go and take that orphan.' He said, 'There is no harm for you if you do. Perhaps Allah will bless us through this orphan.' So I went and took him because there was no other alternative. On my way back, as soon as I put him in my lap, my breasts overflowed with milk, which he drank until he was satisfied and so did his foster brother. Then both of them slept, while before this, we had not been able to sleep because of my son's crying. My husband went to the old she-camel to milk it and to his surprise, its udders were full. He milked it and we both drank the milk until we were completely satisfied; and thereafter, we spent a good night. In the morning, my husband said, 'By Allah, Haleemah, you have taken a blessed child. Have you not observed the goodness and blessings that we have enjoyed since you took him last night?' And Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful continued to bestow blessings on us. I carried him with me, as we rode back on my jenny (female donkey) and it went at such a speed that the other donkeys could not keep up with it, so that my fellow travelers said to me, 'Woe to you, O, daughter of Abu Dhu'aib! Is this the same jenny that you rode when you set out with us?' I said, 'Yes, by Allah, it is the very same.' They said, 'By Allah, there is certainly something unusual about it!' At last we reached the land of Banu Sa'd and I do not know of any land more parched and drought-stricken than that land. But in spite of this, my sheep would graze and return with udders filled with milk and we would take as much as we wanted, while the sheep of all those around us did not give a single drop of milk. Their sheep became so hungry that their owners would say to their shepherds, 'Woe to you! See where the sheep of the daughter of Abu Dhu'aib are grazing and let your sheep graze with them.' So they would put them to graze where my sheep were grazing, but their sheep would return hungry and without a drop of milk in their udders. My sheep, on the other hand, would return with udders full of milk and we would take what we wished. Allah continued to bestow this blessing on us, which we gratefully acknowledged, until Muhammad reached two years of age, at which time, he was growing at a rate that exceeded that of the other children. By Allah, by the time he had attained the age of two years, he was a sturdy child. So we took him to his mother, though we were keen to keep him with us because of the blessings we had enjoyed as a result of having him. When his mother saw him, I said to her, 'Let us return with our boy next year, for we fear that he may be affected by the infectious disease that is present in Makkah.' By Allah, we continued to press her until she said, 'Yes, ' and she let him go with us. He remained with us for two or three months after that. Then one day, while he was outside, behind our dwellings with a foster brother of his, playing with our lambs, that foster brother came running to us and said, 'Two men wearing white garments came to my Quraishi brother and they laid him down and cut open his belly!' My husband and I went out and raced over to him and we found him standing, his face pale. My husband embraced him and said, 'O, my son! What happened to you?' He said, 'Two men wearing white garments came to me and they laid me down and opened up my belly. Then one of them took something out of it and they cast it aside. Then they returned it (my belly) to its former state.' So we took him back to the house with us. My husband said, 'O, Haleemah! I fear that something might have befallen our son, so let us take him back to his family before something that we fear appears in him.' Haleemah said, 'So we carried him to his mother and when we arrived, she said, what has caused you to return him, when you were earlier insisting that he remain with you? We said, 'No, by Allah; it is only because Allah has allowed him to reach this age and we have fulfilled our duty. We were afraid that some harm may befall him and so we have brought him back to you as you requested.' She felt that this was not the case and so she insisted to know the truth until I told her what had happened. Then she said, 'Do you fear that he has been possessed by Satan? Nay! By Allah, Satan has no way to control him, for he has a great future in store for him. Shall I not inform you about him?' We said, 'Certainly! I bore him and by Allah, I have not born a lighter load than him. I saw in a dream when I was carrying him that it was as if when I delivered him, a light was emitted from me which illuminated the palaces of Ash-Sham. Then it happened thus when I gave birth to him and he supported himself on his hands and raised his head to the heaven. So leave him!'" This Hadith has been narrated from other sources and it is well-known and widely circulated among the scholars of military campaigns and battles.

Ibn Ishaq said, "I was informed by Thawr Ibn Yazeed, who reported on the authority of Khalid Ibn Ma'dan, who in turn reported on the authority of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that they said to him, 'Inform us about yourself.' He said, 'Yes: I am the supplication of my father, Ibrahim (Peace be upon him) and the glad tidings of 'Eesa (Peace be upon him); and my mother saw in a vision when she was carrying me that a light was emitted from her which illuminated the palaces of Ash-Sham. I was breastfed among Banu Sa'd Ibn Bakr and while I was playing with their lambs, two men wearing white garments came to me and they had a golden bowl with them which was filled with ice. They laid me down and they opened up my belly, then they removed my heart and they cut it open and removed a black clot from it and threw it away. Then they washed my heart and my belly with that ice and when they purified it, they put it back in its place as it had been before. Then one of them said to the other, 'Weigh him against ten of his nation, ' so he did and I outweighed them. Then he said, 'Weigh him against a hundred of his nation, ' so he did and I outweighed them. Then he said, 'Weigh him against a thousand of his nation, ' so he did and I outweighed them. Then he said, 'Leave him, for if you were to weigh him against the whole of his nation, he would outweigh them!'" The isnad of this Hadith is good, strong.

And it has been confirmed in Saheeh Muslim on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik (May Allah be pleased with him) that Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) came to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) while he was playing with the other boys and he took him and lay him down on the ground, cut open his breast and took the heart out from it. Then he extracted a clot from it and said: "That was the part of Satan in you." Then he washed it with the water of Zamzam in a golden basin and then it was joined together and restored to its place. The boys came running to his mother, (i.e. his nurse) and said, "Verily, Muhammad has been murdered.

They all rushed toward him (and found him all right) though his color was changed.” Anas said, “I, myself saw the marks of the needle on his chest.”

Ibn Ishaq said, “‘Abdullah Ibn Abi Bakr Ibn Muhammad Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Hazm informed me that the mother of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), Aminah, died when he was six years old at Al-Abwa’, which lies between Makkah and Al-Madinah. She had taken him to AlMadinah to visit his uncles from Banu ‘Adiyy Ibn An-Najjar, but she died on the way back to Makkah.”

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Buraidah that he said, “We set out with the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and journeyed until we reached Waddan. At this point, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'Remain in your places until I come to you.' Then he came to us with a troubled expression and said, 'I went to the grave of Umm Muhammad (i.e. his mother) and I asked my Lord to let me intercede for her. But He refused me. Previously, I had forbidden you to visit the graves, now you may visit them. I had also forbidden you to eat the meat of sacrificial animals after three days, now you may eat it and keep it with you as long as you see fit. And I forbade you to drink from these vessels, now drink as you see fit'.”

Muslim narrated on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) visited the grave of his mother and he wept, causing those around him to weep. Then he said, 'I sought permission from my Lord to visit the grave of my mother and He permitted me. Then I sought permission from Him to ask forgiveness for her, but He did not permit me. So visit the graves, for it will remind you of death'.”

What is meant is that ‘Abdul-Muttalib died while still an adherent to the religion of the Jahiliyyah; this view is in contrast to the claim of the Shiites regarding him and his son, Abu Talib, as we shall see when we discuss the death of Abu Talib. Al-Baihaqi said, after narrating these Ahadeeth in his book: Dala’il An-Nubuwwah, “And how could the parents of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and his grandfather not be as described in these Ahadeeth in the Hereafter, when they used to worship idols until they died and they did not follow the religion of ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him)? But their disbelief does not diminish his lineage, because the marriages of the disbelievers are valid: Do you not see that when they embrace Islam, they are not required to renew their marriage contract or to split up?”

I say: The information that the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) has conveyed to us regarding his parents and his grandfather, ‘Abdul-Muttalib, i.e. that they are among the inhabitants of the Fire, does not contradict the Hadith which is related from him via numerous sources, which states that the People of the Fatrah, children, the insane and the deaf will not be put to trial on the Day of Resurrection, as we have explained in detail in our explanation of the Words of Allah, Most High: "And We never punish..." (Soorah Al-Isra 17:15). Among them are those who respond positively and among them are those who do not; and these people are among those who do not respond, so there is no contradiction. All praise and thanks be to Allah (SWT), from Whom proceeds all grace. As for the Hadith cited by AsSuhaili – which he said contains in its chain of narrators two unknown persons up to Ibn Abi Az-Zinad, who reported on the authority of ‘Urwah, who in turn reported on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) – in which it was stated that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) asked his Lord to return his parents to life and that He did so, after which they both believed in him, it is totally munkar, even though it is possible for Allah, the Omnipotent to do so, it contradicts what has been reported in the Saheeh. And Allah knows better.

Ibn Ishaq said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was with his grandfather, ‘Abdul-Muttalib Ibn Hashim, i.e. after the death of his mother, Aminah Bint Wahb. A mattress used to be placed for ‘Abdul-Muttalib in the shade of the Ka‘bah and his sons would sit around that mattress until he came out to it and out of respect for him, none of them would venture to sit on it.” He said, “Yet the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) would come – though he was but a young boy – and his uncles would hold him in order to restrain him from going on it, but if ‘Abdul-Muttalib saw them doing that, he would say, 'Leave my son, for by Allah, he has a great future before him.' Then he would make him sit beside him on his mattress and he would stroke his back with his hand and it used to please him to see what the young boy did. He said to Umm Aiman, who was the child’s nurse, 'O, Barakah! Do not neglect my son, for I have found him with other boys near to AsSidrah and the People of the Scripture claim that my son is the Prophet of this nation.' And whenever ‘Abdul-Muttalib ate, he would say, 'I must have my son!' Then he would be brought to him.”

Regarding His Journey With His Uncle, Abu Talib to Ash-Sham and What Happened With Baheera, the Monk

Ibn Ishaq said, “Then Abu Talib set out with a trading caravan to Ash-Sham and when he was preparing to depart, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) attached himself closely to him, according to what has been claimed, and this touched Abu Talib’s heart and he said, 'By Allah, I will certainly take him with me and I will never be parted from him, nor will he ever be parted from me!' Or he said words similar to these. Then, when the caravan camped at Busra, in the land of Ash-Sham, they found there a monk, whose name was Baheera, who was staying in his hermitage. He was well-versed in Christianity. It was claimed that this monk had always lived in that hermitage, where he gained his knowledge from a book which had been handed down from generation to generation. That year, when they stayed near Baheera, he prepared for them a great feast, unlike most years, when they passed by him and he would not speak to them or pay any attention to them. Then he sent a message to them, saying, 'I have prepared food for you, O, assembly of Quraish and I would like all of you to attend, including the old and the young, the slaves and the freemen.' Due to his tender years, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) stayed behind under a tree, to take care of his people's baggage. When Baheera saw them, he did not see the sign that he knew about and he said, 'O, assembly of Quraish! Let none of you fail to partake of my food.' They said, 'O, Baheera! No one who should come to you has stayed behind, except a boy, who is the youngest of us, and who has remained behind to take care of our baggage.' He said, 'Do not do that. Invite him and let him partake of the food with you.' Then, when the people finished eating their food and dispersed, Baheera came over to him and said to him, 'O, Boy! I ask you by Al-Lat and Al-'Uzza to answer what I am going to ask you.' Baheera only said this to him because he had heard Quraish swearing by them. It is claimed that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to him, 'Do not ask me anything by Al-Lat and Al-'Uzza, for by Allah, I have never despised anything as much as I despise these two.' Baheera said to him, 'Then by Allah, will you answer me anything that I ask you?' He said, 'Ask me whatever you like.' So he began to ask him about things pertaining to his situation, including his sleep, his appearance and affairs in general. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) answered him and his answers agreed with the information that Baheera had regarding his description. Then he looked at his back and he saw the seal of Prophethood between his shoulders, in the place which was in accordance with the description found in his book. When he finished, he went over to his uncle, Abu Talib and he said, 'what is this boy to you?' Abu Talib replied, 'he is my son.' Baheera replied, 'he is not your son.' Abu Talib said, 'then he is my brother's son.' Baheera asked, 'and what happened to his father?' He replied, 'his father died while his mother was pregnant with him.' Baheera said, 'you have spoken the truth. Return with this nephew of yours to his land and protect him against the Jews, for by Allah, if they see him and recognize in him what I have recognized, they will contrive evil against him, for this nephew of yours has a great future in store for him. So hasten with him to his land.' So as soon as he finished his trading business, he departed with him in haste and returned him to Makkah.”

Regarding His Upbringing and Allah's Sufficiency for Him, His Protection of Him

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) grew up into a young man and Allah provided food for him and protected him from the evils of the Jahiliyyah in order to preserve his honor and his status as a Messenger. This continued until he became a man and he was the best of his people in manly virtues and good conduct, the noblest of them in lineage, the best of them in neighborliness, the greatest of them in forbearance and gentleness, the most truthful of them in speech, the most trustworthy of them, the remotest of them from indecency and such behavior as defiles men and causes them to lose their decency and honor. Such was his reputation among his people that even they referred to him as Al-Ameen, because of the righteous attributes that Allah had combined in him. According to what I have been told, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) spoke of how Allah used to preserve him during his childhood and the period of his ignorance and he said, 'You might have seen me among boys from Quraish moving stones in order to make a play area. All of us had exposed our private parts by taking our lower garments and placing them on our shoulders, so that we could carry the stones on them. I was going back and forth with them when I felt a painful slap on my face from someone I could not see. Then the unknown person said, 'pull your lower garment around you.' So I took it and pulled it around me, then I began to carry the stones on my shoulder with my companions while wearing my lower garment'." This story resembles that which is found in the Saheeh regarding the rebuilding of the Ka'bah. If this is not the same story, then it precedes it, like a preparation for it. And Allah knows better.

Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "I heard the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) say, 'I only took an interest in the affairs which preoccupied the people of the Jahiliyyah twice and on both occasions Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful protected me: One night, while a young Makkan man and I were guarding some sheep belong to the people of Makkah, I said to him, look after my sheep for me so that I may go down to Makkah and socialize there as the young men do. He said, Certainly. So I went down to Makkah and approached the first house I came to; from inside I heard the sound of musical instruments playing and I asked, What is this? They said, so-and-so and so-and-so have got married. So I sat and watched, but Allah struck me on my ear and by Allah, nothing awakened me until I felt the sun on my face. Then I returned to my companion and he asked, What did you do? I said, I did not do anything. Then I informed him of what I had seen. Then on another night, I said to him, Look after my sheep for me so that I may go and socialize. He agreed and I went down to Makkah. When I arrived there, I heard music such as I had heard on the previous occasion and I asked what was happening and was told, It is the marriage of so-andso and so-and-so. So I sat and watched, but Allah struck me on my ear and by Allah, and by Allah, nothing awakened me until I felt the sun on my face. Then I returned to my companion and he asked me, What did you do? I replied, Nothing. Then I informed him of what had occurred and by Allah, I took no interest and did not repeat anything of that until Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful honored me with Prophethood.” This Hadith is extremely ghareeb. It could be from ‘Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) himself and the words: “...until Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful honored me with Prophethood...” could be an interpolation. And Allah (SWT) knows better.

The Part Played By the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) in the Sacrilegious War

Ibn Hisham said, “When the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) reached fourteen or fifteen years of age, according to what I was told by Abu ‘Ubaidah An-Nahwi, who reported on the authority of Abu ‘Amr Ibn Al-‘Ala’, the Sacrilegious War sprang up between Quraish and their supporters from Kinanah, and Qais ‘Ailan. The cause of it was that ‘Urwah Ar-Rahhal Ibn ‘Utbah Ibn Ja‘afar Ibn Kilab Ibn Rabee‘ah Ibn ‘Amir Ibn Sa‘sa‘ah Ibn Mu‘awiyah Ibn Bakr Ibn Hawazin granted protection to some trade goods belonging to An-Nu‘man Ibn Al-Mundhir. Al-Barrad Ibn Qais, who belonged to Banu Damrah Ibn Bakr Ibn ‘Abd Manat Ibn Kinanah, said, 'Do you protect them against Kinanah?' ‘Urwah replied, 'Yes, and against all mankind.' So ‘Urwah set out with the caravan and AlBarrad also set out, hoping to catch him unawares. He followed the caravan until it reached Taiman Dhee Zillal, at Al-‘Aliyah and catching ‘Urwah unawares, he attacked him and killed him in a sacred month. For this reason, the war became known as the Sacrilegious War. Al-Barrad said regarding it (Al-BahrulWafir),

I raised my hand to him at Dhee Zilal, And he fell down and lay stunned, Like a felled tree.

The Part Played By the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) in the Treaty of Al-Fudool (Virtuous)

Al-Hafiz Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of Jubair Ibn Mut'im (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'I took part with my paternal uncles in the treaty of the Scented Ones, so I do not like to violate it (or he used a similar word), even if I was given the best of red camels.'"

I say: There is no doubt of this; this refers to the treaty signed by Quraish after the death of Qusayy. They disagreed with regard to Qusayy's appointment of his son, 'Abdud-Dar as the person responsible for AsSiqayah, Ar-Rifadah, Al-Liwa', An-Nadwah and Al-Hijabah. They were opposed in it by Banu 'Abd Manaf and each side was supported by tribes from Quraish. They agreed on the conditions of the treaty and the members of Banu 'Abd Manaf brought a bowl of perfume and they placed their hands in it and swore to abide by the treaty. Then, when they stood up, they wiped their hands on the corners of the House of Allah. For this reason, they were known as Al-Mutayyaboon (the Perfumed Ones), as we mentioned previously. This took place in earlier times, but what is meant by this treaty is the Treaty of Al-Fudool which was signed in the house of 'Abdullah Ibn Jud'an, according to what was narrated by AlHumaidi, who reported on the authority of Sufyan Ibn 'Uyainah, who in return reported on the authority of Muhammad and 'Abdur-Rahman, the sons of Abu Bakr (May Allah be pleased with him) that they said "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'I witnessed a treaty in the house of 'Abdullah Ibn Jud'an, and if I was invited to take part in it in Islam, I would accept it.' They agreed to respect the principles of justice and to collectively intervene in cases of injustice. They said that the Treaty of Al-Fudool was twenty years before the beginning of his Prophethood, in the month of DhulQa'dah, approximately four months after the Sacrilegious War."

Az-Zubair Ibn 'Abdul-Muttalib said regarding this (Al-Bahr ul-Wafir),

*I swore to uphold a treaty on them,
And if we were all the people of a house,
We called it Al-Fudool when we resolved,
To respect strangers who had protection,
And those around the House know that,
We oppose injustice and reject dishonor.*

And Az-Zubair also said (Al-Bahr ul-Kamil),

Verily, the virtuous made an agreement and swore an oath,
That no wrongdoer should find an abode inside Makkah,
A matter upon which they agreed and resolved,
So that the protégé and the wretched might be safe.

Marriage of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid Ibn Asad Ibn ‘Abdul-‘Uzza Ibn Qusayy

Ibn Ishaq said, “Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid was an honorable and wealthy businesswoman, who used to conduct her business through men contracted to act on her behalf. When she was informed about the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and his truthfulness, honesty and nobility of character, she sent a message to him offering him a position as her agent on a business trip to AshSham and she offered to pay him a better remuneration than she paid to any other trader. He was to be accompanied by a slave belonging to her, whose name was Maisarah. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) accepted this from her and he set out with her goods. Her slave, Maisarah, accompanied him and they traveled until they reached Ash-Sham. There the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) stopped beneath the shade of a tree, near to the hermitage of a monk. The monk came out to Maisarah and said, 'Who is this man who has stopped beneath the tree?' Maisarah replied, 'This is a man from Quraish, from among the people of the Sacred Precincts.' The monk said to him, 'No one has stopped beneath this tree except a Prophet.' Then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) sold his goods (i.e. the things that he had brought to trade) and he bought what he wanted to buy. Then he set out on the return journey to Makkah, accompanied by Maisarah. It is claimed that when it was midday and the heat of the sun was fierce, Maisarah saw two angels shading him from the sun while he was proceeding on his camel. When he arrived in Makkah, he went to Khadeejah with the goods he had purchased, she sold them and found that her profits were almost double what they normally were. Maisarah informed her of what the monk had said and of how he had seen two angels shading him. Khadeejah was a resolute, noble and intelligent woman, in addition to the generosity with which Allah had favored her. So when Maisarah conveyed this information to her, she sent a message to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), in which it is claimed she said, 'O, my cousin! I have conceived a liking for you because of your kinship, the high reputation you hold among your people, your honesty, your good character and your truthfulness.' Then she offered herself as a wife to him. She was the best of the Quraishi women in lineage, the greatest of them in nobility and the wealthiest of them. All of her people were keen to seek a marriage with her if it were possible. So when she said this to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), he informed his uncles about it and then Hamzah, one of his uncles, went with him to Khuwailid Ibn Asad and proposed marriage to her, after which the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) married her."

Ibn Ishaq said, "Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid mentioned to Waraqah Ibn Nawfal Ibn Asad Ibn 'Abdul'Uzza Ibn Qusayy – who was her paternal cousin – what the monk had said to Maisarah and how he had seen the angels shading him. He was a Christian who studied the Scriptures and possessed much of the knowledge of mankind. On hearing this, he said, 'O, Khadeejah! if this is true, then Muhammad is certainly the Prophet of this nation. I knew that a Prophet was expected to come to this nation and this is his time.' Waraqah felt impatient after that and he used to say, 'Until when?'" Regarding this, he said (AlBahrul-Wafir),

I persisted in remembrance of Allah,

Waiting for Him to send the Prophet,

Based upon Khadeejah's description,

*O, Khadeejah! Long have I waited,
In the center of the two Makkahs in hope,
Based on your words, that I might see him emerge,
According to what you have related from a cleric,
Among the monks; I hate to think he might have erred,
When he said that Muhammad will lead his people,
And will defeat those who oppose him,
And the light of truth will shine through the lands,
Causing the people to rise up like a wave,
And those who fight him will meet with loss,
While those who make peace with him,
Will find irrigated date groves,
So I hope that when this comes to pass,
I may witness it and I will be the first to enter.*

Quraish's Rebuilding of the Ka'bah Five Years Before the Start of His Prophetic Mission

Allah, Most High, says, "Verily, the first House (of worship) appointed for mankind was that at Bakkah (Makkah), full of blessing, and a guidance for Al-'Alameen (mankind and the jinn). In it are manifest signs (for example), the Maqam (place) of Ibrahim; whosoever enters it, he attains security. And Hajj (pilgrimage to Makkah) to the House (Ka'bah) is a duty that mankind owes to Allah, those who can afford the expenses (for one's conveyance, provision and residence); and whoever disbelieves (i.e. denies Hajj, then he is a disbeliever in Allah), then Allah stands not in need of any of the Al-'Alameen." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:96,97). And it has been confirmed in the Saheehain on the authority of Abu Dharr (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "I said, O, Messenger of Allah! Which mosque was built first?" He replied, "The Sacred Mosque (in Makkah)." I asked, "Then which one?" He replied, "Al-Aqsa Mosque." I then asked him, "How many years passed between the construction of the former and the latter?" He said, "Forty years." We have discussed this previously and we said that Al-Aqsa Mosque was established by Isra'eel, i.e. Ya'qoob (Peace be upon him). It is also narrated in the Saheehain: "Verily, this city was made a sanctuary by Allah on the day He created the heavens and the Earth, and it is a sanctuary by His Decree until the Day of Resurrection."

And Al-Baihaqi narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Al-'As (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'Allah sent Jibraeel to Adam and Eve to say to them, Build a House for Allah. Jibraeel laid the designs for them. Then Adam began to dig, while Eve removed the soil, until he struck water. At this point, he was called from beneath, Adam! That is enough! After completing the construction, Adam was directed by Allah, Most High, to circumambulate the House (the Ka'bah). It was said to him, 'You are the first man (to be created), and this is the first House to be built.' Several centuries passed until Nooh made pilgrimage to it, then more centuries passed until Ibrahim laid the foundations." Al-Baihaqi said, "Ibn Lahee'ah was alone in narrating it in this way, in a marfoo' form."

I say: It is weak; and it is more correct and safer to say that it is mawqoof at ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Amr (May Allah be pleased with him). And Allah knows better.

A man asked ‘Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) regarding the Saying of Allah: "Verily, the first House (of worship) appointed for mankind was that at Bakkah (Makkah), in which blessing and guidance for Al-‘Alameen were placed" (Soorah Aal ‘Imran 3:96), "Was it the first House built on the Earth?" ‘Ali replied, "No, but it was the first House in which blessing and guidance were placed for mankind, along with Maqam-e-Ibrahim and whoever enters it is safe. And if you wish, I will inform you how it was built: Verily, Allah, Most High, revealed to Ibrahim (Peace be upon him): "Build Me a House on the Earth." But he was unable to accomplish it and so Allah sent As-Sakeenah – which is a twisting wind with a head – and each of them followed the other until it finished. Then it encircled the location of the House, as a serpent does and Ibrahim (Peace be upon him) built until he reached the place of the stone and he said to his son, "Find me a stone." So he searched for a stone and he found one and returned with it. But when he returned, he found that the Black Stone had already been put into place and so he said to his father, "From where did you get this?" He replied, "The one who does not rely on your building brought it: It was brought by Jibraeel from the heaven and he completed it." Then time passed and it fell into disrepair and it was repaired by the Amalekites. Then it fell into disrepair again and it was rebuilt by Jurhum. Then it fell into disrepair a third time and it was rebuilt by Quraish and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), who at that time was a young man. When they wanted to raise the Black Stone, they disagreed regarding who should have the honor of doing it, so they said, "We will appoint as an arbiter the first man to emerge from this gate." It happened that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was the first person to emerge from the gate and so he arbitrated between them, saying that they should place the Stone on a mantle, then all of the tribes might raise it up.”

Sa‘eed Ibn Yahya Al-Umawi said, “Al-Mu‘ammar Ibn Sulaiman Ar-Raqqi told us, on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Bishr from Az-Zuhri (who attributed the Hadith to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)), that he said, “Three stone tablets were found in the Maqam (of Ibrahim). On the first tablet it was written: “Verily, I am Allah, the Owner of Bakkah (Makkah). I made it on the day I made the sun and the moon and I surrounded it with seven pure estates; and I blessed its inhabitants in their meat and their milk.” On the second tablet it said, “Verily, I am Allah, the Owner of Bakkah (Makkah). I created ar-rahim and I derived it from My Name (i.e. Ar-Rahman). So whoever maintains ties of kinship, I will maintain ties with him and whoever cuts them, I will send him away.” On the third tablet, it said, “Verily, I am Allah, the Owner of Bakkah (Makkah). I created goodness and evil and I ordained them. So blessed is the one in whose hands I place goodness and woe to the one in whose hands I place evil.”

And it has been confirmed in the Saheehain on the authority of ‘A’ishah (may Allah be Pleased with her) that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to her, “Do you know that when your people (Quraish) rebuilt the Ka‘bah, they decreased it from its original foundation laid by Ibrahim?” I said, “O, Messenger of Allah! Why do you not rebuild it on its original foundation laid by Ibrahim?” He replied, “Were it not for the fact that your people are close to the Jahiliyyah (i.e. they have recently become Muslims) I would have done so.” The sub-narrator, ‘Abdullah (Ibn ‘Umar) (May Allah be pleased with him) stated: ‘A’ishah must have heard this from the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), for in my opinion, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) had not placed his hand over the two corners of the Ka‘bah opposite Al-Hijr only because the Ka‘bah was not rebuilt on its original foundations laid by Ibrahim (Peace be upon him).” For this reason, when Az-Zubair was able to rebuild it, he did so in accordance with the description mentioned by the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and it appeared in best, most beautiful and perfect form, on the foundations of Al-Khaleel, with two doors at floor level, at the eastern and the western ends; the people would enter from one end and exit from the other. After AlHajjaj had killed Ibn Az-Zubair, he wrote a letter to ‘Abdul-Malik Ibn Marwan – who was the Caliph at that time – informing him of what Ibn Az-Zubair had done, they thought that he had done it of his own accord and so he ordered that it be returned to its former appearance, so they turned their attention to Shami wall and they broke it down and removed the Stone from it, then they compressed its stones on the floor of the Ka‘bah, which caused the level of its door to be raised, then they blocked off the western door, while the eastern door continued as it was. Then during the era of Al-Mahdi, or that of his son, he consulted Malik regarding the possibility of returning the Ka‘bah to the way Az-Zubair had made it. Malik – may Allah have mercy on him – said, “I fear that kings will make it into a game.” So he left it as it was and it remains thus to this day.

As for the Sacred Mosque, the first person to move back the houses from the vicinity of the Ka‘bah was ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab (May Allah be pleased with him). He purchased them from their owners and demolished them. Then, when ‘Uthman Ibn ‘Affan (May Allah be pleased with him) became Caliph, he extended the area of the Mosque by purchasing more houses. When Ibn Az-Zubair was Governor, he improved its construction and increased the number of its doors, but he did not increase it in any other way. When ‘Abdul-Malik Ibn Marwan sought advice in the matter, he increased the height of its walls and he ordered that the Ka‘bah be covered with silk brocade. The person who was entrusted with this task was Al-Hajjaj Ibn Yoosuf and we have mentioned already the story of the building of the House and the Ahadeeth pertaining to that in the explanation of Allah's Saying in Soorah Al-Baqarah: [ And (remember) when Ibrahim and (his son) Isma'eel were raising the foundations of the House (the Ka'bah at Makkah) ] (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:127)

Ibn Ishaq said, "When they had finished rebuilding the Ka'bah and built it as they wished, Az-Zubair Ibn 'Abdul-Muttalib said, regarding the matter of the snake which caused Quraish to fear rebuilding the Ka'bah,

*I was amazed to see the eagle swoop down,
On the snake, and it was confused,
And it had used to recoil and sometimes pounce,
When we tried to repair the foundations, it attacked,
And made us afraid to rebuild and we were in dread,
And when we feared that we would be prevented,
The eagle came rushing and it attacked,
And seized it, allowing us to build without hindrance,
So we began to concentrate on our building,
Like digging the foundations and shifting the dirt,
In the morning, we raised the foundations of it,
And we were without garments on our flesh,
The Owner thereby honored Banu Lu'ayy,*

*And none of them left its foundations,
And Banu 'Adiyy had gathered there,
Along with Murrah, but Kilab preceded them,
And the Owner had thereby honored us,
And with Allah reward is sought.*

Ibn Ishaq described how Quraish had innovated in calling themselves Al-Hums, which means to be harsh and hard in religious matters. They did this because of their excessive veneration of the Sacred Precincts, due to which they would not leave the Sacred Precincts on the night of 'Arafah. They used to say, "We are the sons of the Sacred Mosque and the inhabitants of the House of Allah (SWT)." And so they would not stand upon 'Arafah, even though they knew that this was one of the rites practiced by Ibrahim (Peace be upon him). So determined were they in the practice of these wicked innovations that they would not abandon them at any cost. They would not store dried yoghurt or ghee and they would not use animal fat while they were in a state of ihram. Nor would they enter a tent made of camel hair, or seek shade except in a house of adobe bricks, as long as they were in a state of ihram. Also, out of a deeply-rooted misconception, they would not allow the Hajj and 'Umrah pilgrims to eat any food except the food of Quraish and they would not allow them to perform circumambulation of the Ka'bah except in garments provided by Quraish and if they were unable to find anyone from Quraish or their associated tribes, such as Kinanah and Khuza'ah to provide them with a garment, they had to circumambulate naked, even the women. For this reason, when a woman was forced to circumambulate naked, she would place her hand over her private parts and say,

Today part or all of it appears,

And what appears of it I do not declare it lawful.

If one of those who found one of these so-called Ahmasi garments performed the circumambulation in his own clothes, he would be obliged to discard them after completing the rite and he would not be allowed to use them after that. In addition neither he nor anyone else was allowed to touch them. The Arabs used to call these garments 'Al-Laqy' (that which is discarded). One of the poets said regarding this (Al-BahrAtTaweel),

It is sad enough that he is,

Like a discarded garment,

Before those circumambulating the Ka'bah.

Ibn Ishaq said, "They continued in this manner until Allah sent Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and revealed the Qur'an to him, rejecting their innovations. He, Most High, says, 'Then depart from the place whence all the people depart.' (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:199). It means the majority of the Arabs depart from 'Arafat. '...and ask Allah for His Forgiveness. Truly, Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.'" (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:199). We have mentioned previously that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to stand at 'Arafat even before Revelation came to him and this conformity with Allah's Divine Will was granted to him by Allah. And Allah revealed to him a rejection of the prohibitions regarding clothing and food that they used to practice: "O, Children of Adam! Take your adornment (by wearing your clean clothes), while praying and going round (performing tawaf of) the Ka'bah, and eat and drink but waste not by extravagance, certainly He (Allah) likes not AlMusrifoon (those who waste by extravagance). Say (O, Muhammad), 'Who has forbidden the adoration with clothes given by Allah, which He has produced for his slaves, and At-Tayyibat (all kinds of halal [lawful] things) of food?' Say, 'They are, in the life of this world, for those who believe (and) exclusively for them (the Believers) on the Day of Resurrection (and the disbelievers will not share them).' Thus We explain the Ayat (Islamic laws) in detail for people who have knowledge." (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:31,32). And Ziyad Al-Bakka'i said, on the authority of Ibn Ishaq, "I do not know if these innovations of theirs began before the Year of the Elephant or after that."

The Book of the Sending of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and Mention of the Signs of That

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq – may Allah have mercy on him – said, "The Jewish rabbis and the Christian and Arab soothsayers had spoken of the matter of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) before his advent, when it drew near. As for what the Jewish rabbis and the Christian monks found regarding the description of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and of his time, and what had been foretold of his coming by their Prophets, Allah, Most High, says, 'Those who follow the Messenger, the Prophet who can neither read nor write (i.e. Muhammad) whom they find written with them in the Tawrah (Deut. xviii, 15) and the Injeel (Gospel) (John xiv, 16).' (Soorah Al-A'raf 7:157). And He, Most High, says, 'And (remember) when 'Eesa, son of Maryam (Mary), said, O, Children of Isra'eel! I am the Messenger of Allah unto you confirming the Tawrah (which came) before me, and giving glad tidings of a Messenger to come after me, whose name shall be Ahmad.' (Soorah AsSaff 61:6). And He, Most High, says, 'Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah, and those who are with him are tough against disbelievers, and merciful among themselves. You see them bowing and falling down in prostration (in prayer), seeking bounties from Allah and (His) Good Pleasure. The mark of them (i.e. of their Faith) is on their faces (foreheads) from the traces of (their) prostration (during prayers). This is their description in the Tawrah.' (Soorah Al-Fat'h 48:29). And He, Most High, says, 'And (remember) when Allah took the Covenant of the Prophets, saying, Take whatever I gave you from the Book and Hikmah (understanding of the Laws of Allah, etc.), and afterward there will come to you a Messenger (Muhammad) confirming what is with you; you must then believe in him and help him. Allah said, 'Do you agree (to it) and will you take up My Covenant (which I conclude with you)?' They said, 'We agree.' He said, 'Then bear witness; and I am with you among the witnesses (for this)'." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:81). And in Saheeh Al-Bukhari it is reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "Allah did not send a Prophet except that He took a covenant from him that if Muhammad was sent while they were alive, they would believe in him, support him and follow him." It is known from this that all of the Prophets gave tidings of his coming and ordered their followers to obey him.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Umamah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, "O, Messenger of Allah! Tell us how your Prophethood started." He replied, "I am the supplication of my father, Ibrahim and the glad tidings of 'Eesa; and my mother saw that a light was emitted from her, which illuminated the palaces of Ash-Sham."

The meaning of this is that he wanted to know how his Prophethood began to be known to the people and how his fame spread, so he mentioned the supplication of Ibrahim (Peace be upon him), from whom the Arabs claim descent, then the glad tidings of 'Eesa (Peace be upon him), who was the Seal of the Prophets sent to the Children of Isra'eel, as we mentioned earlier. This proves that those Prophets between them (i.e. Ibrahim and 'Eesa also gave the glad tidings of his coming.

As for the heavenly host, his affair was spoken of and well-known to them since before the creation of Adam (Peace be upon him), as narrated by Imam Ahmad on the authority of Al-'Irbad Ibn Sariyah (May Allah be pleased with him) who said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'I was written as the slave of Allah and the Seal of the Prophets when Adam was still only clay. And I shall inform you of the start of that: the supplication of Ibrahim, the glad tidings which 'Eesa gave of me and the vision which my mother saw. Likewise, all of the mothers of the Prophets saw something similar'."

Ibn Ishaq said, " 'Asim Ibn 'Umar Ibn Qatadah informed me on the authority of some men from his people that they said, 'Among the things that called us to Islam – in addition to Allah's Mercy and His Guidance to us – was the fact that when we were pagan idol worshippers, we used to hear from the Jews, who were People of the Scripture, having knowledge that we did not have – at a time when there was still enmity between us – whenever we inflicted some harm on them, they would say to us, 'The time is near when a Prophet will be sent and we will kill you with him, as the people of 'Ad and Iram were killed.' And we used to hear this frequently from them. Then, when Allah sent the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), we responded positively when he called us to Allah, for we realized what they had been threatening us with, so we rushed to follow him before they did, and we believed in him, while they rejected him and disbelieved in him. So this Verse was revealed concerning us and them: 'And when there came to them (the Jews), a Book (this Qur'an) from Allah confirming what is with them (the Tawrah and the Injeel), although aforetime they had invoked Allah (for the coming of Muhammad — peace be upon him) in order to gain victory over those who disbelieved, then, when there came to them that which they had recognized, they disbelieved in it. So let the Curse of Allah be on the disbelievers'." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:89)

And Ibn Ishaq said, "It is reported on the authority of Salamah Ibn Salamah Ibn Waqsh (May Allah be pleased with him), who was one of the participants in the Battle of Badr, that he said, 'We had a neighbor from among the Jews in Banu 'Abdul-Ashhal and he came out to us one day from his house and stood before Banu 'Abdul-Ashhal.' Salamah added, 'At that time, I was the youngest of them in years and I was lying on a fur belonging to me in the yard of my family, and he spoke of the Resurrection, the Sending Forth, the Reckoning, the Scale, Paradise and the Fire. He said these things to a pagans, idol worshipping people, who did not believe that they would be resurrected after death.' So they said to him, 'Woe to you, O, so-and-so! Do you believe that this happen? That the people will be sent forth after their death, to an abode in which there is a Garden and a Fire, where they will be recompensed in accordance with their deeds?' He said, 'Yes. And the greatest wish of those who enter it is that they may leave it on the morrow.' They said to him, 'woe to you, O, so-and-so! And what will be the Sign of that?' He said, 'a Prophet will be sent from the direction of these lands, ' and he pointed with his hand toward Makkah and Yemen. They said, 'and when will we see him?' Salamah (May Allah be pleased with him) said, 'then he looked at me – and I was the youngest of them – and said, when this boy has exhausted his life, he will see him.' Salamah said, 'and by Allah, no more than a day and a night had passed, when Allah sent His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he was living amongst us; so we believed in him, while he (the Jew) disbelieved in him out of transgression and envy. So we said to him, 'woe to you, O, so-andso! Was it not you who told us about him?' He said, 'Yes; but it is not he'." Narrated by Imam Ahmad.

Then Ibn Ishaq – may Allah have mercy on him – related the story of how Salman Al-Farisi embraced Islam, saying, “It was reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, ‘Salman Al-Farisi told me from his own lips, saying, I was a Persian man from a village in Asfahan, which was known as Hayy. My father was the headman of the village and I was the dearest of Allah’s creation to him. He loved me so much that he kept me in his house near the fire, as slave girls are kept in. I strove hard in the Magian religion until I became the keeper of the fire, which I tended and did not let go out for a moment. My father had a huge garden, and he was busy one day with some construction work, so he said, O, my son! I am too busy with this building today, go and check my garden, and he told me some of the things he wanted done. I went out, heading toward his garden, and I passed by one of the Christian churches, where I could hear their voices as they were praying. I did not know anything about the people because my father had kept me in his house. When I passed by and heard their voices, I entered upon them to see what they were doing. When I saw them, I was impressed with their prayer and I was attracted to their way. I said: By Allah, this is better than the religion that we follow. By Allah, I did not leave them until the sun set, and I forgot about my father’s garden and did not go there. I said to them: Where did this religion originate? They said: In Ash-Sham. Then I went back to my father, who had sent people out to look for me, and I had distracted him from all his work. When I came to him, he said, O, my son! Where were you? Did I not ask you to do what I asked? I said, O, my father! I passed by some people who were praying in a church of theirs, and I was impressed with what I saw of their religion. By Allah, I stayed with them until the sun set. He said, O, my son, there is nothing good in that religion. Your religion and that of your forefathers is better than that. I said, No, by Allah, it is better than our religion. He was afraid for me, and he put fetters on my legs and kept me in his house. I sent word to the Christians saying, If any Christian merchants come to you from Ash-Sham, tell me about them. He said, Some Christian merchants came to them from Ash-Sham and they told me about them. I said to them, When they have completed their business and want to go back to their own country, tell me about that. So when they wanted to go back to their own country, they told me about that, and I threw off the shackles from my legs and went out with them, until I came to Ash-Sham. When I reached Ash-Sham, I said, Who is the best person in this religion? They said, The bishop in the church. So I went to him and said, I like this religion, and I would like to stay with you and serve you in your church and learn from you and pray with you. He said, Come in. So I went in with him, but he was a bad man. He would command them and exhort them to give charity, but he kept a great deal of it for himself and did not give it to the poor; he had amassed seven chests of gold and silver. I hated him deeply when I saw what he was doing, then he died and the Christians gathered to bury him. I said to them, This was a bad man; he commanded you and exhorted you to give charity, but when you brought it to him he kept it for himself and did not give any of it to the poor. They said, How do you know that? Show us where his treasure is. So I showed them where it was and they brought out seven chests filled with gold and silver. When they saw that they said, By Allah, we will never bury him. Then they crucified him and pelted him with stones. Then they brought another man and appointed him in his place. Salman said, I have never seen a man who does not offer the five daily prayers who was better than he; he shunned this world and sought the Hereafter and no one strove harder than him night and day. I loved him as I had never loved anyone before, and I stayed with him for a while. Then when he was about to die, I said, O, so-and-so! I was with you and I loved you as I have never loved anyone before, and now the decree of Allah has come to you as you see; to whom do you advise me to go? What do you command me to do? He said, O, my son! By Allah, I do not know of anyone today who follows what I followed. The people are doomed; they have changed and abandoned most of what they used to follow, except for a man in Mawsil. He is so-and-so and he follows what I used to follow, so go and join him. When he died and was buried, I went to the man in Mawsil. I said to him, O, so-and-so! so-and-so advised me when he died to come to you, and he told me that you follow the same as he followed. He said to me, stay with me. So I stayed with him, and I found him to be a good man who followed the same as his companion had followed. But soon he died. When he was dying I said to him, O, so-and-so! so-and-so advised me to come to you and told me to join you, but now there has come to you from Allah what you see. To whom do you advise me to go? What do you command me to do? He said, O, my son! By Allah I do not know of anyone who follows what we used to follow except a man in Naseeben. He is so-and-so; go to him. When he died and was buried, I went to the man in Naseeben. I came to him and told him my story and what my companion had told me to do. He said, Stay with me. So I stayed with him and I found him to be a follower of the same way as his two companions, and I stayed with a good man. By Allah, soon death came upon him, and when he was dying I said to him, O, so-and-so! so-and-so advised me to go to so-and-so; then so-and-so advised me to come to you. To whom do you advise me to go and what do you command me to do? He said, O, my son! By Allah we do not know of anyone left who follows our way and to whom I can tell you to go, except a man in ‘Ammooriyyah. He follows something like what we follow. If you wish, go to him, for he follows our way. When he died and was buried, I went to the man in ‘Ammooriyyah and told him my story. He said, Stay with me. So I stayed with a man who was following the same way as his companions. I earned wealth until I had cows and sheep, then the decree of Allah came to him. When he was dying I said to him, O, so-and-so! I was with so-and-so, and so-and-so told me to go to so-and-so; then so-and-so told me to go to so-and-so; then so-and-so told me to come to you. To whom do you advise me to go and what do you command me to do? He said, O, my son!

By Allah, I do not know of anyone who follows our way to whom I can advise you to go. But there has come the time of a Prophet, who will be sent with the Religion of Ibrahim. He will appear in the land of the Arabs and will migrate to a land between two harrahs (lave fields), between which there are palm trees. He will have characteristics that will not be hidden. He will eat of what is given as a gift but he will not eat of what is given as charity. Between his shoulder blades is the Seal of Prophethood. If you can go to that land then do so. Then he died and was buried, and I stayed in ‘Ammooriyyah as long as Allah willed I should stay. Then some merchants of Kalb passed by me and I said to them, will you take me to the land of the Arabs and I will give you these cows and sheep of mine? They said, yes. So I gave them the cows and sheep, and they took me there, but when they brought me to Wadi Al-Qura, they wronged me and sold me as a slave to a Jewish man. When I was with him I saw the palm trees, and I hoped that this was the land that my companion had described to me, but I was not sure. While I was with him, a cousin of his from Banu Quraizah came to him from Al-Madinah, and he sold me to him and he took me to Al-Madinah. By Allah, as soon as I saw it, I recognized it from the description given to me by my companion. I stayed there, and Allah sent His Messenger, who stayed in Makkah as long as Allah willed, and I did not hear anything about him because I was so busy with the work of a slave. Then he migrated to Al-Madinah, and by Allah, I was at the top of a palm tree belonging to my master, doing some work on it, and my master was sitting there. Then a cousin of his came and stood beside him, and said, May Allah kill Banu Qailah! By Allah, right now they are gathering in Quba’ to welcome a man who has come from Makkah today; and they say that he is a Prophet. When I heard that, I began to shiver so much that I thought I would fall on top of my master. I came down from the tree and started saying to that cousin of his, what are you saying, what are you saying? My master got angry and he struck me with his fist and said, what has it got to do with you? Go back to your work! I said, “nothing; I just wanted to make sure of what he was saying. I had something that I had collected, and when evening came, I went to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) when he was in Quba’ and I entered upon him and said to him, I have heard that you are a righteous man and that you have companions who are strangers and are in need. This is something that I have to give in charity, and I see that you are more in need of it than anyone else. I brought it near to him and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to his Companions, “Eat,” but he refrained from eating. I said to myself, This is one. Then I went away and collected some more. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) moved to Al-Madinah, then I came to him and said: I see that you do not eat (food given in) charity; this is a gift with which I wish to honor you. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) ate some of it and told his Companions to eat too. I said to myself: This is two. Then I came to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) when he was in Baaqee’ Al-Gharqad, where he had attended the funeral of one of his Companions and he was wearing two shawls and was sitting among his Companions. I greeted him with salutations of peace and then I moved behind him, trying to look at his back to see the Seal that my companion had described to me. When the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) saw me going behind him, he realized that I was trying to find confirmation of something that had been described to me, so he let his rida’ drop from his back, and I saw the Seal and recognized it. Then I embraced him, kissing (the Seal) and weeping, and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to me: “Turn around.” So I turned around and I told him my story as I have told it to you, O, Ibn ‘Abbas. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) wanted his companions to hear that. Then Salman was kept busy with the work of a slave, saying he had missed attending the battles of Badr and Uhud with the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). He said, Then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to me, Draw up a contract of manumission, O, Salman. So I drew up a contract of manumission with my master in return for three hundred palm trees which I would plant for him, and forty uqiyyahs. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to his Companions: Help your brother. So they helped me with the palm trees, one man gave thirty small trees and another gave twenty, and another gave fifteen, and another gave ten, i.e., each man gave according to what he had, until they had collected three hundred small trees for me. Then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to me, Go, O, Salman and dig the holes where they are to be planted. When you have finished, come to me and I will plant them with my own hand. So I dug the holes for them, and my companions helped me, then, when I finished, I came to him and told him. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) came out with me and we started to bring the trees close and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) planted them with his own hand. By Him in Whose Hand is the soul of Salman, not one single tree among them died. So I had paid off the trees but there still remained the money. A piece of gold the size of an egg was brought to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) from one of his Campaigns. He said, what happened to the Persian who had a contract of manumission? I was summoned to him and he said, take this and pay off what you owe, O, Salman. I said, how could this pay off everything I owe, O, Messenger of Allah? He said, take it, and Allah will help you to pay off what you owe. So I took it and weighed it for them, and by Him in Whose Hand is the soul of Salman, it was forty uqiyyahs, so I paid them their dues and I was set free. I was present with the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) at the Battle of Al-Khandaq, and after that I did not miss any major event with him.”

The Story of ‘Amr Ibn Murrah Al-Juhani

At-Tabarani narrated on the authority of ‘Amr Ibn Murrah Al-Juhani (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “I set out to perform Hajj with a group of my people during the Jahiliyyah and I saw in a dream while I was in Makkah a brilliant light emanating from the Ka‘bah and reaching to Mount Yathrib and Ash‘ar Juhainah; and I heard a voice coming from the light and it was saying, 'Islam has appeared, the idols have been broken and the ties of kinship have been joined.' I awoke from the dream in a state of fear and I said to my people, 'By Allah, something is happening to this tribe from Quraish, ‘ and I informed them of what I had seen. Then, when we returned to our land, news came to me that a man called Ahmad had been sent and so I went to him and informed him of what I had seen and he said, 'O, ‘Amr Ibn Murrah! I am the Prophet who has been sent to all of the slaves, to call them to Islam and to order them to cease bloodshed, maintain the ties of kinship, worship Allah, reject idols, perform Hajj to the House (of Allah) and to fast the month of Ramadan from among the twelve months. If anyone accepts all this, he will attain Paradise, but if anyone rejects it, he will be recompensed with the Fire. So believe, O, ‘Amr, and Allah will protect you from the 'Awfulness of the Hellfire.' I said, 'I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah, and that you are the Messenger of Allah. I believe in what you have brought pertaining to what is lawful and what is unlawful, even though many people may reject it.' Then I recited to him some poetic verses which I had composed when I heard of him. We had an idol and my father had been its custodian and so I had stood before it and broken it, then I went to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and recited to him,

I bear witness that Allah is true and that,

I am the first to abandon the stone idols,

*And I rolled up my izar to migrate to you,
Traversing the desert, after crossing the flatlands,
To accompany the best of mankind in soul and lineage,
A Messenger to the kings of mankind, above the stars.*

The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'Welcome to you, O, 'Amr Ibn Murrah.' I said, 'O, Messenger of Allah! Send me to my people; haply, Allah may bless them through me, just as He has blessed me through you.' So he sent me to them and he said, 'it is incumbent upon you to be kind and speak the truth, and do not be uncivil or arrogant, and do not be envious.' Then he related that he went to his people and called them to that to which the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) had called him, and all of them embraced Islam, except one man from among them. He went with them in a delegation to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), who welcomed them and greeted them warmly and he had a letter written for them, which stated, 'In the Name of Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful: This is a missive from Allah, from the lips of His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). It is a truthful writing and true speech, in the hands of 'Amr Ibn Murrah Al-Juhani, for Juhainah Ibn Zaid: Verily, to you belong the valleys and the flatlands, and the banks of the rivers and their beds. You may grow crops and drink their pure waters, on the understanding that you agree to Al-khums, to offer the five daily prayers, to remain obedient ... and there is no charity incumbent upon those who have only sufficient provisions for themselves. Those Muslims present bear witness on our Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to the writing of Qais Ibn Shammas!'"

And Al-Hafiz Abu Nu‘aim narrated in Dala’il An-Nubuwwah on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was asked, 'When was the Prophethood made incumbent on you?' He replied, 'Between the creation of Adam and the breathing of the spirit into him.' This is how it was narrated by At-Tirmidhi by way of Al-Waleed Ibn Muslim and he said, 'It is hasan-ghareeb from Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) and we do not know it except from this source'.”

Carrying the same meaning is the Hadith narrated by Imam Ahmad on the authority of Al-‘Irbad Ibn Sariyah, who said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Verily, I was with Allah the Seal of the Prophets when Adam was still only clay and I shall inform you of the start of that: It was the supplication of my father, Ibrahim, the glad tidings of ‘Eesa regarding me and the vision which my mother saw, as indeed did all of the mothers of the Prophets'.”

And Al-Hafiz Abu Nu‘aim narrated in Dala’il An-Nubuwwah on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him), who reported from the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) that he said regarding the Saying of Allah, Most High: "And (remember) when We took from the Prophets their covenant." (Soorah Al-Ahzab 33:7), “I was the first of the Prophets in creation and the last of them to be sent.”

And it was reported on the authority of Abu Hurairah (May Allah be pleased with him) in the Hadith whose authenticity is agreed upon by Al-Bukhari and Muslim: “We who are the last shall be the first on the Day of Resurrection, except that every nation was given the Book before us and we were given it after them.”

And Allah, Most High, says, [ And (remember) when Allah took the Covenant of the Prophets, saying, "Take whatever I gave you from the Book and Hikmah (understanding of the Laws of Allah, etc.), and afterward there will come to you a Messenger (Muhammad) confirming what is with you; you must, then, believe in him and help him." Allah said, "Do you agree (to it) and will you take up My Covenant (which I conclude with you)?" They said, "We agree." He said, "Then bear witness; and I am with you among the witnesses (for this)." Then whoever turns away after this, they are the Fasiqoon (rebellious: those who turn away from obedience to Allah)." (Soorah Aal 'Imran 3:81,82)

'Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) and 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) said, "Allah did not send any Prophet except that He took from him a Covenant to the effect that if Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was sent while he was alive, he would certainly believe in him, and support him and He commanded him to accept the Covenant on behalf of his people, if he was sent while they were alive, that they would certainly believe in him and support him."

This is an allusion to, and an indication of the distinction bestowed on him and his superiority in all of the religions and in the words of all of the Prophets. It is also a notification to them and from them, that he will be sent as a Messenger at the end of time and that he is the noblest of the Messengers and the Seal of the Prophets. And Ibrahim, Al-Khaleel (Peace be upon him), explained his affair, revealed the information about him and his secret. He also disclosed details of his nobility and honor, his birth and his land, in his saying, when he had completed the construction of the House (of Allah): "Our Lord! Send amongst them a Messenger of their own (and indeed Allah answered their invocation by sending Muhammad), who shall recite unto them Your Verses and instruct them in the Book (this Qur'an) and AlHikmah (full knowledge of the Islamic laws and jurisprudence or wisdom or Prophethood, etc.), and sanctify them. Verily! You are the Almighty, the Most Wise.” (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:129). So the first elucidation of the truth of his affair among the people of the Earth was on the lips of Ibrahim, Al-Khaleel, the noblest of the Prophets with Allah, after Muhammad – may the blessings and peace of Allah be upon them both and upon all of the Prophets. Due to this, Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Luqman Ibn ‘Amir that he said, “I heard Abu Umamah (May Allah be pleased with him) say, I said, ‘O, Prophet of Allah! What was the start of your Prophethood?’ He said, ‘I am the supplication of my father, Ibrahim and the glad tidings of ‘Eesa, and my mother saw a vision in which a light was being emitted from her which illuminated the palaces of Ash-Sham’.” Imam Ahmad was alone in narrating this, and none of the compilers of the six Sunan narrated it.

Allah, Most High, says, "Those who follow the Messenger, the Prophet who can neither read nor write (i.e. Muhammad) whom they find written with them in the Tawrah (Deut. xviii, 15) and the Injeel (John xiv, 16) – he commands them to do Al-Ma‘roof (i.e. Islamic Monotheism and all that Islam has ordained), and forbids them from committing Al-Munkar (i.e. disbelief, polytheism of all kinds, and all that Islam has forbidden); he allows them as lawful At-Tayyibat ([i.e. all good and lawful] as regards things, deeds, beliefs, persons, foods, etc.) and prohibits them as unlawful Al-Khaba’ith (i.e. all evil and unlawful as regards things, deeds, beliefs, persons, foods, etc.), he releases them from their heavy burdens (of Allah’s Covenant) and from the fetters (bindings) that were upon them. So those who believe in him (Muhammad), honor him, help him and follow the light (the Qur’an) which has been sent down with him, it is they who will be successful." (Soorah Al-A‘raf 7:157)

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Abu Sakhr Al-‘Uqaili that he said, “A Bedouin man said to me, ‘I brought some trade goods to Al-Madinah and when I finished selling them, I said, I will certainly meet this man and hear what he has to say. He said, 'I encountered him in the company of Abu Bakr and 'Umar and they were walking, so I followed them until they came to a Jewish man who was reciting the Tawrah and consoling himself thereby for the death of a son of his, as the best and most handsome of young men.' On hearing this, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'I implore you by Him Who revealed the Tawrah, do you find in this Book of yours a description of me and of my appearance?' He replied in the negative by shaking his head. But his (dead) son said, 'yes, by Him Who revealed the Tawrah, we find your description in our Book and of your appearance and I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah and that you are the Messenger of Allah.' The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, 'Lift up your brother from this Jew.' Then he delegated some people to shroud his body and to pray over him." The isnad of this Hadith is good and it has supporting narrations in the Saheeh, on the authority of Anas Ibn Malik (May Allah be pleased with him).

And it is confirmed in the Saheeh that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) passed by the place where the Jews studied their Scripture and he said, "O, company of Jews! Embrace Islam, for by Him in Whose Hand is my soul, you certainly find my description in your Book."

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of 'Ata' Ibn Yasar that he said, "I met 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr Ibn Al'As and I said, 'Inform me about the descriptions of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) in the Tawrah.' He replied, 'Certainly; by Allah, he is described in the Tawrah just as he is described in the Qur'an: O, Prophet! Verily, We have sent you as a witness, as a bringer of glad tidings, as a warner and as a sanctuary for the unlettered. You are My slave and My Messenger. I have named you Al-Mutawakkil; He is without coarseness and he is not harsh, nor does he act boisterously in the market places, nor return evil for evil. Instead, he pardons and forgives. And Allah will not take him unto Him until they (the Muslims) straighten the crooked religion, so that they (its adherents) say, 'None is worthy of worship except Allah.' Allah will open up the eyes of the blind, the ears of the deaf and the hearts that are wrapped."

And the fact that he is mentioned in the books of the People of the Scripture is undeniable; this is proved by numerous Verses in the Qur'an, which we have discussed in the relevant place, all praise and thanks be to Allah. Such verses include the Words of Him, Most High: "Those to whom We gave the Scripture (i.e. the Tawrah and the Injeel, etc.) before it – they believe in it (the Qur'an). And when it is recited to them, they say, 'We believe in it. Verily, it is the Truth from our Lord. Indeed even before it, we have been from those who submit themselves to Allah in Islam as Muslims.'" (like 'Abdullah Ibn Salam and Salman AlFarisi, etc.) (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:52,53). And He, Most High, says, "Those to whom We gave the Scripture (Jews and Christians) recognize him (Muhammad or the Ka'bah in Makkah) as they recognize their sons. But verily, a party of them conceals the truth while they know it – (i.e. the qualities of Muhammad, which are written in the Tawrah and the Injeel." (Soorah Al-Baqarah 2:146) And He, Most High, says, "Say (O, Muhammad, to them), 'Believe in it (the Qur'an) or do not believe (in it). Verily! Those who were given knowledge before it (the Jews and the Christians like 'Abdullah Ibn Salam and Salman AlFarisi), when it is recited to them, fall down on their faces in humble prostration.' And they say, 'Glory be to our Lord! Truly, the Promise of our Lord must be fulfilled!'" (Soorah Al-Isra 17:107,108) That is, if our Lord has promised us that Muhammad will come and that he will bring a Message, then it will certainly happen without any doubt; glory be to the All-Powerful, Who is Able to do as He wills and Whom nothing can hinder. And He, Most High, says, regarding the Christians, "And when they (who call themselves Christians) listen to what has been sent down to the Messenger (Muhammad, you see their eyes overflowing with tears because of the Truth they have recognized. They say, 'Our Lord! We believe; so write us down among the witnesses'." (Soorah Al-Ma'idah 5:83). And in the story of the Negus (of Abyssinia), Salman Al-Farisi, 'Abdullah Ibn Salam and others, as we shall see, there are several testimonies to this. All praise and thanks be to Allah, from Whom proceeds all Grace.

Regarding the Communications of the Jinns: Being the Words They Placed On the Lips of the Soothsayers and Which They Caused to Be Heard From Within the Idols

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar that he said, "I never heard 'Umar say about something, 'I believe it is like this, ' except that it turned out that he was right. Once, while 'Umar was sitting, a handsome man passed by him. 'Umar said, 'If I am not wrong, this person is still following the religion that he followed in the Jahiliyyah or he was their foreteller. Call the man to me.' When the man was called to him, he told him of his thought. The man said, 'I have never seen such a day on which a Muslim is faced with such an accusation.' 'Umar said, 'I am determined that you should tell me the truth.'

He said, 'I was a foreteller in the Jahiliyyah.' Then 'Umar said, 'Tell me the most astonishing thing that your female jinni has told you.' He said, 'One day while I was in the market, she came to me scared and said,

Haven't you seen the jinn and their despair,

And they were overthrown after their defeat (and prevented from listening to the news of the heaven),

So that they (stopped going to the sky),

And kept following camel-riders (i.e. 'Arabs)?

'Umar said, 'He is right, ' and added, 'One day while I was near their idols, there came a man with a calf and slaughtered it as a sacrifice (for the idols). An (unseen) creature shouted at him, and I have never heard a harsher voice than his. He was crying, 'O, you bold evildoer! A matter of success! An eloquent man is saying, 'None has the right to be worshipped except You (O, Allah).' On that, the people fled, but I said, 'I shall not go away till I know what is behind this.' Then the cry came again: 'O, you bold evildoer! A matter of success! An eloquent man is saying, 'None has the right to be worshipped except Allah.' I then went away and a few days later it was said that a Prophet had appeared." Al-Bukhari was alone in narrating this.

This man (with whom 'Umar spoke) was Sawad Ibn Qarib Al-Azdi, or it was said, As-Sadusi, from the people of As-Sarat, from the mountains of Al-Balqa'. He met the Prophet, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, and was treated with respect. Abu Hatim and Ibn Mandah said that Sa'eed Ibn Jubair and Abu Ja'afar Ibn 'Ali narrated from him and Al-Bukhari said, "He is regarded as a Companion (having met the Prophet, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)."

And Al-Khara'iti said, "It was reported on the authority of Al-'Abbas Ibn Mirdas that he said that he saw a white ostrich ridden by a man in white garments, the color of milk and he said,

'O, 'Abbas Ibn Mirdas! Do you not see that the heaven's guardians have prevented the jinn from approaching it?

That war has gulped in its breath,

That the saddles have been placed on the horses,

That he who brought piety and fear of Allah has arrived,

On Monday/Tuesday night, the owner of the she-camel named Al-Qaswa?'

On hearing this, I returned in a state of fear, for what I had seen and heard had frightened me. On arriving home, I went to an idol named Ad-Dimar, which we used to worship, and to which we used to speak and I swept around it, then I stroked it and kissed it, but as I did so, a cry came from within it, saying (Al-Bahr ul-Kamil),

'Say to the all of the tribes of Sulaim that,

Ad-Dimar is dead and the people of the Mosque have triumphed,

Ad-Dimar is dead and it used to be worshipped,

Before prayer with Prophet Muhammad came,

Verily, he who has inherited Prophethood and guidance,

After the son of Maryam, is from Quraish and he is rightly-guided'

On hearing this, I departed in fear and went on until I came to my people and I told them the story of what I had seen and heard. Then I set out at the head of three hundred men of my tribe, Banu Harithah, and went to the Messenger of Allah, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, who was in Madinah, and we entered the Mosque. When the Messenger of Allah, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, saw me, he said to me, 'O, 'Abbas! How did you come to embrace Islam?' So I told him the story and it pleased him, and I and my people embraced Islam."

Al-Hafiz Abul Qasim Ibn ‘Asakir narrated in his Tareekh, in the biography Al-Harith Ibn Hani’ Ibn AlMudlij Ibn Al-Miqdad Ibn Zamil Ibn ‘Amr Al-‘Udhri, who reported on the authority of his father, who in turn reported on the authority of his grandfather, who likewise reported on the authority of his father, who reported on the authority of Zamil Ibn ‘Amr Al-‘Udhri that he said, “Banu ‘Udhrah had an idol which they called Hamam and they used to venerate it. It was with Banu Hind Ibn Haram Ibn Dinnah Ibn ‘Abd Ibn Katheer Ibn ‘Udhrah and its custodian was a man named Tariq. They used to remove their clothes in its presence; then, when the Messenger of Allah, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, appeared, we heard a voice saying, 'O Banu Hind Ibn Haram! The Truth has prevailed and Islam has repelled idolatry.' He said, 'We were terrified when we heard this and we remained there for a number of days. Then we heard a voice saying, 'O Tariq! O, Tariq! The truthful Prophet has been sent and he speaks Words of Revelation. A conqueror has conquered the land of Tihamah for the supporters of Islam, while those who turn away from it will have cause to regret. This is farewell from me until the Day of Resurrection.'

Zamil said, 'Then the idol fell on its face. So I saddled my camel and rode with some of my people until I reached the Prophet, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, and when I met him, I recited these poetic verses to him (Al-Bahr At-Taweel):

'To you, Messenger of Allah, I composed it,

And I crossed valleys and sandy declivities,

In order to support the best of mankind,

And to make common cause with you,

And I bear witness that there is nothing except Allah,

To Whom I pledge allegiance as long as I live.'

He said, 'Then I embraced Islam and pledged my allegiance to him and we informed him of what we had heard, on which he said: 'That was the speech of the Jinn.' Then he said: 'O assembly of Arabs! I am the Messenger of Allah, sent to you and to all mankind. I call upon you to the worship of Allah, Alone, and to acknowledge that I am His Messenger and His Slave; to perform Hajj to the House (of Allah); to fast one of the twelve months (in a year), that is, Ramadan. Whoever accepts my call will have Paradise as his abode, while those who disobey me, the Fire will be his end.'

Zamil said, 'So we embraced Islam and he formed us into a brigade (in case of war) and wrote a document for us, the text of which was: In the Name of Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful, from Muhammad, the Messenger of Allah, to Zamil Ibn 'Amr and those who have embraced Islam with him only.

I have sent him to all of his people, so whoever embraces Islam, he is in the Party of Allah and His Messenger. But if anyone refuses, he will be granted safety for two months.

'Ali Ibn Abi Talib and Muhammad Ibn Maslamah Al-Ansari bear witness to what I say'." Ibn 'Asakir commented that this is extremely ghareeb.

Chapter on How the Revelation Began to Come to the Messenger of Allah And Mention of the First Thing Revealed to Him From the Qur'an

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of 'A'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, that she said, "The commencement of the Divine Inspiration to Allah's Messenger, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, was in the form of good dreams which came true like broad daylight, and then the love of seclusion was bestowed upon him. He used to go in seclusion to the Cave of Hira' where he used to worship (Allah, the Almighty, Alone) continuously for many days before his desire to see his family overcame him. He used to take food with him on the journey, for the stay and then would come back to (his wife) Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, to take more food supplies, until suddenly the Truth descended upon him while he was in the Cave of Hira'.

The angel came to him and asked him to read. He replied: 'I do not know how to read.' The Prophet said: 'The angel caught me (forcefully) and pressed me so hard that I could not bear it anymore. He then released me and again asked me to read and I replied: 'I am not a literate.' Thereupon he caught me again and pressed me a second time until I could not bear it anymore. He then released me and again asked me to read but again I replied: 'I am not a literate.'

Thereupon he caught me for the third time and pressed me; then he released me and said: 'Read in the Name of your Lord, who has created (all that exists) has created man from a clot. Read! And your Lord is the Most Generous who has taught (the writing) by the pen. He has taught man that which he know not!' (Soorah Al-'Alaq 96:1-5)

Then the Messenger of Allah, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, returned with the Inspiration and with his heart pounding. He went to Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid, may Allah be pleased with her, and said: 'Cover me! Cover me!' They covered him till his fear was over and after that he told her everything that had happened and said: "I fear that something may happen to me."

Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, replied, 'Never! By Allah, Allah will never disgrace you. You keep good relations with your kith and kin, serve your guests generously, assist the weak, benefit those who have nothing and support people afflicted by calamity.' Khadeejah then took him to her cousin Waraqah Ibn Nawfal Ibn Asad Ibn 'Abdul-'Uzza, who, during the pre-Islamic period had become a Christian and used to write Hebrew. He would write from the Gospel in Hebrew as much as Allah, the Almighty, wished him to write. He was an old man and had lost his eyesight.

Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, said to Waraqah, 'Listen to the story of your nephew, O my cousin!' Waraqah asked, 'O my nephew! What have you seen?' The Messenger of Allah, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, described what he had seen. Waraqah said, 'This is the same one who keeps the secrets (the Angel Jibraeel, peace be upon him) whom Allah sent to Moosa. I wish I were young and I wish that I could live up to the time when your people will drive you out.' The Messenger of Allah, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, asked: 'Will they drive me out?' Waraqah replied, 'Yes. All those who have brought something similar to what you brought were treated with disdain and hostility; and if I should remain alive till the day when you will be turned out, then I would support you strongly.'

Waraqah did not remain (alive); he died, and the Divine Inspiration also paused for a while; and the Prophet, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, became so sad, as we have heard, that he intended several times to throw himself from the tops of high mountains, and every time he went up the top of a mountain in order to throw himself down, Jibraeel, may Allah be pleased with him, would appear before him and say, 'O Muhammad! You are indeed the Messenger of Allah in truth, ' whereupon his heart would become quiet and he would calm down and return home. And whenever the period of the coming of the inspiration used to become long, he would do as before, but when he reached the top of a mountain, Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) would appear before him and say to him what he had said before.”

The Mother of the Believers, ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said, 'The commencement of the Divine Inspiration to Allah’s Messenger, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, was in the form of good dreams which came true like bright daylight.' This strengthens the narration related by Muhammad Ibn Ishaq Ibn Yasar on the authority of ‘Ubaid Ibn ‘Umar Al-Laithi, in which it was stated that the Prophet, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “Jibraeel came to me with a rug of silk brocade on which there was writing, while I was sleeping, and he said: “Read!” I asked: “What shall I read?” Then he pressed me until I felt that I was dying, then he released me.”

Mention of His Age at the Time When He Was Sent and the History of It

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘Amir Ash-Sha‘bi that the Prophethood came on the Messenger of Allah, Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him, when he was forty years old. For three years, Angel Israfeel (Peace be upon him) was entrusted with his Prophethood and he taught him words and things, but the Qur’an was not revealed. Then, after three years, Angel Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) was entrusted with his Prophethood and the Qur’an was revealed over a period of twenty years in Makkah and three years in Madinah. He died when he was sixty-three years old. This chain of narrators is authentic up to Ash-Sha‘bi. This necessitates that Israfeel (Peace be upon him) was entrusted with his Prophethood for three years after he reached the age of forty years and then Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) came to him.

Abu Shamah said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to witness miraculous things before the start of his Prophethood, including that which has been narrated in Saheeh Muslim, on the authority of Jabir Ibn Samurah, may Allah be pleased with him, who said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: 'I know a stone in Makkah which used to greet me with salutations of peace before I was sent as a Prophet; indeed, I know it now'.”

The Messenger of Allah (Peace be upon him) only liked seclusion and solitude from his people because of the clear error in which he saw them, i.e., the worship of idols and prostration to graven images. His love of solitude increased as the time approached when Allah, the Almighty, began sending down the Revelation to him – Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him. Muhammad Ibn Ishaq reported on the authority of ‘Abdul Malik Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn Abu Sufyan Ibn Al-‘Ala’ Ibn Jariyah that he said, “It was preserved from one of the scholars that he said, 'The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to make a sojourn to the Cave of Hira’ every year for a month, during which time he would devote himself to Allah, the Almighty. One of the practices of Quraish during the Jahiliyyah was that they used to feed any poor person who came to them and after finishing their hospitality, they would not enter their homes until they performed circumambulation of the Ka‘bah'." This is how it was narrated on the authority of Wahb Ibn Kaisan, who said that he heard ‘Ubaid Ibn ‘Umair telling ‘Abdullah Ibn AzZubair something like this. This proves that it was the custom of the worshippers from Quraish to remain in the vicinity of Hira' for the purpose of worship, which is why Abu Talib said in his famous Qasidah (Ode) (Al-Bahr At-Taweel):

By Thawr and Him Who anchored Thabeer in its place,

And one who ascended to Hira' and descended from it.

And the saying in the Hadith (in Saheeh Muslim): "Tahannuth is worship..." is an explanation of the meaning, but the literal meaning of Tahannuth is to reach the age of mental and physical maturity, according to As-Suhaili. But I have heard a few expressions in language which indicate that its meaning is to abandon sin and refrain from evildoing, while Tahajjud means to forsake Al-Hujood, i.e. sleep, in order to pray; and Tanajjus (to do something that removes one from a state of impurity) and Taqadhdhur (meaning to deem something impure or sinful). These meanings were cited by Abu Shamah. Ibn AlA'rabi was asked about Tahannuth meaning worship and he said, "I do not know this; I only know it as being from the Hanifiyyah, the Religion of Ibrahim (Peace be upon him)." Ibn Hisham said, "The Arabs say 'At-Tahannuth' and 'At-Tahannuf'; they replace the letter Tha' with the letter Fa'."

As for the words: "...until the Truth came upon him suddenly, while he was in Hira' Cave," the meaning is that it came upon him unexpectedly, as Allah, Most High, says, "And you were not expecting that the Book (this Qur'an) would be sent down to you, but it is a Mercy from your Lord." (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:86) The opening Verses of this Soorah: "Read! In the Name of your Lord, Who has created (all that exists), has created man from a clot (a piece of thick coagulated blood). Read! And your Lord is the Most Generous, Who has taught (the writing) by the pen (the first person to write was Prophet Idrees, peace be upon him), has taught man that which he knew not" – were the first Verses revealed to him, as we confirmed in the Tafseer. And we shall also show that they were revealed on a Monday, as it was confirmed thus in Saheeh Muslim, on the authority of Abu Qatadah, may Allah be pleased with him, that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was asked about fasting on Mondays and he said: “That is the day on which I was born and the day on which the Qur’an was revealed to me.”

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Wathilah Ibn Al-Asqa‘, may Allah be pleased with him, that the Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “The Scriptures of Ibrahim were revealed on the first night of Ramadan, the Tawrah was revealed on the sixth day of Ramadan, the Injeel was revealed on the thirteenth night of Ramadan and the Qur’an was revealed on the twenty-fourth day of Ramadan.”

As for the saying of Jibraeel, may Allah be pleased with him, “Read!” and the Prophet’s response: “I am not a literate,” the correct interpretation is that it is a negation, i.e., “I am not one of those who excel at reading.” Among those who favored this meaning were An-Nawawi and before him, Shaikh Abu Shamah. As for those who said that it is a question, it is unlikely, because the letter "Ba' " used in the Verse is not added excepted in negative statements. The former interpretation is also supported by the narration of Abu Nu‘aim from the Hadith of Al-Mu‘tamir Ibn Sulaiman, who reported on the authority of his father that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), who was in a state of fear and trembling, said: 'I have never read a book, I do not excel at it and I can neither read nor write.' Then Jibraeel seized him and pressed him hard, then released him and said to him, “Read!” And Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “I do not see anything to read and I do not read or write.” It was also narrated as: ( غَطَّ ) as in the Saheehain.” And it was narrated as: ( غَتَّتْ نِي وَوَقَدَدْتِ ) i.e. “he throttled me.” – “until I was exhausted.” And he did this three times.

Abu Sulaiman Al-Khattabi said, “He only did this in order to test his patience, to improve his selfdiscipline and to train him to bear the burdens of Prophethood with which he had been entrusted. This is why he was afflicted with the feeling similar to that of a feverish person, i.e., shaking and sweating.

As for the words “then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) returned with it (the Inspiration) to Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, with his heart pounding,” in another version, it was stated: “his ‘Bawadir’,” which is the plural of ‘Badirah’. Abu ‘Ubaidah said, “the flesh between the shoulder and the neck.”

As for Khadeejah’s saying, “Never! By Allah, Allah will never disgrace you,” it was said that it means by causing him to be dishonored and it was also said that it means by causing him sorrow. And this was due to her knowledge of the fine attributes which Allah, the Almighty, had bestowed on him, and that anyone possessing such qualities would not be disgraced in the life of this world or in the Hereafter. And her saying, “...assist the weak,” means that he used to give those who were responsible for feeding and maintaining their families the wherewithal to carry out those responsibilities. “...benefit those who have nothing,” i.e., you hasten to do good deeds by giving to the poor and you gain the reward of it before others. And a poor person is called ‘Ma‘doom’ because his life is deficient and it is the same to him whether he lives or dies.

Al-Khattabi said, “The correct interpretation of: “...and you benefit those who have nothing” by clothing them or giving them money with which to purchase the necessities of life.” Shaikh Abul Hajjaj Al-Mizzi said that the meaning preferred by him regarding "Al-Ma‘doom" here is: the money that is given. That is, he gives the money to those who have none. As for anyone who claims that what is meant is: You benefit by giving the leftover money from your trade, or by giving a little of that which is valuable, he has gone far astray and attempted to explain a matter of which he has no knowledge, for such a person is not deserving of praise in most cases. This opinion was declared weak by Al-Qadi Iyad, An-Nawawi and others. And Allah knows best.

“You serve your guests generously,” means: You are generous in the hospitality that you offer to them and you provide good accommodation for them. “...And support people afflicted by calamity.” That is, when calamity strikes a person, causing him to lose something good, you help him in it and you stand by the one so afflicted until he finds the means to live.

Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, then took him to her cousin Waraqah. He was an old man and had lost his eyesight. Khadeejah said to Waraqah, “Listen to the story of your nephew, O my cousin!” Waraqah asked, “O my nephew! What have you seen?” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) described what he had seen. Waraqah said, “This is the same one who keeps the secrets (the Angel Jibraeel, peace be upon him) whom Allah sent to Moosa.”

He did not mention ‘Eesa (Peace be upon him), even though he came after Moosa (Peace be upon him), because the Law given to the former was a completion and a perfection of that given to the latter (may the blessings and peace of Allah be upon them both) and some of it was abrogated, according to the correct opinion of the scholars, as He, Most High, says,

“...and to make lawful to you part of what was forbidden to you.” (Soorah Al ‘Imran 3:50).

And this saying of Waraqah Ibn Nawfal is like the saying of the Jinn: They said, “O our people! Verily! We have heard a Book (this Qur’an) sent down after Moosa, confirming what came before it, it guides to the truth and to a Straight Path (i.e. Islam).” (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:30).

Then Waraqah said, “I wish I were young...” i.e., I wish that I was a young man today, firm of faith and possessing beneficial knowledge and able to perform righteous deeds. And his saying, “...and I wish that I could live up to the time when your people will drive you out...” – means so that I might depart with you and support you.

When he said this, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “Will they drive me out?” As-Suhaili said, “He only said this because leaving one’s homeland is a great hardship for human beings. Waraqah then replied, “Yes. All those who brought something similar to what you have brought were treated with hostility; and if I should remain alive till the day when you will be turned out, then I would support you strongly.” That is, I would support you to the utmost of my ability, always. Then ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, added, “But Waraqah, did not remain, but died.” That is, he only lived for a few days after hearing this story, after which he died – may Allah have mercy on him and may He be pleased with him – for words such as those that emanated from him prove that he believed what he heard, had faith in the Revelation about which he was informed and had a righteous intention to support him in the future.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, that Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, asked the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) about Waraqah and he said: “I saw him and he was wearing white garments; and I think that if he had been one of the inhabitants of the Fire, he would not have been wearing white garments.”

Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Al-Bazzar narrated on the authority of ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, that she said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said, “Do not malign Waraqah, for I have seen one or two Gardens for him.”

Ibn Ishaq said, “I was told by ‘Abdul Malik Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn Abi Sufyan Ibn Al-‘Ala’ Ibn Jariyah AthThaqafi, who reported from one of the scholars, that when Allah, the Almighty, willed to honor the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and to commence the Prophethood, whenever he went out to answer the call of nature, he would go far away, until the houses were hidden from his sight and he would proceed to the ravines of Makkah and the bottoms of its valleys and whenever he passed by a rock or a tree, it would say, “May Allah’s peace be upon you, O Messenger of Allah!” The narrator said, “And he would look around him, to the right and to the left and behind him, but would see nothing but trees and rocks. He continued to see and hear for as long as Allah, the Almighty, willed, then Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) came to him with the Revelation with which Allah, the Almighty, had honored him while he was in Hira’, in the month of Ramadan.”

Ibn Ishaq said, “I was told by Wahb Ibn Kaisan, the freed slave of the family of Az-Zubair: “I heard ‘Abdullah Ibn Az-Zubair, may Allah be pleased with him, say to ‘Ubaid Ibn ‘Umair Ibn Qatadah ALLaithi, ‘O ‘Ubaid! Tell us show Prophethood began for the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) when Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) came to him.’ He (Wahb) said, ‘ ‘Ubaid said to ‘Abdullah Ibn Az-Zubair and those people who were with him, while I was present, The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to remain in Hira’ for one month of every year, performing Tahannuth and this was something held to be obligatory by Quraish in the Jahiliyyah. Tahannuth means to perform acts of devotion and piety and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to spend that month every year in feeding the poor and needy who came to him. When he finished his sojourn in that month, the first thing that he would do was to go to the Ka'bah before entering his house and he would circumambulate it seven times or as many as Allah, the Almighty, willed. Then he would return to his house and he continued this practice until the year when Allah, the Almighty, willed to ennoble him by bestowing Prophethood on him.

That month was the month of Ramadan, when he set out for Hira', just as he did every year. His family was with him until the night when Allah, the Almighty, ennobled him with the Message and bestowed Mercy on the slaves through him. Jibrael (Peace be upon him) came to him with the Commandment of Allah, the Almighty. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said:

“Jibrael (Peace be upon him) came to me while I was sleeping, with a rug of silk brocade on which there was writing, and he said: 'Read!' I asked: 'What shall I read?' Then he pressed me until I felt that I was dying, then he released me. He said again: 'Read!' And I said: 'What shall I read?' Then he pressed me until I felt that I was dying, then he released me. He said again: 'Read!' I said: 'What shall I read?' I only said this because I feared that he would do the same thing to me again. Then he said: 'Read in the name of your Lord, who has created (all that exists) has created man from a clot. Read! And your Lord is the Most Generous. Who has taught (the writing) by the pen. He has taught the manurial which he know not'." (Soorah Al-'Alaq 96:1-5).”

He said: “So I recited it and then he desisted and left me and I got up from my bed and it was as if he had written something in my heart.”

He added: “Then I departed and when I was halfway down the mountain, I heard a voice from the sky saying, 'O Muhammad! You are the Messenger of Allah and I am Jibraeel.'”

The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “I raised my head to the sky to look and I saw Jibraeel in the form of a man whose feet were on the horizon. He said: 'O Muhammad! You are the Messenger of Allah and I am Jibraeel.' I stopped and looked at him. His sight distracted my attention from what I had intended to do. I stood in my place transfixed. I tried to shift my eyes away from him, but he was in every direction I looked at. I stopped in my place without any movement until Khadeejah sent someone to look for me. He went down to Makkah and came back while I was standing in the same place. Jibraeel then departed and I went back home.

I found Khadeejah at home, so I sat very close to her. She said, 'O Abul-Qasim! Where have you been? I sent someone to look for you. He went to Makkah and returned to me.' I told her of what I had seen. She replied, 'Be of good cheer, O my cousin and be strong. For by Him in Whose Hand is my soul, I hope that you will be a Prophet for this nation!.'”

Then she stood up and went to Waraqah and informed him. Waraqah said, “By Him in Whose Hand is the soul of Waraqah, if you have told me the truth, O Khadeejah, he has received the same great Nameos who was sent to Moosa. He is the Prophet of this nation. Tell him to be strong.”

She returned to him and told him of Waraqah’s words. When the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) finished his sojourn and had done what he always did: he began by circumambulating the Ka‘bah, where he was met by Waraqah, who was also circumambulating the Ka‘bah, and he said to him, “O my nephew! Inform me of what you saw and heard.” So the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) did so and he said, “By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, you are the Prophet of this nation and you have received the same great Namooos who was sent to Moosa. And they will certainly belie you, harm you, expel you and fight you. If I live to see that day, I would certainly help in Allah’s Cause to the utmost of my ability.” Then he lowered his head to him and kissed the crown of his head. Then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) departed and returned to his house.”

Imam Muslim narrated in his Saheeh on the authority of Jabir Ibn Samurah, may Allah be pleased with him, that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “I know a rock in Makkah that used to give salutations of peace to me before I was sent (as a Messenger); I know it even now.”

Al-Bukhari said in the narration which we mentioned earlier, “...and the Divine Inspiration was also paused for a while; and the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) became so sad, as we have heard, that he intended several times to throw himself from the top of high mountains and every time he went up the top of a mountain in order to throw himself down, Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) would appear before him and say, “O Muhammad! You are indeed the Messenger of Allah in truth,” whereupon his heart would become quiet and he would calm down and return home. And whenever the period of the coming of the Inspiration used to become long, he would do as before, but when he reached the top of a mountain, Jibraeel (Peace be upon him) would appear before him and say to him what he had said before.”

And it was reported in the Saheehain on the authority of Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah that he said, “I heard the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) describe the period of pause of the Divine Inspiration, and in his description he said: 'While I was walking I heard a voice from the sky. I looked up toward the sky, and behold! I saw the same angel who came to me in the Cave of Hira', sitting on a chair between the sky and the Earth. I was so terrified by him that I fell down on the ground. Then I went to my wife and said: 'Wrap me in garments! Wrap me in garments!' They wrapped me, and then Allah revealed: 'O you (Muhammad), enveloped (in garments)! Arise and warn! And your Lord (Allah) magnify! And your garments purify! And keep away from Ar-Rujz (the idols)!' (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:1-5). After that, the Divine Inspiration started coming more frequently and regularly."

So this was the first thing revealed from the Qur'an after the pause in Revelation, not the very first thing to be revealed from the Qur'an; that was: "Read! In the Name of your Lord, Who has created (all that exists) " (Soorah Al-'Alaq 96:1). And it has been confirmed on the authority of Jabir, may Allah be pleased with him, that the first thing revealed was: "O you (Muhammad), enveloped (in garments)!" (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:1). And what is most befitting is to understand his words in the light of what we have said, because in the context of his words is that which indicates that when the angel came to him on the second occasion, he recognized him due to him being in the same form as when he saw him on the first occasion. And his saying: "...describing the period of pause of the Divine Inspiration," is a proof that Inspiration had come to him before this Revelation.

It has been confirmed in the Saheehain – by Al-Bukhari, on the authority of 'Ali Ibn Al-Mubarak and by Muslim and Al-Awza'i, on the authority of Yahya Ibn Abi Katheer – that he said, "I asked Abu Salamah Ibn 'Abdur Rahman what part of the Qur'an was revealed first, and he said, "O you (Muhammad), enveloped (in garments)!" (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:1)." I said, "What about: Read! In the Name of your Lord, Who has created (all that exists)" (Soorah Al-‘Alaq 96:1) He replied, “I asked Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah, 'which part of the Qur’an was revealed first?' And he said, 'O you (Muhammad), enveloped (in garments)!' (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:1) I asked, what about: 'Read! In the Name of your Lord, Who has created (all that exists)!.'” (Soorah Al-‘Alaq 96:1) he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: I stayed in Hira’ for one month and when my sojourn was completed, I came down and went into the heart of the valley. Somebody called me aloud. I looked in front of me, from behind me, on the right of my side and on my left, but I did not see anybody. I was again called and I looked about but saw nothing. I was called again and raised my head, and there he was, on a throne, in the air. He, i.e. Jibraeel was sitting. I began to tremble on account of fear. I came to Khadeejah and said, wrap me up. They wrapped me up and threw water on me and Allah, the Exalted and Glorious, sent down this: Then, O, you (Muhammad), enveloped (in garments)! ) – up to His Words: And your garments purify ) (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:1-4) was revealed.”

In another narration he said: “The angel who came to me in Hira’ was sitting on a throne between the heaven and the Earth and I was terrified of him.”

This is a clear proof that the angel had already come to him and brought down Revelation to him from Allah, the Almighty. And Allah knows best. Some claim that the first thing revealed to him after the pause in Revelation was: "By the forenoon (after sunrise); and by the night when it is still (or darkens); your Lord (O, Muhammad) has neither forsaken you nor hated you" (Soorah Ad-Duha 93:1-3) – up to the end of the Soorah. This was the opinion of Muhammad Ibn Ishaq.

Some say that this is why the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) made Takbeer at the beginning of it, due to his happiness and this is a very strange opinion that is rejected by the authentic narration of a Companion which we have already mentioned. This narration states that the first thing from the Qur'an to be revealed after the pause in Revelation was: "O, you (Muhammad), enveloped (in garments)! Arise and warn!" (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:1,2), but Soorah Ad-Duha was revealed after another pause, which lasted for a few nights, as confirmed in the Saheehain and other collections of Ahadeeth, on the authority of Al-Aswad Ibn Qais, who reported on the authority of Jundub Ibn 'Abdullah Al-Bajali that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) fell ill and did not offer the prayers for one, two or three nights and a woman (the wife of Abu Lahab) came to him and said, "O, Muhammad! I do not see but that your devil has left you." Then Allah, the Almighty, revealed: "By the forenoon (after sunrise); and by the night when it is still (or darkens); your Lord (O, Muhammad) has neither forsaken you nor hated you." (Soorah Ad-Duha 93:1-3)

In this way, the aim of sending of the Message to the people was achieved and before it began the Prophethood. Some say that the period of the pause was around two and a half years. And it would appear – and Allah knows best – that it was the period when Mika'el (Michael) was associated with him, as AshSha'bi and others said. And this does not contradict the fact that Jibraeel brought to him first: "Read! In the Name of your Lord, Who has created (all that exists)." (Soorah Al-'Alaq 96:1). Then Jibraeel became associated with him after the revelation of: "O, you (Muhammad), enveloped (in garments)! And your Lord (Allah) magnify! And your garments purify! And keep away from Ar-Rujz (the idols)!" (Soorah AlMuddaththir 74:1-5)

Then the Revelation increased in frequency after that and continued without interruption; and then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) began to disseminate the Message in the most complete manner, exerting himself to the utmost in calling upon all of mankind – including his close kith and kin and those more distant from him, the slaves and freemen. All those of understanding and those of superior character believed, while all those who were stubborn oppressors continued to disobey him and oppose him. The first of the freemen to hasten to affirm his belief was Abu Bakr As-Siddiq. The first of the young boys was ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib; the first of the women to embrace Islam was Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid, the wife of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him); and the first of the freed slaves to embrace Islam was his freed slave, Zaid Ibn Harithah Al-Kalbi – may Allah be pleased with all of them and may He please them. We have already spoken about the faith of Waraqah Ibn Nawfal because of the Revelation imparted to him; but he died during the pause in Revelation, may Allah be pleased with him.

Section Regarding the Prevention of the Jinn and the Repelling of the Shayatin (devils) from Eavesdropping When the Qur’an Was Revealed

It was from the Mercy of Allah, the Almighty, His Grace and His Kindness toward His creation that he screened them from the heavens, as He, Most High, says regarding them in His Words: “And we have sought to reach the heavens; but found it filled with stern guards and flaming fires. And, verily, we used to sit there in stations, to (steal) a hearing, but anyone who listens now will find a flaming fire waiting for him in ambush. And we know not whether evil is intended for those on Earth, or whether their Lord intends for them a Right Path.” (Soorah Al-Jinn 72:8-10).

And He, Most High, says, "And it is not the Shayatin (devils) who have brought it (this Qur’an) down. Neither would it suit them, nor can they (produce it). Verily, they have been removed far from hearing it." (Soorah Ash-Shu'ara' 26:110-112)

And Abu 'Awanah reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) set out along with a group of his companions toward 'Ukaz Market. At that time something intervened between the devils and the news of the heavens, and flames were sent down upon them, so the devils returned. Their fellow devils said, 'What is wrong with you?' They said, 'Something has intervened between us and the news of the heavens, and fires (flames) have been shot at us.' Their fellow devils said, 'Nothing has intervened between you and the news of the heavens, but an important event has happened. Therefore, travel all over the world, East and West, and try to find out what has happened.' And so they set out and traveled all over the world, East and West, looking for that thing which had intervened between them and the news of the heavens.

Those of the devils who had set out toward Tihamah, went to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) at Nakhlah (a place between Makkah and Ta'if) while he was on his way to 'Ukaz Market. (They encountered him) while he was offering the Fajr (Dawn) prayer with his Companions. When they heard the Holy Qur'an being recited (by the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)), they listened to it and said (to each other), 'This is the thing which has intervened between you and the news of the heavens.' Then they returned to their people and said, 'O our people! We have really heard a wonderful recital (the Qur'an). It gives guidance to the right, and we have believed therein. We shall not join in worship anybody with our Lord'." (Soorah Al-Jinn 72.1-2)

Then Allah, the Almighty, revealed to His Prophet (Soorah Al-Jinn): "Say (O, Muhammad), 'It has been revealed to me that a group (from three to ten in number) of Jinn listened (to this Qur'an)." (Soorah AlJinn 72:1). This was narrated in the Saheehain.

Abu Bakr Ibn Abi Shaibah reported on the authority of Sa'eed Ibn Jubair, who reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas that he said, "Every tribe of the Jinn had listening posts and when any Revelation was sent down, the angels would hear a sound like a piece of iron striking a smooth stone." He added, "Whenever the angels heard it, they would fall down in prostration and they would not raise their heads until it had come down; then, when it had come down, they would say to one another, "What did your Lord say?" And if it was something pertaining to the heavens, they would say, "The truth; and He is the Most High, the Great." But if it was something pertaining to the Earth, whether regarding the unseen, or a death or something else concerning the Earth, they would speak about it and say, "It is such-and-such." The Jinn would hear this and convey it to their clients (the soothsayers, fortunetellers, etc.).

But when the revelation was sent to Prophet Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), they were dispersed by having meteorites hurled at them. The first people to notice them were Thaqeef. An owner of sheep among them would go out to his sheep and each day he would sacrifice a sheep, while an owner of camels would sacrifice a camel each day. And the people hastened to spend their money. But some of them said to the others, "Do not do this, for either they are the stars by which people are guided or else something has happened." So they looked and saw that the stars by which they were guided were unchanged. Hence, they desisted, and Allah, the Almighty, turned away the Jinn; and then they heard the Qur'an. When they came to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and heard him reciting, they said, "Listen." Then the devils went to Iblees and informed him about it and he said, "This is an event which has occurred on Earth, so bring me some dust from every part of the Earth.” They did so and when they brought him the earth of Tihamah, he said, “Here is where the event occurred.”

Al-Baihaqi and Al-Hakim narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas that he said, “The lowest heaven was not guarded during the period between ‘Eesa and Muhammad (may the blessings and peace of Allah be upon them both).” But it is likely that what is meant by those who rejected that, is that it was not strictly guarded. And it must be understood in this way because of what has been confirmed in the Hadith on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas, who said, “While the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was sitting with some of his Companions, may Allah be pleased with them, a star (i.e., a meteorite) was hurled and it illuminated the sky, upon which he said: “What did you used to say when the like of this was hurled?” They said, “We used to say, 'Some great person has died, ‘ or, 'Some great person has been born.' He said: 'No, but'...” and he mentioned the Hadith, as we said earlier.

Section Regarding How the Revelation Came to the Messenger of Allah

It was reported on the authority of ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, that Al-Harith Ibn Hisham asked the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), “O Messenger of Allah! How does the Revelation come to you?” He said: “Sometimes it is (revealed) like the ringing of a bell; this form of Inspiration is the hardest of all and then this state passes off after I have grasped what is inspired. Sometimes the angel comes in the form of a man and talks to me and I grasp whatever he says.” ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, added, “Verily, I saw the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) being inspired Divinely on a very cold day and noticed the sweat dripping from his forehead (as the Inspiration ended).” This was narrated by Al-

Bukhari and Muslim in the Saheehain from the Hadith of Malik.

And in Saheeh Muslim and other collections of Ahadeeth it was reported on the authority of Al-Hasan, who reported on the authority of Hittan Ibn ‘Abdullah Ar-Raqashi, who in turn reported on the authority of ‘Ubadah Ibn As-Samit, may Allah be pleased with them, that he said, “When Revelation came down to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), it was burdensome to him and his face would take on a dark red expression.” And in another narration, “...his eyes became dark and we recognized that from him.”

And in the Saheehain is the Hadith of Zaid Ibn Thabit (May Allah be pleased with him), who said that when "Not equal are those of the Believers who sit (at home)" (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:95) was revealed, Ibn Umm Maktoom (May Allah be pleased with him) complained of his blindness, following which "...except those who are disabled (by injury or are blind or lame, etc.)" was revealed (Soorah An-Nisa' 4:95) and, "the thigh of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was against my thigh and I was writing, but when the Revelation came down, his thigh almost broke my thigh."

And in Saheeh Muslim, it was reported on the authority of Ya‘la Ibn Umayyah, may Allah be pleased with him, that he said, “ ‘Umar (May Allah be pleased with him) said to me, ‘Would it please you to see the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) when Revelation is descending on him? Then he lifted a corner of the cloth and the Revelation was descending upon him at Al-Ji‘ranah; I saw that his face was red and he was snorting like a camel.”

And it was confirmed in the Saheehain in the Hadith of ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, that Sawdah, may Allah be pleased with her, the wife of the Prophet, Peace and Blessings on Allah be upon him) went out to answer the call of nature after it was made obligatory (for all the Muslim women) to observe the veil. She was a large, overweight lady, and everybody who knew her before could recognize her. So ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab (May Allah be pleased with him) saw her and said, “O Sawdah! By Allah, you cannot hide yourself from us, so think of a way by which you should not be recognized on going out.” Sawdah, may Allah be pleased with her, returned while the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was in my house taking his supper and a bone covered with meat was in his hand. She entered and said, “O, Messenger of Allah! I went out to answer the call of nature and ‘Umar said to me such-and-such.” Then Allah, the Almighty, inspired him (the Prophet) and when the state of Inspiration was over – and the bone was still in his hand, as he had not put it down – he said (to Sawdah, may Allah be pleased with her): “You (women) have been allowed to go out for your needs.” This proves that the Revelation did not cause him to completely lose his senses, because he was sitting and also, the bone did not fall from his hand – may Allah’s Blessings and Peace be upon him in perpetuity.

Imam Ahmad narrated on the authority of Asma’ Bint Yazeed, may Allah be pleased with her, that she said, “I was holding the reins of Al-‘Adba’, the she-camel of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) when the whole of Soorah Al-Ma’idah was revealed to him. Due to the burden of it on him, the upper leg of the she-camel was bruised.”

It has also been confirmed in the Saheehain that the sending down of Soorah Al-Fat’h to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) occurred when he was returning from Al-Hudaybiyyah, while he was on his riding beast and it came down to him little by little, according to the circumstances. And Allah (SWT) knows best.

Allah, Most High, says, "Move not your tongue concerning (the Qur'an, O, Muhammad) to make haste therewith. It is for Us to collect it and to give you (O, Muhammad) the ability to recite it (the Qur'an), And when We have recited it to you (O, Muhammad, through Jibraeel), then follow you its (the Qur'an's) recital. Then it is for Us (Allah) to make it clear to you." (Soorah Al-Qiyamah 75:16-19)

Then High above all be Allah, the True King, said: "And be not in haste (O, Muhammad) with the Qur'an before its revelation is completed to you, and say, 'My Lord! Increase me in knowledge'." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:114).

This was at the beginning, when the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to take great pains to memorize the Revelation brought to him by Jibraeel from Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful, by reciting it rapidly, in order to keep pace with the angel's recitation. So Allah, Most High, commanded him to listen to the angel until he had completed the Revelation. And He guaranteed for him that He would preserve it in his heart and make it easy for him to recite and convey (to others) and that He would make clear its meanings to him. This is why He, Most High, says, "And be not in haste (O, Muhammad) with the Qur'an before its revelation is completed to you, and say, 'My Lord! Increase me in knowledge'." (Soorah Ta Ha 20:114).

And He says, "Move not your tongue to make haste therewith. It is for Us to collect it" (Soorah AlQiyamah 75:16-17) means in your heart, "...and to give you (O, Muhammad) the ability to recite it (the Qur'an)" (Soorah Al-Qiyamah 75:17) means the angel recites it to you, that you may recite it, "...then follow you its (the Qur'an's) recital." (Soorah Al-Qiyamah 75:18). It means to listen to it and reflect on it. "Then it is for Us (Allah) to make it clear to you." (Soorah Al-Qiyamah 75:19). This is the same as His Saying: "...and say, "My Lord! Increase me in knowledge."(Soorah Ta Ha 20:114)

And in the Saheehain it was reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn 'Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, that he said, "The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to bear the Revelation with great trouble and used to move his lips (quickly) with the Inspiration." Ibn 'Abbas moved his lips saying, "I am moving my lips in front of you as the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to move his." Sa'eed moved his lips saying, "I am moving my lips, as I saw Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) moving his." Ibn 'Abbas (May Allah be pleased with him) added, "So Allah, the Almighty, revealed, "Move not your tongue to make haste therewith. It is for Us to collect it and to give you (O, Muhammad) the ability to recite it (the Qur'an)." (Soorah AlQiyamah 75:16, 17) which means that Allah, the Almighty, will make him (the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)) remember the portion of the Qur'an which was revealed at that time by heart and recite it.

The Statement of Allah, the Almighty: "And when We have recited it to you (O, Muhammad, through Jibraeel), then follow you its..." (the Qur'an's) recital means listen to it and be silent. "Then it is for Us (Allah) to make it clear to you" (Soorah Al-Qiyamah 75:19) means "then it is (for Allah, the Almighty,) to make you recite it (and its meaning will be clear by itself through your tongue)." Whenever Jibraeel came, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) used to lower his head to his chest and listen in silence to him and after his departure he would recite it just as Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful had promised him.

Ibn Ishaq said, "Then the Revelation to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) continued and he believed in what came to him. He accepted it completely and he conveyed it to the slaves, regardless of whether it pleased them or displeased them; and Prophethood entails heavy burdens which none can bear and none can understand except those Messengers who are strong and determined, whom Allah, the Almighty, helps and to whom He grants success, because of what they encounter from their people and the rejection of the Message they bring from Allah, the Almighty, to which they are subjected. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) continued to do what Allah, the Almighty, had commanded him to do, in spite of the opposition and harm he encountered from his people.”

Ibn Ishaq said, “Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid, may Allah be pleased with her, had faith and believed in what he brought from Allah, the Almighty, and she supported him in the propagation of the Religion. She was the first person to believe in Allah, the Almighty, and His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and in the Message that he brought from Allah, the Almighty. In this way, Allah, the Almighty, made things easier for His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him): whenever he heard something that he disliked from those who opposed him or they belied him, it would make him feel sad, and Allah, the Almighty, would grant him solace through her when he returned to her, for she would strengthen his resolve and lighten the burden for him by her belief in him, and her minimizing of the enmity and opposition shown to him by the people. May Allah be pleased with her.”

Ibn Ishaq said, “I was told by Hisham Ibn ‘Urwah, who reported on the authority of his father, who in turn reported on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn Ja‘afar Ibn Abi Talib that he said, “The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: 'I was commanded to give Khadeejah the glad tidings of a house made of pearl in which there is no noise or clamor and no fatigue'." And this Hadith has been reported in the Saheehain. Ibn Hisham said, "Qasab (the word used in the Hadith) here means 'hollowed-out pearl'."

Section Regarding the First People to Embrace Islam, Then Mention of the Earliest Companions to Embrace Islam

Ibn Ishaq said, "Then 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib (May Allah be pleased with him) came a day after that and found them both praying. On seeing them, 'Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) said, 'O Muhammad! What is this?' He replied: 'It is the religion of Allah, which He Himself has chosen and with which He sent His Messengers. So I call you to Allah, Alone, Who has no partners and (I call upon you) to worship Him and to reject Al-Lat and Al-'Uzza.' 'Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) replied, 'This is something of which I had not heard before today, so I cannot judge in the matter until I have consulted Abu Talib with regard to it.' The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) disliked to divulge his secret to him before his affair was made known, so he said to him: 'O 'Ali! If you will not embrace Islam, then be silent.' So 'Ali stayed that night and then Allah, the Almighty, placed submission (i.e., Islam) in his heart, and in the morning, he came to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and said, 'What do you propose that I do, O, Muhammad?' The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: 'Bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah, Alone, without partners, reject Al-Lat and Al-'Uzza and absolve yourself of (belief in) the (false) partners.' 'Ali (May Allah be pleased with him) did so and became a Muslim and he continued to come to him, though fearful of Abu Talib. He concealed his Islam and did not disclose it to anyone. Zaid Ibn Harithah (May Allah be pleased with him) also embraced Islam and they continued for about a month to conceal their Islam, with ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, coming frequently to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) during that time. Among the blessings that Allah, the Almighty, bestowed on ‘Ali was that he used to be in the abode of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) before Islam.”

And it was reported on the authority of Muhammad Ibn Ishaq that ‘Afeef said, “I was a merchant and I arrived in Mina during the Hajj period. Al-‘Abbas Ibn ‘Abdil Muttalib, may Allah be pleased with him, was also a merchant and so I went to him to trade with him. While we were thus engaged, a man came out from a hair tent and stood and prayed toward the Ka‘bah. Then a woman came out and stood and prayed and a young boy came out and prayed with him. I said, “O ‘Abbas! What is this religion? We do not know what this religion is.” Al-‘Abbas replied, “This is Muhammad Ibn ‘Abdullah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). He claims that Allah, the Almighty, has sent him and that the treasures of Kisra and Qaisar will be given to him. The woman is his wife, Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid, may Allah be pleased with her, and she has believed in him. This boy is his cousin, ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib, who has also believed in him.” ‘Afeef said, “Would that I had embraced Islam on that day, in order that I might have been the second (man) to embrace Islam!” Ibrahim Ibn Sa’d said in his version of the Hadith, which he narrated on the authority of Ibn Ishaq “...when a man came out of a hair tent near to him and he looked up to the heaven; and when he saw that the sun had passed its zenith, he prayed.” Then he mentioned that Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, stood up to pray behind him.

Ibn Jareer said, “I was told by ‘Eesa Ibn Sawadah Ibn Abul-Ja’d, that he was told by Muhammad Ibn AlMunkadir, Rabee‘ah Ibn Abu-‘Abdur Rahman and Abu Hazim Al-Kalbi, “‘Ali was the first to embrace Islam.” Al-Kalbi added, “He embraced Islam when he was nine years old.” And it was reported on the authority of Ibn Ishaq that he said, “The first male to have faith in the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), pray with him and believe him was ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib, and that was when he was ten years old. He used to live in the house of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) before Islam.”

Others said that the first person from this nation to embrace Islam was Abu Bakr As-Siddiq, may Allah be pleased with him. It is possible to reconcile these statements by saying that Khadeejah, may Allah be pleased with her, was the first woman to embrace Islam, according to the clear wording of the narrations. It was also said that she was the very first person, male or female, to embrace Islam. The first of the freed slaves to embrace Islam was Zaid Ibn Harithah and the first young boy to embrace Islam was ‘Ali Ibn Abi Talib, for he was a child, having not yet attained puberty, according to what is widely reported. These people were thus Ahl ul-Bait. The first of the freemen to embrace Islam was Abu Bakr As-Siddiq – and his Islam was more beneficial than that of those who had preceded him, for he was a leader among the people, an important man and one of the chiefs of Quraish; he was held in high esteem and was a wealthy man. He became a caller to Islam and he was greatly loved due to his spending of his wealth in obedience to Allah, the Almighty, and His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), as we shall see.

Ibn Ishaq said, “I was told by Muhammad Ibn ‘Abdur Rahman Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn Al-Husain At-Tameemi that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “I did not call anyone to Islam except that he had some uncertainty and doubt – aside from Abu Bakr. He did not waver or hesitate when I told him about it (Islam).” This is what Ibn Ishaq reported, but it can neither be confirmed nor rejected. Ibn Ishaq and others mentioned that he was a companion of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) prior to the start of his mission and that he knew how truthful and trustworthy he was and how fine and noble his character was. These attributes prevented him from being untruthful regarding people, so how could he be untruthful regarding Allah, the Almighty? For this reason, simply because of what was mentioned to him, he hastened to believe him and he did not hesitate or waver.

And it has been confirmed in Saheeh Al-Bukhari on the authority of Abu Ad-Darda', may Allah be pleased with him, regarding a disagreement between Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, and 'Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: "Allah sent me (as a Prophet) to you (people) but you said (to me), 'You are telling a lie, ' while Abu Bakr said, 'He has said the truth, ' and consoled me with himself and his money." He then said twice: 'Will you not then give up harming my companion?' After that nobody harmed Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him,."

And in Saheeh Al-Bukhari it was reported on the authority of 'Ammar Ibn Yasir, may Allah be pleased with him, that he said, "I saw the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and there was none with him but five slaves, two women and Abu Bakr (i.e. those were the only converts to Islam then)."

And it is reported on the authority of 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood, may Allah be pleased with him, that he said, "The first to reveal that they had embraced Islam were seven: the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), Abu Bakr, 'Ammar, his mother, Sumayyah, Suhaib, Bilal and AlMiqdad. As for the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), Allah, the Almighty, protected him through his uncle, while as for Abu Bakr, Allah, the Almighty, protected him through his people. As for the rest of them, the pagans took them and forced them to wear iron jackets and made them lie under the sun, but there was not a single one of them but submitted to do what they wanted them to do, aside from Bilal, who refused. And so, they took him and gave him to the children who ran through the alleyways of Makkah with him, while he was saying, '(Allah is) One, One'."

Abu Hanifah, may Allah have mercy upon him, reconciled these opinions by saying that the first person to embrace Islam from among the freemen was Abu Bakr; from among the women, it was Khadeejah; from among the freed slaves, it was Zaid Ibn Harithah; and from among the young boys, it was 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib, may Allah be pleased with them all.

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said, "When Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, embraced Islam and disclosed his Islam, he called upon the people to Allah, the Almighty, the All-Powerful. Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, was well-known to his people, approachable and loved by them. He knew more about the good and bad of Quraish than any other person. He was a merchant of high moral character and renowned for his kindness. His people used to come to him and discuss many things with him, because of his knowledge, his experience as a merchant and his sociable nature. He began by calling to Islam those among his people whom he trusted, who used to visit him and sit with him. Those who accepted Islam at his hands, according to what has been conveyed to me were: Az-Zubair Ibn Al'Awvam, 'Uthman Ibn 'Affan, Talhah Ibn 'Ubaidullah, Sa'd Ibn Abi Waqqas and 'Abdur-Rahman Ibn 'Awf, may Allah be pleased with them all.

They hastened with Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he explained Islam to them, reciting the Qur'an to them and informing them of the truth of Islam, upon which they believed. These eight individuals were the earliest converts to Islam, who believed the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and believed in the Message he brought from Allah.”

The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) asked Allah, the Almighty, to guide either ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab, may Allah be pleased with him, or Abu Jahl Ibn Hisham to Islam. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) supplicated Allah, the Almighty, on a Wednesday and ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, embraced Islam on Thursday, on which the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and Ahl ul-Bait openly and loudly recited, “Allahu Akbar (Allah is Greatest)!” It was said that their voices were heard in the heights of Makkah. Abul-

Arqam – who was a blind disbeliever – came out and he was saying, “O Allah! Forgive Banu ‘Ubaid AlArqam, for they have disbelieved.” ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, then got up and said, “O Messenger of Allah! Why do we conceal our religion, when we are following the Truth, while they practice their religion openly, and they are following that which is false?” The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) replied: “O ‘Umar! We are few, and you have seen what we have encountered.” ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “Then by Him Who sent you with the Truth, I will go to every meeting place where I sat when I was a disbeliever and I will proclaim my faith in them.”

Then he left and circumambulated the Ka‘bah, after which he visited Quraish, who were waiting for him, and Abu Jahl Ibn Hisham said, “So-and-so claims that you have abandoned your religion!” ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “Ash-hadu an-la ilaha ill-Allahu Wahdahu la Shareeka Lahu wa anna Muhammadan ‘Abduhu wa Rasooluhu (I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah, Alone, without partners and that Muhammad is His Slave and His Messenger).” Upon hearing this, the pagans rushed upon him; in response, he pounced on ‘Utbah and poked his fingers in his eyes, causing him to scream. The people then stayed back and ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, got up and departed and none dared to approach him.

He then visited all of the meeting places that he had formerly frequented as a disbeliever and informed them that he had embraced Islam. Then he went to the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and said, “May my mother and father be ransomed for you, I have not neglected a single meeting place in which I used to sit when I was a disbeliever; I have been to them all and proclaimed my Islam to them, without fear or hesitation.” Then the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) went out and ‘Umar and Hamzah Ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib, may Allah be pleased with them both, walked in front of him until they reached the Holy House, where he performed Tawaf and then offered the Dhuhr (afternoon) prayer in safety. Then he went to the house known as Dar Al-Arqam accompanied by ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with him,. After a while, ‘Umar departed and later, the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) departed alone.

It has been authentically reported that ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, only embraced Islam after the Muhajiroon (emigrants) had departed for Abyssinia, which was in the sixth year after the start of the Prophetic Mission, as we shall show in the relevant place, if Allah wills. We have dealt in more detail with the story of how Abu Bakr and ‘Umar, may Allah be pleased with them, embraced Islam in the book dealing with their biographies and we have spoken at great length there on this topic, all praise and thanks be to Allah, the Almighty.

It has been confirmed in Saheeh Muslim on the authority of ‘Amr Ibn ‘Abasah As-Sulami, may Allah be pleased with him, that he said, “I went to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) at the start of his Prophetic Mission when he was in Makkah. The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was at that time hiding as his people had made life hard for him. I adopted a friendly attitude (toward the Makkans and thus managed) to enter Makkah and go to him (the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him)) and I said to him, "What are you?" He said: "I am a Prophet (of Allah)." I again said, "What is a Prophet?" He said: "A Messenger of Allah." I said, "Has Allah, the Almighty, sent you?" He replied: "Yes." I then asked him, "With what (Message) have you been sent?" He said: "That you worship Allah, Alone, without partners, that you break the idols and join ties of kinship." I said, "This is a fine thing with which you have been sent! Who is with you in this (in these beliefs and practices)?" He said: "A free man and a slave. [He (the narrator) said, "He was referring to Abu Bakr and Bilal, may Allah be pleased with them both.]" ‘Amr then said, "You have seen me and I am one-fourth of Islam." He said, "Then I embraced Islam and I said, 'I intend to follow you.' But he (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: "No. You better go back to your people and when you are informed that I have departed, you may follow me."

And in Saheeh Al-Bukhari, it was reported on the authority of Sa‘eed Ibn Al-Musayyib that he said, “I heard Sa‘d Ibn Abi Waqqas, may Allah be pleased with him, say, “No one embraced Islam on the day on which I embraced Islam and I remained for seven days, being one-third of the then extant Muslims.”

As for his saying: “No one embraced Islam on the day on which I embraced Islam...” it is easily understood. But it was also narrated that he said, “...except on the day on which I embraced Islam.” And this is dubious; for it would necessitate that no one embraced Islam before him. But it is well-known that As-Siddiq, ‘Ali, Khadeejah and Zaid Ibn Harithah, may Allah be pleased with them all, embraced Islam before him, according to the consensus of the scholars, who affirmed that no one embraced Islam before these four. Those scholars included: Ibn Al-Katheer and Abu Hanifah, may Allah have mercy upon them, determined that these four embraced Islam before any of their fellow tribesmen. And Allah knows best.

As for his saying, “...and I remained for seven days, being one third of the then extant Muslims,” it is also problematic; and I do not know how it may be explained, unless he was speaking according to his knowledge. And Allah knows best.

And Abu Dawood At-Taialisi narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah (i.e. Ibn Mas‘ood, may Allah be pleased with him) that he said, “I was an adolescent boy and I used to tend sheep for ‘Uqbah Ibn Abi Mu‘ait in Makkah. One day, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, came to me, having fled from the pagans and he (or they) said, 'O boy! Do you have any milk that you can give us to drink?' I said, 'I am entrusted with the cattle and I cannot give you anything to drink.' He then asked, 'Then do you have a young ewe that has not yet been mated with a male?' I said, 'Yes.' Then I brought it to them and Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, hobbled it and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) took hold of its udder and supplicated Allah, the Almighty, upon which its udder became filled with milk. Then Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, came to him with a hollowed out rock and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) milked the udder into it and then he and Abu Bakr drank from it. After that, they gave me to drink from it and then he said to the udder: 'Contract!' Upon which it contracted. Later, I went to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and said to him, 'Teach me this fine speech (i.e. the Qur'an). He said: 'You are a boy who has been taught.' And I took from his lips seventy Soorahs (Chapters) in which no one can contend with me."

Al-Baihaqi said, "It was reported on the authority of Muhammad Ibn 'Abdullah Ibn 'Amr Ibn 'Uthman that he said, "Khalid Ibn Sa'eed Ibn Al-'As embraced Islam in early stages, and he was the first of his brothers to do so. The start of his Islam was when he saw in a dream that he was being held at the edge of the Fire and he described its vastness in a manner about which Allah knows best. He saw in his dream that someone came to him and he was pushing him into it and he also saw the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) holding him by his hips in order to prevent him from falling into it. He awoke in a state of alarm from his sleep and said, 'I swear by Allah that this vision is true.' Then he met Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, and he related to him what he had seen. Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, said to him, 'I want that you should have the goodness of this Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), so obey him; for you will follow him and enter Islam with him, and Islam will protect you from entering it (the Fire), while your father will fall into it.' So he met the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) while he was at Ajyad and said to him, 'O Messenger of Allah! O, Muhammad! To what do you call?' He said: 'I call you to (believe in) Allah, Alone, without partners and that Muhammad is His Slave and His Messenger, and to abandon the worship of stones that you practice – stones that do not hear, do not harm, do not see, do not benefit and are unaware of who worships them or does not worship them.' Khalid said, 'Then I bear witness that none is worthy of worship and that you are the Messenger of Allah.' May Allah be pleased with him.

The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was pleased with his conversion to Islam. Khalid, may Allah be pleased with him, stayed away from home and his father came to know that he had embraced Islam; he sent someone to search for him and he brought him to him. His father rebuked him and beat him with a piece of wood that he held in his hand until he broke it on his head. He said, 'By Allah, I will starve you.' Khalid, may Allah be pleased with him, replied, 'Even if you prevent me from eating, Allah will give me what I need to live on.' Then he went to the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and he treated him hospitably and he remained with him.”

The Story of How Hamzah Ibn ‘Abdul Muttalib, the Paternal Uncle of the Prophet, Embraced Islam

Yoonus Ibn Bukair narrated on the authority of Muhammad Ibn Ishaq that he said, “I was told by a man from among those who had embraced Islam – and he had a reliable memory – that Abu Jahl accosted the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) at As-Safa and he injured him, reviled him and maligned his religion. Hamzah Ibn ‘Abdul Muttalib was informed of this and so he went to Abu Jahl and stood over his head, raised his bow and struck him with it, seriously wounding him. The men of Banu Makhzoom, one of the tribes of Quraish, got up and advanced on Hamzah, intending to help Abu Jahl against him. They said, 'We believe that you have apostatized, O, Hamzah!' Hamzah said, 'And who will prevent me, when it has become clear to me? I bear witness that he is the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and that what he says is the Truth. And by Allah, I will not retract this, so prevent me, if you are truthful.' Abu Jahl said, 'Leave Abu ‘Umarah, for by Allah, I did revile his nephew shamefully.'

Once Hamzah had embraced Islam, the Quraish realized that the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) had grown stronger and they refrained from their persecution of him. Hamzah, may Allah be pleased with him, recited some poetic verses in regard to this incident.”

The Story of How Abu Dharr Embraced Islam

Al-Bukhari narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, that he said, “When news of the sending of the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was conveyed to Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, he said to his brother, “Ride to this valley and bring me the news of this man (i.e., the Prophet Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) who claims to be a Prophet receiving information from the heavens. Listen to him and then come to me.” His brother set out till he met the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and listened to his speech and returned to Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, and said to him, “I have seen him exhorting people to virtues and his speech was not like poetry.” Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “You have not satisfied me as to what I wanted.”

So he packed some provisions for the journey and filled a water skin full of water, then he set out till he reached Makkah, where he went to the Mosque looking for the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), whom he did not know and about whom he was unwilling to ask anyone. After a portion of the night had passed, ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, saw him and realized that he was a stranger. Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, followed him (to his house), but neither of them asked the other about anything till it was morning, when he carried his water skin and food and went to the Mosque. He spent that day without being observed by the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) till it was night, when he returned to his sleeping place.

‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, again passed by him and said, “Has not the man (i.e., Abu Dharr) recognized his dwelling place yet?” So, ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, let him get up and took him (to his house), but neither of them asked the other about anything, till it was the third day when ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, had the same experience with him and Abu Dharr again stayed with him. ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, then asked, “Will you not you tell me what has brought you here?” He replied, “If you give me a promise and a covenant that you will guide me, then I will tell you.” When ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, had done so, Abu Dharr informed him (of his purpose). ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “It is the Truth, and he (i.e. Muhammad) is the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him). So when the morning comes, follow me, and if I should perceive any danger threatening you, I will give you a hint by pretending to go to the water closet. But if I carry on walking, follow me till you enter the place that I will enter.” Abu Dharr agreed and followed ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, till he entered the place of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and Abu Dharr entered with him. He then listened to the speech of the Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) and embraced Islam on the spot. The Prophet (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said to him: “Go back to your people and inform them (of this religion) till you receive my (further) orders.” Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, I will proclaim my conversion to Islam publicly amongst them (i.e., the disbelievers).”

He went out till he reached the Mosque and announced as loudly as possible, “I testify that none has the right to be worshipped but Allah and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah.” The people then got up and beat him till they knocked him down. Al-‘Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, came and threw himself over him (to protect him), saying, “Woe to you! Don’t you know that he is from Ghifar and there is the route (road) to your merchants toward Ash-Sham (i.e., through the place where this tribe dwells)?” Thus he saved him from them. Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, did the same on the next day and the people beat him again and Al-‘Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, threw himself over him (to save him as before).” This is the wording of Al-Bukhari, but the story of how he embraced Islam has also been described at length in Saheeh Muslim and in other sources.

The Story of How Dimad Embraced Islam

Imam Muslim narrated on the authority of ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas that he said, “Dimad arrived in Makkah – and he belonged to the tribe of Azd Shanoo‘ah and was skilled in exorcising Jinn from those who were possessed. He heard the foolish people of Makkah saying that Muhammad (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) was possessed. Upon this he said, “If I were to come across this man, Allah, the Almighty, might cure him at my hand.” He met him and said, “O, Muhammad, I can exorcise, and Allah, the Almighty, cures whomever He wills at my hand. Do you desire (this)?” Upon this, the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “Praise be to Allah, we praise Him, ask His Help; and he whom Allah guides aright there is none to lead him astray, and he who is led astray there is none to guide him, and I bear witness to the fact that none is worthy of worship but Allah, He is One, having no partner with Him, and that Muhammad is His Servant and Messenger.”

After this, he (Dimad) said, “Repeat these words of yours before me,” and the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) repeated them to him three times; and he said, “I have heard the words of soothsayers and the words of magicians, and the words of poets, but I have never heard such words as yours, and they reach the depths (of the ocean of eloquence); bring forth your hand so that I should take an oath of fealty to you on Islam.” So he took an oath of allegiance to him.

The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “Is it (this allegiance of yours) on behalf of your people too?” He said, “It is on behalf of my people too.” The Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) sent an expedition and the flying column passed by his people. The leader of the flying column said to the detachment, “Did you find anything from these people?” One of the people said, “I found a utensil for water.” Upon this he (the commander) said, “Return it, for he is one of the people of Dimad.”

Ibn Ishaq related the names of the earliest of the Companions, may Allah be pleased with them, to embrace Islam, saying, “Then Abu ‘Ubaidah, Abu Salmah Al-Arqam Ibn Abil Arqam, ‘Uthman Ibn Madh‘oon, ‘Ubaidah Ibn Al-Harith, Sa‘eed Ibn Zaid and his wife, Fatimah Bint Al-Khattab, Asma’ Bint Abu Bakr, ‘A’ishah Bint Abu Bakr, who was still young, Qudamah Ibn Maz‘oon, ‘Abdullah Ibn Maz‘oon, Khabbab Ibn Al-Aratt, embraced Islam, ‘Umair Ibn Abi Waqqas, ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood, Mas‘ood Ibn Al-Qari, Saleet Ibn ‘Amr, ‘Ayyash Ibn Abi Rabee‘ah and his wife, Asma’ Bint Salamah Ibn Makhramah At-Taimi, Khunais Ibn Hudhafah, ‘Amir Ibn Rabee‘ah, ‘Abdullah Ibn Jahsh, Abu Ahmad Ibn Jahsh, Ja‘afar Ibn Abu Talib and his wife, Asma’ Bint ‘Umair, Hatib Ibn Al-Harith, his wife, Fatimah Bint Al-Mujallal and his brother, Hattab Ibn Al-Harith and his wife, Fukaihah Bint Yasar, Ma‘mar Ibn Al-Harith Ibn Ma‘mar Al-Jumahi, As-Sa‘ib Ibn ‘Uthman Ibn Maz‘oon, Al-Muttalib Ibn Azhar Ibn ‘Abd ‘Awf and his wife, Ramlah Bint Abu ‘Awf Ibn Subairah Ibn Su‘aid Ibn Sa‘d Ibn Sahm, An-Nahham, whose name was Nu‘aim Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn Aseed, ‘Amir Ibn Fuhairah, the freed slave of Abu Bakr, Khalid Ibn Sa‘eed, Umainah Bint Khalaf Ibn As‘ad Ibn ‘Amir Ibn Bayadah from Khuza‘ah, Hatib Ibn ‘Amr Ibn ‘Abd Shams, Abu Hudhaifah

Ibn ‘Utbah Ibn Rabee‘ah, Waqid Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abd Manaf Ibn ‘Areen Ibn Tha‘labah At-Tameemi, the ally of Banu ‘Adiyy, Khalid Ibn Al-Bukair, ‘Amir Ibn AlBukair, ‘Aqil Ibn Al-Bukair (his name was Ghafil [unmindful] and so the Messenger of Allah (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) named him ‘Aqil [discerning]), Iyas Ibn Al-Bukair Ibn ‘Abd Yaleel Ibn Nashib Ibn Ghiyarah Ibn Sa‘d Ibn Laith (they were the allies of Banu ‘Adiyy Ibn Ka‘b), ‘Ammar Ibn Yasir and Suhaib Ibn Sinan. Then the people entered Islam in groups, from among the men and women, until the religion of Islam became widespread in Makkah and widely discussed.

Ibn Ishaq said, “Then three years after the start of his Prophethood, Allah, the Almighty, commanded His Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him) to preach the message of Islam openly and to patiently bear the harm inflicted on him by the pagans.” He added, “When the Companions, may Allah be pleased with them, prayed, they would go to the ravines and offer their prayers in secret, hidden from their people. One day, while Sa‘d Ibn Abi Waqqas, may Allah be pleased with him, was praying with some others in the ravines of Makkah, some of the pagans came upon them and rebuked and denounced what they were doing, until eventually, they fought with them and Sa‘d, may Allah be pleased with him, struck one of the pagans with the jawbone of a camel and fractured his skull. This was the first blood spilt (by the Muslims) in Islam.”

The command of Allah (SWT) to His Messenger (peace and blessing of Allah be upon him) regarding the conveyance of the message privately and publicly and His command to him to exercise patience, perseverance and to turn away from the ignorant lying adversaries after establishing the proofs against them and the sending of the greatest Messenger to them as well as a reminder of what he and his Companions confronted of enmity.

Allah (SWT) says: “And warn your tribe (O, Muhammad) of near kindred. And be kind and humble to the believers who follow you. Then if they disobey you, say: 'I am innocent of what you do.' And put your trust in the Almighty, the Most Merciful, Who sees you (O, Muhammad) when you stand up (alone at night for Tahajjud prayers). And your movements among those who fall in prostration (along with you to Allah in the five compulsory congregational prayers), verily, He only He, is the All-Hearer, the All-Knower.” (Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:214-220)

Allah, Most High, also says: “And verily, this (the Qur’an) is indeed a Reminder for you (O, Muhammad) and your people (Quraish people, or your followers), and you will be questioned (about it).” (Az-Zukhruf 43:44)

Allah (SWT) says: “Verily, He Who has given you (O, Muhammad) the Qur’an (i.e. ordered you to act on its laws and to preach it to others) will surely bring you back to the Ma‘ad (place of return, either to Makkah or to Paradise after your death, etc.).” (Al-Qasas 28:85)

It means that the One Who ordained and enjoined you the conveyance of the message will return you to Home of the Hereafter, which is the Ma‘ad, and then He will ask you regarding it (i.e. the conveyance of the message).

Allah, Most High, says: “Then surely, We shall question those (people) to whom it (the Book) was sent and verily, We shall question the Messengers.” (Al-A‘raf 7:6)

Verses and Ahadeeth regarding this issue are considerable. We have explored the issue in our book of AtTafseer and therein we extensively discussed it while explaining the statement of Allah in Soorat AshShu‘ara’:

“And warn your tribe (O, Muhammad) of near kindred.” (Ash-Shu‘ara’ 26:214)

And we cited copious Ahadeeth on that. From the Ahadeeth we cited is what is related by Imam Ahmad: From Ibn ‘Abbas who said: “When the Verse: “And warn your tribe (O, Muhammad) of near kindred” was revealed, the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, came to the Hill of Safa, climbed it and then called out: “Ya Sabahahu!” The people gathered up to him. Those who could not come sent messengers to find out what has happened. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, then addressed them thus:

“O Banu Abdul-Muttalib! O Banu Fihri! O Banu Ka‘b! What would you say if I told you that there is a band of horsemen in the valley wanting to attack you, would you believe me?” They all replied in the affirmative so he said to them: “Well, I am warning you of an imminent severe punishment!” Abu Lahab, (an uncle of the Prophet), Allah’s curse be on him, retorted: “May you be miserable for the rest of the day! Is this why you called us?!”

Then Allah revealed: “Perish the two hands of Abu Lahab, and perish he!” (Al-Masad 111:1)

A similar narration is reported from the Hadith of Al-A‘mash.

Imam Ahmad also related from Abu Hurairah that: “When the Verse: ‘And warn your tribe (O Muhammad) of near kindred’ was revealed, the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, called all of the tribe of Quraish and addressed them thus:

“O, assembly of the Quraish! save yourself from the Fire! O, assembly of Banu Ka‘b! save yourself from the Fire! O, assembly of Banu Hashim! save yourself from the Fire! O, assembly of Banu AbdulMuttalib! save yourself from the Fire! O, Fatimah, daughter of Muhammad, save yourself from the Fire! For by Allah, I will not avail you in any way before Allah but you have ties of kinship which I wish to uphold.”

‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said: “When the Verse: 'And warn your tribe (O, Muhammad) of near kindred' was revealed, Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) rose and said: ‘O, Fatimah Bint Muhammad! O, Safiyyah Bint Abdul-Muttalib! O, Banu Abdul-Muttalib! I cannot avail you in the presence of Allah (if you disobey Him). So, ask whatever you wish from my property.’”

The purpose was so that the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, could persist in calling to Allah night and day, privately and publicly without being distracted or deterred by obstacles; without being dissuaded or hindered by any hindrance. He would approach the people at their private and public assemblies; at their ceremonies and festivals and at points of Hajj rites. He kept calling those whom he met, both freeborn and slaves; weak and strong, rich and poor. In his perception, all of the creatures were equal in that regard. They transgressed against him and those who dared to follow him from among the weak echelon of the society. Severe torment came from the powerful aristocratic polytheists of Quraish, both in the form of statements and actions. The most severe of them (in opposition) was his uncle Abu Lahab whose real name was Abdul-‘Uzza Ibn Abdul-Muttalib and his wife, Umm Jameel ‘Arwa Bint Harb Ibn Umayyah, Abu Sufyan’s sister.

Conversely however, his uncle, Abu Talib, differed considerably from Abu Lahab in the treatment of the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was the most beloved to him. Naturally, he would be compassionate and nice to him. He would stave off harm and protect him. He opposed his people in that regard even though he was upon their religion and their ways. Allah filled his heart with the love of the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, which was derived from natural feelings rather from Shari‘ah obligation. His persistence on the religion of his people is from the wisdom of Allah. If Abu Talib had accepted Islam he would not have enjoyed such position of distinction and high opinion. They would not have held him in awe and high esteem. Rather, they would have transgressed against him and extended their evil hands and tongues to harm him.

(Al-Qasas 28:68)*

Allah has divided His creatures into different kinds and species. These are two polytheist uncles – Abu Talib and Abu Lahab, yet, on the Day of Resurrection, one will be in shoal of Fire while the other will be in its lowest depth. Allah has revealed a chapter thereof in His Book about Abu Lahab, which is recited on mimbars (pulpits) and read in sermons and speeches saying:

“He will be burned in a Fire of blazing flames! And his wife too, who carries wood (thorns of Sadan which she used to put on the way of the Prophet, or use to slander him).” (Al-Masad 111:3, 4)

Imam Ahmad related from Rabee‘ah Ibn ‘Ibad of Banu Ad-Deel who was a polytheist but later accepted Islam. He said: “During the period of Jahiliyyah, I saw Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in the market of Dhul-Majaz saying: “O people! Say la ilaha ill-Allah (there is no deity worthy of worship but Allah) so that you may be successful” while the people were gathered before him. Standing behind him was a clean-shaved man with squinted eye and with pony-tail hair who kept trailing him everywhere he went while retorting: “He is a childish liar.” I inquired from the people about his identity and they identified him as his uncle Abu Lahab.

As for Abu Talib, he was essentially affectionate and sympathetic by his nature as shall be gleaned from his actions, clemency and resoluteness in defending Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and his Companions, may Allah be pleased with them.

'Aqeel Ibn Abi Talib said: "The Quraish approached Abu Talib and said to him: 'Your nephew has harmed our assemblies and places of worship, warn him to desist!' Abu Talib said: 'O 'Aqeel! Go and bring me Muhammad.' So I set off to search for him and I found him at Kabs (or he said: Hafsh). So I brought him under extreme heat of the midday. When he arrived at their presence, Abu Talib said to him: 'This group of your uncles has alleged that you are disturbing them at their assemblies and places of worship, so desist from disturbing them.' Allah's Messenger (peace and blessing of Allah be upon him) lifted his gaze to the sky and said: 'Do you see this sun?' They replied in the affirmative, so he said: 'I am not more able than you to abandon (this mission) even if upon the threat of a fireband.' Abu Talib said: 'My nephew has never lied before, so return!'

Ya'qoob Ibn Utbah Ibn Mugheerah Ibn Al-Akhnas narrated that he was informed that when the Quraish told Abu Talib their grievance, he sent for Allah's Messenger (peace and blessing of Allah be upon him) and said to him: "My nephew, your people have approached me with such-and-such complaints, so please spare me and yourself (from their trouble) do not place on me what neither me nor you is able to bear. Desist from such of your statements which are detestable to them."

The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, thought that his uncle had changed his mind, withdrawn his protection from him and was helpless to defend him. So he said: “O Uncle! By Allah, if they put the sun in my right hand and the moon in my left so that I might give up this matter until Allah causes it to prevail or I die in its quest. I shall never do so.” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, then wept and then turned to leave. When he saw the turn of event, Abu Talib called him: “My nephew!” When the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, came back, he said: “Go and continue in your affair and say whatever you wish. By Allah, I shall never hand you over in return for anything.”

Ibn Ishaq said: “In that regard, Abu Talib recited this poem: (from a long rendition)

By Allah, they will never reach you with all their numbers

Until I am buried and sealed in the earth

Continue in your matter and no drawback shall reach you

A good news let that be for you and a comfort of your eyes

You invited me and I know you were only an adviser

You have spoken well and you have for a long time been trustworthy

You have presented a religion which I have known to be

One of the best

religions

ever

practiced
by mankind
But for reproach
and my fear of blame

You would have found me manifestly tolerant to that

Imam Ahmad also related that Ibn ‘Abbas said: Abu Jahl said, “If I see Muhammad praying at the Ka‘bah, I will trample on his neck.” When the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, heard of that, he said, “If he does so, the angels will snatch him away.”

Ibn ‘Abbas also reported that Abu Jahl once passed by the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, while he was praying, so he said: “Have I not forbidden you from praying, O, Muhammad? You well know that there is no man who has a greater number of supporters than me.” The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, reprimanded him. Jibraeel then came down with a revelation: “Then, let him call upon his council (of helpers), We will call the guards of Hell (to deal with him)!” (Soorah Al‘Alaq 96:17-18) By Allah, if he had called his supporters, he would have been held by severe punishment from the angels.

Ibn ‘Abbas also narrated that Abu Jahl said: “If I see Muhammad praying at the Ka‘bah, I will tread on his neck.” The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said, “If he does so, the angels will snatch him away.”

Ibn Jareer related from Abu Hurairah that Abu Jahl asked (the people) whether they had seen Muhammad placed his face on the ground (in prayer) in their presence. They all responded, "Yes." So he said: "By Al-Lat and Al-'Uzza if I see him pray, I will trample on his neck and I will daub his face with dust." He came to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, while he was engaged in prayer, with the intention of trampling on his neck, (and the people say) that he came near him but turned upon his heels and tried to repulse something with his hands. It was said to him: "What is the matter with you?" He said: "There is between me and him a ditch of fire and terror and wings." Thereupon, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "If he were to come near me, the angels would have torn him to pieces." Then Allah, the Exalted and Glorious, revealed this Verse. (The narrator) said: I do not know whether it is the Hadith transmitted by Abu Hurairah or not: "Nay! Verily, man does transgress all bounds (in disbelief and evil deed, etc.). Because he considers himself self-sufficient." (Soorah Al-'Alaq 96:6, 7) to the end of the Soorah.

Imam Ahmad also related that 'Abdullah said: "I never saw Allah's Messenger curse the Quraish except one day. He was engaged in prayer while a band of the ruffians from the Quraish was sitting in a gathering. Nearby was an intestine of a slaughtered camel. Some of them said: "Who would bring this intestine and place it on his back (while in prostration)?" 'Uqbah Ibn Abi Mu'ait said: "I will do it." So he took the intestine and dropped it on the back of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, remained in prostration until Fatimah came and removed them from his back.

The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "O, Allah take revenge on this company of the Quraish. 'O, Allah! Take revenge on 'Utba Ibn Rabee'ah, Shaibah Ibn Rabee'ah, Abu Jahl Ibn Hisham, 'Uqbah Ibn Abi Mu'ait, Al-

Waleed Ibn ‘Utbah, Ubayy Ibn Khalaf or Umayyah Ibn Khalaf.” (The sub-narrator Shu‘bah, is not sure of the last name.) ‘Abdullah added, “I saw all of them killed on the battle field on the day of Badr and they were dragged and thrown into the Qaleeb (a well) at Badr except Ubayy Ibn Khalaf or Umayyah Ibn Khalaf for he was a fat man and he had been dismembered.” AlBukhari and Muslim have also related it from various chains.

The Story of Al-Irashi and the Quraish’s Attempt at Harming the Prophet

Narrated Muhammad Ibn Ishaq that Abdul Malik Ibn Abi Sufyan Ath-Thaqafi narrated to us that a man from Irash arrived in Makkah with his camel. Abu Jahl Ibn Hisham bought the camel from him and refused to pay its price. The man went away until he came across an assembly of Quraish. Meanwhile, the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, was sitting at a section of the Mosque. The man called out: “O, Quraish, is there any man who could aid me against Abul-Hakam Ibn Hisham for I am a stranger and a wayfarer and he has usurped my rights?”

The attendees of the assembly said to him: “Do you see that man?” hoping to make jest of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, since they knew the enmity existing between him and Abu Jahl. “Go to him, he will aid you against him.” They said. The man from Irash went toward the Messenger of Allah and narrated his ordeal to him. The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, rose in his aid. When they saw the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, stood, they sent one of them to follow him. They said: “Follow him so that we may see what he intends to do.” The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, then left for Abu Jahl’s residence. He knocked at his door. “Who is there?” Abu Jahl asked. “This is Muhammad, come out!”

the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said.

Abu Jahl came out without any bloodshot face (of anger). The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "Give this man his right." Astonishingly, Abu Jahl said, "Right away while you are still present I will give him what belongs to him." So he went in and restored the man's right. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, went back and said to the Irashi, "here is your right." The Irashi went away and came upon the initial gathering of men and said: "May Allah reward him, I have received my right."

Soon afterward, the man whom they had sent with him (and had witnessed the incident) arrived. "Woe betide you, what did you witness?" "One of the most astonishing things," the man began. "He did nothing other than knock at his door and he came out and he said to him, 'Give this man his right' and he said, 'Right away while you are still present, I will give him what belongs to him.' He then went in and brought to him his right."

Shortly thereafter, Abu Jahl himself came to the gathering and they asked him: "Woe be to you! Whatever happened to you?! We never saw anything like what you did (today)." Abu Jahl replied, "Woe betide you all! There was nothing other than that he knocked at my door and when I heard his voice I was filled with fright. Then I came out to see that above his head was a ferocious looking bull camel with fiery shoulders and canines the type of which I have never seen before. By Allah, if I had refused, it would have devoured me up."

Al-Bukhari related: 'Urwah Ibn Az-Zubair reported: "I asked Ibn 'Amr Ibn Al-'Aas, 'Inform me of the worst thing which the pagans did to the Prophet.' He said, 'While the Prophet was praying in the Hijr of the Ka'bah 'Uqba Ibn Abi Mu'ait came and put his garment around the Prophet's neck and throttled him violently. Abu Bakr came and held him by his shoulder and pushed him away from the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and said, “Would you kill a man because he says: My Lord is Allah, and he has come to you with clear signs (proofs) from your Lord?” (Soorah Al-Ghafir 40:28)

Imam Ahmad also related from Anas who narrated that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “I was harmed for the sake of Allah in a manner never experienced by any man. And I was intimidated in an unprecedented manner. I witnessed thirty days and nights without any food except what can be contained in Bilal’s armpit (due to its meagerness).”

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said that Abu Talib, the uncle of the Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was compassionate to him. He stood in his defense and staved off any harm from him. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, proceeded upon the command of Allah elucidating His religion undaunted. When the Quraish saw that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, will not cease in the least from what they found loathsome in his division of their ranks and castigation of their gods; they also realized that his uncle, Abu Talib had become sympathetic to and protective of him and has tenaciously refused them all access to (harm) him, so a group of the noblemen of Quraish approached Abu Talib. (They were), ‘Utbah and Shaibah, the two sons of Rabee‘ah Ibn Abd Shams Ibn Abd Manaf Ibn Qusayy, Abu Sufyan Sakhra Ibn Harb Ibn Umayyah Ibn Abd Shams, Abul-Bakhtari whose actual name was Al-‘Aas Ibn Hisham Ibn Al-Harith Ibn Asad Ibn Abdul-Uzza Ibn Qusayy, Al-Aswad Ibn Al-Muttalib Ibn Asad Ibn Abdul- Uzza, Abu Jahl whose real name was Amr Ibn Hisham Ibn Al-Mugheerah Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar Ibn Makhzoom, Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar Ibn Makhzoom Ibn Yaqzah Ibn Murrah Ibn Ka‘b Ibn Luwayy, Nubaih and Munabbih, the two sons of Al-Hajjaj Ibn Amir Ibn Hudhaifah Ibn Su'aid Ibn Sahm Ibn Amr Ibn Husais Ibn Ka'b Ibn Luwayy, 'Al-Aas Ibn Wa'il Ibn Su'aid Ibn Sahm.

Ibn Ishaq narrated further: "All or many of them went to Abu Talib and said: 'O Aba Talib, your nephew has blasphemed our gods and criticized our religion. He has belittled our ideals and accused our ancestors of having gone astray. Either you restrain him from us or let us deal with him. You are one of us, for you disagree with his views.' Abu Talib spoke nicely to them and rejected their proposal in a gentle manner. So they went away.

Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, continued with his da'wah elucidating the religion of Allah and inviting people to it. Soon, relations between him and the Quraish reached low ebb such that he became the theme of their talks and plots. Once again they went to Abu Talib and said: "O Abu Talib, we respect you because of your age and nobility among us. We had requested you to restrain your nephew but you declined. By Allah, we shall not be tolerant of this abuse of our ancestors, desecration of our customs and blasphemy of our gods. So either you restrain him from us or we shall fight you both over the matter until one side perishes in that course." Thereafter, they left. Abu Talib became extremely worried by the thoughts of separation and enmity from his people yet he did not also feel comfortable at handing over Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to them.

Ibn Ishaq continued: Ya'qoob Ibn Al-Mugheerah Ibn Al-Akhnas narrated to me that he was informed that when the Quraish said these words to Abu Talib, he sent a message to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, saying: "O my nephew! Your people have approached me saying suchand-such (narrating what they said to him). Look after yourself and me and do not burden me with what I am unable to bear.” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, thought that his uncle had changed his mind, withdrawn his protection from him and was helpless to defend him. So he said: “O uncle, by Allah, if they put the sun in my right hand and the moon in my left so that I might give up this matter until Allah causes it to prevail or I die in the process, I shall not give it up.”

Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, wept and soon got up. However, when he turned to leave his uncle called him and said: “Go my nephew and say whatever you wish, I shall never hand you over for anything.”

Heightened Persecution of Weak Muslims

Ibn Ishaq said: Then the Quraish became poised to persecute those belonging to their own clans from the Companions of Allah’s Messenger. They pounced upon them, torturing and extremely trying them with a view to making them recant their religion. Allah, however, prevented them from doing any harm to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, with the presence of his uncle, Abu Talib. Abu Talib had stood his ground when he saw what the Quraish had done regarding Banu Hashim and Banu Abdul-Muttalib. So he invited them (Banu Hashim and Banu Abdul-Muttalib) to join him in defending Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. All of them responded positively to his call with the exception of Abu Lahab, the enemy of Allah (SWT).

From the objections of the polytheists against the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and their harshness to him is their questioning and requests for different signs and extraordinary occurrences emanating from their obstinacy rather than genuine quest for guidance and right consciousness. Consequently, many of their requests and desires were not acceded to owing to the knowledge of Allah that if they had witnessed what they wanted still they would have persisted in their blind inordinateness. And that they would have continued to wallow in their vain gloriousness and waver in their misguidance.

Allah (SWT) says: “And they swear their strongest oaths by Allah, that if there came to them a sign, they would surely believe therein. Say: ‘Signs are but with Allah and what will make you (Muslims) perceive that (even) if it (the sign) came, they will not believe?’ And We shall turn their hearts and their eyes away (from guidance), as they refused to believe therein for the first time, and We shall leave them in their trespass to wander blindly. And even if We had sent down unto them angels, and the dead had spoken unto them, and We had gathered together all things before their very eyes, they would not have believed, unless Allah willed, but most of them behave ignorantly.” (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:109-111)

Allah, Most High, also says: “Truly! Those, against whom the Word (Wrath) of your Lord has been justified, will not believe. Even if every sign should come to them, - until they see the painful torment.” (Soorah Yoonus 10:96,97)

Allah, the Almighty, says: “And nothing stops Us from sending the Ayat (proofs, evidences and Signs) but that the people of old denied them. And We sent the she-camel to Thamud as a clear sign, but they did her wrong. And We sent not the signs except to warn, and to make them afraid (of destruction).” (Soorah Al-Isra 17:59)

Allah (SWT) says: “And they say: ‘We shall not believe in you (O, Muhammad), until you cause a spring to gush forth from the earth for us; Or you have a garden of date-palms and grapes, and cause rivers to gush forth in their midst abundantly; Or you cause the heaven to fall upon us in pieces, as you have pretended, or you bring Allah and the angels before (us) face to face; Or you have a house of adorable materials (like silver and pure gold, etc.), or you ascend up into the sky, and even then we will put no faith in your ascension until you bring down for us a Book that we would read.' Say (O, Muhammad): 'Glorified (and Exalted) be my Lord (Allah) above all that evil they (polytheists) associate with Him! Am I anything but a man, sent as a Messenger'?" (Soorah Al-Isra 17:90-93)

Imam Ahmad related from Ibn 'Abbas who narrated that the people of Makkah asked the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to turn Mount Safa into gold and to obliterate a mountain so that they might cultivate in its place. It was said to him: "if you wish, be patient with them and if you wish you bring them what they request but if they disbelieve thereafter, they will be destroyed as nations before them were destroyed." Allah's Messenger responded: "Rather, I will be patient with them."

Thus, Allah, Most High, revealed: "And nothing stops Us from sending the Ayat but that the people of old denied them. And We sent the she-camel to Thamud as a clear sign, but they did her wrong. And We sent not the signs except to warn, and to make them afraid (of destruction)." (Soorah Al-Isra 17:59)

Imam Ahmad also related from Ibn 'Abbas who said: "The Quraish once said to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him: 'pray to your Lord, on our behalf, to turn Mount Safa into gold so that we may believe in you.' Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked, 'Will you really do that?!'. 'Yes,' they responded. The Prophet supplicated and Jibraeel came to him and said: 'Your Lord is sending His greetings and He is saying to you: If you wish, Mount Safa will be turned into gold for them overnight but whoever amongst them disbelieves thereafter I will punish him with a punishment the severity of which I have not meted out to anyone else before. Or if you wish I open for them the door of mercy and repentance.' Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, responded, 'rather, I prefer mercy and repentance.'

Imam Ahmad and At-Tirmidhi also related from Abu Umamah from the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that he said: "My Lord offered to turn the valley of Makkah into gold for me and I declined saying: 'No! My Lord, rather, let me be satisfied one day and go hungry the other (or something similar to that) such that when I go hungry, I supplicate (to You) and remember You and when I am filled, I thank You and demonstrate gratitude to You!'"

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq related from Ibn Abbas that: "The Quraish sent An-Nadr Ibn Al-Harith and 'Uqbah Ibn Abu Mu'ait to the high priests of the Jews in Madinah charging them both with the following instruction: 'Ask them about Muhammad, describe to them his attributes and narrate to them some of what he says, for they are the people who first received revelation and they also possess knowledge that is not found with us regarding the prophets.'

Both of them set out until they arrived at Madinah and they asked the high priests of the Jews about Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, describing to them his affair and some of what he says. They said: "You are the custodian of the Tawrah, we have come to you to inform us regarding one of us (who claims prophethood)." The Jewish priests responded to their request saying: "Ask him about issues we will recommend shortly, if he answers them correctly, then he is truly a Prophet that has been sent, otherwise he is a man deserving to be killed. Ask him regarding the affairs of the youths of the earlier generation for there is a strange story about them.

Ask him about the story of the man who went round the East and the West of the Earth, and finally, ask him about the soul. If he informs you of all their answers correctly then he is a Prophet, so follow him. If he is unable to answer you correctly then he is a man deserving to be killed. So you may act in a manner you deem fit.

So, Nadr and 'Uqbah returned to Makkah and met with the Quraish. They both said: "O Quraish, we have come to you with a criterion between you and Muhammad. The Jewish high priests have instructed us to ask him a couple of questions." They mentioned the questions and gleefully they sent for Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him. When he arrived, they presented the questions of the Jewish priests to him. Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, said: "I shall inform you of the answers to the questions tomorrow" forgetting to say insha'Allah (if Allah wishes).

They departed and Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, waited for fifteen nights without receiving revelation regarding the questions and Jibraeel did not come until the people of Makkah began to taunt him. They said: "Muhammad promised to respond to our queries tomorrow and we have witnessed the fifteenth night without him telling us anything about what we asked him." While it lasted, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, also was extremely grieved over the suspense and extremely disturbed by what the people of Makkah began to say. Thereafter, Jibraeel, peace be on him, came to him bearing from Allah, the revelation of Soorah Al-Kahf containing a subtle reproach, a dispelling of his worry and answers to the questions put to him regarding the affairs of the youths and the man who traversed (between the East and West). Allah, Most High, also says regarding the question of the nature of human soul:

“And they ask you (O, Muhammad) concerning the Rooh (the Spirit); Say: 'The Rooh: it is one of the things, the knowledge of which is only with my Lord. And of knowledge, you (mankind) have been given only a little.’” (Al-Isra 17: 85) We have spoken about all of that at length in the Tafseer. Whoever wishes may refer to it.

Allah also revealed: “Do you think that the people of the Cave and the Inscription (the news or the names of the people of the Cave) were a wonder among Our Signs?” (Al-Kahf 18:9) Then Allah began to elaborate on their story and then He interrupted it with a lesson for the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, on the saying of insha’Allah in His words: “And never say of anything, 'I shall do such-and-such thing tomorrow. Except (with the saying), If Allah will!' And remember your Lord when you forget and say: It may be that my Lord guides me unto a nearer way of truth than this.’” (Al-Kahf 18: 23, 24)

Then Allah (SWT) mentions the story of Moosa with an addendum of the story of Al-Khidr and then that of Dhul-Qarnain. Allah says: “And they ask you about Dhul-Qarnain. Say: 'I shall recite to you something of his story.’” (Al-Kahf 18: 83) Then He elaborates on his issue and narrates his story.

Allah (SWT) says in the Soorah Subhan (Al-Isra): “And they ask you (O Muhammad) concerning the Rooh (the Spirit); Say: 'The Rooh: it is one of the things, the knowledge of which is only with my Lord.’” (Al-Isra 17: 85) that is, it is one of the most enigmatic creatures of Allah and one of His Signs. Allah merely said to it: "Be" and it was. Man does not have total comprehension of all that Allah has created and inquest into its reality (i.e. the soul) will be extremely difficult juxtaposed against the Power and Wisdom of Allah. Thus, Allah, Most High, says: “And of knowledge, you (mankind) have been given only a little.” (Al-Isra’ 17: 85)

It is recorded in the Saheehain that the Jews asked these questions from the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, of Allah at Madinah and he recited this Verse to them. It is either that the Verse was revealed twice or that the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, merely recalled it as a fitting answer to their questions though it had been previously revealed.

The opinion that: It was revealed at Madinah and that the Verse of istithna' (the saying of insha'Allah) belongs to the Soorah of Subhan is, however, debatable. And Allah (SWT) knows best.

Ibn Ishaq said: Then they turned in enmity to those who accepted Islam and followed the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, from among his Companions. Each clan pounced on the Muslims belonging to their clan. They would incarcerate and torture them with beatings, hunger and thirst as well as with the burning sand of the hot Makkan desert. They tortured the weak ones amongst them so that that they may recant their faith. There were some who were broken by the severity of the torture and there were others who were hardened until eventually, Allah (SWT) saved them.

Bilal was a freed slave of Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him. Some members of Banu Jumah had some slaves and Bilal Ibn Rabah was one of them. His mother's name was Hamamah. Bilal was a sincere believer with a pure soul. Umayyah Ibn Khalaf used to bring him out in the excruciating heat and he would order that a heavy stone be placed on his chest and he would say: "we will not cease doing this until you either die or disbelieve in Muhammad and worship Al-Lat and Al-Uzza." In spite of the nerve-wrecking pain Bilal would repeat: "Ahad! Ahad!!" (One, One).

Ibn Ishaq then mentioned the passing by of Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, while Bilal, may Allah be pleased with him, was being tortured and he offered to buy him from Umayyah with another black slave of his. Then Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, freed Bilal and gave him succor from the punishment. Ibn Ishaq also mentioned others whom he purchased among male and female slaves who had accepted Islam. Among them were Bilal, Amir Ibn Fuhairah, Umm Ubais and Zinneerah, the one who lost her sight but Allah restored it for her. May Allah be pleased with them all. The list also includes Nahdiyyah and her daughter who were purchased from the Banu Abdud-Dar. Her mistress sent them to grind flour for her. He once overheard her saying: “By Allah, I will never free you both.” Then Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, said “withdraw your oath, O Umm Fulan.” She said: “Withdraw it? You spoiled them so you free them.” “How much is their freedom worth?” Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, asked and she answered: “such-and-such amount of money.” Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, said: “I have bought and freed them both. Return her flour to her.” They both said: “Shouldn’t we finish with the grinding first and then return it to her?” “That is your choice.” Abu Bakr replied. Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, also bought a slave girl of Banu Mu’ammal from Banu Adiy’ whom ‘Umar used to beat for her acceptance of Islam.

Ibn Ishaq also related: Abu Quhafah once said to his son, Abu Bakr: “I see that you prefer to buy the freedom of weak slaves but wouldn’t it be better if you bought strong men instead, who would assist and defend you?” Abu Bakr responded: “My father, this is what I prefer.” He related that the following Verses were revealed about him and what his father told him:

“As for him who gives (in charity) and keeps his duty to Allah and fears Him, And believes in Al-Husna, We will make smooth for him the path of ease (goodness).” (Soorah Al-Lail 92: 5-7) till the end of the chapter.

Ibn Ishaq said: Banu Makhzoom used to bring ‘Ammar Ibn Yasir along with his father and mother in the scorching heat and theirs was an entire household of Islam. They would be tortured with the searing sand of Makkah desert. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, would pass by and he would say to them: “Be patient, O family of Yasir, your rendezvous is in Paradise.”

Imam Ahmad said that Wakee’ informed me from Sufyan from Mansoor from Mujahid who said: “The first martyr ever recorded in Islam was the martyrdom of Umm ‘Ammar, Sumayyah, may Allah be pleased with her. Abu Jahl stabbed her with a spear in her private parts.” This report is mursal.

Ibn Ishaq said that Hakeem Ibn Jubair related to me from Sa‘eed Ibn Jubair who said: “I once asked Ibn ‘Abbas: ‘Were the polytheists so much severe in their torture of the Companions of Allah’s Messenger to such an extent that they would be excused if they recanted from their faith?’ He responded: ‘Yes, by Allah! One of them would be tortured with deprivation of food and water to an extent that he would not be able to sit up due to the severity of the torment meted to him until he acceded to their demand. They would say to him: Do you accept Al-Lat and Al-Uzza instead of Allah?’ and he would reply in affirmation as a ransom from their severe torture.’”

It is regarding something like this that Allah revealed: “Whoever disbelieved in Allah after his belief, except him who is forced thereto and whose heart is at rest with Faith but such as open their breasts to disbelief, on them is wrath from Allah, and theirs will be a great torment.” (Soorah An-Nahl 16:106)

This sort of people is excused because of what they have experienced of indignity and extreme suffering.

Allah (SWT) informed us of that with His Wisdom and Power.

Imam Ahmad also related that Khabbab Ibn Al-Aratt said: “During the pre-Islamic period, I was a blacksmith and Al-‘Aas Ibn Wa’il owed me a debt.” So Khabbab went to him to demand the debt. He said, “I will not give you (your due) till you disbelieve in Muhammad.” Khabbab said, “By Allah, I shall not disbelieve in Muhammad till Allah makes you die and then resurrects you.” Al-‘Aas said, “So leave me till I die and then be resurrected, for I will be given wealth and children whereupon I will pay you your debt.” Then Allah revealed this Verse: “Have you seen him who disbelieved in Our Ayat (this Qur’an and Muhammad) and (yet) says: ‘I shall certainly be given wealth and children [if I will be alive (again)], ‘ (Soorah Maryam 19:77) till the statement of Allah: “And We shall inherit from him (at his death) all that he talks of (i.e. wealth and children which We have bestowed upon him in this world), and he shall come to Us alone.” (Soorah Maryam 19:80)

It is also related in the Saheehain and other than both through ‘A’mash. In the wordings of Al-Bukhari, Al-Khabbab said: “I was a blacksmith in Makkah. I did a job for Al-‘Aas Ibn Wa’il and then came for the payment” and then he mentioned the remainder of the Hadith.

Imam Al-Bukhari also related that Al-Khabbab said: “I came to complain to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, (about the severity of our suffering at the hands of the polytheists) while he was leaning against his sheet cloak in the shade of the Ka’bah. I said, “O Messenger of Allah, shouldn’t you supplicate to Allah on our behalf?” He sat down while his face turned red and he said, “Among those who were before you, a (believer) used to be seized and his flesh might be combed with iron combs and removed from his bones and that did not cause him to revert from his religion. Then a saw used to be brought and put on his head which would be split into two halves. Still that did not cause him to recant his religion. Allah will complete this matter (Islam) till a rider (traveler) goes from San'a (the capital of Yemen) to Hadramawt fearing nobody except Allah." Bayan added: "...and the wolf lest it should trouble his sheep."

The polytheists' disputation of the Messenger of Allah and his establishing an irrefutable proof on them and their acknowledgement of the Truth

Ishaq Ibn Rahuyah reported from Ibn 'Abbas that Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah once came to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, who recited the Qur'an to him. What he heard had a visible effect on him, and he went away with softened heart. When the news of this incident got to Abu Jahl, he came to him and said:

"O my uncle! Your people wish to gather wealth for you." "why?" Al-Waleed asked. Abu Jahl said: "Because you approached Muhammad so as to benefit from what comes from him." Al-Waleed said: "The entire Quraish well know that I am one of the wealthiest of them." Then Abu Jahl said: "Then say something (against Muhammad) so that the people will know that you are against him and hate (his message)." Al-Waleed replied, "and what can I say? For I swear by Allah, there is none amongst you who knows poetry as well as I do, nor can anyone compete with me in composition or rhetoric - not even in the poetry of Jinns! And yet, I swear by Allah, Muhammad's speech (meaning the Qur'an) does not bear any similarity to anything I know, and I swear by Allah, the speech that he says is very sweet, and is adorned with beauty and charm. Its first part is fruitful and its last part is abundant (meaning that it is full of deep meanings), and it conquers (all other speech), and remains unconquered! It shatters and destroys all that has come before it (of poetry, because of its eloquence)!”

Abu Jahl insisted, "Your people will not be satisfied until you speak against him!" Al-Waleed therefore requested Abu Jahl, "Leave me so that I may think about it." Then he said: "This (the Qur'an) is a type of magic that has an effect on its listeners."

In response to this, Allah revealed: “Leave Me Alone (to deal with whom I created Alone (without any means, i.e. Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah Al-Makhzumi)! And then granted him resources in abundance. And children to be by his side!” (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:11-13) This is how Al-Baihaqi related it from Al-Hakim from ‘Abdullah Ibn Muhammad As-Sana’ni in Makkah from Ishaq.

Hammad Ibn Zaid has also reported from Ayyub from ‘Ikrimah in a mursal form which includes that he recited to him the following Verse: “Verily, Allah enjoins Al-Adl (i.e. justice and worshipping none but Allah Alone - Islamic Monotheism) and Al-Ihsan [i.e. to be patient in performing your duties to Allah, totally for Allah’s sake and in accordance with the Sunnah (legal ways) of the Prophet in a perfect manner], and giving (help) to kith and kin (i.e. all that Allah has ordered you to give them, e.g., wealth, visiting, looking after them, or any other kind of help, etc.): and forbids Al-Fahsha’ (i.e. all evil deeds, e.g. illegal sexual acts, disobedience of parents, polytheism, to tell lies, to give false witness, to kill a life without right, etc.), and Al-Munkar (i.e. all that is prohibited by Islamic law: polytheism of every kind, disbelief and every kind of evil deeds, etc.), and Al-Baghy’ (i.e. all kinds of oppression), He admonishes you, that you may take heed.” (Soorah An-Nahl 16: 90)

I say: Regarding that, Allah says, by way of informing (us) of their ignorance and paucity of their intellect. "Nay, they say: 'These (revelations of the Qur'an which are inspired to Muhammad) are mixed up false dreams! Nay, he has invented it! Nay, he is a poet! Let him then bring us an Ayah (sign as a proof) like the ones (Prophets) that were sent before (with signs)!'" (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:5)

Consider what they say. Everything they say is false for whatever the one who is far removed from the truth says will always be faulty. Allah, Most High, says: "See what examples they have put forward for you. So they have gone astray, and never can they find a way." (Soorah Al-Isra 17:48)

Imam Ahmad related from 'Abd Ibn Humayd in his Musnad: From Jabir Ibn 'Abdullah who said: "The Quraish assembled one day and said 'check who is the most knowledgeable of you in magic, soothsaying and poetry so that he may approach this man who has divided our ranks, shattered our affairs and criticized our religion so that he may speak with and respond to him.' They all said: 'we know no one better than 'Utbah Ibn Rabee'ah.' So they unanimously said: 'We appoint you, O Abul-Waleed.'

'Utbah went to the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and said: 'O Muhammad! Who is better between you and 'Abdullah (your father)? Who is better between you and Abdul-Muttalib (your grandfather)?' Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, remained silent. 'Utbah continued: 'If you think that these individuals are better than you are, then be aware that they worshipped the god that you reject. If you think that you are better than them, then speak so that we may hear your speech. By Allah, we have seen no other son who has brought so great a calamity to his people as you have done. You have created strife among us, shattered our affairs, rejected our religion and caused us disgrace among the Arabs in such a way that it has become widespread among them that there is a magician among the Quraish and that a soothsayer exists among the Quraish. If you have a need for wealth, we will join together to give you greater riches than any man of Quraish. If you are impelled by a desire for women, choose any woman of your liking and we shall marry ten of them to you.

Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: 'Have you said all you have to say?' and 'Utba said 'yes.' Then Allah's Messenger began: 'In the Name of Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful. Ha-Mim. [These letters are one of the miracles of the Qur'an, and none but Allah (Alone) knows their meanings]; a revelation from Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful; a Book whereof the Verses are explained in detail; a Qur'an in Arabic for people who know' up to the statement of Allah: 'But if they turn away, then say (O Muhammad): I have warned you of a Sa'iqah (a destructive awful cry, torment, hit, a thunderbolt) like the Sa'iqah which overtook 'Ad and Thamud (people).' (Soorah AlFussilat 41:1-13)

'Do you have other than this?' Utba asked and the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: 'No.' Then he returned to the Quraish and they asked him: 'What transpired?' and he said: 'I have never heard words similar to those ones he recited.' Then they enquired: 'Did he respond to you?' He said 'Yes, ' and then said 'No. By Him Who built the Ka'bah, I did not understand anything from what he said except that I warn you of a thunderbolt similar to that of the Ad and Thamud.' Indignantly, they said, 'Woe betide you, someone spoke to you in Arabic and you did not understand anything from what he said?' and he responded: 'By Allah, I did not understand anything other than the mentioning of thunderbolt'."

Al-Baihaqi related that Mugheerah Ibn Shu'bah said: "The first day I knew Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was when I was walking along with Abu Jahl in an alleyway of Makkah and we met Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and he said to Abu Jahl, 'O Abul-Hakam, come on to Allah and His Messenger, I am inviting you to Allah.' Abu Jahl said, 'O Muhammad, won't you desist from slandering our gods? Do you desire anything other than that we witness that you delivered (the message) and we have witnessed to that? By Allah, if I knew that what you are saying is true I would have followed you.' Then Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, went away and Abu Jahl turned to me and said:

'By Allah, I know that what he says is the truth but something is hindering me. Banu Qusayy would boast: 'among us is Al-Hijabah (enrobing the Ka'bah)' and we would concur; then they would say 'among us is As-Siqayah' (providing water for pilgrims) and still we would concur; then they would say, 'among us is An-Nadwah (the meeting place of the Quraish) and we would say yes; they would say, 'among us is AlLiwa' (the flag of the Arabs) and we would say yes. And then they score and we also score until when I am about to take the rein and they would say again, among us is a Prophet. By Allah, I shall not accede to that.'

Imam Ahmad related that Ibn 'Abbas said: "The following Verses were revealed while the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was still in Makkah: "And offer your salat (prayer) neither aloud nor in a low voice." He said, "Whenever Allah's Messenger led his Companions in salat, he would raise his voice in reciting the Qur'an, so when the polytheists heard it they would abuse the Qur'an and abuse Who revealed it and abuse who brought it." Ibn 'Abbas said further, "then Allah says to His Prophet (peace and blessing of Allah be upon him): "And offer your salat (prayer) neither aloud," (Soorah Al-Isra 17:110) That is, with your recitation of the Qur'an and the polytheists would hear and therefore abuse the Qur'an. "... nor in a low voice." (Soorah Al-Isra 17:110) i.e. do not make too low for your Companions to hear you recite the Qur'an so that they might learn from you, "but follow a way between." (Soorah Al-Isra 17:110)

Hijrah of those who migrated among the Companions of Allah's Messenger from Makkah to Abyssinia

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq related that Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, saw the tribulation that has afflicted his Companions, may Allah be pleased with them, and his own relative wellbeing engendered from Allah (SWT) and occasioned by his uncle, Abu Talib, against the backdrop of his inability to avert from them their persecution. Thus, he said to them, "Shouldn't you migrate to Abyssinia? There is a king there under whose authority no one is tyrannized. It is a land of truth. Remain there until Allah provides you a relief from your situation."

Thus, a number of Muslims from the Companions of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, migrated to Abyssinia for fear of persecution and in flight toward Allah (SWT) with their religion. That incident marked the first migration in Islam. The first to emigrate among the Muslims was 'Uthman Ibn Affan and his wife, Ruqayyah, daughter of Allah's Messenger.

Ibn Ishaq also enumerated the other emigrants: "...and Abu Hudhaifah Ibn 'Utbah, Az-Zubair Ibn Al-Awwam, Mus'ab Ibn 'Umair, 'Abdur Rahman Ibn 'Awf, Abu Salamah Ibn 'Abdul-Asad and his wife Umm Salamah Bint Abu Umayyah Ibn Al-Mugheerah (and she bore Zainab for him there). Others were 'Uthman Ibn Maz'oon, 'Amir Ibn Rabee'ah an ally of the family of Khattab from the clan of Banu 'Anz Ibn Wa'il and his wife Layla Bint Abi Hathma, Abu Sabrah Ibn

Abi Ruhm Al-Amiri and his wife, Umm Kulthoom Bint Suhail Ibn ‘Amr. It is said that it was Hatib Ibn ‘Amr Ibn ‘Abd Shams Ibn ‘Abd Wudd Ibn Nasr Ibn Malik Ibn Hishl Ibn Amir who first arrived in Abyssinia along with Suhail Ibn Baida. These ten people were the first to migrate among the Muslims to Abyssinia based on the information that reached me.

Ibn Hisham said: the one who led the emigrant was ‘Uthman Ibn Maz’oon as mentioned by some people of knowledge.

Ibn Ishaq related: Thereafter, Ja‘afar Ibn Abu Talib and his wife, Asma’ Bint ‘Umais also emigrated and she gave birth to ‘Abdullah Ibn Ja‘afar there. Then other Muslims also began to follow one after the other until they became a sizable congregation in Abyssinia.

Ibn Ishaq also said: The aggregate of those who migrated and stayed in Abyssinia from among the Muslims (aside from the children who migrated with their parents and those given birth to there) was eighty-three men if ‘Ammar Ibn Yasir is counted among them and that is doubtful.

Imam Ahmad related that Ibn Mas‘ood said: Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sent us to Najashi, we numbered about eighty men among who were ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood, Ja‘afar, ‘Abdullah Ibn Urfutah, ‘Uthman Ibn Maz’oon and Abu Moosa.

We went to Najashi and the Quraish sent ‘Amr Ibn Al-‘Aas and ‘Umarah Ibn Al-Waleed with great presents to ferret our extradition from Abyssinia. When they both arrived at the court of Najashi, they prostrated before him and then they inundate him left and right with other courtesies. Thereafter, they began to say: “A group of our cousins have arrived in your domain and they have reneged from us and our religion.” “Where are they?” Najashi asked. “They are right here in your land.” The Quraish emissary replied. “Send for them,”

Najashi ordered. When the Muslims gathered at the court of the king, Ja'afar offered to speak on their behalf. They greeted the king without prostrating before him. "Why didn't you prostrate before the king?" they asked and Ja'far replied: "We do not prostrate before anyone other than Allah (SWT) and He has ordered us to offer prayer, pay the compulsory charity." 'Amr interjected, "they also differ with you regarding 'Eesa, the son of Maryam!" "What is your opinion of 'Eesa, the son of Maryam?" the king asked. Ja'afar said: "Regarding him, we only say what Allah has revealed to our Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. He said: he ('Eesa) is the servant of Allah and His Messenger; His Spirit and His Word which He cast into Maryam, the Virgin."

Najashi picked up a small stick from the floor and said: "O people of Abyssinia, priests and rabbis, by Allah, 'Eesa, the son of Maryam, was no less than what you have said by the width of this stick. Welcome to you and what you have come with. I bear witness that he is truly a Messenger of Allah and that he is the one the description of whom we found in the Injeel. He is the Messenger the tiding of whom Jesus, the son of Maryam, had given previously. Reside wherever you wish, if not for the burden of kingship which I am saddled with, I would have come to him so that I become the one to carry his shoes for him." Then he commanded that the gifts the Quraish emissaries brought to bribe him be returned. This chain of narrations is good. Then Ibn Mas'ood accelerated to the time of the Battle of Badr.

This is how Al-Hafiz Al-Baihaqi also related it in Ad-Dala'il through Abu 'Ali Al-Hasan Ibn Sallam AsSawwaq from 'Ubaidullaah Ibn Moosa and he mentioned with his own chain of narrations that: "...then he ordered that food and clothing be provided to us."

He said: this chain of narrations is Saheeh and it is apparent from the narration that Abu Moosa was in Makkah and that he migrated along with Ja'afar Ibn Abi Talib to Abyssinia.

It is authentically related from Buraid Ibn 'Abdullah Ibn Abi Burdah from his grandfather, Abu Burdah from Abu Moosa that: We received the news of the departure of the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, (to Madinah) while we were in Yemen. So we went on board a ship but our ship took us away to Najashi in Abyssinia. There we met Ja'afar and stayed with him till we came (to Madinah) by the time the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, had conquered Khaibar. The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said, "O you people of the ship! You will have (the reward of) two migrations."

The news of the migration of the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, (from Makkah to Madinah) reached them while they were in Yemen. So they set out as emigrants toward him. They were over fifty men. They got on board a boat and the boat took them to Najashi in Abyssinia. There they met Ja'afar and stayed with him. Then they came (to Madinah) and met the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, at the time of the conquest of Khaibar. He also said: Abu Moosa witnessed what transpired between Ja'afar and Najashi and thus he narrated about. He also said: perhaps the narrator was confused when he said: "Allah's Messenger ordered us to proceed." And Allah knows best.

Al-Bukhari also related a similar narration in the chapter of the "Emigration to Abyssinia" from Abu Moosa who said: "We received the news of the departure of the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, (to Madinah) while we were in Yemen. So we went on board a ship but our ship took us away to Najashi in Ethiopia. There we met Ja'afar Ibn Abi Talib and stayed with him till we came (to Madinah) by the time when the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had conquered Khaibar. The Prophet said, "O you people of the ship! You will have (the reward of) two migrations."

As for the incident of Ja'afar's encounter with Najashi, Al-Hafiz Ibn 'Asakir related from 'Abdullah Ibn Ja'afar from his father who said: "The Quraish sent 'Amr Ibn Al-'Aas and Umarah Ibn Al-Waleed with presents from Abu Sufyan to Najashi. They said to him while we were present: "There is a group of foolish persons from among our youths who have sneaked into your kingdom, return them to us."

"No! Until I hear their own story," Najashi said. Then they sent for us and asked, "What do you have to say?" We said: "These are people devoted to the worship of idols but Allah sent to us a Messenger and we believed and considered him truthful." Then Najashi said to the Quraish emissaries: "Are these people your slaves?" They replied in the negative. "Are they indebted you?" Najashi further asked, and the emissaries replied, "No." Najashi said: "Then leave them alone." Then we left the court of the king.

Undaunted by the initial setback, 'Amr again said: "These people say about 'Eesa something contrary to what you say." Najashi said: "If they don't say something similar to what we believe regarding 'Eesa, then I shall not allow them to remain in my domain an hour more of the day." Again they sent for us and the second summon was even harder on us than the first. "What does your companion (i.e. the Prophet) say about 'Eesa Ibn Maryam?" Najashi asked. We said: "He ('Eesa) is the Spirit of of Allah and His Word which He cast into Maryam the Virgin." Najashi ordered: "Call such-and-such priest, call such-and-such rabbi." When they had gathered, he asked: "what do you say regarding 'Eesa Ibn Maryam?" They said: "You are more knowledgeable than us, what do you say?" Then Najashi picked up something from the floor and said: "'Eesa, the son of Maryam, was no less than what you have said by the width of this thing." Then he asked: "Has anyone harmed you?" they replied, "Yes." Then a caller announced that whoever harms anyone of them shall be fined four dirhams. "Is that sufficient for you?" he asked and we said, "No," and he multiplied the penalty.

However, when the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, migrated to Madinah and triumphed there, we said to Najashi: "Allah's Messenger has become victorious and he has migrated to Madinah and those about whom we told you have been killed. We wish to relocate to him so please make provision for us." He furnished us with riding animals and provisions and then said: "Inform your companion about my treatment of you and this is my companion, I am sending him with you. Also 'I bear witness that none deserves to be worshipped other Allah and that he is a Messenger of Allah.' And ask him to seek forgiveness for me." Ja'afar said: Then we set out until we reached Madinah and I met Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and he embraced me and then said: "I do not know which fills me with more happiness, the conquest of Khaibar or the coming of Ja'afar." Then he sat and the messenger of Najashi said: "This is Ja'afar, ask him how our companion treated him." "Yes," Ja'afar began to say, "he did such-and-such to us, he furnished us with riding animals and provisions and he testifies that none deserves to be worshipped in truth other than Allah and that you are a Messenger of Allah. And he asked me to request you to seek forgiveness for him. Then Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, stood up, performed ablution and he supplicated: "O Allah, forgive Najashi," three times while the Muslims said "ameen." Ja'afar further narrated: Then I said to the messenger (of Najashi) "proceed and inform your companion about what you have witnessed from Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him. Ibn Asakir said it is hasan ghareeb.

Moosa Ibn 'Uqbah said: Najashi's father used to be the king of Abyssinia. He died while Najashi was a small child. He bequeathed authority to his brother to hold until Najashi comes of age. The brother usurped the authority and sold Najashi to some traders. The uncle died one night and the authority of Habashah (Abyssinia) was restored to Najashi and they placed a crown on his head. This is how he mentioned it in a summary form.

It is recorded in the Saheehain from a Hadith of Abu Hurairah who reported: "The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, announced the news of the death of Najashi, the ruler of Abyssinia, on the day he died and he took them out to the place of prayer and observed four takbeers."

Jabir narrated that when Najashi died, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said,

"Today a pious man has died. So get up and offer the funeral prayer for your brother Ashamah."

Some scholars said: He offered the prayer on him because he kept his faith secret from his people and there was none with him the day he died who could pray on him. So this is why Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, offered a janazah (funeral) prayer on him.

According to these scholars, if a dead Muslim has been prayed over in his location of death, it is not legislated to pray in absentia over the same corpse in other locations. This is why the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, did not offer funeral prayers in Madinah for those who died in Makkah and other places. Similarly, Abu Bakr, 'Umar, 'Uthman, may Allah be pleased with them, did not do it nor other than them from among the Companions, may Allah be pleased with them. It is not reported that he ever offered funeral prayer over anyone of them other than the one offered for him in the land of his death. And Allah knows best.

I say: The fact that Abu Hurairah witnessed the Prophet's offering of funeral prayer on Najashi is an indication that his death must have occurred after the Conquest of Khaibar in the same year the remainder of the emigrants arrived at Madinah. This is why it is reported that he said: "I do not know which fills me with more happiness, the Conquest of Khaibar or the coming of Ja'afar Ibn Abi Talib." They arrived with large gifts and presents from Najashi, may Allah be pleased with him, to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Accompanying them were the people of the boat from Yemen, the companions of Abu Moosa Al-Ash'ari, may Allah be pleased with him. Accompanying Ja'afar and the gift was also a nephew of Najashi, Dhu Mukhbir or Dhu Mukhmir, whom he sent to serve the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in place of his uncle. May Allah be pleased with them both and may they also find pleasure.

As-Suhaili said that Najashi died in the month of Rajab, 9th year of Hijrah, though this is disputable. And Allah knows best. Imam Al-Baihaqi said that when 'Amr Ibn Al-'Aas came back from Abyssinia, he remained in his house and did not go out. They wondered: "Why is he not coming out?" 'Amr said: "Ashama thinks that your companion is truly a Prophet."

Ibn Ishaq said that when 'Amr Ibn Al-'Aas and 'Abdullah Ibn Rabee'ah came back to the Quraish from their fruitless quest of extraditing the Companions of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, from Abyssinia and Najashi responded to them with what is most hateful to them; to add to their injury, 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab accepted Islam. He was a very stubborn man. The Companions of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, did not feel a sense of protection in any man other 'Umar and Hamzah until they eventually routed the Quraish. ‘Abdullah Ibn Mas‘ood used to say: “We were not able to pray at the Ka‘bah until ‘Umar accepted Islam. When he became a Muslim, he fought his way against the Quraish until he was able to pray at the Ka‘bah and we prayed along with him.”

I say: It is also recorded in the Saheeh Al-Bukhari from Ibn Mas‘ood that he said: “we never ceased to be honored since ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab accepted Islam.”

Ibn Ishaq said: ‘Umar’s acceptance of Islam occurred after those who emigrated to Abyssinia from the Companions of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had done so. ‘Abdur Rahman Ibn Al-Harith Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn Iyyash Ibn Abi Rabe‘ah narrated from ‘Abdul-Aziz Ibn ‘Abdullah from ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Amir Ibn Rabe‘ah from his mother, Umm ‘Abdullah Bint Abi Hathmah, who said: “By Allah, we were migrating to Abyssinia, ‘Amir had gone to attend to some of our needs, when ‘Umar approached. He stopped by me. At this time, he was still a polytheist and we used to experience harmful persecution and severity from him so he said: ‘perhaps you are migrating, O Umm ‘Abdullah.’ I replied in affirmation: ‘Yes, by Allah, we shall emigrate in the land of Allah until He provides for us a way out due to your harm and coercion.’ ‘Umar said: ‘May Allah accompany you.’ I saw in him a tenderness the like of which I had never seen him demonstrate before. Then he went away. I see that our emigration must have caused him great sorrow.”

She further narrated: “When ‘Amir returned from his attendance of some of our needs I said to him: ‘O Abu ‘Abdullah, I wish you had seen ‘Umar just now and his tenderheartedness and grief over us.’ He said: ‘Do you have a strong hope of him becoming a Muslim?’ I replied, ‘Yes, ‘ and he said: ‘He will not accept Islam, in my opinion, until the donkey of Al-Khattab accepts first.’” (Expressing a rarity of occurrence of such an incident as the conversion of ‘Umar to Islam) due to his roughness and cruelty against Islam.

I say: This is a refutation to those who think that he is the fortieth Muslim because the emigrants to Abyssinia were well over eighty. Except if it is said that: He is the fortieth after the emigration of the migrants and this is reinforced by what Ibn Ishaq narrated here about the story of ‘Umar’s conversion. May Allah be pleased with him.

Imam Baihaqi related from Ibn Ishaq who said that thereafter, about twenty Christian men came to meet Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, when his news had become widespread in Abyssinia. They found him in an assembly. They requested his audience and asked him questions while some men of Quraish were engrossed in their ceremony around the Ka‘bah. When they concluded their questioning of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, he invited them to Allah, the Mighty and Majestic. He recited a portion of the Qur’an to them and upon listening to it, their eyes welled up with tears. They responded positively to his invitation, believed in him, acknowledged his truthfulness and recognized in him what had been described to them in their Books regarding him. When they rose from his presence, Abu Jahl and a group of Quraish accosted them and said: “May Allah frustrate you, you were sent by those whom you left behind among the people of your religion to seek his information and you were not satisfied with your audience with him until you abandoned your religion. We do not know of any rider more dim-witted than you,” or they said something similar.

The Christian delegates responded calmly: “Peace be unto you. We shall not behave to you ignorantly, we are responsible for our own actions and you are responsible for yours.” Some said that the group was from the Christians of Najran. And Allah knows best that which is correct. It is said, and Allah knows best, that the following Verses of the Qur'an were revealed regarding them:

“Those to whom We gave the Scripture (i.e. the Tawrah and the Injeel, etc.) before it, - they believe in it (the Qur'an). And when it is recited to them, they say: We believe in it. Verily, it is the Truth from our Lord. Indeed, even before it we have been from those who submit themselves to Allah in Islam as Muslims (like 'Abdullah Ibn Salam and Salman Al-Farisi, etc.). These will be given their reward twice over, because they are patient, and repel evil with good, and spend (in charity) out of what We have provided them. And when they hear Al-Laghw (dirty, false, evil vain talk), they withdraw from it and say: “To us our deeds, and to you your deeds. Peace be to you. We seek not the ignorant.” (Soorah Al-Qasas 28:5255)

Imam Al-Baihaqi says in Ad-Dala'il from Ibn Ishaq, who said: In the Name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful. This is a letter from Allah's Messenger (peace and blessing of Allah be upon him) to Najashi Asham, the sovereign of Abyssinia, peace be on to those who follow the right guidance. (I urge you to) believe in Allah and His Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and that you bear witness that none deserves to be worshipped in truth except Allah, Alone. He has no associate and He did not chose for Himself a companion or son and that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. I call upon you with the invitation of Allah for I am His Messenger. Accept Islam and you will remain in peace. “Say (O Muhammad): 'O people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians): Come to a word that is just between us and you, that we worship none but Allah, and that we associate no partners with Him, and that none of us shall take others as lords besides Allah. Then, if they turn away, say: 'Bear witness that we are Muslims!'” (Soorah Al 'Imran 3: 64) If you refuse, upon you is the sin of all the Christians among your people.

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq said: Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sent 'Amr Ibn Umayyah Ad-Damri with a letter to Najashi on the issue of Ja'afar Ibn Abi Talib and his compatriots. (In the letter, he wrote): In the Name of Allah the Beneficent the Merciful. From Muhammad, the Messenger of Allah to Najashi Al-Asham, the king of Abyssinia, peace be unto you. I commend Allah (to you), the King, the Holy, the Giver of security, the Watcher over His creatures. I also bear witness that 'Eesa is the Spirit of Allah and His Word, ("Be!" - and he was) which He bestowed on Maryam, the virgin, the virtuous, the good and she conceived 'Eesa who has been created from His Spirit and His Blowing just as He created Adam with His Hands and His Blowing. I am inviting you unto Allah beside Whom there is no partner and patron to obey Him as well as to follow and believe in me and what I have come with for I am a Messenger of Allah and I have sent to you my cousin, Ja'far, and with him is a group of Muslims. When they arrive, show them hospitality and avoid haughtiness. I invite you and your army unto Allah. I have delivered the message and I have advised you so heed my advice. Peace be unto those who follow the right guidance."

Najashi also wrote in reply to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him: "In the Name of Allah, the Beneficent the Merciful. To Muhammad, the Messenger of Allah, from Najashi AlAsham Ibn Abjar, peace be unto you Prophet of Allah. Your letter has reached me, O Messenger of Allah. Regarding what you mentioned about 'Eesa, by the Lord of the heaven and the Earth, 'Eesa was no more than what you mentioned (about him). We have acknowledged what you have sent to us and have provided hospitality to your cousin and his compatriots. I bear witness that you are a Messenger of Allah, truthful and trustworthy. I pledged allegiance to you. I have pledged allegiance to your cousin and I have accepted Islam at his hands for the sake of the Lord of the Worlds. I have equally sent to you, O Prophet of Allah, Ba'reeha Ibn Al-Asham Ibn Abjar. I have no control except over myself and if you wish that I come to you myself, I shall do that, O Messenger of Allah. I bear witness that all I have said is true.”

Moosa Ibn 'Uqbah narrated from Az-Zuhri: Thereafter, the polytheists became even more severe against the Muslims than ever before till the persecution became even more precarious for them. The Quraish also became unanimous in their open plot to kill Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. When Abu Talib saw the action of the people, he assembled the clan of Abdul-Muttalib and ordered them to admit Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, into their midst and to prevent anyone who might attempt to kill him. They were unanimous in that cause, the Muslims and the non-Muslims alike. Among them were those who were committed to the cause out of clannish enthusiasm and there were others whose commitment was borne out of faith and certainty.

When the Quraish realized that his people were consentient in their protection of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, the polytheists of Quraish reached an accord not to admit the entire clan of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in to their assembly. They also agreed not to trade with them and not to enter their houses until they surrender Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, for execution. In their blind deceit, they entered into a formal pact and covenant which they wrote on a parchment: “There shall never be reconciliation with the Banu Hashim and no clemency shall be tolerated regarding them until they surrender him for execution.”

Banu Hashim remained excommunicated in their valley for three years. Their adversity intensified such that all economic relations with them was severed and no foreign trade caravan arrived Makkah except that the polytheists hastened to buy them all to prevent the Muslims and their sympathizers' access to even basic necessities all in the bid to spill the blood of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him.

Whenever people retired to their beds, Abu Talib would order Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to also retire to his bed so that people who might have sinister motives may not see him. However, when everyone would go to sleep, he would order one of his sons or cousins to exchange bed with Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him.

When it was exactly three years after the commencement of the boycott, some men from Banu Abd Manaf, from Banu Qusayy and selected individuals among the Quraish with marital ties with Banu Hashim began to trade blames for acceding to an agreement which tantamount to breaking off ties of kinship as well as disparaging the truth.

Same night, they met and reached an understanding to nullify the pact of the boycott and to dissociate themselves from it. Allah sent worms upon their written pact of boycott and they ate up everything therein concerning the pact. It is also said that the written parchment was hanged on the roof the Ka'bah and the worm did not leave the Name of Allah written on the parchment except that it ate it out leaving only what it contained of shirk (associating partner with Allah), injustice and severance of kinship ties.

Then Allah (SWT) informed the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, what fate has befallen their parchment. So he mentioned that to Abu Talib. Abu Talib said: “By the star, you have never lied to me!” So he proceeded along with some of his company among Banu Abdul-Muttalib until they got to the House (Ka‘bah) which was filled with the Quraish. The Quraish thought that, finally, their excruciating travails have harried them into surrendering Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, for execution. Abu Talib spoke first. He said: “A number of events have transpired between us and it is needless recounting them. Bring out your parchment upon which you have agreed perhaps there might be some reconciliation between us.” He said this for the fear that they might open the parchment before bringing it out.

They brought out their parchment with much admiration. They were sure Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, would be turned over to them. So they placed the parchment before them. They said, “It is high time you concede and return to that which will engender unity of your people. Only one man has driven this wedge between us and you allowed him to push your people to the precipice of destruction.” Abu Talib said: “I have come to you to offer you a 50:50 chance of reconciliation. My nephew has informed me, and he has never lied to me, that Allah dissociates Himself from the pact contained in the parchment in your possession and has erased all His names from it and left only your severance of ties of kinship, your perpetration of injustice on us. If what my nephew has said is true, then by Allah, we shall never surrender him to you until we all perish to the last man. However, if what he said is found to be inconsistent with the truth, we shall surrender him to you right away and you may either kill him or let him live.” The Quraish responded: “We are pleased with what you have said.” When they opened the parchment, they found him to be truthful and trustworthy. When the Quraish saw that the matter is as Abu Talib has presented, they said: “This is nothing but sorcery of your companion.” So they reneged on their earlier promise. They returned to the status quo in their vile disbelief and severity on the Muslims and their sympathizers.

Ibn Ishaq said: They remained excommunicated for two or three years and all supplies debarred from them except what was smuggled to them secretly by those who preferred reconciliation with them among the Quraish. It has been mentioned that Abu Jahl once met Hakeem Ibn Hizam Ibn Khuwailid Ibn Asad with him was his boy carrying some wheat meant for his aunt Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid who was with Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in the mountain pass. Abu Jahl held him and said: "Are you going to supply Banu Hashim with food? By Allah, you will not go with that food to Banu Hashim till I expose you to the entire Makkah." Then came Abul-Bakhtari Ibn Hisham Ibn AlHarith Ibn Asad and he asked: "what has transpired between both of you?" Abu Jahl, hoping for support, said: "He is supplying food to the Banu Hashim." Abu Bakhtari said to him: "The food belongs to his aunt. Would you prevent him from taking her food to her? Let the man off!" Abu Jahl refused, Allah's curse be on him. Abul-Bakhtari took the jawbone of a camel and smashed the head of Abu Jahl and also kicked him violently. Hamzah Ibn Abdul-Muttalib was nearby watching this incident and they disliked that news of such incident should get to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Meanwhile, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, persisted in calling his people night and day, secretly and openly inviting them by the command of Allah without fearing anyone. When they saw the futility of their attempt at physically terminating the Prophet's life due to his protection by his uncle and his people from Banu Hashim and Banu Abdul-Muttalib who stood solidly in his defense, the Quraish resorted to taunting and making jests of him. All this happened while the Qur'an was being revealed detailing their misdeeds. Among them were those whom revelation merely mentioned their enmities to him and amongst them are those whose names were mentioned directly. There were yet others whom the Qur'an mentioned along with the other polytheists. Ibn Ishaq mentioned Abu Lahab and the revelation of the Qur'an concerning him and Umayyah Ibn Khalaf. The revelation "Woe to every slanderer and backbiter" (Soorah Al-Humazah 104:1) and an entire chapter was revealed about him.

As for Al-'Aas Ibn Wa'il and the revelation about him: "Have you seen him who disbelieved in Our Ayat (this Qur'an and Muhammad) and (yet) says: 'I shall certainly be given wealth and children [if I will be alive (again)]'," (Soorah Maryam 19:77) was revealed about him. We have mentioned something about that in the previous pages. Regarding Abu Jahl and his statement to the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him: "You either desist from insulting our gods or we shall insult your God in retaliation," revelation of the Words of Allah about that goes thus: "And insult not those whom they (disbelievers) worship besides Allah, lest they insult Allah wrongfully without knowledge." (Soorah Al-An'am 6:108)

An-Nadr Ibn Al-Harith Ibn Kaldah Ibn Alqamah and there are those who consider him to be 'Alqamah Ibn Kaldah. As-Suhaili narrated something about his manner of sitting wherever the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had sat to recite the Qur'an and invite people to Allah, and he (i.e. AnNadr) would recount to the people instead some of the stories of Rustum and Asfandyar and what great battles that were fought between them during the reign of the Persians and then he would also say: "By Allah, Muhammad is no better than me in speech and his words are nothing but fables of old which he has written down just as I have also written down." Then Allah revealed concerning that: "And they say: 'Tales of the ancients, which he has written down, and they are dictated to him morning and afternoon!'" (Soorah

Al-Furqan 25:5 and also, “Woe to every sinful liar.” (Soorah Al-Jathiyah 45:7)

Ibn Ishaq said that a report that reached me said that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was sitting one day with Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah in the Mosque (Ka‘bah) and An-Nadr Ibn Al-Harith came and sat with them. In the sitting were a number of other Quraish men. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, continued his address but An-Nadr interrupted him. The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, spoke to him until he was dumbfounded and then he recited the Qur’an to him: “Certainly! You (disbelievers) and that which you are worshipping now besides Allah, are (but) fuel for Hell! (Surely), you will enter it. Had these (idols, etc.) been aliha (gods), they would not have entered there (Hell), and all of them will abide therein. Therein breathing out with deep sighs and roaring will be their portion, and therein they will hear not.” (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:98100) Then Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, rose and went away.

Soon afterward, ‘Abdullah Ibn Az-Ziba’ra As-Sahmi came and sat in the gathering. Then Al-Waleed said to him: “Not long ago, An-Nadhr neither stood up to Ibn Abdul-Muttalib nor did he stand down. Muhammad had claimed that we and all the gods we worship will be fuel for the Fire.” ‘Abdullah Ibn AzZiba’ra said: “By Allah, if I had met him I would have argued with him. Ask Muhammad: ‘will everything we worship besides Allah become fuel for Hellfire along with their worshippers? We worship angels; the Jews worship ‘Uzair and the Christian worship ‘Eesa, peace be on both of them.” Al-Waleed and those with him were astonished by the words of Ibn Az-Ziba’ra and they considered that he had given fitting response and a challenge (to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him).

When that was mentioned to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, he said: "Everyone who loves to be worshipped besides Allah, he along with his worshippers shall dwell in Hellfire. As for them, rather, they are worshipping shayatin (devils) for they (i.e. the angels, 'Uzair and 'Eesa) did not order them to worship them." Then Allah revealed: "Verily those for whom the good has preceded from Us, they will be removed far there from (Hell) [e.g. 'Eesa, son of Maryam; 'Uzair (Ezra), etc.]. They shall not hear the slightest sound of it (Hell), while they abide in that which their ownelves desire." (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:101,102) It means that 'Eesa and 'Uzair and those who were worshipped among monks and rabbis were themselves righteous worshippers of Allah (SWT), Most High.

Allah (SWT) also revealed concerning those who worship the angels and considered them the daughters of Allah: "And they say: 'The Most Beneficent (Allah) has begotten a son (or children)'. Glory to Him! They [those whom they call children of Allah i.e. the angels, 'Eesa, son of Maryam, 'Uzair, etc.], are but honored slaves." (Soorah Al-Anbiya' 21:26) as well as Verses following it. Allah also revealed concerning the astonishment of the polytheist at the statement of Ibn Az-Ziba'ra: "And when the son of Maryam is quoted as an example [i.e. 'Eesa is worshipped like their idols), behold! Your people cry aloud (laugh out at the example). And say: 'Are our aliha (gods) better or is he 'Eesa'?" They quoted not the above example except for argument. Nay! But they are a quarrelsome people. [(See VV. 21:97-101) - The Qur'an.] (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:57, 58)

These argumentations embarked upon by the polytheists were all frivolous and they were quite aware of that for they were Arabs and even in their language it makes no sense. Thus, when Allah says: "Certainly! You (disbelievers) and that which you are worshipping now besides Allah, are (but) fuel for Hell! (Surely), you will enter it." (Soorah Al-Anbiya'

21:98) He meant what they use to worship of stones which they have fashioned into idols and it is not applicable to the angels which they thought they were worshipping in these forms; not the Christ, not 'Uzair or even any of the righteous men. This is because the Verse is not applicable to them whether in wording or meaning. They knew quite well that the similitude they tried to draw from 'Eesa Ibn Maryam is a futile argument just as Allah points out: "... They quoted not the above example except for argument. Nay! But they are a quarrelsome people." (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:58) and then He says: "He ('Eesa) was not more than a slave We granted Our Favor to him." (Soorah Al-Zukhruf 43:59) i.e. with Our prophethood. "...and We made him an example to the Children of Israel (i.e. his creation without a father)." (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:59) i.e. a proof of the perfection of Our Power over whatever We wish since We created him from a female without the intervention of a male. We had created Hawwa' from a male without a female intervention and We created Adam without the intervention of either sex and We created the rest of mankind through the intervention of a male and female as Allah mentions in other Verses: "And (We wish) to appoint him as a sign to mankind," (Soorah Maryam 19:21) i.e. a token and a proof of Our magnificent Power "...and a mercy from Us (Allah)," with which We treat whom We wish.

Ibn Ishaq mentioned about Al-Akhnas Ibn Shareeq and the revelation of the Verse of Allah, Most High, concerning him: "And obey not everyone who swears much, and is considered worthless." (Soorah AlQalam 68:10). He also mentioned Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah when he said: "Should the revelation come down to Muhammad excluding us, I am also the chief of the Quraish and its leader and also excluding Abu Mas'ood 'Amr Ibn 'Amr Ath-Thaqafi, the leader of Thaqeef, and we are the masters of the two cities. Then Allah revealed: "And they say: 'Why is not this Qur'an sent down to some great man of the two towns (Makkah and Ta'if)?" (Soorah Az-Zukhruf 43:31) and subsequent Verses.

He also mentioned Ubayy Ibn Khalaf when he said to 'Uqbah Ibn Abi Mu'ait: "Has it not reached me that you had audience with Muhammad and you listened to him? My face and yours have become forbidden and I shall not speak to you again if you sit with him or you give him audience except you spit in his face." And the enemy of Allah, 'Uqbah, did exactly that. May Allah's curse be on him! Then Allah revealed: "And (remember) the day when the Zalim (wrongdoer, oppressor, and polytheist, etc.) will bite at his hands, he will say: 'Oh! Would that I had taken a path with the Messenger (Muhammad). Ah! Woe to me! Would that I had never taken so-and-so as a friend!'" (Soorah Al-Furqan 25:27,28) and subsequent Verses.

He also related that Ubayy Ibn Khalaf once went to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, with a decomposed bone and he said: "O Muhammad! You claim that Allah will resurrect this after it has decomposed?" He then squeezed the bone in his hand and blew its dust in the direction of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Then Allah revealed: "And he puts forth for Us a parable, and forgets his own creation. He says: 'Who will give life to these bones when they have rotted away and became dust?' Say: (O Muhammad) 'He will give life to them Who created them for the first time! And He is the All-Knower of every creation!'" (Soorah Ya Seen 36:78,79) till the end of the Soorah.

While Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was circumambulating the Ka'bah, he was accosted by Al-Aswad Ibn Al-Muttalib, Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah, Umayyah Ibn Khalaf and Al-'Aas Ibn Wa'il all of them being the chiefs of their people. They said to him: "O Muhammad come; let's worship what you worship (for a while) and you also worship what we worship (for a while). We and you shall enter into partnership concerning the matter." Then Allah (SWT) revealed concerning them: "Say

(O Muhammad) to these Mushrikoon and Kafiroom): 'O Al-Kafiroom (disbelievers in Allah, in His Oneness, in His Angels, in His Books, in His Messengers, in the Day of Resurrection, and in Al-Qadar, etc.)! I worship not that which you worship'ah ...' (SoorAl-Kafiroom 109:1, 2) till the end of the Soorah.

When Abu Jahl heard of the tree of Zaqqoom he said in derision: "Do you know what Zaqqoom is? It is a type of date fruit beaten in butter. Come let's savor some Zaqqoom!" Then Allah revealed: "Verily, the tree of Zaqqoom will be the food of the sinners." (Soorah Ad-Dukhan 44:43, 44)

Al-Waleed once stopped to have audience with Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, spoke to him about Islam and he was hopeful of his conversion. Just then Ibn Umm Maktoom, Atikah Bint 'Abullah Ibn 'Ankathah, the blind, came and requested to be taught the Qur'an. His interruption became unbearable for the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that he annoyed him. This is because he was distracted from his discussion with Al-Waleed and the hope of his acceptance of Islam. When it was unbearable for him, Ibn Umm Maktoom went away downcast. Then Allah revealed: "(The Prophet) frowned and turned away, because there came to him the blind man (i.e. 'Abdullah Ibn Umm Maktoom, who came to the Prophet while he was preaching to one or some of the Quraish chiefs)." (Soorah 'Abasa 80:1,2) It is also said that the person with whom Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was discussing when Ibn Umm Maktoom came was Umayyah Ibn Khalaf. And Allah (SWT) knows best.

Ibn Ishaq also mentioned that those who returned from Hijrah to Abyssinia came after the news reached them that entire people of Makkah have accepted Islam. A false report, however, with an underlining reason, which is what is recorded in the Saheeh and others that Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was once sitting with the polytheists and Allah revealed to him: "By the star when it goes down, (or vanishes). Your Companion (Muhammad) has neither gone astray nor has erred" (Soorah An-Najm 53:1,2) and he recited it to them till the end and he prostrated and everyone present also prostrated among the Muslims, polytheists, Jinns and men. That is the sababun-Nuzool (reason for revelation) adduced by many scholars of Tafseer on the statement of Allah: "Never did We send a Messenger or a Prophet before you, but; when he did recite the revelation or narrated or spoke, Shaitan (Satan) threw (some falsehood) in it. But Allah abolishes that which Shaitan (Satan) throws in. Then Allah establishes His Revelations. And Allah is All-Knower, All-Wise." (Soorah Al-Hajj 22:52)

He also mentioned the story of Al-Gharaneeq. We had wished to avoid mentioning it lest no one who will accord it its rightful status hear it. Instead I relate only the story recorded in the Saheeh. Imam Al-Bukhari related from Ibn 'Abbas, who said: "The Prophet performed a prostration when he finished reciting Soorah An-Najm, and all the Muslims and pagans and Jinns and human beings prostration along with him."

However, when the bearers of the news saw the pagans prostrated just like Allah's Messenger (Peace and Blessings of Allah be upon him), they thought they had accepted Islam and reconciled with him and that there exist no more strife between them. The news flew swiftly and wide until it reached the emigrants in Abyssinia. Believing its authenticity, some of them returned with aspirations. However, some others remained and both groups were sincere and correct in their individual judgment.

Imam Al-Bukhari related from 'Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood who said: "We used to greet the Messenger of Allah while he was engaged in prayer and he would respond to our greeting. But when we returned from the Najashi we greeted him and he did not respond to us; so we said: "Messenger of Allah, we used to greet you when you were engaged in prayer and you would respond to us." He replied: "Prayer demands whole attention."

Ibn Ishaq said that among those who entered into a pact of protection with them, based on those who were mentioned to us, included 'Uthman Ibn Maz'oon who was under the protection of Al-Waleed, Abu Salamah Ibn Abdul-Asad was under the protection of his maternal uncle, Abu Talib, for his mother was Barrah Bint Abdul-Muttalib.

Salih Ibn Ibrahim Ibn 'Abdur Rahmaan Ibn 'Awf narrated to me what he was told about 'Uthman. He said: When 'Uthman Ibn Maz'oon observed what tribulation the Companions of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, were going through and his own relative ease and comfort which he was enjoying under the protection of Al-Waleed, he said: "By Allah, the ease and comfort that I enjoy under the protection of a man from among the pagans while my compatriots and co-religionists languish in tribulation and harm for the sake of Allah from which I am protected is a great minus for me." So he went to Al-Waleed and said to him: "O Abu 'Abd Shams, you have fulfilled your pact of protection. However, I am repudiating that pact with you." "Why, my nephew? Perhaps someone from my people has hurt you?" Al-Waleed asked. "No," 'Uthman responded, "I am rather pleased with the protection of Allah, the Majestic. I do not wish to enter into any security pact with anyone other than Him." Al-Waleed said: "Then proceed to the Ka'bah so that I may retract my protection of you in public just as we entered into it publicly."

So they both went out to the Ka'bah. Then Al-Waleed announced: "This is 'Uthman, he has come to repudiate my protection of him!" 'Uthman said: "Yes, he has spoken the truth. I have found him to be a noble protector. However, I have decided not to seek the protection of anyone other than that of Allah. So I have repudiated his protection of me.” Then ‘Uthman, May Allah be pleased with him, went away and came upon a gathering where Labeed Ibn Rabee‘ah Ibn Malik Ibn Ja‘afar Ibn Kilab was delivering a poetic rhyme. ‘Uthman sat with them. Labeed said (in a long rendition):

Everything besides Allah is null and void

‘Uthman interjected: “You have said the truth”

Labeed again said:

All comfort shall inevitably become transient

Again, ‘Uthman interjected: “You have lied, the comfort of Paradise is not transient.”

Labeed said: “O Quraish, nothing used to disturb your assembly, when did this commenced among you?!” A man from the audience said: “This is one of the foolish ones who have abandoned our religion so don’t be bothered by his statement.” ‘Uthman also responded to him until the altercation became heated between both of them. The man rose up to ‘Uthman and slapped him in the eye in such a way that it became bloodshot. Meanwhile, Al-Waleed was nearby watching what has befallen ‘Uthman, may Allah be pleased with him. He then said to him: “By Allah, O my nephew, what happened to your eye was avoidable. You were in a protective pact.” ‘Uthman, may Allah be pleased with him, responded: “By Allah, the other good eye would have craved for the fate that befell its twin eye in the cause of Allah. I am under the protection of the One Who is far Mightier and more Powerful than you are, O Abu ‘Abd Shams.” Al-Waleed again implored: “Come on, O my nephew, restore your pact of protection (with me).” “No!” ‘Uthman said emphatically.

Ibn Ishaq said: Concerning Abu Salamah Ibn Abdul-Asad, Abu Ishaq Ibn Yasar narrated to me from Salamah Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar Ibn Abu Salamah that he informed him that when Abu Salamah entered into a protective understanding with his uncle, Abu Talib, a number of men from Banu Makhzoom went to Abu Talib and said: “O Abu Talib, you protect from us, your nephew, Muhammad, how come you are also protecting our own man from us?” Abu Talib replied: “He has sought my protection and he is my sister’s son and if I unable to protect my sister’s son I should not be able to protect my brother’s son.” Abu Lahab got up angrily and said: “You have been too lenient with this old man! Will you not cease to dote on this man while he persists in the protection of his people? You will desist otherwise we shall stand up against him wherever he goes until the matter reaches the point of his desire.”

A Mention of (Abu Bakr) As-Siddiq’s Resolve to Migrate to Abyssinia

Ibn Ishaq said that from what was narrated to me by Muhammad Ibn Muslim Az-Zuhri from ‘Urwah from ‘A’ishah is that when Makkah became constricted for Abu Bakr As-Siddiq and he suffered harm as well as the relentless harassment on Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, he sought the permission of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to migrate to Abyssinia and he permitted him. Abu Bakr set out on his Hijrah to Abyssinia. After a journey of a day or two from Makkah he met Ibn Ad-Daghinah the brother of Banu Al-Harith Ibn Bakr Ibn ‘Abd Manat Ibn Kinanah and at that time he was the chief of the Al-Ahabish. “Where are you going, O Abu Bakr?” he asked. “My people have forced me out. They have harmed me and made life straightened for me.” Abu Bakr replied. Ibn Daghinah said: “For what reason?! By Allah you have been graceful to kinsfolk and you have done so much good and you have provided for those in want. Return for you shall henceforth be under my protection.” Then Abu Bakr returned with him until they entered Makkah. Ibn Daghinah stood up with Abu Bakr and said: “O Quraish! I have protected Ibn Abi Quhafah so no one should accost him except for good.” So the pagans backed off from him.

‘A’ishah continued: “Abu Bakr (May Allah be pleased with him) had a mosque by the doorstep of his house in Bani Jum‘ah where he usually prayed. He was an emotional person, so anytime he recited the Qur’an he would weep. Children, slaves and women would gather round him in utter amazement concerning what they are seeing of his mien. Some Quraish men went to Ibn Daghinah and said to him: “O Ibn Daghinah, won’t you stop this man from disturbing us. He is an emotional man, whenever he prays and recites what Muhammad has come with, he would weep and he has such a mien which we fear could be a source of trial for our children, women and the weak among us. So approach him and order him to enter his house and do whatever he likes therein.”

‘A’ishah continued: Ibn Daghinah went to Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, and said: “O Abu Bakr, I did not offer you protection so that you disturb your people. They have objected to your praying at your current location. So enter your house and do whatever you wish therein.” Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, replied: “Perhaps I should repudiate your protection of me and prefer the protection of Allah instead?” Ibn Daghinah said: “Then do so!” Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, said: “I have repudiated it.” Then Ibn Daghinah stood and announced: “O Quraish! Ibn Abi Quhafah has repudiated my protection of him so you may do as you wish with your companion.”

The Mentioning of the Annulment of the Pact of Boycott

Ibn Ishaq said that the Banu Hashim and Banu ‘Abdul-Muttalib still remained in their valley excommunicated by a pact which they had written on a parchment with the Quraish. Then a number of Quraish men rose with the intention of nullifying the pact of the boycott. The first person to make a successful attempt was Hisham Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Rabee‘ah Al-Harith Ibn Hubayyib Ibn Nasr Ibn Jadhimah Ibn Malik Ibn Hisl Ibn ‘Amir Ibn Lu‘ayy who was very upset at the plight of his relatives. This is because he was a cousin of Nadlah Ibn Hashim Ibn ‘Abd Manaf from the mother’s side. Thus, Hisham shared some connection with the Banu Hashim. He was a noble person among his people, and according to what has reached me, while Banu Hashim and Banu ‘Abdul-Muttalib were in their valley, he would come with a camel load of food. At the mouth of the valley, he would loosen the rein of the animal from its head and then he would goad it from its side until the animal entered the valley so that the Banu Hashim and Banu ‘Abdul-Muttalib might find it and eat the food. Again, he would come with a camel laden with wheat and he would behave in a similar manner as before.

Then he went to Zuhair Ibn Abi Umayyah Ibn Al-Mugheerah Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Makhzoom whose mother was Atikah Bint ‘Abdul-Muttalib. He said: “O Zuhair, are you pleased that you eat food comfortably, adorn yourself with cloth and sleep with women while your maternal uncles are, as you have well-known, neither able to buy nor anyone buying from them; and neither are they being married nor are they being married to?”

"As for me, I swear by Allah, if it was the maternal uncles of Al-Hakam Ibn Hisham (i.e. Abu Jahl) that were involved, and you invited him to the cause which he had invited you against your own maternal uncles, he would never have responded to you.” He said: “Woe be unto you, O Hisham! What could I do? I am just a single person. By Allah, if I had one other person with me (in that cause) I will rise for the nullification of that boycott.” Zuhair said: “You have found that other person.” “And who is that?” Hisham asked. “Myself,” Zuhair said and he added: “Find a third person for us.”

So he went to Al-Mut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy’ and said to him: “Are you pleased that your fellow tribesmen from Banu ‘Abd Manaf are exterminated while you are a witness over that consenting with the Quraish on that?! By Allah, if you allow them to do that, you will find them quicker to do the same to you!” He replied: “Woe be to you! What can I do? I am just a lone person!” He said: “I have found a second person for you.” “Who is that?” Al-Mut‘im asked. “Myself,” he answered. “Let’s search for the third person.” Al-Mut‘im said. “I have done that,” he replied. “And who is that?” Al-Mut‘im asked. “Zuhair Ibn Abi Umayyah,” he replied. “Then let’s search for the fourth.” He went to Abul-Bakhtari Ibn Hisham and said something similar to what he said to Al-Mut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy’. He replied: “Do you have anyone to lend support on that?” He replied in affirmative. “Who is that?” he asked. “Zuhair Ibn Abi Umayyah, AlMut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy’ and I am also with you.” He said. “Find a fifth person for us.”

He went to Zam‘ah Ibn Al-Aswad Ibn Al-Muttalib Ibn Asad and spoke to him mentioning their blood relation. Zam‘ah asked, “Is there any helper on this cause?” “Yes,” and he named the others. In the night, they climbed the mountain of Khatm Al-Hajoom, at the upper part of Makkah where they assembled and pledged to do their best to destroy the parchment. Zuhair volunteered to make the first move.

So the next morning when the clans have gathered in their various meeting places, Zuhair arrived at the Ka‘bah, circumambulated it, and then turned to the people and shouted: “O People of Makkah! Shall we eat food and wear clothes while Banu Hisham are left to perish, and no one buying from them or selling to them? By Allah, I shall not sit down until that unjust pact is destroyed!” Abu Jahl said, “You are a liar! By Allah, it will not be destroyed!” Zam‘ah interjected, “It is you who is a liar. By Allah, we have not been pleased with it since it was written!” Abul-Bakhtari also said: “By Allah, Zam‘ah is telling the truth. We are not pleased with what is written in it.” Al-Mut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy’ also lent his voice: “You are both right and anybody who says otherwise is a liar.” Hisham Ibn ‘Amr also said something similar. Then Abu Jahl said: “This conspiracy was hatched last night!” Meanwhile, Abu Talib was at a section of the Mosque nearby watching the proceedings.

Al-Mut‘im moved toward the parchment to tear it up, but found that the worms had already eaten it except the words: “In Your Name, O Allah.” The person who wrote the pact was Mansoor Ibn ‘Ikrimah and his hand had become paralyzed as they claimed.

Ibn Hisham said some people of knowledge said that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, once said to Abu Talib: “O my uncle! Allah has sent worms to ravage the parchment of the Quraish and they left untouched any name belonging to Allah while they ate out all words indicative of injustice, breaking ties (of kinship) and calumny.” Abu Talib asked, “Did your Lord inform you of this?” “Yes,” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, replied. “By Allah, no one shall enter upon you.” Then he went out to the Quraish and said to them: “O people of Quraish! My nephew has informed me that such-and-such has happened to your parchment. Go and fetch your parchment. If it is as he has said, then cease from excommunicating us and stand down from it. If he is proved to be false, I shall surrender my nephew to you.” The Quraish said: “We are pleased with that (arrangement).” When they looked into the parchment, they found it as Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had related. However, that rather enhanced their enmity. Consequently, a group of men from the Quraish did what they did in nullifying the pact.

I say: In the same year, after their return, Abu Talib died and then his Khadeejah Bint Khuwailid soon afterward. May Allah be pleased with her. Details of that will be narrated shortly insha'Allah.

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq, Allah have Mercy on him, after the cancellation of the boycott pact, narrated many stories involving the enmity of the Quraish against the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and their scaring away of Arabs who have arrived in Makkah for Hajj and 'Umrah or some other purposes. The stories also include the miracles that Allah performed at the hands of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, a pointer to his truthfulness concerning what he has brought to them of clear proof, correct guidance and a refutation of what they have charged him of transgression, enmity, deceit and chicanery. They also accused him of insanity, magic, sorcery and fabrication of lies. And Allah has full Power and Control over His Affairs. He also mentioned the story of At-Tufail Ibn 'Amr Ad-Dawsi who was a leader that is obeyed and a nobleman of the tribe of Daws.

Imam Ahmad related from Abu Hurairah, who said: "When At-Tufail and his companions came to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, he said: 'the tribe of Daws has disbelieved and has belied you, ' whereupon he (Allah's Messenger (peace and blessing of Allah be upon him)) said: 'O Allah guide aright the tribe of Daws and direct them to me'."

Imam Ahmad related on the authority of Jabir that Tufail, son of 'Amr Ad-Dawsi, came to the Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and said: “Do you need strong, fortified protection? The tribe of Daws had a fort in the pre-Islamic days.” The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, declined this offer, since it (the privilege of protecting the Holy Prophet) had already been reserved for the Ansar. When the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, migrated to Madinah, Tufail Ibn ‘Amr also migrated to that place, and there also migrated along with him a man of his tribe. But the climate of Madinah did not suit him, and he fell sick. He felt very uneasy. So he took hold of the iron head of an arrow and cut his finger joints. The blood gushed forth from his hands, till he died. Tufail Ibn ‘Amr saw him in a dream. His state was good and he saw him with his hands wrapped. He (Tufail) said to him: “What treatment did your Lord accord to you?” He replied. “Allah granted me pardon for my migration to the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him.” He (Tufail) again said: “Why do I see you wrapping up your hands?” He replied: “I was told (by Allah): ‘We would not set right anything of yours which you damaged yourself.’” Tufail narrated this (dream) to the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Upon this he prayed: “O Allah! Grant pardon even to his hands.”

If it is said how do we reconcile between this Hadith and what is established in the Saheehain from the path of Al-Hasan Ibn Jundab who narrated that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “Amongst the nations before you there was a man who got a wound, and growing impatient (with its pain), he took a knife and cut his hand with it and the blood did not stop till he died. Allah said, ‘My Slave hurriedly brought death upon himself so I have forbidden him (to enter) Paradise’.”

Response to this is multifaceted: It could be that it is because one was a non-Muslim while the other was a Muslim. It is possible that his suicide action is independent of his admittance into Hellfire, rather, it was his polytheism and Allah merely mentioned his suicide so that his people might take lesson from it.

It is possible that one was knowledgeable of the prohibition of suicide while the other was ignorant of it due to his accepting Islam recently.

It is possible that one did it due to his permitting what Allah has prohibited while the other did not permit it but did it in error.

It is possible that one did it with a clear intention of suicide but the other may not have intended suicide when he did what he did.

It is possible that one has a paucity of righteous deeds so his few righteous deeds were insufficient to cancel his great sin. Meanwhile, the other person had many righteous deeds which saved him from entering the Fire and consequently Allah forgave him because of his migration to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. However, a blemish remained only on his hand and his remaining condition was good. Thus that blemish was covered for him. When At-Tufail Ibn 'Amr saw it covered, he asked him: "what happened to you?!" and he said: "It was said to me: 'We would not set right anything of yours which you damaged yourself.' When At-Tufail narrated his dream to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, he prayed for him saying: "O Allah! Grant pardon even to his hands." i.e. correct what has been damaged from him. It is undoubted that Allah accepted the supplication of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, for the companion of At-Tufail Ibn Amr.

The Story of ‘A’sha Banu Qais Ibn Tha‘labah

Ibn Hisham said: ‘A’sha Banu Qais Ibn Tha‘labah Ibn ‘Ukahah Ibn Sa’b Ibn Ali Ibn Bakr Ibn Wa’il went to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, with the intention of accepting Islam.

Ibn Hisham said: When he got to Makkah or nearby, some of the pagans of Quraish accosted him and they asked him about his affairs and he informed them that he came to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to accept Islam. They said to him: “O Abu Baseer, he forbids adultery” Al-‘A’sha responded: “By Allah, that is exactly the issue I desire from him.” Again they said: “O Abu Baseer, he also forbids intoxicant.” Al-‘A’sha replied: “concerning that, by Allah, I have never considered intoxicant a necessity. I am abandoning it this year.” Then he came to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and accepted Islam. He went away and died the same year and he never returned to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. This is how Ibn Hisham has related the story here and he criticizes Muhammad Ibn Ishaq a lot, may Allah be pleased with him. This is one of the places where Ibn Hisham, may Allah have Mercy on him, has criticized him because intoxication was prohibited in Madinah after the incident of Banu Nadeer as shall be explained shortly. The decision of Al-‘A’sha to proceed to accept Islam occurred after the Hijrah and his poem is indicative of that when he said:

O you asking me to where I am headed

With the people of Yathrib I have a date

The proper flow according to Ibn Hisham is to delay the mentioning of the story till after the Hijrah rather than mentioning it here now. And Allah (SWT) knows best.

The Story of the Wrestling of Rukanah and How He Sees the Tree Which the Prophet Called and It Returned

Ibn Ishaq said: Abu Ishaq Ibn Yasar narrated to me that Rukanah Ibn Abd Yazeed Ibn Hashim Ibn AlMuttalib Ibn ‘Abd Manaf was the strongest man of the Quraish. One day, he met Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in one of the pathways of Makkah and the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to him: “O Rukanah, shouldn’t you fear Allah and accept what I am inviting you to?” He replied, “If I knew that what you are saying is the truth, I would have followed you.” Then Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to him: “If I am able to beat you in a wrestling match would you believe that what I am saying is the truth?” “Yes,” Rukanah said confidently. “Okay, stand up for a duel.”

Rukanah rose to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and they had a wrestling bout. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, felled him helplessly. He said: “Let’s do it again, O Muhammad.” Then they had another round and again, the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, threw him down. He said: “O Muhammad, this is surprising! You threw me?!” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “There is something more astonishing than that. I will show you if you would fear Allah (SWT) and obey my orders.” “What is that?” Rukanah asked. “I will call, for you, this tree you are seeing and it will come to me.” Then Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, called the tree and then it approached until it stood in front of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and he said to it: “Return to your position.” Then the tree returned to its position.

He continued: Then Rukanah went to his people and said: “O Banu ‘Abd Manaf, by Allah, I have never seen a person having a greater knowledge of magic than him (Muhammad).” Then he narrated to them what he had seen and what he (the Prophet) had done. This is how Ibn Ishaq has related this story in a mursal form with this wording. Abu Dawood and At-Tirmidhi have reported from the Hadith of AbulHasan Al-Asqalani from Abu Ja’afar Ibn Muhammad Ibn Rukanah from his father that Rukanah wrestled with the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, threw him down. Then Imam At-Tirmidhi said: “That Hadith is ghareeb (strange). We do not know Abu Al-Hasan or Ibn Rukanah.”

I say: Abu Bakr ash-Shafi’i has narrated with a good chain from Ibn ‘Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, that Yazeed Ibn Rukanah wrestled with the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and the Prophet threw him down thrice, each time upon a bet of one hundred goats. Upon throwing him down the third time, he said: “O Muhammad, no one had ever pinned my back to the ground before you and no one had been more hateful to me than you; now. I bear witness that none deserves to be worshipped (in Truth) but Allah and that you are a Messenger of Allah.” The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, stood up from him and returned his goats.

Ibn Ishaq said: Whenever Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sat at the Ka’bah, some of the weak ones from his Companions – Khabbab, ‘Ammar, Abu Fukaihah, Yasar the freed slave of Safwan Ibn Umayyah, Suhaib and some others among the Muslims, may Allah be pleased with them, would sit with him, and the Quraish would poke fun at them. They would say to one another, “As you have seen, these are his Companions. Are they the ones, of all of us, upon whom Allah has bestowed the favor of guidance and true religion? If what Muhammad came with is of any good, none would have preceded us to it and Allah would not have preferred them above us for it.” Then Allah revealed concerning them: “And turn not away those who invoke their Lord, morning and afternoon seeking His Face. You are accountable for them in nothing, and they are accountable for you in nothing, that you may turn them away, and thus become of the Zalimun (unjust). Thus We have tried some of them with others, that they might say: 'Is it these (poor Believers) that Allah has favored from among us?' Does not Allah know best those who are grateful? When those who believe in Our Ayat (proofs, evidences, Verses, lessons, Signs and revelations, etc.) come to you, say: 'Salamun ‘Alaikum' (peace be on you); your Lord has written Mercy for Himself, so that, if any of you does evil in ignorance, and thereafter repents and does righteous good deeds (by obeying Allah), then surely, He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful." (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:52-54)

He continued: Most of the times, Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, would sit at the Marwah hillock by the sales point of a Christian boy called, Jabr, a slave of the Banu Al-Hadrami. The Quraish would say: “By Allah, no one taught Muhammad much of what he came with except Jabr. Thus, Allah revealed concerning their insinuations: “And indeed We know that they (polytheists and pagans) say: 'It is only a human being who teaches him (Muhammad).' The tongue of the man they refer to is foreign, while this (the Qur’an) is a clear Arabic tongue.” (Soorah An-Nahl 16:103)

Then he mentioned the revelation of Soorah Al-Kawthar concerning ‘Aas Ibn Wa’il when he said regarding the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that he is "Abtar" i.e. bereft of a successor such that when he dies, remembrance of him will also cease. Thus Allah says: “For he who makes you angry (O Muhammad), - he will be cut off (from every good thing in this world and in the Hereafter).” (Soorah Al-Kawthar 108:3) i.e. his remembrance will be cut after him even if he is succeeded by large offsprings and descendants. Good reputation and truthful tongue (in praise) is not a function of large children, progenies and successors. We have spoken about this Soorah in the Tafseer; to Allah belongs all praise.

Thereafter, he mentioned the revelation of the statement: “And they say: 'Why has not an angel been sent down to him?' Had We sent down an angel, the matter would have been judged at once.” (Soorah Al-An‘am 6:8) This is as a result of the statement of Ubayy Ibn Khalaf, Zam‘ah Ibn Al-Aswad, Al-‘Aas Ibn Wa’il and An-Nadr Ibn Al-Harith; that "why has not an angel been sent down to you speaking on your behalf?"

Ibn Ishaq said: According the report reaching us, Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, once met Al-Waleed, Umayyah Ibn Khalaf and Abu Jahl. They incited and made fun of him. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was infuriated and Allah revealed: “And indeed (many) Messengers were mocked before you, but their scoffers were surrounded by the very thing that they used to mock at.” (Soorah Al-An‘am 6: 10)

I say: Allah says: “Verily, (many) Messengers were rejected before you (O Muhammad), but with patience they bore the rejection, and they were hurt, till Our Help reached them, and none can alter the Words (Decisions) of Allah. Surely there has reached you the information (news) about the Messengers (before you).” (Soorah Al-An‘am 6: 34)

Allah, Most High, also says: “Truly! We will suffice you against the scoffers.” (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:95)

Ibn Ishaq said: The chiefs of the mockers were five, as narrated to me by Yazeed Ibn Rooman from ‘Urwah Ibn Az-Zubair. They were elderly and noble men of their people.

They were: Al-Aswad Ibn AlMuttalib, Abu Zam‘ah whom Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, cursed thus, “O Allah! Take his sight and try him with his child.” Others were Al-Aswad Ibn ‘Abd Yaghooth, AlWaleed, Al-‘Aas Ibn Wa’il and Al-Harith Ibn At-Tulatilah. He also related that Allah revealed this Verse concerning them: “Therefore proclaim openly (Allah’s Message Islamic Monotheism) that which you are commanded, and turn away from Al-Mushrikoon (polytheists, idolaters, and disbelievers, etc.). Truly! We will suffice you against the scoffers. Who set up along with Allah another ilah (god), they will come to know.” (Soorah Al-Hijr 15:94-96)

At this point, Imam Al-Baihaqi mentioned the curse of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, on the Quraish when they defied him that they should be afflicted with seven years of famine and starvation similar to that of Yoosuf. Then he cited what is related by the Sheikhaain in the Saheehain from Ibn Mas‘ood. He said: “Five (great events) have passed: the constant Punishment, the (victory of the) Romans, the (Enveloping) by the Smoke, the Mighty grasp and the splitting of the moon.”

In another narration from Ibn Mas‘ood, he said: When the Quraish became defiant of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, and they tarried in their acceptance of Islam, he said: “O Allah, afflict them with seven years of famine similar to that of Yoosuf.” Then they were afflicted with famine for a year until everything became desolate till they ate carcass until they would see something like smoke between the sky and the Earth (because of severe hunger). Then he prayed and Allah relieved them of it. Then ‘Abdullah recited this Verse: “Verily, We shall remove the torment for a while. Verily! You will revert.” (Soorah Ad-Dukhan 44:15) Thereafter, they reverted and disbelieved and it (the punishment) was delayed for them till the Day of Resurrection or they said: the Battle of Badr. It is also related through ‘Abdur-Razzaq from Ma‘mar from Ayyoob from ‘Ikrimah from Ibn ‘Abbas who said: “Abu Sufyan came to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, to seek his assistance due to severe hunger for they had found nothing (to eat) until they ate dyed wool.”

Then Allah revealed: “And indeed We seized them with punishment, but they humbled not themselves to their Lord, nor did they invoke (Allah) with submission to Him.” (Soorah Al-Mu’minoon 23:76) (He continued:) “Then Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, supplicated until Allah relieved them.”

Then, Al-Baihaqi cited the story of Persia and the Romans and the revelation of the statement of Allah: “Alif-Lam-Mim. [These letters are one of the miracles of the Qur’an, and none but Allah (Alone) knows their meanings]. The Romans have been defeated. In the nearer land (Syria, Iraq, Jordan, and Palestine), and they, after their defeat, will be victorious. Within three to nine years. The decision of the matter, before and after (these events) is only with Allah, (before the defeat of Romans by the Persians, and after, i.e. the defeat of the Persians by the Romans). And on that Day, the believers (i.e. Muslims) will rejoice (at the victory given by Allah to the Romans against the Persians), With the help of Allah, He helps whom He wills, and He is the Almighty, the Most Merciful.” (Soorah Ar-Room 30:1-5)

Then it is also narrated from Ibn ‘Abbas that he said: The Muslims desired that the Romans should vanquish the Persians for they were the People of the Book while the pagans desired that the Persians vanquish the Romans for they were idol worshippers (like them). The Muslims mentioned this to Abu Bakr who, in turn, mentioned it to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. The Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, said: “They (the Romans) shall certainly be victorious.” Abu Bakr mentioned that to the pagans and they said: “Let there be a (bet for a) period (of time) between us and you, if they (the Romans) win, such and such shall be yours and if we are victorious, such and such shall be ours.” Abu Bakr mentioned that too to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, and he said: “Why don’t you make it less than ten years?” He said: In less than ten years, the Romans were eventually victorious thereafter.

The Journey by Night of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, from Makkah to Jerusalem and then his ascension there from to the heavens

Abu Bakr Ibn Abi Shaibah related from ‘Uthman from Sa‘eed Ibn Meena from Jabir and Ibn ‘Abbas both of whom said: Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, was born in the year of the elephant on Tuesday, 12th day of Rabee‘ ul- Awwal. He was raised a Prophet in Rabee‘ ul- Awwal, in the same month, he was taken to the heaven same month, he died in the same month, migrated same month, died same month and in the same revelation ceased. This is the preference of Al-Hafiz Abdul-Ghani Ibn Suroor Al-Maqdisi in his Seerah. He cited a Hadith with inauthentic chain of narrations which we mentioned in "the virtues of the month of Rabee‘ ul-Awwal" that Al-Isra Wal-Mi‘raj occurred in the 27th night of Rajab. And Allah knows best. There are those who claim that Al-Isra occurred in the first night of Jumu‘ah in the month of Rajab. It is the night of Ragha’ib in which the popular Salat is established; however, there is no basis for that. And Allah knows best.

We have mentioned the Ahadeeth cited concerning that during the study of the statement of Allah: Glorified (and Exalted) be He (Allah) [above all that (evil) they associate with Him]. Who took His slave (Muhammad) for a journey by night from Al-Masjid-Al-Haram (at Makkah) to the farthest mosque (in Jerusalem), the neighborhood whereof We have blessed, in order that We might show him (Muhammad) of Our Ayat (proofs, evidences, lessons, signs, etc.). Verily, He is the All-Hearer, the All-Seer. (Soorah Al-Isra 17:1)

We shall mention briefly what Ibn Ishaq said, Allah have Mercy on him. He said, after all he mentioned in the previous sections: "Then Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, was taken by night from Al-Masjid Al-Haram to the Masjid Al-Aqsa at Bait Al-Maqdis in Jeruasalem. The news of Islam had spread among the Quraish in Makkah and all the tribes. (He continued), from what has reached me about his journey was related from Ibn Mas'ood, Abu Sa'eed, 'A'ishah, Mu'awiyah, Umm Hani Bint Abu Talib, Allah be pleased with them all; and Al-Hasan Ibn Abul-Hasan, Ibn Shihab Az-Zuhri, Qatadah and others from among the people of knowledge all of them narrating from him some of what I have been informed of about him.

His journey and what has been related to me about it, of some tests and tribulations, some of the commands of Allah, (the Greatness of His) Power and His Authority and a lesson for the men of understanding. He was taken by night in manner that Allah wished and in a manner that He chose to let him see what He wished from some of His Signs in such a way that he made him view some of the ordainments of Allah, His Magnificent Authority and His Power with which He does whatever He wills. Abdullah Ibn Mas'ood, from what reached me, said: "Al-Buraq, was brought for Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him. Al-Buraq is an animal on which the Messengers of Allah rode. Each stride of the animal reaches the furthest point of its sight. The Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, was carried on it and set out along with his companion to see some of the signs between the heaven and the Earth until they got to Bait Al-

Maqdis. There, he found Ibrahim, Moosa and 'Eesa among a group of Prophets that have gathered to welcome him. He led them in Salat and then he was brought three vessels each containing milk, an intoxicant and water. It was mentioned that the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, drank from the vessel of water and Jibraeel said to him: "You were guided and your nation will also be guided."

Ibn Ishaq related, from the information that reached him from Umm Hani that she said: "The Messenger of Allah was not taken by night (Isra) from anywhere other than my house. He slept in my house that night after he had offered the late night prayer (Isha'). When it neared the time of Fajr (daybreak), he woke us. When he rose, he offered the morning (Subh) prayers and we offered it with him then he said: "O Umm Hani'! I had prayed the late night prayer (Isha') with you in this valley then I was taken to Bait Al-Maqdis and I prayed there and now I just offered the morning prayer with you as you have observed." Then he stood up to leave, I held the edge of his cloth and I said: "O Prophet of Allah, do not narrate this to people so that they may not belie you and insult you." He said: "By Allah, I am going to narrate it to them." So he informed them and they belied him. He said to them: "The proof of that is that I met the caravan of such-and- such clan in such-and-such valley. I startled them and a camel bolted away and I directed them to it while I was on my way to Ash-Sham. Then I returned until I reached Dajnan (a mountain located in the direction of Tihamah), I met the caravan of such- and-such clan and I found the people in it asleep. There was a vessel containing water which they covered with something. I lifted the lid of the container and drank its content and I replaced the cover as it was. The evidence of that is that their caravan is descending right now from the mountain path of Tan'eem at its vanguard is an ash-colored camel. On its back are two wooden containers, one of them black in color and the other a mixture of white and black color." The people hastened toward the mountain pass and the camel that they first met was not the one described to them. They asked them about the water container and the camel and they were informed about them just as Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, had told them.

Ibn Ishaq said: It is narrated to me that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: I heard Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, say: "When I finished with what transpired at Bait Al-Maqdis, I was taken on Mi'raj (ascension to the heaven) and I did not see anything more beautiful. This is the same place to which your dead soar at the point of death. My companion raised me onto it until we ended up at one of the gates of heaven called 'Bab ul-Hafazah' under the charge of an angel called Isma'eel. Under him are twelve thousand angels and under each of those twelve thousand angels were another twelve thousand angels.

He continued: Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, would say when he narrates this Hadith: "And none can know the hosts of your Lord but He." (Soorah Al-Muddaththir 74:31) Then he related the remainder of the Hadith completely which is an extremely long one with his chain of narrations and wordings in his Tafseer. We discussed it at length for it is one of the ghareeb (strange) Ahadeeth and there is a weakness in its chain of narrations. This is also same in the Hadith of Umm Hani. The well-established version is the one in the Saheehain from the narration of Shareek Ibn 'Abdullah Ibn Abi Namir from Anas that the Night Journey was from the Masjid Al-Haram at the Hijr (Isma'eel). There are some oddities in its wordings from some angles. From the strangeness in this report is his statement: "That (the journey) took place before revelation was sent to him." The response is that the first time they came was before revelation was sent to him and in that night nothing really happened. Then the angels came once again on another night and he said nothing concerning that. That was prior to the revelation (of the Qur'an) to him. Rather, he came to him after revelation had commenced. The Isra occurred either a little after (the commencement of) Inspiration as claimed by some or much after with about ten years as claimed by others and this is the most popular view. The washing of his chest that night before the Isra was the second or third, according to an opinion. This is because his attention is required at the sublime company and the presence of Allah. Then he rode Al-Buraq as a measure of elevation, esteem and honor for him. When he got to Bait Al-Maqdis he tethered it to a loop which previous Prophets had also tethered it.

Then he entered the Bait Al-Maqdis and offered Salat in its Qiblah as (tahiyyah) greeting for mosque. Hudhaifah, Allah be pleased with him, objects to (the report) that he entered Bait Al-Maqdis and the tethering of the animal and his Salat therein, saying that this is odd and an affirming evidence is preferred over a negating one.

They also disagree on the timing of his congregating with the Prophets and his leading them in prayer whether that occurred before his ascension to the heaven as pointed out by all that came before or after his descension from the heaven as indicated by some of the versions which appears to be a more logical transition as we shall mention shortly. Two opinions can be gleaned on this. And Allah knows best.

When he concluded the affairs of the Bait Al-Maqdis, a stairway was set up for him. He climbed it till he reached the heavens. The ascension was not on the Buraq as mistakenly supposed by some people. Rather, Al-Buraq had been tethered at the entrance of the Mosque of Bait Al-Maqdis so that he may ride it on his return journey back to Makkah.

He climbed from one heaven to another in his ascension until he passed the fourth. Each time he got to a heaven, he met its companions and those residing there among the senior angels and Prophets. He mentioned the specific Prophets he met such as Adam in the heaven closest to the Earth; Yahya and ‘Eesa in the second heaven; Idrees in the fourth; Moosa in the sixth based on what is more authentic; he met Ibrahim in the seventh heaven reclining his back against Bait Al-Ma‘mur in which 70,000 angels enter everyday to offer Salat and circumambulate in the worship (of Allah). Each 70,000 will not return to it until the Day of Resurrection. He passed by the rank-and-file of the angels until he got to a level where he heard the sound of pens, writing. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, was raised to the Sidrat Al-Muntaha which is a tree, the size of its leave measuring the ear of an elephant and the dimension of its Nabk fruit is like that of the clay jugs of Hajar (i.e. a town in Arabia). It is shrouded in resplendent and magnificent colors. The angels climb it like crows owing to their numbers. Its floor is of gold and it is enveloped in the radiance of Allah’s Light. He saw there Jibraeel, peace be upon him, with 600 wings and the distance between two of his wings is like the distance between the heaven and the Earth.

This is what Allah mentioned (in the Qur’an): “And indeed he (Muhammad) saw him (Jibraeel) at a second descent (i.e. another time). Near Sidrat ul-Muntaha [lote-tree of the utmost boundary (beyond which none can pass)]. Near it is the Paradise of Abode. When that covered the lote-tree which did cover it! The sight (of Prophet Muhammad) turned not aside (right or left), nor it transgressed beyond (the) limit (ordained for it). Indeed he (Muhammad) did see, of the Greatest Signs, of his Lord (Allah).” (Soorah AnNajm 53:13-17)

That is, he neither turned right nor left and he did not raise his gaze beyond the limit set for him. This is a great approval for him and a noble manner. This marks the second time he would see Jibraeel in the actual form in which Allah has created him as reported by Ibn Mas‘ood, Abu Hurairah, Abu Dharr and ‘A’ishah. Allah be pleased with them all.

The first time is indicated by the statement of Allah: “He has been taught (this Qur’an) by one mighty in power (Jibraeel). Dhu Mirrah (free from any defect in body and mind), Fastawa [then he (Jibraeel) rose and became stable]. While he (Jibraeel) was in the highest part of the horizon, Then he (Jibraeel) approached and came closer, And was at a distance of two bows’ length or (even) nearer, So did (Allah) convey the Inspiration to His slave (Muhammad through Jibraeel).” (Soorah An-Najm [53]:5-10)

That was when he saw him on the horizon when Jibraeel approached Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, in his gargantuan creation spanning the space between the heaven and the Earth. He came close to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, till the distance between them was no more than the span of two bows or even closer. This is the more authentic tafseer as indicated by the words of senior Companions whose names had been mentioned previously. May Allah be pleased with them all.

However, concerning the statement of Shareek reported from Anas on the Hadith of Al-Isra: “then the Omnipotent Lord of Honor came close and was at a distance of two bows’ length or (even) nearer,” it is possible that this is the understanding of the narrator and he interpolated it into the Hadith. And Allah knows best. Even though it is preserved yet it is not the tafseer of the Verse; rather it is something else not indicated by the Verse. And Allah (SWT) knows best.

That night, Allah (SWT) made obligatory on His servant, Muhammad, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, and on his Ummah, Salawat (prayers) to be offered 50 times every day and night. Then he did not cease going back and forth between Moosa and Allah, the Lord Almighty, until Allah reduced them to five; to Him belong gratitude and grace. And

He (Allah) said: “It is five (but they shall equal) fifty (in reward). Good deeds are multiplied ten fold.”

That night, he also obtained the honor of being spoken to directly by Allah Almighty. The Imams of Sunnah are categorical concerning that. However, they disagree on the sighting (of Allah). Did Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, see his Lord on the night of ascension? Some of them said he saw Him with his heart twice. This is the opinion of Ibn ‘Abbas and a group (of scholars). Ibn ‘Abbas and others were categorical about the seeing of the Almighty. Among those who were also categorical about the Prophet’s seeing of Allah were Abu Hurairah, Ahmad Ibn Hambal, may Allah be pleased with both of them. There are those who declare that the seeing was with the two eyes. This is the preferred opinion of Ibn Jareer and he went to the extreme in it. Others also followed him among the later scholars. From those recorded to hold the opinion of seeing with the physical eyes was Sheikh AbulHasan Al-Ash‘ari from what was related from him by As-Suhaili. This is also the preferred opinion of Shaikh Abu Zakariyya An-Nawawi in his fatawa.

Another group argues that that (i.e. the physical seeing) did not happen based on the Hadith of Abu Dharr in Saheeh Muslim: “I asked the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him: ‘Did you see your Lord?’ He said: ‘He is a Light, how could I see Him?’” In yet another version: “I saw Light.”

They argued further: It is not a seeing with the mortal eyes. This is why Allah said to Moosa, according to what is related in some Divine books: “O Moosa, no living person shall see Me except that he dies and no dry thing except that it is pulverized.” The divergence (of opinion) on this matter is well-known among the predecessors and the successors. And Allah knows best.

Thereafter, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, descended to Bait Al-Maqdis. A popular view is that the Prophets descended with him on his return from the presence of Allah as a mark of honor and esteem as is customary of delegates. He did not meet any one of them before his invitation to the heaven. That is why whenever he met any one of the Prophets, Jibraeel would say to him when that person approached to offer Salam (greeting): "This is so-and-so, say Salam to him." If he had met them prior to his ascension, there would have been no need for introducing them to him the second time. From what is indicative of that is his statement that: "When it was time for prayers, I led them."

He witnessed that night, scenes from the Signs of Allah, that if someone other than him were to see a part of it, he would wake up dazed or in a giddy mental state. However, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, woke up in a calm state fearful that if he informed his people about what he saw, they would hasten to call him a liar. Cautiously, he first told them that he went to Bait Al-Maqdis same night. It is related that Abu Jahl, may Allah's curse be upon him, saw Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in the Masjid Al-Haram sitting quietly. He said to him: "Do you have any news?" The Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, of Allah replied: "Yes." "What is the news?" Abu Jahl asked. "I was taken by night to Bait Al-Maqdis," Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, told him. "Bait Al-Maqdis?!" Abu Jahl asked in astonishment. "Yes," the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, replied calmly. Abu Jahl asked him, "If I gather your people so that you may inform them, would you repeat what you have just told me?" Again, the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, answered: "Yes." Abu Jahl intended to gather the Quraish so that they may hear that from him and Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, also wanted them to gather so as to inform them of same and to deliver the message to them. So Abu Jahl said loudly: "Come around, O men of Quraish!" When they gathered into an assembly, he said to the Prophet, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him: "Tell them what you have just told me." Then Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, narrated to them the story of what he saw and that he went to Bait Al-Maqdis that night and prayed therein. Some of them clapped in bewilderment and others hissed indicating the remoteness of the truth of what he said.

The news of the story went round Makkah and some people came to Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, and informed him that Muhammad, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said such-and-such. He said, "You are telling lie against him." They said: "By Allah, he actually said so." Then Abu Bakr said: "If he really said that, then he has told the truth."

Then he came to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, while the pagans of Quraish were surrounding him. He asked him about the story and he informed him. He sought from him the description of Bait Al-Maqdis so that the pagans may hear it and thereby see the truth of his claim. However, it is recorded in the Saheeh that it is the pagans who asked Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "I kept informing them of the description and certain things became unclear to me and then Allah showed me the picture of Bait Al-Maqdis till I was looking at it as if it was just less farther than the house of 'Aqeel. So I described it to them." They said: "As for the description, it is correct."

Ibn 'Abbas said: It is a physical seeing which Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, was made to see. This is the opinion of the majority among the predecessors and the successors that the Isra was in body and soul as pointed out by the literal narration of his riding and climbing in his ascension. Thus, Allah says: “Glorified (and Exalted) be He (Allah) [above all that (evil) they associate with Him]. Who took His slave (Muhammad) for a journey by night from Al-Masjid-Al-Haram (at Makkah) to the farthest mosque (in Jerusalem).” (Soorah Al-Isra 17:1)

Glorification is done at the occurrence of a great supernatural sign. That is an indication that the journey occurred in body and soul and the "slave" is an expression of both. Also, if it had been in dream, the pagans of Quraish would not have hastened to deny and reject it since there is nothing really spectacular about it i.e. traveling in dream. This indicates that it was in a wakeful state and not in his sleep.

Ibn Ishaq narrated: Some of the family of Abu Bakr narrated to me from ‘A’ishah, the Mother of the Believers, that she used to say: “The body of Allah’s Messenger was not missed but Allah took him by the soul (on the journey).”

In the morning of the night of Isra, Jibraeel came to him at the time of the declension of the midday sun and explained to him the manner of prayer and its timing. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, commanded that his Companions should gather and Jibraeel led him (in the prayers of) that day till the next and the Companions follow the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, while he in turn followed Jibraeel as cited in the Hadith narrated from Ibn ‘Abbas and Jabir: “Jibraeel led me in prayer at the House (i.e. the Ka’bah) twice.” He also explained to him the two timings (of each Salat) the beginning and the end times. Both times and the time in between are the timing of each Salat but he did not mention any intervening timing for the Maghreb prayer. This has been established in the Hadith of Abu Moosa, Buraidah and ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Amr, all which is related in Saheeh Muslim.

As regards what is recorded in Saheeh Al-Bukhari from ‘A’ishah that she said: “The prayer was prescribed as consisting of two rak‘ahs, (both) when one was resident and when traveling. The prayer while traveling was left according to the original prescription and the prayer of the one who was resident was increased.”

Awza’i also narrated a similar thing from Az-Zuhri and Ash-Sha‘bi from Masrooq.

There is somewhat ambiguity for the fact that ‘A’ishah used to offer her prayer in full while on a journey; same goes for ‘Uthman Ibn ‘Affan. We have spoken on that when discussing the statement of Allah:

“And when you (Muslims) travel in the land, there is no sin on you if you shorten your Salat (prayer) if you fear that the disbelievers may attack you, verily, the disbelievers are ever unto you open enemies.” (Soorah An-Nisa’ 4:101)

Imam Al-Baihaqi said: Al-Hasan Al-Basri holds the opinion that in the prayer of a resident the first to be made obligatory was four rak‘ahs as mentioned in mursal form concerning his prayer the morning of the night of ascension. Zuhr was ordained four (rak‘ahs); so also was ‘Asr. As for Maghreb, three rak‘ahs were ordained with a loud recitation in the first two. Isha’ is four with a loud recitation in the first two rak‘ahs and two rak‘ahs were ordained for Subh and recitation in both is loud.

I say: Perhaps ‘A’ishah intended that the prayer used to be offered in two rak‘ahs before the ascension. Thereafter, when the five daily prayers were ordained, the prayer of a resident was left according to the original prescription while a concession was given that the prayer on a journey be offered in two rak‘ahs as it were in the early time. Against the backdrop of this, all ambiguities are dispelled. And Allah knows best.

The Splitting of the Moon in the Time of the Prophet, Peace and Blessings of Allah be Upon Him

Allah, Most High, says: The Hour has drawn near, and the moon has been cleft asunder (the people of Makkah requested Prophet Muhammad to show them a miracle, so he showed them the splitting of the moon). And if they see a sign, they turn away, and say: “This is continuous magic.” They belied (the Verses of Allah, this Qur’an), and followed their own lusts. And every matter will be settled [according to the kind of deeds (for the doer of good deeds, his deeds will take him to Paradise, and similarly evil deeds will take their doers to Hell)]. (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:1-3)

The Muslims are agreed upon the occurrence of that during his time. A number of Ahadeeth have been reported concurrently concerning that from various routes in such a way that they denote decisiveness in the view of the one who comprehends that and reflects on it. We shall mention as much as possible, if Allah wills.

Anas reported (that): “The people of Makkah demanded that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, show them (some) signs (miracles) and he splitted the moon in Makkah twice.” He recited: “The Hour has drawn near, and the moon has been cleft asunder.” (Soorah Al-Qamar 54:1)

Ibn ‘Abbas narrated: “The moon was split into two parts during the lifetime of the Prophet.” Related by Al-Bukhari and Muslim.

Al-Hafiz Abu Nu‘aim reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said concerning the Verse: “The Hour has drawn near, and the moon has been cleft asunder” that “the polytheists gathered in the presence of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. Among them were Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah, Abu Jahl, Al-‘As Ibn Wa’il, Al-‘As Ibn Hisham, Al-Aswad Ibn ‘Abd Yaghooth, Al-‘As Ibn Al-Muttalib, Zam‘ah Ibn Al-Aswad, Nadhr Ibn Al-Harith and their cohorts. They said to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him: “If indeed you are truthful, then split the moon into two halves for us; one half over Abu Qubays and the other half above Qu’ayqi’an.” The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to them: “If I do so will you believe?” they replied in affirmative. It was on a night of a full moon and Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked Allah to grant him what they had requested. The moon splitted into two halves; one half on Abu Qubays and the other on Qu’ayqi’an. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, called out: “O Aba Salamah Ibn ‘Abd Al-Asad and Al-Arqam Ibn Al-Arqam bear witness (to this)!”

The Death of Abu Talib, the uncle of Allah’s Messenger and soon after, Khadeejah Bint Khuwaiyid, the wife of Allah’s Messenger

Ibn Ishaq said: Then Khadeejah and Abu Talib died the same year. With the death of Khadeejah, calamities befell Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in quick succession. She had been to him a solace to which he took recourse in times of trial. Coupled with that was the death of his uncle, Abu Talib. He had been to him a prop and a fortress in his affairs, a protection and a helper against his people. These deaths occurred three years before his migration to Madinah. When Abu Talib died, the Quraish were able to inflict such harm on Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, which they were not able in the lifetime of Abu Talib. One of the foolish ones among the Quraish once stood in his way and threw dust on his head.

Hisham Ibn ‘Urwah narrated to me from his father who said: “Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, returned to his house with sand on his head. One of his daughters rose to wash it while she wept. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, said: “Do not weep my daughter for Allah will protect your father.” Meanwhile, he was also saying as well: “The Quraish were not able to inflict anything detestable to me until Abu Talib died.”

Ibn Ishaq related that Ibn ‘Abbas said: when some noblemen of the Quraish went to Abu Talib, among whom were ‘Utbah Ibn Rabee‘ah, Shaibah Ibn Rabee‘ah, Abu Jahl Ibn Hisham, Umayyah Ibn Khalaf, Abu Sufyan Ibn Harb, they said to him: “O Abu Talib! You know your position among us and now in your current situation, we are deeply concerned about you. You know the problems between us and your nephew. Summon him and let us make a bargain that he will leave us alone and we will leave him alone; let him have his religion and we will have ours.”

When he came, Abu Talib said: “O my nephew, here are notables of your people who have gathered so as to give and take from you.” “Yes,” he began, “let you (all) give me one word by which you can rule the Arabs and subject the non-Arabs to you.” “Yes, by your father, and ten words,” Abu Jahl said. “Say none deserves to be worshipped except Allah and renounce what you worship besides Him.” They clapped their hands in disbelief and said: “Do you want to make all the gods into one, O Muhammad? That is an extraordinary matter!” Then they said to one another: “This man will not give you anything that you want, so go and be with the religion of your ancestors until Allah judges between you and him.” So they left.

Abu Talib said to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him: "By Allah, O nephew, I do not think you have asked them something too much." On hearing this, the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, wished that he would embrace Islam, and he said at once, "O uncle, say it, and I shall ask (my Lord) to make it lawful (for me) because of it to intercede for you on the Day of Resurrection." Seeing the Prophet's enthusiasm, he said: "Were it not that I am afraid that you and your family would be disgraced after my death and that the Quraish would think that I had only said it in fear of death, I would say it. I am not saying it but for pleasing you with it." As his death was approaching, Al-'Abbas found Abu Talib moving his lips, so he put his ear close to him and said, "O nephew, by Allah, my brother has spoken the word you ordered him to say." The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "I did not hear it."

Allah (SWT) revealed concerning the group (of Quraish noblemen) that met Allah's Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him: "Saad [These letters (sad, etc.) are one of the miracles of the Qur'an, and none but Allah (Alone) Knows their meanings]. By the Qur'an full of reminding (explanations and honor for the one who believes in it). Nay, those who disbeliever are in false pride and opposition." (Soorah Saad 88:1-2)

Concerning the death of Khadeejah and a mention of some of her excellence and virtues

Certainly He has done that with the declaration of the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, when he gave her the tiding of a house in Paradise made of jewel in which there is neither tumult nor fatigue. Al-Baihaqi said: It reached me that Khadeejah died three days after Abu Talib. Abu ‘Abdullah Ibn Mandah mentioned this in his book Al-Ma‘rifah as well as our Sheikh, Abu ‘Abdullah Al-Hafiz.

Imam Al-Bukhari related that Abu Hurairah narrated that Jibraeel came to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, and said: “O Allah’s Messenger! This is Khadeejah coming to you with a dish having Idam or some food or drink. When she reaches you, greet her on behalf of her Lord (i.e. Allah) and on my behalf, and give her the glad tidings of having a Qasab palace in Paradise wherein there will be neither any noise nor any fatigue (trouble).” Imam Muslim also related it.

Imam Al-Bukhari also related that Isma‘eel reported: "I said to ‘Abdullah Ibn Abi ‘Awfa: 'Did Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, give glad tidings of Paradise to Khadeejah?' He said: 'Yes. He did give glad tidings to her of a palace of jewels in Paradise wherein there would be no noise and no fatigue'."

Narrated ‘A’ishah, Allah be pleased with her: “I never felt so jealous of any wife of the Prophet as I did of Khadeejah because Allah’s Messenger used to remember and praise her too often and because it was revealed to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that he should give her (Khadeejah) the glad tidings of her having a palace of Qasab in Paradise and whenever he slaughtered a sheep, he would send some part to the women friends of Khadeejah.” This is Al-Bukhari’s wordings.

‘A’ishah reported that Halah Bint Khuwailid (sister of Khadeejah) sought permission from Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to see him and he was reminded of Khadeejah’s (manner of) asking leave to enter and (was overwhelmed) with emotions thereby and said: ‘O Allah, it is Halah, ‘ and I felt jealous and said: ‘Why do you remember one of those old women of the Quraish with gums red and who is long dead while Allah has given you a better one in her stead'?"

There is a clear affirmation that ‘A’ishah is more pre-eminent over Khadeejah either in virtues or in intimacy since he neither objected to her statement nor refuted her as is evident in the wordings of AlBukhari, Allah have Mercy on him.

The Prophet’s Marriage to ‘A’ishah Bint Abu Bakr As-Siddiq and Sawdah Bint Zam‘ah

The more authentic opinion is that he married ‘A’ishah first as shall be mentioned shortly. Al-Bukhari related in the chapter of "The marriage of ‘A’ishah" from ‘A’ishah that the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to her: “You were shown to me twice (in my dream). I saw you in a silken piece of cloth, and I said to him, ‘Uncover (her), ‘ and behold, it was you. I said (to myself), ‘If this is from Allah, then it must happen’.”

Al-Bukhari related from ‘A’ishah that she said: “I said, 'O Allah’s Messenger! Suppose you landed in a valley where there is a tree of which something has been eaten and then you found trees of which nothing has been eaten, of which tree would you let your camel graze?' He said, '(I will let my camel graze) of the one of which nothing has been eaten before'.” (The sub-narrator added: ‘A’ishah meant that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had not married a virgin besides herself.) AlBukhari exclusively related it.

Al-Bukhari related from ‘Urwah that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked Abu Bakr for ‘A’ishah’s hand in marriage. Abu Bakr said “But I am your brother.” The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said, “You are my brother in Allah’s Religion and His Book, but she (‘A’ishah) is lawful for me to marry.”

Al-Bukhari related from Hisham Ibn ‘Urwah who reported from his father that: Khadeejah died three year before the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, departed to Madinah. He stayed there for two years or so and then he married ‘A’ishah when she was a girl of six years of age, and he consummated that marriage when she was nine years old.

Al-Bukhari related that ‘A’ishah narrated: “The Prophet married me when I was a girl of six (years). We went to Madinah and stayed at the home of Bani Al-Harith Ibn Khazraj. Then I got ill and my hair fell off. Later on, my hair grew (again) and my mother, Umm Rooman, came to me while I was playing in a swing with some of my girlfriends. She called me, and I went to her, not knowing what she wanted to do to me. She caught me by the hand and made me stand at the door of the house. I was breathless then, and when my breathing became alright, she took some water and rubbed my face and head with it. Then she took me into the house. There in the house I saw some Ansari women who said, “Best wishes and Allah’s Blessing and a good luck.” Then she entrusted me to them and they prepared me (for the marriage). Unexpectedly Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, came to me in the forenoon and my mother handed me over to him, and at that time I was a girl of nine years of age.”

Imam Ahmad related from ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, made marriage proposal to a woman from his people called Sawdah. She had been bereaved. She had five girls (or six) from her dead husband. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to her: “What prevents you from (marrying) me?” she said: “By Allah, nothing prevents me from marrying you and you becoming the most beloved person to me except that I honor you above being disturbed by the noise of these girls morning and night.” “Is anything other than this preventing you (from marrying) me?” The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked and she replied: “None else, by Allah.” Then Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “Allah have Mercy on you. The best women are the riders of the camels and the righteous among the women of Quraish. They are the kindest women to their children in their childhood and the more careful women of the property of their husbands.”

Allah’s Messenger Goes to the People of At-Ta’if to Invite Them to Allah and to the Aid of His Religion and They Reject Him

Ibn Ishaq said: “After Abu Talib died, the Quraish were able to inflict such harm on Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that they were unable to do in the lifetime of his uncle, Abu Talib. Thus, Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, went to At-Ta’if in search of aid and protection from Thaqeef. He also nursed the hope that they would accept what he has brought to them from Allah. He went to them alone. Yazeed Ibn Abi Ziyad reported from Muhammad Ibn Kab AlQurazi who said: ‘When Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, arrived in AtTa’if, he proceeded to certain personalities of the Thaqeef who were their chiefs and notables. They were three brothers, ‘Abd Yaleel, Mas’ood and Habeeb the sons of ‘Amr Ibn ‘Umair Ibn ‘Awf Ibn ‘Uqdah Ibn Ghiyarah Ibn ‘Awf Ibn Thaqeef. One of them was married to a Quraishi woman from Banu Jumah. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sat with them, called them to believe in Allah and requested their support against his adversaries among his people. One of them said: I will tear the cloth of the Ka‘bah if Allah has indeed sent you as a Messenger! Another said: Did not Allah find anyone other than you to send? The third person said: I swear by Allah that I will never have any discussion with you. If you are truly a Messenger from Allah, then you are the most dangerous person to reply to his words; and if you are lying against Allah, I feel it is imperative not to speak with you.”

Then the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, rose from their presence after he had lost hope of any good from Thaqeef. It has also reached me that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to them: “Seeing that you have acted as you have, please keep the matter secret” for Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had detested that his people would get wind of it and thus will increase in their acts against him. They reneged on that and stirred their rifaqs and slaves to abuse and ridicule him until they gathered a mob against him. He took shelter and rested against the wall of a vineyard of an orchard belonging to ‘Utba Ibn Rabe‘ah and his brother Shaibah who were there at the time. They drove back the rifaqs of Thaqeef who were pursuing him. He proceeded to the shade of a grape vineyard and sat in there while the two sons of Rabe‘ah beheld what has befallen him from the rifaqs of the people of At-Ta’if. According to what I was informed, the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, met a woman of Banu Jumah and said to her: “What has befallen us from the people of your husband!”

I was informed that when Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, felt safe, he said:

“O Allah! To You I complain of my weakness, of my helplessness and my insignificance before men. O Most Merciful of the merciful, You are the Lord of helpless and You are my Lord! Into whose hands would You entrust me? Into the hands of a remote person who would scowl at me, or to an enemy whom You have given control over my affairs?

If You are not angry with me, I do not care; but Your clemency is more spacious for me. I seek refuge with the Light of Your Countenance, whereby all darkness is illuminated, and of which all affairs are ordered in this world as well as in the Hereafter, from (any possibility) that You should send down Your anger or that I should incur Your wrath. It is for me to return to You until You are well satisfied! There is no wisdom nor might except with You.”

Ibn Ishaq related: When the two sons of Rabe'e'ah, 'Utbah and Shaibah, saw his travail, they felt compassion for him and they sent to him a young Christian slave called 'Addas saying to him: "Take a bunch of grapes, place it on a plate and then take it to that man and ask him to eat from it." Addas did so. He went to him with the plate and placed it before him asking him to eat. When Allah's Messenger put his hand into it, he said: "In the Name of Allah" and then he ate from it. Addas looked at his face and said: "By Allah, the people in this land do not say these words." Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked: "Then which country are you from, O Addas, and what is your religion?" he replied: "I am a Christian from Neenaw." Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "From the town of a righteous man Yoonus Ibn Matta," Addas said: "How did you know about Yoonus Ibn Matta?" Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, replied: "He is my brother; he was a Prophet and so am I." Addas bent over him to kiss his head, hands and feet.

The sons of Rabe'e'ah said to each other: "He has corrupted him for you." When Addas returned to them, they asked him: "Woe be unto you, O Addas, why were you kissing the head, hands and feet of that man?" He responded: "My master, there is nothing better on the surface of the Earth than that man. He has informed me of things that only a Prophet could know." They said: "Be careful, Addas. Do not let him seduce you from your religion, for yours is better than his."

It is recorded in the Saheehain that ‘A’ishah said to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him: “Have you encountered a day harder than the day of the Battle of Uhud?” The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, replied, “Your tribes have troubled me a lot, and the worse trouble was the trouble on the Day of ‘Aqabah when I presented myself to Ibn ‘Abd Yaleel Ibn ‘Abd Kulal and he did not respond to my demand. So I departed, overwhelmed with excessive sorrow, and proceeded on, and could not relax till I found myself at Qarnath-Tha‘alib where I lifted my head toward the sky to see a cloud shading me unexpectedly. I looked up and saw Jibraeel in it, peace be upon him. He called me saying, ‘Allah has heard your people’s saying to you, and what they have replied back to you, Allah has sent the Angel of the Mountains to you so that you may order him to do whatever you wish to these people.’ The Angel of the Mountains called and greeted me, and then said, “O Muhammad! Order what you wish. If you like, I will let Al-Akshabain (i.e. two mountains) fall on them.” The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said, “No but I hope that Allah will let them beget children who will worship Allah, Alone, and will worship None besides Him.”

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq reported the hearing of the recitation of the Qur’an by some Jinns on his way back from At-Ta’if when he stayed overnight in Nakhlah. The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, offered the Subh prayer with his Companions and the Jinns who were attracted to him heard his recitation of the Qur’an there. Ibn Ishaq said there were seven of them (from the Jinns of the people of Nasebeen) and Allah revealed concerning them:

“And (remember) when We sent toward you (Muhammad) Nafran (three to ten persons) of the Jinns, (quietly) listening to the Qur’an, when they stood in the presence thereof, they said: 'Listen in silence!' And when it was finished, they returned to their people, as warners.” (Soorah Al-Ahqaf 46:29)

Al-Umawi has mentioned in his Maghazi that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sent ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Urriqit to Al-Akhnas Ibn Shareeq requesting him to guard him in Makkah. He said in response: “An ally of the Quraish does not stand guard for one of its own.” Then the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sent him to Suhail Ibn Amr to guard him and he also said in response: “The descendant of Banu ‘Amir Ibn Lu’ayy do not stand guard for Banu Ka’b Ibn Lu’ayy.” Then he sent him to Al-Mut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy to guard him and he said: “Yes, tell him to come.” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessing of Allah be upon him, went and spent the night with him. In the morning, he went with him along with his six or seven children, all of them bearing swords. They entered the Masjid Al-Haram and he said to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him: “Circumambulate.” And they hung the scabbard of their swords in the tawaf arena. Then Abu Sufyan came to Mut‘im and asked: “Are you guard or follower?” he replied, “No, guard.” “Then there will be no contravention,” Abu Sufyan said. So he sat with him until Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, finished his tawaf. When he left, they also left along with him and Abu Sufyan went to his meeting place.

Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, remained for a few days afterward and then he was granted the permission to migrate. When he migrated to Madinah, Mut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy died shortly afterward.

I say: This is why the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said concerning the war prisoners of Badr: “Had Al-Mut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy been alive and interceded with me for these mean people, I would have freed them for his sake.”

Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, used to present himself to the Arab tribes during the Hajj season so that they may protect, aid and defend him against those who belie and oppose him but none of them would respond owing to the great honor Allah held in stock for him with the Ansar, may Allah be pleased with them all.

Ibn Ishaq said: Then Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, returned to Makkah to meet an even greater opposition and rejection of his religion from his people except for a few weak ones among those who believed in him. During the season of the pilgrimage, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, would present himself to the Arab tribes to invite them to believe in Allah and that he was a Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that had been sent (by Allah). He would request them to protect him until Allah makes his Message prevail.

Imam Ahmad related from Rabe'ah Ibn 'Ibad of Banu Ad-Dil who was a polytheist but accepted Islam. He said: "During the period of Jahiliyyah, I saw Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in the market of Dhul Majaz saying: "O people! Say La ilaha ill-Allah (there is no deity worthy of worship but Allah) so that you may be successful" while the people were gathered before him. Standing behind him was a clean-shaven man with squinted-eye and with pony-tail hair, who kept trailing him everywhere he went and he would taunt: "He is a childish liar." I inquired from the people about his identity and they identified him as his uncle Abu Lahab.

Imam Al-Baihaqi also related from a man from Kinanah who narrated: "I saw Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, at the marketplace of Dhul Majaz while he was saying: "O people! Say La ilaha ill-Allah (there is no deity worthy of worship but Allah) so that you may be successful" and behind him was a man throwing dust at him and behold, it was Abu Jahl. He used to interrupt Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, saying: "O people! Do not let this man seduce you from your religion. He merely wants you to abandon your worship of Al-Lat and Al-Uzza."

Moosa Ibn 'Uqbah narrated from Az-Zuhri that: In those years, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, would present himself to Arab tribes at all seasons. He would speak to all the nobles of each tribe requesting from them nothing but to protect and defend him. He would say: "I will not begrudge anyone of you over anything. Whoever is pleased among you with what I am inviting to, then, let him accept and whoever is averse to it, I will not begrudge him. All I want is your protection from the plot to kill me until I convey the message of my Lord and till Allah dispose my affair and that of my Companion as He wishes." None of them responded positively to his request. He did not approach any of those tribes except that they said: "a man's people have a better knowledge of him. Do you consider that a man will be good to us while he has corrupted his own people and they have also rejected him?" All of these occurred due to what has been kept in stock for him from the Ansar with which he will be honored.

Al-Hafiz Abu Nu'aim related from Ibn 'Abbas from 'Abbas who said: "Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to me: 'I do not think that you or your brother can defend me and would you come with me tomorrow to the marketplace to show me the residences of the tribes. The Arabs had gathered for Hajj.' I said to him: 'This is Kindah and its relatives. They are the best of the people of Yemen who come for Hajj. And this is the residence of Bakr Ibn Wa'il, this is the residence of Banu 'Amir Ibn Sa'sa'ah, so make your choice'."

The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, began with the Kindah. He went to them and asked, "where are you from?" "From the people of Yemen," they responded. The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked, "Which part of Yemen?" They said: "From Kindah." Again the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked, "Which branch of Kindah?" They replied, "From Banu 'Amr Ibn Mu'awiyah." Then Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "Do you have a need for something good?" They said: "What is that?" The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "Bear witness that none deserves to be worshipped other than Allah, establish Salat and believe in what has come from Allah."

Abdullah Ibn Al-Ajlal narrated: My father narrated to me from an old man of his people that the clan of Kindah said to him: "If you triumph, shall we have authority after you?" Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "Authority belongs to Allah and He disposes it wherever he wishes." They said in response: "We do not have any need of what you have come with." Al-Kalbi said: "Have you come to turn us away from our gods and set us against the Arabs? Go back to your people, we do not have any need of you."

Imam Ahmad related that Jabir Ibn 'Abdullah narrated: "Allah's Messenger would offer himself to the people at each station of pilgrimage. He would say: 'Is there anyone who would take me with him to his people for the Quraish have objected that I convey the words of my Lord.' A man from Hamdan came to him and he asked him: 'From where are you?' and the man replied, 'From Hamdan.' Allah's Messenger then asked him: 'Do you have any protection for me with your people?' The man replied in the affirmative. Then he became afraid that his people might despise him so he came to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and said to him: 'I will go and inform them then

I will come to you next year'." The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, agreed. In the month of Rajab, a delegation of the Ansar came. The four authors of As-Sunan have also related same through different paths from Isra'il. Imam Tirmidhi graded it hasan Saheeh.

Arrival of the Delegates of the Ansar Year After Year Till They Pledge Allegiance One After the Other

Muhammad Ibn Ishaq Ibn Yassar related that Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, continued in this way, each time the people gathered during the season of pilgrimage, he would come to them and invite them to Allah and Islam. He would also present himself and his message of guidance and mercy. He did not hear of the arrival in Makkah of any Arab of note and nobility except that he went to him and invited him to Allah and presented to him his message.

Ibn Ishaq related that 'Asim Ibn Qatadah narrated from an elder of his people that Suwaid Ibn As-Samit, the brother of Banu Amr Ibn 'Awf, arrived in Makkah on Haj or 'Umrah (pilgrimage or lesser pilgrimage). Suwaid was known among his people as "the perfect" owing to the beauty of his skin and hair as well as his nobility and ancestry.

Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, went to him when he heard of his arrival. He invited him to Allah and Islam. Suwaid said: "Perhaps you have something similar to what I have." "And what is with you?" the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, asked. He said: "The scroll of Luqman (i.e. the wisdom of Luqman)." Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "Show it to me." When he showed it, the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "These are good words but what I have is better than this – the Qur’an revealed to me by Allah which is a Guidance and a Light.” The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, then recited the Qur’an to him and invited him to accepted Islam. The man did not refuse but said, “These are good words.” Then he went away. When he returned to his people in Madinah he was soon killed by the Khazraj. Some of his people said: “We think that he had been a Muslim when he was killed.” He was killed prior to the Battle of Bu’ath.

Iyas Ibn Mu‘adh’s Acceptance of Islam

Ibn Ishaq related from Mahmood Ibn Labeed who narrated: Abul-Haisar Anas Ibn Rafi‘ arrived in Makkah with youngsters from Banu ‘Abdul-Ashhal. Among them was Iyas Ibn Mu‘adh seeking alliance from the Quraish against their people from the Khazraj. When Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, heard of them, he approached them and sat to discuss with them. He said: “Do you wish for something better than what brought you?” “What is that?” they asked. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “I am a Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to His servants. I invite them to worship Allah and not to associate any partner with Him. And He has revealed to me the Qur’an.” He explained Islam to them and recited the Qur’an to them.

The narrator continued: Then Iyas Ibn Mu‘adh, a young boy, rose and said: “O people, by Allah, this is better than what brought you here in the first place.” Abul-Haisar Anas Ibn Rafi‘ took a handful of dust and threw it at the face of Iyas Ibn Mu‘adh. He said: “Leave us alone. By my order, we have come for other than this.” Then Iyas kept quiet and the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, rose to leave and they also returned to Madinah. Then the war of Bu’ath broke out between the Aws and Khazraj. It was not long thereafter before Iyas died. Mahmood Ibn

Labeed said: I was informed by those who came to me from people that they never ceased to hear him say: La ilaha ill-Allah (there no deity worthy of worship besides Allah); Allahu Akbar (Allah is Greatest); Alhamdulillah (praise belongs to Allah) and Subhanallah (glory be to Allah) until he died. They did not have a doubt that he died a Muslim. Since he heard what he heard from Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, at that sitting, he had developed the consciousness of Islam.

I say: That was in the Battle of Bu'ath and Bu'ath is a place in Madinah where the battle took place in which a large number of the noblemen and elite among the Aws and Khazraj were killed leaving only very few older men.

Imam Al-Bukhari related in his Saheeh that 'A'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said: "The day of Bu'ath (i.e. day of fighting between the two tribes of the Ansar, the Aws and Khazraj) was brought about by Allah for the good of His Messenger so that when he reached (Madinah), the tribes of Madinah had already been divided and their chiefs had been killed."

Abu Zur'ah Ar-Razi said in his Book Dala'il An-Nubuwwah: It is narrated from Mu'adh Ibn Rifa'ah Ibn Rafi' from his father from his grandfather that he went out along with the son of his maternal aunt, Mu'adh Ibn 'Afra' until they arrived in Makkah. When they descended from Thaniyyah, they saw a man sitting under a tree. This was before the departure of the six individuals from the Ansar.

He continued: When we saw him, we decided to speak to him. We said, let us approach this man so that we may put our camels in his charge till we finish circumambulating the Ka'bah. We went to him and greeted in the manner of the time of ignorance and he returned our greeting in the manner of Islam. And we had heard something about the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. We immediately abhorred it. We asked: "Who are you?" he said, "alight." We alighted and asked him: "Where is that man who claims what he has claimed and said what he has said?" he said, "I am the one." We said: "Let's hear you present Islam." He began presenting Islam by asking: "Who created the heavens, the Earth and the mountain?" "Allah created them," we said. "Who created you?" he asked again. "Allah," we replied. "Who fashioned these effigies that you worship?" he asked and we replied, "We." He asked again: "Is the Creator more deserving of being worshipped or the created being?" We responded: "The Creator." "Then you are more deserving of being worshipped than what you have fashioned and Allah is more deserving of being worshipped than anything you have fashioned. I am inviting you to the worship of Allah and to testify that none deserves to be worshipped in truth except Allah and that I am a Messenger of Allah and to connect ties of kinship and to abandon wrongdoing even though that infuriates the people." We said: "Even if what you are inviting to is falsehood still it is one of the loftiest matters and meritorious manners." He took hold of our riding animals and we proceeded until we reached the Ka'bah. Mu'adh Ibn 'Afra' sat with him.

(He continued): I circumambulated the Ka'bah and I dedicated one of the seven arrows to him. I faced the Ka'bah and hit the arrow against it. I said: "O Allah if what Muhammad is calling to is true then let his arrow come out seven times." When I hit it, it came out seven times. I cried out loud: "I bear witness that none is worthy of worship except Allah and Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah!" People gather around me. They said: "You are insane and a juvenile." I said, "Rather, I am a Muslim." Then I came to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, at the upper part of Makkah. When Mu'adh saw me he said: "Rafi' has returned with a (radiance in his) face different from the one he went with." I came and I accepted Islam. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, taught us Soorah Yoosuf and “Read! In the Name of your Lord, Who has created (all that exists).” (Soorah Al‘Alaq 96:1) Then we returned to Madinah. When we got to ‘Aqeeq, Mu‘adh said: “I do not like that we proceed in the night, so let us spend the night till morning before we proceed.” I said: “Spend the night with the goodness that I have acquired? I shall not do that.” Usually, whenever Rafi‘ returned from a journey, he would give his people gifts.” Its text and chain are hasan.

The Dawn of Islam Among the Ansar

Ibn Ishaq related: When Allah wanted to manifest His religion, empower His Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, fulfill His promise to him, Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, used to go out in the Hajj season and would meet the groups of the Ansar. Again he would go to offer himself to the Arab tribes as he would do every year. When he was at Al-‘Aqabah, he met a group of the Khazraj for whom Allah intended good.

‘Asim Ibn ‘Umar Ibn Qatadah narrated to me from some elders of his people. They said: When Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, met them, he said: “Who are you?” we said, “A group of the Khazraj.” He asked again: “From the allies of the Jews?” we replied in the affirmation. He said: “Would you like to sit for a while so that I may speak with you?” They agreed. They sat and he invited them to Allah, presented Islam to them and recited the Qur’an to them. Allah had paved the way for Islam in that they were living adjacent to the Jews who were from the People of the Book and had knowledge while they were from the polytheists and idol worshippers. The Jews had been suppressed in their land. However, anytime there was a dispute between them, the Jews would say: “A Prophet will be raised and his coming is nigh. When he comes, we shall pledge allegiance to him and along with him, we shall kill you similar to the killing of Aad and Iram.”

When Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, spoke to that group and invited them to believe in Allah, they said to one another: “O people, beware, by Allah, this is the same Prophet that the Jew has promised you so do not let them precede you in accepting him.” Thus, they responded positively to what they were invited to. They accepted him and believed in the truthfulness of Islam. They said to him: “We have left our people back at home and there is no people who have a greater enmity and evil running between them than we. Perhaps, Allah shall unite them through you. We shall approach them and invite them to your matter. We shall also present and invite them to the religion which we have accepted. If Allah unites them through you, no man will be more powerful than you.” Thereafter, they left and returned to their country after they had believed and accepted the truth of Islam.

Ibn Ishaq said: According to what I was informed, there were six of them, all from the Khazraj.

Moosa Ibn ‘Uqbah, according to what he narrated from Az-Zuhri and Urwah Ibn Zubair, said that in their first meeting with him they numbered eight all whom accepted Islam and promised him to return the following year. So they returned to their people and they invited them to Islam. They sent Mu‘adh Ibn ‘Afra and Rafi‘ Ibn Malik to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, requesting him to send to them a man who would teach them (the religion). Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sent Mus‘ab Ibn ‘Umair to them. He arrived in Madinah and stayed with Asad Ibn Zurarah. Then he mentioned the story in full as shall be presented by Ibn Ishaq shortly in a more complete form than that of Moosa Ibn ‘Uqbah. And Allah knows best.

Ibn Ishaq said, when the group got to their people in Madinah, they mentioned about Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to them and invited them to Islam so much so that it spread amongst them. There was no house from the quarters of the Ansars except that there was the talk about the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. The following year, twelve individuals of the Ansars gathered on the occasion of Hajj pilgrimage. These twelve individuals witnessed the pilgrimage of that year and they decided upon meeting with the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. They met him at Al-'Aqabah and they gave him a pledge there similar to that of the women. That was the first 'Aqabah.

Ibn Ishaq related that 'Ubadah Ibn Samit said: "I was among those who witnessed the first 'Aqabah and we were twelve men. We gave Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, our pledge (similar to that) of women, i.e. before fighting was obligated, that we shall not associate any partner with Allah, we shall not steal, we shall not commit adultery, we shall not kill our children, we shall not utter slander, intentionally forging falsehood and that we shall not disobey him in righteousness." The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said in response: "Whoever fulfills this will enter Paradise; and whoever commits these sins, his affair rests with Allah who may either punish him or forgive him." AlBukhari and Muslim have reported similar Hadith.

Ibn Ishaq said that Ibn Shihab Az-Zuhri related from 'A'idhullah Abi Idrees Al-Khawlani that 'Ubadah Ibn As-Samit narrated to him: "We gave our pledge to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, on the night of the first 'Aqabah that we will not worship anything besides Allah, we will not steal, we will not commit illegal sexual intercourse, we will not kill our children, we will not utter slander, invented by ourself, and we will not disobey him if he ordered us to do something good.” (The Prophet, peace and blessings be upon him, responded): “Whoever among you respects and fulfills this pledge, will be rewarded by Allah. And if anyone of you commits any of these sins and is punished in this world then that will be his expiation for it, and if anyone of you commits any of these sins and Allah hides his sin, then his matter will rest with Allah: If He wills, He punishes him and if He wills He forgives him.” This Hadith has been collected in the Saheehain and other than them.

Ibn Ishaq related that ‘Abdur-Rahman Ibn Ka‘b Ibn Malik said: I used to be a guide for my father when he became blind. Whenever I went out with him for the Jumu‘ah prayer and he heard the call to prayer, he would supplicate for Abu Umamah Asad Ibn Zurarah. He continued doing that for a while, supplicating for him upon hearing the call to prayer. Then I said to myself: “By Allah, this is a deficiency on my part, shouldn’t I ask him (why)?” so I said to him, “May father, why is it that whenever you hear the call to the prayer of Jumu‘ah you supplicate and ask Allah’s forgiveness for Abu Umamah?” He said: “My son, this is because he held the Friday prayer for the first time for us at Hazmun-Nabeet of Harrah belonging to Banu Bayadah in Baqee‘, called Naqee‘ Al-Khadimat.” I asked him: “How many were you at the time?” He said: “Forty men.” Abu Dawood and Ibn Majah have related this Hadith through Muhammad Ibn Ishaq, may Allah have Mercy on him.

Ibn Ishaq said: ‘Ubaidullah Ibn Al-Mugheerah Ibn Mu‘aiqeeb and ‘Abdullah Ibn Abi Bakr Ibn Muhammad Ibn ‘Amr Ibn Hazm narrated to me that Asad Ibn Zurarah went back with Mus‘ab Ibn ‘Umair toward the residences of Banu ‘Abdul-Ashhal and Banu Zafar. Sa‘d Ibn Mu‘adh was the son of the maternal aunt of Asad Ibn Zurarah. So they entered behind a wall from the walls of Banu Zafar enclosing a well called Birr Maraq. They both sat in the enclosure and a couple of people from those who had accepted Islam gathered. At the time, Sa'd Ibn Mu'adh and Usaid Ibn Al-Hudair were the chiefs of their people from Banu 'Abdul-Ashhal and both of them were pagans upon the religion of their people. When they got wind of them, Sa'd said to Usaid: "Woe be unto you, go to those two men who have come into our residences to beguile the weak ones amongst us, reprimand them and forbid them from coming into our residences again. I would have dealt with them myself but for relationship of Asad Ibn Zurarah with me, whom, as you have known, is the son of my maternal aunt and I do not have over him any precedence." Usaid Ibn Hudair took hold of his spear and headed toward the two men. When Asad Ibn Zurarah saw him coming he said to Mus'ab: "This is one of the chiefs of his people coming to you." Musab said: "If he would sit for a while, I will speak with him." When he came to them he addressed them insultingly: "Why have you two come to beguile our weak ones? Leave us alone if you have any need for your lives."

Moosa Ibn 'Uqbah added that a young boy said to him, "you came to us in our residences with this fellow who is a stranger and a fugitive so that he might delude our weak ones with falsehood and inviting them to it?"

Ibn Ishaq said that Mus'ab replied: "Why don't you sit for a while and listen. If you are pleased with the message you accept otherwise I will desist from what you have found loathsome." "You have offered a fair deal," he said driving his spear into the sand and then he sat down. Mus'ab spoke to him about Islam and recited the Qur'an to him as well.

(The narrator continued): They said, from what was narrated to me: "By Allah, we could recognize Islam on his face even before he said a word in response from its radiance and receptiveness." Finally, he said: "Nothing is better and more beautiful than this. What do you do when you want to enter into the fold of this religion?" They replied: "Take a bath to purify yourself and purify your cloth, then bear the witness of truth, and then offer prayer.” He got up and took a bath and purified his cloth and then gave the testimony of the truth. Then he offered two units of prayer and then said to both of them: “I left behind a man, if he followed you; none of his people will do otherwise. I will send Sa’d Ibn Mu’adh to you right away.” He took hold of his spear and went away toward Sa’d and his people while they were seated in their assembly. When Sa’d Ibn Mu’adh saw him coming, he said: “I swear by Allah, Usaid has returned to you with a face different from the one he went with. When he got to the assembly, Sa’d said to him: “What did you do?” he said: “I spoke to two individuals and I did not find any fault in them. However, I have warned them and they offered to do as I want. I have spoken that Banu Harithah have gone toward Asad Ibn Zurarah in order to kill him and this is because they knew that he is the son of your maternal aunt in order to betray your covenant.

(The narrator continues): Angered by what he had just heard about Banu Harithah, Sa’d got up at once, took hold of his spear in his hand and headed toward them both. When they saw him, they remained calm realizing that Usaid wanted him to hear from them too. When he got to them, he was abusive. He said to Asad Ibn Zurarah: “O Abu Umamah, I swear by Allah, if not for the relationship between you and I, I would have hit this one. You came into our midst to delude us with what is loathsome to us?” Meanwhile, Asad had said to Mus’ab: “Coming to you is a man whom his people follow. If he follows you, no other person will contradict you amongst them.” Mus’ab said to Sa’d: “Why don’t you sit for a while and listen. If you are pleased with the message you accept otherwise I will desist from what you have found loathsome.” Sa’d said: “You have offered a fair deal.” He drove his spear into the sand and sat down. They explained Islam to him and recited the Qur’an to him as well. Moosa Ibn ‘Uqbah added that: Mus’ab read to him the first part of Soorah Az-Zukhruf. “By Allah, we could recognize Islam on his face even before he said a word in response from its radiance and receptiveness.” Finally, he said: “Nothing is better and more beautiful than this. What do you do when you want to enter into the fold of this religion?”

They replied: “Take a bath to purify yourself and purify cloths, then bear witness to truth, and then offer prayer.” He got up, took a bath and purified his cloths and then gave the testimony of the truth. Then he offered two units of prayer and then he took hold of his spear went away toward his people’s assembly with Usaid Ibn Hudair. When his people saw him, they said: “By Allah, Sa’d has returned to you with a face different from the one he went with.” When he got to the assembly, Sa’d said: "O Bani ‘AbdulAshhal, what is my position in your midst?" and they all replied, "our leader in nobility and our right hand chief." "Verily, the words of your men and women concerning me would be haram unless you believe in Allah and His Messenger."

He (the narrator) also said: “By Allah no one remained in the households of Banu ‘Abdul-Ashhal, neither amongst the men nor of the women, except that they all accepted Islam before nightfall.

Imam Ahmad related from Anas Ibn Malik that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, visited a man from the Ansar. He said to him: “O maternal uncle, say La ilaha ill-Allah (there is none worthy of worship except Allah).” The man said: “Maternal uncle or paternal uncle?” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said, “Paternal uncle rather.” The man said: “Do you prefer that I say ‘la ilaha ill-Allah’ and Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “Yes.”

The Story of the Second Pledge of ‘Aqabah

Imam Ahmad related from Jabir that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, remained in Makkah for ten years approaching people in their residences, Ukaz, Majannah and at Mina during the pilgrimage season saying: “Who would give me refuge? Who would aid me till I deliver the message of my Lord so that he may earn Paradise in return?” No one offered to accommodate him or aid him to the extent that a man would proceed from Yemen or Mudar and his people would advise him: “beware of the young man of Quraish so that he may not afflict you.” They would go before his riding animal and would point to him (as a warning). This was the case until Allah sent people from Yathrib who offered to accommodate him and accepted him such that a man would proceed from us and he would believe in him and Qur’an would be recited to him and he would return to his people and they would believe as he has done. Thereafter, they made ‘Umrah en masse and we said: “Till when shall we leave Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to perform tawaf and they banishing him in the hills of Makkah and they scaring him?” Seventy people among us traveled to him. We met him at one of the Hajj sites and gave him a promise at the mountain pass of ‘Aqabah. We gathered one after the other and in pairs until we were complete. We said: “Upon what should we give our pledge?” he replied, “Give me your pledge upon listening to and obeying my orders in active and inactive state and to spend (in the way of Allah) both in straits and ease and upon commanding the good and forbidding the evil and to speak for the sake of Allah not minding the blame of the blamers and upon helping me and protecting me, when I come to you, from all that you would protect yourself, your wives and your children from and yours will be Paradise as a reward.” We rose to give him our pledge. Asad Ibn Zurarah held his hand and he was the youngest of them. In the narration of Al-Baihaqi, he was the youngest of the 70 besides me.

He said: “Take it easy, O people of Yathrib, we are not giving him the innermost part of a camel except that we recognize him as the Messenger of Allah and verily, his emanation today will bring us into conflict with the entire Arabs and the death of your choice ones and swords will bite you. If you are people who are capable of exercising patience upon all that, then take him and your reward lies with Allah. But if you fear for yourself, then let him be and you will be excused in the sight of Allah.” They all responded: “Move away from us, O Asad, for by Allah, we shall never abandon this pledge forever and we shall never betray it.” Then we rose to give him our pledge and he took it upon the reward of Paradise.

Then Ibn Ishaq related from Ma‘bad from ‘Abdullah from his father Ka‘b Ibn Malik who said: “We spent that night in our camps until a third of the night passed, and then we went from our camps to the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, at the appointed place. We went stealthily in the manner of a tomcat until we gathered at the mountain pass at ‘Aqabah. We were seventy-three men in all and with us were two women, Nusaybah Bint Ka‘b, the mother of ‘Ummarah, one of the women of Banu Mazin Ibn An-Najjar, and Asma’ Bint ‘Amr Ibn ‘Adiyy Ibn Nabi, one of the women of Banu Salamah, and she was the mother of Manee’. Ibn Ishaq has clearly mentioned their names and lineage in the narration of Yoonus Ibn Bukair.

I say that concerning what has been related in some of the Ahadeeth that they were seventy, (this is because) the Arabs most of the times delete fractions (of numbers). ‘Urwah Ibn Az-Zubair and Moosa Ibn ‘Uqbah said, they were seventy men and a woman. There were forty of them from their elders and thirty from the younger ones. The youngest of them was Abu Mas‘ood and Jabir Ibn ‘Abdullah. The report of Muhammad Ibn Ishaq that they were seventy-five is more established. And Allah knows best.

Ka‘b Ibn Malik narrated that after we had gathered at the mountain pass, we waited for Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, until he came along with

‘Abbas Ibn ‘AbdulMuttalib who was still upon the religion of his people but present there with a view to managing the affair of his nephew and to consolidate it for him. When he sat down, the first to speak was ‘Abbas Ibn ‘AbdulMuttalib. He said: “O company of Al-Khazraj, verily you know the standing of Muhammad among us. We have protected him from (the harm of) our people. In our midst, he is held in honor among his people and in protection in his land. However, he has insisted on aligning himself with you and to join you. If you know that you will fulfill what you are inviting him to and that you will protect him from his oppositions, then you are free to bear that burden. However, if you know that you will hand him over (to be killed) and betray him after he has moved over to you, let him be right now for he is in honor and protection from his people and his land.” We said: “We have heard your words. Speak, O Messenger of Allah. Take on behalf of yourself and your Lord what you wish.” The Messenger spoke, recited the Qur’an and invited the congregation to Allah and aroused their keenness for Islam. Then he said: “Do you give your pledge upon protecting me from what you would protect yourselves and your children?” AlBara’ Ibn Ma’roor held his hand and then said: “Yes, by the One Who sent you with the Truth, we shall protect you from what we would protect our loincloth. So we give our pledge, O Messenger of Allah, for we are men of war.” Abu Al-Haytham Ibn Al-Tayyihan interjected. He said: “O Messenger of Allah, between us and some men is an armistice which we intend to nullify, i.e. (with) the Jews. Will you be offended if we do that? Moreover, if Allah grants you victory, would you return to your people and abandon us?” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, smiled and then said: “Rather, your blood is my blood and my grave and residence will be where yours are. I am from you and you are from me. I will fight with whom you fight and will be at peace with whom you have peace.” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had told them: “Appoint for me twelve leaders to manage the affairs of their people.” So they appointed twelve leaders – nine from the Khazraj and three from the Aws.

Ibn Ishaq said: Abdullah Ibn Abi Bakr Ibn Hazm narrated to me that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said to the appointed leaders: “You are in charge of the people and you are their guarantor just like the disciples of ‘Eesa, the son of Maryam, and I am the guarantor of my entire followers.” They all agreed.

Narrated ‘Ubadah Ibn As-Samit: “We gave our pledge to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that we would listen and obey in times of plenty and times of scarcity, to spend (for Allah’s sake) in difficult and times of ease, to command what is good and forbid what is evil and that we would say the truth for the sake of Allah, not minding the blame of the blamers. That we will aid the Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, of Allah when he comes over to us in Yathrib against whatever danger from which we would protect ourselves, our wives and our children and our reward for doing all that shall be Paradise. This is the pledge we gave to Allah’s Messenger.” This chain of narrations is good and strong.

Ibn Ishaq related from Ma’bad Ibn Ka’b from his brother ‘Abdullah Ibn Ka’b Ibn Malik that when we had given our pledge to Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, Shaitan yelled from the top of Al-‘Aqabah in a most piercing voice we ever heard: "O people of Al-Jubajib (the name of a residential area), do you want to allow these miscreants and renegades who are with him and who have gathered in order to wage war against you?" Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “This is the Azabb of Al-‘Aqabah, this is the son of Azyab.” Then Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, told them to return to their camps.

Al-‘Abbas Ibn ‘Ubadah Ibn Nadlah said: “O Messenger of Allah, by the One Who sent you with the Truth, if you wish, we will fight the people of Mina tomorrow with our swords.” The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, replied: “We have not been commanded to do that, return to your camps.”

(The narrator continued): We returned to our beds and we spent the night there. At the daybreak, a group Quraish elders came to our dwellings and said to us: “O people of Khazraj! We have been informed that you came to take Muhammad away from our midst in order to make a pledge with him to fight us. By Allah, of all the Arabs, there is none whom we hate to be at war with than you.” Immediately, the polytheists among our people swore that nothing of such ever happened. They were true for they knew nothing about it. We just looked at each other.

Ibn Ishaq related: A group of people from Mina investigated the information and found it to be true. So after that they went after our people until they caught up with Sa’d Ibn ‘Ubadah at Adhakhir, close to Makkah, as well as Al-Mundhir Ibn ‘Amr, the brother of Banu Sa’idah Ibn Ka’b Ibn Al-Khazraj, both of whom were among the leaders. Al-Mundhir managed to escape but they caught Sa’d, tied his hands to his neck with thongs of his girth and brought him back to Makkah. On the way, they beat him and dragged him by his hair and he was a man with thick hair.

Sa’d narrated: “By Allah, I was in their captivity when we came upon a group of Quraish among whom was a tall, white, handsome and pleasant looking man. I said to myself that if any good would come from these people, then it would be from this man. But when he approached, he raised his hand and gave me a violent blow in the face. Again I said to myself: No good would come from them after this. Since I was in their hands as they dragged me along, a man from among them felt pity over my plight and said to me, "Don't you have any right to protection from any of the Quraish?" "Yes," I said. "I used to secure the merchandise of the merchants of Jubair Ibn Mut'im Ibn 'Adiyy from the harm they might be exposed to in my country. I also used to do the same for Al-Harith Ibn Harb Ibn Umayyah Ibn 'Abd Shams." "Good, then shout their names showing the ties you have with them." I did as I was told and the man went to the two men and found both of them in the Ka'bah. He said to them: "A man of the Khazraj is being beaten in the valley and he is calling you for help." "Who is the man?" They both asked and the man said, "Sa'd Ibn 'Ubadah." "Yes, he is speaking the truth, he used to secure the commerce of our merchants and protect them from the harm they might be exposed to in his land." So they both came to him and freed Sa'd from the clutches and he went away. The one who hit Sa'd in the face was Suhail Ibn 'Amr.

Ibn Ishaq related: When the Ansar who gave pledge to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, on the night of the second (pledge of) 'Aqabah and returned to Madinah, they propagated Islam. Among their people, some of their chiefs remained upon their religion of polytheism among whom were 'Amr Ibn Al-Jamoo Ibn Zaid Ibn Haram Ibn Ka'b Ibn Ghanm Ibn Ka'b Ibn Salimah. His son, Mu'adh Ibn 'Amr was among those who witnessed the 'Aqabah and gave pledge to Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. 'Amr Ibn Jamuh was among the leaders of Banu Salamah and the noblest among them. He had a wooden idol in his house called Manat. It was the practice of the noblemen to choose a family god which they would venerate, clean and perfume. When the two sons of Banu Salimah, his son, Mu'adh and Mu'adh Ibn Jabal accepted Islam, they would sneak by night to 'Amr's idol, carry it outside and turn it upside down in one of the cesspits of Banu Salamah. In the morning, 'Amr would cry out: "Woe unto you, who assaulted our god tonight?!" After searching frantically for it, he would find it upside down in the cesspit.

He would remove it, wash it, perfume and then make it clean again. Then he would say, addressing his idol: "If I knew who did this to you I will make him sorrowful." Again, 'Amr spent the night while the same fate befell his wooden deity. Again, he searched and found it in the same cesspit. He washed it and restored it to its place in the house.

When the "transgression" against his god became unceasing, one day, after he had rescued the idol from the cesspit, washed it, perfume it, 'Amr brought a sword and hung it on the neck of the idol and then addressed it thus: "By Allah, I do not know who is doing this to you, if you have any good (you can do for yourself), here is a sword with you, defend yourself against him." In the night, 'Amr slept while the twosome attacked his idol once again. They removed the sword from the idol's neck, tied it with a rope to the carcass of a dog and threw 'Amr's god into one of the cesspits of Banu Salamah. In the morning, 'Amr Ibn Jamooh did not find the idol in its place. He later found it tied to a dead dog in a cesspit. When he beheld his god in such a despicable situation, he realized his folly. The Muslims among his people spoke to him and he too accepted Islam by Allah's Mercy and became a committed Muslim. When he realized his folly and became a Muslim he thanked Allah for saving him from blindness and misguidance.

Commencement of the Migration to Madinah

Az-Zuhri narrated from 'Urwah Ibn Zubair that 'A'ishah said: Allah's Messenger said to the Muslims and at that time when he was in Makkah: "I have been shown the land of your migration. I saw a virgin land sufficed with date-palm trees between the two mountains." Those who migrated went toward Madinah when Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said that. Some of the Muslims who had migrated to Abyssinia also returned to Madinah." Related by Al-Bukhari.

Abu Moosa also narrated that the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "I saw in a dream that I was migrating from Makkah to a land where there were date-palm trees. I thought that it might be the land of Al-Yamamah or Hajar, but behold, it turned out to be the city of Yathrib (i.e. Madinah)."

Ibn Ishaq related: when Allah, the Most High, permitted fighting in the following Verse: "Permission to fight is given to those (i.e. Believers against disbelievers), who are fighting them, (and) because they (Believers) have been wronged, and surely, Allah is Able to give them (Believers) victory. Those who have been expelled from their homes unjustly only because they said: 'Our Lord is Allah'." (Soorah AlHajj 22: 30, 40)

With this permission from Allah to fight and the pledge given by the delegates of the Ansar to uphold Islam and aid him and those who follow him and to accommodate those who come to them among the Muslims, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, ordered his Companions among the Muhajiroon of his people and those who were with him in Makkah among the Muslims to depart for Madinah and to migrate and meet their brothers among the Ansar. Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "Allah has made for you brothers and a land in which you will live in security." They departed in throngs one after the other while Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, remained in Makkah awaiting the permission of his Lord to also to leave Makkah and migrate to Madinah.

The first of those who migrated to Madinah, among the Companions of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, from the Muhajiroon of the Quraish, were Abu Salamah ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abdul-Asad Ibn Hilal Ibn ‘Abdullah Ibn Umar Ibn Makhzoom from Banu Makhzoom. His migration took place a year before the pledge of ‘Aqabah when the Quraish tyrannized him upon his return from his initial migration to Abyssinia. He decided to return to Abyssinia when he heard that there are some brothers in Madinah so he changed his course to Madinah.

Ibn Ishaq related said that thereafter, among the Muhajiroon, the person who arrived Madinah after Abu Salamah was ‘Amir Ibn Rabee‘ah, an ally of Banu ‘Adiyy, along with his wife, Laila Bint Abi Hathmah Al-Adawiyyah. After ‘Amir, ‘Abdullah Ibn Jahsh Ibn Riyab Ibn Ya‘mar Ibn Sabirah Ibn Murrah Ibn Katheer Ibn Ghanm Ibn Doodan Ibn Asad Ibn Khuzaimah, an ally of Banu Umayyah Ibn ‘Abd Shams also followed along with his family and brother, ‘Abd Abu Ahmad. His name was ‘Abd as mentioned by Ibn Ishaq. It also said that his name was Thumamah. As-Suhailee said: the first opinion is more correct.

Abu Ahmad was a blind man but he would tour both the upper and lower part of Makkah without a guide. He was also a poet. His wife was Al-Fari‘ah Bint Abi Sufyan Ibn Harb. His mother was Umaimah Bint ‘Abdul-Muttalib Ibn Hashim. So the entire house of Banu Jahsh became desolate and bolted due to the migration. Once, ‘Utbah Ibn Rabee‘ah, Al-‘Abbas Ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib and Abu Jahl Ibn Hisham passed by the house while they were climbing toward the upper section of Makkah. ‘Utbah checked the doors of the house and found it desolate. At this, ‘Utbah sighed heavily.

Ibn Ishaq related: Thereafter, ‘Umar Ibn Al-Khattab and ‘Ayyash Ibn Abi Rabee‘ah set out (in migration) until they arrived Madinah. Nafi‘ narrated to me from ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Umar that his father said: “When I wanted to migrate to Madinah, I, ‘Ayyash Ibn Rabee‘ah and Hisham Ibn Al-‘As made a mutual agreement to meet at the water drain of Banu

Ghifar. We said: 'Whoever of us is not by the place in the morning will be considered to have been detained by his people. So the rest should proceed.' Myself and 'Ayyash met at the agreed spot the next morning and Hisham was detained and was severely tortured to abandon his religion.

When we arrived at Madinah, we stayed with the Banu 'Amr Ibn 'Awf at Quba. Meanwhile, Abu Jahl and Al-Harith Ibn Hisham also set out for Madinah in trail for 'Ayyash who was their cousin and their brother from the mother's side. Both of them arrived at Madinah and all the while Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, was still in Makkah. They met him and addressed him thus: "Your mother has made a vow not to comb her hair until she sees you. She has also vowed not seek shade from the sun until she sees you, so have mercy on her." I said to him: "By Allah, these people merely want to deceive you from your religion, beware of them. If lice afflict your mother, by Allah she will comb her hair and if the heat of Makkah becomes unbearable for her, she will seek shade." He said: "I will redeem my mother's oath and I will take my wealth which I left behind." I said to him: "By Allah, you know that I am one of the richest of the Quraish, I will give you half of my wealth, so do not go with them." He insisted on going with them. When I saw his insistence, I said to him: "If you are bent on your decision, here, take my camel, it is excellent and obedient, adhere to its back, if you feel suspicious of these people, escape on its back." So he departed on the camel with the other two men until they traveled over a distance, then Abu Jahl said to him: "My brother, by Allah, I have exhausted my camel, do you mind me riding behind you on your camel?" 'Ayyash said: "Why not." So he goaded the camel to sit so that he may climb its back. When the camel lowered itself, they attacked him and bound him with a string and they entered Makkah in this manner. They tortured him so much that he was forced to recant his faith.

‘Umar said: “We used to say that: ‘Allah will not accept the repentance of those who were forced to recant their faith and they also used to say that about themselves until Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, arrived in Madinah and Allah revealed: “Say: ‘O ‘Ibadi (My slaves) who have transgressed against themselves (by committing evil deeds and sins)! Despair not of the Mercy of Allah (SWT), verily Allah forgives all sins. Truly, He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. And turn in repentance and in obedience with true Faith (Islamic Monotheism) to your Lord and submit to Him, (in Islam), before the torment comes upon you, then you will not be helped. And follow the best of that which is sent down to you from your Lord (i.e. this Qur’an, do what it orders you to do and keep away from what it forbids), before the torment comes on you suddenly while you perceive not!’” (Soorah AzZumar 39:53-55)

‘Umar added: I wrote these Verses (in a letter) and sent it to Hisham Ibn Al-‘As. Hisham said: “when the letter reached me, I kept reading it at Dhu Tuwa (a valley close to Makkah). I ascended and descended yet I did not understand the import of the Verses. Finally, I prayed: “O Allah grant me its understanding.” Then Allah made it occurred to my mind that that it was revealed concerning us and concerning what we used to say about ourselves and what people say about us. I returned to my camel, sat on it and I went to meet Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, in Madinah.

Ibn Hisham mentioned that it was Al-Waleed Ibn Al-Mugheerah who brought Hisham Ibn Al-‘As and ‘Ayyash Ibn Abu Rabee‘ah to Madinah. He kidnapped them from Makkah and he arrived in Madinah carrying them on his camel while he was walking along with them.

Al-Bukhari related from Al-Bara' that the first person to come to us (in Madinah) was Mus'ab Ibn 'Umair and Ibn Umm Maktoom and thereafter came 'Ammar and Bilal.

Al-Bara' Ibn 'Azib narrated: Mus'ab Ibn 'Umair and Ibn Umm Maktoom were the first to arrive in Madinah and they used to teach people the Qur'an. Then there came Bilal, Sa'd and 'Ammar Ibn Yasir. Thereafter, 'Umar Ibn Al-Khattab came along with twenty other Companions of the Messenger of Allah. Later on, the Messenger of Allah himself came (to Madinah) and I had never seen the people of Madinah so joyful as they were on the arrival of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, for even the slave girls were saying, "Allah's Messenger has arrived!" And before his arrival I had read the Soorah starting with: "Glorify the Name of your Lord, the Most High" (Soorah Al-A'la 87:1) together with other Soorahs of Al-Mufassal.

Ibn Ishaq related: Thereafter, the Muhajiroon followed one after the other. May Allah be pleased with them all. Talhah Ibn 'Ubaidullah and Suhaib Ibn Sinan stayed with Khubaib Ibn 'Isaf, the brother of BalHarith Ibn Al-Khazraj at a place called Sunah. It is also claimed that Talhah stayed with Asad Ibn Zurarah.

Ibn Hisham related: it was narrated to me that Abu 'Uthman An-Nahdi said: it reached me that when Suhaib intended to migrate, the polytheists of the Quraish said to him: "you came to our midst while you were poor and wretched and your wealth grew while you were with us and you attained such status that you have attained and then you want to leave us with all your wealth? By Allah, that will never happen!" Suhaib asked them: "If I hand over to you all my wealth, would you let me go?" They replied in affirmation. Suhaib said: "I have given you all of my wealth." When news of Suhaib's action reached the Messenger of Allah, he said: "Suhaib has profited! Suhaib has profited!!"

Circumstances Leading to the Migration of Allah's Messenger

Allah says: "And say (O Muhammad): My Lord! Let my entry (to the city of Madinah) be good, and likewise my exit (from the city of Makkah) be good. And grant me from You an authority to help me (or a firm sign or a proof)." (Soorah Al-Isra 17:80)

Allah guided and inspired the Messenger of Allah peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to supplicate with these words to make for him ease in the nearest future and a speedy way-out. Thus, Allah granted him permission to migrate to Madinah, the city of the Prophet, wherein waited, for him, helpers and beloved; and which eventually became his residence and final resting place.

Ibn Ishaq related: After his Companions among the Muhajiroon had left, Allah's Messenger peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, remained in Makkah waiting for the permission to migrate. No one remained with him aside from those who were detained and those who were tortured into submission except 'Ali Ibn Abi Talib and Abu Bakr Ibn Abi Quhafah, may Allah be pleased with them both. Abu Bakr persistently requested the permission of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to make Hijrah and he would say to him: "Don't be in haste, perhaps Allah will grant you a companion." Abu Bakr wished it would be the Prophet himself.

Now that it became clear to the Quraish that Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, has a faction and Companions not just outside their tribe but outside their land as well, they became worried. Moreover, what made the Quraish more worrisome was the continuous migration of his Companions among the Muhajiroon to Madinah where they have found a new home and protection.

Thus, they feared that the Messenger of Allah would also migrate to join them for they knew that they will eventually fight them.

In order to stymy this, the Quraish gathered in Darun-Nadwah, a house belonging to Qusayy Ibn Kilab where they used to make important decisions concerning them. They gathered to discuss the issue of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and the strong position he posed to their collective existence.

Ibn Ishaq related that I was informed that ‘Abdullah Ibn ‘Abbas said: So they agreed to meet in the Darun-Nadwah to deliberate on the issue of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. On the appointed day which is known as the day of Zam‘ah (crowd), Iblees (Shaitan), may Allah’s curse be on him, came in the form of a handsome old man wearing a mantle and stood at the door. When they saw him standing by the door, they asked: “From where is the old man?” He said: “An old man from the people of Najd; I heard about what you are deliberating upon and I chose to attend the meeting with you so that I may listen to your deliberation and help you reach a sound decision.” They said to him: “Come in, then.” Shaitan entered the room wherein were gathered the nobles of the Quraish: ‘Utbah, Shaibah, Abu Sufyan, Tu‘aimah Ibn ‘Adiyy, Jubair Ibn Mut‘im Ibn ‘Adiyy, Al-Harith Ibn ‘Amir Ibn Nawfal, Nadr Ibn Al-Harith, Abul-Bakhtari Ibn Hisham, Zam‘ah Ibn Al-Aswad, Hakeem Ibn Hizam, Abu Jahl Ibn Hisham, Nubaih and Munabbih, the two sons of Al-Hajjaj and Umayyah Ibn Khalaf, respectively, among several others that cannot be mentioned among the Quraish.

They said to one another: “The matter of this man has reached a proportion which all of you are not oblivious to. By Allah, we should not allow him to pounce upon us with his followers outside our tribe. So give the matter a consideration.” In the course of the deliberation, one of them (some said it was AbuBakhtari Ibn Hisham) suggested: "Why not we put him in iron shackles and lock him away behind bars to await death in a similar manner to what happened to the poets that came before him like Zuhair and Nabighah." The "old man" of Najd said: "No, by Allah, this suggestion is not good enough. If you enshackle him as you said, the news of his fate will filter out from behind bars to his Companions and without a doubt, they will pounce upon you and they will snatch him away from you. Thereafter, they will reinforce themselves and then vanquish you. So this is not a good proposal."

After further deliberation, one of them suggested: "We should expel him from our land. Once he is out of our domain, we will be less concerned about where he goes. When we are relieved of his trouble, we will rectify our affairs and we will return to our good old days." Again, the "old man" of Najd said: "This is not a good opinion either. Haven't you observed the beauty of his speech and the sweetness of his logic and the manner he overwhelms men with his message? By Allah, if you apply this suggestion, he would win the Bedouin Arabs over to him with his speech and sweet rendition and they would follow him. Then they would take away your affairs from your hands and then do whatever they like with you. Think of a course of action better than this."

Finally, Abu Jahl said: "By Allah, I have an idea after which a better one will not occur to you." "What is the idea, O Abul-Hakam?" They asked. He said: "I suggest that we choose from the different clans each a young and strong man of high descent and noble status among us. Then we will give each youth a sharp sword to attack him; each dealing him a simultaneous fatal blow and then we can be relieved of him. If we do this, the responsibility for his blood will be borne by all the clans and the Banu 'Abd Manaf will be incapable of fighting against the clans altogether. They would be forced to accept whatever blood money paid to them by the entire clans.” The "old man" of Najd said: “This is the real proposal, there is no better idea than this.” After they reached a firm decision, the meeting ended with a firm determination to implement the plan.

Jibraeel came to the Messenger of Allah saying: “Do not sleep in your bed tonight.” When it became dark, they gathered at his door keeping a vigil waiting for him to go to sleep before they attack him. When Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, saw through their nasty intentions, he said to ‘Ali, “Sleep on my bed and cover yourself with my green Hadrami mantle. Use it when sleeping and nothing you dislike will reach you from them.” Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, usually slept in that same mantle.

Ibn Ishaq related that Yazeed Ibn Abi Ziyad narrated to me from Muhammad Ibn Ka’b Al-Qurazi that: When they gathered with their evil designs at his door, Abu Jahl, who was among them, said to them in mockery: “Muhammad claims that if you followed him, you will be kings over the Arabs and non-Arabs. Then you will be resurrected after you die and you will be granted (as a reward) a garden like that of Jordan and if you fail to follow him, you will be slaughtered and when you are resurrected after you die, a fire will be made for you in which you will be burned.”

Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, came out, took a handful of dust and said: “Truly, I said so and you will be among them.” Then Allah blinded their sight and they did not see him and he began to cast dust on their heads while reciting these Verses: “Ya Seen. [These letters are one of the miracles of the Qur’an, and none but Allah (Alone) knows their meanings.] By the Qur’an, full of wisdom (i.e. full of laws, evidences, and proofs), Truly, you (O Muhammad) are one of the Messengers, On a Straight Path (i.e. on Allah’s religion of Islamic Monotheism). (This is) a Revelation sent down by the Almighty, the Most Merciful.”

(Soorah Ya Seen 36:1-5)

Up to the Verse: “And We have put a barrier before them, and a barrier behind them, and We have covered them up, so that they cannot see.” (Soorah Ya Seen 36:9)

There was none of them that the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, did not cast dust on his head and then he went his way. Then someone who had not been there with them all the while came and said: “What are you waiting here for?” “Muhammad.” They chorused. He said: “May Allah turn you down, I swear by Allah, Muhammad came out, put dust on the head of each of you and then went his way. Don’t you see what has occurred to you?” Each man touched his head and found dust on it. They looked inside the room and found ‘Ali in bed sleeping under the mantle of the Messenger of Allah so they said: “That is Muhammad sleeping under his mantle.” Thus, they remained in their places until daybreak. Then ‘Ali woke up from the bed and when the reality dawned on them, they exclaimed: “The one who informed us spoke the truth.”

Migration of Allah’s Messenger from Makkah to Madinah along with Abu Bakr As-Siddiq

Al-Bukhari related from Ibn ‘Abbas that: Allah’s Messenger started receiving the Divine Revelation at the age of forty. Then he stayed in Makkah for thirteen years, receiving the Divine Revelation. Then he was ordered to migrate and he lived as an Emigrant for ten years and then died at the age of sixty-three (years).”

Ibn Ishaq related that when Abu Bakr requested the permission of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, to migrate, he told him: “Don’t be in haste, perhaps Allah will grant you a companion.” Abu Bakr hoped the Messenger of Allah was referring to himself. So he bought two camels, tied them in his house and fed them in preparation for that purpose.

Ibn Ishaq related that it has been narrated to me from ‘Urwah Ibn Az-Zubair that ‘A’ishah, the Mother of the Believers, said: Allah’s Messenger never used to come to the house of Abu Bakr at any time of the day except at its two edges – in the early morning and evening times. However, on the day Allah permitted him to migrate and leave Makkah, Allah’s Messenger came to us at an hour he never used to come.

She continued: When Abu Bakr saw him, he said: "Whatever has brought Allah’s Messenger at this time of the day must be an urgent occurrence." When the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, entered, Abu Bakr offered him his seat and the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, sat down. There was no one with Abu Bakr other than myself and my sister, Asma’ Bint Abu Bakr. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “Let everyone with you in the house go out.” “O Allah’s Messenger, may my mother and father be sacrificed for you, there are no one other than my two daughters. What has happened?” Abu Bakr asked. Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: “Allah has permitted me to leave and migrate.”

‘A’ishah continued: Abu Bakr asked him: “May I accompany you, O Messenger of Allah?” “Yes, you will accompany me.” The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said. ‘A’ishah said: Prior to that day, I never realize that anyone would weep out of extreme joy until I saw Abu Bakr weep that day. Then he said: “O Prophet of Allah, here are two camels. I have been preparing them for this (journey).” They hired ‘Abdullah Ibn Arqat (as a guide on the way).

Ibn Hisham related that he is also referred to as ‘Abdullah Ibn Uraiqit, a polytheist from Banu Ad-Deel Ibn Bakr. His mother was from Banu Sahn Ibn ‘Amr. They gave the camels to him to tend until the appointed date.

Abu Nu‘aim narrated through Ibrahim Ibn Sa‘d from Muhammad Ibn Ishaq, who said: It reached me that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, made the following supplication when he left Makkah and migrated to Madinah: “Praise be to Allah Who created me though I was nothing. O Allah, help me bear the might of the word, the vicissitudes of time and the calamities of the night and days. O Allah, accompany me on my journey and replace me in my family and bless me in what You have provided me. To You I am humble and in my good character, keep me steadfast. Make me, O Lord, beloved to Yourself, do not leave me to the people. You are the Lord of the oppressed and my Lord. I seek refuge in Your Noble Countenance by which the heavens and the Earth were illuminated, by which the darkness was dispelled, and on which the affairs of the first and the last (of the mankind) were put in order. I seek refuge from your anger befalling me and Your displeasure overtaking me. I seek refuge in You from the withdrawal of Your bounty and the suddenness of Your vengeance, from the removal of Your blessing and the coming of Your wrath. And there is no power or might except in You.”

Then they proceeded to the Cave of Thawr, a mountain at the lower end of Makkah and both of them entered it. Abu Bakr As-Siddiq ordered his son, ‘Abdullah, to eavesdrop on what the people say about both of them in the daytime and report to them during the night whatever news he had garnered that day. He also ordered ‘Amir Ibn Fuhairah, his freed slave, to graze his sheep in the daytime and drive them toward them both in the cave toward the end of the day. ‘Abdullah Ibn Abu Bakr would stay among the Quraish during the day eavesdropping on whatever they might say about Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and Abu Bakr, and then would bring the news to them.

Ibn Ishaq related: Asma' Bint Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with her, would bring food to them both, when it was dark. Asma' narrated: When Allah's Messenger and Abu Bakr left, a group of the Quraish came to us among whom were Abu Jahl. They stood at Abu Bakr's door and I came out to meet them. They asked: "Where is Abu Bakr, O daughter of Abu Bakr?" I said to them: "I do not know where my father is." Then Abu Jahl raised his hand and gave me a slap so violently that my earring fell off and then they left.

Al-Baihaqi related: Muhammad Ibn Seereen narrated to me that some men remiscised during the time of 'Umar and it appeared that they preferred 'Umar over Abu Bakr. When that reached 'Umar he said: "By Allah, a night of Abu Bakr is better than the entire nights of the family of 'Umar. One day of Abu Bakr is better than the entire days of the family of 'Umar. Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, had set out on the night departed for the Cave of Thawr. On the way, Abu Bakr would walk in front of Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and at another time he would walk behind him until it became noticeable to the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and he said: "O Abu Bakr, why do you walk at one time behind me and in my front at another?" Abu Bakr said: "O Messenger of Allah, the thought of a trailing scout occurred to me, so I walk behind you and then, when the thought of an ambush occurs to me, I switch to your front." Then the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: "O Abu Bakr, if there was a dangerous occurrence would you have preferred that you were afflicted other than me?" "Yes, I swear by the One Who sent you with the Truth, no calamity would befall except that I would prefer to be its recipient rather than you." When we got to the cave, Abu Bakr said: "Stay where you are, O Messenger of Allah, so that I may check that the cave is free (of danger).” So Abu Bakr entered and searched the cave. When he got to its pinnacle, he told him, “You have not checked the burrow.” Again Abu Bakr said: “Stay in your place, O Messenger of Allah, till I check the burrow.” He checked it and then said: “You may descend into it now, O Messenger of Allah. Then the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, went in. ‘Umar then added: “I swear by Him in Whose Hands is my soul, that single night of Abu Bakr is far better than that of the family of ‘Umar.”

Imam Ahmad related that Ibn ‘Abbas said concerning the statement of Allah: “And (remember) when the disbelievers plotted against you (O Muhammad) to imprison you, or to kill you, or to get you out (from your home, i.e. Makkah); they were plotting and Allah too was planning, and Allah is the Best of the planners.” (Soorah Al-Anfal 8:30)

One night, during the deliberation of the Quraish in Makkah, one of them said: “In the morning, we should enshackle him (i.e. the Prophet).” Another person suggested: “Rather, we should kill him.” A third person said: “We should expel him.” Allah revealed their plot to His Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, so ‘Ali slept in the bed of Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, that night. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, left the house and sometime later he entered the cave. The Quraish spent the night keeping watch over ‘Ali thinking that it was the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. In the morning, they swarmed in on him and found ‘Ali instead. Thus, Allah frustrated their plots. They barked at ‘Ali: “Where is your Companion?!” “I do not know,” ‘Ali said. They traced his track till it led them to the mountain and they became confused. They climbed the mountain. When they passed by the cave they saw spider web at its entrance.

They said: “Had anybody entered through here, there wouldn’t be spider web at the entrance of the cave.” They (the Messenger of Allah and Abu Bakr) remained there for three nights. The chain of this narrations is hasan and it is the best of what is related concerning the story of the spider web at the entrance of the cave. This is also from Allah’s protection for His Messenger.

Allah, Most High, says: “If you help him (Muhammad) not (it does not matter), for Allah did indeed help him when the disbelievers drove him out, the second of two, when they (Muhammad and Abu Bakr) were in the cave, and he said to his Companion (Abu Bakr): 'Be not sad (or afraid), surely Allah is with us'.” Then Allah sent down His Sakinah (calmness, tranquility, help and peace, etc.) upon him, and strengthened him with forces (angels) which you saw not, and made the word of those who disbelieved the lowermost, while it was the Word of Allah that became the uppermost, and Allah is Almighty, AllWise.” (Soorah At-Tawbah 9:40)
